POST OFFICE SAVINGS DEPARTMENT SLIGHTED BY ORGANIZED EFFORT

Members of Parliament, Discussing Home Bank Failure and a Resolution to Guarantee Savings Deposits in Banks, Express Surprise That the Public Has Not Been Encouraged to Entrust Their Money to the Post Office.

CONFIDENCE SHAKEN.

OTTAWA, April 10 (Canadian Press). — Discussion of the Home Bank failure and of amendments to the Bank Act to protect bank depositors was renewed in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, when L. J. Ladner (Conservative, South Vancouver), moved a resolution to provide guarantees for savings deposits.

Mr. Ladner's resolution called for the appointment of a special committee to consider amendments to the Bank Act to provide protection for special savings accounts up to $3,000 either on the same principle as that on which bank notes are now guaranteed by all the banks or by some other insurance principle.

Taking the Home Bank as an example, the depositor would observe that it was advertised as having a capital of $5,000,000, a substantial reserve fund, and as being authorised by Act of Parliament to do business.

Further investigation would lead to the annual report of the institution which would show that it had 78 branches, that it had paid regular dividends, and that it carried deposits of the people of Canada to the extent of $22,000,000. Finally the irony of the whole situation would be embodied in a resolution that the thanks of the board of directors be conveyed to the general manager and staff for their efficient efforts.

Confidence Shaken.

What was there in the law to safeguard the ordinary citizen, asked Mr. Ladner. The confidence of the public in Canadian banks was shaken and the result would be that Canadian money would go to the United States.

When the member for East Calgary Mr. Irvine) moved his resolution some days ago in regard to the Home Bank, the member for Pontiac (Mr. Cahill) moved a "chloroform amendment" which had passed. The signs of the times pointed to the ultimate elimination of smaller banks, leaving the business of the country concentrated in three or four large institutions.

Motion is Questioned.

Hon. Charles Marcil (Liberal, Bonaventure), questioned the rights of Mr. Ladner in introducing the banking question at that time. The resolution of Mr. Irvine that had passed the House on 27th March, had referred the question of protection of depositors to the Banking and Commerce Committee, and according to the rules of the House the debate could not be resumed on a subject already referred to committee.

Mr. Ladner defended his resolution on the grounds that the previous resolution had been very vague.

Tenant Protected In Evictions Bill

LONDON, April 10.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The new evictions bill to take the place of the evictions bill on which the government met defeat on Monday was introduced in the House of Commons yesterday by Captain Wedgwood Bena, Liberal member for Leith.

The new evictions bill prohibits the eviction of a tenant unable to pay his rent because of financial distress and provides for the reimbursement of local authorites paying such rent.

The tenant unable to pay his rent is to be provided with a certificate of immunity from eviction. The local authorities are to investigate the resources of applicants from immunity and if necessary to supplement the tenant's resources sufficiently to enable him to retain his home and they are to be entitled to claim a refund from the treasury of part of the money so spent.

The bill was read a first time.

PAPER SHORTS FAKED REPORTS

Toronto Stock Interests Inspired Story of Reduction In Newsprint Price--Was Bear Propaganda.

MONTREAL, April 10.—(Canadian Press.)—Commenting on a news item from Toronto Tuesday predicting a cut of five dollars a ton in the price of newsprint and also the heavy selling of paper issues on the local stock exchange yesterday, the Montreal Gazette editor says:

"Inquiries made in local newsprint circles yesterday served to substantiate the suspicion that the Toronto story regarding an impending price cut in the commodity came from short interests rather than from authentic sources within the territory. In addition to certain features of the report which were alluded to in these columns yesterday as not ringing true, it is understood, that there has been no general discussion of the subject on the part of the manufacturers, that, in fact, it is too early for such discussion for the purpose of arriving at the price basis for the last half of the year, when such discussion does take place, decision will be governed by conditions then prevailing and in prospect, and the outlook will undoubtedly be more clear than at present before the time comes to act, there being nearly three months left before the present contract price expires. Another indication that this report was a bit of bear propaganda lies in the fact that it even went so far as to predict a second cut before the end of the current year, which seems to be over-stepping the mark.

WIFE'S SUCCESS IRKED HUSBAND

Anne Nicholls, Author of "Abie's Irish Rose," and Her Husband Maintain Friendly Separation — Law Says They Are Divorced.

NEW YORK, April 10—May a couple be divorced and not know it?

According to Anne Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose," and Henry Duffey, her erstwhile (acording-to-the-law) husband, a couple most certainly can.

The law says they are divorced.

They say they are not. They insist the law is wrong and, as far as they know, they are still man and wife.

This peculiar state of affairs became known yesterday when Justice Taylor, in White Plains, granted Miss Nichols an interlocutory decree of divorce and awarded her the custody of Henry Duffey, Jr., six.

Mystery surrounded the granting of this decree, which was given after a private hearing in the Justice's chambers, with only counsel for Miss Nichols present.

"Never Thought of Suing."

More mystery was added when Miss Nichols and Duffey asserted they never had contemplated divorce proceedings nor had engaged counsel to bring such a suit.

To corroborate their statement, the pair, to all outward appearances still much in love with each other, had luncheon together yesterday noon at the Lambs' Club. Many friends greeted them. A few show ed clippings from an afternoon paper announcing the severance of their martial bonds. The pair retorted:

"Divorced? Why, we know nothing about it! Would we be here if there was any truth in the report?"

From the home of her mother in Elmhurst, Miss Nicholls later issued the following statement:

"I have never advised my counsel, O'Brien, Malevinsky and Driscoll, to institute any divorce action Mr. Duffey and I have been separated for the last two years, it is true, but we are the very best of friends.

Will Produce her Plays

"We have seen each other at least three times each wek for the last three months. He will produce several of my plays in Montreal, where he opens a stock company season Easter Sunday.

"I desire to state publicly that Mr. Duffey and I will never be divorced, reports of a court action to the contrary notwithstanding. Whether we will ever resume living toegther rests in the future. Our differences were purely temperamental nothing more serious."

The court records show that the decree was awarded after a clerk at the Castleton, No. 16 R street, Washington, testified that Duffey and a Miss Dorothy Newcomb, also of Washington, had registered there as "Mr. and Mrs. Duffey."

Miss Nichols said this was false. Duffey said:

"I hate to admit it, but the fault was entirely mine. For six years Anne and I had been together. When she started making more money than I it began to make me irritable.

Quarrel over Color

"As the money kept rolling in my temper got worse and worse. But, honestly, the worst spat Anne and I ever had was over the selection of the color to be used in our library.

"We are in love with each other as much today as when we were married. And there is one great big reason why there would never be a divorce."

He hesitated a moment, then added softly:

"That's Terrible Terry. You don't recognize that name, of course but it's my pet name for our son, Henry, Jr."

At the office of O'Brien, Malevinsky & Driscoll it was said there was nothing for publication concerning the action.

GREGORY HYDRO REPORT PRUNED PRINT SUMMARY

Committee Recommends Publication of Only Premier Ferguson's Abridged Version of the Finding of Commission Appointed By Drury Government — Wolf Bounty Cut.

Create Mining Court.

TORONTO, April 10.—The printing committee of the Legislature recommends to the House that only the summary of the Gregory report in Hydro matters as given by Premier Ferguson be printed. The committee has used the pruning knife freely in the printing of reports and many that have always been printed will not be put in type this year. The committee estimates it will save the province many thousands of dollars in printing costs. J. A. Currie (South-east Toronto) is chairman of the committee. An editorial committee from the House to supervise all printed matters is also recommended by the committee.

New Mining Court.

The Legislature yesterday afternoon had a dull session dealing largely with technical amendments to bills in the committee stage. The bill creating a mining court went through committee. H. A. Fisher (Lib. West Ottawa), asked how the mining court judge could be removed from office. Hon. W. F. Nickle contended that the man in charge of the mining court would not be a high court justice although he would have the same power. He added a clause to the bill that the judge could be removed only by the lieutenant governor in council on the address of the Legislature.

Northern Affairs.

The bill to tax improvements in unorganized terrtiories also passed through committee. On it Z. Mageau (Lib. Sturgeon Falls) took opportunity to speak of northern affairs generally. He condemned the settlement by the late government with the Austin Nicholson company for $28,800 for trespass on crown lands.

Premier Ferguson said there were several large houses and three pulp mills which would be taxed under the new law which had until now escaped taxation.

The bill decreasing the bounty on wolves from $40 to $20 also passed second reading as did the bill providing for inspection of homes before immigrant children are placed in them.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., April 10—Southampton claims to have more cyclists than any town in proportion to its size. It is estimated that one in every four persons rides a bicycle and thousands of machines can be seen in the streets at the busy hours.

New York Honored Banting and Best

NEW YORK, April 10.— In honor of Dr. Frederick G. Banting, discoverer of Insulin, Dr. Charles Herbert Best, his associate, and the Canadian people, a dinner was given here last night by the Sulgrave Institute.

A strong international flavor was lent the gathering by the attendance of Major General Robert Lea Bullard, representing the United States Army; Redman Wanamaker, noted philanthropist and captain of industry; Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health for the Province of Ontario; T. A. Russell, of the Board of Governors of Toronto University; Leslie Sutherland, President of the Canadian Club of New York; Dwight A. Walker, President of the University of Toronto Club of New York; a large number of other prominent Canadians and members of the Canadian colony in New York, together with representatives of the British Embassy at Washington.

A telegram from Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes expressing regret that he was unable to attend the dinner and congratulating Dr. Banting was read to the gathering.

MESSENGER BOY NOW PRESIDENT

Patrick E. Crowley Reaches Top of Railway Ladder With His Appointment to President of New York Central Lines.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Patrick E. Crowley, who a half century ago quit his father's little farm to become a railroad messenger boy, yesterday was elected President of the New York Central Lines, one of America's wealthiest and biggest transit systems.

He was chosen by the Board of Directors to fill the vacancy created a month ago when a fall from a horse killed A. H. Smith. Mr. Crowley's salary, it was understood would be a $100,000 a year.

Prior to his elevation to-day, Mr. Crowley was vice-president in charge of operations for the New York Central; the Ottawa and New York the Adirondack and St. Lawrence; the Raquette Lake; the Fulton Chain the Toledo and Ohio Central; the Kanawah and Michigan ;the Kanawah and West Virginia; and the Zanesville and Western Railways.

SPORTING FEATURETTES AT THE ROYAL

In addition to a feature production, "Daytime Wives," which is creating a lot of favorable criticism wherever shown, the Royal presents to-night a long and varied program. Two comedies, including a Christie, "Aggravating Papa," a half-hour Western, another chapter of the exciting serial, "The Steel Trail" and a sport reel, "Duck Hunting," which is booked by special request of numerous Peterboro lovers of outdoor sport. "Daytime Wives" is one of the newest of the bigger productions and has not been shown in Toronto as yet, although in New York City it broke all records in attendance at the Central Theatre. It boldly asks the question, "Can costly furniture ever replace the cradle in the humble home?" and is of especial appeal to all womankind.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST THREE IN CAR BATTLE

Coroner's Jury in Montreal Implicates Two Men and a Woman For Death of Bank Chauffeur and Attacking Bandit — Witness Made Black Mask and Saw Secret Cupboard

VERDICT SWIFT.

MONTREAL, April 10 (Canaian Press). — Of the ten men and two women brought before the Coroner's Court here on Wednesday in the resumed inquest into the deaths of Henri Cleroux, Hochelaga Bank collection car chauffeur, and "Big Paul" Stone alias Peter Ward, bandit, who were shot dead in the hold-up of the car on 1st April when $142,288 was stolen, two men, Coro Negri or Nieri and Guiseppe Serafini, were found by jury responsible for the two deaths, while a woman, Mrs. Serafini, was in Arraignment Court charged with murder, and also with having in her possession stolen money to the amount of $3,000 belonging to the Bank of Hochelaga.

Enquete in both charges was set April 18 in her case. The two men were also formally charged with murder in the arraignment court and enquete set for Apirl 16. The other woman, Maria Emma Lebeau, who had been living with Nieri at the Coursol street boarding house, where she was arrested, was held as a material witness, and bail was fixed at $25,000. Salvatore Arena, Joseph Sarraro, Angelo Nastrolarito, and Samuel "Red" Miller, all of Montreal were released as having been cleared of any connection with the hold-up, while Ruby Herewitz, Solly Gold, Joseph White and Otto Feldman were still detained for information from other cities as to whether any of them were wanted. If not they will be released.

Made Secret Cupboard.

The sensation of the hearing yesterday was the evidence of Marie Emma Lebeau. She swore that Nieri had constructed in the Coursol St. house a secret cupboard inside a clothes closet behind which detectives found a satchel containing $23,333, which was identified as having been taken to the house by Sarafini on the afternoon of the hold-up. Nieri she also declared gave her some money and told her to say nothing. He had, she said, asked her to get some black cloth out of which he had cut a mask, while she had done the stitching.

Two bank bills found among the money taken in the Coursol street house, were identified by Hochelaga bank clerks through marks on the notes.

Soft-Nosed Bullet.

Other features in the hearing, included the evidence of Dr. Wilfrid Derome, medico-legal expert attached to the morgue, who testified that the bullet that caused the death of Clerux was softnosed and fired from a very high-powered weapon, as the wound proved. It had pierced the clothing and body, and had emerged on the other side, having been found between the flesh and the clothing of the victim.

Constable Isaie Pelletier, motor-cycle policeman, gave evidence that he had heard the sound of shooting on the afternon of the hold-up. He had left his motor-cycle and hurried to the spot. He at once started firing his revolver and had aimed some three shots particularly at one masked man who was resting a rifle on the bonnet of the bank car. The coroner ordered the constable's gun to be held as one of the exhibits in the case

Prisoner's Defiance.

Maurice Thibodeau, senior bank messenger, who was present at the hold-up, picked out Nieri in court as one of the men whose height and size seemed familiar to him from what he remembered of the hold-up.

Nieri flamed into a passion. Shaking his bushy head he shouted: "You did the same at headquarters. You came in, knew no one, went out with a detective, and then came back and said that it was me!"

"Silence!" roared a detective.

"I have the right to talk," insisted Nieri defiantly.

Lyon W. Jacobs, K.C., counsel for the prisoners, protested at the manner of identification, and Coroner McMahon remarked: "If that is all

Germans Expected To Accept Report

LONDON, April 10. — That the plan of the committees of experts shouud prove unacceptable to Germany is unbelievable to British officials who expressed their opinion on the subject yesterday. They qualified this opinion, however, with the reservation that one never could tell whether Germany would display common sense or stupidity at a critical moment in her dealings with the Powers.

The hypothesis of the experts that the, fiscal and economic unity of Germany must be restored to the Germans, and other provisions of the report which the British have urged since former Premier Andrew Bonar Law made his proposals in 1921 for a settlement of the controversy, naturally are welcomed here, while the signatures of the French experts, which it is assumed are appended to the findings of the experts, although the official copies of the report have not yet arrived in London, are taken as an indication of a French change in heart regarding the whole scheme for a complete and final reparations settlement with Germany.

DRUNKEN GROOM SEEKS RELEASE

Asks For Annullment of Marriage Because Too Drunk to Give Valid Assent—Wife Admitted His Inebriety.

MONTREAL, April 10.—(Canadian Press).—Claiming that he was so intoxicated when he was married that he was absolutely incapable of knowing what he was doing and that in consequence his marriage should be annulled for lack of valid consent, Donald Morton Parker of Chicago, appeared in the Practice Division of the Superior Court here Wednesday. After hearing two witnesses besides the plaintiff in regard to the circumstances, the court adjourned to Friday in order to receive the testimony of the officiating clergyman.

In his declaration Parker said he was married February 4, last to Marie Rideout by Canon Allan P. Shatford, rector of the Anglican Church of St. James the Apostle. While the ceremony was in progress he said he was so drunk that he did not know what was going on.

He admitted under questioning by the court that he had procured a marriage license two or three days earlier, but denied that he was sober when he obtained it. He had, he said, been in a more or less inebriated condition during the whole of the period in question.

The defendant, Marie Rideout did not apear to contest the annullment proceedings and in an answer to a question put to her during an examination on facts prior to yesterday's hearing, she admitted that the plaintiff was not sober at the time of the ceremony.

TWO MEN DIED IN LONDON TO ATONE CRIMES

Murrell and Topping Stood Side by Side on Scaffold and Met Death Together -- Topping Smiled as Bolt Was Drawn and Murrell's Last Words Were "God Bless You."

DID NOT FALTER

LONDON, Ont. April 10.—(Canadian Press).— Sidney Ernest Murrell, 26, Melbourne bank bandit and slayer of Russell Campbell, garage man of that village and Clarence Topping, 23, formerly of Strathroy, who shot to death Geraldine Durston, 18, his sweetheart, here last November, paid the supreme penalty of the law at 5.31 this morning in the yard of the Middlesex County Jail. Hangman Arthur Ellis shot the trap that sent both men to their death.

The men were led from he cells they had occupied since the sentence of death was pronounced upon them and upon Henry "Slim" Williams, Murrell's companion in crime, on February 9th, the day following the conclusion of their separate trials. They were accompanied iby Rev. Quintin Warner, rector of Cronyn Memorial Church, their spiritual advisor who chanted a prayer as they ascended the steps leading to the gallows. It took a few minutes for Hangman Ellis to adjust the noose and the black cap. A minute later the trap was shot and Topping and Murrell disappeared from view. When the pulse had stopper beating, seven minutes after, they were cut down and a jury was impanelled to view the remains and hold inquests. Verdicts of death by hanging were returned. The jury was in charge of Coroner J. Cameron Wilson.

Rev. Mr. Warner was with the two men nearly all night and administered the last rites of the church

"My time has come to part with this world, Good luck and God bless you." These were the last words of Sidney Murrell.

Clarence Topping said not a word but a smile lit up his countenance.

Did Not Falter

Both prisoners spent the night singing hymns. Rev. Warner had been with them from midnight and prayers were offered for the repose of their souls. Both seemed ready to meet the end and meet it they did without a faltering step.

Their breakfast was given them before five o'clock, but they did not eat heartily.

With the exception of Governor Dawson and Sheriff Graham, all ascended the gallows steps at a brisk gait. Scarcely a minute passed. The only sounds that could be heard were the shuffling feet as the hang OTTAWA, April 10.— (Canadian Press). — A deputation from the Ottawa City Council waited upon Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, here yesterday to ask for an increased payment by the Federal Government to the city for certain services rendered. The existing agreement between the Government and the city expires on July 1, and the city is asking for such a revision of the agreement as will mean an increase in payment of about $121,000.

At present the city receives from the Government $75,000 a year, for fire protection and other services. The payments now asked by the city are $100,000 for fire protection, $83,000 for maintenance of sewers serving the Government Buildings, etc., sidewalks, roadways, pavements and pavement cleaning; $10,000 for maintenance and repair of the bridges that cross the Rideau Canal, also a change in the rate of payment for water supplied to Government buildings which on the basis of last year's consumption would mean an increase to the Government of about $3,000.

Hon. J. H. King, with whom were Hon. E. M. MacDonald, Minister of Defence, and J. H. Hunter, Deputy-Minister of Public Works, said the matter would be taken under consideration by the Government.

When it was pointed out by the Ministers that the Government granted $150,000 to the Ottawa Improvement Commission, the members of the deputation insisted that the city got no direct benefit from this, though it was admitted the city was beautified somewhat as a result. It was claimed, however, that some of the money was spent outside the city limits.

British Law Applies to Re-naturalization.

OTTAWA, April 10.—(By Canadian Press)—The re-naturalization of former British subects now citizens of the United States, is covered by law that is uniform throughout the British Empire and amendments to it would need to be dealt with by an imperial conference. This was the reply given by Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, to a question by General Clark, Conservative, Burrard, as to whether legislation would be introduced this session to shorten the time for naturalization of repatriates to less than five years. Mr. Copp quoted in support of his attitude a report by a British interdepartmental committee that it was not considered necessary to distinguish between statutory and other aliens in the law regarding naturalization.

NO MORE WEAK and DIZZY SPELLS Since She Used MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills

Miss Bertha Charrette, Regina, Sask., writes: "I have had a lot of trouble lately, with what I thought was heart trouble, and after my unusual exertion I always felt sick.

My doctor advised a complete rest and change, but this I was unable to take.

I became interested in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, so started taking them. I have now taken three boxes and am so much improved I can go about my daily work without feeling any after ill effects, and have not had any weak or dizzy spells for some time. Your medicine has done me more good than anything I have ever taken, and I will gladly recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to any woman who is weak and run down."

Passenger Equipment For C.N.R. at Cost Plus

OTTAWA, April 9.— (Canadian Press.)— Passenger equipment for Canadian National Railways, at a total cost of $4,704,272 was ordered on a "cost plus" basis during 1923, the minister of railways stated in the house this afternoon, in answer to a question by Sir Henry Drayton. Tenders were called for but the management did not consider them low enough to warrant placing orders. The management therefore fixed an upset price, somewhat lower than the lowest quotation, and arranged with the contracting companies on that basis. In most cases the management has received credit notes from the equipment builders on the cars so built.

Require Shallow Draft Ships at Port Nelson.

OTTAWA, April 10.—(Canadian Press.)—The fact that ships used in provisioning the post at Port Nelson ,in the Hudson Bay, are obliged to anchor seven and a half miles out and tranship their cargo to low-draft vessels, was brought out by a question in the house yesterday. Within that limit, ships of 21 feet draft or over cannot navigate.

The suction dredge "Port Nelson" and pontoons sent to Port Nelson during the war cost $371,881. It operated in 1915, 1916 and 1917.

REPEAL DUMPING CLAUSE

OTTAWA, April 10.— (Cnadian Press.)— The customs regulation providing that the dumping duty shall not apply when the difference between the fair market value of goods and their selling price to importers in Canada does not exceed five per cent of their fair market, value has been repaid. Consequently, after April 15, the dumping duty shall apply without exemption except in cases of goods purchased before April 15, if they are entered for consumption on or before June 1.

DAWES PROGRAM PRACTICABLE IF GERMANS AGREE

"Everybody Wants Report Accepted and Put Into Effect, But Who Will Begin," Is Perplexing Question—Will Be Carefully Studied First By Governments.

Week For Consideration.

PARIS, April 10 (Canadian Press) —Plenty of time will be taken by the Reparations Commission to review and digest the reports of the experts' committees, headed by Gen. Dawes and Reginald McKenna, which were handed to that body yesterday.

The Commission is not likely to act before the end of next week in view of the necessity of the members consulting their respective Governments, according to Allied circles.

However, an inkling of how the Commission may dispose of the report may be gleaned by the end of this week, and it is considered possible that Premier Poincare, Premier Ramsay MacDonald, and Permier Theunis may instruct their reparations representatives to hand over the experts' documents to the Governments without previous deliberation. If such action were taken it would be for the purpose of speeding up the settlement or semblance thereof before the German and the French elections.

Who Will Begin.

The Dawes report is unanimous; yet it does not represent anybody's "particular views," was one comment proffered in non-French quarters to-day. "Nevertheless everybody wants as much of it as possible accepted as a basis of settlement. The question is, who will begin?"

It can be stated now that most of the original divergencies between the French and British remain. The British stil lbelieve that the question of Germany's obigations to the Allies must be definitely fixed, in order to establish her credit, before a settlement if possible, and they are therefore inclined to be sceptical of General Dawes' index of prosperity scheme, which they declare is apt to lead to confusing results.

Offer as Settlement.

There was no discussion yesterday among the Reparations Commission delegates, who were occupied in despatching official copies of the reports to their Governments and in studying these reports for their own information.

There is general agreement that the combined efforts of the experts have proved to be "the most hopeful attempt at a settlement" yet made, and members of the Reparations Commission who are without political connections admit that if the First Committee's report were treated purely as a business proposition, the business-like thing to do would be to present it to Germany in decisive terms as an offer settlement. However, many thorny political questions are likely to arise and representative men among the Allies concede that Germany will find in it many things hard to swallow.

German Co-operation.

In consequence of this, the members of the Reparations Commission are understood to feel that the Allied Governments will have to devise some mid-way solution before submitting the reports to Germany, particularly as the Dawes plan seems to require genuine German co-operation at every stage of its process. As one of the principal Allied Commissioners puts it:

"If agreed to by both parties, the Dawes proposals are very good; if they are imposed on Germany—well, hardly."

In any case the Reparations Commission's present attitude, so far as can be learned, is one of quiescence, with the probability that the reports will be carefully studied while awaiting instructions from the various Governments.

WORK WORN PEOPLE

Find Renewed Health by Improving Their Blood.

If you fell run down, it means that your blood is thin and watery, that your vitality is low. Your feet are easily chilled. You do not sleep well and you are tired when you rise in the morning. You find no pleasure in your meals and are listless and dispirited at your work. You have no energy to enjoy yourself.

Thousands of men are run down by anxieties of work. Thousands of women are broken down by their household toil, with tired limbs and aching backs; thousands of girls are pale, listless and without attraction. It all means the same thing—thin and watery blood, vitality run-down, anaemia, poor appetite, palpitating heart, short breath.

Do not submit to this. Get new blood and with it new vitality. There is no difficulty in doing this. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up and enrich the blood, which brings with it new health and vitality. The man, woman or girl who takes Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is never run down. Their friends notice how energetic they are, what a fine appetite they have, and how much they enjoy life.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PRODIGAL SON SERMONS END

Rev. Walter Cox Concludes Interesting Lenten Series at St. John's Church, Lakefield — Summer Sports Moving.

LAKEFIELD, Zpril 8.—On Sunday evening, Rev. Walter Cox concluded his series of sermons on "The Prodigal Son," which he has been giving on the Sunday evenings of Lent. These sermons have been powerful word pictures of God's great love story and in the final sermon the younger son, who had strayed into a far country, and contrasting the attention showered on the prodigal with that given the faithful older son who felt a little bitterness at the difference. The father's assurance of his love and trust in the older son smooths out the ruffled feelings of the older to some extent. In applying the parable to present-day needs the speaker warned those who are good and faithful to the church not to allow themselves to become narrow and refuse to receive back the erring ones who desire to return to the father's house from the far country. The story and its application cannot fail to make an impression on any thinking person who heard it.

Mrs. Williams sang "Peace Be Still" at the morning service in St. John's Church on Sunday, and it was a great treat, much appreciated by all who heard it. It is hoped that Mrs. Williams will sing again in Lakefield before she returns to her home in England.

Lakefield Sports

A meeting of the baseball club was held in the town hall on Sunday evening and it was unanimously decided that some sort of entertainment should be held in the immediate future for the purpose of augmenting the funds before the season proper opens. There is a good prospect for the season which opens on May 23rd, when the local team play in Campbellford.

WEDDING BELLS

CAMPGELLFORD, April 10. — Maple Lane, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. MacAlpine, Stanwood, was the scene of a pretty wedding at noon Wednesday, April 9th, when their only daughter, Vera Evelyn, was married to Harding A. Smith, of Sparta, Elgin county, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Smith, of the same place. The date chosen for the ceremony was the 28th anniversary of the marriage of the parents of the bride.

Rev. J. E. Glover, pastor of the Seymour circuit, officiated at the ceremony which took place under an evergreen and floral arch. To the strains of "The Bridal Chorus," played by the bride's cousin, Miss Ethel Locke, the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, looking very charming in her wedding gown of white silk canton crepe and with a lovely veil caught into a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and maiden hair ferns.

Miss Audrew Rowe, a friend of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, becomingly attired in blue flat crepe and carrying a sheaf of pink roses. Mr. Kenneth MacAlpine, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

Following the ceremony and the congratulations the wedding party adjourned to the dining room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on the afternoon train to spend their honeymoon in Paterborough and Toronto, the bride travelling in a gray canton crepe dress, gray velour wrap and navy and gray hat After their honeymoon they will reside at "Locust Grove," the groom's fruit farm near Sparta.

The popular young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial cheque, to the bridesmaid and pianist hat pins and to the best man a pair of cuff links.

Mrs. MacAlpine, the bride's mother, was attired in black charmeuse with corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas. Only immediately relatives were present. Among the guests from out of town were Miss Myra Smith of Toronto, sister of the groom, Miss Ella Wiggins of Peterborough, Miss Bates of Toronto and Miss Ethel Locke of East Seymour.

At home or on the road DR. CALDWELL'S LAXATIVE SYRUP PEPSIN Keeps him in good health

Clogged-Up? Here's Quick Aid

NEVER mind what you are using now for constipation. For all you know there is a better remedy! The next time you are clogged up try Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a laxative successfully used for 30 years, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Olive L. Purdy of West St. John, N. B., found Laxative Syrup Pepsin most beneficial, and J. W. Smith, 119 Strathcona Av. N., Hamilton, Ont., says it is the best remedy he has ever used. The list of successful users of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is naturally large as over 10 million bottles are sold annually.

Formula on Every Package

Get yourself a bottle at a drug store, the cost being less than a cent a dose. Take a spoonful at bed time for a few nights and we guarantee that the most chronic constipation will be relieved, or refund your money. A few doses in succession soon train the stomach muscles to act for themselves. Many, however, take it once a week and in that way keep the bowels regularly open. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, unlike harsh physics such as calomel, "candy cathartics," salt waters and powders, is a simple vegetable laxative composed of Egyptian senna and pepsin with tasty aromatics which are entirely harmless.

This Remedy Guaranteed

It has been accurately proven that a constipated person is only 75 per cent efficient. It slows you up; makes you dull and lazy. Take Laxative Syrup Pepsin the first day you do not have complete bowel movement. Take it, guaranteed, for constipation, torpid liver, dyspepsia, biliousness, sour stomach, headache, lack of appetite. A spoonful at the first sneeze or sniffle will kill a cold overnight. Half the ailments of winter start with constipation followed by a cold.

FOR OUTDOOR GARDENERS

Many failures are encountered by outdoor gardeners in growing petunias from seed. Prepare the seed bed by taking two parts of any light compose or leaf mould thoroughly mixed with one part of clean sand. Sift all through a fine screen. With the mixture fill flats or seed pans, pressing down the soil to a flat surface evenly within two inches of the top. Give a thorough soaking. After water has seeped into the soil, sprinkle the petunia seed evenly over this surface, but do not cover with soil. To prevent attacks of fungi, which might easily kill the young petunia plants, sprinkle the newly sown flats with charcoal dust. Place a clean pane of glass over the flat or seed pan, and in the daytime, if reached by the sun's rays, place a single sheet of newspaper over the glass to prevent burning. At night, and in dark weather, remove this sheet of paper. Avoid carefully all excess of moisture.

As soon as the seed sprouts (say eight or ten days, if kept at a temperature of sixty degrees) take off the pane of glass entirely. The young plants should be transplanted as soon as possible into flat boxes, spacing them an inch apart. Shortly thereafter they should be put into two-inch pots, or set out in the bed.

If the seed is handled right most of the seed will germinate. Ants will carry off the seed if they have access to it. Snails will eat the young seedlings, a great many in one night. For this reason seed boxes should be plaed so that snails and ants are unable to reach them. Most of the loss of seeds occur in this way. We would suggest in this case that the seed box be placed on small blocks of wood, the blocks resting on jars or pans, and the latter containing either oil or water. The ants and snails are unable to cross the oil or water and consequently cannot reach the seed.

there is to that identification, it is not worth much."

"I'm satisfied," said the lawyer.

Mrs. Serafini said that her maiden name was Mary Knight, and that she had been married to Joe Serafini by a Baptist minister in Detroit, on Oct. 3, 1922. She said the certificate was in her purse at detective headquarters, and this was confirmed by a detective.

Jury out 10 Minutes.

Coroner McMahon in a lengthy charge to the jury which covered every aspect of the case, pointed out that men thought to be members of the hold up gang could be held for the murder of the bandit Stone, even though as was probable, the bandit had been killed by a police bullet. In those circumstances the dead man's own companions would be indirectly responsible for his death.

The jury returned in ten minutes with a verdict holding Nieri and Serafini responsible for the death of "Henri Meroux and the man called Ward alias Stone alias Brandon."

SEYMOUR DISTRICT AT HOLSTEIN SALE

Many Campbellford and Seymour Men on List

CAMPBELLFORD, April 10.—John Locke of Seymour West returned last evening from the sale of Holstein cattle at Belleville, leaving for home before all the animals had been disposed of. Mr. Locke is owner of a fine herd of Ayrshires but is of course interested in all classes of pure bred cattle. P. B. Nelson, deputy-reeve of Seymour, had five and George U. Anderson of the same township, had 12 head of the sale. At the time Mr. Locke left for home Mr. Nelson had made the following sales:

Florella Montrose, No. 101953, two years old $100.

Walker Montrose Sylvia, No. 101957, two years old $148.

Lizzie Echo Rauwerd, No. 98105 3 years old, $170.

Morningside Beauty Ormsby, 2 years old. No 107435, $110.

Mr. Anderson's sales at the time referred to were as follows:

Glencoe Nancy Echo, No 106288, 2 years old, $90.

Glencoe Sina Echo, No 106285, 2 years old $115.

Morningdale Ormsby Wayne, No. 53244, 3 years old $100.

The highest figure obtained for any animal was $235, the price paid for a cow owned by E. B. Purtelle, Bloomfield.

Baseball Meeting

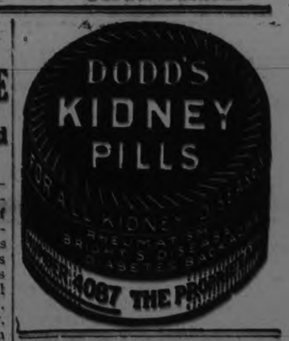
Co-operation

The improved highways and the motor car have put an obligation on every town and village in the country to clean up and plant their streets and open spaces. The announcement of "WELCOME" that meets the motorist as he approaches a progressive town, naturally leads him to expect an evidence of refinement when he complies with the rule to slow down, even though he does not stop to pass an hour or a day. This is the time of year when effort has to be made if our towns are to present bright and colorful appearance in the summer months. Some agency, however, is needed to at least direct the work of beautification. The Rotary, Kiwanis, and other clubs and local councils need the lead and direction of an informed body to have action taken. The Horticultural Society is the logical leader in a movement of this kind. The Province already has two hundred of these Societies, twenty of which are township Societies operating in the rural districts and small villages. The total membership of the combined Horticultural Societies of the Province last year was 50,000. One has only to visit or enquire about the City of St. Thomas to learn what a town can accomplish under the Horticultural Society. Many other places show similar, if not quite as spectacular results. In a speech in the House of Commons this year, a member made the claim that floriculture is growing to a large extent in the Province of Ontario and that Horticultural Societies are of great benefit. He advised the House that nearly all of his constituents were members of a Horticultural Society, which he pronounced a great institution.



WORKERS BATTLE FOR 8-HOUR DAY.

French and German Governments and Industrial Classes Are Opponents.

By HENRY WOOD

GENEVA, April 10 (United Press). —Before the governing body of the International Labor Bureau, the German and French Governments, together with the French and German industrial classes, have joined hands in a fight against the eight-hour day.

And with equal solidarity the French and German laboring classes have joined hands to support the victory which they won when the eight-hour day labor convention was launched by the first international labor conference at Washington in 1920.

With the French and German laboring classes thus a solid unit against the solid unit of the French and German Governments and the French and German industrial classes, Europeans point out that this is the first time since the war that the French and Germans of about any class whatsoever have ever gotten together on any question whatsoever.

While the fight now being conducted by the French and Germans against the eight-hour law is only part of a campaign that has been launched in a number of the leading European industrial countries, the question of reparations, as a basis for the fight, has enabled the French and Germans to push the matter farther than has been done elsewhere.

Before the governing body of the International Labor Bureau the German Government and the German industrials have taken the position that the only way in which Germany can pay her reparations is by increasing her production, and that one of the most effective means to this end will be to set aside temporarily the eight-hour day and go back to the nine and ten-hour day.

Against this position, however, German and French laboring classes have united as solidly as have the opponents of the eight-hour day. The German labor representatives are bitterly opposed to the idea that the burden of reparations must fall on the German workingman. And in this the French workman is supporting his German brother.

So emphatic was the defense put up by the French and German labor representatives that the governing body of the International Labor Bureau has decided to continue harder than ever the fight to have the eight-hour day convention ratified by all of the leading nations of the world.

This victory has just been followed by a similar victory by the Swiss workingmen by means of the Swiss referendum law.

The fight in other countries over the eight-hour day law is expected to be pushed to a conclusion by the workingmen. The favorable position by the new English Labor Cabinet on the eight-hour law has greatly strengthened the position of the supporters of the convention in all of the other countries.

Health Requires Steady Nerves

THE joy of tingling health—the ability to meet the world on its own ground cheerfully and successfully—can only come when the nerves, the controlling mechanism of your body, are in tune. Caffeine and Tannin, the poisons in tea and coffee, are enemies of the nervous system. "Nerves on edge," sleeplessness, indigestion, are too often due to the harmful effects of these poisons.

THE MOTOR SHOW.

The manner in which the Rotarian and Kiwanis Clubs and many other local organizations are rallying around the Motor Show is prophetic of the success of this annual event in aid of the Peterborough Health Association, and furnishes an admirable example of community spirit.

Present indications are that the show itself will surpass its predecessors, not only in regard to special exhibits and displays, but also in entertainment features.

Organizations and individuals, cognigant of the splendid work of the Health Association and anxious to contribute their share towards the maintenance of all its activities, are enlisting for the show, and the manifold details are being carefully looked after, leaving no doubt as to the excellence of the exhibits and attractions.

In the final analysis the verdict will rest with the public.

The Health Association depends upon the Motor Show for the greater part of its revenue, and unless the people generally back the efforts of the committee by attending in large numbers it will be necessary to curtail some of the activities that have proven so beneficial.

It would be little short of a catastrophe if any of these movements had to be dropped through lack of funds, and it will be the duty of the people to see that the attendance is large enough to ensure a full programme for the year.

The Motor Show is a community enterprise, and from now on every citizen should be a booster for the big event.

PROTECTING IMMIGRANT CHILDREN.

The bill introduced to the Legislature by Attorney-General Nickle for the protection of immigrant children will be endorsed by those who have given any thought to the question of the placement and supervision of these children.

That the inspection methods that have been followed have left too much to chance the Bulpitt case offered tragic evidence, and there seems no question but that the widespread publicity given to that case, particularly in Great Britain, was injurious to the reputation of the people of this country.

Mr. Nickle's bill goes as far as the Province can go in lessening the risk of further tragedies among young immigrants.

It will give the Provincial Government the right of inspecting homes before children are placed in them, with a view to making sure that they are fit places for such children.

Through the Children's Aid Society, homes in which the children are placed, will be periodically inspected, the machinery of the society making it possible to have this supervision more complete than was feasible under the old method.

These children come to Canada deprived of the protection of their parents, and severed from the friends with whom they have grown up.

They should have a fair chance to make good, and the Province has a responsibility in seeing that the conditions under which they are placed are such as make it possible for them to grow up into contented and useful citizens.

The new measure should go a long way toward discharging this responsibility.

THEATRICAL PESTS.

A campaign is going on in a number of cities to eliminate the nuisance caused by late arrivals at entertainments, concerts and theatrical performances.

Peterborough has its share of people who throw programmes out of gear by dropping in late amid much unnecessary noise, but it is doubtful if they are as objectionable as the much larger class who try to get out of a theatre before the final curtain.

Nearly every play, and practically every picture presentation, suffers from these individuals who at the first sign that the performance is drawing to a close suddenly develop a yearning for the open-air and start a rush for the doors, imparting the contagion to others, until the final speech on the stage is often made to the backs of half the audience, while the other half vainly try to catch the final words.

Then the people who have been so eager to make their escape stand outside the theatre and watch the rest come out.

It is a senseless performance, and not easily explained.

People who would complain bitterly if they did not get the full value for their money in purchasing any other commodity are apparently anxious to rob themselves when they are paying for entertainment.

Their conduct is an annoyance to the rest of the audience, and in the case of a theatrical performance is a handicap to the players.

Ordinary courtesy should keep an audience seated until the curtain drops, but apparently there is not enough courtesy to go round, judging by the constant repetition of this annoying practice.

SAVING THE FORESTS.

The Forestry Conference held at Sudbury has called attention to the heavy losses Canada is unnecessarily suffering each year from the destruction of her timber resources by forest fires.

Two or three points brought are of great importance.

That 95 per cent. of the loss from fires in the Sudbury forest district last year was attributable to human carelessness in some form or other.

That, according to a chief ranger, one experienced man is worth half a dozen political appointees in fire ranging.

That more than 60 per cent. of last year's fires were nipped before any damage was dong.

That with a sufficient number of capable fire rangers, properly supervised, the fire losses could be cut to a minimum.

Our Governments have not given this matter the attention it has merited.

The weight of evidence is that efficient fire ranging can prevent the majority of fires from assuming serious proportions.

There has been, unfortunately, little care given to the selection of rangers.

Many college boys, friends of the particular party that happened to be in power, have found fire ranging a profitable manner in which to spend their vacations.

Some of them have made good, it is true, but it is equally true that among the appointees have been men who did not even know how to paddle a canoe—let alone take care of themselves in the woods.

There is too much at stake to entrust the safety of the forest to such men, and the development of an efficient, permanent force of experienced rangers would seem, in the light of the Sudbury conference, to be a prime necessity.

ECONOMY AT OTTAWA.

Aside from making provision for pensions, soldiers' re-establishment and interest on the war debt, the Canadian Governments of the war and demobilization period did not raise one dollar towards the cost of the war itself. That cost was entirely financed upon borrowed money, with the result that the Government of today is burdened with the interest charges on a national debt of over $2,400,000,000. In addition, the Government has to provide funds for many other uncontrollable expenditures growing out of the war, the total war burden for the year 1922-23 being cited as follows:

Interest on public debt	$137,892,735
Pensions	32,986,919
Soldiers' civil re-establishment	13,365,134
Soldiers' land settlement	1,819,825
Charges of management, premium, discount, exchange	1,003,068
War and demobilization	4,464,760
	$191,532,441

This one portion of the uncontrollable expenditure—this heritage from the war—is not only $5,000,000 greater than the sum of all expenditures of Canada for all purposes in the year prior to the war, but constituted 44 per cent. of the total annual outlay of the Dominion in 1922-23. Moreover, the total annual outlay in that year $434,452,340, also included other very large amounts which must be classed as uncontrollable, and therefore not within reach of the Government's pruning knife. Among them are the advances to railways and the Canadian Merchant Marine, $83,843,794; subsidies to the Province under the B. N. A. Act, $12,207,313; miscellaneous uncontrollable (refunding debt), $4,042,931; and 8,913,696 which the Government is obligated by statute to pay to the Provinces as follows:

Technical education	$ 647,227
Grants for highways	5,854,396
Agriculture instruction and grants	1,201,605
Employment co-ordination offices	264,590
Unemployment relief	944,878

These various uncontrollable obligations, added to the uncontrollable expenditures due to the war, amount in round figures to $300,500,000 uncontrollable out of a total expenditure of $434,500,000, or nearly 70 per cent. And there are still other sums which the present Government could not avoid paying because they represented contractual obligations, etc., inherited from the previous administrations. These bring the uncontrollable amount up to $308,000,000, or over 70 per cent. of the whole expenditure.

Hampered by its inheritance of debt and financial obligations, and hampered, in addition to all this, by commitments on public works to which the country had been obligated by previous Governments—hampered to the extent of having only $126,000,000 controllable out of a total of $434,500,000—the King administration nevertheless reduced the nation's total expenditure by nearly $30,000,000 in the year 1922-23.

In his address to Parliament, Mr. King further justified the expenditures of the Government by comparing the present and pre-war situations as follows:

Fiscal Year	Total Spent	Total Uncontrollable	Regular Ordinary
1913-14....	$186,241,048	$27,613,220	$158,627,828
1922-23....	434,452,340	308,324,903	126,127,437

It will be seen from these figures that when the Government's inheritance of uncontrollable financial obligations is subtracted from its total expenditure, the regular ordinary expenditure is actually many millions less than that of the year before the war, and this despite the fact that the dollar of today has only two-thirds the purchasing power which it had in 1914.—Toronto Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

"Now it can be told" about the Budget.

Tollgates have been banned from Provincial roads for some time. Their apparent re-appearance in the financial department is most unwelcome.

There are no indications that there is anything of the olive branch about the C.N.R. branch programme discussion.

Canadian Communists are to hold a meeting in Toronto, and it is announced that it will be a quiet session. With James B. MacLachan of Nova Scotia as a delegate it is difficult to see how this prediction can be verified.

Mederic Martin of Montreal has succeeded in proving, just as Tommy Church did in Toronto, that a pitcher can go too often to the well.

However, Montreal's Mayor for the past ten years can console himself with the fact that his election did not cost him a cent.

What Easter gifts will the Government announce for the people of Canada when its Budget is brought down this week?

Hon. W. H. Price, after his labours of the present session, is not likely to agree with anyone who describes the Provincial Treasurer's berth as a sinecure.

This session of the Ontario Legislature will be remembered more for its investigation than for its legislation.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Blessed are the oil men for they have inherited the earth.

Wasn't it spring when Rip Van Winkle went to sleep and slept 20 years?

Bad news from Canada today. Ontario cow attacked a train, so now her owner has steak daily.

It is getting so about the only drivers who will give pedestrians a lift are street car motormen.

The differences which cause most divorces are indifferences.

Some of the new spring hats look almost good enough to put a little cream and sugar on and eat.

Spring is housecleaning time. In Los Angeles, one woman cleaned out an entire theatre by yelling "Fire."

They are having a hard time in Washington. No politician can make a good race if the wind is against him.

The Germans are exporting synthetic camphor now, but should save a little to smell when they receive French demands.

GARDEN HINTS.

Marry a good strong woman so she can take care of the garden after you are tired of fooling with it.

FASHIONS.

Bright jade or carmine shoes are the fad with women who like to be seen six blocks away.

BEAUTY SECRETS

Since crying makes the eyes red it certainly is a pity a girl can't cry with her cheeks instead.

ETIQUETTE.

Never slam the door when going away to work mad. Kicking a window out is much more expressive.

DIVORCE.

To get a divorce quickly say it is foolish for her to remember the wedding anniversary.

LATE NEWS.

The rising generation is awful. Even at the age of one they often stay up all night raising cain.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, April 9.—A fair trade is being done in stockers and feeders and Neil Coutts sold three loads on Tuesday at $5.25 to $6.25 a cwt. The general feeling is that the feeding stock is going out to grass at too high a price. There is more inquiry for springer cows and one buyer wanting a load for the country decided to wait till next week. A load of western butchers 950 lbs. each, sold to the Harris Abbattoir today at $7.05 a cwt., and other good handyweights brought about the same price. Choice 1,200-lb. steers were $8 a cwt. Few butchers of any account are to be had below $6 a cwt. Butchers' cows and bulls are steady.

Calves were steady today at the decline. Bunches of dairy calves sold at 7 and 7¼ cents a pound, but the good calf kept at 11½ cents, and a little over.

There was no change in the sheep and lambs. Good ewe sheep sold at 9 cents a pound, and the best of the spring lambs at $15 each. Poor quality spring lambs are selling around $11 each. A few yearling lambs brought 15½ cents.

There was a disposition to get the hogs down 25 cents a cwt. to $7.25 f.o.b., but no sales were reported below $7.50.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 9—There was very little activitiy displayed in today's wheat market, lower cables and an absence of new business creating a weakness.

Around the opening which was firm, some buying to cover business worked on Tuesday stimulating trade but as this volume was small the market did not hold for any length of time, final prices showing a loss of half for May and July, with October 5-8 down.

Seaboard advices reported only a small overnight business worked with foreign buyers showing no urgency. Argentine offerings still being heavy and under-selling Canadian wheat.

WINNIPEG LIVE STOCK.

WINNIPEG, April 9.—Receipts amounted to 1540 cattle and calves, 1,970 hogs and 38 sheep and lambs.

The cattle market showed increased activity with demand and firm prices for butcher stock. Stockers and feeders sold on steady basis.

Hog market maintained a firm tone, thick smooths selling at $7.10 to $7.20.

Trading on sheep and lambs market was dull due to lack of offerings.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 9—Grain prices failed to receive any stimulus today from the aves report, and some foreign selling of wheat here was evident. As generally expected, the Government crop report proved bearish, about in line with official estimates which have been current. Wheat closed unsettled 1-8 to 3-4 and 7-8c not lower, May $1.01 3-8 to $1.01 1-2, and July $1.03 1-4 to $1.03 3-8, with corn 3-8c to 1 1-4c down; oats 1-4 to 3-8c off, and provisions unchanged to 10c higher.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, April 9.—Cattle, receipts 6,000; beef steers uneven, better grades weighing 1100 pounds and up, active and scarce, strong to 15c higher; others and low grade light yearlings closing weak to shade low er ;top matured steers $12.25; several loads weighty bullocks $12.00; bulk fed steers and yearlings $8.50 and $11.00 ;some plain light yearlings unsold at noon; fat she stock closing rather top-heavy, barely steady ;light vealers 60c lower; bulk veal calves averaging 95 to 101 pounds, $9.25 to $9.50; some down to $9.00; choice handy weights up to $11.00 to packers ;other classes generally steady; bulk desirable bologna bulls $5.00 to $5.25; narrow country demand for thin flushed lightweight stockers and feeders weighty; feeders strong.

Hogs, receipts 18,000; opened around 5c higher; closed dull; big packers bidding 10c to 15c lower; bulk good and choice 250 to 325 pound butchers $7.40 and $7.50; bulk desirable 160 to 225 weights, $7.30 and $7.45; top light and heavy weight, $7.50; better grade 140 to 150 pound average mostly $7.00 to $7.25; bulk packing sows $6.80 and $6.90; killing pigs weak to 25c lower; bulk desirable strong weight $5.75 and $6.25; estimated hold over 03,000.

Sheep, receipts 9,000; fat lambs strong to 25c higher; sheep around 25c higher; feeding and shearing lambs scarce; bulk fat wooled lambs $16.25 and $16.60; top $17.10; best clipped lambs $15.35; top fat ewes $13.50; shorn ewes upwards of $11.00.

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, April 9—There is very little change in the egg market at present. A continuation of cars rolling east from the prairie provinces is a main factor, of these, Montreal firms appear to want full cars of seconds or a large proportion of seconds in each car the reason for which it is reported that seconds are best suited for their current trade.

TORONTO easy and unchanged. Three cars have arrived from prairie provinces and offered by brokers as follows: 1 car 15 per cent. extras at 24, 35 per cent. firsts at 22 1-2, 50 per cent. seconds at 10 1-2 f.o.b. Moose Jaw freight 4 cents per doz. One car 15 per cent. extras at 25 1-3 65 per cent. firsts at 23 1-2c; 20 per cent. seconds at 20 f.o.b. Brandon, freight 3 1-4 cents per dozen. One car 13 per cent. extras at 26; 55 per cent. firsts at 24; 30 per cent. seconds at 21 f.o.b. Winnipeg, freight charges 3 cents per dozen.

Montreal receipts of eggs large and storing has commenced quite extensively, specials 33, extras 31, firsts 28, seconds 26. Dressed chickens 26 to 34, fowl 25 to 26, ducks 33 to 35, geese 30, turkeys 33 to 35.

Winnipeg dealers quoting country shipperes delivered extras 22 to 3, firsts 21, seconds 18 to19. Receipts are somewhat lighter with good consumptive demand. Poultry live chickens 10 o 13, fowl 7 to 13, roosters 7, ducks 9, geese 9, turkeys 13. Dressed chicken 15 to 18, fowl 12 to 18, roosters 12, ducks 14, geese 14, turkeys 17.

STOCK SALE IN BELLEVILLE WAS BUSY GATHERING

Seventy-Seven Head of Cattle Sold — Top Price Was $300--Four Hundred Persons Present.

PRICES WERE FAIR.

BELLEVILLE, April 10.—(Special to the Examiner)—A huge tent in the yards at rear of the Hotel Belvidere, sheltered the large crowd of stockmen who had congregated for the fourteenth annual sale of Belleville District Holstein Freisian Breeders' Club from a drizzling rain throughout yesterday afternoon. The sale commenced at 1 o'clock and did not conclude until nearly 8 p.m. More than four hundred stockmen from numerous points in the Province, attended the sale, and the majority of them remained until Auctioneer George Tice had sold the last animal.

Mr. James A. Caskey of Madoc was sale manager and performed his duties in a most creditable manner. As Mr. Caskey is a breeder of thoroughbred Holstein cattle he is in a position to know a good animal and to tell intending purchasers of its good qualities. Seventy-seven head of cattle were sold; few young calves also.

The receipts of the sale minus the price paid for the calves was $8,860. The highest price paid for an individual animal was $300. The animal, a female, Pontiac Artis Spofford, was consigned by Wm. Gough at Bloomfield, and the purchaser was Mr. W. Preston of Frankford. Jessie Waldorf, Alcartra, another valuable animal consigned by Mr. Gough brought $230, the purchaser being Mr. Samuel Dodds of Cherry Valley. Mr. J. J. Wilmot of Kingston, was the heaviest purchaser at the sale securing 12 head. Mr. Ed. Houlihan of Omemee, purchased three head, namely Hermes Alcartra Lady, $80; Korndyke Hermes Plus $65 and Rosee Echo Pieterje $90. S. B. Moir and P. B. Nelson of Campbellford purchased respectively four and two head.

W. B. Shield of Peterboro, consigned two animals, namely Hulda Keyes De Kol sold to W. E. Simmons of Trenton for $90 and Bella Keyes Rag Apple sold to W. Preston of Frankford for $95.

The sale on the whole was considered by the consignors as fairly successful and prices obtained fair.

GERMANY WOULD REVISE REPORT

Objects to Dawes Commission Report on Three Grounds -- Wants Ruhr Evacuated.

BERLIN, April 10.—(By Carl D. Groat, United Press Staff Correspondent.) —Germany was busy today giving reasons why the Dawes report should not be accepted. Three main extractions urged in Government circles were:

1—A definite total reparation sum should be fixed, so that Germany might have a mark to shoot at;

2—France and Belgium should be required to take their troops out of the Ruhr.

3—Practically all the various sums demanded should be reduced.

FRENCH OBJECT.

PARIS, April 10. — (By Webb Miller, United Press Staff Correspondent.)— While the Reparations Commission studies the experts' reports France keeps pace with Germany in objecting to the proposals.

The old familiar game of European politics already is being played with this effort of international business men. The Dawes plan was based upon co-operation and restored confidence. The principal French objections voiced by the press today were that:

1st—Moral guarantees were valueless as far as Germany was concerned.

2nd—The Germans couldn't be trusted to carry out the experts' recommendations; even if they formally accepted them.

"With their Swiss and Dutch colleagues," said the Petit Parisien, referring to the mixed boards of control proposed, "the Germans soon would be masters of the situation."

The French expect international negotiations lasting several months.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair britle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is beter than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

WARKWORTH NEWS

WARKWORTH, April 10.—Miss Verna Thompson and Mrs. J. B. Thompson, also Mr. Neil Thompson motored to Cobourg on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Knight also Mr. J. Knight of Hastings called on friends in town on Tuesday.

Mr. S. Stickles of Hastings visited relatives in town one day this week.

At the meeting of the Young Peoples Society which was held in the Sunday School room of the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening a large number attended.

The program was in the hands of the devotional committee, Miss S. Muir in charge.

The program consisted largely of lantern slides on the life of Christ which was very impressive. At different times the quartette, Mrs. G. A. Hammond, Mrs. J. L. Phillip, C. T. Maycock and Wm. Snooker sang hymns suitable to different pictures Rev. G .A. Hammond gave an interesting address on the Parables of Jesus Christ, explaining that the people whom Jesus taught could understand His teaching much better from illustrations than in any other way.

Rev. S. A. Kemp gave a talk on some of the miracles that Jesus performed, saying Jessu did not do these things to show his power but to show his people that an new age was dawning where a small kingdom would become great.

Quebec Sap Checked By Changed Weather.

QUEBEC, April 10.—(Canadian Pres).—Though the sugaring season has been on for some time, the optimistic views entertained at first by the experts of the department of agriculture, have change in the course of the last eight days and unless conditions improve within a few days, fear in entertained that the record crop expected will be seriously compromised.

The sap is reported to be of good quality, but all through the province come reports that due to the sudden, changes in the weather conditions, with snow, rain and wind alternately, instead of cold nights and days of sunshine, it is only running in some sections.

NOAH, 1924.

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, April 10—A passenger on the Cunarder Saxonia, which recently docked here, brought a small Noah's ark with him. He had two geese, two ducks, two owls, eight different kinds of cage birds in pairs and a pair of white mice.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS

tive, St. John) said that Mr. Ladner's resolution dealt with a concrete case. It would refer a special feature of the subject to the special committee.

E. B. Ryckman (Conservative, (Toronto East) pointed out that Mr. Irvine's resolution dealt only with Home Bank depositors, while Mr. Ladner's was intended to protect depositors at large.

Resolution in Order.

The Speaker ruled Mr. Ladner's resolution in order on the grounds that it was "not substantially the same question." He suggested that Mr. Ladner amend his resolution to have it referred to the banking and commerce committee.

Mr. Ladner agreed to do so.

Mr. Ladner quoted the opinion of experts that if there was no increase in the percentage of bank failures, an insurance fund could be provided at as low a rate as $25.00 per million dollars deposited. It had been suggested that the banks might deposit in this fund about 1 per cent. of their annual profits.

Postal Savings.

H. E. Spencer (Progressive, Battle River) said that he understood hardly a year went by without some bank asking the Government to lodge deposits in it to tide over a crisis. He quoted from an article which stated that while the Government had increased its deposits in the Dominion, Standard and Union Banks at a time when the deposits of these institutions were falling, in the case of the Home Bank the opposite policy had been adopted.

He could not understand why the people had not been encouraged to place deposits in the Post Office Savings Department, or why deposits should be limited to $1,500 annually with a total of $5,000 permissible for each depositor. It looked as though such regulations were made to suit the larger financial institutions.

Belittle Post Office.

W. F. MacLean (Conservative, South York) said there was apparently an organised effort to belittle the post office savings. He regretted that the Receiver-General no longer received deposits. All currency should be Federal currency Dominion notes should be substituted for the bank notes in circulation to-day.

"Somebody doesn't allow these progressive measures to become law. The Post Office savings bank is tied up in red tape and the Receiver-General's offices have been closed except in one or two places."

"Where is the Prime Minister to answer these questions?" asked Mr. MacLean, pointing to empty Government benches.

"Here he is," called out L. H. Martell (Liberal, Hants), as the Prime Minister entered amid applause from the Liberal benches.

The Prime Minister said he thought the banking committee would be able to deal with the points brought up by Mr. MacLean.

W. C. Good (Progressive, Brant) supported the resolution. He thought the matter had not received sufficient consideration last year.

Herbert Harler (Liberal, St. Lawrence-St. George) was not opposed to the principle of guaranteeing deposits. He could not support this resolution, however, because its terms would involve the whole principle of banking. Not only a guarantee principle would be created, but that principle would affect nearly every other bank transaction.

C. G. Coots (Progressive, McLeod) asked Mr. Marler whether he considered that the present guarantee of bank notes was an absolute guarantee.

Mr. Marler replied that he thought it was. At any rate, it was a fair and reasonable system.

Oklahoma's Experience.

After a fair attempt to guarantee deposits in the State of Oklahoma, the law was repealed with more than a million dollars outstanding due to the guarantee offered to depositors.

J. S. Woodsworth (Labour, Winnipeg Centre) asked if Mr. Marler had any definite proposal to offer for the protection of depositors.

Mr. Marler replied that he had difficulty in seeing how any guaranteed fund could be created. Speaking of the suggestion that deposits up to $3,000 should be guaranteed, he believed that any man with larger savings would divide the bulk among several banks in order to get the benefit of any guarantee that might be offered. If a guarantee must exist it should be for all deposits. It was pointed out that 85 per cent. of deposits in Canadian banks were $3,000 or less.

In conclusion Mr. Marler reviewed the attempts in the United States to guarantee depositors. It had been successful in no instance in any State of the Union.

The debate was adjourned.

Another report stated that the ac-

FOR THE BLIND

An interesting section of the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind is the Conservation of Vision classes, or, as they are most commonly called, "Sight Saving Classes," classes carried on in ordinary schools for sighted children, to which pupils are admitted whose vision is so far defective as to disqualify them for receipt of education in the usual manner, but who nevertheless possess sufficient sight to render it unnecessary for them to receive their education in schools especially provided for blind children.

In these classes special attention is given to the light admitted to the school rooms, to the surface of walls, desks, etc. to keep away the glare, to the style and method of study and the angle of the desks, in fact, everything possible is done to minimize strain on the pupils' eyes. Books, maps, etc. are printed in mammoth type to follow the same line of improvement of vision.

In many instances of pupils in such classes, marked improvement in vision is shown by children with less than normal vision. Oral work is undertaken whenever practicable, book and blackboard work is undertaken at discretion, and frequent rest periods are given.

PIG KILLS A MAN.

ROME, April 10.—One of the quaintest accidents ever recorded took place recently at Frattamaggiore-Grumo, near Naples. A peasant was walking through the village when, without warning, a pig fell on his head, killing him instantly. It was discovered that the pig had forced its way through the bars of a balcony on the second floor of a house. How he got on the balcony was not disclosed.

First Boat Whistle of Year Heard at Sarnia.

SARNIA, April 9.— (Canadian Press).—Sarnia heard the first toot of a freighter when the steamer Conneaut passed up last evening bound for Alpena to load stone. Ice conditions on the lower end of Huron are reported favorable. The big fleet of steamers in Sarnia harbor are being groomed for start in about a fortnight, and smoke is rolling from all funnels of the Northern Navigation Company boats and the Imperial Oil fleet. The remodelled ferry City of Port Huron is expected to go on the route between Sarnia and Port Huron early in May

"Exhausted Nerves and Palpitating Heart"

Mrs. L. Whiting, 202 King St. West, Brockville, Ont., writes:

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I tried several doctors, but it seemed nothing they gave me helped. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I tried it, and can say it certainly has done wonders for me. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes."

ILLUSTRATED BY WILLIAM FISHER

A Story of Villany and Vengeance in the South Seas—How the Faith of the Scots Missionary of Baliang is Justified By the Miraculous Return of the Pearls of the Mission.

WHEN first he was seen on Baliang he wore one leg of a pair of trousers and two weeks' growth of bristly grey beard and little of anything else. In this scant but patriarchal attire he appeared at the Rev. David Colhoun's evening service, where he fluttered the faithful Gilbert Islanders with mixed emotions. They peeped between their devotional fingers and shuddered at the shameless stranger who issued from the saffron sunset somewhat behind the spiky line of the mission jackfruit trees.

The Rev. David Colhoun was not pleased.

For a terror dwelt on Baliang. License and pillage had ruled the peaceful isle all day, and rum had flowed like coconut milk. Back in the lagoon lay the ruffian ship of pirates and pearl-poachers who had come to rob and stayed to riot. The very singing of the hymns had been punctuated with the pinging of revolver shots. In this dark hour who should remain—aye, and did remain—the sole shield and hope of his people against alien outrage? Who but the Rev. David himself?

No one had ever questioned the courage of the gaunt Scots missionary of Baliang. He had proved it that day. Three times he had faced the leader of the villainous crew of the Galloway Lass below and three times had won his point, singlehanded, until even that great, dark, sleepy-eyed devil had given up trying to frighten him.

And here in his own chapel he stood ready for further defense if need should be. But the stranger made no provocative move. He stayed clinging to a post, blinking in upon that silent and hostile gathering until with a tardy start and an oddly deprecatory gesture, as if conscious for the first time of the place and the presence he had invaded, he sidled to the end of a bench and dropped there.

The Disreputable Intruder

COLHOUN'S nervous hand caught up the suspense and cast it dramatically into his renewed petition.

He finished in a fervor that whipped the color to his grey cheek. The congregation recognized, perhaps, one word in ten—it is not easy to pray extempore in the Gilbert Island tongue—but they caught his drift quite well.

Earnestly then, with simple eagerness that lent a sudden authentic dignity and pathos to the effort, they lifted their voice in the final hymn. So they followed their pastor as he had taught them stumbling the hard meaning perhaps, but finding a subtler truth, bravely one and all:

D'o num-'res hosts of mi-dy foes
D'o 'earth and hell my way op-pose.
'E save-ly leads me still a-lon',
'Es lo'n k-ind-'ess, oh, 'ow stron',
'Es lov'n k-ind-'ess, 'Es lov'n k-ind-'ess,
'Es lov'n k-ind-'ess, oh 'ow stron'!

Thereafter under the benediction they broke up, hurrying away each man of them to bar his hut and lie hid until morning.

"Amen!" they murmured one to another, to complete the rite as they understood it. "Ah—men!" Amen!"

A shifting of shadows and they were gone, dispersed into the russet dusk, and had left the chapel empty—empty save for Colhoun and the lone visitor who sat on the end of a bench and who echoed curiously, tentatively, to himself in a dry whisper:

"Amen! Amen!" . . .

The Rev. David stepped down the aisle and spoke over at him. "What do you want?"

The man lifted a face like the shell of a nut, as brown and weather-beaten. "Who—me? Nothn' much, Mister, and no offense. I take it you're the lad as does the reg'ler missionaryin' here, ain't you?"

The Stranger's Question

HIS voice was low and husky and yet in other ways he hardly met the clergyman's rather academic concept of the spirituous as opposed to the spiritual state.

"This is my mission, yes. My church."

He turned his slow gaze around.

"An honest-t' Heaven church? What? It don't look it."

"It was consecrated by a bishop," said the Rev. David, quite sharply, for he was touchy on the point.

"Bishop—eh?" The other seemed to extract an obscure satisfaction from the title. "Well, that makes it churchier, don't it? Mister, I been looking for a real church and a real preacher. I come a long ways lookin'."

"Where on earth do you hail from?"

"Mele."

"Mele? In the Marshalls? Two hunner miles!"

"With a bit of a proa-sail and paddle. I smashed her on the reefs gettin' ashore just now."

The stranger was silent a space.

"Mister, it comes hard to me to holler for help and I dunno' quite how to put the case, bein' rough and tough and not in your line. But one thing I'll make bold. About these here . natives—Gilbert Islanders, we'll say, like your own—I want to ask you something that may sound queer."

"Well?" said Colhoun, marveling.

"Well—here's you whose business is good works for the black heathen, I believe, and here's me that never give them a thought except at so much per head, you might say. And what I want to know is that: Has a nigger got a soul?"

Sitting there beside him on the bench the castaway listened in silence while Colhoun made his brief answer, speaking as was given him to speak in that moment, and for a time only the muttering diapason of the reef filled the prelude.

Real Tiger Fish

"A MONTH ago I wasn't askin' favors," began the stranger presently; "I was doin' of them. Leastways I did when it seemed good business. I had a fine ship under me and a likely crew and you'd a' found few men between Nukahiva and Pelews but would give me room as I needed it.

"I had a tip on a shipment of beche de mer that one of the native traders had been savin' up. The stuff is prime in the Marshalls—real tiger-fish—and I had a chance for a turn if I could beat down his price. What made me all the keener, the very afternoon I got in, here come a dirty, little lop-sided ketch poking her sly nose up the passage. I wasn't goin' to have no Cooktown clam-digger snaffle that cargo away from me, so I put quick to shore.

"But I couldn't find my trader. An old beggar party on the beach told me he lived on Vatu, a flea-bite of an isle some miles off. I figgered I could leave my mate to set up and overhaul some needed repairs whilst I chased right after that beche de mer.

"Well, I done it. I had my boys sail me over in the whale-boat, there bein' no proper anchorage for a schooner yonder, and I told Farwell—that was my mate—he sh'd send 'em back again after me the next day. But he never did. And they never came. No, they never. And I would think it the less strange but that Farwell, my mate, and every other man of my crew, white or black, should have been the sacrifice. For what had they done compared with me? And yet I buried them, the few I could find of 'em after, in the coral sand by the water's edge. They'd been shot to pieces as they lay—

"I landed on Vatu along in the afternoon. I walked up from the lagoon and there wasn't a living creature in sight, nor any trace of the same.

"It looked queer; the boats were gone from the beach, the curing-sheds were empty. Thinking I, maybe everybody's off on a big canoe festival, or elseway, and so I squatted in the shade till they should please to come home again.

Clever as a Mouse

"AFTER a while I got the notion you get of somebody spyin' on y', and sure enough when I turned my head I saw a kid—just one. Maybe he was eight years old, a brown bit of a scamp peekin' from the doorway at me through his oily ringlets, clever as a mouse with his bright little eyes. I beckoned him over, but he whipped inside and when I went after him he barred the door.

"Well, I seen I was stuck at Vatu for the day, anyhow, just me and the kid—and him so perk and sassy—and so I laid a reg'lar siege to catch that chap. So I took my knife and a bit of driftwood I found and set down to whittle a kind of jumping toy, which I hadn't done since I was a kid myself.

"I heard him stirrin' at the window, but I never let on, and pretty soon here he come sneakin' around me for a better look. I tossed the jigger to him and he made a dive for it and I near grabbed him, but he went up a tree smart as a squirrel.

"'You white fella mahrster,' he chatters at me. 'You get to the devil. Get to the devil 'long scrub!' he says.

"'Oh-ho,' I says, 'my bold buccaneer, you talk big for such a spry one. What name you so so much fright?'

"'Me no fright,' he says. 'One fella man, me!'

"'Gammon!' I says, a-teasin' of him. 'If you're a man why ain't you off with the rest of the bunch? All fella Kanaka he go fish, only pickininny he stop home. Pickininny, you.'

"'No fish!' he cries. 'Sick! Plenty strong fella sick. All fella Kanaka run like devil. You no run like devil, plenty soon you catch'm strong fella sick—my word. Close up you die altogether!'

"Sick, d'y see, mister? Ah, that was it. He told me what had happened on Vatu; how a crew of strange white men had showed up around those parts in a little ketch; how they hired some native divers from Vatu and went grubbing the reefs after pearls; and how two weeks before they'd put those unlucky divers back on shore again to die. Aye, mister—of measles. That was their pay, the big sickness that sweeps an island bare. Naturally the people had cleared like frightened rats, scattering for safety through the round about group. All except this one boy.

A Great Little Kid

"'ME no fright,' he says. 'One fella man, me.' And by heavens, he was! He had stayed. Knowing quite well what it meant, he had stayed. And why? 'Father b'long me plenty too much sick,' he says. Because there was nobody else to look after his old man as was dyin' all alone in that house."

"But the boy was doomed," he cried. "Surely you should have seen that!"

"As you say, mister," returned the other. "I saw that quite well—for I nursed him the three days and nights."

The Rev. David sat very still in the darkness.

"I been a good deal amongst niggers in my time," resumed the stranger. "A nigger has always been a nigger to me, black or brown or pipe-colored. But that little kid now—he was different.

"He was sickenin' for it himself, of course, and even whilst he sat up there in the tree a-cussin' of me the fever was on him. But I couldn't coax him down. He was leary of white men, and perhaps he had reason. His father had been one of those divers, you see. Not a step would he come until I thought to walk away into his house and then he came fast enough, all hands to repel boarders. He wasn't goin' to have nobody else touch his old man—not him. But he needn't a' worried. His old man was dead.

"I think he must a' gone off his chump a bit after that. Toys he wouldn't look at no more; nor yet games didn't hold his sick-boy fancy. But stories, now—"

"Stories?" echoed Colhoun, for the other had checked on a sound like a stifled oath. 'What kind of stories?"

"What kind would you think?" came the harsh response. "It seems a tramp missionary passing by Vatu had once preached from the white man's Book. That was the only kind of story he'd ever heard, and that was the only kind he wanted. He remembered the Book, bein' full of most wonderful matters. He remembered.

Telling Bible Stories

"BIBLE stories, d'ye see, mister? He called for 'em. There he lay in the light of the lamp with the red flush of his sunken brown cheeks and his eyes so bright and eager. He was dying and he wanted Bible stories. And me—me, I didn't know any!"

"Not the few that count?" whispered Colhoun.

"How should I know, Mister—what counts? Who was I to know? He asked for Bible talk, and the only single blame' thing I could tell him——"

"Well?"

"D'y' want to know? Jonah! Aye, it sounds like a poor sort of jest, don't it now? But it wasn't to him, nor yet to me—worse luck!—nor to me. I told him the story of Jonah. Not as you would likely tell it, and how far off from what's writ in the Book I'd be afraid to think. But he liked it. He made me tell him over and over. And at last I was telling him again one night as he dozed.

"'Now the word of the Lord come unto Jonah,' I says—recallin' that part quite pat as I heard it the once from a navy chaplain—'Now the word of the Lord come unto Jonah,' I says, and the rest in beche de mer lingo, and when I looked at him where he lay on my arm—why—he was gone, Mister."

"Well—I got back. Too late; and when I seen the whale-boat would never come I managed to fit out a half-built proa from the canoe house, and with that I worked my way back to Mele.

"It was like I said: Those strange white men had simply jumped my crew in the dark and murdered them and made off, and what else about it none could say, or ever will. A clean sweep and a finished job. It's done, and I'm done, and that's all."

"Never think it," said the Rev. David standing and swaying in a rapt renewal of faith. "Never believe it! Heaven's purpose does not fail us so. Is yon little brave brown child to have died in vain? Shall they not answer? Yea, whosoever and wheresoever they be—even as that man below whom I fear no longer for a' his wicked triumph—even as he must answer in due time—even as Cap'n J. Jeffrey o' the Galloway Lass!"

The Pearl Poacher

MEANWHILE the pearl-poaching skipper of the Galloway Lass was doing his own waiting, by his own beliefs, and pacing the schooner's deck like a big caged cat. He wanted to be gone, he had all a highwayman's furious eagerness to be gone, and delays still clogged his purpose.

"And besides, there's somethin' making," observed for perhaps the tenth time the lank youth who had served as mate. "Somethin' making and you can take your colonial oath. Feel that air?" He wet a bony forefinger and snapped it nervously. "Like gum, it is. We won't be leaving this tide."

"You mean you hope we won't," corrected his chief, never so amiable as when he was raging. "I can't blame you, Gunny, my lad. If we get a breeze you'll have to sweat sail on her all by your precious self."

He moved a pad-foot nearer and Gunny winced and shrank.

"Oh, you needn't get your monkey up. I ain't said no—'ave I? Didn't I take your side when the rest was clamoring to be off the cruise two days ago? I wouldn't stand in when they wanted to cross you."

"Ah? And why?"

"Jump the only man we got that knows 'ow to navigate," protested Gunny, eagerly. "Not me! 'Leave it to him,' I told 'em. 'e ain't no ways more anxious than us to swing; and ain't 'e due to swing the first of all if once we get shopped? Just put it to 'im respectful like, that we won't take no more risks, and leave 'im to run the show,' I says. 'o'll see reason.'"

"And did you say so, Gunny?" purred the skipper, with his sleepy-eyed smile. "Well-well-here's loyalty." In the band of his sash hung a little double-ended bag of fine coconut fibre that gave the faintest tinkling music as he ran it through his fingers. "Now just for that—what will you have? A fistful of beauties like these? A hatful of Chile dollars? Name your will and say your pleasure, my lad. You shall have your pick from our very next haul. . . . Within twenty-four hours!"

"Self-Acting Crimp"

GUNNY'S jaw dropped.

"You're going on with it?"

"I'm going on."

Prompt as at a cue there rose a sudden hall from overside that brought them both around, tensed.

"What's there?" called the skipper.

"Cap'n," came a voice. "Cap'n"—quiet and mysterious out of the leaden gloom that foreruns the dawn "Have you room for an extra hand, Cap'n? Here's a man to work his passage."

"A man? . . . . What kind of a man?"

"A white man—an able man."

"And what kind of a passage?"

"Anywheres at all, so long as it's off this ruddy beach," was the calm reply. "I just heard there was a ship here. Wherever you're goin' is the place for me. And if you want to catch this tide—there's a whiff of breeze stirring now. Come aboard, sir," he added, as he stood on deck.

Then the skipper threw back his head and laughed wide over the water, for it was true, a warm breath fanned his cheek and the schooner had swung on the first of the ebb.

"Selfacting crimp!" he chuckled. "That settles it. I couldn't ask better. All hands—" he cried. "Heave short and stand by to break out. Gunny—!"

He found the mate creeping up behind and nailed him there at a grab. Hag-ridden by his fears the creature had whipped up a degree of despairing courage.

"You can't do it," he stammered. "You daren't try! My Gaw, we ain't fit—a ship like us on an errand like yours! I tell you there's a fearful time brewin', a fearful blow; so dark and thick and steamy it is. Wot kind of shape are we with all we got hangin' over us—wot kind of a 'oly captain are you—to risk a reckonin' now in storm and big waters? And besides—! He gulped. "The glass! D'you know—d'you know where it is? . . . . Down below 29.85, and still fallin'!"

An Ultimatum

"I KNOW," said the skipper, grimly.

The Galloway Lass might once have been the trader of the isles she purported to be; her look belied it as the faintly lightening day revealed her, with rigging set slack-handed and anyhow, her decks a sloven litter of filth, loose cordages and empty bottles. All about her main hatch was strewn a mess of rotting pearl shell, and here and there lay an out-sprawled figure—as if these too had been left to yield some potential gem only through corruption. Their faces showed putty-white with soot-ringed eyes, sly and cruel.

Straddling wide-legged on the deck, looking down from knotted black brows and lowered lids, the skipper passed them in contemptuous review. And there he made his defiance of them: of chance, of events, of all checks and bars—the unconquered embodiment of evil and evil will.

"I'm speaking to you," he said. "This cruise goes through, weather or wind or crew as may be. It goes through and all heaven or hell can't stop it now. Tyree, Molloy, Silveira—and you over there, whatever's your beach-combing name before I sign you on with a boot's end—you hear me? Jump!"

They jumped.

With a racing tide and a hot, puffy wind out of the north-west that made her sails to bulge like fat cheeks, the Galloway Lass shot the narrow passage and stood off to sea.

The skipper made his first concession when he relaxed to wipe away a stinging blink of sweat and summoned Gunny with a jerk of his head. . . .

"You that's so clever at the glass," he said, with an unwonted rasp, "hop below and see what it reads now."

Bedlam Breaks

THE unfortunate mate who seemed to move in a state of stupor, went limply sliding and dangling to obey. A moment later he crawled up the companion again and clung there making lip talk against the wind until his chief impatiently called the nearest hand to the wheel and stepped over.

"I said: where'd you shift it?" piped Gunny.

"Shift what?"

"The aneroid."

The skipper dived past into the cabin and presently returning took him softly by the neck and pulled him backward.

"If you did that—!" he began.

But Gunny's fluttering hds covered no secret this time.

"My Gaw, wot should I do it for? I come to look like you said—and the thing ain't there! That's all I know."

"If anybody thinks he can make me turn back that way he's due for a shock," said the pearl-poacher.

They had more to puzzle them ere long. Far and clear of all weather breaks in the coral group the schooner had now to labor the great ground swell and she met it but sluggishly. Too sluggishly. They learned why when Gunny, despatched on another errand, came staggering aft with the sounding rod.

"A foot an' a half," he cried. "And makin' fast!"

His chief turned a convulsed face on him and would have struck him to the deck, for half the men had heard, but just then a black squall sent all reeling and, while they scrambled in the wash, with a rending jar the main top-mast snapped short.

Bedlam broke with an uproar of panic voices, of slatting canvas and plunging seas, until the skipper's bellowing challenge mounted it, until he sprang on the man at the wheel and plucked him off.

Whole Show Queered

"FUNNY!" he called presently, in a changed and hurried tone. "Gunny, see here."

The mate brought up in his grip.

"What's been the course?"

"Why, west by south, s'n't it?"

"Will you tell me what you see on that card?"

And Gunny looked, and had reason to look, for within some short interval running close-and-by on the tack the Galloway Lass had managed to swing through nearly one hundred and eighty degrees and was now scooting back on her tracks—that was the impossible thing the compass said!

Gunny swept his hopeless, haunted gaze about the curtained ring of sea.

"We're done. Something's queered it. Something's queered the whole craft—us and her and the whole show, I knew 'ow it would be, along of all this cross-work. It's a curse on us!"

But the skipper had caught from the deck a blown strand of small rope and was thrusting it at him and speaking short and thick.

"Something—something—? How about this? It's the lanyard—the lanyard from that top-mast backstay. Cut! She didn't give, she was cut! Something queered us?" The blood congested in his swarthy cheek. "Somebody, you mean! Somebody did that, somebody crabbed the glass and faked the card with an iron. Somebody's queered us—and by the holy cripes somebody's going to die for it!"

A commotion forward among the crew arrested his questing glance and following their lifted faces he stared aloft upon a singular sight.

In Borrowed Clothes

AS if the ship had been one gigantic candelabrum, from every point of her rigging, pallid, ghostly flames were weaving upward. Each mast and spar was tipped with them, and at the centre of the display in the cross-trees, sat the hand who had climbed there to clear away the raffle of the broken topmast. His head was bare and around and over him the spectral fluid played like a nimbus so that his hair stood on end and the very tips of his fingers crackled with it. The schooner wallowed on and still those unearthly fires wavered about her in will-o'the-wisp ribbons, and still the man wrought calmly at his task.

It was all too much for the craven lot of the Galloway Lass. Their wailing rose along the decks and they cowered. All but Gunny; Gunny with his sharper trick of vision, who stabbed the air.

"That's the man!" he yelled.

"Hey?" said the skipper, blinking, and shook himself together with a brutal oath. "It's only the corposants, you damned ass. Natural enough. Did you never see an electric storm a' shipboard——"

But Gunny's claw sank into his arm.

"I'm tellin' you that's 'im—that's your man—the somebody you're lookin' for!"

"What!"

"Look at 'im now."

And so the skipper did, and so did all the crew. They glared at the hand in the rigging.

He had finished his job and now lowered himself soberly by the shrouds until he was half-way down and there, suddenly aware of their fixed regard, he stopped. He stayed on the ratlines, peering through at them, . . a squat, stubble-bearded, somewhat shrunken little fat man, garbed in a complete but very ill-fitting suit of rusty blacks whereof the coat was buttoned straight to the chin—the unmistakable sign of a clergyman the world around.

Two Men Overboard

"WHAT are you doing in those shops, my lad?" the skipper asked pleasantly. "Never tell me it's your trade."

The man above stood there with tag-ends of the garments flopping about him in the wind.

"No," he said. "They was loaned to me."

"Ah? What for?"

"To wear aboard this craft."

"And what for that?"

"So I could wreck her," said the stranger calmly.

"So I could bring you to answer," he continued. "or Baliang—for Mele—for Vatu—for all crimes and all the wrong you done in those islands and meant to do. For my men you killed, my ship you stole—for the sake of all the poor souls, black and white, against your score. And answer you will. You'll never find that leak, for one thing—I know the poor old girl too well, you see—and for another, the riggin's all cut and slashed. . . . Your piratin' cruise is ended here, you big, bloody-handed murderer, for you and all your outfit!"

The crew swarmed at him in a snarling pack.

"Chuck 'im over! Smash 'im—drowned 'im!"

The skipper took a step on the shrouds, looking up, and his teeth were bared to the gums.

"Will you come down?" he purred in his throat.

The other did not stir.

"Well," grinned the skipper. "I'll be most highly pleased to fetch you." And he began to climb.

He was part way up with one hand reaching for a ratline when the vessel swung over on the next deep swell—and in that instant the man above merely dropped on him. Dropped like a blotchy black spider from a web, to his shoulders, about his neck, and wrenched him away in the impact. The two bodies fell grappled together, struck the channels with a shock that quivered through the ship, bounded off into the sea—and disappeared . . . .

A Desperate Struggle

NOT finally. The condemned crew of the Galloway Lass had one more glimpse of that deadly struggle, the last, dim adumbration of its closing gesture. Through the smother they discerned a huge bulky body floating half submerged, low and rolling in the grey spume. And there they presently saw, or seemed to see, two figures rise to a footing, giant and pigmy, and meet. But the pigmy must somehow have gained a decisive weapon, for he struck from a raised arm and the one that fell was the giant. . . .

Then a great black shadow as of brooding wings swept through the upper air, the wind leaped shouting down, and they saw no more.

When next he arrived on Baliang he wore the garb of modesty, still sopping from the sea but quite complete, and he carried a short, steel-tipped lance on which he bore as a staff. In this pilgrim guise he stumbled a painful and laborious way up to the beach among the jackfruit trees, many times pausing, leaving an errant track in the coral sand, but at length appearing in the strong morning light at the site of the Rev. David Colhoun's mission.

And the Rev. David himself was making his final plea and one without hope for a beaten cause, when he was aware that he had lost the attention of his audience.

Entered to him and to them the stranger, and while they gazed at him with bulging eyes, dropped heavily on the end of a bench. . . .

"You—!" gasped the Rev. David. "Man alive—how on earth did you get back here?"

The stranger raised a face seamed and drawn.

Jonah's Return

"WHO—Me?" he said dully. "Easy enough. There was a whale—" He swayed and would have fallen but that Colhoun took him about the shoulders. "A whale," he said. "You remember? It's in the story, ain't it, mister? Only this one was dead, with the harpoon and the rope still to him."

"You came ashore on a dead whale!"

"Like Jonah. Leastways as he might have done, for that was the way it happened to me—you'll find mine out there on the reefs, what's left. You mind the way of it? 'Now the word of the Lord come unto Jonah,' it says. 'Now the word of the Lord come unto Jonah.' And it certainly did, mister, because that's me.'

"How?" said Colhoun, pityingly. He feared to see a trouble in the blue eyes, but they were bright and clear, only very, very weary.

"Aye—Jonah. For so I am, and so I was christened, and Cap'n Jonah Jeffrey of the Galloway Lass is what I've been these many years. And by the same token I have to thank you, too, mister, and to pay—"

He braced his failing strength with an effort and fumbling in the breast of his coat drew out a little double-ended bag of fine cocoanut fibre that made the faintest tinkling music as he paced it in the pastor's hand.

"The pearls!" cried Colhoun. "The pearls o' the mission!"

"And now you'll be buildin' that church, won't you? An honest-t'-Heaven church, as you meant? And maybe— maybe a school for the little kids as well—what? To teach 'em. To teach the little nigger kids, mister, that never had no chance and never knew no better, and give 'em what they need—the books and the stories and the good words—"

"And the songs?" asked Colhoun, gently, with a true instinct.

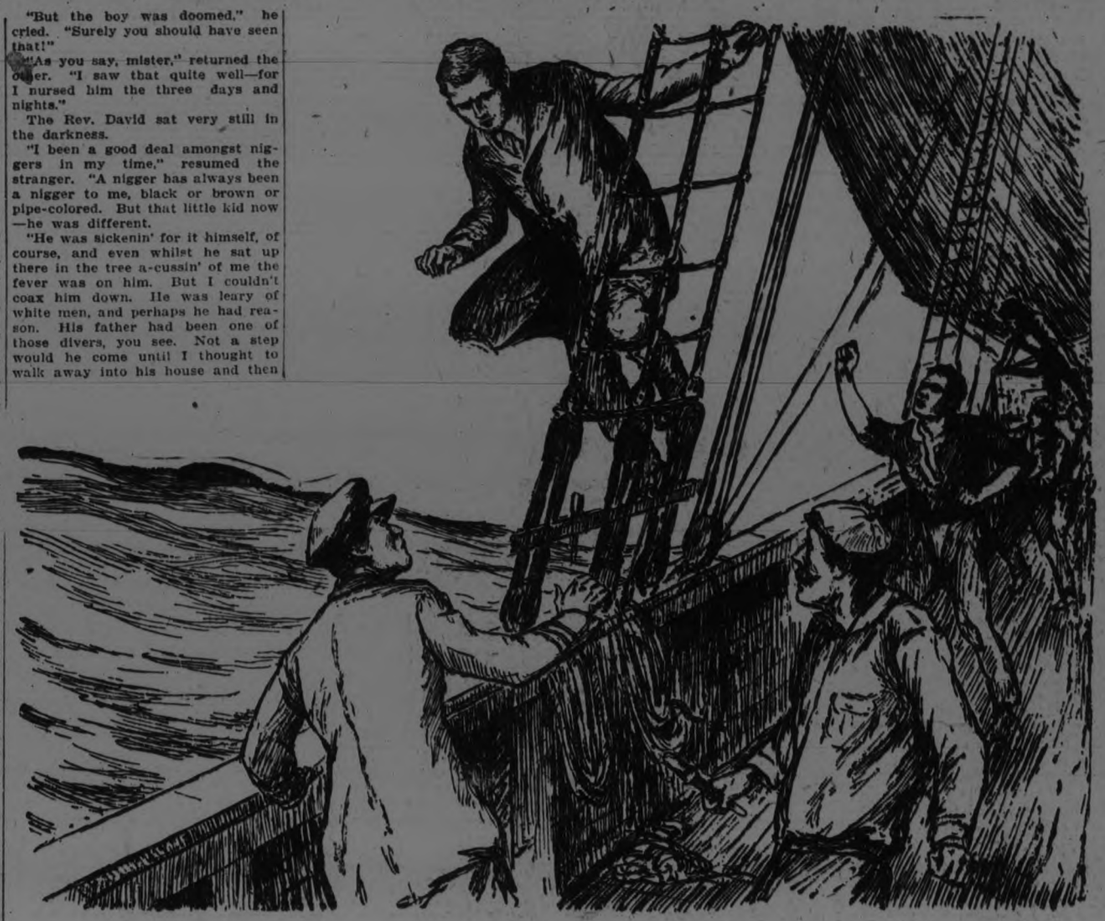
"Aye—and the songs."

Earnestly then, and eagerly at their missionary's signal, the faithful little group lifted their voices in the favorite hymn:

D'o num-'res hosts of mi-dy foes
D'o 'arth and hell my way op-pose,
'E save-ly leads me still a-lon'
'Es lov'n k-ind-'ess, oh 'ow stron'.
'E- lov'n k-ind-'ess, 'Es lov'n kind-'ess,
'Es lov'n k-ind-'ess, oh 'ow stron'!

"Amen! Amen. . . ." breathed Captain Jonah Jeffrey.

(Copyright, 1924.)



He stayed on the ratlines. . . . a squat, stubble-bearded, somewhat shrunken little fat man.

"And at last I was telling him again one night as he dozed."

Norwegian Makes Aurora Borealis

THE man-made aurora borealis which is the latest achievement of Dr. Vars Vegard of the University of Christiania has resulted in new researches in natural science by German professors, according to a recently published article, which describes Dr. Vegard's discovery as the most important of the year. Dr. Vegard, through his experiments, has established the theory that the aurora borealis is caused by the exposure of frozen particles of nitrogen high in the air to a force similar to that of cathode rays.

Dr. Vegard caused green light rays, a spectrum analysis of which showed the same arrangement as that of the northern lights, by the use of frozen nitrogen in his own laboratory, but the specific gravity of frozen nitrogen is so great that it was a mystery how it could exist from 60 to 150 miles up in the air whence the aurora borealis emanates.

Accordingly he attempted to congeal the nitrogen in the air, and finally succeeded with the aid of Prof Kamerlingh Onnes, a Nobel prize winner, in freezing the particles with flowing oxygen at a temperature of 216 below zero centigrade.

Exposure of these particles to cathode rays brought about an exact reproduction of the aurora borealis. The comment of the Berlin scientists is that Dr. Vegard's discovery has opened a broad avenue for further research in the cosmic and atmospheric fields which had practically come to an end.

A Radio Set in a Walnut Shell

WILLIAM SLYE, sixteen-year-old Norwood, Ohio, school boy, is shown holding in a nut shell a workable radio built by himself. This unique instrument works so well that he has made hundreds of them and he is thinking of buying English walnuts now by the barrel, instead of by the pound, in order to keep up with the demand for his unique contraption.

MISSION WORKERS OF OMEMEE BUSY

Methodist and Presbyterian Women Hold Meetings—Mrs. J. Bushnell Delegate to the Branch Meeting in Port Hope.

OMEMEE, April 8—The annual meeting of the Adult Bible Class of the Methodist Church was held in the basement of the church on Friday, April 4th. The president occupied the chair, and prayer was offered by Rev. E. W. Rowland. The secretary-treasurer's report showed the collections from May, 1923, to April, 1924, were $26.09, and the contribution to missions was $6.51. The following officers were elected:—

Teacher—Mr. D. Weir.
President—Mr. A. Scott.
Vice-President—Mr. T. Newman.
Secretary-Treas.—Mrs. R. Wilson.
Membership Committee—Mrs. Scott, Mrs. T. Newman, Mrs. J. Shield.
Devotional Committee—Mrs. R. Wilson, Mrs. S. Faulkner, Mrs. Scott.
Social Committee—Mrs. G. Wilson, Mrs. Shield, Mrs. R. Williamson, Messrs. Vernon Land and Irwin Connell.

Presbyterian W.M.S.

The members of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church met in the Sunday School Room on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. There were thirteen members and two visitors present. Two quilts were quilted in preparation for the annual sale.

The regular monthly meeting then followed. The president, Mrs. J. A. Black, occupied the chair, and was assisted by Mrs. O. G. Williamson, who read the scripture lesson and conducted the opening exercises. Each member responded to the roll-call with a verse of scripture containing the word "Rejoice."

A very interesting chapter from the study-book, "The Island Beautiful," on the "People, their rulers and religions," was read by Mrs. H. Lamb.

Letters of appreciation were read by the secretary (Mrs. E. H. Mitchell) from Mrs. B. Courtney and Mrs. T. A. McConnell expressing their gratitude for flowers and other kindnesses shown.

The allotment for the sale from the Omemee Society was received and considered.

The treasurer of the Home Helpers5 department reported the sum of $4.75 collected from Home Helpers through mite boxes. One dollar talent money was handed in.

It was decided to hold a sale of home-baking during the month of May.

Mrs. M. J. Parsons kindly consented to take charge of the next meeting, the word chosen for consideration to be "Faith."

Refreshments were served at the close by the hostess, Mrs. H. Lamb.

Methodist W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held in the Sunday School room on Thursday afternoon last, with an attendance of twenty-five members and one visitor present. The president (Mrs. E. W. Rowland) occupied the chair, and led the Easter responsive scripture lesson.

Mrs. J. Bushnell was appointed delegate to the branch meeting of the W.M.S. to be held in Port Hope in June, with Miss Lila Parsons as alternate. It was decided that the Society entertain the Mission Band on Wednesday afternoon, April 30, and also that the Band accompany the W.M.S. on Easter Sunday evening at their annual Thank-offering Service.

Mrs. J. Widdis read a short paper on "Temperance," followed by an extract by Miss L. Parsons, "I think I'd better go." The Watch Tower was responded to by several members.

A devotional leaflet on "The Psalm of Penitence," was read by Mrs. William Henderson, also a series of papers on the "The Church and its Agencies," was given in three parts, namely, "The School and the Teacher," by Mrs. J. Shields; "Hospital and Doctor," by Mrs. Bushnell; and "The Gospel and the Messenger," by Mrs. T. Newman.

Mrs. C. L. Morcombe and Miss L. Parsons then contributed a pretty duet, "Nailed to the Cross," after which a synopsis of the last chapter of the study-book was given by Mrs. G. N. Sarle.

The mite boxes were then opened and a most helpful and instructive meeting brought to a close. The hostesses for the day were Mrs. Wm. Connell, Mrs. R. Williamson, and Mrs. J. Widdis.

Omemee Road.

Several cars have now gone over the highway between Lindsay and Omemee and report the roads to be in a fine condition for this time of year. A gang of men were working on the south roads on Monday, and, with ploughs, succeeded in breaking the huge banks of snow and ice, thus making the roads navigable for wheeling.

Real Estate Changes.

Real estate is changing hands rapidly in Omemee. Mr. Allie Fee has sold his farm to Mr. Ira Rehill, and has purchased the farm of Mr. David Deyell, one mile east of Omemee.

Mr. J. Palmer has purchased the lot and shoe repair shop on King Street now occupied by Mr. Drajamus; and Mr. Fred. Parker has purchased the army barrack's lot from Mr. Richard Morton.

His Leg Amputated.

Dr. Cameron of Peterboro and Dr. Sarle of Omemee operated on Mr. John Feir, of Mount Pleasant, on Tuesday morning, amputating his leg above the knee. Mr. Feir has been critically ill for several weeks and gangrene set in two weeks ago, the limb being dead to the knee. The operation was very successful, and Mr. Feir is resting as well as can be expected.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Albert Byers.

News of the death of Mrs. Albert Byers, of Toronto, formerly of Omemee, was received with regret in Omemee by many old friends of the family. The late Mrs. Byers passed away at her home in Toronto, 150 Glenholme Avenue, on Sunday, 6th April, following an illness of several weeks. Deceased lady was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry English, and for many years resided in Omemee. In religion, Mrs. Byers was a staunch Presbyterian. Left to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother is the sorrowing husband and two daughters—Mrs. (Rev.) Baldwin of Mount Ridges, and Mrs. Edith White of Toronto; also one sister, Mrs. M. Dodds, to whom the sympathy of a host of friends is extended. Interment was made on Wednesday in Prospect Cemetery, Toronto.

George Cummings.

News of the death of Mr. George Cummings, of Toronto, reached Omemee last week. Mr Cummings underwent a serious operation at the Western Hospital a week ago Saturday and passed away on Sunday, March 30th. Deceased gentleman lived in Omemee prior to his removal to Toronto a few years ago. While here he conducted a very successful blacksmith business, coming to Omemee from Mount Pleasant. He was a man of powerful physique and in the prime of life, and the sudden news of his sudden death came as a shock to his many friends in this locality. Mr. Cummings was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters at Mount Pleasant.

The funeral was held on Friday, 457 Symington Avenue, to Prospect Cemetery, where interment was made.

Left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father is the sorrowing widow and three daughters—Misses Margaret, Florence and Iva—to whom the sympathy of a wide circle of friends is extended.

Mrs. Margaret Kincaid.

Mrs. Margaret Kincaid, widow of the late John Kincaid, passed away on Sunday at the good old age of eighty-two years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. H. Hamilton, 72 Crescent Road, Toronto. Deceased lady was born in Omemee and spent her girlhood and early married life there, later moving to Peterboro where her husband died, after which Mrs. Kincaid made her home with her daughter in Toronto.

Left to mourn her loss are two daughters—Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Dennie, of Peterboro. Interment took place in Little Lake Cemetery on Wednesday.

Ting Pao Yang, a Chinese student who recently graduated as an architect from the University of Pennsylvania is the only member of his class to graduate with honors. Yang is only 23 years old.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

THE CURLY BLACK PUPPY

"You can't do this," declared the monkey.

One day Miss Pithers, the yarn lady in Doofunny Land, was milking her cow, called the cow-that-turned-its-head.

And while she was sitting there on her little stool, along came a curly black puppy that went "yip, yip" as he hopped.

And before the good lady could run to the house the black puppy not only went "yip, yip" but nip, nip, and catching an end of one of her strings in his teeth, he pulled and pulled until half of her skirt was unraveled!

At that Miss Pithers stopped milking and fainted and the cow turned its head and saw the black curly puppy and went "moo" at him and scared him away.

The puppy dog went yip-yip and hopped on and nearly but not quite forgot about the whole business.

Pretty soon he met the patent leather cat striding along and importantly stroking his whiskers.

"Yip, yip", barked the pup, trying to attract attention.

"Get out of my way, sir", ordered the cat. "Children should be seen and not heard!"

The black puppy stopped yipping at such an insult. "Humph!" he barked. "Children indeed! Why all you can eat is a weenty teenty mouse, and I just finished eating half of a yarn lady. I'm a wild beast I am."

"Well, well!" cried the cat with more respect in his voice. "You don't look so savage. Half a yarn lady, indeed! Personally I haven't cared for yarn since I was a kitten. Good-day, sir."

The curly black puppy looked after him and went, "Yip, yip! That fetched him. I guess he found that I amounted to something after all."

And he hopped on.

Pretty soon he met the canton-flannel monkey.

"You can't do this," declared the monkey, jumping up a tree and hanging by his tail, head down.

"My goodness! That's nothing! I just finished eating a whole yarn lady," declared the pup. "Gobbled her up just like that. I'm too full for climbing."

"The idea! You don't look so fierce," said the monkey. "I beg your pardon, sir!"

The curly black puppy noticed the "sir" and also that the canton-flannel monkey stayed up the tree and didn't come down while he was there. He liked that and went on down the road thinking, "What a great fellow am I!"

And so he went along telling people about his fierceness, each time adding to his story, until he met Nancy and Nick and Mister Fuzz Wuzz. And by that time he had eaten not only poor Miss Pithers and her cow, but the tiger and half the zoo.

Suddenly Nancy laughed. "Look behind you, Mister Hungry," she cried.

And there was Miss Pithers, the yarn lady, all neatly mended and good as new.

"Some people have imaginations like a rubber band!" declared Mister Fuzz Wuzz sternly. "I suppose that what you had for breakfast was a saucer of milk."

The puppy was so mortified he didn't know where to look.

"I—I guess I must have been mistaken!" he said meekly and hopped off to hide.

THE PERIL OF NARCOTICS

(By Captain Richmond P. Hobson)

In America alone, narcotic addicts number in the millions.

They burden the dockets of the criminal courts, federal, state and municipal.

The psychology of addiction shows the addict to be inherently and potentially a criminal and a peddler of narcotics. Medical men now consider addiction regarding possibility of cure, in a class with leprosy and cancer.

Addicts come to consider their drug supply as paramount—a matter of life and death. The physical tolerance and craving, growing with addiction, demand an ever-increasing quantity.

The average addict takes 10 grains of morphine daily, 80 times a normal dose, and is paying one dollar a grain and up.

It is estimated that more than nine-tenths of all murders, hold-ups, and daring robberies are now committed by addicts. It is especially the addict of heroin who is capable of cruel and daring crimes.

Sheriff William Traeger of Los Angeles county, Calif., declares that 90 per cent. of the crime committed in that county is traceable to users of narcotics. The warden of the California State Penitentiary at San Quentin says 90 per cent of the inmates of that institution have been users of narcotics.

At the federal institutions the percentage is also high. At Atlanta prison 20 per cent of all criminals sent there last year were addicts; at Leavenworth during the same period, 24 per cent sent to that institution were addicts. During the last half of 1922, 40 per cent of all prisoners sent to Leavenworth were violators of the Harrison anti-narcotic act.

America is the special objective of organized drug exploitation. The latest reliable figures show that Italy consumes one grain of narcotic drugs per capita per year, Germany two, England three, France four, and the United States 36.

Already the amount consumed in the United States is enough to drug every man, woman and child in the entire nation for 30 days out of every year. The amount consumed is increasing at the rate of more than one-half grain per capita per year. Our country is rapidly becoming a drugged nation.

We need not wonder at the persistent wave of crime and other alarming symptoms in our social structure.

Something effective MUST be done, and done quickly.

FABLES ON HEALTH

CONSIDER YOUR FEET.

One day a friend approached Mr. Mann of Anytown, and asked:

"What do you do with your feet?"

"I walk on them," answered Mr. Mann.

Which, seemingly, was a perfectly logical answer.

"Oh, like so many people, you don't use your head when you use your feet."

Which perplexed Mr. Mann.

The moral of what the friend said is this: Lack of attention to the feet often causes irritability or headache at the close of the day.

The feet should be bathed at least once a day and, if one stands on them much, foot baths should be taken twice a day.

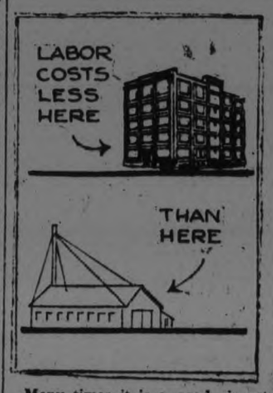
Don't soak them in hot water! Tepid water should be used and a rough towel is best in drying them. Use talcum powder afterward.

A good foot massage before going to bed is recommended by many. First bathe them; then follow with a brisk rubbing.

TREAT YOUR FEET AS WELL AS THEY TREAT YOU.

MAKING MAKE MONEY MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.



Many times it is a good investment for a business to make a larger outlay for rent because employees sometimes prefer better working conditions to more salary.

Rent averages from 2 to 8 per cent of the gross expense in business while labor runs 40 per cent, or more.

Employees, especially girls, are particular where they work. They usually prefer:

1. The financial district.
2. The retail district.
3. The factory district.

By constructing a good looking building in a better district, the employees would be better satisfied and probably would be content to work for less money.

The chances are that the saving in labor would more than compensate the increase in rent.

Many Have Appendicitis Don't Know It

Much so-called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel, but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gasses and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation. McDermid & Jury and E. L. Payne, druggists.

THE USEFUL LEMON

Lemon juice taken before meals will act as a preventive of heartburn.

Lemon juice will remove oil and grease stains from brown or tan shoes.

The juice of a lemon in a little warm water taken before retiring is said to help in cases of rheumatism and gout.

Cut lemons rubbed into the roots of the hair, followed by a wash in soft, warm water, will strengthen the hair and prevent its falling.

A mixture of the juice of two lemons, one tablespoon of graulated sugar and one teaspoon of water will help that irritating cough. Take one teaspoonful every half hour.

The Brilliant Novelist of Modern Society

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY

Prudence Page—a pretty country girl, is slowly recovering from her infatuation with

Bert Traymore—a fascinating, unscrupulous philanderer. Prudence is mystified to discover him digging at the foot of an elm tree in a secluded spot, where he has evidently concealed something, but she speaks of the incident to no one.

Janet Mercer—Prudence's friend, an older woman, plain but clever, is relieved to find the girl becoming indifferent to Traymore, whom she dislikes. Janet is in love with Will Ogilvie, whom she intends to marry some day. In the meantime she is masseuse to the delicate child of

Mrs. Vansittart—a pleasure-loving, woman-of-the-world, owner of Winston Towers.

Virginia Dale—her ward, is a calculating beauty, who counts Traymore among her many swains. She is genuinely interested in

Peter Armstrong—a brilliant young inventor, clever and ambitious, who has evinced considerable liking for Prudence. Virginia, aware that Prudence is a dangerous rival, plans to do the girl harm in some way.

Janet warns Prudence of Virginia's determination to "win" Peter.

Prudence is invited to 'fill in' at a dinner party at Winston Towers.

Prudence surveys herself in the mirror with a pleasurable feeling of excitement as she makes ready for Mrs. Vansittart's dinner.

Mrs. Vansittart discovers that she has been robbed of her diamond earrings and $1,000 in notes. A search reveals them in the fold of Prudence's sash!

Everyone is convinced of the girl's guilt even Mrs. Vansittart.

CHAPTER XLI.

Penniless.

Prudence hurled off the glittering white satin gown that had proved her own undoing.

Hateful, hateful garment! White, emblem of innocence! White, of unsullied reputation! what irony of fate had prompted that she wear that frock to-night?

Like Cinderella after the ball, she found herself once more in her simple cotton gown, and flying from the scene of her humiliation.

"I'm telephoning the garage for the limousine. Just wait a moment."

Prudence didn't even hear her hostess' words. She ran like one possessed, through the wide hallway and out into the hot, still night. Oh, for covering darkness to hide her misery and shame!

How could they think her guilty? How could they stare at her with bold, unfriendly and condemning eyes, when never in the whole course of her young life had she done a mean or dishonest act?

She sobbed aloud as she ran down the long carriage-drive, flanked on both sides by Lombardy poplars, just like sentinels. They, too, seemed to be watching her—stern, unforgiving . . .

"I must get away, away!" the girl's mind reiterated. Oh! to leave this neighbourhood for ever! Oh, to hide her head in some quiet spot where no one in the world could ever find her!

"It will break mother's heart, this awful accusation!" That thought persisted, torturing her.

How right her mother had been in telling her that no good, no happiness would come from visiting at Winston Towers! How impatient she had been with that kind friend and ally! Ah! if only she had listened more!

Now—now it was too late!

Gradually the resolve formed in Prudence's mind that she would run away. Impossible to face to-morrow here! Miles must be put between herself and Winston Towers!

To her distraught imagining she saw the entire countryside ringing with the scandal of to-night's occurrence. She saw the sneering glances, or averted faces, as the case might be.

And Peter Armstrong? What of him? Would he condemn her, too?

She could visualize his look of sheer incredulity, gradually changing to scorn and contempt for her.

She could hear Virginia Dale triumphing in a recital of the ghastly incident.

Oh, no! . . . a thousand-fold impossible to stay!

In the clear moonlight she could see the hands of her little wrist-watch. They pointed to ten minutes past ten. The last train to the city had already gone!

To-morrow morning there was a train at seven o'clock. Ah! but that wouldn't do, for life about the little farm would be astir. It must be now or nothing!

Then she recollected that the express stopped at Blackthorn Junction at eleven-fifteen. Blackthorn Junction was four miles away, if one journeyed by road—but a short cut through the woods almost halved the distance.

Had she sufficient courage to traverse the lonely woods so late—and all alone?

It required less courage than did waking to-morrow at Green Gables to this tragedy!

By running rapidly she drew near her home before ten-thirty. Mother was in bed and the light in her room extinguished. Father was at a concert in the village and wouldn't be back till after eleven at the earliest.

Prudence crept in very quietly and found the temporary haven of her own room.

She must act quickly. Her brain was numb with pain, but her one blind instinct was to run away and hide—far from her enemies, and alike far from those she loved.

She slipped out of her thin frock and donned a plain shirt-blouse and a neat coat and skirt. The moonlight was her sole illumination. Should she light her candles their beam would shine through the windows to her mother's room, and if the latter wasn't sleeping she would rise at once to inquire why her daughter was back so early from the party.

In the vague light, Prudence couldn't find her gloves. What did they matter? She was going—here a bitter little smile trembled at her mouth—she was going to no social function!

Twenty dollars—her worldly all!—lay in a little locked box on her bureau. She would need every cent of it.

"It will keep me for a week or two, if I don't find work at once," thought she, slipping the bills into her handbag.

Then she sat down to write a letter to her mother. Big tears dropped upon that letter, but she did not stop to wipe them off. Not a moment dare be lost in getting far away. She simply couldn't face to-morrow morning.

Once or twice she started, listening, thinking she heard a movement in the house.

But the ensuing silence reassured her.

Then, very quietly, she crept down the stair and out into the moonlit night, running in haste across the fields and through the woods that led to Blackthorn Junction.

Panting, a sharp pain in her side, she sighted the railroad track at last. How awful if she missed the express!

As she ran she dragged a five-dollar bill from her handbag wherewith to buy her ticket, and as she reached the depot the train was already in.

"Quick, miss! Just in time!" A porter bundled her into a coach, wondering what such a pretty girl was doing all alone at this time of the night.

So away went Prudence on her solitary flight, clutching a few quarters, from the purchase of her ticket in her right hand, her shabby handbag in her left, and a small attache case on the seat beside her.

She opened her handbag to see if her remaining stock-in-trade (fifteen dollars) were safe. Good gracious! Her heart leapt to her throat as she hunted feverishly—finally turning everything that the little bag contained out on the seat. . . .

And then the devastating truth came home to her! When she had dragged the five dollars out, somewhere near the railroad station, the remaining bills had slipped out, too, and they were gone!

To-morrow: Despair.

CATHOLIC LOVE.

Weary of all this wordy strife,
These notions, forms, and modes, and names,
To Thee, the Way, the Truth, the Life,
Whose love my simple heart inflames,
Divinely taught, at last I fly
With Thee, and Thine, to live and die.

Forth from the midst of Babel I brought,
Parties and sects I cast behind;
Enlarged my heart, and free my thought,
Where'er the latent truth I find,
The latent truth with joy to own,
And bow to Jesus' name alone.

Redeem'd by Thine almighty grace,
I taste my glorious liberty,
With open arms the world embrace,
But cleave to those who cleave to Thee;
But only in Thy saints delight
Who walk with God in purest white.

One with the little flock I rest;
The members sound who hold the Head;
The chosen few, with pardon blest,
And by the anointing Spirit led
Into the mind that was in Thee,
Into the depths of Deity.

My brethren, friends, and kinsmen these
Who do my heavenly Father's will;
Who aim at perfect holiness
And all Thy counsels to fulfil;
Athirst to be whate'er Thou art,
And love their God with all their heart.

For these, howe'er in flesh disjoin'd,
Where'er dispersed o'er earth abroad
Unfeigned unbounded love I find,
And constant as the love of God;
Fountain of life, from thence it sprung,
As pure, as even, and as strong.

Joined to the hidden church unknown
In this sure bond of perfectness,
Obscurely safe, I dwell alone,
And glory in the uniting grace.
To me, to each believer given,
To all Thy saints in earth and heaven.

CANDIDACY COSTS A LARGE AMOUNT.

No Really Ambitious Jandidate Is Willing to Trust to Popular Demand.

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, April 10. — One of the first facts forced home on presidential aspirants is that a candidacy costs money.

No really ambitious candidate is willing to trust to "popular demand" to bring about his nomination. Once nominated, the party organization will stand the cost of the election campaign. But for the pre-convention fight, a candidate needs a sizable bank-roll of his own or an "angel." Or both.

An aggressive candidate must have an organization. An organization must have headquarters. Headquarters must have stationery and supplies, stenographers, secretaries and publicity representatives. And all these require cash.

• • •

The problem of an "angel" for at least one presidential "possibility" seems to have been solved without effort on his part.

John W. Davis, who will be among those voted for when the balloting begins at the Democratic convention in New York, has announced that he will not turn a hand to get the nomination.

John, although advanced as the favorite son of West Virginia, makes a living as a lawyer in New York.

Among his clients he lists concerns such as the Morgan interests. The pay is good, but the work exacting. So John W. just can't give time or attention to being a candidate, he says.

If, of course, Democracy chooses him as its standard bearer—oh, well, in that event, of course ,duty would require that he sacrifice himself to make the fight.

• • •

Right there is where John's "angel" appears.

The "angel," in this instance, who stands ready to put up the cash and effort necessary to crystallize support for Davis, is former U. S. Senator Clarence Wayland Watson, a fellow West Virginian.

Watson served in the Senate from 1911 to 1913, filling out the unexpired term of Stephen B. Elkins. But while he has dabbled in politics—sufficiently so to land in the Senate for a while—Watson has preferred to play the game on the side, helping or obstructing others, rather than seeking office for himself. His real interest has been in business—coal, railroads, banks.

As a coal operator his interests extend into four states—West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Kentucky. Among the big coal companies in which his word is or has been law are the Consolidation Coal Company, the Fairmont Coal Company, the Somerset and the Elk Horn. He is voting trustee for the Seaboard Air Line Railway and a director in a dozen banks and trust companies.

• • •

Not as an "angel," but as a booster for the nomination of Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana, on the Democratic ticket, Tom Taggart is just back from the West Indies.

Tom says the trip did his health a lot of good and that he's up on his toes to put across a "sound, substantial Hoosier candidate."

In view of his own physical fitness, however, he has urged Ralston to get in better trim for the race. Ralston's age, 66, is one point that has been raised against him.

Also, he is somewhat overweight So to fit himself for the wear and tear of a presidential campaign, Ralston is now taking daily setting-up exercises—a regular "daily dozen."

A Crude Lover Marvelous Hubby

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS

NEW YORK, April 10. — The American man is a crude lover, possibly, but a marvelous husband, according to Georgette Leblanc, the French singer and actress, who has recently added to her fame by conducting "love clinics" here.

"The American woman is responsible for the situation," she says. "She has been too busy with her many interests to give the time to the technique of love that her European sister does.

"She's never taken the trouble to develop a lover as well as a husband. She simply has set her suitor to the job of supporting her while she goes her merry way.

"Then she notices the wily ways of the imported lovers of the screen and thinks herself abused because she has a good hard-working husband, bringing home the pay envelope each week, instead of a Romeo with a flair for balcony speeches.

"And possibly she loses her husband's love because some vamp, who has cultivated the art of love, and the science of coquetry, lures him away with a promise of the romance his wife has denied him."

Our men have all the latent romantic possibilities of Ramon Navarro, Rodolph Valentino and Count Salm, and more, she claims, because they are the most generous race in the world, but unless the women develop something of the lure of Cleopatra and Helen of Troy, these possibilities will remain latent.

"American women have never had to develop their charms to the utmost, because things are so easy for them. There are plenty of men to go around, and the men are very susceptible.

"An American woman need only have a baby stare, and she arouses an impulse for protection in the men about her. On the continent helpless woman is regarded as very boring."

Madame Leblanc contends there is no such a thing as a broken heart—only a deflation of the imagination.

"If a woman wants a great love she must be big enough to cope with it when it comes," she declares.

"Sensation seekers, who waste their affections on any victim who is handy, never know real love.

"And mark this," says she, "a great love does not confide, or it does not ask advice. It takes its inevitable course like a cyclone or a tidal wave. Few ever have a great love in their lives and no one ever has more than two."

When a Difficult Task Confronts You

how you rely upon a healthy system to see you through! No matter what your occupation may be, you are constantly tapping your store of energy—you are bringing all your vitality into play. You need Grape-Nuts.

Grape-Nuts is made from wheat and malted barley. These fine grains contain an abundance of mineral matter to supply and store up energy and vigor—as well as valuable tissue-building and repairing elements. A process of long, slow baking breaks the food elements and turns them into soluble, more digestible form. And the roughage is there—the roughage your body needs to keep it clear of poisons. All the wheat is used in making Grape-Nuts.

Then, the flavor! Grape-Nuts is absolutely inimitable! Crisp—you like to chew it! Crunchy, wholesome, supremely delicious! It is economical, too. There are many helpings in each package. Only four teaspoonfuls are necessary to a serving. Serve with cream or milk. Eat it every day. Your grocer has it.

GRAPE-NUTS DELIGHT CAKE

1 cup crushed Grape-Nuts, ½ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, 25 Graham wafers crushed, 1½ cups milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla. MRS. D. O'BRIEN

YOUNG LADY GAINS 15 POUNDS

Miss O'B ien, of Peterborough, Finds Wonderful Relief From Digestive Disorders in Dreco, the Famous Herb and Root Remedy--Now Has Fine Appetite and Sleeps Soundly.

Mrs. D. O'Brien of 621 St. George street, Peterborough, tells how Dreco is helping her 20-year-old daughter regain her wanted health and spirits, by correcting digestive ailments that were making life a misery.

"For about a year, my daughter, Marguerite, has been suffering from stomach trouble," says Mrs. O'Brien. "Gas would form on her stomach and she would have terrible bilious and dizzy spells. Her nerves were very bad and her whole left side would tremble. She had a very poor appetite and, in fact, was afraid to eat because of the suffering afterwards.

"She lost weight rapidly, and although I must have spent hundreds of dollars seeking relief for her, it was only when we discovered Dreco that improvement commenced.

"Three bottles of this grand medicine have done wonders for her. She no longer has any trouble with her stomach, has a fine appetite and sleeps soundly at nights. Dreco has built up her entire system and she has gained fifteen pounds in weight since starting with it."

Dreco is a reliable tonic and corrective, made from the pure extracts of herbs, roots, bark and leaves. It contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs. Everybody needs just such a tonic to keep their system in proper shape.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Peterboro by Bond's Drug Store. It is also sold as follows:
Lakefield—E. H. Northey.
Campbellford—J. E. Birks.
And by a good druggist everywhere.

YOUR GARDEN

BACKYARD BEAUTIES.

No flower garden should be without sweet peas and zinnias. They give wonderful results, especially to the beginner.

For the small sum of about 15 cents invested in seeds, a generous display of blooms from these two varieties can be obtained to last through practically all the summer.

You can get a giant species of zinnia measuring from 4 to 6 inches across each blossom and insure a prolific flower bed.

Sweet peas should be planted early. They grow even in shade and bloom over an indefinite period if the blossoms are gathered frequently to prevent the plants going to seed.

Marigolds and poppies are quite hardy plants. Sow them early, too, and at least a foot apart to get the best color and quantity.

Poppies, especially, thrive best when sown on still frozen ground.

The dahlia, too, is another popular flower for home growing. But it must be watered well and often. Generally speaking, dahlias will grow wherever tomatoes succeed.

They are easily propagated from either seed or roots. The amateur, though, will probably find culture from the root most successful.

Soil for raising dahlias should approximate what is commonly regarded as good garden soil—rich in plant life and of light and crumbling texture. Time for sowing or planting is usually after all danger from frost is past.

Other appropriate flowers for the garden might well include foxglove, cosmos, Canterbury bells, verbenas, Shasta daisies, asters, marigolds, four o'clock pansies, nasturtiums and forget-me-nots.

In planting verbenas, sow the seeds at least a month before the ground stops freezing at night, starting them in a moderately warm living room or hotbed.

Soak the seeds a few hours in tepid water and plant them in seed boxes filled with light rich soil. Cover one-fourth of an inch deep. Compress the earth firmly and water sparingly.

When the verbena seedlings are about an inch high transplant them to larger boxes and place the plants at least two inches apart.

You can set them outside in your garden when all danger of frost is gone. Give them 10 to 15 inches each way in which to spread. Provide good cultivation until the plants start covering ground.

Under such treatment your verbena patch should bloom from early summer until killed by frost.

Petunias should command the attention of the amateur gardener because of the ease with which they can be grown from seed.

They come into bloom early and remain until killed by frost. Sow seeds of all sorts in seedbox, hotbed or coldframe and transplant to your garden when danger from frost is past.

When growing the petunia indoors preparatory to transplanting, scatter the seeds over the surface of the soil and bring them in contact with it by firming (that is, pressing with a flat board placed on top the rows). Never cover petunia seeds.

When the plants are sufficiently strong to be taken into the outdoors, place them in rich garden loam, about a foot apart. The time to do this is when danger from frost is past.

To-morrow: Garden Practice.

ELECTRIC CAR FOR MARMORA?

Council Appointing Committee to Interview the C. N. R. Executive — Orange Ladies Forming Lodge.

MARMORA, April 10.—At the meeting of the council Monday night the clerk was instructed to write the district passenger agent of the C. N. R. regarding the proposed gasoline-electric car service between Trenton and Marmora, and it was decided to appoint a deputation to interview the agent.

Messrs. Fraser Bowen, Clarence W. Gladeney and John Reade were named as representatives of Marmora village on the cemetery board.

The time for returning the tax collector's roll was extended until the May meeting.

The following accounts were passed: Municipal World, $2.32; C. A. Bleecker, $39; Bell Telephone Co., $6.17; Marmora Herald, $17.40; F. Marret, $15.15; Bickle Fire Engine Co., $53; E. C. Prentice, $14.06; Wm. Archer, $4.50; Arthur Eggleton, $15.

Neal-Johnston—That council adjourn until call of the reeve.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Foster, the district organizer of the Orange Lodge, visited the Marmora Lodge.

As the ladies are proposing to form a Ladies' Orange Lodge in Marmora, during the early part of the meeting, Mr. Foster addressed the ladies present. He spoke of the value of ladies' lodges and gave suggestions regarding organization. Officers pro tem were appointed. The name "Harmony Lodge" was suggested as a suitable name.

A number of the ladies present signed up as members. Later, a meeting of the Orange Lodge was formed, during which Mr. Foster addressed the members.

This was followed by refreshments and a social hour which was participated in by both ladies and gentlemen.

Next Tuesday evening the lady organizer will meet the ladies and the initiation services for the new officers will be performed.

Marmora True Blues are contemplating the erection of a hall in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Prentice visited Belleville on business, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gordineer started for Morganston on Friday. However, on account of the condition of the roads, they got no further than Campbellford.

MONTREAL TEAM WON.

MONTREAL, April 10.—(Canadian Press).—The Victoria Rifles of Canada revolver team were yesterday adjudged winners of the recent competition with the team from the United States Marine Corps, by a margin of 13 points. Sergeant D. E. Saunders, of the Victoria Rifles team, made the best shooting in the match with an average of 91 per cent.

RADIO IN ENGLAND IS VERY POPULAR.

The People of England Speak 60 Distinct Languages to the One of North America.

By ISRAEL KLEIN.

Long distance radio broadcasting in Europe is as popular with the fans there as it is in this country, for one significant reason:

The variety of languages.

All of Europe can be placed neatly inside the boundaries of the United States and the Province of Ontario, Canada. Yet the people on that continent speak 60 distinct languages, to the one spread over the entire North American continent!

The difficulty of understanding a long distance broadcast programe, except music, is apparent. Even were all restrictions and limitations on radio broadcasting and receiving now existent in Europe removed; with everyone as wild about radio as we are in this country, European fans would still be faced by the uselessness of listening in on a lecture or other talk they could not understand.

Local Areas

Every nationality, except the Russian, is confined within an area which we may safely term local, so far as broadcasting is concerned. One station for each country would be almost enough to satisfy all the fans.

In England, where there are more, they interlock regionally, as do many neighboring stations in this country.

Yet that human desire to reach out beyond one's limits, has seized European radio amateurs to the extent that they have given greater impetus to the movement for an international language.

Numerous interrational language radio societies are being formed by the European amateurs, who are convinced some new and simple means of communication should be adopted for their DX, or long distance work. It is not so much a campaign for a universal language, like the effort to adopt Esperanto or Ido throughout the world, as it is a movement to perfect an auxillary international language.

Start Made

The national languages may remain. But the European amateurs and other radio fans are seeking a language for long distance communication.

European radio amateur societies are already proceeding along this line. They have begun to formulate a language which they call Ido," although it is not the Ido suggested as a universal language. Its original name was "Ilo," from the initials of "International Language" with an "o," signifying it is a singular noun.

This "Ido" is based principally on 11,000 roots taken from six most popular and varying languages, with some from other languages.

Perhaps, when international and transoceanic broadcasting becomes popular, American fans also will have to adopt this language.

YOUR HEALTH

DR. CLIFFORD ROBINSON

ADRENALIN

Such great publicity has been given to adrenalin during the past two years that from all parts of our country come inquiries concerning it and its use.

Many reports of its wonder-working restorative cures have been greatly exaggerated, while some have apparently restored the dead (pronounced so) to life. On Sept. 22 a case was reported from Grand Rapids, Mich., where a man 40 years of age was pronounced dead as a result of a 7500-volt electric shock. A physician injected 15 drops of adrenalin into his body. In two hours he revived and, in spite of serious burns, recovered.

In the body itself, adrenalin is also a real worker. It seems to be at the beck and call of the brain, when the occasion demands. Its secretion is discharged into the life stream (circulation) and aids in energizing muscular action in a number of ways.

Anger is one of the causes for secretion by the suprarenal gland. There is some reason for your physician's advice to avoid anger and discontent on all occasions. It serves to release adrenalin and increase blood pressure. It is strong as a stimulant and vitalizer, acting to contract the arteries.

It is claimed, but not really substantiated, that this secretion will actually start the dead heart of a babe into action. It starts, but does not continue very long.

In recent use it has been called the aid of bloodless surgery. Its compellant action serves to drive the blood from parts affected and thereby greatly lessens the blood loss.

SOCKS AND TIES

By "THE STROLLER"

NEW YORK, April 10. (United Press).—Some time ago brief mention was made of the fact that some of the boys were wearing silk mufflers of identical pattern to their socks. This was particularly true of the gray and white checked socks which made threatening gestures during the fag-end of the Winter—checked muffler, checked socks, in perfect harmony.

Now some of them, due to the fact that the muffler season is about to pass into memory, are adopting the socks and tie to match idea. Understand, it hasn't gone to the extreme that socks are being made in the diversified color combinations so generally accepted in ties, but certain combinations have been carefully compounded by the dress chemist, and several customers have already been located. For instance, there was noted in the subway a chap wearing blue socks with a white diamond-shaped pattern profusely scattered thereon. His tie was of the same shade and with the same pattern.

Several other similar combinations have been seen and, all in all, the fad is good for the sake of consistent harmonious dressing. It does not follow that a man is a fop or a snob because he endeavors to get a tie that goes well with his suit, or that he selects a pair of socks that will cause a civil war with the remainder of his costume. However, while the socks-and-tie to match are enjoyable, all combinations are not feasible. It is, nevertheless, good practice to select suit, socks and tie, as well as linen, to the end that each will be an integral part on the perfect outfit, fashion writers have continually dwelt upon this and undoubtedly will do so so long as men wear clothing, but the propaganda is not in vain should it bring but a few converts into the fold.

A cigaret case is as much a part of a man's wearing apparel as is his cuff links, provided that he is addicted to use of his nicotine in paper jackets. There are almost as many varieties of cigaret cases as there are watch cases, possibly more. And there are all sorts of prices from the every-day variety to the fancy.

The silver case has always been a prime favorite. However, it may be noted that leather ones are now coming to the fore with speed and are now firmly entrenched in the hearts of smokers. They are not quite so expensive as their metal brethren, either. Small cases, holding ten or a dozen cigarets, as well as "double" cases which hold from twenty to two dozen, can be purchased.

A plain or simply designed silver cigaret case is elementary in wear with formal or informal evening dress. It is quite incongruous for the wearer of a Tuxedo to drag forth a crumpled paper package of his favorite brand. Of course, the flat silver cases are designed for oval-shaped cigarets primarily, the finger which holds the cigarets in place serving to dent up the round ones. But this is but a slight inconvenience to those who don't smoke the oval-shaped tubes, for but a brief operation is necessary to restore the rotundity of the cigaret flattened in the centre.

WOOLWORTH PAYS 12%.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(Canadian Press). — The directors of F. W. Woolworth Company, chain stores operators, yesterday voted to recommend to stockholders a change in the par value of the capital stock from $100 to $25, and announced their intention of placing the new $25 stock on a $3 annual dividend basis, which is equal to $12 on the old stock. A quarterly dividend of $2, payable June 2, to stock of record May 2, was declared on the present $100 stock.

A special meeting of the stockholders to act on the directors' recommendation will be held immediately after the annual meeting on May 21.

FARMERS GOING TO COLLEGE BY RADIO

MANHATTAN, Kas., Apr. 10.—Farmers throughout the United States and Canada are going to college — by radio!

Not just sitting down evenings and listening in on agricultural talks from authorities speaking at irregular intervals through all sorts of broadcasting stations. But actually participating in set courses, five nights a week, with prospects of being graduated after taking examinations.

One of the principal institutions broadcasting such courses for farmers is the Kansas State Agricultural College here. More than 1,000 farmers have actually enrolled in its "school of the air"—filled out an enrolment card and sent it in. Inestimable thousands more, says Sam Pickard, in charge of the school, are "attending" without having been enrolled.

The college broadcasts its courses through station KFKB at Milford, 32 miles from here. The lectures, delivered at a microphone in the college auditorium, are sent by line to the Milford station for broadcasting.

Subjects Taught

The lecturers are college professors and experts in their fields. No tuition is charged, no fees are taken for enrolment and examination at the end of the course is optional. The lectures, given from 7 to 8 each evening, except Saturday and Sunday, include:

Monday: Poultry.
Tuesday: Live stock.
Wednesday: Crops, Trucks, Soils.
Thursday: Agricultural Economics and Engineering.
Friday: Home Economics.

The man back of this radio-agricultural college is W. A. Jardine, president of the college. He pointed out that of the millions of persons living in the country, only 150,000 are enrolled in agricultural colleges. He saw what a wonderful opportunity radio afforded farmers and the colleges. So he started the radio course.

Diploma Given

"The unlimited possibilities of radio in its new mission," he believes, "will make it a real necessity in the economic, spiritual and intellectual life of the communities."

At the end of the course, each student gets a "diploma" certifying to the subjects to which he had listened in and which he had passed satisfactorily after examination.

The school is only less than two months old, yet scores of applications are coming in regularly.

"The DOCTOR SAYS—"

FRESH air and cleanliness are better than all the medicines in the world, and cleanliness applies as much to the home as to the person.

Surfaces kept properly painted or varnished can be kept thoroughly clean. Unpainted surfaces offer small cracks that are ideal spots for the germs of disease. Insure your family health by protecting not only your house but all its contents.

No room in the home demands more cleanliness than the nursery, and no other room in the entire house should be a whit less clean. Paint and Varnish will protect your children and your home, and your home for your children.

C.N.R. Account With the Home Bank Was Heavy.

OTTAWA, April 10. — (Canadian Press).—Sir Henry Drayton had some further questions to ask in the House yesterday in regard to the Canadian National Railway account in the Home Bank. He was informed that when the million dollar cheque was drawn on the bank by the C. N. R., the remaining balance to the credit of the system was $3,146,180.

"What," Sir Henry asked, "was the total amount of further cheques drawn on the Home Bank down to the end of the then current month, including payroll cheques?"

"$72,745,744," was the Government reply.

FEELS BETTER AT NINETY-ONE THAN HE DID 20 YEARS AGO

William Ryan Is Just One of Many Aged Preachers Who Mount the Pulpit As of Old — They Obey Orders to Retire, and Then Return Informally to Work.

TORONTO, April 10.- Just as fighting blood flows as fast in the veins of Chelsea pensioners as underneath a drummer boy's tunic, so the ancient light cavalry of the church, the superannuated preachers, seek, and sometimes find, opportunity to engage in exercise of tried and tested powers.

Rev. Heil Wood, of Springfield, Ontario, who celebrated his 89th birthday by preaching in a Union Church; the late Rev. F. A. Read, of Toronto, who, in forty-three years in the ministry, never missed a Sunday service through illness; and Rev. William Ryan, of Nova Scotia, who enjoys better health at 91 than at 71, and still preaches occasionally, are only three of the older Methodist preachers whose exploits have lately achieved fame.

The secretary of the Nova Scotia Conference is receiving from retired ministers some interesting responses to an enquiry after their health. Most of them are active in reality if not in theory. Being superannuated, Rev. Harry Burgess went to Harrowgate, England, to take the cure. Being permitted to walk a little, he has been placed on a "circuit plan" in England, with four ministerial colleagues, 54 local preachers, sixteen auxiliary preachers, and eight other superannuates.

Retiring to England, like many of the Maritime Province preachers, Rev. William Nightingale settled in his native town—Keswick—and was promptly seized on by Sir John Randalls, the recording steward of the circuit, placed on the "plan" and set to work touring the Lake Country.

Full of Fight.

Rev. William Brown, calling himself an "antiquated vet," longs for "might to down John Barleycorn," and wishes success to the active forces of Methodism, "with or without Union." Equally vigorous in spirit, Rev. Aaron Kinney writes from Westfield, Maine, that he is in his 80th year, "rejoicing in the Lord and praying without ceasing for the Nova Scotia Conference, which I love."

"We must bring Christ to men," exhorts Rev. William Ryan, who admits that he "went out from Sackville Academy to the Parrsboro circuit in 1857."

From such rugged oaks spreads out the forest of church life, rooted deeply in the beginnings of the nation. Possessing even to-day such hardy ancients, Methodists are prone to speak proudly of their "saddlebags" preachers. In a recent address in Edmonton, Principal Tuttle, of Alberta College South, urged the people of the prairies to claim these pioneers of the East as the progenitors of religious institutions in all the Provinces.

Plan a Memorial.

That the East is not forgetful of her origins is indicated by the plans now being laid in New Brunswick for the erection of a memorial to William Black, Wesley's first representative in the Maritimes, on the site of the first Methodist Church in Canada, at Point de Bute, N.B.

The characteristic memorial raised everywhere by the Methodists to their itinerant preachers is the superannuation fund, the pension system which protects the individual and has guaranteed the church the service and obedience of her ministry. The fund goes on increasing as the numbers of ministers increase. Sure of its protection, young men can take the vows which enjoin them to go where they are sent, regardless of salary, and to stop when ordered to stop. They do cease work, in theory, but as their careers suggest, they contrive to preach and visit among their people as long as strength lasts.

THE BRITISH NAVY

LONDON, Apr. 10. — (United Press).—This hard-boiled, old world, being built as it is, the people of Great Britain would starve to death if it were not for the British navy.

That, in substance, is the basic idea of a remarkable undertaking now under way here—to "sell" the British Navy to the British people.

At first blush it seems something like "carrying coals to Newcastle" to undertake to persuade the people of the world's greatest sea-faring nation that they need a thing they have always had—a real navy.

But the powers that be in the admiralty seem to be engaged in just that undertaking—for the reason, apparently that considerable skepticism exists of the wisdom of spending huge sums to create a British vnal base at Singapore.

The "campaign" isn't a brass-band affair, with minutemen speakers and other trimmings. But the navy is visualizing to the people that they couldn't have their tea from the Orient, their bread and meat from Argentina and Australia, their raw materials and foodstuffs from every cranny of the Seven Seas, unless British warships were prepared to protect those sea-lanes of supply.

"If a war starts and these sea routes are menaced, and if there is no Singapore base to enable the British navy to keep open those routes—well, then, don't grumble if you have no tea and meat on your table; no wool and hemp and tin for your manufactories; no foreign markets, or fewer markets for your articles."

That is the thought, although not the words, used by the admiralty in its announcement arguing the dependency of British shipping upon the British navy.

The present Labor government has announced that as far as it is concerned the project is "off," but there are other days and other governments to come.

Despite the "bread and meat" arguments of the navy, a section of public opinion seems to believe that whether the Singapore base is built depends upon whether France and England get results on a programme of European stabilization. This opinion is that with a European war menace removed and Anglo-French accord reasonably certain, there will be no need to worry about a Far Eastern or any other war that might disrupt the sea-lanes of British shipping to the Orient, and, therefore, no need to build a big naval base at Singapore.

Charts issued by the admiralty, and printed in many London papers, present a world-survey of British shipping. Upon the edge of this picture of the world is a little black speck—the British Isles. And from all the rest of the earth, from every port, from every angle of every ocea, there are lines and dots that mean ship-routes and ships, inbound with food and raw materials for the people and the plants of that little black speck upon the edge of the picture; outbound with manufactured articles for every land. The chart isn't a splash of artistic imagination. It is produced from cold cabled facts—the actual positions and cargo values of British ships everywhere on a given day.

The reader finds a bunch of dots over in the Indian Ocean and the South Pacific—every one of those dots is a ship flying the British flag and loaded with meat, wool, tea, tin, hemp, nitrate, manganese, and so on.

He learns that 97 per cent. of his tea, 97 per cent. of his jute, 96 per cent. of his zinc, 90 per cent. of his rubber and 89 per cent. of his wool—and so on—come in British ships.

SELF-POISONING TODAY'S DANGER

Modern Hurry Upsets Run-Down People — Vital Organ Becomes Clogged and Poisons the System.

Hurried eating and lack of abdominal exercise clogs the system and overloads the liver. This important organ is the body's filter, and when it becomes sluggish and clogged up, the poisonous waste of the body is improperly eliminated. No longer can the liver properly secrete juices so essential to digestion and correct movement of your bowels. No longer can it properly filter and purify your blood. The result is self poisoning.

This explains why a sluggish liver is attended by such symptoms as constipation, biliousness, sick headaches, sourness and gas on a weak stomach, loss of appetite, pains in the back and sides, and an irritable, run-down condition—symptoms that lead to the dangerous and expensive sick-bed unless corrected in time.

Dr. H. S. Thacher, noted medical practitioner, perfected a wholesome vegetable prescription to keep the liver healthy. It is giving quick relief and renewed strength, energy and vigor to numbers here. This prescription, known as Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup, is pleasant to take and contains only ingredients that are known to physicians for their corrective and health-building properties.

Try this great prescription, yourself. Notice the quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise, there will be no cost.

Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup is sold and recommended by J. P. Bond, McDermid & Jury and The Warne Drug Company, Limited, in Peterborough; The Tanner Drug Company, in Lakefield, and by leading druggists in every city and town.

ANTISEPTIC COTTON ..

How often have you seen a medicine closet which contains a roll of absorbent cotton all out of its wrappings and with places torn in the inner paper where hasty hands have dug for a wad of cotton? Yet such cotton is considered antiseptic and is used for really important dressings. Wrap up the cotton securely and return to the box after each using and it will really be antiseptic.

FRED L. ROY WAS ROTARY SPEAKER

Conference in Buffalo Attended by Peterboro Representation — District Convention.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Buffalo, N.Y., April 10. A series of "round table" breakfasts began Wednesday's sessions of the 1924 conference of the 27th district Rotary Clubs in this city. Speakers discussed different phases of Rotary work. The regular session followed at ten o'clock in the grill room. Dean Miller of Bradford, Pa., Rotary Club, Gordon McLaren, of Hamilton, Ont., Frank T. Wyman of St. Catharines, Ont., and John Gibson of Toronto, Ont., were among the speakers.

Yesterday's luncheon was in charge of the Belleville, Ont., Rotarians, and at the afternoon session the speakers were Dr. Fred Foster of Stratford, Ont., E. H. Watkins of Kane, Pa., Fred L. Roy, of Peterboro, Ont., Alfred Brewer, of Sault Ste. Marie, Judge Hawley Mott of Toronto, Edgar F. Allen, of Elyria, Oio, and Dr. Prescott Le Breton of Buffalo.

Included in the regular order of business was the nominating balloting for candidates for district governor.

Last evening's session, which closed the business of the conference, was followed by the governor's ball. Women delegates yesterday were taken to East Aurora, N.Y., and afterward were entertained at the 20th Century Club.

DEAD IN CABIN AT LONG POINT

Prominent Resident of Lindsay District Died in Act of Skinning Fox He Had Evidently Shot.

LINDSAY, April 10. (Special to the Examiner.) — Adam Stockdale, a well known resident of this section, was found dead in a cabin at Long Point, Sturgeon Lake, on Wednesday.

The deceased, who lived alone, looked after the summer home of Dr. Caven, of Toronto. He was found lying on the floor of the cabin, and it is believed had returned to the building after shooting a fox, as death overtook him while he was in the act of skinning the animal.

United States Fourth Among Shipbuilders.

NEW YORK, April 10—The United States jumped from sixth to fourth place among the nations in shipbuilding for the quarter ending March 31, Lloyd's Register of Shipping announced to-day. However, only 4.8 per cent of the world's ship building is being done in the United States, as compared with 58.7 per cent, in Great Britain and Ireland, and 36.7 per cent for all other countries.

The rank of leading countries and tons under construction for the quarter just ended was reported as follows:

Great Britain and Ireland, 1,473,000 tons, a gain of 78,000 over preceding quarter; Germany 299,000 tons, a loss of 37,000; Italy 130,000 tons, a gain of 11,000; United States 119,000: France 111,000, a gain, of 1,000 Holland, Japan and British Dominions follow next in order.

Earthquake Leaves Mark on Yokohama Children.

YOKOHAMA, Japan, April 10. — (Associated Press).—The youth of Japan will feel the effects of the great earthquake of last September for many years, and in many ways.

New evidence of this has been disclosed by a physical examination made recently of the school children of Yokohama. It was found that the earthquake had afflicted 677 children with "night blindness," or inability to see after nightfall even in the best artificial light.

Physical deterioration after the quake was found to be general. Of about 33,000 children examined fully 3 per cent. were anaemic.

WOMAN SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down nervous condition, always tired from the time I got up until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My sister recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it, but it was from my sister's advice that I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger, headaches left me and my appetite came back to me. I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women."—Mrs. LOUIS F. ELSASSER, Hillcrest Farm, Webbwood, Ont.

Another Nervous Woman Finds Relief

Port Huron, Mich.—"I suffered for two years with pains in my side, and if I worked very much I was nervous and just as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was sleepy all the day and didn't feel like doing anything, and was so nervous I would bite my finger nails. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I soon felt fine."—Mrs. CHARLES BEELER, 501-14th St., Port Huron, Mich.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. C

Six Calls Yesterday and This Forenoon -- Goat Had Narrow Escape With Singed Whiskers

The Firemen had the busiest time this year yesterday and to-day, answering alarms from all over the city. Yesterday afternoon four alarms were sent in and two this morning, making a total of six.

When the alarm from Box 24 on the corner of Hunter and Quaker this morning for a chimney fire at 84 Hunter street west, was turned in, the whole apparatus was called out. The streets which were thronged with street walkers seeing the apparatus heading for the Quaker Oats Company headed that way too think ing the Quaker Oats was in flames. Sending in an alarm for a chimney fire by pulling a box is nearly as bad as sending in a false alarm as nothing but the chemical truck is needed in this case. Fire Chief G. Gimblett wishes to announce that for a chimney fire a telephone alarm should be sent in instead of pulling a box which calls out the whole apparatus, except in case of emergency.

The first call yesterday was received at 10.35 for a fire at 704 George street, caused by burning rubbish that got out of control of the person who was supervising the fire. No damage was done at this fire. The next cell was at 11.45 to a small shed at the rear of 612 Chamberlain street which had caught fire. When the Firemen arrived at the scene the owner of the building was leading a goat out of the burning shed of which the goat was the only occupant. There was a slight damage to the building, but the goat got off lucky, having only its whiskers singed.

In the afternoon at 4.15 Chamberlain street, was the scene of another fire, this one being a small fire in the bath room of 592 which is thought to have been caused by some body smoking in the room.

Constable Matthews while on beat on Stewart street noticed a fire in the house at 183 Stewart street at 1.45 this morning. He investigated and found some ashes had set fire to a box which was near a door and the door had also caught. He sent in the alarm and the fire was soon extinguished. The damage was slight.

At 6.24 this morning 284 Brock street, was the scene of a chimney fire. The fire was soon extinguished and no damage was done.

The three boys who started the grass fire at 32 Benson street on Tuesday afternoon have been rounded up by Chief Gimblett and will be made an example of.

BANTING HAS CURE FOR WORLD UNREST

Discoverer of Insulin Advocates Cup of Tea and Restfulness of Home Life--U. S. Should Abandon Her Isolation.

NEW YORK, April 10.—(Canadian Press).—The British afternoon cup o' tea was seriously advocated as a remedy for our too swiftly moving civilization by Dr. Frederick Grant Banting, discoverer of insulin, at his first appearance before an American lay audience at the Hotel Biltmore last night. Dr. Banting and his co-discoverer, Dr. Charles Herbert Best, were guests of the Sulgrave Institution in recognition of their services to humanity. A proportion of the 350 present had been sufferers from diabetes, and were able to testify to the efficacy of his discovery.

Dr. Banting, in his address, made no reference to his research work. After emphasizing the importance of cordial relations between the English-speaking nations of the world, he said:

"In the United States and Canada one sometimes feels that we are getting too far away from our ancient sources of strength. We live too fast. Would we not be just as far ahead in the long run if we had afternoon tea and enjoyed to a fuller extent the restfulness of home life?" "Civilization can advance only as a whole."

Dr. Banting urged that the United States abandon her "splendid isolation" and co-operate more thoroughly with the League of Nations. The world's need, he said, is more of the spirit of live and help live than one of live and let live. The League, he continued, is doing magnificent work in that direction. The basis of international friendship in which each nation can regain its self-respect cannot be founded upon a policy of isolation, he said.

Judge Alton B. Parker presided. Other speakers were Dr. John H. Finley, editor of the New York Times; Dr. Walter L. Niles, Dean of Cornell Medical College, and Dr. Frank J. Monaghan, Health Commissioner. An honorary life membership in the Lawyers' Club was conferred earlier in the day upon Dr. Banting at a luncheon in the club given for him and his coadjutor, Dr. C. P. Best.

Robert C. Morris, president of the club, presided, and in conferring the membership, said of Dr. Banting:

"For a man of comparatively few years his accomplishments have been great. His fame in the discovery of insulin has spread throughout the civilized world, and his service to humanity is recognized by all.

The Lawyers' Club desires to express its appreciation of Dr. Banting's splendid achievement."

INDIAN OIL LAND AUCTIONEER MAKES OSAGES WORLD'S RICHEST PEOPLE

BY ROY J. GIBBONS

SKEDEE, Okla., April 9.—Knocking down valuable oil lands to the highest bidder at a million or more dollars a knock is easy as puddin' to Colonel E. Walters.

To date, this genial, broad-shouldered westerner, with home and sombrero rack here, has sold more than half a billion dollars worth of property under the hammer.

For a generation the ultra rich have been his patrons. Hobnobbing with millionaires long since has lost its novelty for him.

And with the different Indian tribes here on his own stamping ground, the name, Walters, is synonymous with the Great White Spirit.

Wins Confidence.

Perhaps no other white man has won the confidence of the red man like Walters, super-salesman and auctioneer de luxe.

Walters for years has conducted the sales of the Osage Indian lands to oil prospectors. In so doing, he's brought something like $141,060,754 into the tribal exchequers.

Just the other day in Pawhuska he dragged in another $4,000,000 for them.

Little wonder the Osages are the richest group of people per capita on earth.

Yet through all this downpour of riches, Walters hasn't lost his perspective. Nor has his sense of values been distorted.

"We're all on the block," he says. "To bring a decent price we've got to keep from getting sidetracked.

"Money isn't everything. Children, home, a good wife, a loving mother are far more valuable than gold."

The dean of auctioneers is 57. And Colonel really happens to be his first name—not a title he's adopted.

As a youngster, he came west. For some years, he tried ranching.

Voice Wins Out.

But the voice which originally destined him to be a singer would not be hushed. Friends persuaded him to try auctioneering. He did. Since then, he's sold land in 26 states.

He's presided over sales where million dollar checks were pulled out as freely as Russian rubles or German marks. He's seen staid capitalists act like lunatics while his hammer kept a-tappin' down select fields in gusher territory.

Walters is married and has a married daughter.

Numerous decorations have been bestowed upon him. But most of all he values the gold-hammered and diamond-studded pin the Osage tribe gave him as a token of his loyalty and service.

FABLES ON HEALTH

FACTS FOR NOTE BOOK.

Mr. Mann of Anytown didn't know much about food but he knew what he liked.

"It's all right," he would say, "to tell me to get proteins and sugars and starches and all that stuff, but where do I find them?"

Quite a natural question.

Sugar is found in all fruits, and in vegetables, such as corn, beets and sweet potatoes.

Starch is found in all grains and vegetables.

Fats are found both in animal and vegetable foods and in butter, milk, cream, etc.

Proteids are found in animal food such as lean meat; in milk, eggs, cheese; in such plant foods as nuts, peas, beans; in all grains and in most vegetables, though in small quantities.

Carbohydrate is found in all cereals, starchy vegetables, such as Irish potatoes; in bananas, figs, prunes, raisins, green corn, green peas, and apples.

Minerals are found in raw foods such as lettuce and celery.

Lettuce, parsley, spinach and all greens contain vitamines, as do milk and cream.

This is a brief table but sufficient to get a start.

KINNEAR DIVORCE CASE LONG DRAWN OUT TRIAL

TORONTO, April 10.—(Canadian Press).—Application has been made to the Dominion Parliament by W. J. Boland, barrister, on behalf of Clara Louise Kinnear, for an act dissolving her marriage with Russell Barr Kinnear, enabling your petitioner to marry again, and further and other relief in the premises.

Action for the divorce is one of several sequels to a long drawn-out trial for alimony before Mr. Justice Kelly some weeks ago, in which judgment was awarded Mrs. Kinnear. An appeal against the judgment has been taken by Russell Kinnear, who has also instituted proceedings against Thomas Kinnear for alleged alienation of affections of his wife, and claiming $250,000.

OBJECTIONS GENERAL TO EXPERTS' REPORT

Practically Every Nation Finds Fault With Failure to Stipulate Total Germany Shall Pay.

LONDON, April 10. — (United Press.)—A storm of objections to the experts' reports, tempered with general admiration for the workmanlike job, was brewing in European capitals to-day.

The French raised objections on several grounds, the Germans on others, while Italy, Britain and Belgium considered the texts and prepared for the battle over their revision that appears inevitable.

In Washington, it was believed the Dawes report stood better than an even chance for approval, but in Europe first signs indicated that many changes will precede the adoption of the plan.

The chief objection raised by practically every nation was that the experts had failed to stipulate a total sum of reparation Germany must pay.

Forms Negotiation Basis.

The bulk of editorial opinion in Berlin newspapers to-day inclines to the view that the report of the Expert Reparation committee constitutes a basis for negotiations. Only in isolated instances of the Nationalistic organs is opposition to the recommendations voiced, and even there the familiar cry of "unacceptable" which has greeted plans, is wholly lacking.

Fraudulent Paintings Exposed By Use of Ray.

BERKELEY, Cal., April 10. — (Associated Press).—Fraudulent representations of paintings by the masters can be detected by turning ultra-violet light rays on the art objects, according to members of the faculty of the art department in the University of California. Experiments along this line are being made at the university.

"Under ultra-violet rays the brush strokes show plainly," said a professor, "and if photographs are made while the lights are turned on the canvasses, the kinds of color used also are shown, and when these are compared with the kinds known to have been used by the artist supposed to have painted the picture, any fraud can be detected. The Germans have used the same system in criminology for a number of years, and this is simply applying the process to painting. It is inevitable that it will come into general use."

STRAIGHT TO CHIN IN BRITISH HOUSE

Former Sea Lord Answers Charge of Being "Little Swine" by Attacking Glasgow Labor Member

LONDON, April 10. — (Canadian Press).—The feeling aroused by the squabble over the Evictions Bill was responsible, for the extremely undignified scenes in the House of Commons last night, presenting the spectacle of the former Sea Lord, Col. L. C. Amery, apparently engaging in fisticuffs with the Glasgow Labor member, G. Buchanan.

The trouble originated from an allegation that the Government was not practicing what it was preaching, it being declared that on the Government owned estate of Woolwich a summons had been issued for evictions owing to non-payment of rent. F. W. Jowett, Minister of Works, replied that no summons had been served to anyone unemployed.

Col. Amery said the details were in marked contrast to the vague generalities and sob stuff from Scotland. This led J. Maxton, of Glasgow, to shout: "You're a dog," followed with "He's only a little swine and guttersnipe" from Buchanan.

Maxton and Buchanan approached Amery, and the latter smashed Buchanan on the jaw. There was a general jumble before peace was restored.

AUTHOR OF BLUEBIRD PLANS LIGHTER PLAY

The friends of Mr. Asa Huycke, who was called home on account of the death of his sister, will be pleased to learn that he has had a very successful season with his production of "The Message of the Bluebird." Since October of last year, Mr. Huycke, under the management of Mr. Mackie, has been touring the province, and has put the "Bluebird" in many places, including Owen Sound, Kingston, where two evening performances and a matinee were given, Smith's Falls, Brockville and Barrie, with amateur performers, in the same way as it was performed here. Three other centres remain on Mr. Huycke's list for production of his operetta this season. The performances in every instance have been greeted with great enthusiasm, and very favorable press comments. Mr. Huycke is now engaged in the composition of a similar production to "The Bluebird," of a lighter nature, which he hopes to put on for its initial opening in Peterboro some time in the coming Fall or Winter season.

MANY OPINIONS ON NEW BUDGET ARE EXPRESSED

Hon. J. A. Robb is Being Looked to For Deliverance That May Be Far Reaching on Party Affiliations-- Speculation is Rife.

REDUCE INCOME TAX

OTTAWA, April 10. Canadian Press. — The budget speech being delivered by Hon. J. A. Robb, acting Minister of Finance, this afternoon, is awaited with interest that has not been equalled since the luxury taxes were brought down.

Presenting his maiden budget in the absence of the veteran of finance, Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, Mr. Robb is being looked to for deliverance that may be far-reaching in its effect on political affiliations in the Dominion. Following the declaration in the speech from the throne that there would be a reduction in the taxes on the instruments of production in primary industries, there has been an expectation that there would be a cut in the tariff, particularly on agricultural implements

More recently this expectation has been varied by the suggestion that the sales tax would be reduced, but in the last week opinion has again veered around to anticipation of a tariff reduction as well as some diminution of the sales tax.

Underlying the speculation as to tariff changes has been the fact that the government is in a minority in the House if the various opposition parties should unite.

The announcement in the speech from the throne was welcomed from the Progressive group and met with condemnation only from small groups in the government.

The Progressives have recently indicated that they wanted a general reduction in agricultural implements and just on the eve of the budget the Progressive leader, Robert Forke, has come out with a declaration for removal of protection from the tariff.

Lighten Income Tax.

Apart from the tariff there is an expectation that there will be a lightening of the income tax burden.

This issue has been made acute by the action of the United States Congress in reducing the income taxes in that country and it has been held that to maintain a higher scale of income taxes in Canada than that in force across the line would have a strong tendency to increase the exodus.

In finance Mr. Robb is expected to present the most hopeful statement which has been listened to by parliament since before the war. The balancing of the budget is understood to be one of the features of this phase of the Budget speech, and the latest figures available indicate that while this will be possible it will not be achieved without some difficulty.

MOTION PICTURES FROM THE INSIDE

Interesting Illustrated Lecture on Motion Picture Industry With Description of Hollywood --Chamber of Commerce Tonight.

The local branch of the Engineering Institute will be addressed this evening by Bernard Norrish, manager of the Associated Screen News of Canada, on the development of the Motion Picture Industry. He will relate the history of motion pictures, from its first invention to its present state.

He will show by lantern slides and moving pictures, the making of a picture and some of the large studios in Hollywood will be described.

Mr. Norrish is a graduate of Queen's University and a member of the Society of Motion Picture Engineers, and has had an intimate acquaintance with the industry for many years.

P. L. Allison, M.E.I.C. will act as chairman and the meeting which is called for 8.15 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms will open to the citizens generally.

PARISIENNE QUEEN MARIE HAS ULTRA BALKAN KING

PARIS, April 10. — Wearing a natty French blue toque and handsame fur coat, Queen Marie of Rumania, Europe's youngest royal grandmother, arrived with King Ferdinand this morning, for a three days visit of state. The Queen was the object of an enthusiastic ovation as she rode down the Champs Elysees beside Madame Millerand, wife of the French President. A bevy of Rumanian girls presented Sovereigns with bouquets. The King had an ultra Balkan air, but Marie looked Parisienne to her fingertips.

MAN MAKES LOVE TO HIS WIFE AND PLOTS HER DEATH

He Planted a Bomb to Kill Her Strong Enough to Raise Fifty Houses.

By JACK JUNGMEYER.

LOS ANGELES, April 10.— Making ardent love to his third wife while he fashioned an infernal machine to blow her to atoms, is the confessed murderous duplicity of Joseph J. Lanzit.

Lanzit, 62, was arrested in the act of planting a dynamite bomb, said by experts to have been powerful enough to raze 50 houses.

He and his intended victim, Mrs. Josephine Lanzit, noted beauty and prominent business woman of Venice, Calif., disagree only as to his motive. He claims it was insane jealousy. She, supported by investigating officers, says it was a monstrous greed.

The two had been temporarily separated. Lanzit carried on his fervent love making over the phone. A Canadian war veteran whom Lanzit sought to use as an accomplice, informed the sheriff.

An Ardent Lover

"All the time he was plotting this diabolical thing," says Mrs. Lanzit, "he was as sweet and affectionate as could be, calling me endearing names and pleading for my renewed faith.

"He telephoned many times a day. But his heart was distilling murder under the honeyed words.

"I married him because I was lonely, after short acquaintance. You know how we women fall for these ardent lovers and their caressing ways. But within a few minutes after marriage I sensed that something was wrong. It was my money he wanted—and that only."

Mrs. Lanzit had $50,000 worth of property. Her mother, also an intended victim, together with her brother, according to the confession authorities attribute to Lanzit, possessed $150,000.

Once a Millionaire

The district attorney, to whom Mrs. Lanzit pictured her husband as "a Bluebeard," immediately began investigating her declaration that Lanzit's second wife died shortly after he took out heavy insurance on her life, and that he had told her the cause of Number Two's death was not what the records showed. His first wife, he said, he had divorced.

"It was jealousy," stolidly maintains Lanzit, formerly a wealthy and prominent manufacturer of Chicago once rated a millionaire.

"There was another man. But I've made my bed, and I'll lie in it."

He faces a long prison term, for attempted murder.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC ON C.P.R. HAS INCREASED

MONTREAL, April 10.—(Special to the Examiner). Although the spring has not yet announced its intention to stay with us, that it cannot be far behind is evidenced by the increase in the freight traffic noted by the Canadian Pacific officials. The spring deliveries of automobiles are now being made, resulting in a heavy movement of cars of Canadian Manufacturing centres to all points. A shipment of several car loads from Oshawa to Fort William featured this movement yesterday, all the cars being destined for local distribution.

TURKS TO CHANGE WAY OF TEACHING

American Missionaries Have Been Ordered to Stop Teaching Religion In Schools.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 10.—(Associated Press).—Heads of American missionary schools in Constantinople have received the following order from the Angora ministry of public instruction:

"It is learned that some foreign schools devote more time to religious exercises than to regular teaching, that they compel pupils to attend Christian services, and they hang on the walls of class rooms and courtyards texts and placards dealing with religious matters.

"Schools which are now engaging in religious activities of the above nature will be immediately closed. Consequently the following regulations are brought to the notice of the administration of these schools, which must conform strictly to them:

"It is absolutely forbidden to allow Turkish students to participate in Christian services either cumpulsorily or voluntarily. No Turkish student shall be permitted to attend prayers in connection with the religion of the directors of Christian schools.

"Foreign schools may give religious instruction in a separate chapel, but they may not conduct prayers elsewhere or set up statues or suspend texts of a religious nature in class rooms or courtyards.

"A strict control of foreign schools is necessary in order to see that ecommendations of the ministry are carried out."

This order preceded the recent decree closing all foreign schools on Friday, the Moslem Sabbath.

WARKWORTH FAIR BILLED WEEK LATER THAN DATE NAMED BY ASSOCIATION

ood Financial Foundation for This Year's Activities -- Standing Field Crop Competition --Will Revise Prize List

APPOINT COMMITTEES

(By a Staff Reporter.)

WARKWORTH, April 10. — Warkworth Fair this year will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, 7th and 8th October, instead of on Thursday and Friday, 2nd and 3rd October, the dates assigned by the Central Ontario Fairs Association.

The change was made at a meeting of the directors held in Community Hall yesterday, and the motion, made by W. S. Nelson, and seconded by Vice-President Poole, was carried unanimously.

The object of the shift in dates was to avoid a conflict with Tweed and Millbrook, the Fair at both these placed being billed for 2nd and 3rd October.

Those at the meeting yesterday were: President J. F. Freure, Vice-President George Poole, Secretary J. A. Armstrong, and Directors W. S. Nelson, George Hutchinson, Warren A. Atkinson, Fred Moore, H. L. Walker, C. H. Curtis, F. White, Henry Walters, G. Greenley, and William Ross.

The question of changing the date was brought up after Secretary Armstrong had given a report of the meeting of the Fairs Association in Belleville. Tweed had refused to take any date other than the one selected for Warkworth, and the Millbrook Fair would also conflict.

Director Curtis and other members of the board proposed a change, on the ground that if the Fair were held on the day first announced the horsemen would be unable to get their horses here in time.

Secretary Armstong believed that to change the date would make for more exhibits in every line.

Director Walker suggested the first Tuesday and Wednesday after the Roseneath Fair, at which time there would be no competition, but was told that this arrangement would conflict with Norwood.

Off to Good Start.

The Fair is getting away to a good financial start. In his opening address President Frure stated that the Athletic Association had turned over to the society $160.00, the profits derived from the use of the rink during the winter. The net revenue from this source was $200.00, but the Association reserved $40.00 to defray the cost of icing the rink next fall. Another source of income for the society was $100.00 realised from an entertainment given some time ago so that the Fair directors have financial velvet totaling $260.00.

On the motion of W. S. Nelson, a vote of thanks was tendered the Athletic Association.

Standing Field Crops.

For the first time in its history the society will this year hold a standing field crop competition in accordance with the regulations of the Agricultural Department governing such events. A majority of the farmer directors present expressed their readiness to take part. Prizes will be offered for two crops, and oats was agreed upon as one of these at the meeting yesterday, a committee to decide whether the other is to be corn or turnips after the farmers in the district have been interviewed. This committee, the members of which are Directors Atkinson, Poole, Curtis, and Honey, will also secure entries for the competition.

Committee Appointed.

The following standing committees were appointed, the first named in each being chairman:

Advertising—H. L. Walker, C. H. Curtis, Fred Moore, Dr. H. S. Allen, and Secretary Armstrong.

Take 2 Warkworth Fair.

Races—W. S. Nelson, H. V. Skinkle, C. H. Curtis

Race Track—C. H. Curtis, George Poole, H. V. Skinkle, H. Aylesworth.

Grounds — W. A. Kelly, George Hutchinson, George Poole, Fred Moore, W. A. Atkinson.

Finance —President Freure, Dr. Allen, W. H. Nelson, J. A. Armstrong.

To Revise Prize List.

Director Atkinson suggested that the prizes awarded for horses and bulls be increased and those for grain be lowered as it is so much more difficult to bring the former classes of exhibits to the Fair. It was pointed out that the prize for the best bushel of wheat was $1.00 and that very often this was more than the grain was worth

Director Curtis, while not objecting to increasing the prizes as suggested by Mr. Atkinson, was opposed to lowering any of the others, those belonging to the classes where the number of entries was greater and the competition closer.

It was finally decided to appoint Directors Dr. Allen, Ross, Honey, Curtis, Poole, W. S. Nelson and Secretary Armstrong a committee to revise the prize list for 1924.

Department Directors.

The following directors of departments were appointed:

Heavy horses—H. Watters.
Carriage horses—W. Ross.
Beef cattle—H. Aylesworth.
Dairy cattle—F. White.
Sheep—W. A. Atkinson
Hogs—George Hutchinson
Grains and Seeds—F. H. Moore.
Poultry—W. S. Nelson.
Domestic science, fruits and jellies and fine arts—Dr. Allen.
Ladies' fancy work—H. L. Walker.

Other Business.

On motion of Director Curtis and Vice-President Poole it was decided to hold a sports day during the summer, the date to be selected later.

Secretary Armstrong, who has held that position for the past four years, was unanimously re-elected.

Horsemen wishing to train their horses in Warkworth will be given the free use of the track and learn if such action does not effect the insurance policy on the buildings, this point to be investigated by President Freure.

On motion of W. S. Nelson, Peter Cockburn will be notified to vacate the buildings for which he has been paying the society $10 a year and which he uses for storage purposes.

Wanted—A Philogist.

Some master of the vagaries of the English language and versed especially in the changes that have been made necessary in the form of certain words by fall fairs, prohibition laws, Hydro disputes and other modern innovations, is wanted in Warkworth to settle a difference of opinion that has arisen among the directors. The issue is on the question whether pigs should be 'rung' or 'ringed.' Last year's prize list staed that all hogs not rung would not be judged. Director Hutchison of this department, objected to the term as a violation of the rules of syntax and demands that the proper term be used this year in the published rules. He has his supporters in this contention but there are those who see a similarity in the process of ringing a pig and a bell.

PEARL MISSION CIRCLE HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The Pearl Mission Circle of George street Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. McCarthy on Aylmer street, on Tuesday evening, for the election of officers for the coming year.

After the devotional exercises very encouraging reports were given from each of the officers, following the election:

PIGEON LAKE RATS ESCAPE

Cold Weather Delays the Trapping Season By Holding Ice to Its Winter Moorings — Farmhouse In Ashes.

KING'S WHARF, April 9. — The trappers are anxiously awaiting for the ice to go off Pigeon Lake to set their traps. Had the fine weather continued, the lake would be open, but the cold weather has frozen the ice and it has not moved. It promises to be a very good trapping season, as last year was so short. The houses are very plentiful and when the water rises it will be a splendid year.

Syndicate Meeting

The Pigeon River Syndicate Co. held their annual meeting Friday evening at the residence of Thos. Morrissey, the secretary. Owing to the almost impassable condition of the roads, there was not as many present as would have been had the roads been good. However, the business of the year was transacted and the officers for the year 1924 were elected. President, Patrick Dorgan; secretary, Thos. Morrissey. Directors—Joseph Guiry, Ambrose Herlihey and John O'Neill, and the auditors were W. C. Herlihey and Fred Fitzpatrick. There were many important matters discussed and then the meeting was adjourned.

House Burned

Mr. Michael Murtha had the misfortune to have his house burned with all its contents last Saturday by overheated stove pipes. The neighbors had great difficulty in saving the barn as the wind was blowing that way. His friends sympathize with him in his loss as he had no insurance.

Quite a number from this vicinity are making maple syrup this year and there was a great run of sap those fine days but the cold spell has checked it and the cold is continuing so long the season will be a short one now.

Mr. Jos. O'Neill is spending a few days in this locality getting ready for the trapping season.

Miss Viola O'Neill has returned home after spending a few days, the guests of friends in Lindsay.

Dr. Rice, V.S., of Lindsay, made a professional visit in this locality on Wednesday.

Mr. Patrick Dorgan is at present working at Thos. Morrissey's kitchen.

Mrs. Patrick Duffy is able to be around again after her injuries received in a runaway some weeks ago.

Mrs. W. C. Herlihey and Miss Pearl Herlihey were business visitors to Lindsay Tuesday.

Friends of Paul O'Neill, son of Mr. John O'Neill, of this place, will be glad to learn he is home from Toronto, where he has spent the last two weeks in the hospital there, and is doing nicely. Paul was injured some time ago by a fall but not as serious as his friends believed at the time. He will be able to be around again in a few days.

The roads through here are in very bad condition at present, some of the roads have not been travelled on in three weeks, and some have been closed all winter are not open yet. The roads were never in such bad shape and if a warm rain and hot weather don't come it will be a long time before people will be able to travel on them.

COURSE OF FOOL SAYS MACDONALD

Of Lloyd George's Policy Regarding Turkish Treaty--Lausanne Pact to Be Ratified.

LONDON, April 10. Canadian Press. — The House of Commons last night unanimously passed the second reading of a bill to ratify the treaty of Lausanne.

Thus the British Parliament in principle, ratified the treaty between the allies and Turkey, which former Premier Lloyd George in the course of a debate characterized as, from the British standpoint, a deplorable treaty, such as might have been signed by a vanquished power. He advised refusal to ratify the Straits Convention, which he said might involve Britain in grave responsibilities in the not impossible event of the Russian government again becoming imperialistic.

Premier MacDonald said that he did not propose to take the course suggested by Lloyd George, which would be the task of a fool or a criminal.

TWO MEN DIED

man put the black caps over the heads of the condemned men and adjusted the nooses. Then the blot was shot. A heavy thud, a scarcely audible moaning sound, and all was over.

Both men died together. They stood side by side, their faces turned toward the south. Each man was attired in the customary prison garb a pair of dark trousers and a khaki colored shirt.

RETRIBUTION SLOW BUT SURE

Retribution was low but sure in the case of Sydney Murrell, who met death on the gallows at London today.

On April 11, 1921, he shot and killed Russell Campbell, a garage man, at Melbourne, Ont., when the bandits, of which Murrell was the leader, tried to escape after holding up the bank in that town.

Murrell was captured but later he escaped after sawing the bars in the London, Ont., jail.

Nearly two years later he was arrested on a theft charge in Nevada, identified and brought back to London, where he was tried and sentenced some months ago for the murder of Campbell.

Harry Williams was also condemned to death as an accessory to the same crime, but sentence was commuted last Tuesday by the Governor-General-in-Council to life imprisonment.

Clarence Topping, who was hanged with Murrell to-day, shot and killed his sweetheart, Geraldine Durston, in a London boarding house, last November, in a fit of jealousy.

Cost of Living Bonus With Soldiers' Pensions.

OTTAWA, April 10. — (Canadian Press).—Correcting a return tabled in the House recently from his Department, Hon. Dr. H. S. Beland, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, said yesterday afternoon that the amount of cost of living bonus added to ordinary pensions of soldiers and their dependents totalled $6,326,365, not $7,893,575, as previously stated.

The figures were given in answer to a question by Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, who inquired why the amount was so low in proportion to the total amount of pensions.

Dr. Beland pointed out that all people receiving pensions were not entitled to the cost of living bonus. Officers above the rank of captain, some minor children, and a certain class of dependents, such as parents and sisters, did not get the bonus.

SPECIAL SERVICES GEORGE STREET

Despite the inclemency of the weather there was great interest shown yesterday in the Newton Jones meetings in George street church.

In the afternoon Mr. Jones spoke on "Divine Leading.' He dwelt first on the fact of this, emphasizing strongly the importance of such guidance in meeting the problems of daily living. He went on to speak of the leader, God operating through his Spirit in the hearts of believers, bringing light as to the purposes of God, the power of Christ and the meaning of God's Word. He then dealt with where He leads, to acceptance, dedication, faith, suffering and victory, illustrating each point with scriptural examples. Finally he answered on scriptural basis the question as to whom He leads, dwelling on the characteristics of sonship, study, willing service, etc., as prerequisites of finding the divine leading. The simple directness of the study of the afternoon brought the message home to every hearer.

In the evening he spoke on "The Pulpit and the Pew," a discussion of the importance and dignity of preaching and teaching on the one hand and of the qualities of right hearing on the other. Stressing especially the necessity of devoutness and sincerity, he laid the responsibility for the results of listening directly on listeners, and plead for attention to the pleading voice of the Saviour. At the conclusion of the meeting several requested special prayers.

To-night he will speak on "Rags." The choir will lead the singing and a solo will be sung by Mrs. Park. To-morrow afternoon he will speak on "Hindrances in Service," a subject of practical import to every life. All are invited to these services.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE TO TAKE PART IN SHOW

A well attended meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held last evening in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum, the President, Mrs. C. Snider, in the chair. During the brief business session, the League decided to sell home-made cooking, coffee, doughnuts, and soft drinks, at a booth at the Motor Show this year.

A very interesting paper on "The Early History of Peterboro" was given by Miss May Grady, who reviewed in illuminating fasion the life of pioneer days in this district. A fact recorded was the coming centennial anniversary, in the fall of next year, 1925, of the celebration of the first Mass in Peterboro

An enjoyable musical programme included a vocal solo by Miss Camilla Fitzpatrick, with accompaniment by Miss Vera Hiland, and an instrumental selection by Miss Olive O'Connell.

M'HATTIE CALLED ON BY PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

STRATFORD, April 10.—(Canadian Press.)—"I have absolutely no comment to make at all," said G. L. McHattie, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, when informed that the Public Accounts committee had decided to call him to Toronto on Friday to give testimony regarding the bank account here of Hon. Peter Smith. "I have not received any word yet from Toronto and don't feel that I should say anything at this time."

L.O.B.A. HELD DANCE AND EUCHRE EVENING

Eastern Star L.O.B.A. No. 525 held a very successful progressive euchre party and dance on Tuesday evening in Victoria Hall. Card playing continued until half past ten o'clock, prizes going to Mrs. Geo. Foster (silver-rimmed pie plate), and to Bert Pearson (silver Eversharp pencil. Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. Money and Mr. Cook. The service of refreshments followed and a dance, with excellent music provided by Bell's orchestra. The committee in charge of arrangements included Miss W. Andrus and Messrs. W. Bertrand and J. Brown

TO DEFEND C.N. AGAINST GOSSIP

Sir Henry Thornton Says Misleading Statement About Company Will Be Challenged -- $30,000,000 is Object for Year.

MONTREAL, April 10.—(Special to The Examiner).—"We have reached that stage in our career on the C. N. R. when we may maintain a degree of self-respect. I don't mean egotism, I don't mean pride, but I mean honorable self-respect. There are unfortunately those in the land who adopt a policy of assassination of character; character in so far as the company is concerned; character in so far as its officers are concerned.

"They whisper maliciously and say, 'Well, after all, this net showing you have was merely faked; we must not pay much attention to that; it is merely bookkeeping.' That is one of the things they started in an effort to detract from what had been done and a good many things of that kind are going on. I say we are going to challenge statements of that nature. We are going to protect both the company and its officers from slanderous and libelous gossip, wherever it appears."

This statement was made last night by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., in an address broadcast by him over the radio for station CHCY, Montreal, to officers and employees of the National system.

After expressing his appreciation of the loyalty which had been shown the administration during the past year by its officers and men, and announcing that this year's objective is thirty million dollars net, Sir Henry delibered the stateemnt quoted above.

He then continued: "I have also this to say, we are going to play the game straight. We are going to play the game as sportsmen. We are not going to come hat in hand to the people of Canada and ask them to give us their traffic, because by doing so they will reduce their taxes, or by doing so they will be patronizing their own railways. We do not ask for traffic for such a reason, but because the merit of our service entitles us to that patronage. It seems to me that our problem is chiefly the problem of increasing our gross revenue.

"There has been a steady reduction in transportation expenses — that is to say, expenses which are chargeable to moving the traffic.

"In the last two months of 1924 we have reduced our operating expenses by roughly $2,000,000 as against 1923, and you all know that a dollar saved in transportation expenses is a dollar earned.

"Our traffic department had done exceedingly well, and if we had a sufficient amount of business on this way, a business which was something equivalent to its mileage we would have no railway problem; the thing would be solved on the C. N. R. Everyone on the system has got to pull for the traffic department and try to add, in some way, each day, each week, each month, to our gross receipts."

In concluding his message, Sir Henry referred to the feeling of good fellowship which has grown up between all departments of the system, and he again expressed his heartfelt gratitude for the splendid efforts which had been made last year, and were being made at the present time, by all employees in the service to make the C. N. R. a success.

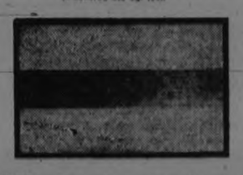
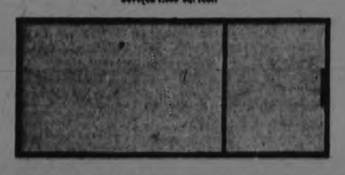
Cheap Paint? Here is the Answer!

No. 1 (From an actual photograph) A measure of so called "cheap" paint at $4.00 per gal., brushed out on wood; it covered 612 sq. feet.

No. 2 (From an actual photograph) An equal measure of Lowe Brothers' "High Standard" paint at $5.75 per gal., brushed out on a similar surface, covered 1,000 sq. feet.





USING an equal measure of each paint, and brushing them out on the same surface, we obtained the results pictured above

Observe that Lowe Brothers' "High-Standard" Paint covered approximately 50% more surface and covered it better than the so called "cheap" paint.

From this actual test it will be seen that it would take approximately 3 gallons of "Cheap" paint to do a job that would require only 2 gallons of Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Paint.

Practically applied to a house it would work out this way:—

These houses are both of the same type, and each has a painting area of 2,000 square feet.

To paint this house (2,000 sq. ft.) with "cheap" paint Mr. A. required 6½ gals. at $4.00 per gal. . . . $26.00

It takes a painter 1 day to apply 1 gal. of paint, therefore to apply 6½ gals. of "cheap" paint it took 6½ days at $5.00 per day $32.50

Total cost $58.50

To paint this house (2,000 sq. ft.) with Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint, Mr. B. required 4 gals. at $5.75 . . $23.00

A painter can usually apply in a day more Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint than any other, but figuring on an equal basis of 1 gal. per day, it took 4 days at $5.00 per day . . $20.00

Total cost $43.00

By using Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint Mr. B. saved $3.00 on the cost of paint and $22.50 on the cost of labor—a total saving of $15.50 on the complete job.

Never Figure the Cost of Paint by what it costs "per gallon." So-called "cheap" paint is the dearest you can buy measured by "job" cost, which is the only true measure of paint performance.

Before you paint consult us. We will be glad to show you how to paint most economically, and to give you color cards and other information for your guidance.

ALLEN CUP PRESENTED TO MILLBROOK RINK

Reeve Wood's Curlers Win Trophy For Second Year In Succession—Presentation Made By H. B. Allen, the Donor of the Trophy.

MILLBRROOK, April 9.—A well attended gathering of the Millbrook Curling Club was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening, the occasion being of unusual interest from the fact that the Allen Cup was to be presented to the winning rink for the season of 1923-24.

W. E. Ball, president of the club, made a capable chairman, and shortly after the opening preliminaries read the following address, H. B. Allen, who about three years ago generously donated the cup for local competition, making the presentation, while Reeve W. T. Wood received the handsome trophy on behalf of Rink Number Eight.

To W. T. Wood, Skip, and Messrs. L. C. Russell, H. J. Grassett and J. A. Vance, Members of Winning Rink Number Eight, For Season of 1923-24.

We have met here this evening for a very pleasant purpose, and one which has considerable honor connected with it, though it is with a certain amount of regret that we realize curling is over for another season.

An occasion of this kind seems a fitting opportunity to recall the happy associations of the past season upon which we shall always look back with pleasant memories. The inter-rink competition, we believe, leads to a spirit of friendly rivalry, and adds much to the enjoyment of the winter's sport, but best of all, it rouses no feeling of jealousy because, as its outcome, one rink must hold the highest record for the games played.

While the honor of winning the Allen Cup goes to Rink Number Eight, and credit is necessarily reflected upon your ability as Skip, we shall all hope to have the pleasure of again competing for the trophy another season, and possibly of seeing some other rink hold the position of winners in 1925, because "when honors are divided, competition is more keen."

A feeling of good fellowship and of genuine sport has characterized the games during the season of 1923-24, and this I believe has always been true of the Millbrook Curling Club.

As presendent of the club for the past season it becomes my duty as well as pleasure, to present to you as skip and through you to the other members of Rink No. 8, Messrs. L. C. Russell, H. J. Grassett, and J. A. Vance, the Allen Cup, and to congratulate your rink upon the honor of holding this handsome trophy for the current year, until it can be again competed for another season.

Signed on behalf of the Millbrook Curling Club.

W. E. Ball, President; E. J. Grassett, Secretary.

Replies from Rink.

Reeve W. T. Wood, L. C. Russell, and H. J. Grassett made suitable replies on behalf of the rink which they represented; and others who spoke briefly were H. B. Allen, Rev. G. S. Gervan, John Allen, Sr., A. A. Smith, J. N. McGill, R. H. Edmunds, W. G. Hetherington and W. Thorne.

Cigars for the company were provided by President W. E. Ball, and the members of the wnning rink taking the trophy with them, returned presently with it brimming over though the contents, while inviting left it still "the cup that cheers but does not inebriate," so no violation of the O.T.A. was effected. A further treat that appealed to the sweet tooth which men are not supposed to have in as great a degree as the opposite sex, but which nevertheless was thoroughly appreciated, added to the enjoyment of the social part of the evening before the gathering dispersed.

Second Year Winners.

The honor of being skip of the rink winning the Allen Cup for two successive seasons belongs to Reeve W. T. Wood and reference to this fact was made by several of the speakers during the evening. The other members of the winning rink last year were: Messsr. W. E. Ball, H. J. Grassett and A. McCorry.

TORONTO FIGHT A LOVE AFFAIR

TORONTO, April 10.—(Canadian Press). — "A battle to death, or when sparring partners fall out," was billed as the feature Queensbury presentation at the Standard Theatre last night, but it failed to please. The story of the plot is a simple one. Two sparring partners disagree and hammer one another in earnest, and are signed up for a ten-round bout which is expected to produce more gore than flows in Kentucky feud west picture, but the principals, Jack Bloom, of New York, and Jack Reddick, of Toronto, looked the tamest 'he men' Toronto has seen in a long time.

Bloom showed more of a fighting spirit than did Reddick, and the latter did not seem to want to hurt his erstwhile helpmate, but after he had been warned a couple of times by Referee Marsh, he unlimbered his left and hit Bloom often enough amidships to cause the latter's seconds to toss in the towel at the end of the fifth round.

To make matters worse, the fans had to sit through five rounds in order to see the Mayberry-Geller ten rounder won by Mayberry, but found that they were amply repaid.

It was announced afterwards that Reddick had been handicapped by a hand injured in his bout in Syracuse on Monday, but the examining physician stated that there was nothing wrong with it when examined before the battle. The fans strongly voiced their disgust at the fight. Geller was no match for Mayberry, who was as he pleased

NORTHUMBERLAND CLUBS ORGANIZE

County League Teams Are Preparing For New Season—Harwood May Drop Out This Season—Meet at Warkworth Soon.

COBOURG, April 10. (Special.)—Some of the Northumberland County baseball clubs are already organized, and others are fast getting into shape for the season.

Brighton held a meeting for organization on Tuesday night and will have a strong team.

The Colborne club is already organized and ready to put on some good ball.

Rumour has it that the other teams in the League will be Orland, Warkworth, Hastings, Campbellford and Roseneath.

Harwood is not expected to have a team in the Northumberland league this year.

It is not expected that the Northumberland league will join the O.B.A.A., as several of the clubs are said to be opposed to this. But this is a matter that will come up for consideration at the annual meeting which is to be held in Warkworth soon.

Cobourg Bowling.

At the annual meeting of the Cobourg Lawn Bowling Club it was decided to hold the annual tournament on July 9th and 10th. The attendance and enthusiasm should augur well for a most successful season. A meeting is called for April 24, when skips will be elected and other business arrangements for the season completed.

The club has a nice new club house erected last year at the Victoria Park Green, which adds much to their convenience and pleasure.

The following officers were elected.

President, A. W. Young (re-elected.)

Vice-Pres., Wm. DeLong.

Rec-Sec., H. J. Roberts.

Cor-Sec, Captain Hugh McCullough.

Treas., Harry Hall.

McTigue Gets Away With Murder and Fans Let Him

BY JOE WILLIAMS.

Imagine Zev running last in the Derby, yet being crowned champion horse of his day—

Ruth faning every time up, yet being haled mightiest slugger of all time—

Hagen losing all his matches, yet continuing as the country's pre-eminent golfer!

Silly stuff of course.

But no more so than the spectacle of Michael Camembert McTigue losing the first 1 rounds of a 12-round fight to a school boy from Georgia—one Willie Stribling—and stil holding the heavyweight championship of the world.

The outcome of the Newark (N. J.) bout demonstrated that McTigue has no more right to continue as champion than Ponzi has to a job in the U.S. treasury. The Irishman could not have been more emphatically beaten if he had been the living room carpet.

Al the honors went to Stribling—the hip, hip hurrahs! from the nickle seats and the flossy press notices. EVERYTHING EXCEPT THE TITLE. And that is what he was fighting for.

McTigue is still champion, in the distorted sense that he was not beaten in an oficial decision fight. Stribling's one consolation is that an unoficial wallop on the beezer carries just as much sting as one sanctioned by august Queensbury dignitarians.

Prize fighting guys today get away with raw murder. They are the highest paid entertainers, if that is the word, in the world. They make more in a night, for example, than a ball player does during a full season's play. Yet they are accountable to no ruling authority. If they don't care to risk their tiltee, they don't. The public can take it or leave it, with war tax added. Being a gluton for punishment the public takes it.

McTigue, to be fair, is not the game's first safety-first champion. Fredie Welsh played the no-decision hacket off the boards until Benny Leonard rushed him in a neutral corner one night and fed him an overdose of poisonous gloves.

Pete Herman nursed the bantamweight title with a motherly kindness.

John Kilbane consented to decisions only when it was clear that nothing short of sudden death in action would beat him.

John Wilson was another champion who imagined sportsmanship was something that sailors worked on.

There was, however, this difference between the foregoing gents and Mr. Tigue; they did know a few elementary things about fighting.

U.S. RUGBY TEAM OFF TO EUROPE

Will Play Three Exhibition Games in England Prior to Olympic Competition.

NEW YORK, April 10. — The United States Olympic Rugby football team, which sailed yesterday on the America, will play three exhibition matches in England, and one in France prior to competing for international championship honors in the Olympic tournament, which begins on May 4. France and Rumania are the only rivals of the United States, which will defend the Olympic title it won at Antwerp four years ago.

The team expects to reach England on April 18 and on the following day will play the London Scottish Club. The Blackheath team and the Harlequins will be played April 23, and 26, in London. The racing Club of France will be met in Paris a few days later.

Twenty-three players, including Charles Austin of San Francisco, who also is coach, make up the squad. They are accompanied by Samuel Goodman of San Francisco, a member of the United States Olympic Committee, as manager.

WORLD BEEF SUPPLY MENACED BY DISEASE

England Engaged in Desperate War — If Pure-Breds Are Wiped Out World Will Suffer.

LONDON, April 9 (United Press). —England is engaged in a desperate war against a beef-cattle disease, upon the result of which, scientists say, hinges the future meat supply of the world.

The pure-bred herds of England are menaced by a severe epidemic of the "foot and mouth disease"—a thing as dreadful in the live-stock world as tuberculosis is, and yellow fever once was, to humanity.

Drastic measures—slaughter of contaminated herds—are being taken everywhere in the British Isles to prevent the spread of the disease.

But despite these measures, which have cost $15,000,000 to date, it is still spreading.

The seriousness of the menace in England is not merely the death of a certain number of cattle. Argentina Australia and America still have enough herds to feed the world, for a while, if every animal in England died tomorrow.

But most of the English herds are "pure bred" stock, animals not intended for slaughter, but intended for breeding. The pure bred calves from these herds go to Argentina, to Australia, to America and Canada, and in those countries as well as in England their offspring continue to maintain the fine blooded strains that give good beef-steak to the tables of the world.

If the pure bred herds of England should be wiped out by "foot and mouth disease" the world would, before very long, have only "scrub cattle"—in other words, tough steak.

"The beef cattle strains that represent generations of concentrated human skill and achievement in animal breeding and evolution may be lost unless this disease is stamped out," agricultural authorities here have declared.

Meanwhile, every day there is slaughter of fine breed animals because they have the disease and, therefore, are a menace to other animals.

It is estimated that there are 13,000,000 automobiles in the world.

FOR 15 YEARS WAS TROUBLED WITH ECZEMA

There is no other remedy like Burdock Blood Bitters that can possibly give such relief to all sufferers from eczema, salt rheum and all other diseases of the blood for the reason that this old and well tried remedy goes right to the seat of the trouble and completely and permanently drives these diseases out of the system by cleansing the blood and making it pure and rich.

Mr. F. W. H. Schultz, Pembroke, Ont., writes: "Having been troubled with eczema for fifteen years, during which time I tried everything I could think of, including doctors, but without getting anything to do me much good I finally decided to take Burdock Blood Bitters, and I was certainly surprised to find that two weeks after I had started to take it I was relieved of my trouble. That was nine months ago, and I have not had a sign of it since. I surely wish to thank you for this wonderful medicine and strongly recommend it to anyone suffering from the same trouble as I had."

WEIRD HAPPENINGS IN OLD APARTMENT.

Uncanny Incidents Have Happened From Time to Time in the Apartment Since Mrs. Rinehart Moved In.

By HARRY B. HUNT.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The spirit of Boies Penrose, former boss of the G. O. P., does not rest well under the aspersions cast against himself and his beloved party by witnesses before the Senate Investigating Committees.

Such, at least, is the interpretation placed on ghostly manifestations in Penrose's old apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Penrose's former suite is now occupied by Mary Roberts Rinehart, novelist and author of mystery plays, but Mary never put into her fiction more thrilling situations than she experiences now at home.

Uncanny incidents have happened from time to time in the apartment ever since Mrs. Rinehart moved in. But since witnesses in the Senate inquiry have charged that the Republican nomination in 1920 was an outright case of buy and sell, and since Al Jennings swore Jake Hamon told him Penrose got $250,000 in the transaction, the place has become more than ever spooky in its weird happenings.

Rappings, tappings and strange noises like restless footsteps abound. Penrose's old easy chair takes fits of rocking violently to and fro. Tables tip eerily.

Even Mrs. Rinehart, who is of an investigatorial turn of mind and not readily rattled, having been investigating "spirits" and such for years, is getting to feel creepy. And politicians in Washington, just from hearing about it, are getting jumpy.

* * *

If the presidency is as much of a grind as the life of a conscientious member of the Senate, then it has little lure for Sam Ralston of Indiana. Ralston, as a pivotal individual from a pivotal State, is regarded as the likely winner in the Dark Horse Sweepstakes at the Democratic convention.

But Sam isn't running, he insists. If he gets the nomination it will be because he was run, not because he ran. He will serve, if drafted for the job. It would be neither human nor patriotic to refuse. But at 66, when one has lived a busy life and has accumulated avoirdupois as well as honors, ambition gets sluggish. And even the lure of the presidency fails to stir Sam's pulses.

The big easy chair by the fireside in his Indiana home somehow seems more inviting than the stiff-backed, formal affair at the end of the cabinet table.

And the grind! Between the millstones of politics and statecraft, Ralston recognizes the president has no cinch. A harder job to handle than that of just being senator.

And yet he finds the job of senator a rather vain and futile one.

"It's just a damned treadmill," he confided to a friend the other day. "Sometimes I wish I'd never got into it."

And if his own wishes—at least his spoken wishes—are complied with he'll keep on the sidelines—not in the race—this fall.

* * *

On second thought—do you suppose Ralston's protests are just good Indiana politics? Those Hoosiers are crafty critters!

* * *

For the first time in history, the Democratic presidential campaign will be conducted from Washington this year.

In making this decision, national committee leaders were influenced by the fact that Washington publicity facilities are now the best in the country, that the expenses of moving headquarters, files, personnel, etc., would be saved, and that employes, when transferred to temporary campaign headquarters at New York, look on their stay there as a lark and act accordingly.

Wife Served Hungry Husband a Beating.

WINDSOR, April 10.—When Aaron Lindsay, 64 years old, told his wife, who is 27, that it was dinner time last Sunday she went on reading a hymn book and paid no attention to him, he told Magistrate Gundy in Police Court yesterday. When he repeated the remark she threw him down on the floor, kicked him and knocked his head against the piano, he charged Lindsay was convicted of using profanity in his home before their four children. He will be sentenced on April 14.

SIMPLEST SCENES MADE WITH GREATEST HAZARD SAYS INCE DIRECTOR

Two Lives Risked To Get Thrilling River Scene For Picture

By a strange freak, it is generally the simplest scenes in motion pictures which require the greatest hazard to film according to John Griffith Wray, director of Thomas H. Ince film productions.

"Any motion picture director can testify that scenes which apparently are very dangerous can be faked with great ease," declares Wray. "On the other hand to get simple shots to round out a story, it is sometimes necessary to spend days, big sums of money and take really serious risks.

"An instance of this occurred during the filming of 'Her Reputation,' Mr. Ince's new picture starring May McAvoy, which comes to the Capitol, today, Friday and Saturday. A flood of the Mississippi river which breaks through a levee and dramatically sweeps away an entire river bottom village is one of the high spots in the production.

"The flood scenes were made at Yuma, Arizona, where we secured permission to open one of the dam gates flooding the Colorado river below the dam until it overflowed its banks. An entire village had been built for the shots and was swept away in a few minutes as the waters rushed out from the dam.

"One shot of the sequence shows two people struggling in the river until they catch a floating log. The making of that shot which is just a flash in the picture involved more hazard than any other scene in the entire production—and the company will testify that they had to take plenty of chances before they were through.

"To get the scene at the swiftest part of the river, it was necessary to stretch a guy wire over the river and run the log out on the wire by a rope. We got two expert swimmers who were not afraid of the treacherous silt water of the Colorado. As they swam out and down the river, a crew on the shore at a signal tripped the log loose. The two swimmers knew that if I failed to time that signal exactly or if the crew did not succeed in releasing the log at once so that it would float off gently down the river as per schedule, they were in danger of being swept off by the swift current before they could catch hold of the log and be hauled in with it to safety.

"In spite of the fact that this is only a flash in the picture—and an apparently simple shot—we had to risk two lives to get it. It was needed to round out the sequence however—so the lives were risked and the flash made."

ROSSOW MIDGETS COMING TO CAPITOL TODAY, FRI. AND SAT.

One of vaudeville's greatest novelties, Rossow Midgets, will offer an intensive, but diminutive, exposition of skill. In this performance, tiny men, no taller than a yard stick, will box with the skill of champions. They will indulge also in a routine of acrobatic feats, which have caused full-sized tumblers everywhere to express profound admiration. This act is one of vaudeveill's standard features. The Rossows have been a theatrical organization for 29 years, with the same personnel as that which is coming to the Capitol today, Friday and Saturday.

AT THE GRAND

"My Rosy O'Grady" was the entertaining three - act melodrama which Miss Arlie Marks and her players chose as the concluding number on their three-day programme. Presented to an appreciative audience at the Grand Opera House last night, the play, which tells the story of a "mongrel" factory girl, as she styles herself, and the bad luck which takes her into the clutches of the law, charged with murder, was one of the most entertaining of the series by the Marks players.

Miss Arlie Marks as the heroine, Rosy O'Grady, was extremely good. Her ingenuous good humor and the whimsical conversation with which she enlivened the action of the piece, brought applause from the spectators. W. L. Phillips was especially good in the role of Dr. Oakman, and Paul Brady was a bullying detective, Bob Hall. Clarence Kane played the part of Bushnell Oakman, the doctor's son, and Adelaide Secord had an excellent character part in "Mother O'Grady." George Carruth was Bill Bullock, her son-in-law, Louise Addel was Margaret Bullock, his daughter, and Lindsay E. Perrin played the role of George Reynolds. Walter DeLuna made a convincing villain, as Jim Brand, a mill boss; Peggy Logan was Marie Jackson, Reynold's stenographer, and Don. MacDonald was the policeman, Clancy.

Snappy vaudeville numbers between acts were provided by DeLuna and Addel, Carruth and Logan, Clarence Kane and Marks and Perrin.

In the afternoon a matinee performance was given, "In Old Kentucky."

SPECIAL RETURN ENGAGEMENT

The beloved, but unfortunate Jiggs Mahoney, has been aided on the road of immortality through the offices of his creator, George McManus, is to appear in the flesh at the Grand Opera House next Saturday commencing with a special matinee. Jiggs, as his legion of admirers know, is theoriginal "Father" of "Bring up Father" fame, the popular comics of Mr. McManus and which have given joy to millions and has become a national institution. The new play, which is described as a musical comedy in two acts and five scenes is entitled, "Bringing Up Father on Broadway." The other characters who figure in the side-splitting adventures as recorded in the daillies all over the country every day will be conspicuously in evidence, particularly Maggie, Jigg's termagant wife; Dinty Moore, who is still plotting Jigg's destruction and Kitty who still has numerous suitors for her pretty hand. All told it should be a merry occasion and one destined to add to the glory and reputation of one of the most popular cartoons of the day. A large cast has been employed and special music, song hits and innovations will be provided.

BALTIMORE CRITIC PAYS UNUSUAL TRIBUTE TO THE ART OF ST. DENIS & SHAWN.

The surest proof of the satisfaction given by an artist is the request for a return engagement from the manager who engaged him. This proof has been given many times this season in the case of Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn, and the Denishawn Dancers who will appear here at the Grand Opera House on Monday, 1th April. Practically every city where they have been seen this season a return date has been asked for. However, their tour is now so solidly booked until April that nearly all of these requests have had to be held over till next season. Three important cities have been fortunate enough to secure an added performance. Milwaukee, Cleveland, and Baltimore, in all of which hundreds were turned away the first time.

A very good reason for the return to Baltimore is found in the account of the first performance which Robert Garland wrote for the Baltimore American. His criticism is such a glowing one that it will be of interest to prospective patrons here, and we quote it in part as follows:

"Something remarkably like enchantment made itself manifest last night at the Lyric Theatre when Ruth St. Denis returned to Baltimore after a much too lengthy absence. Assisted by Ted Shawn and the Denishawn Dancers, Miss St. Denis presented a programme alive with youth colour and not a little splendour. For two hours she held a goodly audience spellbound.

"Last night they danced as we have never seen them dance before, danced with body, soul, and brain. Watching them, you pictured Mack warriors celebrating phallic rights in African jungles, Druid priestesses beneath the rocks at Stonehenge, Indian girls performing wild nautches in shadowy Hindu temples, a Hebrew king dancing naked before his god. And you thought, too, of Keats and his Grecian urn, of Egyptian temples beyond the Cairo walls.

"And then, of a sudden, the thing was done. All too soon the final curtain fell, the beautiful Never-Never-Land—a happy country such as never was on land or sea—came tumbling about your twentieth century ears. Gone was the magic world of youth and colour and not a little splendour."

The organisation will come here with the two famous stars, the entire company, and the very complete and gorgeous scenery and costumes seen elsewhere this season.

AT THE ROYAL

"DAYTIME WIVES" OF SPECIAL APPEAL TO ALL WOMANKIND AT ROYAL TO-NIGHT

Once in a blue-moon a photoplay comes along with a tremendous appeal to all ladies of all ages, and such a play is "Daytime Wives," which opens a three-day engagement at the Royal to-day. It tears to shreds the poses and deceits of the jazz-age—it rips to ribbons the pretensions of decadent society—it smashes the hollow superficiality of the jazz babies—the gold diggers; the lounge lizards; the sweet mammas the sharp-shooters and all the rest of the over-sophisticated array of men and women who mock Humanity and make Civilization a sham. It is not a preachment—not a treatise—but a panorama of terrific drama in which Modern woman is brought ruthlessly into the open and revealed in all her glorious strength and weakness. The young stenographer and private secretary has many times been pictured as the home-breaker who, with her deep, subtle manner causes a coldness between a man and his wife, while she calmly pockets the affections of her employer, but it remains for the vital film drama, "Daytime Wives," to give the office girl a square deal. Endless stories have been written showing the office girl as a heartless vampire who makes eyes at her boss and wins him away from the sad-eyed, weeping wife. But nothing much has been said about the earnest, young woman who makes her boss's battles her battles and helps him in his great fight to carve out a living for himself and family. In "Daytime Wives" the private secretary is shown as a beautiful and earnest woman with high ideals, who works zealously and unselfishly for her employer's interests and resists all temptations to become a female lounge lizard and jazz maniac.

"BRIGHT LIGHTS OF BROADWAY" SOON TO HAVE LOCAL SHOWING

Commencing Monday and continuing for three days, the Royal Theatre will present the latest photodrama which has for its theme the struggles and temptations encountered by a young girl who aspires to see her name in electric lights on New York's Great White Way. It is promised by the management that in this production they have an offering far out of the beaten path of pictures of this type. "Bright Lights of Broadway" is its attractive title, and it is the latest B. F. Zeidman production.

Heading what is truly an all-star cast are—Lowell Sherman, Doris Kenyon and Harrison Ford, and other players include Edmund Breese, Tyrone Power, Effie Shannon and Chas. Murray, Special numbers are introduced in the cabaret scenes by the sixteen Tiller Girls from the Ziegfeld "Follies," and the entire Beauty Chorus from the New York Hippodrome. The production has been most lavishly staged by the director, Webster Campbell.

The story opens in the quiet little town of Green Vale, situated in the upper part of New York State, but shortly thereafter the locale is changed to Broadway—cloven in New Yorks heart of stone, bleached by a million lights, and glittering with gold squandered in an endless carnival of joy' And it is against this most colorfu background that the major portion of the tale transpires.

AT THE REGENT

"EAGLE'S FEATHER" HAS NOTABLE CAST

James Kirkwood and Mary Alden to to Play Here in Metro Picture

"The Eagle's Feather," a Metro picturization of the famous story of the same name by Katharine Newlin Burt, will be the feature attraction at the Regent Theatre to-day. The story appeared some time ago in Cosmopolitan magazine.

James Kirkwood and Mary Alden head the cast of well-known players in "The Eagle's Feather." Mr. Kirkwood's role in this picture is his first since his return recently to Hollywood from New York, where his acting in the Broadway success, "The Fool," was sensational.

Others in the cast are Elinor Fair, Lester Cuneo, William Orlamond, John Elliott, Charles McHugh and George Siegmann. Incidentally, Mr. Siegmann portrays the great role of Danton in Rex Ingram's Metro production of "Scaramouche," recently announced as completed.

"The Eagle's Feather" is full of thrilling tense episodes, particularly suitable to the screen, and Edward Sloman, the director, is said to have made the most of them. A great deal of the picture was made in the open in the beautiful valley or the foot of the Sierra Mountains in California, and the picture depicts the noble, austere grandeur of this part of the country which is covered with great cattle ranches.

It is here that Metro Pictures Corporation took over the management of an entire ranch with its several thousand head of cattle in order to film the spectacular stampede—an exciting and tense moment in "The Eagle's Feather."

"The Eagle's Feather was adapted to the screen by Winifred Dunn.

BASEBALL MEETING HOLY NAME ROOMS

The City League Baseball Association will hold an important meeting to-night in the Holy Name Rooms on Simcoe Street at 8 o'clock. All business matters for the year will be brought up and dealt with, and it is hoped that everyone interested in the League will be present. Any person who is thinking of taking over a team and who wants to find out what is required of him or anything else in this line will be gladly told to-night at this meeting. The grounds question will also be brought up, and a committee will be elected to get in touch with the Fair Board in an effort to obtain the Exhibition Grounds for this season.

HUGO STINNES FIGHTS BATTLE FOR HIS LIFE

BERLIN, April 10.—(Canadian Press)—The highest German medical talent is extending itself in desperate efforts to save the life of Hugo Stinnes great industrial magnate and while attending surgeons say he is holding his own, they are none too sanguine over the final outcome of an illness, which thus far has necessitated three major surgical operations.

The magnate's wife, four sons, and three daughters are keeping anxious watch at his bedside, while half a dozen secretaries are near at hand.

Worse This Afternoon

The condition of Hugo Stinnes, Great German Industrialist, was looked upon this afternoon as hopeless as the result of added complications in the nature of double pneumonia. He is said to be resigned to the impending end.

SCHOOL WAS MADE JAZZLESS BY CITY.

All Students Work a Few Hours a Day, Some in the Print Shops and Others on the Farms.

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Ark., April 10—A health resort in summer — "Jazzless" the whole year 'round.

That's the future John E. Brown, evangelist and college president, has mapped out for this Ozark Mountain town.

And since he's brought up three-fourths of it, Brown certainly is in a position to dictate how things ought to be run in Sulphur Springs.

In the deal, Brown acquired three hotels, parks, lakes and springs, business property and residence sites.

Town To Be University

Brown, founder and head of John E. Brown College at Siloam Springs, hear here, will move the university here.

The hotels will provide dormitory and class-room facilities. In summer they will house tourists.

But summer or winter jazz will be taboo. No dancing no card playing no drinking will be tolerated.

There will be band concerts golfing tennis swimming fishing and horse-back riding.

The school while interdenominational and non-sectarian stands uncompromisingly committed to the Bible. All students are required to study it.

None will be permitted to matriculate who can afford to pay even a par of the tuition costs. It's entirely for poor boys and girls.

All Work

All students work for a few hours each day—some in the printshop some on the farms some in the kitchen some in the tailor shops.

The university fulfills an ambition of Brown's early manhood—to give deserving boys and girls opportunity to gain the education he himself was denied.

A score of years ago Brown worked in a limestone quarry at 75 cents a day. He professed religion during a Salvation Army revival.

When the evangelists left he was commissioned to open a mission. Since then he's conducted meetings all over this section.

But all the time he's never lost sight of his early dreams.

To Push Work on Capital Cathedral.

WASHINGTON D. C. April 10—(United Press).—It is announced that work on Washington Cathedral where rests the body of Woodrow Wilson will be pushed this spring and summer. Completed the huge cathedral atop of Mount St. Alban will be 500 feet long and 135 feet wide with the central tower 262 feet high and 644 feet above sea level. Total cost it is now estimated will approximate ten million dollars.

Back in 1907 the foundation stone was laid and eight years later erection of the Apse of the Cathedral was begun Bethlehem Chapel being the first completed portion.

The limestone walls are more than four feet thick the idea of builders being to duplicate the masonry construction of the great Gothic cahtedral of Europe. Thousands of tons of stone have been drawn from the hills of Indiana for use in the vast edifice.

Silkolene sprinkled with a little furniture oil makes an excellent dustless duster, which is also free from lint.

AS MAN SHE FOUGHT FOR IRISH CAUSE

Bit By Bit the Strange Story of Her Past Began to Unravel Itself.

CLEVELAND, April 10—"Frank" O'Brien isn't answering the buzzer in the big ward at Huron Road Hospital any more.

The slender boyish looking orderly is dead.

But "Frank's" secret did not die. Death only revealed it.

"Mr." O'Brien was a girl.

Bit by bit the strange story of her past began to unravel itself.

Irish Soldier

The "Irish Republic" scarcely had come into being when Mary O'Brien, still in her teens, quit her classes in a convent school, shore her tresses, donned male attire and ran off to join the Republican forces.

It was only when she was wounded that her sex was disclosed. She couldn't shoulder a rifle again. But they let her stay as a nurse.

The "Blacks and Tans," though were on her trail. She skipped out for America. In Philadelphia, she found a home at her uncle's house.

But things in the Quaker City were a bit too tame, after the hectic days back on the ould sod. So, still thirsting for adventure, she determined to be a movie actress.

She donned boy's clothes, started for Hollywood, though it was mid-winter. When the train pulled into the yards here, she was nearly frozen.

Landed Man's Job

A little rest would do her good, she thought. She would wait until the weather grew warmer before she resumed her long journey.

She had no trouble in landing an orderly's job at Huron Road Hospital.

One night when she reported for duty, the nurses noticed her face was pale and drawn. The cold she caught on the "blinds" had done its work. She had contracted pneumonia.

Mary lived just three days after that. To the last, she refused to tell the names of any relatives. So they buried her in Potter's Field.

By chance, her uncle, George Moran, learned of her death. He had the body exhumed and sent to Philadelphia.

There the little patriot has found rest at last.

PLAIN PUMPS.

The newest pumps are plain and unobtrusive and very little cut work appears on them.

EXHIBITION TRAIN COMING TOMORROW

Better Live Stock Will Be Shown at Canadian National Open to All.

The Better Live Stock Train which will be brought here to-morrow for the people to examine, and see some of the finer breeds of live stock and products, such as horses, dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep and wool, swine and bacon, poultry and eggs, milk and milk products, and farm water supply. This should be interesting to the farmers and also the city people. The train consists of fourteen cars for the advancement of improved live stock. Each railway is supplying hali the cars, and this exhibition will be open to everybody at the rear of the Grand Trunk depot, at 8 o'clock.

In 1923 ths train made a tour of Canada and carried with it a number of bulls, which were for sale to the visiting farmers. This year it is expected that the farmers will bring enough good bulls to the train at each stopping place for exhibition, so the train will not carry with it any bulls for sale. A demonstration of beef bulls, such as Shorthorns, Aberdeens, Angus and Herefords will be carried.

Dairy breeds of cattle commonly found in this province will be exhibited. Market steers, dairy cows, swine, sheep, poultry and horses will also be exhibited, with lectures on the different stock.

A car comfortably fitted for lecture purposes, in which the lectures will be delivered, will be present.

Lectures on dairying and horses will be given from 9:20 till 10 o'clock and from 2:30 till 3 p.m., on live stock breeding, feeding, management and marketing of stock, from 10.30 till 11:30, and from 3:15 to 4:15, at which the interests of the visitors may best be served.

Such lecturers as Prof. G. E. Day, Guelph, Prof. Wade Toole, O.A.C., A. B. MacDonald, Chief of the Swine Graders in Ontario; J. M. McCallum, Chief of the Markets Division of the Live Stock Branch at Ottawa, and other prominent live stock men, will be present.

GROWTH IN CHINA OUTSTRIPS CANADA.

Hospital Service and Church Membership Are Tabulated.

How vast and active an organization is a foreign mission? This question is often asked by laymen of a business turn of mind, who may wonder whether the Canadian churches are large and strong enough to create and develop a substantial work abroad.

A mission which issues 20,000,000 pages of literature, provides 83,107 days of hospital treatment, enlists 11,282 Bible school students and operates eleven main stations and 100 out-stations is that of the Canadian Methodist Church in Szechwan Province, West China. Its annual report may furnish an answer to the question.

With a ten per cent. increase in membership during the past conference year, West China bids fair to outrival in growth for 1923-24 the Canadian conferences of Methodism.

Reports received from the Mission Council of West China indicate that records have been kept conservatively, the constituency being listed as follows: 2,802 church members, 1,837 catechumens, 3,098 enquirers, 266 baptized non-communicants.

These totals were reached by carefully restricting the numbers listed as in full membership. During the year 245 adults were baptized and 51 infants, thus bringing the numbers of the Christian community up to 8,009 persons.

Church officials consider it would be a phenomenal year, indeed, when a conference in the home church would add one-tenth to its membership. They point out that West China is virgin soil, as there are between twelve and fourteen million non-Christian Chinese in the territory assigned their mission.

Many Canadians There

In the enterprise of leading the 8,009 Chinese as an evangelistic force among these millions there are now engaged 225 Canadians. Of these, 47 are ordained ministers of the Methodist Church, 38 unordained missionaries, mostly doctors and teachers, 17 single women and 81 married women, all under the General Board, and 42 Women's Missionary Society workers.

These, with a large Chinese staff, constitute, it is said, one of the largest single missions operated anywhere by any church. When it is remembered that this spring twenty-five workers are returning to Canada on furlough without dislocating the work, the magnitude of the organization can be imagined.

Possibly, if work in Canada were as thoroughly staffed in proportion to the membership, the results at home would be equally interesting.

Hospital Staffs

On the medical side, for example, 4,212 in-patients and 30,785 out-patients received treatment in the mission year just closed. The thirteen Canadian and five Chinese physicians are supervising the training of fifty-one nurses. In Canada the church has hospitals only among Indians and new Canadians.

So inadequate is the school system of West China that the mission has 126 lower primary schools, with 174 teachers and over 5,000 pupils, of whom 4,044 are from non-Christian homes.

So well developed is the mission that it has three missionaries devoting their time to overseeing the construction of new buildings, two acting as business agents in the purchase and distribution of supplies, and another who acts as a sort of general manager.

Chinese Progressing

Spiritual matters are being more and more entrusted to Chinese leadership. While the missionaries have their council, the Chinese share with them the direction of the West China conference. Of the seventy-seven congregations many are struggling into self-support. Already the Chinese have organized their own missionary society and have two workers among the aborigines in the Tibetan foothills.

The educational system heads up in a fine university, in which the

CHURCHES OF ONTARIO DEFY STATE DICTATION

The Legislative Committee Denies Communions' Existence As a Christian Church.

By FRANK FREEMAN.

The private bills committee of the legislature if the course it has entered upon is pursued will have reopened a fierce feud which for a quarter of a century was waged between forces led by Bishop John Strachan and Egerton Ryerson Dr. Strachan devoted his great gifts to the forcing upon the young religious life of this colony a church polity which he deemed supreme. The fight did not end till that which he strove for was put for ever beyond the reach of possibility.

Now the private bills committee re-opens the issue. But instead of imposing Episcopal polity it desires to force Congregational Independency on the Christian people of the province. Will they fare better than did D. Strachan?

Three communions ask authority to carry with them their material equipment into a united effort, as they have hitherto used it in separated exertions. This is all they ask of the provincial legislature. They have themselves decided on some other things and instead of giving what is asked the legislature threatens to deny them right to do what they have decided on.

The churches declare their purpose to unite together in one church and in that church to maintain their own identity. Such a course has been recognized in the British parliament from whose statutes the very words are taken. The committee here instructs its law clerk to draft amendments to the effect of which will be to destroy their identity; so that instead of one united church there shall be four separate ones.

Denied Unifying Will

The committee clearly denies to these communions any existence as a Christian church. For what is the essence of the church? It has ever been the essential claim of the church that it is an universal society not an aggregation of local groups. It has ever claimed to express not local whims but an eternal will. The committee now decided that there shall in future be no general society and no unifying will—only local preferences and local groups each of whom goes its own way. The church has found fellowship the path to the mind of God; and has achieved that fellowship in deliberative councils. Such fellowship was deemed the means by which to overcome local and personal egoism. No spiritual value was recognized in mere numbers of noses, fingers nor bits of paper. The mind of the spirit was recognized in the mind which was recognized in the mind which was preponderant in a deliberative assembly after exchange of views and comparison of viewpoint. Now this spiritual process is to be set aside, the church is to be shattered into tiny local groups; and separated clusters denied fellowship with each other are to be a law to themselves.

Clearly this means the end of the Christian church. It is at best the establishment boy law of the crude independency of Cromwell's Ironsides—the bitterest foe of Presbyterianism. But now this is to be imposed on us by Presbyterian Ironsides, and by the solid vote of the followers of Bishop Strachan in the legislature. Let Dr. Strachan's episcopal successors take heed of what is happening. It savors little of the Lambeth conference. Even the Congregationalists, who cherish the splendid tradition of the struggle for freedom, now wish to realize richer life through more organic fellowship and yet the legislature insists that they shall be forced back to that which no one wants.

Oversteps Their Rights

Hitherto the state has continuously recognized the organic existence of the church. Ordination of the church guaranteed the clergyman. The procedure of each church as prescribed by its own courts was in no case brought under review. Local groups, ministers or members, had in the eyes of the state only such rights and privileges as were declared and determined by the courts of that church acting according to prescribed procedure. And now all this is to cease. The legislature as voiced by its committee claims competency as an aggregation of persons of all kinds of religion and of no religion to determine for the people of these three large communions how they shall find their own mind and how they shall express it.

Instead of recognizing their right to unite together, the legislature tells these churches that must remain as separated bodies; and that to make up for the loss there shall be a fourth body—the arbitrary creation of the state—which shall be called the United Church. Into this state made church, such local groups as may so decide, may enter. But the three old churches shall remain separated and bereft of the most cherished liberties and means of self realization. One wonders what can have possessed a committee to improvise such a scheme with any idea of it furthering any good end.

Churches Will Not Submit

Will the churches submit? It is safe to say they will not. Will they withdraw the bill? It is safe to say there will be not withdrawal. If the legislature follows the lead of its Mission Boards of five denominations and three countries share responsibility. In West China Union University are now enrolled 68 Methodist students, the product of the eleven higher primary and four middle high schools of the Canadian mission.

The Chinese staff of the Mission numbers 123 workers, not including 75 Chinese physicians and nurses in the eight hospitals.

Sunday Schools under Canadian Methodist auspices in West China number 114, with 611 teachers and 11,282 Chinese pupils.

X-ray examinations in the eight Canadian Methodist hospitals in West China last year numbered 649.

committee and defies the spiritual autonomy of the churches, the arrogance of this obsolete doctrine of state sovereignty will itself be successfully challenged. Indeed the proposed action of its committee is in open defiance of the plainest ruling of the highest constitutional authority in the empire. But that is not my concern. I simply try as a public duty, to make clear, ere too late, what is implied in the hasty action of the private bills committee. Even yet fresh and informed consideration may save the committee form further steps along a road on which there is no thoroughfare.

The federal parliament will be better guided and will, in no case, endorse the hazardous doctrine of the committee in Toronto. And what happens then? The Ontario legislature finds that the rights it so wantonly denied are not in its keeping, but are recognized by the federal statute. Our local selons will then rather belatedly, and with ill grace, do what should have been done with good grace. Why not keep to the proper sphere—determining property rights? No one will complain of judicious action confined to that field. But the present proposals violate all established traditions and seek to establish congregational church polity as the law of the province. Another story will show how these proposals also violate all living doctrine as to the sovereignty of the state.

PRESENT PRINCE GETS NEW TITLE.

The Revival of the Ancient Title, "Prince of Scotland and Wales."

LONDON, April 10 (Associated Press).—Queen Mary, sitting beside the Archbishop of Canterbury in a crowded lecture room at University College, listened with evident pleasure to an eloquent plea for the revival of the ancient title "Prince of Scotland and Wales" for the Prince of Wales. The suggestion was made by Dr. Walter Seton, who was inaugurating a newly instituted lectureship in Scottish history, and was acknowledged by the queen with a smile and a nod to the lecturer.

The speaker pointed out that hia though Bellenden, a well-known Scoot tish historian, applied the title "Prince of Scotland" to the King's eldest son as far back as 1100, it would appear doubtful whether the title existed legally before 1400. "While the prince became Prince of Wales by special creation," he said, "he became Prince of Scotland by right of birth as soon as his father became king."

Dr. Seton suggested that it would create an outburst of loyal enthusiasm in Scotland if, on the occasion of the visits of the prince of Scotland, Scots were permitted to welcome and drink the health of the "Prince of Scotland and Wales," for which the precedent of centuries could be claimed.

APPOINT POUNDMASTER

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., April 10.—(Associated Press).—A poundmaster has been appointed at Trona, a camp in the Mohave desert, to curb the activities of wild burros.

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors provided for the burro pound. They took this action because the burros' partiality for green vegetation had threatened the extinction of flowers and trees in the vicinity of Trona.

An explanation of the presence of large herds of wild burros on the desert is contained in the practice of half a century ago. When a miner "struck it rich," it is said, his faithful burros were given their freedom as their share of the owner's new wealth.

Fire losses in the United States amounted to $410,889,350 in 1922.

EXPLORERS LED BY OLD LEGEND.

A Band of World Adventurers Will Start Next Month Into the Treacherous Jungles of Mexico

By A. H. FREDERICK.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—A treasure-laden city older than the tomb of Tutankhamen—

Jewels, gold, relics in countless mass—

This is the dream which next month will start a band of world-adventurers into the treacherous jungles of Mexico on their quest of Bacis, fabled city of the ancient Aztec.

Leading them is General Melville Boynton, engineer by profession and soldier of fortune by inclination.

Men with whom and against whom he has fought; men who speak as familiarly of outlandish, unheard of places as others do of New York or Philadelphia; men who have made and unmade presidents and emperors; these are the recruits flocking to the general's standard.

High Up in Mountains.

Sure, there will be difficulties, Boynton says.

But where's the fun if there aren't difficulties?

"We have our plans pretty well mapped out, and all we will have to do is stick to them.

"Many people think Bacis is only a legend. But I know differently.

"The Indians, many of them half barbarous, have guarded the secret faithfully. Even the Spaniards, with all their power to make conquered people disgorge, couldn't get the secret of the Aztec city.

"Yet a few white men have seen it. Not many, for it's a rocky and often hostile, country you have to pass through to get there.

"The ones who have, describe it as a city on a high cliff up in the fastnesses of the Sierra Madras Mountains.

"A little stream runs through it, and dawn int,, the Indian settlements below.

Co-Operative Affair.

"Down this occasionally floats handiwork intricately carved, memento of a civilization old when present civilizations were yet in swaddling clothes."

From previous contact with the Indian tribes, Boynton has heard stories which have convinced him Bacis is within 200 miles of Culiacan. The expedition will make its headquarters there, working out into the surrounding country.

It will be a co-operative affair, each member sharing the expense. "Prize" money will be divided equally if the treasure is unearthed.

Added impetus is lent by the fact the general already has achieved success in treasure hunting.

Fought All Over World.

"That was in Peru in 1901," he reminisces. "We discovered the 'Temple of the Sun' on the Moche River.

"We got pottery and other antiques which we sold for $25,000. That meant a return of about 15 to 1 for every dollar we had invested."

The general is a veteran of more than a battles. His field service with and Central America like a geography.

He has made and unmade presidents, fought for the emperor of Brazil, narrowly escaping with his life when the imperial army met defeat, and aided Gomez in Cuba, and served all over the eastern hemisphere during the World War.

Brazil, Chile, Venezuela, Peru, Colombia, Mexico, Honduras and Nicaragua—all have seen him at the head of troops.

In the interim he fought with the Japanese against the Russians and became military adviser to Madero in the revolt against President Diaz of Mexico.

The regular Euchre party under the auspices of the Sons of England which was to be held on Friday, April 11th will be postponed till a future date. 1d 87 1454

GALLERY CROWDED WHEN ROBB PRESENTED FIRST BUDGET TO PARLIAMENT

Estimated Expenditure on Ordinary Accounts is $4,000,000 Under Last Year--Surplus Revenue Over Ordinary Expenditure of $67,750,000 Available For Other Obligations.

OUTLOOK OPTIMISTIC

OTTAWA, April 10.—(Canadian Press.)— When Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, rose in the House this afternoon to present his budget, all the galleries were packed. No financial document in recent years has been awaited with so much eagerness. For the financial situation Mr. Robb had words of optimism. For the fiscal year 1922-23, Mr. Robb gave the increase of the net public debt as $31,641,067.

In the fiscal year which closed on March 31 last Mr. Robb estimated there had been a reduction in the public debt of $30,409,109.

Following a brief review of the financial year 1922-23, Mr. Robb turned to the fiscal year which closed at the end of March.

The estimated revenue from customs duties would, he said, be $121,800,000, an increase of $3,700,000 over the previous year. From excise duties, there were expected $38,200,000, an increase of about $2,500,000," Mr. Robb continued. The estimated revenue from excise taxes will be $121,000,000, an increase of about $14,500,000. From income taxes we estimate $53,750,000, a decrease of about $6,000,000 under the previous year. From delayed business profits taxes we will receive some $4,650,000, a decrease of $8,381,000. We estimate the revenue from interest on investment of $11,700,000, being a decrease of about $4,700,000, which is accounted for by a reduction in 1922 of some $56,000,000 in the indebtedness of the Imperial Government to Canada.

Surplus of $67,750,000.

Turning now to expenditures it is estimated that when all accounts are closed the expenditure for the year on ordinary accounts will be $328,250,000, a decrease under the previous year of $4,000,000.

Taking the estimated revenue for the year ended March 31, 1924, as $396,000,000 and expenditure chargeable to consolidated fund as $328,250,000, there will be a surplus of revenue over ordinary expenditures of $67,750,000 available for capital special and other obligations.

Reduction in taxation announced by Finance Minister.

Canadian Stock Exchange and Mines | New York Stock Exchange and Curb Prices

TO-DAY'S QUOTATIONS AND OPINION AND REVIEWS OF THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Opinions, Goadby and Co. While the present short interest may be more widely distributed than ever before it is not certain that it is easily dislodged. Some of those short of some stocks and long of others and both have usually good. We expect the bears to hold their position because we think the industrials are running in their favor.

Hornblower and Weeks

We do not expect last week's high prices to be equalled and we think the decline till the middle of the month will be quite severe.

Therefore, if you are holding long stocks and furnishing additional margin we would advise selling on any celebration incident to the Dawes report.

Mining Stocks

The volume this morning on the mining market was greatly restricted ove, that of yesterday and the prices were inclined to yield a little from the highs of yesterday afternoon. The bulk of the trading was in Teck Hughes and Keeley.

The Toronto and Montreal boards were again heavy this morning the papers being weak on the published report of a cut in the price of newsprint. Such action will not take place however until next month when the prices for contract paper is settled.

KNIFE APPLIED TO POLICE ESTIMATES

Windsor Police Force Under Chief Dan Thompson Trimmed by $6,000.

WINDSOR, April 10. — The city council applied the knife freely to the estimates submitted to it for this year and in addition to referring back the technical school board's budget for reconsideration chopped $6000 from the police estimates. Both of these departments had submitted estimates in excess of the 1923 expenditures.

Among other things, the use of 159 electric light bulbs in the police station during the fear was criticized as an extravagance by Mayor Mitchell.

Windsor, it was said, is one of the best policed cities in the world, having 55 men on the force, or one for every 900 citizens. This year an application for three extra men was presented to the council but will not likely be adopted considering the cutting off of $6000.

The following is a comparative statement of expenditures for the past nine years;

Year.	Estimates	Receipts from fines.
1916	$28,580.00	$ 8,433.00
1917	36,400.00	22,743.99

Mrs. George Parkins of Toronto, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Palin, St. Catharines, Ont., announce the engagement of their second eldest daughter, Doris May, to Mr. Robert H. Pilling, of this city. The marriage to take place quietly this month.

The friends of Hughson Coon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Coon, Gilmour street, who has been attending Toronto University, and who has been confined in the Isolation Hospital, Toronto, for some time, after contracting scarlet fever, will regret to learn that his present condition is very grave. The young man, when recovering from the fever was vaccinated for smallpox and became seriously ill. Mr. and Mrs. Coon are in Toronto.

After the final performance of "Melange" by the Little Theatre Club, before a third large audience at the Capitol Theatre last night, the Women's Art Association, through the kindness of Manager Kennedy, entertained the players, their friends and the Capitol executive staff, in the theatre's pretty upper lounge, where refreshments were served. The president of the Association, Mrs. F. C. Neal, the convenors of the Social Committee, Mrs. H. Morphet and Mrs. E. W. Borbridge, and Madame Masson, had charge of arrangements. Later, the young people danced on the stage for an hour. Contributions to the evening's jolly programme, which concluded in pleasant fashion a very succesful three-day entertainment by the Little Theatre Club, under direction of Mrs. W. McKee Bingham, were several charming songs by Miss Mathilde Masson, and the reading of some clever verses on the play written by Mr. J. M. Gaiger. At the close of the performance last evening, the ladies in the cast and the author received pretty bouquets.

Miss Clara Conners of Peterboro, spent the week-end, with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Forrest, Campbellford.

Local Rotarians, with their wives who attended the District Conference of Rotarians in Buffalo this week, and returned home to-day, included Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Widdess, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Macdonald, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McDermid. Others who attended the conference were Messrs. R. G. Kingan, T. N. D. Kelly, J. F. Linton, R. A. Brown and L. Potvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Webber Turner returned home to-day, after accompanying the local Rotarians to the District Conference at Buffalo, N.Y.

MANY BLIND NEAR PETERBOROUGH

Those who will be asked to contribute to the funds on Saturday, when the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will hold a tag day, probably do not realize that Peterborough has many blind people in its vicinity. At present, there are about twenty five sightless people here, from youthful men and women to one old man of seventy-eight years, who go about their daily round in total, or semi-total darkness. For them the spring green has no particular meaning, nor the russet tints of autumn or winter's frosty brilliance. Except for the training of the remaining four senses, to enable them to enjoy life somewhat, they would be helpless indeed. To bring a message of cheer and relief to darkened lives, the Institute labors unceasingly. One local case is sometimes referred to, in the man who was stricken with blindness after his first youth was passed. Despairing and hopeless, he lay for weeks, speechless and dull, unwilling to attempt the slightest task, probably praying for death. Through the tuition of the Institute and its earnest teachers, he has achieved talents with his skillful fingers that make him a cheerful and valued member of society.

Miss Ethel Stevens, Mark street, is the teacher employed by the Institute in this district. She is one of the many instructors who train swift fingers to sew and do pretty reed and cane work, and teach them to decipher the heavy braille letters, that bring messages of hope and comfort to weary brains.

BABY CARRIAGES LOSE POPULARITY

Comparative Statement Shows Fewer Handled by Railroads in 1923.

MONTREAL, April 10. — (Special.)—It is gathered from the comparative statement issued yesterday by the Canadian Pacific Mail, Baggage and Milk Traffic Department that neither baby carriages nor bicycles are as popular as they were a year ago. In 1922 this department handled 23,988 of the former against 21,623 last year, and the same years 9,697 bicycles as compared with 8,652. These are the only two articles, the movement of which has not increased since 1922. Over one thousand more pet dogs for instance, were transported as baggage in 1923 and 1922, last year's total amounting to 20,651.

POLICEMEN ARE ARMED TO QUELL STRIKE RIOTS

MAY EXEMPT UTILITIES WHEN BUILDINGS OWNED

TORONTO, April 10. — (Canadian Press) —The Municipal committee of the Legislature this morning approved a bill which allows the municipality to exempt from taxation buildings occupied by public utilities only when the said buildings are also owned by the utilities. Another clause of the same bill gives municipalities the right to regulate and control tents pitched on areas abutting on public highways. A clause that the Canadian National Express should be subject to business taxation the same as the Dominion Express Company was left over for the Assessment Act committee to deal with.

FEDERAL BUDGET CUTS DUTIES ON RAW MATERIALS AND PRODUCTS OF FACTORIES AND LIFTS TAX ON FOOD

Canada's Net Debt Lowered Thirty Millions Last Year—Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, Submits Government's Policy Designed to Stimulate Primary Industries of Farm and Mine and Forest.

Summary of Changes.

OTTAWA, April 11. — Reduction of Canada's net debt by $30,409,109.37 was the impressive estimate announced by Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, in presenting the Government's budget to the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. It was also emphasized that the Canadian people would be relieved of customs and sales taxes to the estimated amount of $24,000,000.

These were the outstanding features of the budget, together with the acceptable announcement that the general rate of the sales tax is reduced from 6 to 5 per cent.

Agriculture Paramount.

"Whatever division of opinion Canadians may have," said Hon. Mr. Robb, "surely we have a united confidence in the future of our country. We have great natural resources. We have certain basic industries, upon the success of which depend the growth of all other industries, and the greater development of our trade. I would place agriculture, in all its varied branches, first. Next to agriculture, I would place our forests, our minerals and our fisheries. A real national policy is a policy that will encourage the growth and the development of these basic industries. The more of the products of the farm, the fisheries, the mines and the forest we have going to market, the greater will be the earnings of our transportation companies—the greater the purchasing power of the nation and as a consequence we will have factories running full time and tradesmen working over time to supply the needs of those who will have money ot buy. In that belief, sir, we submit to-day proposals to lighten the burden of taxation on those primary, basic industries. Our budget shows a reduction in debt of $30,000,000 last year, and a reduction in taxation of $24,000,000 this year. It is confidently expected that this reduction will give such impetus to trade that it will result in greater development and prosperity to all the provinces of Canada."

Adjourned to Monday.

Sir Henry Drayton, in moving the adjournment of the debate until Monday to give the members time to consider the proposals, said that the House expected a number of things not included in the budget speech. He complimented highly the acting Minister of Finance on the "splendid and complete way that he had discharged his duties." Mr. Robb had made the "best out of an impossible job." He had been compelled to bring down figures which showed a surplus arrived at by "elimination of obligations." Sir Henry spoke of railway obligations ignored.

Before proceeding with the debate Sir Henry said it was necessary to consider a number of things not included in the budget speech. There was nothing to stem the exodus of Citizens educated in Canada, who to the number of 181,000, went to the United States last year looking for the work that they could not find in Canada.

There was nothing constructive to restore to Canadians the purchasing power of their dollar.

There was nothing to indicate a change in the policy of this government which, whether they had meant it or not, had served more to build up the United States than to build up Canada.

The House might have expected some measures to improve the lot of the farmer, to restore to him his natural market to the south, to equalize the trade in farm products, such as eggs, cheese, etc, which now was so uneven. Several million dollars worth of United States eggs were sold in Canada last year, while less than $50,000 worth were exported to that country.

C. N. R. Operating Loss.

Sir Henry Drayton read answers made by the Department of Railways to questions regarding the earnings and operating expenses of the Canadian National Railways. Last year the earnings of the western provinces had been $72,000,000 and the operating expenses $74,000,000. The railway book showed a loss of $2,000,000 from the operations in Western Canada after the movement of the greatest wheat crop Canada has ever had. In Ontario and Quebec the earnings of the Canadian National for 1923 were $127,900,000, and the operating expenses for the same period $109,200,000, showing credit of more than $18,000,000. Sir Henry then moved the adjournment of the debate on the Budget until Monday.

The Prime Minister said that the Government had hoped to proceed at once with the debate.

He had however no objections and moved that the House go into committee to consider the resolution in regard to branch lines.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen said that the opposition had always been conceded a request to adjourn the Budget debate over the week-end following the Budget speech.

The Prime Minister replied that it had been the hope of the Government to get on speedily with the business before the Hous.

The Budget debate was then adjourned until Monday and the House of Commons went into committee to consider branch lines resolutions.

The Public Debt

"On the 31st of March, 1923, our net public debt stood at $2,453,776,868.74," said Hon. Mr. Robb in his address. 'Our estimated ordinary revenue for the year just closed is $396,000,000. Our estimated ordinary expenditures of $328,250,000 and capital expenditures $12,170,000; special expenditures, $8,390,000; railway loans, $23,781,664; Canadian government Merchant Marine loans, $1,500,000, and loans to Quebec harbor commission, which is treated as a non-active asset, $500,000, together with an amount of $621,987 carried on the books of the department for Victoria Ship Owners, Limited, which it is proposed to treat as a non-active asset in the place of an non-active

UNITY IS TASK OF MUSSOLINI

The Italian Premier Must Pacify Factions and Restore Normal Political Order--Opposition Numbers Seventy.

ROME, April 11.— With the return to Rome of Premier Mussolini, the most urgent task facing the Government, now that victory is assured it by the Parliamentary elections, is the necessity to pacify all the various political factions and bring about a return of the normal order which the Fascisti revolution upset.

How essential this is seems to be proved by the fact that the principal newspapers, whether supporting the Government or opposing it, are calling for a cessation of the acts of violence which have been rampant throughout the country. The recent outbursts, especially in the Milan region, are generally deplored.

Dealing with the elections, the Giornale D'Italia says that Premier Mussolini was somewhat irritated by the some 3,500,000 votes polled by the minority parties, as against the 4,500,000 polled by the Fascisti.

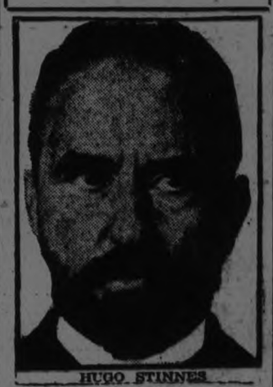
With regard to the attitude of the minority groups in the new chamber the three Socialist-Communist groups, together with the Republicans, will form a bloc of seventy deputies of the extreme Left, openly hostile to the Government. The followers of former Premier Giolitti are not expected to join the opposition, but to maintain a reserved attitude and generally to favor a return of normal government. The uncertain element is the Catholics, the second strongest party in the chamber. This party, as previously, is made up of elements having both conciliatory and uncompromising attitudes towards the Government.

Once Wife of Archduke, Woman Dies in Poverty.

SCHREIBERHAU, Germany, April 11. — (Associated Press). — Death recently brought peace to a woman in the Schreiberhau hospital who was once the wife of Leopold Woefling, an Archduke of Austria, who became a variety performer after royalty crashed in that country.

Marie Ritter was the woman's maiden name. She was the daughter of a peasant and was serving as a maid in Berlin when Woefling married her in 1907, after divorcing his first wife. The second marriage soon terminated. The abandoned wife was left penniless and was buried by friends who had known her before her marriage.

Fallen Giant



HUGO STINNES

STINNES DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Powerful German Capitalist Succumbs to Pulmonary Attack With Other Diseases That Had Weakened Him — Controlled Many Industries.

BERLIN, April 11. — Hugo Stinnes, leading German industrialist and financier, died here yesterday of a complication of diseases, intensified by double pneumonia.

Loss to Germany.

The death of Hugo Stinnes at the very moment the process of disentangling the reparations knot seems about to enter upon its final stage is felt in official quarters and industrial circles as a distinct loss to Germany. Whatever the popular or official attitude towards his political orientation or his far-flung economic programme may have been, there was a widespread impression that Stinnes was pre-eminently qualified to take an active part in the final adjustment of the problems of which the expert committees have rendered an exhaustive verdict.

Herr Stinnes of his own volition and partly at the urging of friends, persistently refused to enter into public discussion of the reparation problems or the French occupation of the Ruhr. He preferred to hold himself in readiness until the moment for ultimate action had arrived .Even during his four years' incumbency of a seat in the Reichstag he declined to participate in its debates, and only once during the period he was a member of the economic parliament did the official minutes of that body contain a report of his utterances. That was when he unfolded his programme calling for "more production," and abolition of the eight hour day law, of which he was the unrelenting foe.

Worked 16 Hours Daily.

His own working day averaged sixteen hours, and he was uncompromising in declaring that a uniferm eight hour day was viciously inimical to Germany's economic recovery.

The great German industrialist began his career as a young man in his father's coal mine at Meulheim, where he worked with pick and shovel shoulder to shoulder with veteran miners.

To his associates and business acquaintances Stinnes was anything but a man whom popular legend portrayed as an octopus with widely ramifying tentacles clutching madly at smokestacks, buzzing dynamos, ocean liners, hotel properties and newspaper plants.

Controlled Banks.

His invasion of the financial world was of recent occurrence, and is believed to have been actuated by a desire to command closer approach to the money markets. He held the controlling stock in several large Berlin and Rhineland banks. The administration of his diverging interests will devolve upon his sons. Edmund and Hugo, Jr., the latter at present in charge of his father's shipping interests in Hamburg. Edmund, who is the oldest son, is resident General Director in Berlin of the Stinnes interests located there.

Both sons are said to be "prematurely old," due to the Spartan-like business training to which they were subjected by their father, and the fact that they for the past five years have been constantly thrown in the company of men considerably their seniors.

Family Life Simple.

Herr Stinnes' family was one of domestic felicity and simplicity, and although he was much on trains, travelling back and forth, he invariably timed his business trips so that his week-ends could be devoted to his family. Only with difficulty would he be dragged from his daily routine long enough to attend the theatre, and there is a story to the effect that he would invariably instruct hi swife to select a house which had comfortable seats. Just as soon as the lights were dimmed he would take a nap, which continued throughout the performance. Upon his return home he would inquire of his wife just what kind of a show he had attended.

SOVIET MISSION MEETS BRITISH IN CONFERENCE

Sessions Open Monday For Settlement of Differences Between Britain and Bolsheviki — Debts and Old Treaties Will Be Discussed In Secret.

MAY LAST MONTHS.

LONDON, April 11. — The Anglo-Russian conference for the settlement of the remaining idfferences between Great Britain an the Russian Soviet government, will be formally opened at the Foreign office on Monday, when Prime Minister MacDonald will welcome the Russian delegation, headed by Christian Radovsky, and Professor Preobraschenski, which arrived in London last night. The session will not be public, but the opening speeches by the Prime Minister and M. Rakovsky will be printed and the daily programme of the session will probably be communicated to the press.

M. Rakovsky, who heads the political side of the mission, yesterday morning held an informal meeting with his colleagues and later called at the Foreign Office to make final arrangements for the opening of the conference, which the officials say, is certain to continue for weeks and perhaps for months. Both M. Rakovsky and British officials expressed the hope that no difficulties would arise to hinder a speedy settlement.

French Stay Out.

British officials planning the conference agenda, denied the possibility of French participation in the forthcoming sessions as it has been indicated might be desired by Premier Poincare.

The questions at issue are solely Anglo-Russian problems concerning its debts, the revision of old treaties and the exact meaning of Great Britain's recognition, accorded the Moscow regime as soon as Premier MacDonald took over the reins of government in Downing street.

The British negotiators will be careful, it is explained, not to take any steps which might be injurious to French interests in Russia, but no question of inviting French delegates has arisen or is likely to arise.

BROKEN HOMES BREED CRIME

R. L. Calder, Crown Prosecutor, Montreal, Attributes Moral Delinquency of Children to Separation of Parents Without Divorce.

MONTREAL, April 11.—Declaring it as his belief that the ninety per cent. of boy thieves and fallen girls came from families in which parents had been legally separated without the possibility of re-marriage, F. L. Calder, K.C., Crown Prosecutor, addressing the Lions' Club here yesterday, announced himself in favor of divorce instead of legal separation for those parties who were unhappily married.

At the present time, said Mr. Calder, there was supposed to be no divorce in the Province of Quebec, but people of means were able to get special dispensations through the Canadian Senate. Any law which extended relief to one class and refused it to another was a bad law, said the Crown Prosecutor.

Mr. Calder expressed the opinion that there would be no great rush for divorces if courts for the purpose were instituted. He pointed to England as an example, where, he said, the ratio of divorces to population was no greater than that of separations in this province.

Edna Wants Her Freedom

Edna May, former actress, has instituted divorce proceedings in Los Angeles against her husband, Art Acord, movie cowboy. Instead of punching cows, Art's been punching her, she charges. And he's utterly disregarded the Volstead Act, Edna insists as well as paying too much attention to a certain movie actress.

PROVINCE PAYS HALF COST OF RURAL HYDRO TRANSMISSION LINES

Second Reading of Bill That Is Expected to Conduce to More Attractive Farm Conditions—Policy to Subsidize Rural Power Lines First Proposed By Sir James Whitney.

Doherty Credits Drury.

TORONTO, April 11 (Canadian Press). — During the debate on a Bill providing for subsidising primary and secondary rural Hydro transmission lines to the extent of 50 per cent. of their cost, there were several clashes between Premier Ferguson and the Hon. Manning Doherty in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Hon. J. R. Cooke, who introduced the Bill, stated that the Drury Government had been reluctant to bonus rural lines, and the statement brought a protest from Mr. Doherty. He wanted to ask a question, but the Prime Minister objected to his making a statement while asking the question.

"I'll ask it as I see fit," said Mr. Doherty.

"No you won't," replied the Premier.

The Speaker said Mr. Doherty must simply ask a question and not make a speech until his turn came.

"I wont' be dictated to by the Premier," said the Hon. Mr. Doherty, amid shouts of order.

Broached by Whitney.

Mr. Doherty asked Sir Adam Beck if Mr. Drury had not made the first suggestion to him about subsidising rural lines.

Sir Adam replied that the first suggestion had come from Sir James Whitney. Asked why it had not been done before last year, Sir Adam replied that the war had interfered with the suggested programme.

Mr. Cooke said that the more general distribution of electrical energy in rural Ontario would be the greatest single factor in keeping people contented with farm life. Electrical power itself was not expensive, but the cost of distribution was very

Extra Salary For Liberal Leader

TORONTO, April 11.—A bill was introduced in the Legislature yesterday afternoon which will enable W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal leader, to get extra salary as an opposition leader.

The old law stated that a man must be leader of a group of 15 members or over before was entitled to extra money. The Liberal party in the Legislature has only 14 members. The bill yesterday stated that a leader of ten or more members shall be entitled to $1,500 over and above his sessional indemnity. Hon. Manning Doherty qualified under the old law as his group has nineteen members. The bill was given first reading.

MANUFACTURERS COMMITTEE HAS POWER PROBLEM

Manufacturers Committee Met Last Night to Discuss Issue Raised by Ald. J. W. Meyers Concerning Milling Company.

THE COST OF POWER

That the Campbell Flour Mills Company used $15,000 worth of electric power for which they did not pay over a period of three years was the charge made by Alderman J.W. Meyers at a meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee last night.

The charge arose out of the figures obtained from a report by W. R. Morris, F.C.A., on his audit of the power accounts of the Campbell Flour Mills and the Peterborough Cereal Co.

Alderman Meyers intimated that he would be satisfied if the $15,000 due for power was paid, providing the company was shown to be innocent, but added: "If anyone in the head office knows about this he should pay the penalty."

The power matter was the last on the agenda and occupied over an hour in what was at times a heated discussion. The committee was unanimous in saying Alderman Meyer's attitude was one of absolute unselfishness, and that only the highest motives of public service could have driven him into the denunciation which had called down insults on him and caused him so much work.

Serious Wrong.

Alderman Meyers opened the discussion by refuting the assertion that he had alleged discrimination between the two milling companies. "No one ever heard me say there was discrimination, but what I did say two years ago was there was something seriously wrong with the Campbell Milling Co. account and I still maintain the same thing.

"For the last three months of 1918 and in 1919 the Campbell Milling Company were on a flat rate, and on the last month paid $416.83. Then the meter was installed and the power bill immediately dropped to $230.44."

During this period, Alderman Meyers said they ran the mill at 760-barrel capacity, and their grinders ran outside for which they used 200 horsepower. Douglas Campbell informed him as to the mill's capacity, Mr. Meyers said.

"A 750-barrel mill, if equipped with the finest roller bearings, will take 250 horsenower. The peak load would never be less than 250, and they would have to pay for the grinder and chopper outside. Then if they ran the mill they would have to pay for the electricity they used.

Here we see the highest peak load during the year 1919 was 162 horsepower.

In 1920 they ran very much the same. The highest peak load for the year was 193 horse-power and the lowest was 145 horse-power.

In 1921 the highest peak load was 172 horse-power and the lowest 145 horse-power.

FEDERAL BUDGET CUTS DUTIES ON RAW MATERIALS AND PRODUCTS OF FACTORIES AND LIFTS TAX ON FOOD

Canada's Net Debt Lowered Thirty Millions Last Year—Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, Submits Government's Policy Designed to Stimulate Primary Industries of Farm and Mine and Forest.

Summary of Changes.

OTTAWA, April 11. — Reduction of Canada's net debt by $30,409,109.37 was the impressive estimate announced by Hon. J. A. Robb, Acting Minister of Finance, in presenting the Government's budget to the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. It was also emphasized that the Canadian people would be relieved of customs and sales taxes to the estimated amount of $24,000,000.

These were the outstanding features of the budget, together with the acceptable announcement that the general rate of the sales tax is reduced from 6 to 5 per cent.

Agriculture Paramount.

"Whatever division of opinion Canadians may have," said Hon. Mr. Robb, "surely we have a united confidence in the future of our country. We have great natural resources. We have certain basic industries, upon the success of which depend the growth of all other industries, and the greater development of our trade. I would place agriculture, in all its varied branches, first. Next to agriculture, I would place our forests, our minerals and our fisheries. A real national policy is a policy that will encourage the growth and the development of these basic industries. The more of the products of the farm, the fisheries, the mines and the forest we have going to market, the greater will be the earnings of our transportation companies—the greater the purchasing power of the nation and as a consequence we will have factories running full time and tradesmen working over time to supply the needs of those who will have money ot buy. In that belief, sir, we submit to-day proposals to lighten the burden of taxation on those primary, basic industries. Our budget shows a reduction in debt of $30,000,000 last year, and a reduction in taxation of $24,000,000 this year. It is confidently expected that this reduction will give such impetus to trade that it will result in greater development and prosperity to all the provinces of Canada."

Adjourned to Monday.

Sir Henry Drayton, in moving the adjournment of the debate until Monday to give the members time to consider the proposals, said that the House expected a number of things not included in the budget speech. He complimented highly the acting Minister of Finance on the "splendid and complete way that he had discharged his duties." Mr. Robb had made the "best out of an impossible job." He had been compelled to bring down figures which showed a surplus arrived at by "elimination of obligations." Sir Henry spoke of railway obligations ignored.

Before proceeding with the debate Sir Henry said it was necessary to consider a number of things not included in the budget speech. There was nothing to stem the exodus of Citizens educated in Canada, who to the number of 181,000, went to the United States last year looking for the work that they could not find in Canada.

There was nothing constructive to restore to Canadians the purchasing power of their dollar.

There was nothing to indicate a change in the policy of this government which, whether they had meant it or not, had served more to build up the United States than to build up Canada.

The House might have expected some measures to improve the lot of the farmer, to restore to him his natural market to the south, to equalize the trade in farm products, such as eggs, cheese, etc, which now was so uneven. Several million dollars worth of United States eggs were sold in Canada last year, while less than $50,000 worth were exported to that country.

C. N. R. Operating Loss.

Sir Henry Drayton read answers made by the Department of Railways to questions regarding the earnings and operating expenses of the Canadian National Railways. Last year the earnings of the western provinces had been $72,000,000 and the operating expenses $74,000,000. The railway book showed a loss of $2,000,000 from the operations in Western Canada after the movement of the greatest wheat crop Canada has ever had. In Ontario and Quebec the earnings of the Canadian National for 1923 were $127,900,000, and the operating expenses for the same period $109,200,000, showing credit of more than $18,000,000. Sir Henry then moved the adjournment of the debate on the Budget until Monday.

The Prime Minister said that the Government had hoped to proceed at once with the debate.

He had however no objections and moved that the House go into committee to consider the resolution in regard to branch lines.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen said that the opposition had always been conceded a request to adjourn the Budget debate over the week-end following the Budget speech.

The Prime Minister replied that it had been the hope of the Government to get on speedily with the business before the Hous.

The Budget debate was then adjourned until Monday and the House of Commons went into committee to consider branch lines resolutions.

The Public Debt

"On the 31st of March, 1923, our net public debt stood at $2,453,776,868.74," said Hon. Mr. Robb in his address. 'Our estimated ordinary revenue for the year just closed is $396,000,000. Herr Stinnes' family was one of domestic felicity and simplicity, and although he was much on trains, travelling back and forth, he invariably timed his business trips so that his week-ends could be devoted to his family. Only with difficulty would he be dragged from his daily routine long enough to attend the theatre, and there is a story to the effect that he would invariably instruct hi swife to select a house which had comfortable seats. Just as soon as the lights were dimmed he would take a nap, which continued throughout the performance. Upon his return home he would inquire of his wife just what kind of a show he had attended.

SOVIET MISSION MEETS BRITISH IN CONFERENCE

Sessions Open Monday For Settlement of Differences Between Britain and Bolsheviki — Debts and Old Treaties Will Be Discussed In Secret.

MAY LAST MONTHS.

LONDON, April 11. — The Anglo-Russian conference for the settlement of the remaining idfferences between Great Britain an the Russian Soviet government, will be formally opened at the Foreign office on Monday, when Prime Minister MacDonald will welcome the Russian delegation, headed by Christian Radovsky, and Professor Preobraschenski, which arrived in London last night. The session will not be public, but the opening speeches by the Prime Minister and M. Rakovsky will be printed and the daily programme of the session will probably be communicated to the press.

M. Rakovsky, who heads the political side of the mission, yesterday morning held an informal meeting with his colleagues and later called at the Foreign Office to make final arrangements for the opening of the conference, which the officials say, is certain to continue for weeks and perhaps for months. Both M. Rakovsky and British officials expressed the hope that no difficulties would arise to hinder a speedy settlement.

French Stay Out.

British officials planning the conference agenda, denied the possibility of French participation in the forthcoming sessions as it has been indicated might be desired by Premier Poincare.

The questions at issue are solely Anglo-Russian problems concerning its debts, the revision of old treaties and the exact meaning of Great Britain's recognition, accorded the Moscow regime as soon as Premier MacDonald took over the reins of government in Downing street.

The British negotiators will be careful, it is explained, not to take any steps which might be injurious to French interests in Russia, but no question of inviting French delegates has arisen or is likely to arise.

BROKEN HOMES BREED CRIME

R. L. Calder, Crown Prosecutor, Montreal, Attributes Moral Delinquency of Children to Separation of Parents Without Divorce.

MONTREAL, April 11.—Declaring it as his belief that the ninety per cent. of boy thieves and fallen girls came from families in which parents had been legally separated without the possibility of re-marriage, F. L. Calder, K.C., Crown Prosecutor, addressing the Lions' Club here yesterday, announced himself in favor of divorce instead of legal separation for those parties who were unhappily married.

At the present time, said Mr. Calder, there was supposed to be no divorce in the Province of Quebec, but people of means were able to get special dispensations through the Canadian Senate. Any law which extended relief to one class and refused it to another was a bad law, said the Crown Prosecutor.

Mr. Calder expressed the opinion that there would be no great rush for divorces if courts for the purpose were instituted. He pointed to England as an example, where, he said, the ratio of divorces to population was no greater than that of separations in this province.

Edna Wants Her Freedom

Edna May, former actress, has instituted divorce proceedings in Los Angeles against her husband, Art Acord, movie cowboy. Instead of punching cows, Art's been punching her, she charges. And he's utterly disregarded the Volstead Act, Edna insists as well as paying too much attention to a certain movie actress.

PROVINCE PAYS HALF COST OF RURAL HYDRO TRANSMISSION LINES

Second Reading of Bill That Is Expected to Conduce to More Attractive Farm Conditions—Policy to Subsidize Rural Power Lines First Proposed By Sir James Whitney.

Doherty Credits Drury.

TORONTO, April 11 (Canadian Press). — During the debate on a Bill providing for subsidising primary and secondary rural Hydro transmission lines to the extent of 50 per cent. of their cost, there were several clashes between Premier Ferguson and the Hon. Manning Doherty in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Hon. J. R. Cooke, who introduced the Bill, stated that the Drury Government had been reluctant to bonus rural lines, and the statement brought a protest from Mr. Doherty. He wanted to ask a question, but the Prime Minister objected to his making a statement while asking the question.

"I'll ask it as I see fit," said Mr. Doherty.

"No you won't," replied the Premier.

The Speaker said Mr. Doherty must simply ask a question and not make a speech until his turn came.

"I wont' be dictated to by the Premier," said the Hon. Mr. Doherty, amid shouts of order.

Broached by Whitney.

Mr. Doherty asked Sir Adam Beck if Mr. Drury had not made the first suggestion to him about subsidising rural lines.

Sir Adam replied that the first suggestion had come from Sir James Whitney. Asked why it had not been done before last year, Sir Adam replied that the war had interfered with the suggested programme.

Mr. Cooke said that the more general distribution of electrical energy in rural Ontario would be the greatest single factor in keeping people contented with farm life. Electrical power itself was not expensive, but the cost of distribution was very

TORONTO, April 11.—A bill was introduced in the Legislature yesterday afternoon which will enable W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal leader, to get extra salary as an opposition leader.

The old law stated that a man must be leader of a group of 15 members or over before was entitled to extra money. The Liberal party in the Legislature has only 14 members. The bill yesterday stated that a leader of ten or more members shall be entitled to $1,500 over and above his sessional indemnity. Hon. Manning Doherty qualified under the old law as his group has nineteen members. The bill was given first reading.

MANUFACTURERS COMMITTEE HAS POWER PROBLEM

Manufacturers Committee Met Last Night to Discuss Issue Raised by Ald. J. W. Meyers Concerning Milling Company.

THE COST OF POWER

That the Campbell Flour Mills Company used $15,000 worth of electric power for which they did not pay over a period of three years was the charge made by Alderman J.W. Meyers at a meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee last night.

The charge arose out of the figures obtained from a report by W. R. Morris, F.C.A., on his audit of the power accounts of the Campbell Flour Mills and the Peterborough Cereal Co.

Alderman Meyers intimated that he would be satisfied if the $15,000 due for power was paid, providing the company was shown to be innocent, but added: "If anyone in the head office knows about this he should pay the penalty."

The power matter was the last on the agenda and occupied over an hour in what was at times a heated discussion. The committee was unanimous in saying Alderman Meyer's attitude was one of absolute unselfishness, and that only the highest motives of public service could have driven him into the denunciation which had called down insults on him and caused him so much work.

Serious Wrong.

Alderman Meyers opened the discussion by refuting the assertion that he had alleged discrimination between the two milling companies. "No one ever heard me say there was discrimination, but what I did say two years ago was there was something seriously wrong with the Campbell Milling Co. account and I still maintain the same thing.

"For the last three months of 1918 and in 1919 the Campbell Milling Company were on a flat rate, and on the last month paid $416.83. Then the meter was installed and the power bill immediately dropped to $230.44."

During this period, Alderman Meyers said they ran the mill at 700-barrel capacity, and their grinders ran outside for which they used 200 horsepower. Douglas Campbell informed him as to the mill's capacity, Mr. Meyers said.

"A 750-barrel mill, if equipped with the finest roller bearings, will take 250 horsepower. The peak load would never be less than 250, and they would have to pay for the grinder and chopper outside. Then if they ran the mill they would have to pay for the electricity they used.

Here we see the highest peak load during the year 1919 was 162 horsepower.

In 1920 they ran very much the same. The highest peak load for the year was 193 horse-power and the lowest was 145 horse-power.

In 1921 the highest peak load was 172 horse-power and the lowest 145 horse-power.

HOW WILL HOUSEWIFE BE AFFECTED BY THE NEW BUDGET CHANGES?

May Mean Reduction in Many Lines of Foodstuffs and Footwear—Many Items Affected.

SALES TAX CUT

TORONTO, April 11.—(Canadian Press).—How does the Budget affect the housewife? Will it mean greater mathematical strain to the hosts of women who daily solve the irritating problem of making a dollar to do the work of two? Or will it put a few extra dollars in hundreds of "rainy day" savings accounts? As a matter of fact, to the careful Canadian housewife her household budget, whether it covers the expenditure of a family of eight or eight million. It is impossible to excite her over tariffs or sales taxes, or any other of the mysterious forms of government imposed. The problem of making ends meet, whether, as in the case of the famous old lady, it is only by the ingenious method of serving boiled tongue and ox tail soup, has become so familiar in all its varying angles that housekeepers of the Dominion have learned to take a somewhat philosophical view of the whole business!

However, there are several items of interest in the new Budget which cannot be overlooked even by the most imperturbable household managers. The sales tax as a term does not convey a very clear idea to ordinary women, but when it brings an increase of one or two cents in the price of the commodity the meaning is made perfectly clear. Therefore it may be of interest to point out that cereals foods, macaroni and vermillea sago and rice, salted and smoked meats and milk foods may be expected to descend in price, more or less, according to their value, within the next few weeks, once the proposal removal of the sales tax on these articles takes effect. The reduction from the present rate of six per cent. to 2½ per cent. will affect biscuits, canned fruits and vegetables and jams and preserves.

Boots and shoes and rubber footwear are also affected by the proposed reductions. The owner of a big Toronto boot store declared that the decrease in the sales tax would make for a stronger and more attractive line of goods at $10, and would probably mean a difference of fifty cents in a pair of shoes of that quality.

Goloshes will probably take on a new and more enthusiastic lease of life as "rubber footwear" mentioned in the reductions includes those popular and indispensable articles.

A merchandise manager of a big groceteria believed that the decrease in the tax would be felt almost immediately once the proposal went into force. Competition was so keen at present among grocers of the country that even a difference of a cent or two would bring all the dealers into line, and the consumers would derive the benefit.

Coty Rejected as French Senator

PARIS, April 11 (Canadian Press). — Francois Coty, the millionaire perfumer, yesterday again had the sweet cup of victory dashed from his lips when the Senate refused by a vote of 178 to 31 to validate his election as Senator from Corsica.

The shade of the Corsican bandit, Romanetti, hovered over the Senate during the deliberations, M. Coty's opponents charging that Romanetti terrorised the rustic municipal counsellors into voting for his candidate at the point of a carbine.

The Senators, proud of their spiritual descent from the giant of the French revolutionary period, scored such methods and turned down M. Coty, who is said to have the blood of the first Napoleon in his veins.

Finally the Senate agreed with the view of several members of the Corsican Electoral College, and decided to validate neither the claims of M. Coty nor his opponent, M. Lenary, Vice-President of the Chamber of Deputies and former Minister of Marine.

Therefore the election will be re-opened and a new vote taken.

GOLDEN WEDDING HASTINGS COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. William McConnel Celebrated the Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Wedding Day.

HASTINGS, April 11.— Mr. and Mrs. William McConnel celebrated the fiftieth anniversaary of their wedding day at their home at Hastings. There were present the ten children, representing an unbroken circle ,twenty grandchildren and many other friends.

Fifty years ago Mr. McConnel and Miss Mary Bloomer were united in marriage at Norwood by Rev. J. Jewel.

They took up residence at Norwood, where they remained for a few years and later moved to Percy township, where they have by their industry made for themselves a beautiful country home.

The following address was read by Earl McConnel of Norwood, the eldest grandson of the bride and groom .During the reading a beautiful bouquet of fifty yellow roses were presented to the bride by Edna Stillman, the eldest granddaughter.

Dear Mother and Father,—We are gathered here to-day to enjoy with you and to congratulate you on your golden wedding day.

It is a most auspicious occasion when you are permitted to live together for a full half century. You cannot but note the wonderful changes that have taken place since you both stood together at the altar of holy matrimony. But we would remind you that some things have not changed and must remain unchanged throughout eternity.

The love of your family is the same as when we were with you as little children .The Bible is the same as ever it was with its message of hope and the love of God and the Saviour who you taught us to love, He is the same yesterday, to-day and forever. We ask you to accept these tokens of our affections and we assure you that no material value could express what we feel for you.

Our wishes and prayers are that you may be spared to one another to enjoy many more years of health and happiness.

Signed, Your Sons and Daughters.

The groom of fifty years ago, responded in a few well chosen words. Toasts were proposed by friends who had attended the ceremony in 1874, four of whom were present at the celebration, and also by Rev. M. L. Hinton of Hastings.

The happy couple were the recipients of many useful and costly gifts, including several gold coins.

After the programme, dinner was served to more than fifty guests in a candle lighted dining room, decorated in green and gold.

Horses Runaway

The running away of a team driven by Mr. J. Archer of Seymour, might have meant the loss of lives had not the occupants of the vehicle jumped out,

Mr. Archer and his son, were driving into Hastings on Thursday morning when one of the bits in the horse's mouth broke. Unfortunately it was the bit belonging to the most nervous horse that broke, causing the team to get the start of the driver. The son managed to jump out of the buggy but the father stayed in until the horses arrived at the top of the Methodist church hill, when, seeing a chance of escape, jumped out also. The team continued to run around a block, when the harness broke causing the buggy to become separated from them. The falling down of one of the horses was an opportunity to catch them and get them under control.

The frightened animals were no worse for their frolic, and a broken buggy and harness was the extent of the damage done.

Injured at Work.

While working in the yard of W. P. Plant's Foundry on Wednesday evening about five o'clock, Mr. John Lee was struck by a log. Mr. Lee was working around the logs in the sawmill department when some of the logs commenced to roll, and before he had time to escape one caught him just above the knee, crushing the bone and slashing the flesh so that a large hole was caused. Dr. Macdonald was called and dressed the injury.

Sap Still Running.

The sap still continues to run freely in the bush. Maple syrup is coming in for sale in fairly large quantities, prices ranging from $2 to $2.50 per gallon.

Butter remains firm at 35 cents per pound. Eggs are on the market in larger numbers than they have been for some time previous, prices varying according to the new Government grading regulations. Specials 24c per dozen; extras 23c; No. 1 22c, and those not reaching standard weight at 17c.

The trappers around here are busy this season. Extra good catches of muskrats are reported, and with a few more days for the time of trapping of the rats should show one of the best seasons ever had here.

Mrs. Howard Fife was a recent visitor to Peterboro.

Mr. E. M. Wall of Peterboro, was in the village on Thursday.

Mr. Edwood Dudley of Colborne, called in the village on Thursday.

Miss Grace Sbaughnessy spent a day recently in Campbellford.

Mrs. W. H. Burkholder has returned after having undergone an operation in the Nicholls Hospital, having had her tonsils removed.

Mr. G. B. Stevenson has purchased a new car from one of the local dealers, Dr. J. H. Hess, same to be delivered on May 1st.

Miss Mary Walsh spent a day in Peterboro recently.

Miss Pearl Keogan left last week for Detroit where she has accepted a position on the hospital staff in the Herman Keifer hospital.

Rev. C. S. Bretherton was in Campbellford on Tursday.

Miss Margaret Bailey was in Campbellford on Tursday.

SAILS FOR MONTREAL.

GLACE BAY, N. S., April 11. — (Canadian Press).—The steamer Airdale is expected to leave Louisburg to-day with a cargo of 4,000 tons of coal for Montreal. This will be the first shipment of the season for the St. Lawrence.

COMMITTEE CENSURED.

LONDON, Ont., April 11. — A resolution condemning the action of the Private Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature relative to the Church Union Bill, was adopted by 30 representative ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches of the city and district, meeting in special session.

GERMANY FIGHTING WORLD WAR AGAIN.

Nationalists and Folkists Have Trotted Out Effectively Their Favorite Little Themes.

By CARL D. GROAT

BERLIN, April 11 (United Press). —The war is being fought all over again in the campaign for the Reichstag elections of May 4.

The Nationalists and Folkists have trotted out effectively their favorite little themes, "die Schuldluege" (The Guilt Lie), and "die Dolchstoss Legende" (the dagger-stab legend) as campaign propaganda.

"Die Schuldluege," perhaps the topic nearest the heart of the Nationalist, concerns itself with combating the claim that Germany alone was guilty for the war. Can the Nationalist get this idea across then he can peacefully proceed to tear up the Treaty of Versailles (a thing he swears to do anyhow, sooner or later).

The Socialist and other Republican masters of post-war Germany are being attacked fearfully for not having aired this lie before the world long ere now. Many folks will vote Nationalist as a result of this phase of the campaign.

But even deadlier in its political effects is the "Dolchstoss Legende."

The Socialists, so say the Nationalists, stabbed the front in the back—back in 1918 (at least in a manner of speaking).

More explicitly, the Marxists, backed by the Semites, are damned for the revolution. They are accused of undermining the army and causing the revolt and revolution which led eventually to the formation of the republic, after the great monarchist, Wilhelm II., had fled "bei Nacht und Nebel," to the serene seclusion of Doorn, Holland.

Socialist Leader Scheidemann and others have often enough shown that the great hero Ludendorff demanded an armistice back in 1918 for the simple reason that his armies were rapidly crumbling and because they were beaten.

This fact is down in black and white in the Government's archives.

But the Nationalists still have luck with the original version about stabbing the front in the back. Their public is so naive, to put it mildly, that it fails to heed the documentary evidence of Ludendorff's guilt on the stoppage of the war.

SPITZBERGEN COAL SUPPLYING NORWAY

Norway Has Granted Rights to Several Companies to Carry on Mining Operations.

CHRISTIANA, April 11 (Associated Press).—Exploitation of the coal fields of Spitzbergen, which have never been more than scratched, will be started at once. The Norwegian government acquired the land by the terms of the recently published Spitzbergen treaty, and has already granted rights to several companies to carry on mining operations. The annual output will be sufficient to fill the requirements of Norwegian consumers and will leave a surplus for exportation, it is estimated.

Under a draft bill which has been introduced in the legislature, citizens of all states which have ratified or assented to the Spitzbergen treaty, are entitled to acquire and exploit coal and other mines in Spitzbergen. The bill also provided that a duty not exceeding one percent may be assessed on mineral products and contains other regulations regarding mining, trading and political administration of Spitzbergen, all of which are designed to bring in operators who would develop the mines.

A Norwegian company has been formed which will begin operations this summer. It expects to employ 600 men and to produce 300,000 tons of coal a year.

RADIO MUSICIANS TO FORM A UNION

Charge of Eight Dollars For Each Musician Now Required For a Three-Hour Service.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 11. — "If the broadcasting stations do not accept our reasonable terms they will get union musicians," said James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, when speaking of the resolution passed by the Chicago local union governing its members performing for radio ,either as individual bands or orchestras, or whether employed by regular stations or where the radio cuts in on them while performing in the regular musical field.

The Chicago Federation's terms comprise a charge of $8.00 per musician for each three-hour period or less that the music is required. All hotels with broadcasting apparatus will be brought into line after the Colorado Springs convention in May, says Mr. Petrillo. "We are aggressive, but the other locals won't be far behind," he says in discussing the national situation.

"We are forced to this action by the falling off in demand for orchestra and band music since broadcasting has become popular," he says. "We play at one place and thousands of others listen in. People sit back in their homes and enjoy our performance. Parties enjoy dancing to the faraway invisible orchestra. This is all right, but if it brings unemployment to our ranks, we are justified in levying a moderate fee for our protection."

An amendment to the by-laws effective on 15th April, reads:

"Members playing radio engagements for the exclusive purpose of broadcasting, are required to file a written contract with the Recording Secretary before playing the engagement.

"All moneys for radio business shall be paid to the office of the Federation, and individual members shall receive their remuneration through the office of the financial secretary.

"The above law will be rigidly enforced . Failure to strictly comply with its provisions will, upon conviction, result in expulsion. Members are warned that every broadcasting station will be carefully patrolled and watched. Govern yourselves accordingly."

KILLED BY TRAIN.

LAKE MEGANTIC, Que., April 11.—(Canadian Press). — Napoleon Chevanelle, 25, of Courselle, Que., was instantly killed by the Montreal C.P.R. express train on Wednesday near Lambton. The young man, who was only married six months ago, was returning to his work at Springhill, walking along the tracks and apparently did not notice or hear the approaching train.

Was Constipated For Several Years

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried all kinds of remedies without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels regular and in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system?

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mr. M. Hedican, Sudbury, Ont., writes. "I have been troubled with constipation for several years. I began to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and find them to be the best remedy I have ever used for regulating the bowels and liver. I always keep them now and recommend them highly."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Three Years For Theft From His Employers.

MONTREAL, April 11.—(Canadian Press).—Albert Montbourquette, alias Allen, a former trusted employee of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary here by Chief Justice Decarie, upon pleading guilty of manipulating the books and payroll of his employers and defrauding them of a sum of money amounting to $1,345.44.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid" indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

C.P.R. DECREASE.

MONTREAL, April 11 (Canadian Press). — Canadian Pacific Railway earnings for the week ending 7th April, $3,683,000; decrease $28,000.

PROVINCE PAYS

great, he said.

Transmission Cost.

"It cost $2,000 a mile for this rural transmission and the interest charge on this alone is $120. When there are only three users per mile on the average members of the House will see the difficulty. There is a $70.00 service charge against users in rural parts against a $5.00 service charge against those in the urban centres."

Mr. Cooke argued that there had never been power at cost in Ontario. Hydro property was not taxed except as land, and its income in a year was subject to no taxation. Therefore the Province lost thousands in income every year because of this exemption However, it would not be possible for Ontario to have a better investment than the Hydro, and as yet no one single municipality had ever defaulted.

Mr. Cooke paid a compliment to the "brilliant and daring engineers of the system and to the long, loyal service of Sir Adam Beck." The revenue he said from Hydro was about 10 per cent. on the investment.

System Not Taxed.

If the system were taxed as other institutions were there would probably have to be an increase of 20 per cent. in the rates to carry on. At present less than 1 per cent. of the power developed was going to rural users. If the demand for power in the next two years maintained the same rate as for the last two years, all the development would be used.

"The key to the whole industrial development of Ontario lies in the development of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Rivers and the brightest day that will ever dawn in Ontario will be the day Ottawa says Ontario may develop the St. Lawrence," said Mr. Cooke.

Started by Drury.

Hon. Mr. Doherty contended that the Drury Government had started the present system of bonussing rural lines.

The Premier replied that Mr. Drury had been forced into it by the then Conservative Opposition. He explained that the present Bill made the payment of 50 per cent. on both primary and secondary lines retroactive.

J. G. Lethbride (U.F.O., Middlesex) did not think the bonus should be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund, but rather from a fund secured from rentals on water powers.

Quick Dismissal.

W. E. Raney in the debate undertook to defeat the appointment of George Ramsden to the Hydro Commission and to attack the Premier for dismissing him. He said that within 48 hours of the coming into power of the new Government the Premier had written Mr. Ramsden asking for his resignation, and that when he stated that he had dismissed him for 'insolence," that he was not stating the facts because it was not until after Mr. Ramsden received the Premier's letter requesting his resignation that he had replied.

The Premier pointed out that the dismissal followed this letter. The first letter was not a dismissal.

W. E. Raney contended that in the personnel of the Commission there had always been party patronage except in the Drury regime.

Sir Adam Beck interrupted to say there had been no politics in the Hydro until the Drury Government put it there.

W. E. Sinclair supported the Bill, which got the second reading.

SCIENCE DEMANDS UNIFORMITY.

Careful research made in recent years in the study of dietetics has shown the great importance to the human system of purity and uniform quality in foods. It is a great blessing that to-day so many delicious foods as well as tea and coffee can be procured in tins and sealed metal packages. "SALADA" Tea was one of the first pure food products to become widely popular in Canada. The flavour preserving aluminum package keeps the tea fresh and delicious. Skilful blending maintains the quality absolutely uniform.

GERMAN WOULD ACCEPT PLANS

The Director of Krupps Realizes Heavy Burden Imposed By Experts' Program But Regards Proposals As Big Advance.

BERLIN, Apr. 11.—Dr. Kurt Sorge, director of the Krupp Company, and chairman of the Association of German Industrialists, in a statement on the experts' reports yesterday, said:

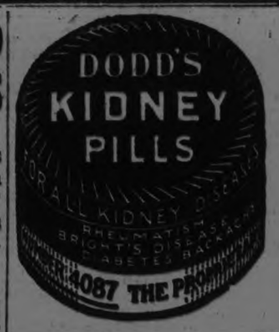
"I am of the opinion that their proposals must be accepted. The burdens they will impose on German industrialists are enormously heavy, but the experts' proposals mark a considerable advance on any heretofore made, particularly as they were not influenced by military and political considerations, but are based on strictly economic lines."

Dr. Sorge emphasized that an absolute pre-requisite for fulfilment was restoration in full of Germany's economic sovereignty over the occupied areas, and especially abolition of the Franco-Belgian railway regime and customs barrier between the occupied and unoccupied regions.

It would be a great relief to the industrialists, he continued, to have at least for some years a head fixed and definite payments, although in his opinion it would have been preferable to have the total sum of reparations fixed. He emphasized also that fulfilment was only possible if an international loan was raised, of which he confessed himself rather skeptical. He believed that once the government accepted the proposals, the German industrialists would do their utmost loyally to help carry them through, although he was under no delusion as to the enormous burdens Germany would have to bear for many years to come.

QUADRUPLETS BORN.

WINNIPEG, April 11. — Mrs. Oliver Ducharne, aged 38, of Craig Siding, 32 miles east of Winnipeg, gave birth to quadruplets to-day. They were all girls and three died shortly after birth.



Two Toronto Flappers Palled With Bandits.

BUFFALO, April 11 (Canadian Press). — Richard McCarthy, 22 years old, of Toronto, was identified yesterday as the armed bandit who held up a Sycamore trolley car last week and robbed the conductor's cash box.

Identification was made by the motorman and conductor.

There are two bullet holes in McCarthy's coat, with powder burns around them.

He was arrested with Norman Clarken and two 18-year-old Toronto girls, Beatrice Ledger and Margaret Martin.

The police have been notified that all four are wanted by the Toronto police.

The police said he and Clarken probably would be held here, while the girls would be deported.

C.N.R. EARNINGS DROP.

MONTREAL, April 11 (Canadian Press). — The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending 7th April, 1924, were $4,343,780, being a decrease of $390,875.10 over the corresponding period of 1923.

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways from 1st January to 7th April 1924, have been $61,126,408, being an increase of $2,392,789.06.

AGAIN THE REVOLVER.

The fact that several of the suspects held in connection with the bank messenger hold-up and murder in Montreal have been identified as among the party arrested not long ago in Toronto and found to be in possession of firearms, indicates that if there were more stringent laws against the carrying of revolvers the Montreal crime would not have been committed.

Instead of being clapped behind the bars for a term, these gun-toters were released on condition that they left Toronto at once, and now they are suspected of having participated in the outrage in Montreal.

The good work of the Toronto detective who rounded up the squad and made the arrest was thrown away, the authorities in Toronto being apparently satisfied to get rid of their visitors without worrying about what might happen somewhere else.

The present regulations in regard to the carrying of firearms are not sufficient protection, as has been proven in this particular case.

Sooner or later the necessity of preventing the importation or manufacture of revolvers will be realized, and until then the readiness with which these weapons can be secured and the ease with which they can be concealed will result in an increase in the numbers of crimes of violence, such as has cost two lives in Montreal.

THE BUDGET PROPOSALS.

To the average Canadian the feature about Hon. J. A. Robb's Budget taxation proposals that will make the strongest appeal is the fact that the sales tax is materially reduced on some of the more common necessaries, and in a number of cases wiped out altogether, a contribution that should have an appreciable effect upon the cost of living.

The sales tax is removed from cereal foods, macaroni, vermicelli, sago, rice and meats, whether salted or smoked.

On biscuits, canned vegetables, canned fruits, jams and preserves, all commodities used in the majority of households, there is a reduction from 6 per cent. to 2½ per cent., while in the case of milk foods the tax is lifted altogether.

The consumer will also benefit by the fact that the sales tax on boots and shoes, including rubber footwear, is sliced from 6 per cent. to 2½ per cent.

The mining, quarrying, lumbering and fishing industries share with agriculture in the concessions granted under the new Budget.

In the first place, the sales tax is reduced from 6 per cent. to 5 per cent. on a large list of implements and machinery used in these industries.

There will be customs tariff reductions on agricultural and dairying implements, mining, quarrying and lumbering and logging machinery, while all fertilizers are placed on the free lists, and traction ditching machines to the value of $3,500 may also enter Canada free of duty.

The old limit for these machines was $3,000.

Altogether the reduction in taxation is estimated by the Acting Minister of Finance at $24,000,000—a very welcome Easter gift to the people of Canada.

THE DANGEROUS FALSE ALARM.

The Examiner pointed out in an article in these columns a few days ago the fact that misguided humourists who turned in false fire alarms were paving the way for a bad accident.

Confirmation of that contention is provided by a Detroit despatch which tells of the death of a policeman as the result of a collision between a police patrol and a small automobile.

A false alarm had been sent in and the police vehicle was responding to the call when the accident occurred, the driver of the patrol being fatally injured, while two other policemen were badly hurt.

Firemen and policemen expect to take chances when their services are required.

The risk is part of their job, and they accept it as in the line of duty.

But it is a much different matter to be asked to face the chance of a bad accident simply because some fool thinks it is funny to pull a fire alarm box and bring the department out for nothing.

Motor fire apparatus travelling at 40 miles an hour on a busy street presents too many opportunities for accidents, and only when there is a real need for the services of the department should such opportunities exist.

There have been several false alarms recently, and an example should be made of any offender that may be caught.

The Detroit tragedy shows how a crazy prank of this kind can easily cost a life.

THE MOTH CONQUERED.

This is the glorious season when mother discovers that moths have gotten into the upholstered furniture and eaten holes in clothes stored away last fall. In fairness to the moths, it must be admitted that they have a sense of humor—always, select, for their eating, places that show most prominently.

Dr. Titschak of Leverkusen has finally discovered how to checkmate the moths—possibly exterminate them eventually. The story is told in the Scientific American magazine.

Titschak experimented with 2,000 chemicals before he found what he wanted. Finally he got the right chemical. For instance, he takes raw wool and applies the chemical to it. No odor, no destructive effect on the wool. No trace that the chemical has been used. But, forever after, moths will not eat this wool. They crawl around on it, in the worm stage, and die of starvation.

Later, we presume, this chemical or something similar will be placed on the market. So far the experiment seems to be in the laboratory stage.

Everything has, in nature, its destroyer. That is the principle that researchers like Titschak base their work on.

Destruction by moths must run into hundreds of millions of dollars every year, the world over.

A discovery like a permanent moth destroyer might, in the long run, save as much money as was wasted in the World War.

Moths do not eat cotton or other fabric materials taken from plant life, excepting paper and cork. One kind of moth specializes at attacking wool and hair. Another goes after furs. Still others concentrate, in turn, on cork and paper.

The Scientific American article says that the moths so often seen flying around a house are males. To kill them does not help much, for there are several hundred males to each female. And the female moth, though it has wings, rarely flies out where it can be seen. It hides in dark corners and lays thousands of eggs. These eggs hatch into worms. By the time the worms are large enough to be seen crawling about, they have already done most of their damage.

Why does nature send these pests to annoy us? Answer this and you'll have the answer why nature sends all our other troubles. The purpose seems to be to keep us busy fighting for existence.

CANADIAN OPPORTUNITY.

Hon. Rodolphe Monty, with the Meighen party at Windsor, used this remark:

"Our industries are going to the dogs."

Our industries are not going to the dogs, neither is Canada or its people going to the dogs.

A gloom spreading depressionist should consider his words very seriously before he addresses the people of Canada in that vein; even with the latitude assumed by a political tub thumper, there is neither room nor justification for such a progress-clogging utterance.

In 1922 Canada produced 399,000,000 bushels of wheat; in 1923, 474,199,000 bushels. Canada is now the world's leading exporter of wheat.

In 1922 this country grew 491,000,000 bushels of oats; in 1923, 537,000,000 bushels.

The capital invested in Canadian manufacturing industries in 1913 was $1,994,103,272; in 1923 it was $3,210,709,288.

Canada's life insurance in 1913 was $1,154,477,891; in 1923 it had grown to $3,171,388,966.

The total trade of Canada, to look back over a longer period of years, was $161,047,000 in 1870; in 1923 it was $1,747,875,081.

In the same period dairy production went from $1,601,738 to $260,000,000. Railway mileage was then 2,695; today it is 39,773 miles. Bank deposits then were $37,000,000; in 1923, $1,690,482,859.

Canada realizes that its next great development is going to see an increase in mineral production. Nor is this confined to any one or two minerals. Canada has 90 per cent. of the world's cobalt, 88 per cent. of the world's nickel, 32 per cent. of the world's pulpwood, 20 per cent. of the world's lumber, 20 per cent. of the world's cured fish.

Canada has the world's greatest untouched coal deposits; Alberta alone has 87 per cent. of the coal of Canada, and 14 per cent. of the world's coal deposits. Our estimated coal reserves are 1,360,535,000,000 tons.

In 1922, Canada produced 486,000 tons of steel ingots and castings; in 1923, 884,000 tons. In 1922 pig iron production was 384,000 tons, and it grew in 1923 to 880,000 tons, surely not the work of a people whose industries are going to the dogs.

Canada has made progress—is making progress, and will continue to do so. She has raw materials, rail and water transportation, and a small population of aggressive people.

Let us take a definite course that will allow Canada to make greater use of her own resources. The Alberta coal fields contain a product Ontario needs; we consumed 32,000,000 tons of coal last year, and brought 54 per cent. of it in from United States at a cost of $100,000,000. That represents in value one-eighth of our total imports. Let us make that a Canadianized business, Canadian miners, Canadian coal, Canadian railways to Canadian consumers. When that is done we will have built an industry that will be good for all times to come. It will help trade go East and West rather than North and South.

Canada has barely touched her minerals. We have cobalt, copper, gold, lead, nickel, silver, zinc, asbestos, coal, gypsum, natural gas, petroleum, salt, platinum, calcite, corundum, feldspar, talc.

Canada can grow wheat that makes the world's finest flour; she has pulpwood and fish from the great outdoors, fur-bearing animals whose pelts are more than ever in demand.

We need courage and determination, confidence in our own ability, more of the vision that gripped the fathers of Confederation, and less of the howling and chanting that "our industries have gone to the dogs."

Canada can do wonders; she has the materials placed at her very door; her people must cease to be afraid of the distance that separates East from West. The rumbling of full cars East and full cars West is the best silence-breaker to batter down the talk that the East doesn't understand the West, nor the West the East.

What a heritage! What a chance! Let us tackle one good thing at a time and so firmly establish it that it in turn will lend its aid to the next great problem.—London Advertiser.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, April 10.— There was little new business doing in the market this morning, yesterday afternoon sales practically effecting a clean of the week's offering. There was a small hold over, and these with only six or seven cars of fresh cattle in today's receipts were quickly disposed of in a good steady market.

A few cattle of special extra quality for the Easter trade are in good demand at slightly firmer prices. The U.F.O. sold a couple of extra choice beef steers, 1120 lbs., at $8.75 McDonald and Halligan sold five choice cattle, 900 lbs., at $8.00 and two, 920 lbs., at $8.00. Baby beeves good quality, are selling from $8.50 to $9.00.

Small meats steady to firm.

Hogs weaker, packers bidding $7.25 f.o.b.

Quotations were:

Export steers, $7.50 to $8.25; export, choice quality, $8.15 to $8.25.

Choice butchers steady, $6.75 to $7.50. Baby beeves steady $8 to $9. Medium butcher, $6.25 to $6.75; common, $4.25 to $4.75.

Good fat butcher cows from $4.50 to $5.50.

Bulls, steady, $4.25 to $5.

Calves, firm, $10 to $11.

Lambs, 14c to 15c per lb.

Spring lambs, each $14 to $15.

Sheep, yearlings, $9.00 to $10.00.

Hogs, $7.25 f.o.b. bid.

EGG MARKETS.

OTTAWA, April 11 (Canadian Press). — The market is inclined to be nervous and unsettled, and as yet a safe basis for storing seems to be difficult at which to arrive. The general feeling, however, would indicate that within the next week prodution will have increased to such an extent that holders will be obliged to dispose of their surplus to the storage or otherwise.

Toronto market unsettled, specials 32, extras 29, firsts 27, seconds 24. One Ontario dealer offering Prairie Province shippers delivered extras 28, firsts 26, seconds 22. These quotations were unsatisfactory, and no sales were made.

Montreal market reports a liberal supply of eggs with good demand, specials 33, extras 30 to 31, firsts 27 to 28, seconds 25 to 26. Poultry, live chickens 24 to 26, fowl 25 to 30, ducks 35 to 38, geese 20, turkeys 33.

Winnipeg receipts light with good consumptive demand. Dealers quoting country points delivered extras 22, firsts 21, seconds 18 to 19, jobbing extras 28, firsts 24, seconds 22. Retailing extras 30, firsts 25 to 28, seconds 23 to 25.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, April 11 (Canadian Press). — The local cash grain market was steady. There was nothing new in the flour market. A fair amount of business is passing in millfeed, but trade in rolled oats was slow. The market for baled hay continues quiet. Prices for eggs remained steady. There was not much business in potatoes. Butter prices were generally 1-2 cent per pound lower. There was nothing doing in cheese.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 11 (Canadian Press). — The wheat market was dull yesterday, and prices fluctuated within narrow limits during most of the session, but near the end firmed up and closed about 1-8c higher for May, 1-4c higher for July, and 7-8c for October.

The general demand was not very strong, and with lower cables little incentive was given the market.

There was some switching going on, which looked like liquidating May and getting into the more distant futures, especially October.

Overnight sales for export were estimated at about 200,000 bushels of wheat, while Norway was reported to have purchased 400,000 bushels of rye.

WINNIPEG LIVE STOCK.

WINNIPEG, April 11 (Canadian Press). — Arrivals: 833 cattle and calves, 1,470 hogs and 8 sheep.

Trading on the cattle market showed slightly duller tendency, although sales were transacted on a steady basis. Butchers' stockers selling strong around 25c higher.

The hog market was unsettled, with no definite price being established.

A few sheep went out at $8.35.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 11 (Canadian Press). — Cattle, receipts 10,000; beef steers uneven; kinds averaging 1,100 pounds and up, and of value to sell at $10.00 and above strong; spots higher; others and low grade light yearlings slow, 10c to 15c lower in instances; top matured steers, $12.40; average weight 1,385 pounds; next higher prices, $12.35; best yearlings mixed and heifers, $11.50; bulk light yearlings, $9.50 and down; bulk fed steers and yearlings, $8.50 to $70.75; fat she stock spotty about steady; vealers generally 50c lower; bulk to packers, $9.00 to $9.75; some medium light vealers down to $8.50; few choice kind $10.50 to packers up to $11.50 and above to outsiders; other classes generally steady; bulk bologna bulls, $4.90 to $5.25; narrow country demand for thin fleshed stockers and feeders.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 11 (Canadian Press). — Wheat and corn scored something of an advance in price yesterday chiefly as a result of late buying, in which one of the larger houses took the lead. The buying movement was apparently due more or less to indications that selling had been overdone.

Wheat closed firm, a shade to 5-8c net higher, May $1.01 7-8 to $1.02, and July $1.03 1-2 to $1.03 5-8, with corn 1-4c to 1-2c up; oats showing 1-8c to 7-8c gain; and provisions varying from unchanged figures to 5c to 7c decline.

BELGIUM FIRST OF NATIONS TO PRAISE REPORT

Practicable Solution of the European Tangle Is Brussels Opinion of the Experts' Recommendations on German Reparations — Believe Allies Will Accept Scheme With Pleasure.

Germans Summoned.

BRUSSELS, April 11.—The Belgian Government is certain to accept with enthusiasm the report of the reparation experts, according to assurances given in the highest governmental quarters last night. Although Belgium does not desire to force the hands of its other allies by a premature expression of views, it is understood that the government wishes to lose no time in allowing its attitude to become known.

M. Delacroix, senior Belgian member of the Reparation Commission, in a telephone communication from Paris yesterday to a member of the Belgian Cabinet, said that the Reparation Commission had decided to summon German representatives to Paris within a week for consultation regarding Germany's attitude toward the report. It is understood that M. Delacroix indicated that the other governments had given their representatives on the Reparation Commission a free hand to proceed immediately upon a program to put the report into effect and that in return he was instructed to proceed upon the assumption that the Government was ready to accept the experts' program without reservation.

Belgians Pleased

Enthusiasm over the report was manifest, not only in government circles, but among all sections of the Belgian population. The Brussels newspapers without exception praise it in the highest terms, welcoming it as the first practicable solution of the European tangle offered since the Armistice.

One high Belgian official said Thursday that he was convinced that all of the governments interested would accept the report with pleasure. Britain, he declared, would be glad to accept because of the added prestige that would accrue to the Labor Government for having contributed to a final solution to the reparation problem — something which previous governments had failed to accomplish. He expressed the belief that even the opponents of the Labor Government would support the acceptance willingly because the British nation as a whole had vital interests in the stabilization of European economic conditions.

France to Accept

France, he asserted, would be particularly glad to accept because the report provides the first occasion for a definite regulation of reparation payments with reasonable assurance of a regular and steady fulfillment.

GOVT. CONSIDERS BUILDING SCHEME

The Scheme Calls For the Building of 2,500,000 Houses In Fifteen Years.

LONDON, April 11. Canadian Press Cable. — A scheme calling for the building of 2,500,000 houses in 15 years upon a fixed cost basis, is set forth in the report of a committee, representing the building employers and the operatives, which John Wheatley, the Minister of Health, makes public, with the announcement that the scheme will be taken into consideration by the government.

It is proposed to start the programme with 50,000 houses in the first year and gradually expand operations to 225,000 houses yearly.

The committee's recommendations include the establishment of a national building committee and provide for the increase of the number of working builders by expanding the apprentice system on condition that Parliament sanctions expenditure for 15 years on a definite programme in order to give organized workers assurance that the projected increase of the number of operatives will be satisfactorily absorbed.

CHEESE FACTORY MAY BE RE-OPENED

The Maple Leaf Patrons Realize Dairying Offers Larger Returns — Meeting at Downeyville.

DOWNEYVILLE, April 9.—On Monday evening a meeting was held in the hall here on "Dairying." The hall was crowded, and some of those present thought there was more money in dairying than in farming at the present time, prices for everything being so low. They thought of opening up the Maple Leaf Cheese Factory, which has been closed for some time, and make both cheese and butter, which even the patrons wanted. All present signed for what ever number of cows they had, and they got quite a number in all. It would be a great benefit to the community if it was re-opened, as local cream is shipped to Lindsay or Omemee. Another meeting will be held later.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch and family, from Huntsville, who have leased Patrick Meehan's farm here, have moved into their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clancy attended the funeral of their brother, the late Frank Murray, in Peterboro last Friday.

Sawing wood is the order of the day around here. All the villagers got their wood sawed Monday and Tuesday.

Reaction to Dawes Report Registered

(By Webber Miller, United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, April 11.— First reaction of the Allied Governments to the Dawes report has been registered and the reparations commission was summoned to meet at 3 p.m. to exchange views and decide upon the next step.

Louis Barthou, President of the Commission, conferred with Premier Poincare this morning. Sir John Bradbury, British member, reported he had received the opinion of the new labor Government concerning the report. M. Gutt, Belgian, learned the view of Premier Theunis.

Premier Poincare is said to consider the report a satisfactory technical solution but believes its adoption must be accompanied by political accords guaranteeing France support of the Allies in case Germany defaults.

ROADS ARE CLEAR AROUND BURNBRAE

Increased Activity In the Community Life As a Result—Pretty Wedding

BURNBRAE, April 11. — Congratulations are in order to Mr. and Mrs. George Ingram of Menie on the birth of a daughter on Monday evening.

The farm recently sold by Mr. Alex. Donald to Mr. John Hay of Campbellford was purchased by Fred Bennett. Mr. Bennett has moved on to the place this week.

The following gentlemen from Seymour East attended the Holstein sale at Belleville on Wednesday: Murray Meiklejohn, Lindsay Anderson, George Anderson, Lindsay Watson, Allan Watson.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parr, Hoard's Station, on Wednesday evening at 6.30, when their daughter Blanche was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Johns, Seymour East. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. E. Glover, B.A., of Campbellford.

The Y. P. Guild of St. Andrew's Church met in the church basement on Monday evening. The attendance was the largest for several months, due no doubt to the fact that the roads are now good and the cars are running again. Mr. Lindsay Anderson, president, was in the chair and conducted the meeting. Rev. J. J. Black, B.D., led the devotional part of the service. The topic "How Jesus Loved and Served," was given by Mitchell Rannie. A fine instrumental . lection was given by Miss mental selection was given by Miss sang a solo.

Next Monday evening the meeting will be led by Mrs. George Craighead. The topic, the ninth chapter of the "Island Beautiful," will be given by Mrs. John Thompson of Menie.

After the meeting the young people practised for the coming special Easter exercises.

FEDERAL BUDGET

as heretofore, make the total charges $375,213,651. Our surplus of ordinary revenue over these expenditures will, therefore, be $20,786,349 to be applied towards the reduction of the national debt as it stood on March 31, 1923.

"To this must be added $1,317,000 being the amount of sundry outstanding indebtedness cancelled during the past year and a further amount of $8,305,760.37 received in settlement of an adjustment of acknowledged book debts between the imperial and dominion governments. These two amounts, totalling $9,622,760.37, together with $20,786,349 surplus of revenue over total expenditures reduce our net public debt as of March 31, 1923, by the amount of $30,409,109.37.

"Estimates of revenue for the year upon which we have just entered can not be made with any degree of accuracy. The revenue we would receive on the present basis of taxation would be materially affected by reductions in taxes which, in view of the most satisfactory outcome of the year just closed, it is proposed to submit to parliament.

Rigid Economy

"It is hoped, however, to offset any considerable reduction in the revenue by a most rigid economy in expenditures. The estimates now before the house show a very substantial reduction as compared with the estimates of last year. We will no doubt have supplementaries, but rigid economy will be exercised in their preparation. In this the government hopes for cooperation from all sections of Canada."

Excess of Exports

Mr. Robb then turned to a review of Canadian trade. These showed that for the eleven months of the fiscal year ending February, 1924, Canada's trade with the United Kingdom showed an excess of exports over imports of $194,81,000; with the British Empire, including the United Kingdom, an excess of exports over imports of $230,095,546; trade with the United States an excess of imports over exports of $143 091,906, and in Canada's total trade, an excess of exports over imports of $158,524,707. In the twelve months of the previous year, the excess of exports over imports in Canada's total trade was $142,716,593

"This brief statement showing the steady growth of Canadian trade with the nations of the world must be gratifying to Canadians," Mr. Robb commented.

Tariff and Tax Cuts

The following are some of the groups included in the customs tariff and consumption or sales tax reductions:—

Farming Industry: Mowing machines, harvesters, binders and reapers; preferential tariff, old rate 7 1-2; proposed rate, free. General tariff, old rate 10, proposed rate 6.

It is proposed to grant a drawback of 99 per cent. on materials and parts of implements on hand imported prior to this date which will have entered into the cost of all agricultural implements on which the duty is to be reduced.

It is also proposed to exempt from the sales tax all the articles and materials to be used in the manufacture of these agricultural implements, as well as goods consumed in the process of manufacture.

Fruit Growing Industry.

Spraying machines, fruit or vegetable, grading machines, pruning hooks, pruning shears; preferential tariff, old rate 10; proposed rate 5; general tariff, old rate 15; proposed rate 10.

It is proposed to remove the sales tax from the foregoing items and also from nicotine sulphate and spraying preparations.

Poultry Industry.

Incubators for hatching eggs, brooders for rearing young fowl; preferential tariff old rate 10; proposed rate 5; general tariff, old rate 15; proposed rate 10. We propose removing the sales tax from these items as well as from poultry food.

Dairying Industry.

Milking machines, centrifugal machines for testing butter fat, milk or cream; preferential tariff, old rate 10; proposed rate 5; general tariff, old rate 15; proposed rate 10. The sales tax is to be removed from the foregoing items and also from cream separators and parts thereof, and extract of rennet.

Mining and Quarrying Industry.

Rock drills, percussion coat cutters, coal augers, stamp mills, ore and rock crushers, and rotary and coal drills; preferential tariff, old rate 15; proposed rate 10; general tariff, old rate 27 1-2; proposed rate 20.

Coal washing machinery, coke making machinery, and machinery and apparatus for use exclusively in the distillation or recovery of products from coal tar or gas; preferential tariff, old rate 20; proposed rate 7 1-2; general tariff, old rate 30; proposed rate 12 1-2, and from, preferential tariff, old rate 15; proposed rate 7 1-2; general tariff, old rate 2 71-2; proposed rate 12 1-2.

It is proposed to remove the sales tax from the foregoing items grouped under the heading of mining and quarrying. In addition the sales tax is to be removed from mining cars and other similar appliances used for mining or quarrying, and from explosives.

Lumbering Industry.

Saw mill machinery, preferential tariff, old rate 15; proposed rate 10; general tariff, old rate 25; proposed rate 20. Logging machinery, which includes cars, block and tackle, yarders and practically all machinery used exclusively for logging operations; preferential tariff, old rate 15; proposed rate 10; general tariff, old rate 30; proposed rate 20. And preferential tariff, old rate 20; general tariff, old rate 27 1-2.

Logging wagons, preferential tariff, old rate 17 1-2; proposed rate 5; general tariff, old rate 25; proposed rate 10.

The sales tax is also to be removed from the foregoing items pertaining to the lumbering industry.

Fishing Industry.

All marlin for the fisheries is to be made free of customs duty; heretofore only barked marlin has been free.

We propose that the sales tax on rubber boots sahll be reduced from six per cent. to two and one half per cent.

Barked marlin for the fisheries is already exempt from sales tax, and, as a result of the change we are proposing, all marlin for the fisheries will become exempt from the sales tax.

Bread Stuffs and Provisions.

It is proposed to remove the sales tax from the following articles: Cereal foods, macaroni and vermicelli, sago and rice, meats, salted or smoked.

The sales tax is being reduced from six per cent to 2 1-2 per cent. on biscuits, canned vegetables, canned fruits, jams and preserves,

Boots and shoes, including rubber footwear. We propose to reduce the sales tax from six per cent. to 2 1-2 per cent.

The sales tax will be removed from milk foods.

Woollen, and many other manufacturing establishments will benefit by a proposed clause which will provide that materials, consumed in process of manufacture or production, which enter directly into the cost of goods subject to the consumption or sales tax, will be exempt from the sales tax.

Well drilling machinery and apparatus: The sales tax is to be removed.

Crutches are being made free of both customs and sales tax.

Traction ditching machines: The value for "free entry" purposes is being increased from $3,000 to $3,500.

Consumption or Sales Tax.

In addition to all this, the sales tax is to be reduced from six per cent. to five per cent.

For the better protection of the revenue the sections referring to manufacturers doing business under ten thousand dollars per year will be repealed.

The removal of the $10,000 limit in connection with small manufacturing concerns will do away with difficulties in administering the act.

The list of exemptions from the sales tax is to be enlarged. The following are some of the principal articles affected:

Books for the blind; scientific and text books; printed text books authorized by the department of education of any province in Canada; milk foods and prepared cereal foods; nicotine sulphate; disinfecting, dipping, and spraying preparations; church bells; chain; agricultural implements (of which details are given elsewhere); saw mill and logging machinery (details given elsewhere); surgical instruments and appliances for hospitals; carbolic oil for creosoting lumber; insulin; cream separators; philosophical apparatus for use in schools and colleges; binder twine.

WILL BENEFIT FARMERS.

TORONTO, April 11.—(Canadian Press.)— Hon. John S. Martin, the "Wynandotte King of America," who farms 40 acres at Port Dover, Ont., thinks the Robb budget, introduced at Ottawa yesterday, will benefit Ontario's farmers.

The Minister of Agriculture could not tell the full effect of the tariff reductions on agricultural machinery without an opportunity of studying the details. As a poultry king, however, he was intensely interested in the tariff reduction on chicken incubators.

"So far as the proposals affect incubators and brooders," he said, "the reduction will be of material benefit to poultry men and will undoubtedly aid in increasing poultry production. I say it is a good move, unhesitatingly, because there are no mammoth incubators manufactured in this country. The doing away with the sales tax on farm implements and mkachinery I also have no hesitation in saying is a good thing for agriculture in Ontario and will to a certain extent relieve the farmer of difficulties under which he is now working."

Will Fight Budget.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and his wholeparty will fight the budget to the last ditch. They will be joined by several Liberals from Quebec and possibly some from Ontario. The Conservative party will welcome an appeal to the electorate on the fiscal policy as encunciated in the budget. There is not a Conservative representative who is not confident that an appeal to the electorate would result in great triumph for adequate protection, the despatch states.

That the public should not remain in doubt as to the Conservative position on this issue, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen made the statement which says in part:

"The Government has succeeded in preserving its habitual practice of apostacy to pledges, and at the same time of purchasing measure of support in Parliament to prolong its precarious hold on reins of power. Its step toward fulfillment of official tariff commitments of Liberal party is a short one, but nevertheless effect of step on industry and the country generally will be serious. Tariff reductions are an irrational attack on special industries and localities, dictated solely by counting of heads in Parliaemnt and based on no principle whatever. These industries, vital to our country, are dealt a ruthless blow and all others are let out for the time being under suspended sentence. I realize vividly the position of those government supporters wo depended upon guarantees that Laurier-Fielding tariff would be maintained and repeated pre-election pledge of Prime Minister that no legitimate industry would suffer.

"This move of the Canadian government will be welcomed in United States and in Europe, but has no warrant of welcome in Canada. It will be proclaimed by Progressives in the right direction, but will be followed by thousands of Canadians stepping in the wrong direction, across to the United States."

Help Dairy Men

Budget has found favor in eyes of men on back concessions and their spokesmen in the city.

"It's a step in right direction," was Terse comment of J. J. Morrison, secretary of U.F.O. last night. Similar sentiments were expressed by W. A. Amos, President of U.F.O. who for years has fought for substantial all round reduction in tariff on implements of production.

W. A. Dryden, ex-President of Royal Winter Fair, believed reduction in tariff on Agricultural implements and the removal of sales tax might mean great deal or it might mean nothing to farmer. It depended upon what the manufacturer did, he said.

Mr. Dryden doubted if tariff reduction meant great deal.

"That is a big question to ask," was answer of Robert Fleming, ex-President of Canadian National Exhibition. "The removal of sales tax represents direct benefit to the farmer to that extent. I do not think tariff reduction amounts to much. The manufacturers are producing at lowest possible figure, and if they produce at lower figure they will go out of business."

It means considerable to dairy farmer, according to J. P. Griffin, Secretary of Ontario Milk ond Cream Producers Association.

Constipation can ruin your health—get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

When clean and clear, the intestine is converting wholesome food into vigorous health. But when clogged by constipation, it generates poisons from the obstructed food that can lead to many serious diseases.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It has a natural, healthy action. It works exactly as nature acts. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer will return your money.

Results with Kellogg's Bran are sure, for Kellogg's is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is endorsed by doctors everywhere. Eat it and you need never take another habit-forming drug or pill.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, should be eaten regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will enjoy eating it. Kellogg's Bran has a wonderful flavor, a delicious nut-like flavor. And this flavor is an exclusive Kellogg achievement.

There are many ways to enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Eat it with milk or cream as a cereal. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Look for the recipes on every package and try it in muffins, griddle cakes, bran bread, etc.

Bring back your health with Kellogg's Bran. Start to-day! Every member of you family should eat it. The leading hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. It is made in Toronto Canada. Sold by all grocers.

Skull Fractured in Automobile Accident

TORONTO, April 11.—(Canadian Press)— Injuries received one week ago when he was struck by an automobile proved fatal yesterday to L. H. Graham, head of the Science Department of Malvern Collegiate, who died in St. Michael's Hospital. On April 3, Mr. Graham was getting out of an automobile in front of the Collegiate when he was struck and hurled several feet by a motor driven by George Brown, 23 Thyra avenue, his skull was fractured.

There are in the United States more than 1000 woollen mills, with 80,000 looms and more than 4,000,000 active spindles.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Dr. N. H. Sutton Attended the Well Babies' Clinic in Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 — Dr. N. H. Sutton, of Peterboro, district officer of health, attended the Babies' Clinic that was held here on Wednesday afternoon. Dr. W. J. Bell, of the Provincial Board of Health, conducted the examination of the children, who were brought by their parents, and when he found anything amiss, recommended that the case be referred to the family physician. A majority of the local physicians watched the proceedings. The mothers of Campbellford availed themselves in large numbers of the opportunity to learn from an expert the physical condition of their children.

Miss F. I. McEwen, Provincial nurse, came from Toronto to assist Miss Reba Veitch, the nurse who is stationed here, in the extra work in preparing for and conducting the Clinic.

Sale of Farm.

Ed. Duff of the Wilson Settlement has purchased the farm of Robert Wilson, adjoining his own, this deal making him the owner of one of the finest agricultural holdings in Percy Township. The Wilson farm was formerly owned by George Carlew, ex-clerk of Percy, who is now residing in Toronto.

ANOTHER NATION WIDE WALK-OUT

The Coal Miners Rejected the Owners' Wage Offers by a Majority of 16,258.

(By Lloyd Allen—United Press Staff Correspondent).

LONDON, April 11. — Another nation-wide strike, the fifth serious industrial crisis since the Labor Government took office, less than three months ago, was foreshadowed to-day when the coal miners rejected the owners' wage offers by a majority of 16,258.

The existing wage scales terminate shortly, and the men balloted on the acceptance or rejection of a slight increase offered by the operators. The vote stood: For acceptance, 322,392; for rejection, 338,650.

It is expected that a Government court of inquiry will investigate the dispute and possibly obviate the possibility of an early strike. The men want an increase considerably greater than the one offered.

MAH JONGG BRINGS NEW DISEASE TO THE U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 11 (United Press).—Have you a mah jongg complex?

Then don't be surprised if you wake up some fine morning and have to call the family doctor to cure you of an irritating skin disease.

Mah jongg, the "game of a thousand intelligences," has introduced a new malady into America. Sporadic cases are being reported by doctors all over the country.

This new malady has been traced directly to the game of north winds and south winds. Medical men are conservative folks, and before formally launching an accusation against the fascinating rival of auction bridge, they made sure they weren't accusing it falsely.

Dr. Erwin P. Zeisler, attending dermatologist of the Cook County Hospital, Chicago, Ill., had a patient with an annoying skin eruption. Her face and neck were swollen and painful; her eyes were completely closed. She couldn't sleep, her head ached, and she was troubled with a violent malaise—which means that her stomach refused to retain food.

Santa Brought Set.

There was no apparent cause for the attack. The patient had done nothing except play a few innocent games of mah jongg. It developed, in fact, that the skin eruption first appeared two days after Santa Claus had brought a mah jongg set to the family.

Dr. Zeisler didn't suspect the Chinese game, however, until he had cured the patient of that attack and another had followed less than a week later. Then he questioned her carefully and she said she had had another session at mah jongg before the second attack.

His suspicions aroused, Dr. Zeisler took a bit of lacquer from the family mah jongg set, applied it to an unaffected part of the patient's skin, and awaited results. Within 24 hours the skin disease had developed there.

This case is reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association. So is that of a young New York silk salesman, by Dr. Oscar L. Levin, New York.

The silk salesman, 26 years old, was suffering from swollen eyelids, cheeks and similar lesions on the fingers and hands and complained of burning and intense itching. Otherwise his physical condition was good.

He had been using a new mouth wash and a new hair tonic. He also had been playing mah jongg. The mouth wash and hair tonic were suspected, but mah jongg was not, until the patient had a second attack and Dr. Levin called at his apartment and noticed a mah jongg set in a beautiful lacquered box.

Investigation developed that this patient, too, had bought his set a few days before the skin eruption appeared, and had played again before the second attack.

Some Not Susceptible.

The condition responds readily to treatment, the doctors report, but for susceptible persons the only permanent cure is to avoid contact with the poisonous lacquer. Not everybody is susceptible. Fortunate ones, who are not, may indulge their mah jongg complex to the limit of their luck or their losses.

The poisonous part of the lacquer is its principal ingredient—a chemical agent called urushiol, which the Chinese and Japanese use as a varnish in their lacquer work. The mah jongg pieces themselves are harmless. Contact with the surface of the lacquered boxes causes the trouble.

To the Chinese and Japanese this lacquer poisoning is no new thing. A Japanese scientist produced it with lacquer taken from an antique jar, which had been buried in a Japanese room for a thousand years. Its medical name is dermatitis, and it affects its victims much like our own American ivy poisoning.

And here's good news for common folks, who like their game of mah jongg: Ordinary, cheap sets are harmless. It's only the expensive, imported, lacquered kind that are dangerous!

ADDING JOY TO TRAVEL

No need for being bored by a trans-continental trip, if American railroads follow the innovation of the London & North Eastern Railway. It has added a movie car to the Scottish Express, its fastest train between London and Glasgow. Comfortable chairs, all facing one way, have been fitted into a darkened car. At one end is a screen big enough to carry the latest film successes. First-class passengers can buy a ticekt and take in the show.

Every Wife Should Know that Zam-Buk contains in most compact form all the essentials of a perfect ever-ready home skin medicine.

This grand herbal preparation is beautifully soothing for cuts, burns, scalds, etc., or for chafed and chapped skins. It removes all danger of germ-infection, poisoning or inflammation, and heals the most troublesome wound or sore with remarkable ease.

ZAM-BUK is "A Surgery in a Two-inch Box," useful for both Accidents and Skin Disease.

GUARDING BABE AGAINST GERMS.

A Baby Is Apt to Catch Germs If Any Diseased Person Comes Within Six Feet of It.

By ALBERT APPLE.

The train doesn't leave the track to hit the auto. The auto goes to the track, gets in the way of the train. This principle applies to safeguarding babies from disease germs.

Nature never intended babies to be what the medical profession calls "wandering units." To the contrary, she intended them to be "stationary units"—living in one spot until strong enough to creep and later walk away.

The infant in his cradle does not go out and "catch" germs. No! The germs are brought to the baby by outsiders—or else the baby is taken to the germs.

A baby's "zone of safety" is a distance six feet from where he lies. Baby is apt to catch germs if any diseased person ventures inside this safety zone—particularly common colds, tuberculosis, and other infections communicable by the breath.

No one with such a disease should ever pick up a baby. Anyone with, say, a cold should wear a mask when approaching.

Baby in the cradle has not developed powers of resistance against disease germs, though from mother's milk he gets a certain amount of what are known as "immunes."

Baby needs fresh air and sunshine. He can get these on a porch or in a well ventilated and sunlighted room.

When baby is wheeled out on the streets in its carriage, he begins to breathe dust, floating germs, poison gas from autos, etc. As civilization grows more congested and infections more common, it becomes increasingly dangerous to expose baby to streets.

The best place to raise a baby is on the second floor of a house, or even higher up if possible. Why? Because there are less dust, germs and poison auto exhaust than on the side-walk or first floor of a house.

This is especially true of poison exhaust from autos—for this gas clings near the ground, being heavy.

A baby specialist, who charges $100 for the advice contained in this editorial, says it is unsafe to wheel a baby along city streets until baby is about eight months old.

Old-timers may scoff and comment that such precautions were not taken years ago. No, and the baby death-rate was much higher then. Also, the air was purer.

Above all, keep people with chronic coughs away from babies. The most pronounced symptom of tuberculosis is the optimism of its victims. They usually believe they are going to get well, right up to their death. They further rarely believe it is "catching."

ARE YOU ALMOST A NERVOUS WRECK

Stop Worrying! Be Restored by a Home Treatment Costing Only Few Cents a Day

Nerve exhaustion is the result of using up the body's nerve power—the energy that keeps you vigorous, strong. Without vital nerve force the body becomes deadened; the mind becomes tortured with worry and fears; your worn out nerves seem actually to cry out in agony.

Women with overstrained nerves grow thin, pale, haggard and are prematurely old. Men who have exhausted their nervous systems find their way to success blocked by their own weakness.

There is no magic way to restore the nerves. Nerve power—the vital force of life—is created only within our bodies. When the body is so worn out that it can not store up nerve strength then it must have a restorative. Just as soon as we begin to restore our bodies so surely will we begin to regain nerve power and vitality.

There is a safe home treatment for nerve exhausted men and women; a treatment that is absolutely harmless and costs only a few cents a day. Get from your druggist at once a generous size bottle of Wincarnis, the restorative for sufferer from weakness and nerve failure. Take this Wincarnis treatment for twelve days and you will understand what it means to regain nerve power and vitality.

RACE OF PEOPLE TALK ONE WORD.

They Are Two Hundred and Fifty Savages That Live on the Banks of the Cauras River In Peru.

By ALBERT APPLE.

Here's a race of people whose language consists of only one word. This word is "Inge." It's used by a community of 250 savages who live on the banks of the Aauras River in Peru. Carret F. Hall, artist-explorer, returns to civilization and tells us about them.

When a crowd of these savages gets together for a talkfest, one of them says, "Inge." Presently another savage nods and answers, "Inge." If there is general agreement, the whole crowd choruses, "Inge." Sounds like a political meeting.

How would you like to live among them? After all, think what a fine arrangement it would be for the pests who bore you with their driveling gab. One word and they'd be talked out. Or, at an oil investigation, a witness wouldn't have to hem and haw or refuse to answer on advice of counsel. He'd simply say, "Inge"—and let the audience make its own guesses at what he meant.

It'd be an ideal system for newspapermen who wanted to get away to a ball game. Just send the paper to press with one word, "Inge"—thus telling everything with the utmost detail possible. Fine system for an editor cramped for space.

What word would you select if our language had to be weeded out and singled down to one word? The Babitts will make such selections as "patriotism," "mother," "loyalty" or "truth."

We know thirsty folk who'd select "Whisky," in the hope that if they said it often enough they'd finally find some kind-hearted party with a pre-war cellar.

For politicians we'd recommend "Bunk." Sufficiently repeated, it would make a good average political speech. Imagine a candidate swinging around the circle and haranguing his hearers: "Bunk, bunk, bunk, bunk!" The audience would listen awhile, nod their heads and comment to themselves, "I see the issues haven't changed since the last election. The campaign is to be fought out along regulation lines."

There are times when our radio speaks only one work: "Eee-e-e!"

Seriously, though, it was a great event in human history when the first word was invented. So began speech. It must have started with one word, possibly "Ouch!"

Language is our greatest invention. Humanity is like a baby, beginning with one word, gradually becoming fluently expressive.

Baby in the cradle, then gradually growing to maturity and finally ageing—this is symbolic of civilization. On this comparison, how old is humanity now? About two years?

WASHING WORN CURTAINS.

When the lace curtains are at the "breaking" stage, put them in a pillow-case and let them soak in a tub of soapy water and kerosene. Remove the curtains when water is dirty and repeat the process until the curtains are clean. In this way there will be no strain on the curtains to cause further tears.

THE WHOLE FAMILY WAS LAID UP WITH SEVERE COLDS

On the first appearance of a cough or cold our advice to you is to get rid of it before it has a chance to get worse; gets settled on the lungs, and causes bronchitis, pneumonia, or other serious lung troubles.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will immediately relieve the cold or cough on its inception.

Mrs. David Ayres, Kearney, Ont., writes: "Our whole family was laid up with severe colds, and we didn't seem to be able to get any relief from anything we used until, one day, a friend came in and told me we would be sure to get rid of our colds if we used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I decided to take her advice, and in no time our colds were all gone.

"Now, knowing the value of your remedy, we will always keep it on hand so as to have it in case of emergency."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 35c a bottle; large family size 60c; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HOW TO PREDICT THE HARD TIMES.

If the Gamblers Think Hard Times Are Coming the Stock Market Prices Fall.

By ALBERT APPLE.

Nearly all of us could make quite a bit of money now and then if we could "dope out" business conditions several months in advance. For instance, a man buying or building a home might be able to save a lot of cash if he knew whether prices later were going to rise or fall.

Prediction of business conditions formerly was as uncertain as predicting the weather months ahead. But now it is becoming almost an exact science.

* * *

The stock market rises or falls from three to six months in advance of general business conditions. If the gamblers think hard times are coming, stock market prices fall, anticipating depression. Similarly a bull market, with prices shooting upward, means that the gamblers are betting on good times ahead.

These prophetic movements in the stock market, of course, are the long-range tendencies. Trouble is, an outsider watching the market is apt to mistake a temporary setback or advance for a long range tendency. Then, too, even the most crafty of market speculators often guess incorrectly.

* * *

Another semi-scientific business barometer is the production of pig iron. Many experts think iron output rises or falls about six months ahead of general business conditions.

Shipments of freight over the railroads also anticipate general business trends. They reveal how manufacturers and retailers are "betting" on the future. But this form of prediction is too uncertain to place bets on, for sometimes freight movement is heaviest just before a smash. This was the case on the eve of the hard times that started about four years ago. Freight traffic had been big, most people believing that money would grow on trees forever.

* * *

The latest scientific business barometer, according to the Harvard Committee on Economic Research, is advertising in newspapers and magazines.

Some experts, however, think that advertising forecasts price changes rather than sales volume.

Lots of advertising means a general belief that times are going to be good. Newspaper advertising is more accurate in this respect being closer to the people. Magazine advertising in a general way reflects national conditions, while newspaper ads are more confined to the local situation.

A LUCKY FIND.

Returning from a visit to the garment makers of the big centers, Mr. B. Chesler reports having picked up a remarkable buy in dresses, coats and suits of the very highest grade and almost at his own price to clear the entire offering. A cash purchase secured such substantial concessions that Mr. Chesler promises in passing the purchase on to his customers, values that are really sensational. The goods are now in, and on sale for tomorrow.

Quarrymen Study Stones of Prehistoric Buildings.

BEDFORD, Ind., April 11.—(Associated Press).— Many different periods of history, some reaching back hundreds of years before Christ, are represented in specimens of stone being assembled by the Indiana Limestone Quarrymen's Association. When completed the collection is planned to constitute a complete history of stone, and include every variety known. Stone carvings from all ages traced by historians and Egyptologists are being gathered.

Most valuable of the material already obtained is the collection of stone furniture and tablets recently dug from the tomb of Tel-El-Amrana and now being sent here by the Egypt Exploration Society, for exhibition during the spring conferences of architects and builders.

Is Your Chief Executive Insured?

SHAREHOLDERS in any limited liability company should see to it that their chief executive is insured in favor of the company. Reorganization, if the chief's death occurred, might otherwise be expensive or well nigh impossible. A fund of ready cash would be required by which redistribution of the stock held by the widow or other heirs might be facilitated.

The most economical business insurance is a policy in the Mutual Life of Canada. A Mutual Life policy provides insurance at net cost in a company ranking among the soundest of Canada's institutions.

Sunlight—for your Washing Machine

A WASHING machine is made to wash your clothes without rubbing or boiling — and it succeeds just in proportion to the value of the soap you use.

Sunlight Soap dissolves quickly and completely in hot water and works up into an abundant suds. This is very necessary so that its rich cleansing ingredients may search through and through the meshes of the clothes and dissolve the dirt and soil spots. Then, when rinsing comes, all dirt and soapy matter runs entirely away, leaving your clothes sweet, fresh and snowy clean.

The pure lather of Sunlight Soap cleanses the clothes naturally, not chemically. The $5,000 Guarantee of Purity is stamped on every tablet of Sunlight Soap.

Pare half a cake of Sunlight into hot water in your machine and stir into generous suds. Put in the clothes and operate the machine—your clothes will be clean.

DAINTY ARBUTUS DOOMED USELESS.

Unless the Laws Intervene and Protect This Daintiest Gem of Nature Which Is Sought For In Early Spring.

APPLETON, Wis., April 11. — (Associated Press).—Trailing arbutus, sometimes described as "daintiest gem of nature," faces extinction in the not far distant future because of the fact that it is too eagerly sought by thousands of wild flower enthusiasts in the early spring, according to Prof. Walter E. Rogers of the Department of Botany, Lawrence College, here.

Prof. Rogers sees a remedy for saving the disappearing arbutus by the enactment of State conservation laws similar to those protecting game.

Every spring thousands of persons search the north country for trailing arbutus and the inroads made upon the dainty flower, especially by those who make a practice of selling it in the larger cities, are becoming a menace, according to the botanist.

"As fair as any, in its contrast of delicate pink and pearl with the dark emerald of its foliage, and exhaling a fragrance thought by many to be unsurpassed, this species seems destined to disappear from the State in the not far distant future," says Prof. Rogers. "It is wild as a hawk and cannot be tamed. It already has disappeared from large sections of the country and probably it cannot now be saved except through the enactment of 'game' laws for plants similar to those we have at present for our birds."

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY

Prudence Page—a pretty country girl, is slowly recovering from her infatuation with

Bert Traymore—a fascinating, unscrupulous philanderer. Prudence is mystified to discover him digging at the foot of an elm tree in a secluded spot, where he has evidently concealed something, but she speaks of the incident to no one.

Janet Mercer—Prudence's friend, an older woman, plain but clever, is relieved to find the girl becoming indifferent to Traymore, whom she dislikes. Janet is in love with Will Ogilvie, whom she intends to marry some day. In the meantime she is masseuse to the delicate child of Mrs. Vansittart—a pleasure-loving, woman-of-the-world, owner of Winston Towers.

Virginia Dale—her ward, is a calculating beauty, who counts Traymore among her many swains. She is genuinely interested in

Peter Armstrong—a brilliant young inventor, clever and ambitious, who has evinced considerable liking for Prudence. Virginia, aware that Prudence is a dangerous rival, plans to do the girl harm in some way.

Janet warns Prudence of Virginia's determination to "win" Peter.

Prudence is invited to 'fill in' at a dinner party at Winston Towers.

Prudence surveys herself in the mirror with a pleasurable feeling of excitement as she makes ready for Mrs. Vansittart's dinner.

Mrs. Vansittart discovers that she has been robbed of her diamond earrings and $1,000 in notes. A search reveals them in the fold of Prudence's sash!

Everyone is convinced of the girl's guilt even Mrs. Vansittart.

Prudence runs away from home, heartbroken. On the way to New York she loses her purse.

CHAPTER XLII

A Prayer

"Whatever shall I do?" Over and over in the girl's distraught brain the helpless, hopeless thought reiterated.

A dollar and fifty cents with which to face the world. No, there was another fifty-cent piece that she hadn't counted! That made two dollars.

But—could one get a bed in the city for that price?

Her lamentable ignorance of life rushed at her like a devastating torrent, almost submerging her with terror of the future.

What was there for a girl like her to do?

The monotonous murmur of the wheels got on her nerves until she could have screamed aloud. They seemed to taunt her with a sound like: "Nothing . . nothing . . nothing." . . . over and over again, in a jibing refrain.

How long did the train take, until it reached the city?

Twenty minutes past eleven now! New York was a long way off. Three hours journey, wasn't it? That would mean an arrival at nearly half past two!

Oh, what had she done, to run away like this? Where could she go, destitute of money, and certainly destitute of friends?

Then she remembered a woman-friend of Janet Mercer's, who ws caretaker of a huge block of offices somewhere in the city. Midhurst Buildings was the name. They were old and gloomy, and the woman and her husband had a tiny apartment, right at the top of them, on the seventh floor.

Janet Mercer sometimes stayed overnight there, on her infrequent visits to New York. She had described the quaint abode to Prudence, who had been much intrigued at the description.

"Like living in a bird's-nest at the top of a very tall tree," Janet had laughed.

Mrs. Smith, the caretaker, had met Prudence once, down in the country, and had hospitality told the girl that if ever she wanted a bed in town, she would put her up.

"But I don't know where Midhurst Buildings are!" thought the frightened run-away, fervently wishing she'd stood ground at home, and got her nerve to tell Mrs. Vansittart, quietly and coherently, how truly innocent she was of the unfortunate affair at Winston Towers.

"It will look exactly as though I were guilty!" she thought miserably, as the train whirled her at express speed through the night.

But the longest, dreariest journey does come to an end, and at half past two, a.m., the weary girl found herself in the big, deserted terminus with a few sleepy porters staring curiously at her, and not a place to go.

She went out into the streets and tried a quiet-appearing hotel.

But the night porter wouldn't let her in. It was strictly against his orders, he told the girl, with an unpleasant wink, to admit stray young women without luggage.

Prudence felt great waves of shame sweep over her, and blindly turned away.

Even though it meant courting sure rebuff, she tried another hotel or two, only to meet with similar experience. No, they had no room for her. The wording was sometimes curt, very often brutal, but even when the hotel-clerk put it kindly, saving the place was 'full', she was made to feel her position openly.

Twice she asked the way to Midhurst Buildings. No one knew its whereabouts.

Once a furtive-looking creature spoke to her, mumbling something in her ear. Prudence, terrified, turned and ran, for nearly a mile.

There, panting for breath, she leant against some buildings, until a burly policeman told her brusquely to 'move on, please.'

Feeling like a criminal, she dragged on to a big open square. It was an extraordinarily hot night for May, and not a breath of air was stirring.

In the square ten down-and-outers slumbered, flotsam and jetsam flung hither and thither by life.

"Shall I become like one of these, one day?" thought the heartsick girl, vistas of a friendless future rising up before her, without home, money, friends, or love.

What would Peter Armstrong think, if he could see her now? Tomorrow the countryside would ring with the story of the theft. Would he believe her guilty?

This sudden flight would bear out the story, wouldn't it? She hadn't paused to think of that.

Yet—oh no—she wasn't sorry she had come, ghastly as the present was. She couldn't have stayed on at Green Gables, facing the ignominy that would await her.

Dragging her weary feet onwards, she almost stumbled over a bicycle, with a man sleeping on the ground beside it.

And all around the square, some even lying on the parpet of the pool, boots off and head hanging over the water, as though threatening every moment to fall in, were a slumbering people!

If only she could lie down there, and die!

But somewhere deep in the heart of the little country girl, timid of life as she was, from inexperience, there lurked a fighting instinct.

She would make good. She would live down this hateful story. Circumstances—hateful, cruel as they were—she wasn't going to let them keep her down!

Behind all this pain and injustice there must be some good reason. Things would work out for the best in the end, if only she had courage, and kept a stout heart.

But—in the meantime—where to lay her head? Hotels wouldn't accept her. It was futile to continue that depressing search.

Across the street she saw a red lamp burning, before a big church, with a flight of steps going up to the light, "the lamp of the doctor of souls," it was called.

All night long, those hospitable doors stood open. Anyone might enter, and find sanctuary. Home of the homeless!

Prudence stood before the ever-burning lamp, and prayed that help might come to her. .

You'll Get Rid of Blackheads Sure

There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxines powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dirt and dust and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The peroxine powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

MAKING MAKE MONEY MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

Every complete business can be divided into four main divisions.

Although a large business may have many departments they can all be classified under four main heads as follows:

1. Finance. Naturally proper financing is the first step. Some one must have saved up enough capital to start the business, and it must be administered wisely.

2. Production. It stands to reason that something must be produced if any business is to be done in it.

3. Sales. The selling organization is likely to be the most conspicuous, which leads many business men to over-value it.

4. Accounting. The aim of accounting is to classify the data of the business to bring out essential facts, concerning costs and efficiency. This enables the executive to keep the other divisions and the business as a whole running smoothly and profitably.

Sometimes we find a business which does not have all four divisions, but it is not a complete unit and it must buy any division that is lacking within itself.

No division is supreme in itself. All must co-ordinate if the business is to be permanently profitable.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Earton

MISTER HINKY DINKY

"Hello, Hinky," called the little pipe-cleaner man.

"Come along and see Hinky Dink!" said Mister Fuzz Wuzz to the Twins.

So away they all skipped through Doofunny Land till they came to the place Hinky Dink lived.

There he was sitting on his front porch, nodding his head pleasantly up and down, up and down, up and down, as much as to say "Everything is all right—the world is a fine place."

"Hello, Hinky," called the little pipe-cleaner man.

"Why, hello, Fuzzy," answered the other pleasantly, but not stopping his nodding for a minute. "And who are your friends?"

"Nancy and Nick, the Twins," introduced Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "We've come for a story. Do you know any to-day?"

"Yes, I always know a story," nodded Hinky Dink. It's the only story I know. It's about me, and it's sad."

"Oh, come now, Hinky, you certainly don't look sad," declared his visitors. "Won't you tell us?"

"With pleasure," smiled Hinky Dink. "I hope my nodding doesn't make you nervous."

"One day i was sitting in a store with my hundred brothers, when a lady came in and said she wanted to buy favors for a birthday party. I don't know yet what favors are, but, anyway, she picked me out with a lot of other things in the store, and took us home.

"The next thing I knew I was on a lovely dinner table with a big birthday cake covered with candles. And the table had lovely silver things on it and flowers and dishes, and glasses so fine they looked as though a breath would melt them."

"I was sitting beside a beautiful china plate, and who should be standing at the place next to mine but the lovliest tissue-paper dancer I ever looked at.

"She balanced on one foot and her pink skirts were made of paper rose-leaves. She was so beautiful I almost cried for joy.

"I nodded, and she nodded back in the friendliest way. I really fell in love with he. I couldn't take my eyes off her, she was so lovely.

"By and by the children came in. A little girl picked up my beautiful dancer; but a boy got me, and the first thing he did was to try to find out how I was made. He gave my head a jerk and, of course, it came off. It's only balanced on, anyway.

"Just then I heard a shriek, and looking I saw that my dancer had fainted. She had lost her balance and fallen over in a plate of icecream.

"The boy put my head back where it belonged, and the dancer came to, but she wouldn't look at me again. No doubt her nerves were shocked at seeing a headless man. I don't suppose I looked very beautiful.

"The boy took me home, and I sat on the mantel-piece for months, my heart slowly breaking when I thought of my dancer.

"One day, at house-cleaning time, they said I was dusty and threw me into the ash-can, so I came here to live. I never saw my dancer again. I often wonder if she wound up in the ash-can also."

"Don't you worry, Hinky Dink," cried Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "I think I know something. Come on, Nancy and Nick, I want to find out if I'm right. We'll be back to see you tomorrow, Mister Nodder. Keep up your courage."

Icepacks in Baltic Worst In Many Years.

KIEL, Germany, April 11.—(Associated Press).—Ships in the Baltic Sea traffic had such trouble with ice in February, and were frozen in so often, that many of them were ready to believe the climate of the Artic had shifted. The German warship Braunschweig, which has just returned to this port after weeks of work in relieving icebound steamers, was the only craft able to cope with the unusually heavy ice.

At times the Braunschweig cut out as many as 20 steamers in 12 hours. British, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, Russian, Finnish, Latvian and Esthonian ships were rescued. Sometimes the ships were frozen in for several days and their crews were out of provisions before help reached them.

FABLES ON HEALTH

BEWARE OF DUST GERMS

When Mrs. Mann turned to her spouse upon a certain Saturday afternoon and bade him go find the carpet-beater, there was no longer any doubt in Mr. Mann's mind.

Spring was there!

And soon the dust was flying, which brings us to the moral of this tale:

In domestic hygiene it should be recorded that dust can be extremely dangerous. During the winter there has probably been considerable sickness in the house. Germs have moved in and remained.

The vacuum cleaner method is hygienically better, because it sucks up the dirt and scatters none of it. Also a damp cloth or a dustless duster is preferable to the ordinary dry duster.

Sunlight is nature's best disinfectant. Open the house to the sun and let it destroy the germs with which it comes in contact.

And don't forget the cellar when the spring cleaning is on. Here are gathered many of the germs during the winter months, particularly if vegetables and fruits have been stored there. Give it plenty of ventilation.

A barrage of breakfast table questions left Mr. Mann quite stunned as he hastened to the office.

"Say, what's calcium?" he asked his stenographer.

"Electric lights, of course."

But that didn't seem to fit the situation. So he called on the physical director.

"It's what youngsters need. And by the way, if you got better acquainted with it you might be worried less about incipient diabetes and acidosis," the director said "The better known name for it is lime.

"Maybe you have never wondered why orange juice was recommended for breakfast. Fruit juices are rich in calcium.

"Young animals that get insufficient calcium are undersized and have poor appetites. Sunlight has some peculiar influence upon it, turning it into a form of energy; that's why the light gets its name. Also calcium in the blood is important in maintaining the action of the heart muscle.

"Thus, in many severe heart cases, a salt solution is administered. Give the kids lots of calcium early in life and they can deposit it in the well of the arteries and in the bones. It is great for building up the bones of the body.

"Give the youngsters fruit juices and they'll store up calcium against a rainy day."

Fables on health

Japanese children, whose garments were destroyed in the earthquake, are wearing American flour sacks of cotton as undercloths. A semicircle, cut from the seamed end, affords a hole for the neck and slicing off each corner adjacent permits the arms to wave freely. In most instances the lettered advertisements remain, with the result that many localities in the United States are well-known to the young folks.

Neuralgic headaches

So acutely painful! Get relief quickly. Apply Sloan's. Just pat it gently on. Almost at once the pain eases off—soon the headache is gone. Get a bottle from your druggist today and have it on hand—35 cents. It will not stain.

CAMPBELLFORD WOMEN ACTIVE

Many Meetings of Organizations Held in Trent Town—Personal News.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11.—A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Peckett, Queen Street on Monday night when the daughter Dorothy had a birthday party.

In honor of her eleventh birthday about eighteen girls and boys were entertained at her home from five to nine thirty p.m. The young guests presented her with some very nice presents. The time was spent playing games, peanut hunt, guessing contests and all had the privilege of listening to the radio. A very dainty lunch was served and as the young folks went to their homes they all expressed the appreciation of the good time they had.

Lucky ones getting money from the birthday cake were Lillian Poulton and Walter Peckett.

I.O.D.E. Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Bemersyde Chapter of the I.O.D.E. was held in the Public Library on Tuesday night at eight o'clock. Miss H. Atkinson the Regent was in the chair. Fifteen members were present. After the regular opening business was over plans were talked over arranging for a home cooking sale and afternoon tea. The date is fixed for Saturday, May 3, 1924.

Committees were appointed for the different booths.

A Sudden Death.

Word was received here of Mrs. David Stuart, (mother of Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Queen Street) taking a stroke at her home near Codrington, Monday forenoon. Mr. Stuart was away on his mail route and when he returned he found her lying on the floor, beside teh tubs, where she had been washing. In spite of all possible care she died the same night. The funeral will take place on Thursday to McPhail's Cemetery near Wooler. Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Anderson in this sudden bereavement.

Mizpah Mission Circle.

The April meeting of the Mizpah Mission Circle of the Methodist Church was held on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. C. W. Turner, the honorary president, at 8 o'clock. Miss Kier, the president presided. There were nine member present and one visitor. After the business of reports by the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Turner treasurer of the W.M.S. gave a final report of the "Made in Canada" sale held during the winter. After all expenses were paid the Circle's share amounted to $110.55. This amount was handed over to the Circle Treasurer. During the evening's program, Mrs Harnden read the Scripture lesson. Miss Hattie Redden gave the devotional leaflet reading "The Songs of Repentance." Mrs. S. Chessel gave a reading, "How a Japaneses Girl's Life was Saved Through a Kind Word." Miss Nelly W. Hoover sang very sweetly a solo "The Pilot of Gallilee." Some plans were made to help in the O.T.A. work. On motion Mrs. J. Harnden was appointed delegate from the Circle to the branch meeting to be held in Port Hope the first week in June.

Social Evening.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Matthew Sergeant, Sr. on Tice Street, Monday night in honor of her organized class "The Ever Ready Girls" of Christ Church Sunday school. The business was first brought up and officers were elected for the coming year.

The following is the list of officers:

Honorary President, Mrs. Sergeant, Sr.; President, Miss Alice Sergeant; Vice-President, Miss Gladys Baker; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Dorothy Southern.

The rest of the evening was spent in games, music and dancing. Refreshments were then served.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Dunn for his music for dancing. About eleven o'clock the girls left, thanking their hostess for the most enjoyable evening.

Reception.

A large reception for Mr. and Mrs. Jones of Meyersburg who have just returned from spending their honeymoon in Toronto, was held on Monday night, at their home. About one hundred of their friends in the neighborhood met to spend the evening and during the evening presented the bride and groom with an oak library table. The gift was brought in and Mr. Wm. Clarke in a few words of congratulation and good wishes made the presentation. Mr. Jones on behalf of himself and wife, thanked all those who had helped in giving them such a handsome present.

The evening was spent in contests, games and music and at the close all enjoyed the refreshments. The large company all joined in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Jones the greatest happiness and long life to them both.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Barringer of Warkworth spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. Peter Scott, near Meyersburg.

Mrs. Sloggett, Sr., is very ill and Miss Llewella Archer, R.N. has been called to nurse her. Mrs. Sloggett is a very old lady and her family are very anxious.

Miss Darrell, who has been visiting in Toronto for six weeks returned to her home at Dr. H. B. Longmores', George Street, last week.

Mrs. Robert Moore, Grand Road, is in Picton this week attending a convention in connection with the Rebekahs.

Mrs. George Foreman who bought the residence on Tice Street, from Mr. R. Ballantyne, has moved in from the farm and will reside in town. While getting settled, Mrs. Foreman was the guest of Mrs. Joseph Hore, Grand Road.

Mrs. David Mitchell, Grand Road, is spending this week in Brighton, with her mother and sister, Mrs. Davidson and Miss Lillian.

Miss Gladys Costley, Hastings Road, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs Bernard Davey at Wilton.

Mrs. Claude Hankinson, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Abernethy and other friends returned to her home in Rochester on Wednesday.

AIRPLANE DESTROYS INSECTS

MANILA, April 10.—A unique plan for the extermination of locusts which have made inroads on sugar cane fields in several parts of the Philippines, has been completed by the plant pest control division of the bureau of agriculture.

An airplane is to be used in scattering poison dust on the locusts in the breeding stages in the hills and tall grass, where men on foot find difficulty in penetrating. A hopper filled with the poison dust has been attached to the plane and the dust spreader, which is connected with the engine, can be controlled by a lever.

KOREANS RETURN TO TOKIO

TOKIO, April 11.—(Associated Press).—Korean laborers, who left Japan in large numbers after the September earthquake, immediately after which hundreds of them were killed by Japanese in the panics of the disaster, are beginning to return to this country in search of work. The port returns of Shimonoseki, principal gateway for Japan-Korea traffic, shows that recently about 150 Koreans a day have been entering Japan.

APOLOGIES FOR COMMONS FIGHT

Labor Member Withdrew Epithet That Angered Col. Amery, Who Asked That the Incident Be Forgotten — Speaker Demands Decorum.

LONDON, April 11 (Canadian Press Cable).—The affray in the House of Commons Wednesday night just after adjournment when Lt.-Col. L. C. Amery, former first lord of the admiralty, and G. Buchanan, labor member for the Gorbals division of Glasgow, came to blows as an outcome of the warm feeling aroused over the evictions bill was referred to in the house today just after question time by the speaker of the house, J. H. Whitley.

The speaker deprecated the habit which had been growing recently of members flinging unparliamentary expressions across the floor of the house during debate. He said he expected the house to support him in ending the habit.

Cheers greeted this expression of confidence that the members would assist in maintaining the orderly procedure of the house.

Would Have Named Them

Only for the automatic adjournment of the house when the disturbance began, the speaker said he would have named the guilty members. He added that in future if a disturbance occurred and the credit of parliament was involved he probably would inflict the lesser penalty for such, namely, one day's suspension. He was determined to protect the good name of parliament, he declared.

Unreserved Withdrawal

Mr. Buchanan said he regretted what had occurred and he unreservedly withdrew the expression, "a little swine and guttersnipe," which he had applied to Col. Amery during the debate and which had led to the disturbance at adjournment. He had used the expression, he explained, in consequence of irritation due to Col. Amery's reference in his speech to the poor people he, Buchanan, represented. He also regretted having caused the speaker pain.

This apology drew cheers from the house.

Lt.-Col. Amery said he gladly accepted Mr. Buchanan's frank expression of regret, and he hoped Mr. Buchanan would bear him no ill will for the action taken in the heat of the moment. Col. Amery assured the member for Gorbals that he, Col. Amery, did not intend in his speech last night to make light of the sufferings of the unemployed.

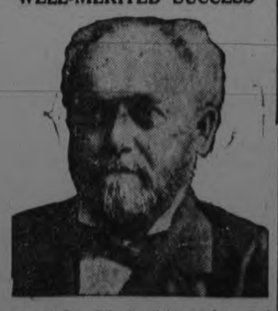
More cheers followed, and everybody appeared satisfied with this happy issue of the untoward incident.

More Drunken Drivers In March Than Before.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Figures made public in the Traffic Court revealed that more automobile drivers were arraigned in March for operating cars while intoxicated than in any previous month. Twenty-seven of the 5,777 persons arraigned faced this charge. On speeding charges 1,080 persons were arraigned, 102 being second offenders and 10 accused of three or more offenses. Terms in the workhouse running from one to ninety days were imposed on 315, and 164 elected to serve from one to thirty days in lieu of paying fines.

Fines collected amounted to $38,185. Of taxicab chauffeurs 1,447 were arraigned. Seven chauffeurs' licenses were revoked.

WELL-MERITED SUCCESS



A distinguished citizen, honored politically and professionally, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, made a success few have equalled. His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for fifty years are still among the "best sellers." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and stomach alterative. It clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and the circulation, and pimples and eruptions vanish quickly. Beauty is but skin deep and good blood is beneath both. For your blood to be good, your stomach must be in condition, your liver active. This Discovery of Doctor Pierce's puts you in fine condition with all the organs active. Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10 cents for trial package of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Labratory in Bridgeburg, Ontario.

PATRIOTIC FRENCH BANDIT ONCE ARRESTED IN THE UNITED STATES HONORED AS HE DIES A CONVICT

By MINOTT SAUNDERS.

PARIS, April 11—(United Press)—With the death of Baptistan Travail at the Ile de Re convict prison in the Bay of Biscay, the career of perhaps the most notorious French cracksman of modern times has come to an unhappy end. He was a veritable Jimmy Valentine.

Travail practiced banditry and thievery with high intelligence and professional pride. His acts of daring were tempered by a charming courtesy and sincere patriotism. He made one noble gesture that endeared him to the people of France to such an extent that there is genuine sorrow because the pardon, which was planned for him, could not reach him in time.

During the war he was in Berne, Switzerland, because detectives were hounding him in his own country. Among his acquaintances were some German and Austrian spies, as well as allied agents. Through them he learned that the Allies wanted some important documents that were supposed to be locked in the safe of the Austrian Embassy.

Inspired by patriotism and without a word to anyone, he broke into the Embassy building one night and found the safe. His experienced instinct told him that there was an infernal machine attached to the safe door. Baptistan didn't take a chance. He went to the back of the safe and sawed an opening big enough to permit him to reach in. He got the vital documents and, incidentally, picked up 200,000 lire in notes. He managed this in the Ambassador's private office and got away without being detected.

The documents were promptly turned over to allied agents—Baptistan kept the money—and a large sum was offered him as a reward. But he refused to accept it, declaring that he was an outlaw and it was the only way he could think of to serve his country.

The documents consisted of important naval plans of the Central Powers and, most important, sketches of defenses on the Austrian front. Transmitted quickly to the Italian War Office, they enabled the Italians to gain important victories. High Italian officers recommended a decoration to the man who secured the documents, but Baptistan had disappeared.

Travail started life as a rubber exporter in Brazil, but gave up honest work and became an expert burglar and highway robber. He was caught in New York and extradited and served ten years in France. When he was released he organized a gang of burglars.

He had many adventures. On a voyage from Marseilles to Bastia he broke into the liner's strong-room and stole 260,000 francs, which he replaced by a packet of newspapers, and got away. With accomplices he robbed the Indian mail near Miramus.

Baptistan had a sense of humor. While preparations were being made for the gala victory parade of July 14, 1919, he and several accomplices with ladders, flags, bunting, electrical supplies and all equipment went to police headquarters and proceeded to decorate the place. They did their work well; so well that after they left the discovery was made that the police safe had been opened and all the money and valuables taken.

He was arrested shortly afterwards and sentenced to penal servitude in French Guiana. During the trial he never mentioned his exploit at Berne.

Baptistan never committed murder, and always cautioned his associates not to make such a mistake. When he was arrested in New York two revolvers were taken from his coat pockets.

"Aha," said the detective, "we were told that you would not shoot!"

"Pistols are always useful," replied the bandit, "but you will notice, gentlemen, that mine are not loaded."

And they were not.

FEW WOMEN GIVEN CREDIT DUE THEM.

Men Have Made It Much Easier For Women to Create and Do Big Things in the World.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Housekeeping and home-making is as much of a career as writing, painting or any other sort of endeavor outside of the home.

And Miss Ruth Cross, fast coming up as a successful author, declares it is time to give credit where credit is due.

"Today," she says, "we feel that a woman who isn't trying to do three or four other things besides being a wife and a mother and keeping a home, is falling back in the procession.

"And it's all wrong! If a woman is called upon to attend to the numerous details that come up in a day with the average housekeeper, she has enough to do without anything more. And she should be regarded as just as much an executive as the woman who runs an office or performs on the stage.

"Men have made it much easier for men to create and do big things in the world, by shoving all the little jobs, and the big one of housekeeping, on the women. The great majority of women prefer housekeeping and homemaking to other careers, but they get little credit for it."

But, what if a woman desires both home life and career? Miss Cross was asked.

"That's another problem,' 'she replied. "Perhaps, in the future, we will understand why a man and woman, both working at professions, may be happier living apart, after the fashion of Fanny Hurst and her husband, or taking a year's vacation from each other, like Thera Samter Winslow and her husband.

"It is truly a big problem, this one of adjusting home life and career, if a woman must have both."

Miss Cross recently came into New York from Texas with a novel and some plays and short stories in her trunk, all of which she had sold within a week of her arrival here. Her first novel, "The Golden Cocoon,' has just been published.

Asked how she did it, she replied: "It isn't my first trip. I came here a few years ago, lived in an attic, got manuscripts back on every mail and had all the trials of a beginner. Then I went back home and dug for a few years and came back with a different supply."

"MEN, MAIDENS AND MANTILLAS"

Every now and then a romance is written by accident.

When fate and fortune combined to give Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chapin May a year in which + travel where and ho wthey would, they elected to cross the Atlantic, find a rose-covered cottage in Cornwall and settle down for a year. Nearly every one who writes for a living has some such plan in mental storage.

The Mays started from Chicago for Cornwall. But before they left their native shores they decided upon a brief return to their honeymoon town, New Orleans. After twelve years of happy wedded life, they sought their old haunts in New Orleans' French Quarter.

Just a day's journey west of New Orleans was San Antonio of romantic memory. Mrs. May had not been in "San Antone." They went there and stayed a month. Mexico beckoned them. It was just across the Rio Grande. It was redolent of mystery, romance and impending trouble. They went to Mexico City—and then they kept on going.

Eventually, instead of a rose-covered cottage in Cornwall they had an adobe house, a flower-bedecked pati, and a Chilian-Indian servant in Santiago de Chili. They lived and travelled for months in "the California of South America."

Before they reached Chili they had stopped in Central America, Panama, Colombia and Ecuador, and had travelled much through Peru and Bolivia. After they left Chili they travelled other thousands of miles through Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil and the West Indies. In Mexico they crossed from the northern border to the Pacific and surveyed the trouble-torn public from Texas to Manzanillo. In Peru they visited the old Inca capital, Cuzco. In Bolivia they were guests at the presidential palace in La Paz, on the highest inhabited plateau in the world. They topped the Andean range five times. They met all kinds of people in all sorts of strange places.

And out of all this travel and all these experiences came not only the living romance of man and wife enjoying a second honeymoon after a dozen years of wedded happiness, going where they wished, staying as long as they wished, doing just what they wished. There also came the written romance, "Men, Maidens and Mantillas" (Century Company), by Stella Burke May.

Technically, it is a travel book; actually, it is the log of a rare and delightful journey told with the charm and sympathy which one would expect from an Irish woman born on American soil. It may not have been written with that in view, but the book reads like a romance.

The travellers saw plenty of scenery and Stella Burke May describes it skilfully, but the most convincing and alluring of the many chapters in the book deal with the men, women, girls and boys she came to know in the southern countries where the mantilla was once the orthodox headdress of the daughters of Spanish dons and where the Spanish influence is still strong upon the land.

Perhaps the most surprising feature of the book is the discovery, outlined on almost every page, of forward looking, vital, ambitious, self-determined Latin-American women who within a few years will place themselves among the front ranks of the women we are pleased to call feminists. Latin-America is the home of the dominant man but if we may believe "Men, Maidens and Mantillas," he will soon have to share his power with his freedom seeking womankind.

YOUR GARDEN

GARDEN PRACTICE.

There are two classes of insects against which the gardener has constantly to be on guard.

One variety is commonly known as the "biting" or "chewing" species.

They attack the foliage and often fruits of the plant.

In this class belong potato bugs, cabbage worms, most caterpillars and other pests.

Arsenate of lead will ordinarily dispose of them. But the preparation must be handled with care as it is a poison.

You can best apply it with a common hand-spray pump.

Paris green is also an effective insecticide.

To prepare it for use, mix one spoonful of paris green with ten spoonfuls of slaked lime. Mix thoroughly and then empty on a square piece of cheesecloth.

Next pick up the four corners of the improvised bag thus formed and go through your rows, gently shaking the contents over the plants.

After using such poisons be very sure to wash the vegetables thoroughly before using.

For combating sucking insects ranging in size from a needle-point up, such preparations as "nikoteen," or "black leaf 40," are recommended.

Sucking pests usually adhere in masses to the under side of leaves.

Some hard-shelled insects must be removed by hand as they seem immune from poison. But at any rate clear your garden of the invaders before they get the ripening fruit and flowers.

To prevent potato scab, mix one-third pint of formaldehyde in ten gallons of water, put your seed potatoes in a porous sack and let hang in the solution two hours. Then cut and plant.

For blight and other fungus diseases on tomatoes, potatoes and other root crops, spray with Bordeaux mixture.

It is also a good practice to cover some young plants with mosquito-netting while they are attaining growth should they seem subject to parasite attack.

Sprinkling lime around the stem (not under the soil) of cucumber vines will halt ravage by beetles.

Tobacco preparations are generally adapted to suppression of insect invasion in flower beds.

In addition to keeping your garden free of pests, don't forget to give the plants plenty of air provided by frequent stirring of the soil.

Don't sprinkle with any device which will tear up the soil.

And after you have sprinkled, hoe the ground to prevent baking in the sun. However, don't do your hoeing while the soil is still wet. That will make clumps.

Crossing experiments are open to the gardener whose plot is in successful bloom.

To cross plants for the purpose of obtaining new and interesting varieties, a camel's hair brush and magnifying glass should constitute the equipment of the average amateur.

It is best, at first, to cross a flower of one pure color with that of another, as results can best be watched in that way.

The poppy, gladiolus and petunia are especially adapted to such experiments.

Aided by the magnifying glass, remove the pollen from one flower with your camel's hair brush and transfer the pollen to the second bloom of a different color.

Carefully mark with a string or cloth the flower used in the experiment and collect the seed in the fall by tying a paper bag over the crossed bloom.

From this stage you may progress on and on to what may lead to a fascinating study.

THE REFEREE

WHY?

Why do unpleasant stories attract more attention than pleasant ones? Why, for instance, does the thief have a big audience in fiction or the news, while an honest man is usually ignored?

Asked these questions, William Allen White says he doesn't know. A surprising answer, for a veteran editor.

"Unpleasant stories," notably crime, gets attention because they are the exceptions. One man with a dagger or pistol arrests the attention of the 108 million Americans who are not murderers.

The unusual is news. The unusual in fiction is the spotlight getter. Most people are reasonably decent, law-abiding and honest—so much so that the exception excites general curiosity.

RED-HATS.

Suit cases are getting larger, approaching trunk-like dimensions. And tips from travelers are shrinking. So lament the Red-Hats who carry luggage between railroad station and train. In some sections, it's complained that the average tip is only seven cents. People have learned a lesson in economy. Fewer quarters and halves are tossed about than in the post-war boom when money grew on trees.

The Red-Hats say there's only one human practice that hasn't changed—the tendency, of travelers with the heaviest luggage, to pay the Red-Hat the least for his services.

FORGERS.

Forgers cause the nation a yearly lost of at least 50 million dollars, claims a bonding company. It's an old story. You read it year after year.

Meantime, the nation spends several times 50 million dollars to protect itself against forgery. Is the game worth the candle? It certainly is. Without this expensive vigilance, forgery losses would be many times as big as now. Proetction always is expensive, and nearly always it is worth the cost, times over.

WITCH-DOCTOR.

A "girl psychic" in Kansas, now being investigated by scientists, was made so famous by mouth-to-mouth gossip that she received 800,000 letters asking such things as how to recover lost articles and locate missing persons.

Eight hunderd thousand!—and all before she got newspaper publicity How many people believe in luck and the supernatural? A guess of 99 out of 100 might not be far off.

FORWARD.

Machinery and science have worked such magic on the farm that 866 bushels of wheat are now grown on the same acreage that grew only 543 in 1850. These are average figures for the whole country.

Machinery has increased production even more, in cities.

In the last analysis, is the farmer much better off than his ancestor of the days before the Civil War? Or the city man? The answer depends on how you define happiness. If money and material possessions are the measures, machinery has brought progress. The prices in character development and wholesome enjoyment of life—that price is fearfully high.

THROWING MONEY AWAY EVERY DAY.

Man Throws Pocketbook Away, Another Picks It Up and Finds $44.00 In It.

By ALBERT APPLE.

A rag-picker named Harry Caine works in a shoddy mill at Springfield, Vt. As he was sorting the endless stream of rags the other day, he found a woman's pocketbook. It was old and dirty and torn. Harry gave it a glance and threw it on the floor.

Another fellow saw it fall. He picked it up, went through it carefully, even explored inside the lining—and found $44.

Aesop would have taken this story and made it into a fable with this moral: "Good opportunities are thrown away daily by people who do not recognize them."

* * *

What is opportunity? Most of us consider it just another name for good luck. The average person's idea of opportunity is something that comes unexpectedly to the fortunate and fairly shouts: "Here I am. Didn't expect me, did you? Big money—all ready for you to pluck, like ripe fruit."

There are, to be true, many opportunities of this sort. Legacies, for instance, and the occasional "lucky strike" by gold and oil prospectors. But for each big success of this kind, there are thousands of failures.

The Klondike gold boom! Men-tion of it immediately calls to mind men who found yellow nuggets and became millionaires overnight. We forget the thousands who found very little gold, the other thousands who starved and froze to death seeking gold.

* * *

For every opportunity that "grows on trees," that comes unexpectedly like a windfall, there are hundreds of opportunities that are MADE.

Opportunity exists in everything. Few see it. You have, for instance, known cases where a new manager took a rundown business and built it up to a tremendous success. The opportunity was less in the business itself than in his own ability, hard work and determination.

Many a humble job is held by scores of men, one after the other, who seem to drift right on through and leave the job no better than they started. Finally comes the exception. He uses the job as a stepping-stone, as his OPPORTUNITY. He does small thing in a better, shorter way—thus training himself to be capable to handle a better job. Later he is promoted, eventually becomes head of the whole business.

Opportunity is occasionally blown in by the winds, but not often. Usually opportunity has to be CREATED. In other words, success generally is up to the individual himself rather than his surroundings.

TOOTH TROUBLE IS DUE TO BRUSH USE.

Hygiene Expert Says the People Would Be Better Off If They Had Never Seen a Brush.

LONDON, April 11.—(Associated Press).—The world would be a lot better off if it had never seen a toothbrush, says Sir James Cantile of the Institute of Hygiene. He told an audience that all teeth troubles of the generation were due to this modern fallacy and that had the world never known a toothbrush the teeth of today would be as good as those of our forefathers.

"If there is any need to brush your teeth, there is something wrong with your health," said Sir James.

He claimed that the toothbrush invariably pierced the gums, thus allowing poison to enter the system. The teeth, when the human being was born, were protected with a fine skin and the toothbrush destroyed this delicate skin. He drew attention to the perfect set of teeth usually possessed by a negro, until he was introduced to a toothbrush.

Sir James said we erred in the heat of our food. The natural temperature of a baby's blood was 98.4 degrees and the temperature of the milk given to a baby in a bottle was about 120 degrees. In this way the hot milk attracted the blood to the surface of the infant's gums. The growing teeth were left to look after themselves. As a consequence their growth was stunted and they came through eventually in a weak condition.

The same was true of adults who sipped tea and other drinks at a temperature of 140 degrees. What the people need, he says, is a little more old-fashioned stuff and then they wouldn't need a toothbrush at all.

Another thing that we of the modern world ought to take up again he says, is the old-fashioned bed warming pan, for a lot of moisture collects in the bed during the day.

Making reference to baldness the speaker said most of it was caused by wearing tight hats, as the whole nourishment of the hair depended upon the freedom of the blood vessels of the head.

Shopping in the Mornings

Just a few days more than seven years ago the glorious news came that the boys "over there" had up and taken for themselves that historic old ridge of Vimy. Looking back it wasn't a very pleasant morning either, but it was MORNING, and that left a long day to perform the wonders that were achieved. And so it is with shopping—if you have planned an entire day of it, you do well to start early, and in any case morning is the time when the selection is at its best and service its "smilingest." Therefore, we advocate—SHOP IN THE MORNINGS.

The Cressman Co. Ltd.

There's Joyousness in the Easter Footwear

BETHANY NEWS

BETHANY, April 11.—The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. in connection with the Methodist Church was held at the home of Mrs. John Porteous on Tuesday afternoon, twelve members being present. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. T. G. Ryley and a very helpful Easter service was given and all joined in the responsive readings, after which the Missionary mite boxes were opened and the amount of $19 was received with some still to come in. It was decided to hold a missionary service on Sunday evening, April 27 in which Mrs. Aston a returned missionary from China will give an address. A special choir of ladies will furnish the music. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Crerar April 29, and this will be the last meeting of the year A good turn out will be expected to elect officers for the ensuing year. At the close of the meeting a dainty lunch was served by the hostess and a very hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Porteous for the use of her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambkin from the Western Provinces are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spencer.

Mrs. Gray who has been spending the last several weeks with her friends, Mrs. P. C. Brown has returned to her home in Toronto.

CHURCH BELL CREATES DISCORD.

WEIMAR, Germany, April 11.—(Associated Press).—Completion recently of Germany's largest church bell has brought about much discord in certain political circles. The Monarchists insist upon calling it the "Kaiser's bell," while the Republicans have given it the name of "The bell of the Rhine."

The bell was cast here for the famous Cathedral of Colgone, but there have been repeated delays in shipment, according to German authorities, beause it was feared it might be confiscated by the French.

NEW COLOR.

Fuchsia is one of the newest and most stunning colors. It shades effectively into the lighter reds or purples and is particularly striking when used with black.

MANUFACTURERS COMMITTEE HAS POWER PROBLEM

These are the three years, I understand, they were running the mill night and day. The men who put the mill in say it takes 250 horsepower just to run the mill without paying for the electricity they use.

In 1922 they shut the mill down and only ran part. The high peak was 402, and the low 64.

In November they started the mill, and in December the bill ran up to $600—just 2½ times what it was in previous months. The difference between payments made in 1922, when the mill was shut down, and 1921, when they ran day and night, was only $741.

Following his drawing the discrepancy to the attention of the Commission, Mr. Meyers said, the accounts were increased to the correct amounts. The difference in the three years before this makes about $15,000.

Mr. Meyers thought the 1922 bills and 1923 were about right, but said: "The previous three years looks as though there was something very wrong, and I think there should be something done to satisfy yourselves."

Mayor Turner: "Do you suggest that the Commission ought to bill the Campbell Flour Mills for the undercharge?"

Alderman Meyers: "I think it is out of the hands of the Commission and in the hands of the City Council. The Commission refused to act. My impression is that you have no call to go back to the Utilities Commission, and, according to the Act, it is in your hands. If you throw it back into the hands of the Commission, who have been — I don't want to say too much, but you know what they have done. I think I would ask one of the firm to come down here and look over the accounts. If I thought they were innocent I would be content, with this committee, to accept the $15,000 that is legitimately due.

"If I saw they knew something about it—and it seems to me someone knew about it—I would make them pay what the Act calls for—double."

Mr. Wearing: "There's a meter that registers a certain amount of power used. They have been charged for that. Whether it has escaped the attention of the Utilities Commission, which is a most incredible thing, there has been a great deal of power used that has not been registered in the meter."

Mayor Turner: "Why should they be penalized if they paid the bills rendered to them in good faith?"

Alderman Meyers: "I have suffered a great deal through this, but my conscience would not allow me to do anything else than I have done. I am willing, with the others, to take what is due us."

Alderman Phelan: "I think we should ask the Commission to come here and asked them to do certain things. Then if they didn't act we could discuss it again."

Alderman Meyers: "They have refused to act, and if you put it back to them you know what treatment it will receive. I have begged them to look into the matter. It cost me $175 to get lawyers in Toronto to go and beg the information from the Hydro head office. They said, 'No, you can't have the figures. Meyers knows too much now'."

Alderman Morrison asked why $500 was charged on flat rate and on meter immediately dropped to $230. "Would that not alarm any one of us on the council if we had seen it? For three years it stayed low."

Alderman McIntyre: "The Commission may be able to explain that."

Alderman Meyers: "They can't. They say everything's all right."

Alderman McIntyre: "Didn't they know from the decrease there was something wrong?"

Mr. Wearing: "Don't ask me that. You're as smart a man as I am. I agree with Alderman Morrison it wouldn't have taken me three years to find it out."

Alderman Meyers said the Peterboro Cereal Co., will publish its power bill every month if the people desired it.

In 1920 under a flat rate the Peterboro Cereal Co., paid $292 a month Under the meter system they paid $543 a jump of 100 per cent. whereas the Campbell Flour Mills dropped 100 per cent.

Mayor Turner suggested two methods of handling the problem: to write the Campbell Flour Mills asking them to appear before the council and show reason why they should not pay what is considered due and the other is to refer the matter back to the Commission.

Alderman Meyers: "I would go past the Commission, for we have done all we can with them. They have held everything back and this was the only way we could get the figures. I couldn't sit back and see these bills passed while the poor people of the city probably pay double for the toast they make in the morning. If it hadn't been for my efforts you would never have known of this discrepancy."

"I claim they have $15,000 of our money and the mill only cost $30,000. In another three years they would have had the mill for nothing and the poor people of Peterboro would have paid for it. The Commission fought me at every step and I have had to bear with insults from them.

I would fight it out to a finish."

Alderman Maher: "I would support our chairman in the action he takes with the city solicitor."

Alderman Phelan: "I would ask the Commission for an explanation and then if they did not act we should step in."

Mr. Wearing: "I think you should have the Commission in along with Mr. Henderson and Mr. Fisk and ask for an explanation."

Alderman Meyers: "You can have my resignation then, gentlemen. I have got the figures for you and I'll leave it to you."

Mr. Wearing: "It looks strange to me. Suppose the committee went ahead and laid an information and the Utilities Commission came along with an explanation and took your feet from under you, what would you do? The only persons on earth to give you information on those figures is the Commission."

Alderman Meyers: "They say everything is all right."

Mr. Wearing: "You have a commission to run these affairs. Why don't you put the screws on them first?"

Alderman Meyers: "We did."

Mr. Wearing: "Well keep at it. You've got them on the run now."

Alderman Phelan: "Before, Alderman Meyers was acting as a private citizen. Now if we brought them before us as the city council, they would have to assume a different attitude."

Alderman Meyers: "In two letters they refused to give up the figures. They got to the wall, where they had to give up the figures or resign. Finally they decided to give the figures."

Alderman Maher: "I feel it is my duty to support you but apparently the method of procedure between you and the city solicitor varies some I have no fault with the commission but there is something here needs explanation."

A resolution was proposed by Alderman McIntyre as follows: "That the Utilities Commission be informed that this committee has considered the accounts of the Campbell Flour Mills from 1918 to 1923 and is looking into the difference in the amounts paid for power by that company in the years 1920-22 compared with what they paid in 1923, and that the commission together with the manager and accountant at a date to be arranged with the chairman."

Arrange For Vote

Arrangements were completed for the vote on the bylaw extending the C.G.E. assessment three years in view of the promise to build a 50,000 square feet extension to their factory here.

Organizations and private individuals are expected to assist in manning and supplying cars to carry the voters to the polls and in other ways.

A public meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Board Room on April 21, for the purpose of designating the different duties to be carried out in connection with the polling.

Flags are to be placed over the polling places to mark them. Alderman Jones thought something should be printed on the bunting to differentiate between a poll and a auction sale but this is impracticable for this occasion. The flags will be red and at some future time will have "Polling Place" printed on them. Alderman Stocker volunteered to place them in position.

"Economy is the easy chair of old age."

WITNESS ALLEGES A PERJURY PACT

Miller on Stand Says He Arranged With Newell to Give False Evidence

Two charges of subornation of perjury were laid against James Newell, who, through his counsel, Joseph O'Brien, elected trial by jury, and will be committed for trial.

The gallery was filled with spectators, who waited from ten o'clock, the time set for opening, until the court actually opened at 10.45 for the preliminary hearing.

The hearing was featured by numerous objections from counsel for the defence, and Magistrate Langley several times commented on the length to which the trial was extending. Some confusion too arose out of the similarity of the name of the accused to Chief Newhall's.

Mr. Hatton at one time exclaimed: "I try to be fair and I am fair. I'm sure Your Worship tries to be fair too, but we evidently misunderstand each other."

Albert E. Hinds said he had lived at Campbellford when the events to which he was to testify took place. He gave evidence under oath at the trial of James Newell. A few days ago a charge of perjury was laid against him in connection with evidence he gave, to which he pleaded guilty.

At this juncture, Magistrate Langley found that while he was trying the case against Newell in respect to W. Miller, the Crown Attorney was pursuing the charge with respect to Hinds.

Hinds said the first time he remembers a conversation with Newell in respect to the evidence he was to give at the trial was on November 20.

This having no reference to Miller, the case under trial, the testimony was objected to by Mr. O'Brien and the objection was sustained.

Mr. Hatton asked to have the witness stand down to be recalled, but this was refused on objection of Mr. O'Brien. Later His Worship agreed to permit a recall of the witness.

Mr. O'Brien objected to evidence being given about procuring at the City of Peterboro, since the charge stated Asphodel was the scene of the crime.

Witness said in Mr. Gordon's office in Peterboro it was said it would be better to get someone to back him up in what he would say at the trial.

Mr. Hatton: "Who said that?"

Mr. O'Brien: "I object to that."

William Miller said he had pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury in connection with the trial of Newell in December.

At a meeting with Newell on November 29 the details of the trial were explained to Miller, he said, and he was to see Mr. Gordon on the next Saturday. The date that he was supposed to have been with the girl in the case was fixed at that meeting for October 23, 1922. This was the date he swore to at the trial. "That was the day I was with her to Bethel Church and it was considered a good day to swear to. I was to swear that I had carnal relations with her that night. It was talked over between the three of us."

That night at Newell's house a discussion took place to the effect that Hinds' evidence was weak. It was suggested that someone should be swearing as to September. "It was proposed that I should swear on the first Sunday in September or the last Sunday in August that I had carnal relations with Clarice McColl."

The witness said he did swear to this at the trial and it was false.

Mr. O'Brien urged that the accused be dismissed for lack of corroboration, but Magistrate Langley committed him for trial, holding the committal over until two in order that Newell might go out to dinner.

Following an application by Mr. O'Brien, and by consent of the Crown, Magistrate Langley admitted Newell to bail, awaiting trial.

TAG DAY SAT. FOR BLIND INSTITUTE

Approximately 10,000 Home Teaching Visits and Field Work Calls Are Made Annually by This Institute.

To-morrow is tag day for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The local chapters of the I.O.D.E. are interesting themselves in this appeal for funds for the institution which is doing, and has done, so much good work for years past among the blinded soldiers and civilians of Canada. Of the estimated 7,000 blind persons in Canada, over 4,400 have been registered by Institute; of this number, 2,100 are in Ontario. Approximately 10,000 Home Teaching visits and 1,000 Prevention of Blindness and Field Work Calls are made annually.

The Institute has been dealing, since its inception, with the Prevention of Blindness at birth, Corrective treatment and care of the eyes of children under school age, Conservation of vision of children during the school period, and Operative, Corrective and other treatment for the eyes of adults. Treatment and glasses are in all cases provided for where the parents or individuals cannot afford to pay. Hundreds of cases have been taken care of under this policy.

To assist in helping those who cannot help themselves is the appeal made by the Institute, and the citizens of Peterboro will be asked tomorrow to contribute to the funds of an organiation that is doing one of the most charitable of all the many public welfare atcivities designed to alleviate the sufferings of poor humanity.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION MET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

At a well-attended meeting of the Peterboro' Poultry Association, held on Wednesday evening, arrangements were made for holding a series of lectures on the breeding and rearing of poultry, the members feeling that these will be of great benefit to the back-lot poultry keepers of the city and surrounding community. A general invitation was recorded to everyone interested in poultry to attend these meetings and get acquainted with the workings of the association.

The members are also contemplating purchase of the remaining new equipment needed for the annual poultry show.

Mr. James Ellis was elected president of the association, in place of Mr. Thos. Darrah, who has resigned. The new president addressed the members briefly, and asked for the co-operation of executive and members in an effort to make the association one of the most successful organizations of its kind in the province.

A meeting of the Board of Directors was called for Tuesday evening, April 15th, to make necessary arrangements for the course of lectures.

FAIR BOARD WILL ERECT COW BARN

It Was Decided That the Dates for This Year's Fair Be From September 10th to 13th.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peterboro' Fair Board was held last evening in the Council Chamber, with President R. Denne in the chair.

The Board decided to put the dates for the Peterboro' Fair ahead by one week. The annual Fair will be held this year, therefore, from September 10th to 13th, inclusive.

It was also decided to have a judging competition, open to young men and young women under twenty-six years of age, the young men to receive prizes for proficiency in judging livestock, the young women for judging cooking and ladies' work. Total cash prizes of $90 will be given in the two classes, President Denne donating an extra first award, over and above the cash prize, of a trip to the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto, for the young man and young woman standing highest in the list.

It was decided to build a new cow barn with the money received from the County Council, and further arrangements for the dog show were also discussed.

Interment to take place at the Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Salvation Army, conducted by Adjt. Smith.

GAVE ADDRESS KIWANIS CLUB

Col. George Ham Was the Speaker of the Day--Champion Prize Winners Were Given a Back Seat.

Colonel George Ham, noted humorist, writer and official entertainer for the Canadian Pacific Railway, was the speaker at to-day's luncheon of the Kiwanis Club. President John R. Marshall was in the chair. The large guest list included Mr. George Patton, Toronto, Superintendent C.P.R. Telegraphs, Mr. H. J. Main, Superintendent C. P. R., Toronto, Mr. George Beard, secretary to Col. Ham, also Mr. J. McCabe, Mr. H. R. Williams, Mr. A. Y. James, Mr. W. E. Pollard, rM. R. Cuffe, His Honor Judge Huycke, Rev. J. B. Patterson, Rector of All Saints' Curch, this city, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong and Dr. Walsh of Keene.

The soloist for the occasion was Miss Greta LeBarr, whose voçal ability was appreciated. Miss LeBarr kindly responded to an encore, and was presented with a bouquet of carnations. Two members who usurped places of honor beside Miss Lebarr, that should have gone to Kiwanians, Alec Dick and Harry Huffman, were fined, but they refused to give up their seats.

The booster to-day was Kiwanian J. I. Allen and at his suggestion champion prizewinners like Charlie Cook, Bob Mackey and others were prohibited from taking part in the drawing. The prize winners included Harold Perry and Frank Dawson.

It was reported that the Kiwanis Club would take an active part in the Promotion of the Peterboro Motor Show that is being held under the auspices of the Peterboro Health Association. Alex Dick is expected to supply a good deal of the comedy and games of chance and other doubtful devices will be under the supervision of Walter Oke.

A letter was received from Dr. N. H. Sutton, district officer of health, thanking the club for their support of the Social Hygiene exhibit here recently, and Dr. Sutton expressed the hope that good would result.

Col. George Ham.

Col. Ham brought a message of goodwill and assurance that the work of Kiwanis Clubs throughout the country is appreciated. The club in Montreal, said the speaker, is doing a wonderful work. The speaker said he belonged to one of the oldest Masonic lodges in the world, and for years past it has been the custom of that organization to do work of all kinds and say nothing about it. Now they are beginning to do things as Kiwanians do them, and are building homes here and there and widening their sphere of activity.

The speaker, referring to world conditions, said that while not a prohibitionist, he could not help but think that prohibition had done a great deal of good. The present laws are too drastic. It means that a man found carrying liquor in any quantity is fined two hundred dollars, and the man who beats up his wife gets off with a fine of five dollars. People in Canada have their own troubles, said Col. Ham, but they have not nearly so many as they have in other parts of the world. While Canada is not the greatest country in the world it has the makings of one. Far away fields look green, cautioned the speaker. We are living under the greatest of all flags, and we should hesitate before we forsake the rights and liberties we enjoy here. A vote of thanks to Col. Ham was moved by Kiwanians J. Wearing and Pete Lang.

ROTARIANS BACK FROM MEETING

Delegates and Their Wives to the Number of About Fifteen Hundred Attended the Conference.

The party of Peterboro' Rotarians and their wives who attended the conference of the Twenty-seventh Rotarian District in Buffalo, N. Y., on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, returned home yesterday, and report a very enjoyable time. In the unavoidable absence of F. L. Roy, who was unable to attend the conference on account of the sudden death of his mother in St. Thomas, all arrangements were in the hands of R. A. Brown, who also spoke at Wednesday's luncheon, in place of Mr. Roy.

The Twenty-seventh Rotarian District takes in Ontario and a portion of the States of New York and Pennsylvania. Delegates and their wives, to the number of nearly fifteen hundred, attended the two-day conference. Several outstanding speakers were present, including John Bain Taylor of London, England, third vice-president of International Rotary Clubs, Frank Mulholland of Toledo, Ohio, past president of International Rotary, and Arthur Naish, ("Golden Rule Naish") of Cincinnati, who contributed one of the best speeches of the conference. Mr. Naish, who is now the largest wholesale customs tailor in the world, gave a review of his progress in business, and of his habit of always incorporating the golden rule in his business policy.

Arrangements for social functions were in the hands of different clubs. The Jamestown, New York, organization had charge of the first day's luncheon, and Hamilton, Ontario, club, took the first day's dinner. Belleville, Ontario, club, had the second luncheon, during which delegates from Peterboro' occupied the platform with the Belleville members, and the Buffalo society had the dinner and governor's ball which closed the sessions. All meetings took place in the new Statler Hotel.

The 1924 conference of the Twenty-seventh District stresses at all its meetings the idea of International good-will which Rotary is helping to bring about, and also laid much emphasis on its campaign for better business ethics.

THE BELTLESS DRESS

By HEDDA HOYT.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(United Press).—

"I'm going straight, your Honor,
There's nothing on my hip,"
The voice that made this statement
Was a little chemise slip.

One of the most striking features of the spring mode is the beltless dress. This is not merely an oddity of the season, but an established style. For several years the straight silhouette has been the popular one, although its lines have been broken by waistlines which, though placed low on the hips, were nevertheless waistlines.

This year the frock falls in unbroken lines from shoulder to hem. Now and then it is modified by a suggestion of fullness about the hem, such as a pleated flounce or bands of tiny ruffles, but there is no belt or suggestion of waistline whatsoever.

Tunics both long and short are shown on many of these beltless models. Some of them extend just below the hips, giving the effect of an overblouse, and others are but three or four inches above the bottom of the skirt.

Many of the cloth dresses use the front and back panel effect to accentuate slenderness. This is achieved by pin-tucks, vertical stripes or embroidery. In no instance is the panel left loose, however; it is merely set onto the frocks.

Palm Beach began the beltless vogue in summer materials, such as linens, crepes, voiles and cretonnes. One even saw frocks of sheer organdies and embroidered batistes made in beltless baby-like silhouette, with ruffles of lace about the hems.

Sleeves of the summery frock may be either extremely short or wrist-length. The short ones are being worn with short gloves, which have petal ruffles at the wrists, lined in colors to match the frock.

Style Notes.

Cape costumes and scarf frocks are shown among the early spring displays. It is doubtful whether the fur neckpiece will be seen much during the warmer months, as the short cape and scarf which match the frock is considered smarter than the separate fur neckpiece.

The favored jewelry at present is crystal. Crystal necklaces, earrings and bracelets are worn both for day and evening wear. Hoop earrings are more fashionable just now than pendants. Silver hoops with fringes of small crystal beads suspended from the hoops are among the newest of the new.

Spanish shawls will be the favored wraps for evening wear this spring. So popular have they become that fashionables are giving "Spanish shawl" balls, with prizes for the most gorgeously embroidered shawl. White satin slipper with red heels are often worn to add a Spanish touch. It might be interesting to add that Spanish shawls these days seldom come from Spain. Most of them are embroidered in China.

Pastel shades will be popular this summer, with reds and yellows following in popularity. Sports wear favors the higher tones, while afternoon and evening functions adhere to pastels.

Ankle straps are again being sponsored by many of the shoe merchants. They give a slender effect and add a little support to the ankle.

Propose Six-Year Term For French Deputies.

PARIS, Apr. 11.—The Chamber of Deputies, if the Senate ratifies a measure passed yesterday on the eve of adjournment before election, will hereafter be elected for six-year terms, one-third of the deputies being up for re-election every two years.

Heretofore all of the deputies have been elected at the same time for terms of four years which might be prolonged in cases of national emergency, such as the world war, which affected the 1914 Chamber.

COLORED SNOW CAUSES ALARM AMONG JAPANESE

TOKIO, April 11 (Associated Press)—A fall of "yellow snow" is reported from Niigata, on the northwest coast of Japan. The inhabitants of the region are much disturbed, considering the phenomenon an omen of evil import, but scientists have an explanation.

They believe that clouds of the yellow dust from the Gobi desert, which frequently are driven over north China and are especially well known in Peking, have been carried across the Sea of Japan in snowclouds.

Old inhabitants of the Niigata district recall that half a century ago there was a fall of "red snow" in that region.

SFCRET OF HAPPINESS

The greatest menace on earth to happiness is the ill-health with which so many young women are afflicted. The young woman is subject to pain and irregularities, the mother to the tortures of displacements with consequent pains, aches and nervousness,—the middle aged woman to the uncomfortable conditions caused by this critical age. The one remedy to control these conditions and restore the system to a normal healthy condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for fifty years has been restoring sick and ailing women to health and happiness.

BOOSTERS OF MARMORA OUTLINE BIG PROGRAM

Recently Organized Community Promoters Uncork Enthusiasm As Committees Are Drafted and Set to Work—From Town Parks to New Industries Their Scope Extends.

MARMORA, April 10.—The second meeting of the Booster Club was held in the Council Chamber of the Town Hall last night. A very good representation of the citizens was present.

Dr. Crawford announced that since the last meeting, nine committees had been formed, with a large membership, so that nearly all the "boosters" of the village will have interests of their own to keep them from criticizing too harshly the others.

The different committees and their members were read, and then the chairman of each committee reported what had been accomplished and what was to be accomplished.

Observe Game Laws.

Mr. James P. Marrin, at this point of the meeting, made one of the best suggestions of the evening. So well was it received, in fact, that Mr. Marrin was asked to put it in the form of a motion. This was the motion: "That all members of the Club pledge themselves neither to buy or secure, by any means, fish or game out of season, and to do all in their power to see that all wild life is protected out of season."

Mr. Fraser Bowen gave the report of the Immediate Relief Committee of the village, which is now being merged into the Education and Charity Committee of the Booster Club. This committee was formed several years ago to help those needing immediate relief which is supplied by the municipality often after a great delay. The committee solicited subscriptions and obtained about $100. Several needy families were looked after, and lately the funds got quite low. The Great War Veterans Association put on, free of charge, a motion picture, which realized $54.75. This money is bearing interest at the bank, ready to be turned over to the Booster Club.

Minimum of Charity.

The Reeve stated that in regard to charity, while at Belleville on the County Council, he had been talking to the Reeves of nearly all the other villages of the county. He came to the conclusion, from these conversations, that Marmora had to give to charity less than any other town.

The Lake and Entertainment Committee was the next topic of discussion. The duty of this committee is to help all celebrations, church picnics, regattas, etc., to be successful. They will invite all Sunday School picnickers, or, in fact, any organization from outside points, to hold their annual picnics at Crowe Lake. There all conveniences will be supplied them, such as hot and cold water, etc., which will advertise the lake a great deal.

Clean-Up Week.

Mr. D. E. Bell, speaking for Mr. Thomas Potts, chairman of the General Improvement Committee, who was absent, explained the duties of this committee. It really takes in all the other committees, but a few suggestions were given by the speaker as to the immediate undertakings of the committee. A clean-up week was set for the week of May 1—7, and the committee will co-operate with the Board of Health in this matter. Two places in the village were considered for a small park. One was the vacant lot owned by the village at the corner of Mathew and Forsythe Streets, and the other was the east half of the High School grounds.

The Highways and Transportation Committee presented some interesting material for discussion. An effort will be made by the commission to obtain a midnight mail service from Bonarlaw. It was stated that Deloro would be very much interested in this proposal. The Council, of late, have had some discussion about the proposed gas car service of the C.N.R. from Trenton to Marmora. A long discussion was held about the train service, and it was left in the hands of Mr. D. E. Bell to get in touch with C.N.R. officials regarding the matter.

Business Suggestions.

The Business Committee brought forth some interesting suggestions through its chairman, Mr. James P. Marrin. Mr Marrin suggested that the clerk at the freight shed take his half-holiday on Wednesday instead of Saturday afternoon. The business men find it very inconvenient leaving perishable goods in the cars over Sunday. The telephone service to Rawdon is very poor as one has to call Stirling, thus making it a long distance call. This isolates Marmora from Rawdon to a great extent, as far as business is concerned. Mr. Marrin has arranged an interview with the proper telephone officials regarding the matter.

The Factory and Housing Committee also had an interesting budget. The Council had been considering, and will further consider, the proposition of exempting from taxation, for a period of five years, the owners of houses built for rent. Reeve Airhart said that the increased school tax would almost make up for the amount lost in ordinary taxes if this were done.

Industrial Prospects.

Mr. Fraser Bowen suggested that those having property in the village or at Crowe Lake, and who wish to sell, put the matter in the hands of this committee, and also state the price. Thus the committee will have an idea of what it can offer in its publicity campaign. He stated that Americans could be induced to build cottages at the lake. For example, he said that he had just received a check from a wealthy stove manufacturer of U. S., instructing him to let the contract for a cottage to cost about two thousand dollars, and that more money would be forthcoming. This same man is considering the establishment of a Canadian branch of his firm in the village. Another small manufacturing concern is considering starting a creamery. Therefore Mr. Bowen said the Club had already done something to help the village.

The Publicity Committee is already going ahead with its advertising programme, which will be quite extensive.

The meeting was adjourned, and will meet again at the call of the president, Dr. Crawford.

Children's Concert.

On Wednesday evening the boys and girls of the Mission Band made their first big attempt to give an entertainment.

The children, though small, gave an excellent programme. In spite of the rain, a large crowd of interested friends was present.

The programme was opened by a chorus, "We are a Missionary Band." This was followed by prayer. Other items were: Recitation—"Bobby's Prayer," Douglas Airhart; solo—Jessie Williams; recitation—"In China," Norman Sopha; exercise—Bag of Wishes; recitation—"Jesus loves the children of the world," James Inkster; song—"Little Seeds," Ida Clare, Wesley Clare and Roy Smith; recitation—"The Little Missionary," Bessie Inkster; Books of the Old and New Testaments—Elizabeth Gladney and Jessie Williams; recitation—"Loving Workers," Flora Sanderson and Margaret Donnelly; recitation—"God's Garden," Thelma Holland; Chinese song—Two Chinese Girls and six American Girls; remarks on the work of the Mission Band—Mrs. Clare; exercise—The Missionary Dollar; chorus—Mission ary Bells.

Mrs. Clare and Mrs. Gardiner had practised the children for this little concert. Of all the programme, perhaps the two items which took the audience by storm were the recitation of the books of the Bible by the two smallest girls of the Band and the Chinese Song.

As no admission fee had been charged, a silver collection was taken up, and almost twelve dollars were added to the treasury of the Mission Band.

The boys and girls who had taken part in the concert were given a treat of lemonade and candy and oragnes in the Sunday School rooms afterwards by members of the Senior League.

Lenten Sermon.

On Wednesday evening the Ven. Archdeacon Beamish, of Belleville, took the fifth Lenten Service in the St. Paul's Anglican Church.

In speaking from a text in Corinthians, Archdeacon Beamish spoke of the self denial of Christ during the forty days before his crucifixion.

As we keep Lent we also ought to practise self-denial, not only in fasting, but self-denial of the mind and of the will. This also is the time for repentance.

The speaker gave a wonderful sermon on this idea. "For if Christ could deny himself, ought not we also to be willing to give up something for His sake?"

Dr. McKechnie, of Toronto, was in town Tuesday and Wednesday staying with Dr. H. Crawford. During his stay he performed a number of operations on patients in town.

Rev. Father Corrigan, of Stirling; Father Hanley, of Tweed; and Father O'Riordan, of Madoc, visited Marmora on Tuesday.

Married.

In Marmora.—On Wednesday, 9th April, at St. Paul's Rectory, Mr. Roy Brown, of Bonarlaw, to Miss Deborah Jones, of Rawdon township.

KI-MOIDS QUICK RELIEF For INDIGESTION

BIG TRADE IN STOLEN AUTOS

Brought Into Canada From United States and Sold At Low Prices—Deputation Asks Ottawa's Aid.

OTTAWA, April 11.— (Canadian Press.)—"We find that there is, apparently an organized body who are trafficking in stolen automobiles, and that the situation has become so acute that it is seriously interfering with our business and thereby jeopardizing our capital." This statement is contained in a memorial which was presented to Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs by a large delegation representing Canadian automobile manufacturers and dealers which interviewed him last evening.

The delegation asked that when such cars were found to have been stolen from the owner in the United States and taken into Canada, the customs department allow release and re-examination from Canada to the owner on payment of any expenses incurred in connection with the seizure and subsequent keep of the car. It also asked for the appointment of a committee from the customs department to co-operate with similar committees from the automobile manufacturers and dealers, in an endeavor to find a remedy for the difficulty.

FORD WILL TRY A NEW VENTURE.

It Is Reported That He Will Build Garages In Boston, Housing 3,000 Cars Apiece, to Do Away With Street Parking.

The real traffic problem is most of the large cities is curbstone parking—the use of streets as garages. Go into any busy thoroughfare and you will find the street in effect narrowed 15 feet by the cars parked along both sides.

Some of this parking is ethically legitimate. Owners leave their cars outside while they shop or make business calls. But a large group of owners leave their cars at the curb all day, until ready to drive home, especially on side streets which nevertheless are important traffic arteries.

This isn't uniformly a system of dodging garage fees at the expense of traffic congestion. The fact is that there aren't enough garages in or near the downt own sections of most cities. Furthermore, there isn't enough vacant land for sufficient garages. Cities are considering this growing problem. Underground municipal garages are suggested by some.

Henry Ford, it is reported, will build garages in Boston—three to start with, housing 3,000 cars apiece. These garages, as planned, will be conducted on a co-operative or club plan. In connection with them will be cafeterias and gasoline stations.

In view of Henry Ford's customary foresight, it is logical to expect that he contemplates going into the garage business on a large scale.

Why logical? Because the sale of cars will shortly be curtailed unless adowntown garage space is made sufficient.

We venture to predict that, whether Ford goes into the garage business on a large scale or not, auto manufacturers as a class will. It would be a logical sales development.

National manufacturers long since learned that their prosperity and growth require more than the mere sale of their products to their immediate customers.

It doesn't do any good to load a grocer up with a stock of breakfast foods unless he is able to sell them. This is the purpose of national advertising campaigns.

Similarly, the sale of autos by factories is bound to suffer by any restriction on the use of cars—such as inadequate downtown parking space.

Cycling Safer Than Walking

A CHILD who suddenly darts out from the sidewalk into the road in a game of tag, or one who jumps from behind a standing vehicle, is far more likely to be run down by a motor car than a child on a bicycle.

In fact, Police Statistics show that cycling is safer than walking both for adults and for children.

Take the City of Toronto, for example, where the traffic is as heavy and congested as in any place in Canada. The carefully kept records of the Toronto Police Department shows that out of a total of 2,173 accidents of various kinds in 1923, cyclists were only involved in 42, and 36 of these were cases of collisions of cyclists and pedestrians. There were practically no accidents between motorists and cyclists. Cycling in smaller cities and in the country is even safer than in Toronto.

There are good reasons why Cycling is Safe.

A child on a bicycle has his attention on riding and watches traffic closely. A child on the sidewalk is very likely to engage in some game that makes him forget himself and run carelessly out into the path of motor cars.

Adults or children unexpectedly step off the curb—or suddenly cross the street between blocks—or dodge out from behind street cars or vehicles, and are hard for a motorist to avoid.

A cyclist, child or adult, that uses ordinary care and observes the rules of the road is safer on a bicycle than on foot. He is more easily seen by the motorist than a person on foot.

Put your children on quick, nimble C.C.M. Bicycles, that steer easily, stop quickly and get under way rapidly. Have them Cycle to School.

Ride a bicycle yourself. Cycling is the Safe, Quick and Economical way to ride to work.

Drop into the C.C.M. dealer's and see the new models for men, women boys and girls—including the Curved Bar Model, the bicycle the boy won't outgrow.

Selling this season at $15 to $20 less than the "peak" prices. A Big Dollar's Worth of value for every dollar you invest in a C.C.M.

WISHBONE LUCK AN OLD BELIEF

How did the wishbone get its reputation as a symbol of good luck? Long ago, probably, when man still was in the savage state. At a meal, whoever got the wishbone got the best part of the fowl—the white meat of the breast.

Rivalry for the breast of the fowl must have caused many a tussle. You can picture two barbarians at a prehistoric boarding house, both reaching for the breast at the same time. Grasping this part of the fowl's anatomy, one was bound to emerge with a larger piece of meat than his rival.

Possibly, in this, is the origin of the custom of breaking a wishbone, the lucky winner of the large section having gotten what he wished for.

All supposition, of course. But the wishbone's reputation as an emblem of good luck is older than recorded history.

You recall how, in childhood, you were eager to get the wishbone. It was a real prize, even if its value was imaginary.

Today, with childhood years behind you and gradually being dimmed by the mists of the past, you probabl ywouldn't give a cent for a basket of wishbones.

Behold, here, a great loss. For firm belief in a wishbone, as a bringer of luck, is an illusion. And when we lose our illusions, there is not much left in life.

The wishbone is not the only illusion we lose as we grow older. What would you not give for the lost thrills and illusions of youth? Our minds run along this channel at this time of year, as spring advances. Spring is the season of youth—and its symbol.

Oh, for the thrill of the first spring plunge into the old swimming hole! Or the walk through the woods, gathering the first flowers as nature wakens after her long sleep. A bird, soaring skyward, means little or nothing now; in youth, it was a thrill.

Life gets duller as we grow older. Nature, kindly, removes us from the stage before life gets too dull.

As old age approaches, the human tendency is to lose faith in nearly everything, as we already have lost faith in the wishbone's magic power. Youth is faith—hope—illusion— imagination — mythical values. Old age is a state of mind—the disappointment of disillusion.

WICKED CITY HAS CHANGED GREATLY.

At 10 O'clock Now the Two Roulette Tables in the Biggest Gambling House Are Empty.

EL PASO, Tex., April 11.—Prohibition laws and the American constitution have no authority across the Rio Grande.

But United States customs men have made a 9-o'clock town out of the "wickedest city" on the other side of that border river.

They did it with a hog-wire gate.

The gate is at the center of the rickety old wooden International Bridge that spans the Rio Grande. Every night at 9 the customs men swing shut the gate. Americans in Juarez, the "wickedest city," cannot come home. And Americans in El Paso, thirsty and ready for naughty adventure, cannot cross the line.

Quit by 11

The hog-wire gate has had a deadening effect on the gambling halls, the cabarets and dance halls. The Calle del Diable—the "Street of the Devil"—is as quiet as Main street, Gopher Prairie, by 11.

Here and there are a couple of Mexican cabaret employes, homeward bround, ro a little group of Americans who ignored the curfew bell that rings before the hog-wire gate is swung shut.

Business is poor at the Hotel Rio Bravo. There are plenty of rooms there now. A month ago a room was difficult to get.

Tivoli Empty

The Tivoli gambling house, biggest of all, tried to ignore the gate on the bridge, tried to continue business as usual. Now at 10 p.m., the two roulette tables—each 20 feet long, each with four playing boards—are empty, although two weeks ago one could hardly get near enough to drop a coin on them.

The man at the craps table whistles "Three O'clock in the Morning," and the two-score employes and the six customers applaud. A few weeks ago the hundreds in the place ignored a gun fight at the front door—so engrossed they were with their games.

Beer Cheaper

In Pike's California Bar at 10 o'clock the girls and the barkeepers are sitting on the bar. They are percentage girls and when a straggler happens in, five rush to him.

"Buy me a drink, dearie," they plead.

"I'm a stranger in town," the straggler replies. "I have only enough money for a room and to get back to El Paso. And I must pay a dollar for a bottle of beer when I buy it from one of you girls."

"Oh, no! Not now. I twill cost only 25 cents for a little drink."

Uncle Sam's hog-wire fence has even cut the cost of beer 300 per cent. in Juarez after 9 p.m.

The Central and Big Kid Cabarets are closing their doors at 8:45. And by 10:15 the Central, Annex Toltec Club, Gem, Jimmie O'Brien's, Stag, Mint and Rio Bravo bar-rooms are in darkness.

MAKING MAKE MONEY MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

As a general rule it is a good thing to invest in the securities of corporations close enough home to keep your eye on the business to a certain extent. There are exceptions, of course, to all rules.

The man who has just put his money into a pecan grove in a distant state and begs of you to taste one of the nuts to prove their lusciousness, may have a good investment, but the man who owns a block of stock in the light and power company that operates in his own locality and supplies the light by which he reads his daily paper is likely to receive dividends while the other receives his sample bag of nuts yearly.

Money invested in local industries that are well managed can be more easily watched. You have a chance to know the value of the companies' properties, the extent and nature of their competition, if any, and most of all, the character of the management of the business.

LATEST STYLES SEEN AT RACES.

It Is Here That the Fashionable World Assembles to See and to eB Seen.

PARIS, April 11.—The most up-to-the-minute fashions are exploited first at the French race track.

Here the fashionable world assembles to see and to be seen, for besides the smart costumes worn by those attending the races, there is a veritable parade of mannequins from all the smart dressmaking establishments wearing the newest creations, causing much more comment and excitement than the horses.

Photographed are two of the most striking costumes seen at Auteuil during the "Grand Prix."

The snappy three-piece suit and the ostrich trimmed hat, in the accompanying picture (at the right) is the costume idea in dress which Paris has advocated so persistently. The buttons, scarf and straight coat all run true to the 1924 ideal.

The most striking hat is the turban, shown at the left, wound with the Italian kerchief, which falls over the shoulder. The printed silk frock with the pleated sections is the type that is bound to prevail throughout the summer.

THAT OLD DECOY!

A clergyman who occasionally substituted for a brother preacher in a remote country parish, was scandalized on observing the old deacon, who had been collecting the offering, quietly abstract a coin before presenting the plate at the altar rail.

After service he called the old man into the vestry and told him, with some emotion, that his crime had been discovered.

The deacon looked puzzled for a moment. Then a sudden light dawned on him.

"Why, sir, you don't mean that old dollar of mine? Why, I've led off with that for the last 15 years!"—People's Home Journal.

CITY LEAGUE HAS ISSUED A WARNING

If a Player Signs a Certificate Without Being Properly Released from His Former Club He Will Be Suspended.

At a meeting of the City Baseball League held last night a warning was issued to ball players that the O.B.A.A. rules regarding the signing of certificates would be enforced this coming season, and that a player who signs a second certificate without being properly released from the club holding his original certificate, is liable to find himself suspended for the season. It was explained again that no player can play in two series under one certificate, and in order to transfer from one series to another he must first get his release. Furthermore, after a player has played three games with a senior, intermediate or junior club he cannot drop back to the juvenile series. The same rule applies to a juvenile player and the midget series, and a midget player and the bantam series. All players should make themselves conversant with these rules before signing a certificate.

President J. R. Sullivan presided over a well attended meeting and good progress was made. The president reported on his attendance at the O.B.A.A. meeting at which the age limit for bantams was changed from 16 years to 15 years on May 1.

Bantams Use Small Ball.

The small ball will be used only in the Bantam series, and the shorter pitching distance and bases will continue in the Midget and Bantam series.

A committee was appointed to make any necessary revisions to the constitution and report recommendations to the next meeting.

Another committee waited on the Peterborough Exhibition Board, and asked for the use of their athletic grounds for baseball. President Denne and his board gave the committee a good reception, and results which will be of great benefit to the younger ball players are likely to follow.

Juniors' Problem.

Nothing definite could be announced in regard to a junior series of the Central Ontario League, as a result of which te local Junior series remains a problem. Lakeviews hope to land a berth in the league of clubs in the Trent and Quinte districts. A suggestion will be made to the Mercantile League that players of junior age in the series be formed into a team to play in a local junior division.

THE REFEREE

FEMININE.

The four greatest American writers of fiction are all women, claims William Allen White. He lists these top notchers: Willa Cather, Edna Ferber, Zona Gale and Dorothy Canfield.

Here's room for more argument than Teapot Dome. But White is close to this broad truth: Fiction writing is getting to be a woman's game in America. This is due, not to feminine literary supremacy, but to womens' willingness and ability to write the kind of stuff editors want. Naturally, the ablest male writers drift into advertising jobs or become press agents. The best written part of the average magazine is the ad pages.

T. B.

Tuberculosis costs the United States 500 million dollars a year, according to the Anti-Tuberculosis League. It arrives at this figure by estimating that each year of the average person's life is worth $100 in the form of national wealth. Thus a person, who dies five years prematurely, means a loss of $500 to national wealth.

Surely we are worth more than $100 a year apiece to the nation. But even that low figure means a loss of half a billion dollars a year. If men had even mild intelligence, they would stop fighting each other and concentrate on the common enemy, diseases. The money spent on the World War would, devoted to scientific research and health measures, eliminate nearly every disease now known.

The Gray children gave $70 to the city council of New Haven, Conn. They request that the $70 be placed in a savings bank for 300 years, when it will have increased, by compound interest, to 14 million dollars. Then it's to be used for charity.

Why not make a similar arrangement for paying off at least part of our national, state and municipal

GREAT ADVENTURE FACED BY COLLIER.

The Idol of Hundreds of Thousands of Boys of Yesterday Is Passing Away Quickly.

By ISRAEL KLEIN.

TROY, O., April 11.—"Cap Collier" is facing the greatest adventure.

In a little white room in the hospital ward at the Miami County Poorhouse here, the final chapter is being written now.

The idol of hundreds of thousands of boys of yester-year is dying!

Thomas C. Harbaugh, whom the youth of the last generation knew only as "Cap Collier," dime novel hero, lies in his bed a hopeless paralytic.

Death, the doctors say, is a matter of just a few days—a few weeks at the most.

But "Cap Collier" is ready.

Defends Dime Novels.

"There is nothing for me to live for," he says.

"I have always lived a religious life, so I am ready for the hereafter. I have no idea what it is like, but I am not afraid."

"The old adventure stories were not very good, I admit," he continued, after a pause for breath. "But they were better than the silly love stories the boys of to-day are reading.

"The life of the boys of yesterday was far more picturesque than the life of the boys to-day.

Once Saw New Orleans.

"Then we read adventure and we lived adventure. To-day our boys dash away their time reading thin love stories. And they miss the old adventure entirely. The experiences they do meet are nothing compared with the hustling adventures in the lives of the boys of the past."

"Cap Collier" paused. A fresh breath and he went on:

"I have had only one adventure in my whole life. That was a trip from Casstown, O., my old home, to New Orleans."

"I did not meet any bandits nor savages. Yet I was able to use my experiences as a basis for many of the weird tales in which Cap Collier took part."

Outside of a trip to Philadelphia, that was about the only time "Cap Collier" ever strayed away from his native Casstown. He never was in the far west. Nor was he in Europe. Yet they furnished the background for most of his tales.

One Love Affair.

Harbaugh admitted he never really had a love affair—save one in his early boyhood.

"I do not recollect a single woman in my life," he continued.

"But I do remember little Ida Marguis. She was a girl of my own age, who went to school with me and chummed around with me. I really did love her.

"She left us though when we were just kids. She died when she was 16.

"After that I was so busy writing that I never thought of love."

"Cap Collier," now 75, estimates he wrote more than 650 novels. He received $150 for a 15,000-word dime novel and $75 for a 7,800-word "half-dime" novel.

He quit writing three years ago when he was 72.

"I should like to write again," he declares, "but my hands—here he held up a quivering right hand whose fingers he could not move—won't let me."

TOO MUCH TIME IS WASTED IN SCHOOL

Children of the Kindergarten Age Are Not Too Young to Study Rhythms

NEW YORK, April 11.—"More rhythm and less 'rithmetic."

That's the slogan of Ruth St. Denis, famous American dancer—and she firmly believes that if this were followed out in our schools it would develop a more effective business brain than all the higher mathematics in the world.

"Too much time is wasted in both public and private schools upon unnecessary subjects," says Miss St. Denis.

"If the child of today were given a serious fundamental training in rhythms he would not degenerate into the tired business man and business woman oftomorrow."

Miss St. Denis believes that if rhythms were seriously taught in every school in the country there would be a shorter list of subnormal children.

"Beginning with the first stretching of the new-born babe, every child should be taught graceful movements of the arms and legs," she says. "Then the child would be conscious of a natural co-ordination of the muscles. With this would follow a natural development of the mind.

"Children of the kindergarten age are not too young to study rhythms. "Start youngsters off right—with health of body, and you have them on the right road—to health of mind."

NIGHT DRIVERS

By ISRAEL KLEIN.

A new type of headlight that may approach the specifications of state highway boards closer than any heretofore produced, is a bullet-shaped lamp just put on the market.

According to its manufacturers, the lamp has been designed for two main purposes:

1. To enable the driver to see obstacles far enough ahead and to the side, so the car may be brought to a full stop before reaching them, even while going at a fast speed.
2. To prevent dazzling.

A year's experimentation in a laboratory especially built for the purpose has resulted in the acceptance of this unique lamp. The greatest change from the regular style of headlamp is the elliptical, or egg-shaped reflector, with a lens of less than four inches diameter.

Inside, at the focal point of the lens, is a color filter. The lamp is designed so that, with the aid of this color filter, a bright light is thrown out, down and sideways and an amber glow covers an area above the height of the lens.

This amber light is sufficient to penetrate fog, yet it does not disconcert pedestrians and motorists approaching the light.

Producers of this lamp say it conforms to the standards of illumination formulated by the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Illuminating Engineering Society. Ten eastern States have adopted these standards.

COOKING CLASSED AS DELICATE ART.

French Expert Says Good Cooking Shows Your Love to Your Husband and It Shouldn't Be Classed As Drudgery.

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS

NEW YORK, April 11.—"The most practical way for any woman to demonstrate her love for her husband is by becoming a good cook," according to Comtesse Alice de la Ruelle.

This vivacious foreigner, who recently came to us from France, the land of good cooks, believes cooking should not be regarded as drudgery but as a fine, delicate art.

"Here in America, where food is plentiful, markets marvelous and where scientific information regarding cooking is within the reach of all, I find the culinary art least developed," she declared.

"Many a peasant in France, or Italy fares better than your millionaires, because his wife studies his needs and temperament as no hired cook will.

"But perhaps your indulgent American husbands are to blame," she went on. "They do not take their food as seriously as a Frenchman does. There is no reverence for fine food. A Frenchman would not want a wife who could not cook. Over here a man rarely takes the trouble to find out if the woman he wants to marry has ever stepped into the kitchen."

It was at a dinner party of New York social registerites, given in her honor, that the countess first voiced her surprise at the bad quality of food served in America. For the countess is one of the first women lawyers of France, is a social worker and a connoisseur of art as well as a good cook, and her mission here was not to cook.

But immediately the women at the dinner besought her to tell what was wrong with the food, served at one of the most fashionable clubs, and the result was that the countess started a class in menu building and French cookery and now many of the most socially prominent women of the city drive to her door each day and learn her culinary secrets.

When asked what were the main faults to be found with American cooking, the countess replied:

"You depend on canned foods, storage eggs and factory pies. You want to do everything too quickly. When you boil vegetables you throw away the peelings and the water in which they are cooked, and so you have thrown away the vitamins and mineral salts, too.

"You fry and boil too much. Baking slowly is better for meats and vegetables, too.

"Once a woman has learned the science of menu building she will no sooner serve foods that clash than she will invite guests not on speaking terms with one another."

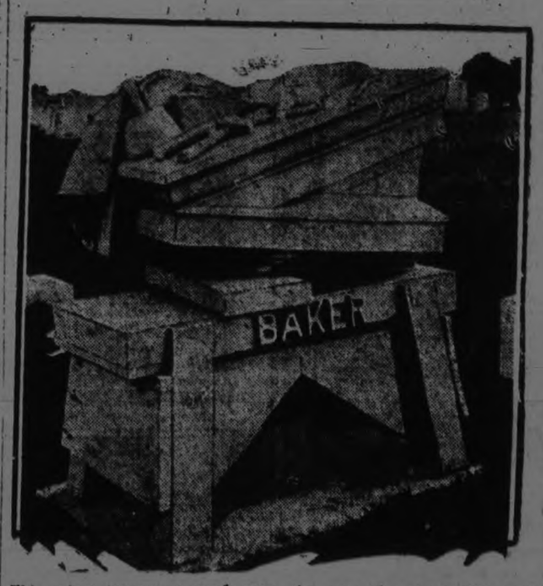
HIS COMRADE'S TRIBUTE!



This unique monument stands over the grave of a stone-cutter named Baker in the Bedford (Ind.) cemetery. It represents his unfinished task. His bench is reproduced in stone as he left it. The memorial was designed and chiseled by Baker's co-workers. Every little line, even the grain of the wood, was traced by the expert stone-cutters.

FABLES ON HEALTH

SET GOOD EXAMPLE.

In order to get that "10 minutes extra sleep," Mr. Mann of Anytown made his breakfast break all speed records between his mouth and his stomach.

All of Mr. Mann's children would be on hand and their child minds came to associate the breakfast meal with some sort of a game in which their daddy raced against them for the office-bound car.

Children are great mimics, so far as their elders are concerned.

So it was only a matter of time before the various Mann youngsters were bolting their breakfasts in the rush to get to school and then doing the same at their noonday lunch.

Children are impatient creatures at best, and it is sufficiently hard to get them to take time at their meals, without setting a bad example.

Malnutrition or underweight in children is not always a sign of extreme poverty. Hundreds of children, in families where excellent food is served, suffer from lack of nutrition due to hasty meals and food bolting.

Teach your children to eat properly. Get them in the right eating habit early in life, then practice what you teach!

MAYOR MARTIN MAY ASK FOR RECOUNT

MONTREAL, April 11.—Mederic Martin is considering petitioning the Superior Court for a recount of the vote in Monday's civic election when he was defeated for the mayoralty by Charles Duquette by a majority of more than three thousand it is stated in circles close to the retiring mayor. A writ of injunction would also be asked it is said to restrain Mr. Duquette from taking over the mayoralty.

U. S. HAS WRECK-PROOF RAILWAYS.

Automatic Train Control Furnishes the Missing Link Between the Roadside Block Signal and the Train.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Mechanical devices are being installed on three-fifths of the railroads in the country in an effort to make them wreck-proof.

By order of the Interstate Commerce Commission 49 of the largest railroads must have an approved system of automatic train control installed on their 150,000 miles of track by Jan. 1. One line, the Rock Island, has complied to date.

First cost of installing this system has been estimated at $150,000,000, for all the roads affected. Cost of maintaining the devices would be about $15,000,000 more annually.

Automatic train control furnishes the missing link between roadside block signal and the train. It makes train running proof against human error by working air brakes automatically in case of danger, whether the engineer sees the red signal or not.

The wreck of the Twentieth Century limited near Erie, Pa., last winter, would never have occurred, say signal engineers, had this control system been in use. When the first section stopped, the second section would have been brought to a stop at a safe distance behind.

Out of the thousands of devices submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval, only that adopted by the Rock Island has gained its sanction. This is due, however, to the fact that the I. C. C. refuses to review a system until it has been installed on an entire line.

Two Types

The automatic train control device adopted by the Rock Island is only one of two distinct types: the intermittent and the continuous systems.

The intermittent system is one by which a series either of ramps or of magnetic contacts are placed at regular intervals along the track to control the brake mechanism of passenger locomotives. Thus, trains are subject to automatic control at intermittent intervals.

Under the continuous contact system, an electric current passes through the entire track, so that the train may be placed under immediate control no matter where it happens to be.

By the continuous control system, when a train enters a block it de-energizes the track behind for one block and controls the relay system of electric control on blocks farther behind, so that trains following can be kept down to certain specified speeds.

There is a similar speed control system for the intermittent type.

It is the de-energizing of the track, ramp or magnet that causes the brakes to work automatically. While current passes through these devices, the engineer gets a signal in his cab that the road is clear.

Double Precaution

There is what the engineers call an "acknowledging feature" in connection with the speed control system by which an engineer forced to go less than 20 miles an hour must press an "acknowledging button" to show he is alert and careful, or the train is stopped automatically.

This double precaution is taken by the train control system, for the safety of the passengers.

According to a signal engineer of the New York Central, these devices would reduce railroad accidents, including personal injuries and crossing fatalities, by about 6 per cent. Considering only railroad wrecks, however, this rate of reduction would be more than half.

The explanation is, he points out, few accidents nowadays are purely railroad mishaps. Most are crossing accidents.

FINE FINISH.

A good floor wax dissolved in turpentine makes an excellent finish for furniture finished with wax such as fumed and Flemish oak. It should be applied sparingly and rubbed in thoroughly.

What Four Great Writers Say of the Bible
ITS WONDERFUL LITERARY AND MORAL VALUE
Macaulay Says: "If everything else in our language should perish, the Bible would alone suffice to show the whole extent of its beauty and power."
When Walter Scott Lay Dying, he said to his son-in-law: "Lockhart, read me something from the Book." Lockhart asked, "What book?" Scott replied: "Why do you ask? There is but one Book—the Bible!"
Coleridge Says: "Intense study of the Bible will keep any writer from being vulgar in point of style."
John Richard Green Says: "As a mere literary monument the Bible remains the noblest language of the English tongue, while its perpetual use made it from the instant of its appearance, the standard of our language."

OSHAWA LOOK STRONG IN PRE-SEASON SURVEY OF LEAGUE MATERIAL

Circuit Fans Are Curious About Peterboro Situation, While Kingston and Belleville Loom No Bigger Than Last Year--Solomon Is Reported Angling For Local Youngsters.

Notes of Preparations.

OSHAWA, April 11.— Giving baseball in Central Ontario cities and towns the once over, the summer pastime is in for one of its biggest seasons. The senior division which includes the four cities, Kingston, Belleville, Peterboro and Oshawa is going to be one of the strongest ever known east of Toronto and will be a battle from the time the umps calls play ball, with the opening games Oshawa at Kingston and Peterboro at Belleville on Wednesday, May 21st, until the closing of the second section on Wednesday, August 13th wth Kingston at Belleville and Oshawa at Peterboro.

Many new faces will appear on the line ups of the different teams of the inter-city series. Kingston with Harry "Red" Batstone, once with the champion Hillcrests of Toronto, covering the third or red light corner will have a new boy by the name of Purvis to receive his throws across the diamond at first base; Compeau a graduate from the Kingston City League who is reported to be fast at handling hard hit balls and a sure peg will work the short field, while for the middle station they have Bill Evans and Smith to work in, the latter being a new comer. In the outer garden Cherry, Nicholson and Teeple look like fixtures. For flingers Manager Daly has the old reliable portsider "Ted" Gallagher, Moore and Cherry, the latter coming in from the outfield to take his turn on the slab, while for the receiving end Rice who made good in pinches last season will carry the burden with an unknown from Queen's University to relieve. With all the material for a fast team Daley has issued the Missouri ultimatum, with no favorites holding down safety cushions.

Belleville's Squad.

Belleville has all of last year's infield in town and a new one by the name of White that comes to the Quinte City well recommended; in the outfield the loss of Harold Brownscombe who has migrated back to his home town in Toronto will leave a hole that Manager Gerow will have to plug up. "Wicky" Ross who has just recently joined the benedict class will have to get a decision from his new manager before he can canter around the centre field, while the old reliable Guy Casey will wear the sun glasses in right field. For slab duty Gerow has Jack Ouelett, the right hander speed merchant, Keon another right hander who comes from Tweed of the Trent Valley League and Jeffries the portsider who turned in a good game at Oshawa in his only start in senior company. Peeny Mills will do most of the receiving with Stan Hagerman as relief catcher

Legon Returning.

For Peterboro "Red" Legon who is attending Queen's University will likely hike home at the end of the college term to cover left field while a bunch of other youngsters will provide material for the rest of the garden. Frank Collins will again hold down the third corner "Shiner" Johnston the second, while "Hap" Harrison after a couple of year's absence as a regular from the Central Ontario league will attempt the come back at first base and if the big boy arrives he will strengthen Manager Solomon's inner defence; the short field position is causing J. J. some uneasy moments. Max Swanston, one of the handiest catchers in amateur ball will again don the mask and pad at the plate and on the firing line will be Al Heckman who carried the Petes into a play-off with Belleville last year, a left hander, name unknown, who hails from place called Ennismore, while "Hap" Harrison will turn in one or two good games.

Oshawa Looks Strong.

Oshawa still has the Fair-Reddick combination that looks like a million dollars in the Belleville-Oshawa play off last year, to gather in the high ones in the outer garden; "Mickey" Murray the old Peterboro-Leaside third sacker will cover the pivot corner, Morrison will again cover short, "Kip" Rowden second, while a new face Webster from Brantford will be groomed for the initial corner; "Duke" Dainty will deliver them up from the left side, while Whinfield, an Owen Sound product will work from the right side; Morrison who is slated for the short stop position will be given a chance on the firing line and Webster will be asked to vacate the first bag at times to show his wares. Al Tyson who is equal to any catcher in the league will do the receiving and Al already has his flinging staff working out, in preparation for the visit of Hampden Park Osler team from Toronto which is scheduled for Saturday, April 26th

TOOTHBRUSH GIFTS.

PEKIN, April 11.—Hsiong-Kei-wu, Chinese military leader, has presented each of his soldiers with a handkerchief inscribed with eigha characters reminding them of their meritorious service. Other generals are distributing wash cloths and toothbrushes.

School pupils enrolled in the United States at the last census numbered 21,578,316.

Hamilton Runners Unlucky in Draw

Philadelphia, April 10. — The Hamilton Collegiate Institute was out of luck in the drawings today for positions in the annual relay races under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania to be held April 25 and 26. The Canadian representatives, tenth, fourth and fifteenth, respectively in the one mile, inter-scholastic medley, and two mile relay events. The other Britishers, Cambridge University, had the misfortune to draw thirteenth place in both their events, the two mile and sprint relays. Cornell was the most happy institution, drawing the pole three times.

FAST PITCHER FOR KINGSTON

Andy Bennett, the Well-Known Pitcher, Has Signed With Kingston C.O.B.L. Team.

The following sport comment appeared in a Kingston paper recently:

With a view of securing strength in the pitching box, Manager Joe Daley of the local C.O.B.L. team, yesterday added to the string of players signed up, by securing "Andy" Bennett, crack pitcher of the Athletics last year. The star twirler should go good with the seniors, and is keen to turn in winning battles for Daley's team.

With Bennett, Gallagher, and a couple of other pitchers in line, Kingston will be more than strong in the pitching box this summer, while behind the bat they will also be formidable, for it is likely that "Lex" Rice will be on the job, and another crack catcher secured. Purvis, Somerville, Smith, Batstone, Teepell and a couple of others will be the infield, while there will be several candidates for outfield positions.

With Del Cherry, the heavy-hitting outfielder-pitcher, Herbie Teepell and several others already in the fold, enthusiasm among the officials of the local C.O.B.L. team runs high and now the only thing needed is the advent of good weather. The players are all anxious to get into their baseball togs, and are keen on starting the season by handing Oshawa a beating in the first game of the season here.

Up in Belleville the Grand Trunks have finally shown signs of life, and have organized for the season. Charlie Hanna, ex-mayor and general sport enthusiast, has been elected president of the club, while Walter Gerow will again manage the team. The officers elected were: Hon. Presidents, Mayor Mikel J. P. MacMillan; President, Chas. E. Hanna; Vice-Presidents, N. P. North, N. M. Kerr, R. D. Ponton; Secretary-Treasurer, Newton Thompson; Committee, Rev. D. C. Ramsay, N. Thompson, Stan Hagerman, Geo. Savage.

The first official act of these officers was to appoint Walter Gerow as manager, the man who has guided the destinies of the club for three years. Gerow in 1910 was playing first base regularly, when his team won the Ontario championship under Tom Fegg. The next season he unfortunately wrenched his shoulder which put him out of active competition and the following year he was appointed manager.

The team has been dealt a heavy blow by the departure of Jack Williams, but the Belleville Ontario says, "The hole will be filled when the umps say 'Play Ball!,' and the fans around the circuit will find that Belleville is a better balanced team than ever before. It is understood Oulette and Keon will be the mainstays of the team on the mound with 'Peenie' Mills again as catcher. Stan. Hagerman will act in a utility role and is capable of subbing as catcher. Harry Mills, Meagher, Weir and J. K. Williams will carry the burden of the infield, while the old reliables, Ross and Casey will be back in the outfield with one or two newcomers to senior company."

WARKWORTH TEAM WITHOUT LEADER

Three - Hour Discussion Failed to Produce President For Baseball Club.

WARKWORTH, April 10. — A meeting was held in the community hall on Wednesday evening for the purpose of re-organizing a baseball team if possible to be entered in the Northumberland League for 1924.

Quite a number attended this meeting but after three hours of discussion and in trying to secure a President, who would act the meeting dispersed with no definite purpose in view and it was decided to let matters stand as they were for a few days and in the meantime see what could be done. Mr. Joseph W. Dixon who has been president for the past two years said, after winning the trophy which was donated by Mr Sam Clarke, M.P.P. for the Northumberland League it seemed too bad not to have a baseball team to try and defend it and if nothing else could be done, it seemed as if the team could be managed as it had been done last year.

KINGSTON PUTS PETERBORO OUT OF CONTENDERS

Petes In For Slamming This Year, Says Standard's Seer — Heckman Can't Carry Hitless Wonders Much Longer, Is Limestone City View.

Opposition Stronger.

The Kingston Standard says: Within the next few days it is expected that Manager Joe Daley of the local C.O.B.L. team will sign up several more players for the aggregation, and these may include Arthur Quinn, general utility man of the Tanners last year. Quinn is a real handy man to have around on any team, he can catch, play the infield and outfield, and would fit in well.

Despite the feeble wailing of a Peterboro writer, it looks more and more as if the Petes are due for an awful slamming this year. Heckman is a fine twirler, but when Kingston and Oshawa, especially Kingston, start hammering his offerings, the outfielders will be running their legs off. The local team will have a strong batting array, better than last year's and the other teams will have to be mighty strong on the defence to stop them. The silence regarding their team in Peterboro has been most noticeable, but it's dollars to doughnuts that when the Petes lineup against the Belleville team for their first game, the same old bunch of veterans will be on the job. Last year the Petes hit like the "Hitless Wonders" of 1906, but steady work in the field and Heckman's almost super-human efforts carried them through. Without their star twirler they were like a ship without a rudder, and its a safe bet that Heckman won't be so effective this year, with stronger opposition against him.

As to Belleville somewhat the same thing applies. Williams has been lost, but Belleville is in a far better position than Peterboro, for Jack Oulette is just as good a twirler as Heckman ever thought of being? and Koen is better than either Hutchinson or McElroy of the Petes aggregation. Keon by the way, is a Railton boy, who was discovered a few years ago by the late Father Halligan, when St. Mary's Juniors were playing a game at Sydenham. Keon came to Kingston and pitched for St. Mary's the next year, subsequently pitching for Irishment and then Sydenham, later going to Tweed where he pitched great ball last year.

Then there is Oshawa, and here Kingston will have the toughest chewing. With fair pitching, which will hold the heavy-hitting Motor Town batters partly in check, Kingston will have more than a good chance to win, and everything will be cushy, even though Peterboro scribe may be looking for the Kingston eggs to remain unhatched this season.

CIRCUIT NOTES

OSHAWA, April 11.—Only thirty-six more working days before the opening of the Central Ontario ball season in Peterborough—24th May, Kingston at Peterborough.

All Central Ontario Baseball League certificates and amateur card application blanks were in the hands of the different clubs at the first of this week, and the Peterborough, Kingston, Belleville, and Oshawa inter-city scouts are out on the still hunt for material and getting John Henry's to the yellow slips provided by the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association.

The Ontario Baseball Amateur Association has had four presidents since its organisation in 1918—W. J. Smith, F. E. Robbins, P. M. Kennedy, and D. P. MacFarlane—and the last three have at some time claimed Hamilton as their place of residence. Frank Robbins is now a member of the Board of Education in the Ambitious City; Pat Kennedy, when presented with a diamond pin at the annual meeting in Toronto, said he had no choice as to being declared a former resident of the city below the mountain, as he was born there; D. P. MacFarlane confessed he had been sent there. None of the three have shown any weakness as presiding officers owing to their inhaling the ozone of the Western city.

Another town in the inter-county league has acquired a Toronto ball player as manager, according to the newspaper reports. Sammy Terry, of the Royal Canadians of Toronto, having migrated to the Agricultural College city to take over the reins as manager. Bush McWhirter of Galt, who was a Toronto city leaguer and the new Guelph boss will no doubt stage a real battle up to the final game of the inter-county schedule.

Kingston scribes will soon complain of writers' cramps as regards picking Central Ontario League winners, for while they can see no further than the Limestone City, we would remind them it's a long, long trail before the end of the first section on 28th June, when the Eastern team visits Peterborough and Belleville goes to Oshawa.

Many changes will take place on the infields of the teams which comprise the Central Ontario league circuit this year—Kingston will have Compeau, Smith, and a dark horse who will help Batstone; Peterborough will have two gaps to fill, shortstop and first base, but the latter is to be handed over to "Hap" Harrison, and if the C.P.C. representative shows any of his old form he will be up well in the averages for first sackers at the end of the season; Belleville has the same infield to try out, with a couple of new ones anxious; Oshawa will have Mickey Murray at third, while a new face, Webster, from Brantford, is to be groomed for the first station.

One of the interesting financial statements of the treasurer's report at the annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association was that a deficit of $489.93 on the Belleville-Hillcrest games played in Peterborough in October, 1922, had to be paid by the Ontario body. This occurred because of rain, but it shows that the association needs the money to carry on successfully.

Out of 29 leagues affiliated with the Ontario association 19 were represented at the annual meeting in Toronto on Saturday last, and out of the 19 in attendance only 5 were from Eastern Ontario.

Oshawa Church League are considering a senior series this year, the winner of same to enter the play-offs in the Intermediate series of the Ontario Association. Their junior winners will also enter the play-offs of the same body.

The Toronto Amateur Baseball Association at their meeting on Tuesday evening of this week granted a permit to the Osler's of Hampden Park League to play in Oshawa on Saturday, 26th April. The Oshawa team are to put on the 15-round Dempsey-Gibbons fight as a means of raising money for the opening of the season.

MOVE OLD WINDMILL

ALDEBURGH, Eng., April 11.—A century-old windmill has been moved in sections from its old slee near Alderburgh to another three miles inland, where it is beingre-erected. It will be used to pump water into a storage tank with a capaciy of 20,000 gallons, which is in course of construction.

QUAKERS WON CRESSMAN CUP

Porridge Team Went Through City Basketball League With Only One Loss.

The City Basketball League championship and the possession next year of the Cressman Cup that goes with the title, have been captured by the Quaker Oats team. The Quaker crew went through the whole schedule with only one defeat, losing to the 'hefty' De Laval boys by a close margin. The breakfast food gang were never burdened with too many men on the line-up either, having only five men to form the necessary quintette for a basketball team.

The Canadian Packing ran them a close second and were dangerous rivals right up to the last. But the Quakers left no doubt of their superiority when they trounced the Packers 24 to 14 in the final 'melee,' played on Tuesday night at the 'Y.' Had the Rose Brand crowd been successful in this fixture and downed the Quakers they would have been right in line for the "appendix" and the "silverware," having only to meet the Canadian Woollens as dessert before the complimentary speeches would have been now showering upon them.

The whole campaign was close, with most of the teams being bunched at the judges' stand. The De Laval, C.G.E., were on about even terms with the C.P.C., at the finish, with the Canadian Woollens tailing along as an 'also ran.' The League started off as a six team affair, but the Bankers found the 'exchange' too high and fearing a 'run,' they closed their doors and decamped.

Basketball is over now as far as the local tossers of the rounded 'pigskin' are concerned. But it has been very successful, many of the boys having got their first taste of the game will now progress swiftly. The P.C.I. had some nifty youngsters on the line-up, who will become known in the basketball world in the immediate future.

BETHANY EXPECTS BIG SPORT SEASON

Athletic Association Elects Officers — Field Day on May 24---Good Sport Field.

BETHANY, April 11.—The sixteenth annual meeting of the Bethany Athletic Association was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening. The president, Mr. C. Staples occupied the hair. The election of officers resulted in all the officers of the past being re-elected as follows:

Mr. Geo. McCarthy, hon. president! Mr. C. Staples, president; Mr. R. L. Crerar, 1st vice-president; Mr. W. Price, 2nd vice-president; Dr. J. J. Hamilton, treasurer; Mr. P. C. Brown, secretary.

The election of a manager for the baseball team being left to the members of that branch to elect their manager at a later date.

A committee was appoined to get in communication with other teams in the vicinity in order to form a league is possible. The usual field day will be held on the athletic grounds on May 24, with a good concert promised for night. The athletic association have spent a lot of money and time levelling the grounds and when the grass comes up Bethany will have as good a ball park as can be found between Peterboro and Toronto. There being ample room for two tennis courts, basketball and other sports without interfering with the diamond.

Bowling

Last night in the City Ten Pin League at Solomon's Alleys the Belmont Club handed the Lawn Bowlers a rude jolt when they took two out of three from them. The Lawn Bowlers after dropping the first game came back strong in the second and rolled 932 but fell away in the third game. The Belmonts on the other hand rolled three steady games and although they did not roll as much as the Bowlers in the three games, their rolling was more consistent.

The high man of the evening was King with 571 and Byers was next with 519, while Stuart, Cairns and Bacon all went over the 500 mark. King had the high single with 205.

EXHIBITION GAME.

Last night at Solomons' Alleys the Western Clock and the Cressman Store rolled a friendly game for a supper. The Western Clock gang were the winners grabbing two out of three. Some sensational rolling featured the games. The Western Clock rolled 1248 in their last game, giving them an average of over 200 a man.

Wilkonson was hight man of the rolling having a nice score of 687, while Stokes rolled 630. Wyatt, Cobb, DeGraw, Wolfe and Spillsbury were well over the 500 mark. One of the best high singles in a match game turned in this year was rolled by Curry when he split the maples for 310.

ENTER IN TORONTO TEN PIN TOURNAMENT.

A strong team of Peterboro bowlers have been entered in the Toronto Bowling Tournament which starts next week. The strongest possible team has been selected and the boys will compete on Thursday of next week, both afternoon and evening. They will play in both the singles and doubles.

There is a possibility of another team being entered although it will not be definitely known until tonight whether a second team will be sent.

KANSAS ATHLETIC MEET BIG AFFAIR.

More Than 800 Athletes From All Over Country Are Expected to Compete In the Games.

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 11. — (Associated Press).—Entries from all sections of the country are in prospect for the second annual University of Kansas relay games, April 19. The Athletic Association has announced it is certain there will be a larger representation than last year, when 800 athletes from 77 institutions competed.

The indoor season just closed saw many records fall and gave promise of a classy outdoor season. Coaches are expected to watch the Kansas relays with unusual interest in view of the mid-western Olympic try-outs which will be held here May 31.

The tourney will include 17 relays and nine special events divided for the four groups, university, college, military and high school. Twenty-two universities and 25 colleges some time ago had signified their intention of; entering either relay teams or athletes in the special events, or both.

The University of Iowa, which won the one-mile relay last year, will be back to defend its record, as will the University of Texas, which nosed out the University of Pennsylvania in the medley relay last year. In the college class relays, Butler of Indianapolis has entered again for the half mile and the mile relays which it won in the first Kansas relays. The Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, which won the two-mile relay, and Cornell College of Iowa, winner of the medley last year, have entered again.

AT THE ROYAL

Drama So Realistic That You Can Almost Hear the Pulse Beat of the Action—That One Phrase More Aptly Than Any Other Describes "Daytime Wives" Which Was Revealed Yesterday at the Royal to a Maximum Crowd.

With huge building operations as its background, this story of a rising young contractor, his indispensable office assistant, the "daytime wife," and a frivolous wife that squanders and "cheats" in her attentions to other men, gains momentum in its dramatic unfoldment until a climax that is bound to stir even the most phlegmatic fan of the films is reached.

Grace Darmond, the embodiment of luxury and ease in the role of Francine, the irresponsible wife, never looked more alluring on the screen. Wyndham Standing does some of the best acting of his career as the contractor and the work of Derelys Perdue, latest of promising screen debutantes, as the "daytime wife" indicates a sure and safe journey to stardom for herself. Edward Hearn and Katharine Lewis are others of note in a well-balanced cast.

Perhaps the biggest thrill of recent films is injected into "Daytime Wives" by the collapse of a skyscraper in process of construction. That this effect is not faked is easily apparent. The premature release of a huge girder being hoisted to the upper reaches of the building results in the dislocation of beams being rivetted into the huge framework. A crash follows in which the contractor's shack is buried and half the building reduced to wreckage. Audiences at the premiere of "Daytime Wives" fairly rose out of their seats and gasped when this spectacular scene was shown.

This worth-while feature is preceded by a fine assortment of shorter subjects, including a half-hour Western, two comedies, another chapter of "The Steel Trail," and "Wild Duck Hunting." The Royal management should have no trouble in playing to capacity with this programme.

"BRIGHT LIGHTS OF BROADWAY."

Fast Moving Melodrama of New York's Night Life, Soon to Be Shown Here.

What is said to be the fastest moving and most intense story of life as it is lived on New York's Great White Way, is promised to the patrons of the Royal Theatre when "Bright Lights of Broadway," a Principal Pictures offering, begins its three-day engagement on Monday next.

A notable array of players make up the cast, the featured roles being entrusted to such capable artists as Lowell Sherman, Doris Kenyon and Harrison Ford, and they are supported by Edmund Breese, Tyrone Power, Effie Shannon and Charles Murray. Glimpses are also shown of the famous Beauty Chorus from the New York Hippodromo, and the sixteen Tiller Girls from the Ziegfeld "Follies." The story culminates in a climax of the utmost intensity, and Manager Pappas of the Royal is making preparations to handle crowds of record-breaking proportions.

DON'T MARRY A "DELICATESSEN WIFE."

Have you a "delicatessen wife" in your home?

Doctors recommend 'em as just the thing. They convert perfectly healthy husbands, with healthy appetites and healthy pocketbooks, into ideal patients.

No husky laboring man can thrive on a "delicatessen" diet. Therefore, unless you are puny and dyspeptic to start with, be sure before you marry whether your intended is going to prepare your meals for you in your own kitchen or is going to let someone else prepare them for you in someone else's kitchen.

This warning will appear more impressive after young swains who contemplate matrimony have seen "Daytime Wives," the startling photodrama at the Royal Theatre now.

AT THE CAPITOL

The Capitol has a good programme for this week-end with an interesting feature production, a Lige Conley comedy, and two vaudeville acts, the first of which is a unique feature, with the Rossow Midgets, two small and lively men who are a decided novelty in vaudeville circles. They are miniature beings with deep bass voices, and they do a snappy boxing bout is a tiny ring, with their tall companion and Teddy Crowe acting as energetic seconds.

The second vaudeville offering is a "musical moment", by Haskell and Butler, in a saxaphone duett and a singing act that was received with much applause.

The comedy is a Mermaid production, with Lige Conley in "Wide Open," a golfing travesty that finishes with a runaway trolley pursuing a fat cyclist.

May McAvoy is the beautiful heroine of "Her Reputation," the feature picture, which proved to be an exciting recital of the pictured woes of a lady pursued by a sensation-loving and yellow press. The villain of the piece is the star reporter of the San Francisco Tribune, dogging the heroine's steps for sensational news. May McAvoy, as Jacqueline Lanier, is the persecuted star. She does some splendid acting, portraying to perfection the role of the somewhat hysterical victim of misrepresented facts. Involved by jealousy and mad passion in a murder and suicide tangle, she flies from the resulting publicity, and is one of the refugees from a flood. Marooned for three days in a floating barn she meets the son of the man who has caused all her trouble, the proprietor of the sensation-seeking "Tribune." Once again she goes away, this time to conceal herself as Conchita, the dancer, in the El Toro cafe, but Kent, the reporter, once more ferrets out her hiding-place, and again the Tribune carries a front-page sensational story of her part in a fight in the cafe. The way in which the story is finally 'killed,' and the girl's reputation vindicated, is told in interesting fashion. By reason of the out of the ordinary plot of the piece, the beauty and excellent acting of the star, and a fine quality of screening, "Her Reputation" is an entertaining and exciting picture.

James Corrigan plays the part of "Dad" Lawrence, the kindly old newspaper man, Eric Mayne is Andres Miro, the rich Spaniard in love with Jacqueline, George Larkin is Ramon Cervanez, the star of a dancing trouble, Casson Ferguson is Jack Calhoun, who shoots Andres and then himself, Louise Lester is Concuelo, the nurse, Brinsley Shaw is Clinton Kent, the sensation-hunting reporter, and Lloyd Hughes is the hero, Sherwood Mansfield.

AT THE GRAND

A NOTABLE DOUBLE BILL

The Grand is offering its patrons a varied bill of pictures in the combination of Ben Turpin and Nazimova which was the attraction last night and will be repeated this evening with the Grand's eight-piece orchestra rendering an appropriate accompaniment.

Nazimova is seen in an impressive production of Henrik Ibsen's master piece "A Doll's House" and the famous star has never done better work on the screen than she does as Nora in this presentation. Ibsen's play has been most cleverly transferred to the screen and in its film version is even more striking than the stage edition It has been called Nazimova's greatest photoplay and certain it is that the wonderful artists is at her best in the portrayal of the part of the unhappy Nora, one of the greatest roles that has been written for an actress. "A Doll's House" is familiar to all playgoers. It is full of tense moments and carries a big lesson that every married couple should find of value. Associated with Nazimova is a cast of sterling players, who succeed in making the rendition of Ibsen's play a work of art. And then there is Ben Turpin the cross-eyed comedian who gets a thousand laughs in "The Shrick of Araby" a five-reel feature comedy that shows the celebrated Ben is a romantic lover in the Sahara desert. The possibilities for comedy in such a situation are great and none of them have been lost. Ben has a whale of a time and so has the audience. Kathryn McGuire is the heroine of the comedy and there are many surprises in the action that provide hearty laughter. It is one of Mack Sennett's funniest comedy efforts.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT

What is underlined as a real merry treat for those who like their amusements served in an appetitizing and original manner, undoubtedly will be pleased at he announcement of the title of the next attraction at the Grand Opera House next Saturday matinee and night. The piece is nothing more than the latest version, in stage form, of the many adventures of Jiggs Mahoney and the rest of the characters made famous by George McManus in his popular comics, "Bringing Up Father." This time, under the caption of "Bringing Up Father On Broadway," Jiggs will be compelled to travel to many climes, including a visit to King Tuts Tomb in the valley of the Kings, Egypt. That the fun will be rampant, unctuous and infectious, coupled with pungent wit, screams, novelties and other salient and distinctive features goes without saying. Two acts and five scenes will be required to tell of the merry and absorbing escapades of Jiggs, Maggie and Dinty and other pleasure-loving clan. Novel effects and unusual surprises are promised.

A DANCE FEAST FOR EVERY TASTE OFFERED BY RUTH ST. DENIS, TED SHAWN AND THE DENISHAWN DANCERS

When Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn Dancers come to the Grand Theatre on Monday, April 14, they will offer a dance feast calculated to suit every taste. The many phases of the Denishawn choreographic art, the variety of the gorgeous costumes made of rich brocades, silks and satins, shot with gold and silver and jewels of barbaric splendor, the spell of the transforming lighting effects, the bewitching personality of Miss St. Denis, the virile strength and dramatic powers of Mr. Shawn, the youth and beauty of the dancers that support them—all these and more will make her programme the most artistic and satisfying ever offered by a company of dancers.

The first group of Miss St. Denis' programme is called Music Visualization, and includes Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique," Chopin's "Revolutionary Etude," Schumann's "Soaring," Brahms' Waltz, Liszt's "Liebestraum," and Mana Zucca's "Valse Brillante."

The second group includes a spanish Suite: a pastoral, "In a Garden," danced to a new valse composed by Mischa Levitzki; and "Xochitl," a dance drama based on an ancient Toltec legend.

The third section of the programme is entitled "Orientalia," and offers dance groups of China, Crete, Siam, Japan, Java and Egypt. The Hindu group will again give Miss St. Denis an opportunity to do her famous Nautch Dance and her "Dance of the Black and Gold Sari."

In addition to Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn, the company includes Martha Graham, Pearl Wheeler, Betty May, Lenore Scheffer, Julia Bennett, May Lynn, Louise Brooks, Peggy Taylor, Charles Weidman and Paul Mathis, with a symphonic quartet conducted by Louis Horst.

AT THE REGENT

"EAGLE'S FEATHER" PROVES THRILLER.

Metro Ranch Picture is a "Western" That's "Different."

A thrilling Metro picture full of delightful incident and fine action came to the Regent Theatre last night. It is called "The Eagle's Feather" and is a picturization of Katharine Newlin Burt's famous story of the same name which appeared in Cosmopolitan's magazine some time ago. The story was read by millions of people and its picturization will undoubtedly be enjoyed by as many more for it deviates in no essentials from the great charm and sentiment of the original story.

"The Eagle's Feather" tells the story of a hard, unsentimental woman who scorns men and love and is known as "the biggest man in Bear Valley." But there comes a time when a newcomer on the ranch, just returned from the war, strikes her fancy and Delila, the scorner of men, finds that Fate has played her a cruel trick. When she craves for love it is to her niece, a frail, beautiful girl, wholly feminine, that the man turns to with love, and Delila must acknowledge her only defeat, and that at the hands of the sex she has despised all her life.

"The Eagle's Feather" contains many scenes of tremendous action and excitement. James Kirkwood, fresh from his great acting in "The Fool," the sensational Broadway success, and Mary Alden, who was the mother in "The Old Nest," head a cast of able players. One great scene in which nearly the entire cast participate is that of a tremendous stampede in which more than four thousand cattle rush across the screen in vivid realistic flight. Director Edward Sloman has done some of the best work of his career in "The Eagle's Feather."

Others in the cast with Mr. Kirkwood and Mary Alden are Elinor Fair, Lester Cuneo, William Orlamond, John Elliott, George Siegmann and Charles McHugh. It was adapted to the screen by Winifred Dunn.

KINGSTON WINS PENNANT DAILY

However Petes Are Preparing for the Season and Hope to Grab at Least the Odd Game.

There used to be an idea that the funniest stuff about baseball was written by Ring Lardner, but the author of "Letters of a Busher" will have to give way to the individual with the never-silent typewriter who is press-agenting the Kingston Ball Club into the Central League championship six days a week via the medium of the sporting columns of the Kingston Standard. This busy bee lines the other clubs in the Central circuit up each day and then pictures the Daley-Batstone-Evans combination riding triumphantly over them. He concedes Oshawa a slight chance, but Belleville and Peterboro can't even be detected on the horizon according to the Kingston dopester, who should, however, remember that both clubs have a habit of being somewhere round the finals each year.

As far as Peterboro is concerned, the Petes don't believe in winning the honors weeks before the season opens through the sporting pages. They prefer to let the team speak for itself when it goes into action, but for the benefit of our friend in the Limestone City it might be mentioned that preparations are being quietly made for a strong team to represent Peterboro. This city has won a flock of O. B. A. A. championships in the past two seasons, and good material has been developed. It is more than likely that a number of youngsters who have come to the front will make the grade into Senior this year. At least every kid who desires to try will be given every opportunity to make good, and there promises to be a keen fight for positions.

To help Heckman carry the pitching burden a left-handed heaver, never to this circuit, is available, and in the twirling department the Petes will not have to doff their hats to any club in the League. Max Swanston will do the receiving, and "Hap" Harrison, back in this territory, and able to take part in practices and games, promises to be a tower of strength at first base.

The squad will start practice as soon as weather conditions warrant and a number of exhibition games will be arranged.

SUMMER WEAR.

Two and three-piece suits for wear later on in the summer are of silk poplin in bright shades of rust, American Beauty or green.

ONLY ONE TEAM FROM COBOURG

Lake Shore Town Will Have Strong Midland League Club According to Reports.

Although two teams from Cobourg were spoken of as likely to enter the newly-formed Midland League, the prospects, according to the Cobourg Sentinel-Star, are that the Lakeshore town will be represented by only one club, and that is likely to be a decidedly dangerous outfit. Cobourg has many of her former Central League team available, including Punch Derry as pitcher, Bill Skitch at second base, Thomson, the former Kingston boy at short, and Turpin at third. The veteran, Higginbottom, is still in the game for the outfield, and Schafer can fit in at first base and do his stuff on the mound. In addition, the Canadian National team which won the Cobourg City League last year and gave the Oshawa Motors a hard battle in the semi-finals, have decided not to affiliate with the O. B. A. A., thus leaving their players available for the Cobourg Midland League team. The Peterboro teams will have to watch their step if the expected amalgamation takes place at the meeting in Cobourg to-night.

MILLARD WON BOUT EASILY

Referee Stopped Fight in the Second Round

TORONTO, April 11.—(Canadian Press).—Seventeen bouts formed the well-balanced card of the preliminary bouts at the Ontario boxing championship tournament at the Arena last evening, and the semi-finals and finals this evening promise competition of high order. Eleven of last evening's winners were decided by the judges' decision, one by the referee's decision at the end of an extra round, while the remaining five failed to go three rounds, three of them being stopped and two ending in clean cut knockouts.

Perhaps the best boxing was seen in the bout in which "Buzz" Moore, of Kitchener defeated Aubrey Carey, Praestamus, a colored lightweight, in an extra round. In the same class, Ray Millard, Peterboro, won from Tony Fezzi, St. Agnes, when Referee Sinclair stopped the bout in the second round. Only one final bout was contested, and in it Harry Henning, of the Classic Club, Toronto, was the winner over Bert Hillier, of St. Catharines.

Douglas Lewis, the colored welterweight star, signalized his return to the Toronto ring by scoring an easy victory over Murray, of the Apollo Club. Murray never appeared to have a chance to earn a decision; he battled pluckily all the way.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The team to represent the Canadian Woollens on Saturday, April 12, at the King Edward Park at 3 o'clock against the Thistles is as follows: Hillman, Read, Chambers, Sayers, Monkman, Quinn, Mitchell, Potts, Wylie, Roberts, Downes, Elliott, Gaskell.

SHORT SKIRTS.

Some of the newest skirts exploited by a Parisian designer are 12 inches from the floor.

FIRPO NAMES NEW MANAGER

Hugh Gartland Authorized to Negotiate Matches Subject to Approval of Argentine Boxer.

BUENOS AIRES, April 11. — If Luis Firpo, the pugilist, returns to the United States, Hugh Gartland will be his manager. Gartland made this statement yesterday prior to sailing for New York on the steamer Western World, after having been for three months in Argentine, acting in the capacity of manager for the Argentine heavyweight.

Gartland said he had in his pocket a contract signed by Firpo authorizing him to negotiate matches "subject to approval" of Firpo. Firpo, while admitting that he had signed such a document, said it did not mean that he would return to the ring, as he still was determined to give up boxing. On the contrary, however, Gartland expressed confidence that Firpo eventually would change his mind.

Gartland is being accompanied to New York by Guillermo Widmer, former secretary to Firpo, who said he was returning to resume business in the United States. Firpo made the voyage with Gartland and Widmer to Montevideo.

On the steamer, bound for the United States, were Erminio Spalla, the Italian heavyweight, and Al. Reich, the United States fighter, who was defeated in one round by Firpo last Saturday night.

BAN JOHNSON SCANS LEAGUE

President of the American Circuit Predicts Yankies Will Again Win Pennant If Discipline Is Maintained.

CHICAGO, Apr. 11.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, tonight joined the ranks of the "first guessers," making the prediction that the champion Yankees, if the proper discipline can be maintained, would again capture the 1924 championship of the American League.

President Johnson believes that Detroit and Cleveland will be dangerous contenders, while the Boston Red Sox, he thinks, are virtually certain to finish in the first division.

"The Yankees naturally are first choice," he said. "This club's pitchers cannot be excelled.

"Detroit will be a contender and so will Cleveland, in my judgment. The Tiger's pitching, which has been a week spot, has been improved, and Manager Cobb is favored with a splendid, hard-hitting infield."

The American League executive believes the showing of the St. Louis Browns will be dependent upon Manager George Sisler, who was lost to the game last season due to impaired vision. If Sisler can return with all of his baseball skill the Browns undoubtedly will be dangerous, President Johnson thinks. He says it is difficult to measure the strength of the White Sox, who have a large number of young players.

CHICAGO, April 10. — Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago White Sox, whose illness prevented him from joining the club at the start of the training season, will take command on his arrival from Los Angeles tomorrow. He will get his first peek at the Sox when they clash with the Giants here Saturday.

JACK JOHNSTON TO MEET JORDAN

Ray Millard Won His Bout Last Night From Tony Fessit of Toronto

Joe Jordan missed the draw in the first night's meeting of the Ontario championships, and will meet Jack Johnston, the clever Riverside's boxer, to-night. Ray Millard won his bout last night with Tony Fessi, of Toronto, the referee stopping the boys in the second round, Mallard being too good for his opponent.

The absence of Art Johnston's name from to-night's draw is unexplainable here.

ALLIES UNITED AGAIN BY SUDDEN ADOPTION OF EXHIBITS' FINDINGS

Reparations Commission At Meeting Friday For Formal Exchange of Views Found Unanimous Agreement of Members Upon Report of Experts and Immediately Decided to Recommend Its Acceptance to the Respective Governments — Regarded As Solution of Reparations Problem.

FORWARDED TO GERMANY.

PARIS, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—What appeared to be the dawn of a solution of the reparations problem broke over Paris last night with the unanimous adoption by the Reparation Commission of the report of the Experts' Committee and a recommendation by the commission that the respective Governments accept the findings of the experts. The recommendation was couched in such a manner that it seems practically impossible that the interested Governments can evade the issue.

The action of the Reparation Commission in accepting the report of the experts and recommending approval of it, was greeted everywhere with gratification. "The semi-official conference accomplished what all the Supreme Councils failed to do," was the verdict of one of the members of the Reparation Commission last evening.

Official Connections.

The prompt acceptance by the commission of the report of the experts was taken as evidence that the experts did not form such a "non-official" body as the various Governments were at pains to make it appear to the public at large.

It now develops that M. Parmentier, the French representative on the Dawes Committee, was in constant touch with M. Barthou, president of the Reparation Commission, who in turn conferred with M. Poincare, the French premier, practically daily. Sir Robert Kindersley and Sir J. C. Stamp, the British representatives on the Dawes Committee, were continually in communication with Premier Ramsay MacDonald, and M. Franqui, the Belgian member, with Premier Theunis.

The State Department at Washington was also kept in close touch with the situation by Colonel James A. Logan, the United States unofficial observer, who reported extensively to Secretary of State Hughes with regard to the progress of the negotiations.

Urge German Reply.

Although no official time limit has been set for Germany to reply to the Reparations Commission's invitation to accept the experts' report it is said the Reich has been requested to decide within the shortest possible time what action it will take, it being the Commission's purpose to ascertain Germany's decision before the German election, which is to be held on May 4th. It is understood here that Premier Poincare also is desirous of having the question settled before May 11, the date for the French legislative elections.

M. Poincare, it is asserted, is ambitious to go down in history as the man under whose tenure of office the Reparation problems were settled.

Bank in Berlin.

Three weeks ago it was freely stated in German circles in Paris that the German government would accept the report of the experts made along the lines that were then known Since that time the plan of the experts has been modified, favorably to the Germans, by the location of the seat of the new bank of issue in Berlin, instead of in a neutral country.

At the headquarters of the German war burdens commission, it was said on Friday that there was no reason to suppose the plan of the experts would encounter opposition in Berlin. The German Government, it was added, might ask for some modifications, but in view of the unanimous action of the Reparation Commission in accepting the plan as a whole there was little likelihood of determined opposition.

Now up to Germany.

Apparently the situation is now up to Germany. The Reparation Commission astonished everybody by its announcement that it had decided to accept the report and to recommend acceptance by the various governments interested. The announcement was a surprise to the members of the Reparations Commission themselves, who had counted only on an informal exchange of views yesterday leaving until next week the matter of giving the report serious consideration.

The Commission, when it met on Friday afternoon, after the members had individually studied the report, found that the members were so completely in accord on the question of acceptance that it decided to act immediately so as to expedite action by Germany. The meeting of the Commission followed an interview between M. Barthou and Premier Poincare, and the deduction is that M. Poincare was quite ready to accept the conclusions of the experts' report. Immediately after making its decision, the Reparation Commission notified the German War Burdens' Commission in order to give ample notice to the Germans of the hearing on the situation which is to take place on April 17.

No Reservations.

The question of the indivisibility of the plan recommended by the experts was discussed by the Commission, but the members declined to express themselves with regard to it. It is known, however, that Sir John Bradbury, the British member was decidedly in favor of considering the plan as a whole. The French, it was said, also decided to accept the plan without reservations and join the other allies in putting the matter up to the German government in a way that would leave no doubt as to just what the allies now want.

Allies United Again.

"The Allies once again are united," was the comment of one of the leading members of the commission after the meeting. "Germany no longer can count on a division among them."

The same note was sounded in French official circles, where it was said:

"We shall now see whether Germany is sincere in her pretensions. The decision of the Reparation Commission puts her to the test. If she refuses to accept the experts' plan or endeavors to qualify it in a way to leave her a method for escape from its requirements later on, we can be surethat she means never to pay."

Dr. Meyer, secretary of the German War Burdens Commission, immediately on receipt of the Reparation Commission's recommendation, forwarded it to Berlin with the request that he be advised at the earliest possible moment whether the Reich government would send a representative to Paris for the hearing on April 17, in accordance with the invitation of the Reparation Commission.

Victoria County Wolves Are Bold

(Special to the Examiner)

LINDSAY, April 12.—Wolves and bears are so plentiful in the northern part of Victoria County and in Haliburton that they actually penetrate the villages and hamlets. Last Wednesday James Allen, who resides at Kinmount discovered a big black bear in his sheep fold. A number of sheep had disappeared mysteriously, and the bear's visit solved the mystery. Mr. Allen despatched Bruin with his rifle.

On Monday afternoon a timber wolf trailed a deer across the south end of Hall's Lake in Haliburton and the same night a small pack of wolves crossed the lake at the settlement. One wolf even came on the back verandah of Robb Oliver's house a week ago.

CHURCH UNION IN COMMITTEE

Bill Received Second Reading At Ottawa and Was Referred to Private Bills Committee.

OTTAWA, April 12.— (Canadian Press.)—The Church Union bill was given a second reading and referred to the Private Bills committee of the House of Commons last night following a brief discussion.

The second reading was moved, William Buff (Liberal, Lunenberg) rose to address the House. Robert Forke, Progressive leader, who moved second reading interrupted to say that he had an understanding with Mr. Duff that there would be no debate on the bill at this stage. Mr. Duff replied that on his part he had understood that the bill was not to be introduced until after Easter. He did not wish to make a speech but merely to enter a protest.

Dr. Murray MacLaren (Conservative, St. John City) said that there was no objection to the incorporation of the United Church of Canada, provided that those who did not wish to enter it might remain in their mother church Some Presbyterians had objected on the ground that the petitioner or moderator, had not been authorized by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church. The matter was now before the Supreme Court of Ontario, and decision was being sought on the question as to whether or not the procedure was constitutional. Dr. MacLaren stated that he joined with Mr. Forke in urging that the bill be sent to the Private Bills committee.

WOUNDED NURSES WERE FORGOTTEN.

Recall Nation's Remembrance By Asking For Status of Men.

PARIS, April 12.—(Associated Press).—French war nurses, wounded or broken in health, are suffering under "the war is over" forgetfulness. More than 1,200 of these women are entitled to pensions, Madame Guerin-Charvet recently told the seventh national congress of associations representing veterans, widows and war victims at Cherbourg. Madame Guerin-Charvet is secretary-general of the wounded nurses association.

With tears flowing she recited the trials in peace of the nurses who, she said, "already suffered too much in war." She asked, and the congress promptly complied, that the government be urged to put nurses on exactly the same basis as combatants. Now, she said, nurses were awarded scant pensions when able to prove beyond question that their wounds were war wounds. Most of the victims could not do this, many because there was no agency to keep such records, others because they were too busy caring for the soldiers to protect their own interests, and some because the government pension authorities took the view their illnesses had no direct connection with war.

PRACTICAL.

This season the most practical and untrimmed frocks will be seen on the street and almost every frock needs its own particular wrap.

LARGE FACTORY CLOSING DOORS BUDGET VICTIM

Report From Montreal of St. Hyacinthe Company Manufacturing Agricultural Implements Going Into Liquidation and Attributing Failure to Thursday's Budget.

OTHERS AFFECTED.

MONTREAL, April 12.— R. W. Gould, secretary of the Quebec Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, stated Friday that he had received a letter from the vice-chairman of the St. Hyacinthe branch, who is also head of an agricultural implements plant at St. Hyacinthe, informing him that his firm had been compelled to go into liquidation as a direct result of the Budget.

Mr. Gould said that this firm had been engaged for a number of years at St. Hyacinthe, and had been one of the major industries of the town, employing as high as 200 hands. He considered that its loss would be a bad blow to the town. Over $100,000 was invested in the firm. The loss to St. Hyacinthe would be permanent, said Mr. Gould as he was informed that the business would be abandoned entirely; the plant dismantled and the site sold for purposes other than of a business nature.

"Worst Yet to Come"

Leading members of the board of trade, while they disapproved of the reductions in the tariff did not, said Secretary Cook, of the board of trade, regard this as the most serious feature of the budget. The really dangerous thing about it, from their point of view was the evidence afforded by the Budget that Premier King had definitely given in to the anti-protective tariff demands of Robert Forke and the Progressive Party.

A Death Blow

Hopes that the big plant of the machine de Agricole Nationale at Montmagny now in bankruptcy after costing the National Bank $5,000,000 and forcing its merger with Hochelaga Bank would ultimately be taken over by a large United States farm implement manufacturing concern are dispelled by the fact that the Federal Government has reduced the duties on agricultural machinery was the general opinion among business men here yesterday. In addition to the agricultural implement plant at St. Hyacinthe, others at Flessisville, Terrebonne and Joliette are also stated to be adversely affected by the Budget.

A LIFE MEMBERSHIP TO MRS. JAMES TULLY

The presentation of a life membership certificate and pin in the Women's Missionary Society of the Lakevale Presbyterian Church was made to Mrs. James Tully, Smith Township, on Thursday afternoon of this week, by the President of the society, Mrs. Edward Archer, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Fowler. On account of illness, the presentation was made quietly at the home of Mrs. Tully, who has been for many years a faithful and devoted member of the Lakevale W. M. S. With her daughter, Miss Lena Tully, and the President, Mrs. E. Archer, Mrs. Tully forms the third of the remaining trio of charter members of this branch.

Russians Arrested In China For the Soviet.

MOSCOW, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—The Chinese authorities in Manchuria, at the request of Russian representatives, have arrested more than twenty former Russian officers, including General Glieboff and Colonels Korsunsky, Kosyreff and Kluboff, all of them declared to be prominent participants in the counter revolutionary organization headed by General Gregorie Semenoff.

TRIED TO HANG HIMSELF BUT ROPE WAS TOO WEAK

TORONTO, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—Mike Kuilasky, aged 45, of Augusta Avenue, was arrested last night by Detective Hill, on a charge of attempted suicide. Kulasky, the police stated, placed a piece of rope over a beam of the ceiling in his cellar and then fastened it around his neck. The rope broke from his weight, and he fell, striking his head on the floor, the blow stunning him.

Osage Queen

All Indians do not wear blankets. Mrs. George Beaulieu (above) is a member of the Osage tribe ,wealthiest group of individuals in the world since the discovery of oil on their Oklahoma lands. Mrs. Beaulieu's income annually from oil land is $13,100, and soon will be more. She is a graduate of an eastern finishing school, and is an accomplished musician. Her father is Chief Wheeler.

EQUALITY OF WOMEN URGED

Dr. Paulina Luisi of Uruguay Impressed League of Nations Committee—Matron For Emigrant Ships Recommended.

GENEVA, April 12. — Japanese emigration to California and women's equality with man were two questions which gave an unexpectedly dramatic touch Friday to the final session of the League of Nations Advisory Committee on traffic in women and children.

The committee was engaged in drawing up recommendations for presentation to the emigration conference to be held in Rome next month, in which the United States will participate. One of the recommendations presented was that a competent woman should be especially charged with the care of the interests of women and children on all emigrant ships.

The Japanese delegate objected to the provision, contending that as Japanese emigrants were practically all men the provision for a woman seemed out of place. This brought a sharp reply from the Italian delegate, Marquis Paulucci De Camboli, formerly Italian Minister to Japan, who said:

"I have lived in Tokio and I know that the statement is inexact for Jaapnese women do go to California to meet their husbands.'

The Commission subsequently decided to recommend that women guardians sail on all emigrant ships.

The battle for recognition of the equality of women was led by Dr. Paulina Luisi, of Uruguay. In a spirited address she accused the committee of totally ignoring her draft recommendation that governmental measures for the protection of women emigrants should not interfere with the personal freedom of women of leagl age and that all provisions affecting them should be the same as those applicable to men.

Dr. Luisi's arguments in behalf of women so impressed the delegates that they immediately took up her proposals and adopted them.

CANADA IS CALLED PREMIER DOMINION

LONDON, April 12 (Canadian Press Cable). — Reference in the House of Commons last night by Sir Edward Grigg to Canada as the premier Dominion in the course of the discussion on the Bill in connection with the Treaty of Peace with Turkey in the committee stage, evoked deprecatory comment from J. H. Thomas, the Colonial Secretary, who said he made no distinction between the Dominions, and treated them all on absolutely the same footing.

Sir Edward Grigg thought the objection offered by Mr. Thomas showed considerable ignorance of what feeling was in the Dominions considering that Canada was the Dominion thirty or forty years before the others.

FOUND DEAD IN STABLE

CHATHAM, April 12.S—The premonition of Henry Blackman to his employer Richard McKenzie, Dover Township, two days ago, to the effect that 'they will find me dead in the stable some of these days," proved true, when his body was found lying on the floor behind one of the horses, by Mr. McKenzie.

MINOR CHANGES TO SCHOOL ACT WERE APPROVED

The Rural Sections May Rescind Consolidation of Schools Within Two Years If No Action Has Been Taken to Implement Vote — Judicature Act Amended.

RANEY'S OBJECTIONS.

TORONTO, Feb. 12. — Amendments to the Ontario Education Act and changes in the Judicature Act occupied the time of the Legislature Friday afternoon. Hon. W. E. Raney expressed a fear that the hanging of the Appellate Division intoo ne main body to sit in two divisions might prevent real co-operation on the part of the judges concerned. Hon. W. F. Nickle could see no reason for such a fear.

Mr. Raney's second objection was that the bill took away rank and precedence from Chief Justice Latchford. He moved an amendment to the bill that the rank and precedence of the chef of the second appellate division should be recognized. The chief of the second appellate division is Mr. Latchford Mr. Nickle replied that titles meant little and that a man could have as much influence on the courts of Canada and an ordinary justice as he could if a chief justice The amendment was defeated without formal division.

Appeal to Throne.

During the debate on this bill the Premier said that its provisions had been discussed with the justices at Osgoode Hall. Mr. Nickle reiterated his statement that if the Federal government did not allow the bill that it would be taken to the Privy council meaning the right of the Ontaro government to name the chief justice of the various divisions.

Mr. Raney criticized the education act on the grounds that it left too much to the discretion of the Minister of Education in the matter of alloting grants to schools both separate and public. He maintained that the regulations should be more specific in the statute. Z. Mageau (Liberal, Sturgeon Falls) and A. Belanger (Liberal, Russell), did not agree with this contention. Premier Ferguson as Minister of Education, proposed a few amendments in his own bill which were passed.

School Amendments.

The first was that in cities of over 50,000 the industrial advisory committee of a Board of Education may acquire land in an adjacent municipality not more than a mile from the city limits for school purposes. This means technical schools. Another amendment is that rural school petitions which have voted to have a consoldated school may, two years after, if the school has not been formed, vote for a dssolution of the consolidation.

A. Belanger after speaking to an amendment that the property owners instead of the tenants decide whether the taxes on the property go to separate or public school rates withdrew his amendment after the Premier had explained that such an amendment would need much consideration. Mr. Belanger had in mind property in Ottawa owned by separate school supporters and leased by the Dominion government, which representing the King, said it paid no taxes at all Therefore with the tenant stating that he paid no taxes, the separte schools were done out of taxes which they might otherwise have secured. The Premier said he could see the justice of the complaint but there were others involved which would require consideration.

COMMITTEE FOR WEST'S RAILWAY

Parliamentary Group Assume Promotion of the Hudson Bay Railway Construction — Is Non-Partisan.

OTTAWA, April 12.—(Canadian Press)—The formation of a committee of seven members of Parliament, to assist in the campaign for construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, was announced Friday by members of the "On-to-the-Bay" delegation which interviewed the Government recently. The members who have consented to act, according to the announcement, are: C. A. Cauvreau and E. W. Tobin, Liberals;; T. N. Bird, W. Ward and A. Knox Progressives; C. H. Dickie and R. F. Preston, Conservatives. The delegation found "a desire to do all possible to help the west and none of the supposed bitterness of the east towards the west" according to the announcement.

THIEVES REMANDED

CHATHAM, April 12. —Richard Heddle, Wm. Echlin and Wilbert Holden, clerks, charged with stealing funds from the local branch of the Standard Bank, were remanded a fourth time to jail for a week.

PERENNIAL DEBATE ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT FOLLOWED BUDGET

Rev. William Irvine, East Calgary's Labor Man, Contended That the Law's Extreme Penalty Was Not a Deterrent to Criminals — Life Imprisonment Not An Effective Substitute, the Conclusion of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice.

ENGLAND'S EXAMPLE.

OTTAWA, April 12.—(Canadian Press). — Speaking to the second reading of his bill for the abolition of capital punishment, Rev. William Irvine, (Labor, East Calgary). Friday afternoon proposed to present his argument against the death penalty from "the historic and scientific point of view."

The ancient law of the tribes, an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, he argued must give place to humanitarian measures. The world had progressed since the desire for retribution was the basis of law.

The argument which was constantly presented in support of capital punishment was that it acted as a deterrent, said Mr. Irvine. He believed that there were better ways of reaching the desired end. In the old days death was the penalty for minor crimes. But society finding that it did not prove effective had abolished it in petty cases. The time was surely coming when society not so much in the interest of the criminal as in its own interest, would abolish capital punishment.

It is degrading, demoralizing, an outrage to our finer sensibilities and a failure in as much as it does not act as a deterrent," declared Mr. Irvine.

Causes of Crime

Mr. Irvine quoted from a leading penologist the statement that from 50 to 75 per cent of the number of crimes commited were due to prenatal causes and the remainder to education and deleterious environment. He cited further a statement concerning the two murderers hanged yesterday at London that Topping had the mentality of a four year-old and Murrell, the morals of a four year old. Instead of punishing criminals, they should be treated by physicians and psychologists.

Holland had abolished capital punishment in 1870. In 1894 twelve persons were convicted of murder and in 1902 only three. In Canada, on the other hand, in 1915 there were 34 persons convicted of this crime.

In conclusion, Mr. Irvine said: "By our vote on this question we shall tell the world what o'clock it is on the time piece of our evolution ary progress."

Society's Security

Paul Mercier, (Liberal, Westmqun-St. Henri) said he believed the death penalty was one of society's securities and that it should remain in the criminal code. Capital punishment certainly prevented a second offense and contituted one of the strongest possible checks on crime. Murder could not be recognized with leniency if society was to continue.

The difficulty of securing convictions for murder when the penalty was death, was advanced by Hance Logan (Liberal, Cumberland) as an argument in favor of the abolition of capital punishment. He contended that when a jury knew that its decision would send a prisoner to the gallows, it was very loath to find that person guilty.

"A gunman doesn't fear the rope," insisted Mr. Logan. "When he shoots a person down, as occurred so recently in Montreal he does so with an utter disregard for consequences. He may have in the back of his mind a feeling that it is very difficult now to secure a conviction for murder."

Robert Forke, (Progressive Leader), was convinced that no person who premeditated crime ever feared hanging ,he always planned that he would escape, and hence the penalty would not deter him.

Society must be protected. Still many criminals were more fitted for the asylum than for the jail.

GERMANS STUDY REPORT MONDAY

Premiers of Federated States Will Discuss With Central Government the Experts Reparations Scheme.

BERLIN, April 12.—The Premiers of the Federated States will come to Berlin Monday to discuss with the Central Government the report of the experts' committee.

Meanwhile Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann and the other members of the Cabinet are studying the report in Executive sessions. It was stated at Government headquarters yesterday that, pending official notification from the Reparation Commission of the Commission's invitation to the German Government to take part in an oral discussion of the report, no official German expression with regard to the report will be forthcoming.

The members of the Cabinet, and Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichs bank, who is attending the Cabinet meetings in his capacity of Federal Commissioner of Currency, decline to enter into formal discussion of any phase of the recommendation of the experts.

Sentiment in official quarters and in financial and industrial circles is palpably crystallizing into a feeling that the plan of the experts must be accepted by Germany without any carping if the reparation problem is to find an early and tolerable solution.

St. Lawrence Clear Of Ice By Sunday

MONTREAL, April 12 (Canadian Press). — That the St. Lawrence River will be clear of ice between Montreal and Quebec by Sunday evening was the opinion expressed by shipping men here yesterday following the reports that the ice was on the move in many places.

Stretches of clear water are reported near Montreal, the ice in Lake St. Peter is stated to be moving, and the river between Three Rivers and Quebec is said to be open.

New Group of Victims For Soviet Tribunal.

MOSCOW, April 12. — (Canadian Press).—The trial was begun before the Leningrad War Tribunal yesterday of 107 persons, including the wife of General Dashkoff and a number of former Soviet officers and officials, on charges of espionage and connection with the counter-revolutionary organization known as the "Union for the Salvation of Russia." General Savinkoff, Acting Minister of War in the Kerensky Cabinet, has also been prominently mentioned in connection with the organization.

The Motor Show Messenger

Vol. 5. SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1924 Price No Cents

The Motor Car Show

Apologies to Berton Braley—

I intend to go to the Motor Show,
I'm sure I will fall for its lure,
My aims are well meant, though it may cost a cent.
I'll know it is helping the poor;
I'll gaze upon miles of all fashions and styles,
Of Motor Cars shiny and bright,
Until through my brain runs this crazy refrain,
I'll chant it all day and all night.

"Full floating axles"—"Elliptical springs,"
"Vibrationless motor with frictionless rings,"
"Oil-cooled carburetor"—"Invisible spark,"
"Transmission equipped with the multiple arc,"
"A smart, eager pick-up"—"A smooth flow of power,"
"Most miles to the dollar"—"Least cost to the hour,"
"Gas gauge on the dash-board"—"Concave triple gears,"

Sure I will go to the Motor Car Show,
I wouldn't stay out if I could,
I'll have a good time, and meet friends of mine,
And 'Twill do the sick kiddies some good;
They can rest and play in the camp all day,
And go home when the sun is low,
These poor little chaps who get life's hardest raps,
Depend on the Motor Car Show.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY INVITE HYDRO LEADER TO CONFER WITH THEM

Seymour Agriculture Society Desired Presence of Sir Adam Beck at Celebration in May --Regrets He May Not Be Free to Attend.

FREE METHODISTS

Campbellford, April 12. — The board of directors of the Seymour Agricultural Society, at a meeting last week decided to invite Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro Commission to come to Campbellford for the celebration which the Society will hold on May 23, when it was planned to have Sir Adam deliver an address, and to confer with the directors, and the Chamber of Commerce on radial and power questions. Director T. J. Horkins, who is the originator of the idea, has received the following reply from Sir Adam, who writes under date of April 9th:

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your communication of April 4th and thank you for your kind invitation to be present at a combined meeting of several societies to be held approximately May 23rd next in the municipality of Campbellford, to discuss power and radial projects.

I am unable at this moment to inform you definitely as to whether I will be able to be present with you at that time, in view of several important engagements having already been made for dates around this period, and further owing to the fact that I probably will be required to be present at a power conference which will take me out of the country for a few weeks early in the summer.

Again thanking you for your kind invitation, and assuring you that I will be pleased at some time in the future, if I am able to do so, to attend your meetings, I am,

Yours truly,
ADAM BECK.

Major Belford Interested.

Major Belford, M.L.A., for East Northumberland, has been active in the effort to bring Sir Adam here, and writes Mr Horkins that he is willing to do anything in his power to assist in making the celebration a success.

With the Free Methodist

A holiness convention and district quarterly meeting which opened in the Free Methodist Church on Thursday evening is still in progress with a large number of delegates in attendance. The opening service was conducted by Rev. W. H. Gregory of Warkworth and on Friday and Saturday three sessions were held daily, these being addressed by prominent workers in the denomination. The meeting of the official board will be held Saturday.

At 9 a.m. Sunday there will be a love feast led by the pastor, Rev. R. Bloye and at 11 o'clock District Elder R. Burnham will preach. Rev A. F. Ball will be the preacher at 2.30 and Rev. F. Loft at 7 p.m. The convention will close on Sunday evening.

At the Regent

Capt. Hyland put on a new feature in the Regent Theatre last night when two pairs of budding pugilists tried conclusions with the soft gloves. These brawny young fellows were "Lefty" White, the well known lacrosse player, who was matched with Ernie Bush, and B. McPherson who went against Teddy Owen This was a fair exhibition of amateur boxing but the embryo Dempseys so far excell particularly in foot work. By a vote of the audience, who thoroughly enjoyed the sport, it was decided that White and Bush had given the better exhibition of the manly art. An amateur night will be held weekly until the close of the theatrical season.

The picture "Loyal Liver" an interesting story of the mail service, the second episode of the serial "Speed", and a Larry Semon comedy is the bill for to-night.

RUSSIAN IMMIGRANTS IN TORONTO UNION STATION

TORONTO, April 12.—(Canadian Press). — Russia - beshawled, beshiskered and bewildered, lived in Toronto for a brief hour last evening.

It was the arrival of the largest and most distinctive of immigrant trains which have served to bring to the old Union Station its glimpses of life outside. It was a time of eager and heartfelt greetings, a time of realization of supreme joy for many after years of toil and saving, a time of fulfilment. It was a vivid picture of hopper of melting pot of this Dominion. Two hundred and fifty Russians, direct from the southern steppes of the vast realm of Soviets, and experiencing for the most part that first long train ride, poured into Toronto from a Canadian National special train, Nearly two hundred will remain here.

Suddenly the elephant lifted his trunk up and sniffed loudly. "Aha!" he cried, "I thought so!"

SAYS THE FIRE CHIEF IS GUILTY OF SLANDER

TIMMINS, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—Alleging that he had been slandered by Fire Chief Borland here, J. P. Bartleman has entered action against the Chief for $1,500 damages, the writ having been filed at Cochrane. The words complained of are stated to have been uttered at a cribbage party last fall, at which time the plaintiff was a candidate for municipal honors in Timmins.

HASTINGS AND THE DISTRICT

Chapter Held a Meeting to Discuss War Memorial Unveiling.

HASTINGS, April 12.—The Dorontal Chapter, I. O. D. E., did not hold their regular meeting this week on account of the illness of the Regent, so it was decided to meet next Monday evening.

A joint meeting was held of the two chapters from here to further discuss the plans for the unveiling of the war memorial on May 24. The council were asked to arrange for a platform to be built for the speakers of the day. A communication was read from the secretary of the Northumberland band at Campbellford, accepting the invitation from the daughters to supply music for the occasion.

Epworth League.

The Epworth League held its regular weekly meeting, Miss Hazel MacDonald being in charge of the programme.

The meeting opened with singing and prayer by Mr. A. Knight. The scripture lesson was read by Roland Jones and Miss Bessie Hinton took the topic. Mrs. L. E. Kelley sang a solo. An instrumental number was given by Miss Joyce Richardson, Messrs. Wilfrid and James Knight. A reading was given by Miss Hazel Waye, Messrs Knight, Tate and Knight gave an instrumetnal trio, with piano, violin and saxaphone. Miss Emma Sharpe gave a reading. Mr. B. Scriver sang a vocal solo, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

Hastings is very fortunate in being chosen as one of the place for a course in domestic science to be given by the government early in May. The place chosen for the lessons is the I.O.D.E. rooms and the course is open to all the ladies in the vicinity.

Dr. W. N. Campbell was in Peterborough on Monday.

Mrs. J. Cruikshank is at present the guest of friends in Lindsay.

Mr. W .H. Burkholder was in Peterborough on Monday.

Messrs. George Conklin, Wesley Beavis and E. J. Fairman arrived here early Sunday morning by motor from Cleveland, Ohio, leaving the latter place at 6 o'clock Friday night. They report the road in good condition as far as Cobourg, but from there to Hastings the road is bad in many places.

Master Harry Fowlds, who is attending Trinity College, Port Hope, arrived home on Friday to spend the Easter vacation with his parents.

Mrs. W. H. Burkholder, who underwent an operation for tonsils in the Nicholls Hospital on Monday is progressing favorably.

Mrs. W. T. Tate has returned after spending a week the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Staples, Lindsay.

Mr. Wm. Langley of Lindsay, was a recent visitor in the village.

Mr. Allan Cameron of Peterborough, called on Tuesday.

Mr. C. Piper of Oshawa, was here in the village on business on Tuesday.

SCHOOL ASSOCIATION HAD MONTHLY MEETING

The monthly meeting of the King Edward Home and School Association was held in the school on Thursday evening. Dr. J. J. Craig gave an instructive talk on "The Part of the X-Ray in Dentistry." Dr. Craig maintains that the X-ray has done for dentistry what the telescope did for astronomy. It is his belief that many human lives could be saved by the more frequent use of the X-ray in dentistry.

The following programme was ably rendered:

"O Canada."
Piano solo—Miss Doris Ackford.
Vocal duet—The Misses Batten.
Reading—Miss Irene Wright.
Piano solo—Miss Dorothy Finnie.
Address—Dr. J. J. Craig.
Reading—Mrs. H. M. Hobson.
Piano solo—Master Jack Cuffe.

Have Shapely Feet Unmarred by BUNIONS

Fashion and comfort demand that feet fit snugly into the dainty pumps of today. There must be no hump to mar shapely feet—no racking torture to upset comfort. Bunions are unnecessary and dangerous. You can remove them quickly, harmlessly, pleasantly with the new, marvelous solvent. Pedodyne. Pedodyne stops pain almost instantly, banishes the disfiguring hump, and relieves the swollen burning sensation.

SENT ON TRIAL

Write today and I will gladly arrange to send you a box of pedodyne Solvent for you to try. Simply write and say "I want to try Pedodyne." There is no obligation.

COMMENT ON BUDGET

REGINA, April 12.—"The budget appears to be a really progressive Liberal budget to me and as such a substantial step in the right direction," declared Premier Charles A. Dunning.

The premier did not attempt to analyze the address or to detail the benefits to be reaped by the west.

Sales managers of local farm implement concerns refused to place any close estimates on the possible or proabble cut in prices. Regina retail merchants stated they anticipated a reduction of a few cents in the price of canned goods and some articles of food.

George Rooke, chartered accountant and authority on finance matters, declared he did not think the budget went far enough in the matter of assisting agriculture.

Brandon Sun: "Budgets have to be analyzed before the actual effect can be guaged, the reduction in the business tax will be welcome as a partial relief to business men. Agriculture also gets a moderate relief, but the budget does not answer the serious call for lower taxation demanded to assist better business and to overcome depression. The budget is largely window dressing for the less thoughtful people on the street."

Edmonton Journal: "This lightening of the farmers' tax burden cannot fail to meet with widespread approval in this part of the Dominion dependent as it is so largely on farm industry. Those engaged in the latter are entitled to first consideration, not only because their efforts are the foundation for all national prosperity, but because the past few years have been a period of exceptional difficulty for them."

Fort William Times-Journal: "The most interesting feature to the man on the street is the reduction of taxation by $24,000,000, a sum greater by ten millions dollars than the total charges on account of public debt in 1914. The tariff changes are in the nature of a compromise as must be when one parliament is legislating for two sections with completely divergent views."

Lethbridge Herald: "The budget bears the ear-marks of constructive statesmanship. It is in many respects an outstanding one. A real and what may be siad to be a genuine attempt has been made to relieve the agricultural industry from the burden which they have been suffering."

SUN LIFE MAKING OFFER TO COMPANY

Policy Holders Who Wish to Surrender Their Policies May Do So.

WINNIPEG, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—The contract submitted by the Sun Life Assurance Company for the purchase of the assets and assuming of the liabilities to the policy-holders of the North-Western Life Assurance Company, in liquidation, was formally approved of yesterday by Mr. Justice Macdonald, there being no opposition to the order from counsel representing various shareholders and policyholders.

The offer submitted by the Sun Life contains two provisos; one is, that if a policy-holder desires to surrender his policy in the North-Western within three years the purchasing company may deduct 25 per cent. of the cash surrender value, but if the policies are allowed to remain beyond three years, the full cash surrender value mentioned in the policy will be paid. Another stipulation is that until the assets and liabilities of the North-Western balance, no profits will be paid by the Sun Life on policies taken over from that company.

At the present time, owing to a writing down of the North-Western assets, the liabilities exceed the assets, but the Sun Life hopes that by careful handling the assets will appreciate in value, and so balance the liabilities. In this case the policy-holders will be given the benefit.

The purchasing company also agrees to pay liquidation expenses amounting to $6,500, and a further sum of $13,000 to take care of debts owing by the North-Western.

The shareholders are freed of all obligations in the matter of the unpaid stock, and they can organize if they care to do so. Liquidation proceedings will be permanently stayed. About $60,000 has been raised by the shareholders for the purpose of reorganization, and it is announced that the shareholders' association will continue in existence until a final decision is made. While the shareholders are practically without assets, it is said in a statement issued yesterday, there are no liabilities. There is left intact the statement pointed out, "that assets which is of the greatest value, the organization of the company."

LIST STILL OPEN.

The subscription list for the Grenfell Association is still open. The members are anxious to have as large a sum as possible to help in this very important work, and are particularly anxious not to have the amount contributed fall below that of previous years. Subscriptions may be sent to the Examiner or to Mrs. F. M. Somerville, 16 Inverlea street.

Smoker's Teeth Bleached White New Safe Way

No need for dull, yellow, tobacco-stained teeth now. For a new safe treatment—Bleachodent Combination—bleaches away stains, and makes the teeth flashing white— often in just three minutes! Treatment consists of a marvelous liquid, which curdles and softens the stains—and a new kind of paste which gently removes the softened stains and prevents the formation of new stains. Safe and harmless, as its mild ingredients are especially combined to act only on surface stains—not on the enamel itself. Only a safe mild preparation like Bleachodent Combination should be used on children's teeth which are naturally soft and sensitive, and which are especially subject to stains and decay. Fine for the gums. Get Bleachodent Combination today for few cents at all good dealers such as: Bond's Drug Store, James Lynch, McDermid & Jury, C. M. Moncur, Warne Drug Co., Ltd., F. C. Webar.

PHILLIPINES WANT QUICK SETTLEMENT

Mission to United States Asks Complete Independence.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 12 (Special to The Examiner). — Hon. Jaime De Veyra, member of the Philippine Mission which has spent the past two months at Washington, sailed for home to-day on the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Asia, in spite of the fact that the United States Senate and Congress had been too busy with investigations, taxation and the question of the soldiers' bonus, to give the emissaries of the Philippine Island the time and consideration which their mission warranted.

Mr. De Veyra informed an interviewer here this morning that the question of the Philippines showed promise of an early settlement.

"We will not be satisfied with anything but total independence," Mr. De Veyra said. "The compromise suggested recently by Wall Street investors in the Philippines, whereby we would receive a measure of Home Rule now, and political independence in fifteen or twenty years, would not be agreeable to the Philippines, the sum of $150,000,000 being invested in bonds, besides huge sums in sugar, tobacco, and vegetable oils.

"Our foreign trade has increased from $6,000,000 to $300,000,000 annually since we passed from the sovereignty of Spain in 1898, the volume of trade with the United States having increased from 3 to 65 per cent. during these 25 years.

"A second mission headed for Washington to press his country's claims for independence sails from Manilla to-day," Mr. De Veyra stated, and is led by Hon. M. L. Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate, and the leaders of the Majority and Minority Parties, S. Osuens and C. M. Recpo respectively.

MARMORA BUYS CHEAP SYRUP

Maple Product Dropped to Two Dollars a Gallon — Planning a Celebration For Empire Day.

MARMORA, April 11.—The celebration to be held on May 26, under the auspices of the Marmora Agricultural Society, if plans materialise, will be one of the biggest and best yet held by the Society. Athletic sports of all kinds and horse races will be the main features of the day. In the evening a special motion picture will be presented in the Town Hall, at which there also will be high-class vaudeville. After this there will be a dance, with Marble Cliff pavilion orchestra in attendance.

Maple syrup, which began the season selling at $2.75, has dropped to $2.25 and $2.

Mr. Gerald Smith and Mr. John Bell spent Friday in Belleville.

Mr. Younge, of Toronto, who has been here for some months, in charge of the D. Shannon hardware, left on Thursday for his home. At present Mr. H. D. Woods has bought the stock and commences a sale on Saturday.

GEORGE STREET SERVICES.

Thursday was one of the best days of the Newton Jones mission at George Street Church. A splendid spirit pervaded at all the services and the messages were of profit to all.

The afternoon Bible study was in the book of Nehemiah. Mr. Jones confined his attention to the first three chapters of the book. He described vividly the historical setting of Nehemiah's life and work, and drew out point after point of practical interest and helpfulness, culminating in the lesson of absolute trust in God. Mr. Jones' greatest strength is his ability to bring home lessons of direct bearing on the everyday life of men and women today, and no one can sit under his teaching and not be greatly helped.

At supper time Mr. Jones met the teachers of the Sunday School of the church and gave an inspiring talk on "The Teacher's Call." His message was one that will not soon be forgotten, and brought home to his hearers in a new way the importance of the work in which they are engaged.

In the evening he spoke on "Rags." He recounted the process by which old rags are made into fine paper, as observed by him in an English paper mill, and went on to draw exceedingly helpful analogies in the transformation of the rags and tatters of humanity into men and women of fine calibre. The talk was followed with the most intense interest by all.

THE UNPOPULAR SALES TAX.

All hats will be thrown into the air at the announcement of Hon. J. A. Robb that the general Sales Tax is to be reduced from 6 to 5 per cent., and in a number of cases is to be lifted altogether.

Consumer, manufacturer and retailer will all share the benefit of this reduction.

The consumer because he will have less to pay and the producers because there will be as a result a greater demand for their products.

The cut is not large, but it will help, and there is reason to hope that by strict economy the Government may find itself next year in a position to wipe out this most unpopular tax.

The Sales Tax, which is felt by every consumer, has always from its introduction in 1920 been resented by the people who buy goods, the people who sell them and the people who make them.

It has contributed to the cost of living and has been an annoying burden to business, and indication that it may soon disappear are welcome to all classes in the community.

A BALANCED BUDGET.

The fact that Hon. J. A. Robb is able to present to Parliament a balanced Budget should be a source of general satisfaction inasmuch as it indicates the fact that Canada is returning to normalcy.

During the fiscal year just closed the Acting Minister of Finance expects to be able to show—since part of the decrease is still estimated—a reduction in the net public debt of the Dominion of $30,409,000.

All the ordinary, special and capital expenditures of the year have been met by the revenues, as well as a charge of $24,550,000 for money advanced to the Canadian National Railways in cash from the Treasurer.

Mr. Robb estimates that after making all these payments the surplus of ordinary and special revenue is $30,409,000.

The reduction in taxation as a result of the Budget proposals will, it is expected, be in the neighborhood of $24,000,000, which figures out at a per capita rate of almost $2.70.

A good start has been made towards sounder and less extravagant financing, and the people of Canada will look to the Government to continue to progress along the pathway of economy.

There are avenues of saving that have not opened to any great extent, and during the present fiscal year the administration will be expected to do its utmost to see that every possible chance of reducing expenditure is made use of to the best advantage.

POWER FOR FARMS.

There used to be an old musical comedy song, "Thursday Always Was My Jonah Day."

It will have no particular meaning for the farmers of Ontario in view of this particular Thursday's events.

Not only did the Federal Government's Budget proposals contain a number of features that will be of great assistance to them, but while Hon. J. A. Robb was making these announcements at Ottawa the Ontario Legislature was giving second reading to a bill providing for subsidizing primary and secondary rural Hydro transmission lines to the extent of 50 per cent. of their cost.

That bill will mean much to many farmers in this Province, the majority of whom have up to the present received no value from Hydro-electric development, owing to the high cost.

Hon. J. R. Cooke, in introducing the bill, declared that the general distribution of electrical energy into rural Ontario would be the greatest single factor in keeping people contented with farm life.

He is not far off the mark.

Less than 1 per cent. of the power developed in Ontario is now going to rural users, and the present bill will do much to correct that condition.

It is made retro-active so that farmers who have had to pay the top price for power installation in the past will share in the benefits of the new arrangement.

The bill brings Hydro within the reach of many farmers, and from a rural viewpoint is the most important legislation to be introduced in Toronto this session—or in many a session.

BLACKBIRDS AND BEETLES.

Down near New Brunswick, N. J., recently, several hundreds of blackbirds, part of a huge flock flying over a field, fell to the ground dead and the countryside wondered what had killed them, says the St. Thomas Times-Journal. Radio waves and static electricity were two of the reasons advanced for the sudden and wholesale killings. Now it turns out that the blackbirds had been poisoned. Japanese beetles that had reached this Continent were found to have attacked the fruit trees of New Jersey and the fruit growers, in order to get rid of the beetles, had been spraying the trees with a poisonous solution. The blackbirds ate the beetles and the poison at the same time and paid the penalty.

The Japanese beetle is a new pest on this Continent. Now that it is known that the blackbird will eat them, it may provide another valuable reason why birds shall be protected. After the potato bug fifty years ago emerged from the wilderness, made its way into civilization and developed an appetite for potato vines, it was thought that no bird would eat the acrid hard-shell insect. One day a farmer went into his potato patch and found dead half a dozen rose-breasted grosbeaks. A scientist held an autopsy and it was found that the birds had been eating potato bugs which had been sprayed with paris green. Potato growers now protect the rose-breasted grosbeaks.

Possibly, now that blackbirds have shown an appetite for Japanese beetles, the fruit growers will look more kindly upon the flocks of feathered visitors which they always have regarded with something more than suspicion.

LABOR FACES REALITIES.

With its honeymoon in office over, the Labor Ministry of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is facing hard realities. The first came when Mr. MacDonald discovered that mere rhetoric about brotherhood couldn't budge France from the Ruhr; the second with realization that the capital levy would have to wait; the third with a Ministerial retreat when Mr. Wheatley sought to give a free hand to the Guardians of Poplar—and the disillusionment still goes on. Mr. Snowden has discovered that being Chancellor of the Exchequer and an enemy of capitalism at one and the same time is an almost impossible feat; Mr. MacDonald has appointed an almost wholly capitalist commission to enquire into the national debt; and British shipyards are turning out cruisers just as they would have turned them out had Mr. Baldwin kept power.

Yesterday's Ministerial crisis—brought on by Mr. Wheatley, who stirred up the country over Poplar—illustrates Labor's difficulties. Mr. Wheatley proposed legislation whereby a tenant who was unemployed and unable to secure work was excused from paying his rent, and could not be evicted. This, although with some basis of justification, amounted to confiscation of property, with the result that a storm has been stirred up, and the Government has faced its second defeat in Parliament since coming into power. What the outcome will be, it is difficult at this writing to determine.

Wheatley is the stormy petrel of the Cabinet. Keir Hardie said that he hated the Palace because he remembered the pit. Wheatley hates landlords because he remembers the tenements. Until he was twenty-four he lived with ten other people in a single room of a Glasgow tenement, one of those grimy, smoky hovels of humanity, which disgrace the Scotch metrpolis. The iron entered Wheatley's soul and prosperity has not removed it. He got away from the pit and he became a successful publisher, but he never forgot his youthful surroundings, and against them he trained his journalistic guns. He was and is a Catholic—a rare thing in a British Ministry; and he formed the Catholic Socialist Society—a rare thing in Catholicism—and later joined the Independent Labor Party. As a member of that party he served successive terms in the Glasgow City Council, being recognized as a Red of the Reds; and when he was selected by Mr. MacDonald as Minister of Health it was appreciated on all sides that the Left of Labor had been recognized.

As a Minister he has run true to form. He is Irish—although born in Glasgow; he has fire and eloquence; he has the backing of the radical wing of Labor, and he is not easily appeased. In the case of Poplar, where he really only tried to do openly what others had been doing secretly—the Hansard report of his speech showed that he scored heavily against some of his critics—he gave ground; but it is by no means certain that he will yield so readily over the question of rents.

Wherein lies the chief danger to the MacDonald Ministry. Thus far it has succeeded by persuading its followers to yield ground; but signs are accumulating that the rank and file are becoming restless in retreat. That, at all events, is the opinion of the most competent observers. Says Mr. Herber Sidebotham ("a student of politics") in the London Sunday Times:

"No amount of personal admiration must blind us to the fact that the Prime Minister and his friends stand for a conception of the State which, in our view, is not only erroneous, but fraught with peril. Nor, because we credit Mr. Clynes, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Shaw, Mr. Henderson and others with a comparatively sane and sober outlook, can we forget that insanity and the intoxication of class-hatred glares from the eyes of those who constitute the motive force of their party. Those men are biding their time, and I, for one, find something sinister in their temporary self-restraint. It is because they know their time is coming.

"There is but a thin crust above the boiling lava, though Vesuvius seems to slumber, and the inhabitants in Pompeii and Herculaneum must be prepared for a sudden and catastrophic eruption. It was always so from the time of the Gracchi to the time of the Russian Revolution. The academic and humane revolutionary, animated by generous sentiments and fluent in the jargon of fraternity and equality, finds himself elbowed sharply aside, not by a social group called the proletariat, but by savage men and women who mean to translate his platitudes into action. Lafayette gives way to Robespierre, Kerensky to Lenin, MacDonald—to whom?

"Here is a generous and a noble heart, but I should not be surprised if it is broken."—Ottawa Journal.

MUSSOLINI—[illegible]ADIS?

Italy has practically [illegible] Mussolini Dictatorship a new mandate by [illegible]ar plebiscite, says the Montreal Star.

The majority for the Fascisti is, of course, very large. But the tremendous turn-over is much more significant. We must remember that when Mussolini vaulted into power by marching his black shirts into Rome, he had only a very small group in the Chamber. His victory at that time was a Cromwellian triumph against an overwhelming majority of deputies. They could outvote him ten to one, but he appealed from ballots to bullets.

Now he has carried the Chamber two to one. So far as the early returns show, there will be no dangerous opposition in the House at all. The Italian people have with amazing unanimity declared for his Dictatorship. It is idle to pretend that so sweeping a majority has been obtained by threats of force. We must see in the result a conviction throughout Italy that the Mussolini policies are by far the best for the country.

They like his domestic policies in that they have protected industry from Bolshevik inter-meddling and have set their factory wheels spinning again with pre-war vigor. They like the rising wave of prosperity, which has lifted Italy out of the slough of post-war despair, that came under his regime. They like his spirited foreign policy, which has greatly increased Italian prestige in the Mediterranean and yet secured a favorable agreement with Jugo-Slavia.

This plebiscite will remind historians of the plebiscite which put Napoleon III. on the throne of France. That re-converted France into a military nation. It wiped out the weakness and lethargy which had afflicted it since Waterloo. What will be the effect of a plebiscite in favor of Italy's "Napoleon"? Italy has thirty-seven million people, the best strategic position in the Mediterranean, the only army in Europe outside of France, and the inspiration of a glorious past.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, April 11.—Although receipts of cattle have been heavier this week than for about two months past, the market has held up remarkably steady to strong. This may be attributed to the near approach of Easter, and the consequent keen demand for well finished cattle for the local butcher trade. The export trade, too, continues good and active from 750 to 1,000 cattle being required each week for this trade. Export prices show little change this week, though one or two loads of extra choice steers sold at a moderate premium over the regular quotations.

In the butcher section there has been a keen demand for the best offerings, prices in this class averaging about 25c higher than the previous week. Receipts included a large proportion of poor and medium quality, and for these prices were no higher, in some cases barely holding steady, while trade for the poor stuff was generally slow. Towards the close of Thursday's market the week's offering was fairly well cleaned up, and there was but a small carry over.

Fat cows have held steady to strong, due in part to the larger demand for the Jewish Kosher trade.

There were heavy runs of calves, and the market weakened to about a dollar lower.

Sheep and lambs held steady, with light offerings. Spring lambs have been selling from $12 to $14 each.

Hogs held steady most of the week, but weakened to $7.25 f.o.b. at the close.

Quotations were:

Export steers, $7.50 to $8.25; export, choice quality $8.15 to $8.25.

Choice butchers steady, $6.75 to $7.50. Baby beeves steady $8 to $9. Medium butcher, $6.25 to $6.75; common, $4.25 to $4.75.

Good fat butcher cows from $4.50 to $5.00.

Bulls steady, $4.25 to $5.

Calves, firm, $10 to $11.

Lambs, 14c to 15c per lb.

Spring lambs, each, $14 to $15.

Sheep, yearlings, $9 to $10.

Hogs, $7.25 f.o.b. bid.

X-RAY INDICATED CANCER, RELIEVED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Splendid Fruit Medicine Performs Another Miracle.

The incalculable value of "Fruit-a-tives" can best be appreciated when it completely relieves some dangerous, deadly malady that is sapping the health and strength of the sufferer. After reading this letter, it is easy to understand why Mrs. Glover was glad to write about "Fruit-a-tives" in the hope that her experience would guide others to try this wonderful fruit medicine.

"For years, I was a sufferer with chronic Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation; the stomach pains were dreadful and finally my health broke down completely. After five X-rays had been taken, I was advised that my condition strongly resembled Cancer of the Stomach and an immediate operation was necessary. Dreading an operation, I consulted other physicians but grew steadily worse. I had almost given up hope when I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives" recommended by many friends.

Immediately my condition began to improve. Pains disappeared; soon Dyspepsia and constipation were things of the past. After a few months I was perfectly well again and have been in the best of health for over a year now." Mrs. ANNIE GLOVER, 16 Henry Street, Ottawa.

NO TEARS SHED OVER STINNES

Death of German Industrial Baron Bodes No Ill For Germany and World At Large, Says Lord Rothermere's Paper.

LONDON, April 12. — British official and financial and business circles, expect the "business as usual" sign to hang in the 1400 offices of the various Stinnes companies, despite the sudden end of the master-mind which controlled this great organization.

The magnates' death is not expected to have much effect on the reparation settlement, as the Stinnes influence, either for good or evil, is expected to be used by his able successor, who it is expected will carry out his policies.

London newspapers Friday print columns of matter reviewing the career of the "Colossus of Germany," describing his stranglehold on the economic and financial life of the country.

In an editorial, Lord Rothermeres' Evening News says the passing of Stinnes will prove no ill thing for the country that he dominated and for the world at large. The Liberal Evening Star takes occasion to give warning against possible Napoleons.

"In the nation which lost the war," it says, "Stinnes escaped all its woes and rode on through central Europe's wreckage unscathed in wealth and power. Kings lost their thrones and peasants their only sons, but Stinnes survived. Is not the Stinnes moral that war, which to common folk is ruin and despair, is only a gamble to the financial potentate?"

WEDDING BELLS

MAUNDER—BRISTOL.

At 4 o'clock Wednesday in Central Methodist Church, the marriage took place of Janet Templeton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bristol, to Wesley Franklin Maunder, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Maunder of Lindsay. Rev. H. S. Osborne officiated, and Mr. Fraser Houston acted as best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a grey brocade dress with grey and powder blue hat and shoes and gloves to match, and platinum fox fur. Her corsage was of lilies of the valley and roses. She also wore the gift of the groom, a handsome wrist watch. During the signing of the register, Mr. Walter Evans sang and Mr. Sydney Chamberlain played the wedding music. Mr. and Mrs. Maunder will reside in Lindsay on their return from their wedding trip.—Toronto Globe.

MINERS ELECTED COOK SECRETARY

LONDON, April 12.—A. J. Cook leader of the South Wales Miners, has been elected Secretary of the Miners Federation of Great Britain in succession to Frank Hodges, who abandoned the post upon his appointment as civil lord of the admiralty in the Labor Government.

Cook, who is an avowed extremist and devoted to Marxian theories, said he interpreted the miners' choice as a desire for militant Aggressive policy.

"I am still a red with all that means and I will not rest satisfied until the private enterprise in the mining industry is abolished," he declared.

The result of the miner's ballot on the owners offer of a minimum wage 32 1-2 per cent above pre war mark as opposed to the men's demand for forty per cent. expected to be known to-day and is believed that the men will accept.

The Swedish Railway Administration has placed an order for 50 new electric locomotives, involving an expenditure of about $2,800,000.

ENTERTAINED THE OMEMEE VETERANS

Patriotism Not Dead in Victoria County--A Good Programme.

OMEMEE, April 11.—That patriotism is not dead in Omemee was clearly emphasized on Wednesday night when the ladies of the Methodist Church entertained the local war veterans in commemoration of the glorious victory at Vimy Ridge. The Sunday School room was gayly decorated for the occasion with dozens of flags. The picture of the late Sir Sam Hughes, which was draped with the Union Jack, and the Honor Roll, with its beautiful poppy wreath, occupied central positions; while a touch of Springtime was added to the decorative scheme by the addition of many cases of pussy-willows.

Although the veterans with their wives received complimentary tickets, there was also a large gathering of the people of the community, who were the nominal fee of twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for children.

Promptly at eight o'clock Rev. Mr. Rowland called the gathering to order, and the following choice programme was enjoyed by all.—

The Maple Leaf—Audience; chorus by six boys—(1) "I ain't got weary yet," (2) "Tipperaray."; piano selection—Mrs. Rowland; male quartette—Messrs. Brooks, Mackay, Marshall and Cunningham, with encore; recitation—"Canadian born," Miss Jean Sandy; Vimy Ridge demonstration, by Mr. Harold Cunningham; patriotic song—"He isn't sleeping now," Mr. T. J. Parsons, with encore; recitation—"To our victorious," Rev. E. W. Rowland; song—"Come back, old pal," Mr. J. L. Brooks; talk of "The Dardenelles," by Mr. J. Stone; "O, Canada," audience; contest—Hitting the bag.

Special mention must be given to the very able addresses given by two of the war veterans. Vimy Ridge, in which action Mr. Harold Cunningham fought and received wounds, which confined him to the hospital for four months. The young veteran described the scene of action in such a way that one could almost see it, and ended his twenty minute talk by unveiling a miniature model of the trench with its guns, camouflage, sand bags, communication trenches, barb-wire entanglements, shell holes, and, in the distance, a little grey church with a cross on its spire. The model was made in a shallow box of sand, about five feet long by three feet feet square, and proved most interesting to the spectators.

Mr. Stone told many interesting items about the Dardenelles, and both young men were heartily applauded.

The contest created much merriment, a thick paper shopping bag filled with candy kisses was tied securely to the ceiling and several of the veterans were brought forward blind folded, turned around three times, and then allowed three swipes at the bag with a long stick. Some of the boys slashed at the thin air, others hit the furnace pipes, and when the bag finally fell, under the powerful blow of Mr. Fred. Brockley, a wild scramble ensued among the children present for the treat.

A cafeteria tea followed, the tempting menu being displayed on three tables, which were in charge of several of the ladies. Self-serve was the order which was quickly obeyed. The first table held a tempting variety of salads, on crisp lettuce, and each plate boasted a tiny flag; sandwiches could also be secured at this table. The central table held an array of cakes and pies, and the third table dispensed tea and coffee.

After all had enjoyed the social half-hour, Mr. Fred. Brockley, on behalf of the veterans, thanked the ladies for their thoughtfulness in remembering the day and making it a reunion for the boys. The motion was seconded in a neat speech by Mr. William O'Neil, to which the Rev. E. W. Rowland, on behalf of the ladies, responded. The ladies putting the added touch to it by singing heartily, "For they are jolly good fellows." Thus ended another evening which will linger long in the memory of many, the proceeds of which amounted to about $27.

HUSBANDS IN BERLIN MUST BE MUSICIANS

Marriage Brokers Offer No Encouragement to Others.

BERLIN, April 12.—(Associated Press).—Men with an academic education who can play the piano, are in special demand among German women in search of husbands. Marriages brokers offer little encouragement to men who have no degree and are not musical, and advertisements printed in the newspapers almost universally specify that the charming and wealthy widows and spinsters who are seeking husbands want university trained men of musical ability.

Some of the most successful marriage-brokers have organized a club which gives balls and other entertainments for the purpose of bringing their clients together, and affording them a chance to look over the various applicants under conditions which make it possible to judge their social fitness.

Strange requirements are stipulated by some of the wealthy women who want to marry. One insists that the man who wins her heart must be "poetically gifted and have a good knowledge of bee-keeping."

Most of the managers of matrimonial bureaus are women, and a great majority of the patrons are women. This is especially true since the war. Among the men patrons of the agencies are many former officers and ex-officials.

Omemee Correspondence

OMEMEE, April 11.—The Omemee branch of the East Victoria Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Albert Sloan on Thursday afternoon. There were twenty members and visitors present, and the roll call was answered by a household hint. The president, Mrs. T. E. MacPherson, occupied the chair, and conducted the meeting in her usual capable manner. Miss Lila Parsons gave a splendid paper, which contained many labor-saving devices for the busy housewife. Mrs. R. J. Cornwall contributed a short reading entitled "The Woman Who Couldn't Understand."

Mrs. Adams, of Coboconk, the district president, was present, and gave a brief talk which was enjoyed by all.

A letter of appreciation was read by the secretary from Miss Myra Williamson for a contribution of fruit during her illness.

Other business was transacted, after which a contest was handed out, which caused much merriment, Mrs. J. Palmer being the prize-winner, with Mrs. Adams a close second, while Mrs. S. T. Wilson received the consolation prize.

Refreshments were served at the close by the hostesses—Mrs. A. Sloan, Mrs. H. Hall, Mrs. Nichol, and Mrs. R. J. Cornwall.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nugent left on Tuesday to spend a short visit with Lindsay and Janetville relatives. On Thursday they will be present to celebrate the eightieth birthday of the former's sister, Mrs. Wm. Robinson, of Janetville.

Mrs. Francis Fee has returned home after spending the winter with her daughters at Port Perry and Little Britain.

Mrs. R. J. Mulligan and Miss Ella MacCrea, of Lindsay, spent Tuesday with the Misses Cornwall in town.

Mr. W. J. Lamb, of Peterborough, was in town on business Tuesday.

Mr. Ezra Shaw left on Tuesday for Moose Jaw on a business trip.

Mrs. H. Latchford, of Best Station, was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Norman Sloan and baby, also Mrs. L. Soles, of Reaboro, visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sloan on Thursday.

Mr. T. H. Blanchard, of Peterboro, was a business visitor in town on Thursday.

Messrs. T. C. and Charles Ivory attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Byers in Toronto on Wednesday.

Mr. A. H. Veals, of Franklin, was in town on business Thursday.

Cobourg and District

COBOURG, April 10.—Mr. Milford Tucker, Fenelon, is moving from that part of Haldimand Township to Gore's Landing, where he will occupy Mrs. Lander's farm, which he will work this season. After he had moved his stock and most of his effects to the place, his little son, two years old, was taken ill with pneumonia, and the departure of the family has been delayed because of that. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker are esteemed citizens of Fenelon and the people of that district regret very much their removal.

Fifty-Four Were Confirmed

St. Peter's Anglican Church, of which Rev. Canon Sawers is rector, has been augmented by the addition of fifty-four members, who were confirmed last Sunday by Bishop Sweeney, of Toronto. Rev. Canon Sawers and Rev. Mr. Elliott, of Port Hope, assisting also in the services. There was a very large congregation present. Those confirmed will receive their first communion on Easter Day.

The Late Mrs. Jos. Harrott

The death took place here last Sunday after only a week's illness with pneumonia of Mrs. Harrott, wife of Mr. Jos. Harrott. The funeral was held Tuesday from the family home, King Street West, to St. Peter's Cemetery, Rev. Canon Sawers officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Harrott came to Cobourg from Toronto to make their home about eight years ago. Deceased was twice married and besides her husband leaves a son, George Herbert, and two daughters, Mrs. Amy Slade, Rochester, and Mrs. Bays, Toronto, children by her first husband. Of the second family there are, Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Edith McKenzie, New York; Mrs. Gordon and Mr. Frank Harrott, Niagara Falls; Miss Alice and Joseph and Thomas Harrott at home.

The Cobourg Juvenile Baseball League will meet shortly for organization. Cobourg had a strong juvenile league last year and the boys put on some good games at Victoria Park, playing two or three times a week.

Pettstone-Watson

The marriage took place recently at the Hotel Brunswick, Colborne, of Miss Alice Melville Watson, of Alton, Ohio, and Mr. Angus Elmer Pettstone, of Lakeport. A few intimate friends were present. Rev. W. A. McKenzie, D.D., officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Pettstone will take up residence at Lakeport.

Dick-Auston

The marriage took place recently at the manse, Brighton, of Miss Ada Maggie Jean Auston, to Mr. Thomas David Dick, of Warkworth. Rev. A. K. McLeod officiated.

Fire at Frankford

A recent fire at Frankford destroyed the home of Mr. Wm. Charde, the family and there are a number of children, escaping with practically only the clothes they were wearing, it is stated.

Tennis Club Getting Ready

It begins to look as if sports will boom in Cobourg this season, the Bowling Club, the Golf Club, several baseball clubs, a softball club, have met already and reorganized. Now, the Tennis Club is getting under way and is looking forward to a no less successful season. They have two very nice courts at Victoria Park and will meet shortly for reorganization.

Revival of Yachting

From the Kingston Yacht Club comes the suggestion that the Eastern Yacht Racing Circuit be revived. This includes the clubs at the eastern end of Lake Ontario. These things point to enthusiasm in yachting throughout the Quinte district.

PERENNIAL

Hon. George P. Graham, (Minister of Railways), said he was absolutely opposed to capital punishment. He did not believe that it acted as a deterrent. Taking for granted that the murderer was sane, what good did it do to kill him. It was said that society must be protected, but would society not be protected as well by shutting him up?

What about the murderer's victim, he might be asked. In reply he would ask what benefit accrued to the victim or the victim's family by taking the life of the murderer? If the murderer were placed in penitentiary and made to labor for the rest of his life for the benefit of the victim's family, would it not be better?

"What if he escaped and does it over again?" interrupted a Liberal member.

"Then justice is weak," replied Mr. Graham. The minister went on to point out that as long as the death penalty was maintained, innocent men might be hanged.

Guarantee Imprisonment

E. K. Baldwin, (Liberal, Stanstead) stated that before he would vote for the abolition of capital punishment he would have to have a guarantee that every premeditated murderer and bank robber would be encaged and compelled to work sufficiently to pay for the expense of keeping him from ever becoming a criminal again.

"Would the hon. member apply the same regulations to those who robbed banks from the inside as to those who robbed them from the outside?" asked J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg Centre.)

"Certainly," replied Mr. Baldwin.

Guided by Britain

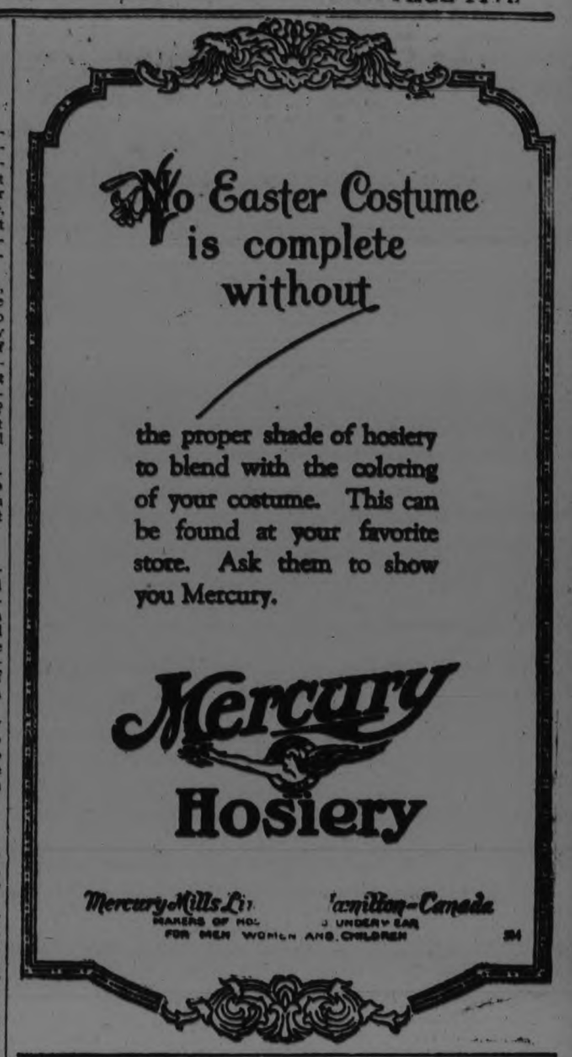
Hon. Charles Marcil declined to be guided by sentiment rather than by the opinions of men who had given their lives to the study of law. Great Britain was good enough precedent for us yet, and Great Britain had not seen fit to abolish capital punishment. It must be remembered that when a murderer was imprisoned for life he sometimes obtained his liberty after the passage of a number of years. In the complete absence of recommendation that capital punishment be abolished from best legal minds, Mr. Marcil said he could not support the resolution.

No Demand For It

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, read an account of an interview with Arthur Henderson, the British Home Secretary in which the latter was quoted as saying that in his long parliamentary experience he had not observed any great public demand for abolition of the death penalty.

Mr. Lapointe added that, charged with the administration of Justice, in Canada, he must share Mr. Henderson's views.

'By temperament and instinct I would feel inclined to support this resolution against capital punishment," Mr. Lapointe went on. "But from a high sense of duty, I feel that I cannot do it. Capital punishment must remain on our statute books. In our scattered population there are women and children living miles from any settlement. They must be protected. Our immigration brings many foreigners to these shores. Records of the justice department show that 49 per cent. of murders in this country are committed by foreigners. If I could convince myself that life imprisonment would be an effective substitute for capital punishment in Canada and would afford the Canadian people the same degree of protection, it would be my duty to suggest it. But because I do not believe that it would, I can only oppose this resolution."



Mr. Lapointe, remarking that the two countries most resembling Canada in racial characteristics were the United States and Great Britain, quoted statistics to show that in Great Britain there were 200 murders annually in a population of 46,000,000 compared with 8,000 murders annually in the United States with a population of 110,000,000.

In Canada on the 10- year average, there were less than three murders to the one million of population.

Women's Representative

Miss Agnes MacPhail (Progressive, South Grey), said she had first come in contact with capital punishment on the day on which she wrote on her entrance examination. On her way to the school that morning she had seen the black flag flying at half mast over the jail and she knew that that meant that human life had been taken by the law. She recalled that in the days when hanging was the penalty for picking pockets it was the custom to hold the executions in public and picking pockets became so common in the crowds at these executions that it was found necessary to cease holding them in public. Miss MacPhail gave hearty support to the bill.

H. C. Hocken (Conservative, West Toronto) said that the present was a very inappropriate time even to discuss this question since men were now going about the country ready to kill anyone who got in their road.

The bill was defeated by a vote of 92 to 29.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Snow and rain likely to delay corn shipment as well as to hinder field work led to considerable buying of corn and oats to-day, but the resulting upturns in price turned out to be largely transient. Corn closed unsettled at 3-8c off to 1-4c. advance, May 77c. The finish in wheat was also unsettled, 1-8c. to 1-2c. down, May $1.02 1-2 and July $1.03 1-4 to $1.03 3-8, with oats 1-8c. lower to 1-8 and 1-4c. up, and provisions showing 2c. to 10c. decline.

With as much as eight inches of snow reported to have fallen in some sections of Iowa and with unseasonably cold weather expected over a wide territory, corn took the lead in point of activity. The increased demand for feeding and for other purposes proved broad enough to keep corn values tending upward until the last half hour of the Board of Trade session, especially as prospects pointed to a good sized decrease of the visible supply total on Monday next. Profit-taking on the part of early buyers, however, brought about more or less reaction as the day drew to an end.

Give your roof the attention it deserves—

You expect your new house to last a lifetime. And naturally you want a roof that will last—a roof that won't rot or rust—a roof that never needs painting. Barrett Shingles, mineral-surfaced in red, green or blue-black give you such a roof—durable, economical and handsome. They make a fitting roof for the finest house.

Fire-protection is another important advantage of Barrett Shingles. Sparks and blazing embers falling on their mineral surface burn out harmlessly.

Yet Barrett Shingles are surprisingly low in cost. Ask the Barrett dealer to show them to you. There are also several types of roll roofings.

SELF-DENIAL FUND HERE

(By F. H. DOBBIN)

The corps of the Salvation Army in Peterborough has been required by the Commissioner of Headquarters, Charles Sowton, of Toronto, to raise $3,000 as the corps contribution to the great Self-Denial Fund, for the furtherance of the rescue work of the army in Canada. So the local branch asks its friends to assist in reaching the total of the asking. A campaign will be put on next week, commencing on Tuesday morning, with the above object in view. It is hoped and trusted that there will be a cheerful and satisfactory response.

The campaign includes the canvass of the business and professional section of the city by those who have consented to assist. The balance of the city will be visited by the members of the army, thus taking a share of the duties of the appeal. The business portion of the city bounded by King, Water, McDonnel and Bethune streets, is in hands of the committee. Forty [illegible] consented to give time to this work.

There have been and will be other appeals in the city for good objects, and the question may be asked why, after the very generous response of last year, the army should again look for funds from the public. There was no self-renial requirements made on the local corps for 1923. The fire that destroyed the local temple and buildings was a sufficient warranty for that omission. Every dollar raised last year and supplemented by additional amounts was expended in and on the buildings. The results are there to be viewed.

Now the self-denial service is asked for. So it may fairly be asked to what end is this fund used and made use of. It supports the prison and police court work, as representatives of the army attend all police courts to care for the unfortunate, especially women and girls. These are cared for, assisted to the right paths of life, returned to friends and heartened by the good offices of the army.

The food and shelter depots are sustained from this fund. Hundreds of poor unfortunates have in years past blessed the army hostel, in Peterborough, for the gift of a bed and a trifle of number of heartening meals. Over 59,000 meals were supplied and beds for 212,480 persons last year in Ontario alone.

The receiving homes of the army are a benefaction to thousands. Men and women, girls and boys are taken in and helped, returned to friends, clothed, situations found for them, and other much needed assistance. The rescue homes represent a large share of the army work and goodness.

Increasingly there is found from week to week unfortunate girls, led astray and cast out and derided even by parents, who come to the army for succor. No city in Canada but is acquainted with such cases. The officers of the army seek out such, and if the case calls for treatment in the near future the unfortunate is forwarded to the hospitals of the service and the person cared for during that most critical period in the life of a woman. Children, born out of wedlock, are, under Governmental supervision, adopted out with families willing so to take the infants. This feature of the army work is most impressively vital, no municipal or Governmental provision being provided to take care of such cases, lest such would put a premium on a state of affairs the reverse of desirable.

So the army does a whole lot of things that we cannot do, or neglect to do for ourselves, as a people. It takes hold where all others, churches, remedial and beneficial societies, etc., leave off. And the army, giving faithful and unremitting service of the most vital character, knows that some things can be done for it by others bbetter than it may do it hemselves. That is the duty we are invited, and asked, and indeed urged to undertake, this canvas for the amount to fit out and fill in the Self-Denial Fund of the local branch of the Salvation Army.

No appeal whatever can be more important. None more well-deserved. It should take prescedence of all others. It simply means that thousands of self-sacrificing men and women are going about doing good and only ask that you will help supply the tools with which they can carry on the work.

Don't turn down the appeal. Even a little will be appreciated. It represents, practically, ten cents for each person in the city, men, women and children.

Canvass starts Tuesday morning, April 15th.

"Liver Trouble so Severe I Had to Quit Work"

Mr. Thomas Honey, Brantford, Ont., writes:

"I was a great sufferer from enlargement of the liver for ten months, and finally I had to quit work. I would wake up in the mornings with a bitter taste in my mouth, had frequent headaches, yellow complexion, and pain in my right side, and between the shoulder blades. It was almost unbearable, and terribly weakening. I could not sleep at night and my heart also bothered me. But the whole trouble has now left me, thanks to that wonderful medicine, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

SHERIFF MOWAT DIED.

TORONTO, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—Frederick Mowat, Sheriff of Toronto since 1887, died yesterday at his residence, 416 Russell Hill Road, after a lingering illness. He was in his 73rd year, and was one of the most widely known of legal officials at the City Hall. Sheriff Mowat was a son of the late Sir Oliver Mowat, former Premier of Ontario. He was born in Toronto in 1861. He was appointed Sheriff in the late eighties.

MINERS' STRIKE VOTE.

LONDON, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—The official figures of the ballot taken by the Miners' Federation on the owners' offer of a minimum wage standard 32½ per cent. above the pre-war level, were made public yesterday, showing that a comparatively small majority voted in favor of rejecting the owners' terms. The final vote was 338,350 for rejection and 322,392 for acceptance. A strike is unlikely to develop.

NEW YEAR PLAN HAS 13 MONTHS.

In 1928 the Calendar May Be Changed Around With Each Month Having 28 Days With An Extra Day In Regular Years.

WOOSTER, O., April 11 (Associated Press).—The world's calendar may be changed all around in 1928. The year then may consist of 13 months, each of 28 days, with an extra day in regular years and two extra days in leap years.

Such is the objective of scientists, according to Dr. B. F. Yanney, professor of mathematics and astronomy at the College of Wooster, and the revision probably will be acted upon at a world congress of scientists likely to be held in Geneva, Switzerland, in October. A special committee, of which Prof. M. B. Cotsworth, Vancouver, B.C., director of the International Fixed Calendar League, is secretary, soon will set a definite date for the congress.

The committee was selected at the Cincinnati meeting of the American Association for Advancement of Science.

International agitation to change the existing form of the calendar now has reached such a stage that organizarion to change to a simpler type is under way, Dr. Yanney said. He expressed himself as certain, if the proposed Scientists' Congress adopts the thirteen month style, that sentiment will be strong to bring about its adoption in 1928 by all countries.

There are many defects in the present calendar, Dr. Yanney asserted. It is of Roman origin with a number of changes by Augustus Caesar and Pope Gregory XIII.

"There are 14 varieties of yearly calendar," Dr. Yanney continued. "They depend upon the kind of year, common or leap, and on the day of the week that the year begins. In any century these 14 varieties occur in cycles of 28 years, but by reason of the fact that of centurial years only those divisible by 400 are leap years, it requires a complete period of 400 years for a complete cycle to occur.

"Due to the number of days in the months, there are eleven varieties in a year. Apart from the year in which a monthly calendar may appear, there are altogether 28 varieties of monthly calendars. The shortest period of time in which these 28 varieties may occur is 24 years and one month, the latter being February if a leap year. In other ways the present calendar is inadequate to meet business and scientific demands."

Should the 13-month style of calendar be chosen, the congress would settle details and draft resolutions in legislative form for adoption by the governments. Such a calendar, Dr. Yanney declared, should be good for 3,000 years.

OLD APPEARANCE SEEN IN FRANCE.

Trenches That Stretched From Switzerland to the North Sea Have Been None-Tenths Filled.

By ALBERT APPLE

If returned soldiers could spend their vacations in France this year, they certainly wouldn't know the place. The devastated regions in the war zone have been rebuilt to an amazing extent.

The trenches that stretched from Switzerland to the North Sea have been nine-tenths filled in.

Four-fifths of the barbed wire has been coiled and removed.

Over 740,000 French dwellings and agricultural buildings were completely destroyed or severely damaged during the war. More than 600,000 have been rebuilt.

When the German invasion started, the farms in the war zone of northern France had nearly two and a half million cattle, horses, mules, donkeys, sheep, goats and pigs. The same region today has over one and one-half millions.

And more than nine-tenths of destroyed factories have been rebuilt. Railroad mileage is virtually restored to normal.

This reconstruction work has taken more than five years.

France is also making rapid strides at regaining her industrial strength as it existed before the war.

Last year she mined almost as much coal as in 1913, from mines in the northern section. This is a remarkable comeback, for systematic devastation of mines reduced her coal productive capacity by half. Some experts figured it would take 20 years to pump the water out and otherwise repair.

France in 1923 mined more iron ore, produced about as much pig iron and turned out more steel than in 1913.

Her freight traffic in 1923 was a bit larger than in 1913. Similarly, her auto exports gained a half in volume. Her general export trade jumped about 22 million metric tons in 1913 to nearly 25 millions in 1923, though imports correspondingly increased from about 44 million tons to 54 millions.

This information about France's recovery as an "economic machine" is furnished by the foreign information division of the Bankers Trust Co.

The showing is so good that it will astonish most of us. It gives the lie to the propaganda that the French people have not been buckling down to work.

But France still is in the swamp up to her neck—financially. Recovery in this direction depends chiefly on the problem of reparations and terms of settlement of France's debts to her wartime allies.

Back to Work in Four Days

If you are a sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble, read how this man was relieved:—

"I have used Gin Pills for bladder trouble and general kidney derangement. I suffered from an aching back which interfered with my work on the railroad. It was so bad that I had to give up my work for about two months. Then I started using Gin Pills for the Kidneys, which gave me relief in four days, so that I could go back to work. I know Gin Pills to be a wonderful remedy for kidney and bladder complaints, and can recommend them to any one who may be suffering as I did."

ROSENEATH BRIDE RECEIVED TABLE

Mrs. Edward George Remembered by the King's Daughters' C. G. I. T., Which She Helped to Organize.

A quilting party was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. Herman Blodgett, when six young ladies, were invited by his daughter, Miss Ellen. Ice cream was served during the afternoon, and the girls were given a dainty supper. Those present were: Mrs. John Blodgett, Misses Ella Herrington, Marion Cayle, Carrie Sherwin, Vera Varcoe and Gladys Blodgett.

C.G.I.T. Presentation.

The regular weekly meeting of the C.G.I.T. was held at the Parsonage on Wednesday night. Miss Marion Cayle gave a paper on the Bible story of Solomon, and Miss Gladys Blodgett gave a very interesting talk on the life of Florence Nightingale.

One of the former members of the Group, Mrs. Ed. George, whose marriage took place recently, was invited by special request to be present at the meeting, when the following address was read by the president, Miss Ella Campbell, the presentation being made by the secretary, Miss Irene Brown.

ROSENEATH, Ontario,
April 9, 1924.

Dear Millie,

We, the C.G.I.T. members wish, on this occasion of your marriage, to extend to you our heartiest congratulations.

You have been a member of the C.G.I.T. since we organized. During our acquaintance, we have found you a girl of fine, sterling character.

In our meetings we have spent many happy hours with you. You have always shown deepest interest in C.G.I.T. work, and have always been willing to help us make our meetings a success.

We will miss you from our Group, but feel that your membership has been a decided gain to us.

You are now starting on a new period of life in your own home. We ask you to accept this table as a remembrance of The King's Daughters, C.G.I.T. Group, and join is wishing that you will be spared many years of wedded happiness.

Signed on behalf of the C.G.I.T.
ELLA M. CAMPBELL, President.
IRENE BROWN, Secretary.

Mrs. George made a very suitable reply, thanking the girls and inviting them to come to see her in her new home. Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. A. Brown made short speeches and extended congratulations.

A light lunch was then served of sandwiches, tarts and cookies, which was very much enjoyed.

Reeve Honey has come through his operation successfully. His many friends of the township wish him a speedy recovery.

DIM NIGHT LIFE AS A RESULT OF SOVIET CONTROL

Communist Party Carried On Crusade Against the Display of Prosperity — Deported Some High Livers As Useless.

MOSCOW, April 12.—(Associated Press).—One result of the recent crusade from within the Communist party against the ostentatious display of prosperity by speculators and profiteers has been a decided dampening of night life in the Red capital. A year ago, when crowded gambling casinos were operating all night, and dancing among the patrons of restaurants began only at 3 a.m. and lasted until breakfast time, Moscow was one of the gayest spots on the globe.

Hundreds of gambling house frequenters and speculators who ate through huge and expensive suppers as only Russians can eat, were arrested and deported on the ground that they were useless to the state. The two biggest gambling houses closed down. The Moscow city administration made several million dollars from gambling licenses. Now, the only gambling house where roulette and baccarat are played, is a sad looking place. Only a few tables are running and there the play is low. There are several licensed establishments where the comparatively mild game of lotto is played.

The big cafes, too, are lacking in patronage and there is no more dancing by patrons. Cabarets still operate, and the theaters are crowded nightly despite high prices, an average of $3 to $4 a seat for the ballet or better class drama. But Moscow is no longer a "wide open" town.

Little beer saloons, formerly operated until 2 o'clock in the morning and selling only a mild brew, are now closed at 10 o'clock and put under a law providing they must serve hot meals. They must become reading rooms for their patrons, subscribing to all of the government, party and trade union journals and the illustrated weeklies. Not more than two bottles of beer may be served any patron, and persons under 16 years old and those who obviously are intoxicated. Chess and checkers may be played, but no cards, and special and difficult restrictions are placed upon cabarets.

First class restaurants, however, probably still will operate under high license and with no limit other than one's pocket-book upon the amount of wine or 24 percent vodka one many consume. Besides the limit of one's purse, however, another check, the fear of arrest and deportation if ostentation shows too much unexplained prosperity, operates to curb night life.

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N. B.— "I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would be the only thing to build me up. I am sure he is right, for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight, having gone down to ninety-three pounds. I was in bed for over a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter." —Mrs. ELMER A. RITCHIE, 82 Rodney St., West St. John, N. B.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them.

SPRING IMPURITIES DUE TO POOR BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine a Necessity at This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-year-round tonic for the blood and nerves. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach, and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but does not help the blood. On the other hand, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood which reaches every organ in the body, bringing new strength and vigour to weak, easily tired men, women, and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring —they will not disappoint you.

WEATHER HOLDS BUSINESS BACK

Country Roads Reported In Bad Condition In Many Sections—Wholesalers Are Optimistic — Improvement Foreseen.

WINNIPEG, April 12.—(Canadian Press).—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Limited, states:

Halifax—Both wholesale and retail trade reported quiet, but a slight improvement is noted. Collections are fair.

St. John—Trade in wholesale lines fairly satisfactory. Some improvement in retail trade. Collections fair.

Montreal—The bad condition of country roads had a retarding effect on business generally. Wholesalers look forward to improvement after opening of navigation and improved weather conditions. Hardware business fairly brisk. Drygoods trade quiet. A very slight improvement is noted in boots and shoes. In some lines there has been a little improvemnt in collections, especially in groceries.

Toronto—Wholesale houses report some improvement in volume of orders. Mild weather recently has had good effect on purchase of spring goods. Feeling is generally optimistic in the wholesale trade. Retail trade also notes some improvement aided by attractive bargain prices. Not much change in collections.

Winnipeg—No marked change is reported in either wholesale or retail lines. Trade generally is somewhat quiet. Collections the same.

Regina—Wholesale business fair and showing tendency toward picking up. Retail trade not showing improvement, weather being unfavorable. Collections only fair.

Saskatoon—Some improvement in wholesale lines is reported, while retail business is still quiet. Collections are somewhat slow.

Calgary—All indications point to improvement in business during the coming month. Collection of old accounts has received some impetus through the recent distribution to farmers by the Wheat Pool. Current accounts are being paid satisfactorily.

Edmonton—Trade conditions in current collections fair. Better general feeling of confidence.

Vancouver—The improvement in both wholesale and retail business which has been taking place in the past months still continues. Collections holding fair.

MUSKRAT PELTS IN FUR AUCTION

Offering Exceeded Million Skins With $2.14 the Top Price — Under January Quotations.

NEW YORK, April 12. — Yesterday was muskrat day at the New York Fur Auction Company's sale. More than a million of these skins were sold at prices ranging up to $2.14 for the best northerns. Best black Muskrat brought $1.94 and the best southern 75c. Blacks were unchanged and southerns declined ten per cent, in comparison with prices received for them at the January sale. The comparisons on northern skins ranged from a decline of ten per cent, on northwestern and Canadian pelts to an advance of ten per cent, on Michigan and eastern skins. Market levels prevailed throughout the muskrat offerings.

The remainder of the mink collection was sold to-day at prices which brought the average figure paid for them from ten to 25 per cent above the winter sale.

The largest advance took place in eastern and eastern Canadian skins, and also in northwestern Canadian pelts. Export buying of the darker mink, especially for France, kept the prices up.

The total sales for the day were $700,000, making a grand total to date of $2,300,000. No selling was done Saturday, but the second part of the sale will begin on Monday.

The Grolier Society, Limited, Toronto.

Dear Sirs,

Your "Book of Knowledge" has given my four boys and one girl more pleasure and information than anything else in the form of books. It is "The Book of Knowledge" that they look to for instruction and knowledge on almost every subject that arises; and I must soon have it re-bound, this being its twelfth year in use.

Sincerely,
C. HEWITT AMYS, M.D.

Farm and Dairy, Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sirs,

"The Book of Knowledge" we purchased from you some 13 years ago, has been a source of continuous interest and value to our seven children. The wide range of subjects treated in these books and the gripping manner in which they are treated, makes them a source of great educational value to the children in any home.

Sincerely yours,
Rural Publishing Co., Ltd.,

Dear Sirs,

I take pleasure in letting you know how much we appreciate "The Book of Knowledge." I never get tired of searching its pages. There is a never-failing fund of interest. I think it is far and away the best medium of education, outside the regular channels, I ever saw.

Yours faithfully,
GEORGE LEADER,
Sales Manager.

Dear Sirs,

"The Book of Knowledge" is by all odds the greatest work of its kind I have ever seen. They are very helpful to our children from the lower to the higher grades in school, and we could not think of dispensing with them.

Sincerely,

Gentlemen,

I consider "The Book of Knowledge" to be the very best work of its kind, and believe that it should have a prominent place in every home where there are children. Indeed, even to young people and adults, the book will prove of very great interest. I know of nothing better calculated to induce in children the habit of good reading.

Yours very truly,
RAY R. BEST.

Dear Sirs,

I am pleased indeed to have such a treasure as "The Book of Knowledge" in my home, and would on no consideration whatever part with it. I bought the set some years ago as a gift to my son; but it would be nearer the truth to say a gift to the whole household. We all use it and find it very, very instructive.

Yours sincerely,
JOHN KENNETT,

Dear Sirs,

I purchased "The Book of Knowledge" on the advice of a friend who claimed children became quickly attached to it.

I now agree with this statement, and consider it a valuable asset to any family. My children are constantly referring to it. It is also valuable for adults; and parents who take an interest in their children will find it invaluable.

Respectfully yours,

NATURE AT HER BEST.

Those who appreciate nature at her best and revel in a wealth of variegated scenery, will find the route travelled by the Canadian National Railways between Toronto and Vancouver, one of never-to-be-forgotten beauty.

First through the inimitable lake region of Northern Ontario, skirting many placid, mirror-like lakes pocketed between tree-clad hills, catching a fleeting glimpse of many portentious, rock-strewn little waterways dashing madly towards the quiet level of the lakes below. From Winnipeg the fertile Prairie Provinces treat the traveller to a type of gently undulating scenery not to be seen in any other part of Canada.

The ever-changing scenery of the Canadian Rockies never grows wearisome, no matter how often it is viewed. Jasper Park, with its protected wild game and beauteous Mt. Edith Cavell; colossal Mt. Robson, gigantic, slow - moving glaciers stretching from snow-clad peaks, are only a few of nature's wonders the traveller by the Canadian National Route sees before descending to the balmy climate of Vancouver and the Pacific Coast.

There are two Canadian National trains leave Toronto daily for the West, The National, carrying standard sleeping car and compartment observation car eeparts at 10.45 p.m. Steel equipped, the National is luxurious in every detail. A standard sleeping car connecting with the Continental Limited, the train de luxe of the Canadian National System, leaves Toronto every evening at 8.45.

Travellers to Califorrnta or other points on the Pacific Coast usually take the famous scenic route through Canada because of its beauty. Excellent connection are made at Vancouver with both steamship and train.

Make reservation or get further particulars from any Canadian National Ticket Agent.

TWO THOUSAND ATTEND THE LIVE STOCK EXHIBITS HELD HERE YESTERDAY

Corridors of Sixteen Coaches Making Up the Train Were Crowded With Visitors From the Surrounding Districts During Morning and Afternoon.

DISPLAY WAS GOOD.

That livestock men of this district are interested in the work and that they are keen to learn improved methods of feeding, care and breeding was shown yesterday morning and afternoon when two thousand residents of the surrounding districts visited the Ontario Government Live Stock train that was stopped at the Canadian National station here. Those who took the trouble to inspect the special train of sixteen coaches were certainly not disappointed. In fact, they were very much surprised. The showing was a creditable one and the agricultural department is to be congratulated on the success of the venture and must also be complimented on the efficiency of the staff selected to tour this province in the interest of the industry. Scores of questions were asked by the interested visitors, who found the men courteous and keenly interested.

R. W. Wade in Charge

When the Ontario Government placed R. W. Wade, director of the Live Stock Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, in charge of the train, it did some good business. The show itself was well worth while but it remained with the staff to carry the work to a successful completion, and no better man for the job could have been obtained.

When interviewed by the Examiner, Mr. Wade pointed out that agriculture composed 8 per cent. of the wealth of Canada. He referred to the cost of the exhibit and stated that the total cost for the entire trip which has still ten more days in New Ontario would be about $4,000. In the week of March 10, 9,050 people saw the exhibit. In the week of March 17, 6,300 people visited the exhibit; in the week of March 24, 7,000 persons; March 30, 12,200 people; April 7, 9,300, including the 2,000 in this city.

While 43,950 people have visited the exhibit in the past five weeks there is yet ten more days, in which Mr. Wade expects to see 7,000 more different faces, making the total 50,000. With 50,000 people seeing the exhibit and the total cost being $4,000, the average cost for one person would be eight cents. If a speaker was to travel around the country from place to place and speak to the average of 200 persons at each meeting it would take him much longer and would not prove half so successful as he would be unable to carry an exhibits with him.

Mr. Wade, who is on the Fair Board at Guelph, says that 10,000 visited the Guelph Winter Fair at a cost of $20,000 or $2.00 per head. Outside of this cost the farmers who visit this fair spend from $5 to $10 for expenses making it a much dearer exhibit than the one that visited this city. Mr. Wade also stated that next year it is expected that the train will make a trip through Eastern and Western Ontario with their exhibit consisting mostly of dairy products, hogs and sheep.

Loaned to Government

All animals carried were loaned to the government by the owners, free of charge. The Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National railway lines co-operated in the transportation of the live stock train.

The showing of cattle was a good one. Excello, the Hereford bull owned by A. L. Currah, Bright, which has never been defeated in the prize ring, was seen, also prize bulls representing the Guernsey, Ayrshire, Jersey and Holstein classes. In addition to the dairy bulls there was a showing of steers, divided into export, market, butcher, feeder and baby beef classes. By close inspection visitors were able to gain useful informations as to types and how to grade. Charts showed the weight, the different classes should gain each day and information was given as to what to feed, the amounts and how and when to finish the beef. Transparencies impressed the actors with the importance of producing only the best, for cuts of meats from different carcasses were shown. The wonderful quality of the beef from the winter fair prize winners was shown against the product of the inferior animal. In the grades class an effort was made to show farmers that by the use of good sires their herds can be improved greatly.

Bacon Types.

Arranged in a large glass case on the wall of the car were several sides of bacon graded in their respective classes. Below the live "porker" was caged, showing particular class of bacon he would produce when he was slaughtered. The types were to interest farmers in production of the bacon types and demonstrations were carried on to show the proper grading methods. It was impressively brought to the attention of the producers that by selecting proper types of sows and using them as breeding foundation for the future, the whole output, could, in a short time, be improved. Berkshires, Tamworth, Yorkshires and others were shown. Included in the exhibit was the grand champion at the last Guelph show.

Poultry

Particular attention was paid to egg grading in the poultry car. Young chicks were exhibited, and tables showed how best results could be obtained from careful feeding. A chart gave the result of feeding middlings, eggs, liver and tomatoes. If one of these ingredients was left out the chick would not thrive and the result at different stages of development was noted. The combination of these feeds make for maximum developments.

Dairy Products.

The importance of fat in milk was stressed. Two cheeses, made from 400 pounds of milk, were seen. Milk containing 4.3 per cent. fat produced a 41-pound cheese, and the lower grade of 2.9 per cent. made a 32-pound cheese, which proved to the dairymen that better prices could be expected from milk rich in butter fat.

Market Beef.

An agricultural college chart showed the difference in profits realized through the sale of market steers produced from a grade bull compared to the steers bred from a common bull. Four animals of each class were taken, and all were fed the same rations and in the same quantities. For the four good cattle $322.35 was realized. They brought seven cents a pound, while the poorer types sold for a total of $184.06, or 4¾ cents a pound.

Horses.

Horses were not carried on the train but pictures of the family tree of some of the country's greatest thoroughbreds were shown, including Baron o' Buchylvie, the famous Clydesdale, and Dunmore Footprint.

Sheep Show Interesting

The details in arranging the exhibits was one of the features and this was particularly noticeable in the sheep car. Entering car one saw the live animals in their pens. Next there was the fleece grading, cuts of choice lambs and last, but not least, was the finished wool product of the Canadian mills. There was one representative of each of the common breeds found in Ontario, including Southdown, Shropshire, Suffolk ewe, Hampshire ewe, Oxford ewe, Dorset, Cheviotte, Leiceser, Cotsweld and Lincoln. Market classes were shown, comparison being made of the heavy overweight prime and underfed types. The three different classes of meat which each of thees animals produced attracted a good deal of attention. The overweight cuts, heavy in fat and unlikely to bring good prices were exhibited against the under fed pieces of thin unattractive meat. The prime roasts proved why better market prices are realized by the production of good types.

Canadian Wool.

Wool as graded according to Dominion government regulations was shown, and the finished products proved to the satisfaction of the visitors that Canadian woollen products are equal to those imported from foreign countries. Payment for wool in the raw state is now being made on the grade basis, and producers are realizing that it is in their interests to market only the best.

LININGS.

Linings to the new wraps are frequently embroidered or are braided or banded with contrasting colours.

LOCAL SCOUTS AGAIN ACTIVE

Two Troops in Peterboro and Others May Be Organized.

Edgar T. Jones, Field Secretary of the Boy Scouts' Association, Provincial Council for Ontario, with headquarters in Toronto, was in the city yesterday, in an effort to revive enthusiasm in the local Boy Scouts movement, which for some years past has lapsed to some extent in the city. There are two troops in Peterborough at the present time which are doing good work, the St. George's troop, with S. V. Field, Princess street, as leader, and the Ashburnham troop, led by F. Sedgewick. Energetic district troops are those of Belleville and Campbellford.

The local Rotary Club has promised to aid in the effort to resuscitate enthusiasm in Boy Scout work, which aims to meet in various ways, by "character-forming, recreational education," the boys' craving for romance and adventure, to provide an outlet for superfluous energy, to help solve the constant problem of the gang rule, and to act as a safeguard against the influence of the pool-room. The Scoutmaster also acts as an elder brother to his boys, and gives them sympathetic, safe advice. Scouting brings to the boys opportunities for public service, and, by providing natural, attractive, but directed channels of activity for the boy's own impulses, shapes his character toward its best possibilities in efficient manhood and citizenship.

The Boy Scout promise is: "To do my duty to God and the King; to help other people at all times, and to obey the Scout law." He promises these things on his honor, a phrase that is the cornerstone of Scouting, and other laws in the code require him to be truthworthy, loyal, friendly, courteous, kind to animals, obedient, cheerful, thrifty and clean in thought, word and deed.

In many cases Scouting discovers to the boy his life's vocation, as he acquires through his study elementary but practical knowledge of many useful subjects. It helps him to develop initiative and self-confidence, thoughtfulness for others, respect and courtesy and an adjustment of his own desires to others' rights. Scouting is strictly non-sectarian in principle and character.

THE DISTRICT COUNCIL ANGLICAN CHURCHES MET

On Thursday night, a meeting of the Peterborough District Council of the Anglican Young People's Association was held in St. George's Sunday School room, with a good attendance from the city and district. A large number of members were present from Millbrook, and Lakefield also was well represented. The President, Miss Blanche Graham of Lakefield, occupied the chair.

The silver cup, given for supremacy in the annual debating schedules of the District A.Y.P.A. branches, was won by St. Thomas' branch, Millbrook, this year, and was presented to them by Miss Graham at this meeting. The cup was accepted by Miss Frances Turner of Millbrook, leader of the last victorious debate of that branch.

Arrangements for the annual picnic were discussed; also the formation of tennis and baseball leagues within the district clubs. At the conclusion of the business session, refreshments were served, and a contest took place. The next meeting of the Council will be held in Lakefield in May.

SUMMER WRAPS

For summer wraps crepes, moire silks, alpaca and satins are much used.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL ASSOCIATION MEETING

A very enjoyable evening was spent in Central School Thursday night, when the Central Home and School Association held its regular monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. F. Miller, presided.

A short business session was held, with reports by the treasurer, Mrs. M Morgan and the secretary, Mrs. F. McCarthy. An addition of six new members was announced, also the holding of a rummage sale and picture show in the near future.

For the programme which followed, Mr. K. S. Wightman acted as chairman, and gave a brief address. Dr. R. C. Blagrave, rector of St. John's church, was the speaker of the evening, giving an interesting talk on the influence of heredity and education in the home and school.

Referring to the great unrest prevalent in the world at the present time, Dr. Blagrave said that grave danger would arise if future generations were not trained in more serious and thrifty views of life. What is needed at the present time is more willing labour and greater production, also the willingness to deprive ourselves of luxury. In conclusion the speaker warned his hearers, for the good of their country; to get a new viewpoint on life and to forget selfish pleasures and work for the good of humanity.

A musical programme followed, with a selection by the orchestra, composed of Bert Bugg, Wilson Dunlop, Cecil Gallagher and Carl McCarthy; a hornpipe dance by the Misses Dunlop and Edwards, with accompaniment by Carl McCarthy; who also played for a cornet solo by Cecil Gallagher; a dance, the Highland Fling, by Miss Dunlop; vocal solos by Mrs. A. A. Perrin, Mrs. T. E. Curvin, Mrs. R. B. Burwell of Moosejaw, Sask., with accompaniment by Mrs. J. W. Kenmure; a vocal solo by Miss Harrison; a reading "Coronation Crowds", by Mrs. E. H. Connelly; and an instrumental selection by Miss Edwards.

At the conclusion, refreshments were served, with arrangements in charge of Mesdames Stinson and Taylor.

Wonderful Lessons in the Bible's English for Writers and Speakers

Shakespeare was master of nearly twenty thousand words. Milton of about thirteen thousand. But the whole King James Version of the Bible contains not over six thousand words; not a half of Milton's, not a third of Shakespeare's vocabulary.

Short words are always strong words; they explode like bullets. Do you know that the average word in the English Bible, including even the proper names, is composed of less than five letters? Leave out the proper names and the average word wouldn't have even four letters.

In the beloved 23rd Psalm there are 119 words; 95 are words of one syllable.

In the Sermon on the Mount more than 80 per cent. are words of one syllable. In the Ten Commandments, on which are based all the laws of all the world, there are 319 words; 259 are words of one syllable; and only 60 of two and more syllables. In Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg, perhaps the greatest in the world, there are 266 wors. Of these, 194 words are of one syllable; 53 of two syllables; and only 19 of three or more syllables.

There is food for thought in these figures. What an improvement in our writers and speakers, if, like Lincoln, they would only give study to the English of the Bible.

ADDRESSED THE LOCAL ENGINEERS

Interesting Account of the Development of Motion Picture Industry.

At the meeting of the local branch of the Engineering Institute last night, which was presided over by Mr. P. L. Allison, Mr. Bernard E. Norrish, manager of the Associated Screen News of Canada, gave an illustrated lecture on the development of the motion picture industry, describing the growth of pictures, and showing slides of some of the wonderful work that has been done.

Mr. Norrish said that there was probably nothing in which romance is stronger than that of the motion picture, and that no other industry, excepting the automobile industry, has had as quick and mammoth a development and growth as that of motion pictures.

He said that it was one of the foremost and youngest industries and that it is classed as the fifth in the world. The approximate cost of pictures produced annually amounts to two hundred million dollars. Salaries and wages paid annually at the studios is seventy-five million, investments and motion picture industry one billion two undred and fifty million, while the average weekly attendance at theatres is about 50 imillion, and the total admissions paid annually is 520 Million. Mr. Norrish stated that this remarkable growth had taken place during the past twenty-five years.

The first machine made its appearance in England in 1833, but nothing further was done in this line until 1872 when argument started among some horsemen in California. These horsemen in discussing the gait, thrust and toss of their respective horses, came to words as to whether or not a racing horse had all its feet off the ground at the same moment. The argument became so personal that the men decided to make some experiments to settle the controversy. Edward Muybridge, an Englishman employed by the United States government at that time, experimented on the case for quite a while and then at last came to the conclusion that more than one camera was needed to get a strip of pictures that when run in front of a light the same the modern lantern would show movement. He placed twenty-four cameras in a row on the side of a race track, conveniently close together with a fine thread attached to the shutter of each camera and stretched across the track so that the horse when passing would break the string and thus pull the shutter.

Muybridge worked on this machine for a number of years but still found a number of obstacles that he could not overcome.

In 1886 Thomas Edison conferred with Muybridge to see if there were not some way by which his talking machine and the camera could not be combined to show a person moving and speaking at the same time. It was later decided that neither machine was far enough advanced in its own field to make the connections and thus the project that is still thought of was abandoned.

In 1893 Edison invented a machine called the Kinetoscope. Edison's machine, however, had one disadvantage, this was, that only one person could see the picture at a time.

Robert Paul, an Englishman, saw that there must be some method of showing pictures so that more than one person could veiw them at the same time.

Paul showed the first picture in the Alhambra Theatre, London, on March 20, 1896, and he is given credit for the first theatre demonstration.

Charlie Chaplin was discovered in 1913 and was engaged by the Keyston Company. Three years later he signed a contract with the Mutual Film Corporation for $670,000.

Douglas Fairbanks, then a well known actor of the speaking stage, was engaged by the Triangle Picture Company in 1915 for a large salary.

In the early days any kind of a film as long as it had action proved acceptable to the audience, but today the motion picture public demands the best of acting, direction and story and the various motion picture producing companies pay a large amount in an effort to outdo each other and to win the public's favor for their stars and production.

Mr. Norrish then showed a number of slides showing the different film manufacturing companies in Europe and in America and described the different methods of making films and also the scenery used in Hollywood and other film companies.

He also described how trick pictures are made. These are not seen as much lately as in the past but he said that he expected that they would come back as strong as ever before. The speaker said that the shortest path to the mind is through the eye and that it is to this directness that the success of motion pictures is due.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian Spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery, is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or relieving colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ills of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GATEWAY SIBERIA URGES JAPAN RECOGNIZE SOVIETS

TOKIO, April 12.—(Associated Press)—Tsuruga, the principal port for communications between Japan and Siberia, wants the Japanese government to recognize the Soviet.

The action of the soviet authorities in stopping the direct mail service between Siberia and Japan and in refusing recognition of the Japanese consul in Vladivostok, thereby practically cutting off travel from Russian territory to Japan, has proved a serious blow to the trade of Tsuruga. A mass metting of Tsurga citizens has passed a resolution urging recognition of the Moscow government.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

'Religion in the Press' at Ministerial Association —A Lecture on China.

MILLBROOK, April 12.— Rev. Andrew McLaughlin, M.A., of Keene, was the speaker at the April meeting of the Ministerial Association held this week, and gave an able and instructive address on "Religion in the Press." Mr. McLaughlin's subject matter showed that it was the result of much concentrated thought and careful preparation, and was illustrated by clippings from several papers of that stamp, covering a period of three months and showing how largely religious articles are featured by such papers, not because of editorial sympathy, probably, but because the public demands it.

A number of American magazines were also quoted from, the front-page prominence given the views of Modernists, Fundamentalists, etc., giving conclusive evidence that there is a widespread interest in religious subjects in spite of the recent statement of Sir Henry Newbolt: "At the present time the Bible is less widely read and less directly influential in our life and literature than it has been at any time since the Reformation."

Apparently the words of a recent writer are equally true: "To-day the Cross of Christ stands out more clearly in the thought of the world than ever before, and its message is sounding louder and farther and more powerfully than in any age of the past."

Probably an intelligent co-operation between the church, home, school, and press would create a bond of sympathy, and, in the moral training of the child, solve the problem of religious illiteracy.

A general and animated discussion took place at the close of Mr. McLaughlin's address, and a hearty vote of thanks were tendered the speaker for the educative theme which he had elaborated.

Those present included: Rev. R. T. Richards, Cavan; Rev. R. M. Paterson, Frazerville; Rev. S. G. Rorke, Peterboro; Rev. G. I. Craw, Springville; Rev. S. T. Tucker, Rev. G. S. Gervan, Rev. Canon Allen, Rev. M. G. B. Williams, and Rev. W. H. Dafoe, of Bethany.

Rev. Mr. Rorke will be the speaker for the May meeting.

Lecture on China.

The monthly missionary programme at the Young People's League this week took the form of an evening on "China," illustrated by some very fine slides prepared by Rev. R. B. McAmmond, one of the Forward Movement missionaries. On his return from furlough, Mr. McAmmond, who belongs to the Montreal Conference, gave an account of his trip from Shanghai to his station at Foo-Chow, province of SzeChwan, West China, and the views shown included shrines, temples, located with great skill on the most advantageous sites, combining a view of man's industry with a secure retreat from the cares of dusty earth, the sublime gorges of the Yang-tse, picturesque bridges which have attracted the admiration of all travellers; pagodas erected at a period when the Buddhist faith was active and vital, instead, as at present, a mere historical reminiscence; schools and colleges with groups of native graduates; rice fields, with their manner of harvesting; mission stations, etc.

Altogether, it was one of the most interesting programmes yet given under the auspices of the missionary department of which Mrs. G. W. Sayles is the capable vice-president. There were eighty-five slides in the series shown.

Sand at Napanee.

Miss Eileen Law, whose fine contralto voice delighted a Millbrook audience when here during the past winter with the "Aeolian Sextette," recently sang at the anniversary services of Trinity Church, Napanee, greatly pleasing the large congregations, both morning and evening. Miss Law, who was the guest of Mrs. I. E. Needham during her stay here, won fresh laurels from the audience on Monday evening when, with Mr. A. C. Chapman, of Toronto, and Prof. Baird, the talented organist of Trinity Church, a programme of unusual merit was given in connection with the annual congregational dinner and entertainment.

The Finance Committee had asked for $1,500 and received nearly $2,500, this announcement causing the pastor, Rev. W. R. Tanton, who, before going to Napanee, was a popular pastor on the Janetville circuit, to ask the gathering to rise and join heartily in singing the Doxology as a fitting expression of their gratitude for the successful culmination ofthe Thanksgiving Services.

The dance, under the auspices of N. Gilmour & Son, which was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, proved a pleasant and successful event. About one hundred guests were in attendance, and excellent music was furnished by Byam's four-piece orchestra. The floor was in good condition, and, after the dainty and abundant supper had been served, dancing was resumed for some time, the enjoyment of the occasion leading to its continuance until considerably after the midnight hour.

Mr. Charles and Miss Mabel Lord, who have been holidaying with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lord, returned to Beaverton this week.

The many friends of Rev. R. J. and Mrs. Stillwell (nee Miss F. P. Byam) will be glad to learn that a suitable building has been secured to replace the college at Monteagle, Tenn., of whose faculty Mr. Stillwell is a senior member, and which was unfortunately destroyed by fire during the winter holidays. Mr. Stillwell had charge of a parish at Abingdon, Virginia, during the period from December to March, and practically all their personal belongings were burned. There was, however, no lose of time in re-opening the college, though some of the students are housed in tents, the warm climate making this anything but a hardship.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds were in Beaverton on Monday attending the funeral of Mrs. Edmunds' uncle, the late Mr. George Belbin Bemister, whose death, in his eighty-first year, took place at the home of his neice, Miss Dorothy Clarke, at Haliburton, on Saturday, April 5th.

Mr. E. Thorndyke and his sister, Miss A. Thorndyke, who have been in California for the winter, arrived home on Monday, and have re-opened their home at the east end for the spring and summer months.

DIE HARDS DEFEATED IN DAIL ON THURSDAY

DUBLIN, April 12.— (United News).—The die hards were defeated in the Dail Thursday when the 12 mile limit between the United States and Great Britain was ratified by a vote of 57 to 22.

The ratification is regarded as a distinct government victory for the Republicans had endeavored to force the fall of the Cosgrave regime by it attacking the measure on the ground that in referring to "The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland." The treaty suggested that Ireland is a part of the United Kingdom.

GRANDMAS AS CRITICS.

LONDON, April 12.—(United Press).—Anxious to find out whether the play was being performed according to grandma's ideas, the producers of "Coming Through the Rye," a play dated for 1860, invited 200 grandmothers of over 70 to a special matinee, and asked them to criticize costumes, manners and form of speech. Generally speaking, the play passed muster.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
By Olive Roberts Barton

THE PINK LADY

"How d' do," she said sweetly.

"Come in!" cried Mister Fuzz Wuzz to the Twins, "somebody arrived in Doofunny Land yesterday, and I'm going to see who it is. They say it's a lady."

So away went the three of them to call on the new arrival.

She was keeping house in an old candy box with a hinge lid that did nicely for a front door and when the visitors knocked she answered at once.

"How d' do," she said sweetly.

"How do you do yourself," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz hospitably. "Welcome to Doofunny Land! I do hope you will like us."

"I'm sure I shall. It will be a nice change," remarked the new lady. "I've been sitting on a mantelpiece for nearly a year, and although the family I lived with were very kind, I did get sick of always sticking in one place and never being moved

"Did you ever happen to know a man who——" began Nancy, but Mister Fuzz Wuzz stopped her. "Sh! Wait a bit," he whispered.

"Would you mind telling us your story?" asked Mister Fuzz Wuzz, politely.

"Oh, no," smiled the dancer. "Do was a favor at a birthday party. It was a lovely party—all pink and white—even the white birthday cake was covered with pink candles, and I matched perfectly. I was set at a place as a favor, and right beside me was a nice little man who nodded and nodded at me in such a friendly fashion that I was quite fascinated."

"Why, that was——" began Nick, but Mister Fuzz Wuzz stopped him. "Wait a bit," he said. "Not so fast. Please go on, madam!"

"Well, a dreadful thing happened," sighed the dancer. "A little boy sat down at the place next to mine and right before my eyes, he pulled my new friend's head off. I was so shocked I fainted dead away right in a plate of ice cream, and even when I was recovered I was too nervous to look at him again."

"Is that all?" asked Nancy.

"Yes, just about. I belonged to a little girl who took my home, and, as I said, I was treated kindly, but as time went on I faded and lost my beauty. Besides my legs and feet, which are made of wire, got all bent out of shape. I am no longer graceful. In plain words, I have lost my looks."

"I can fix you if you like," said Nancy.

"It isn't a bit of use," sighed the little dancer. "The only friend I ever cared for was killed. But if you like, you may try. But my dancing days are over."

Mister Fuzz Wuzz and the children took the little lady with them when they left, and Nancy was as good as her word—she fixed her up like new.

The next thing they did was to take her to the house of Hinky Dinky, the nice little man who nodded his head all the time.

"Oh, oh, oh! Are you alive?" cried the little dancer joyously when she saw him. "I thought the little boy pulled your head off and that you were dead."

"I was made that way," nodded Hinky Dinky happily, "and if you will marry me, you can take my head off whenever you like."

"Of course I will," said the little dancer. "I mean to marry you"

HEARTS AFIRE
by May Christie
The Brilliant Novelist of Modern Society

WHO'S WHO:

Prudence Page, a pretty country girl who has awakened from a brief and unhappy love-affair with unreliable

Bert Traymore, a fascinating philander.

Janet Mercer, Prudence's 28-year-old friend, plain but genuine, is a trained nurse and masseuse to the delicate child of

Mrs. Vansittart, a wealthy women who owns Winston Towers. One of her guests is

Virginia Dale, a blase beauty who sees a rival in Prudence, and who has set her cap at

Peter Armstrong, brilliant young inventor, interested in Prudence. Prudence has given up Traymore, and is beginning to return Armstrong's interest, when she is accused of theft at Winston Towers, and runs away from home, heart-broken. She has lost her purse, and arrives penniless in New York, not knowing where she can find refuge for the remainder of the night. She stops in front of a huge church used as a House of Refuge.

CHAPTER XLIII
Lonely and Homesick

As Prudence waited, a taxi-cab drew up at the bottom of the steps, and the driver jumped down swiftly, opening the door of his vehicle, and holding out a friendly hand to someone inside.

"Come, now, miss! You're all right now! This is the place I told you of." He half dragged, half lifted, the slim, shabby figure of a very young woman from his cab.

Prudence could see her pale face in the moonlight. There was a dazed look in the eyes.

The driver took her by the arm, and led her to the door, knocking briskly.

A tall and friendly woman-officer opened to him.

"Come in, my dear," she said.

Drawing nearer, in the shadows, Prudence saw the girl pass in, and just caught the taxi-driver whispering to the door-keeper:

"Trying to kill herself, she was I was having a cup of coffee near the park, and I heard a sob, and—looking round—I saw her on the grass, behind me. I ran along, and got her just in the nick of time. Fought like a little wild cat . . but she's all right now . . . you keep an eye on her . . ."

Then the gentle voice of the woman-officer, and the door was closed again.

But not for long.

The next comer was a dandified young man in evening clothes, a silk hat at an angle on his scented head.

"Cleaned out . . . and can't get to the banks till morning," Prudence heard him vainly explain to the kind door-keeper, who quietly let him in.

"If only I had the courage to go thought the wearied young spectator in the shadows.

A well-dressed, middle-aged man arrived, greatly perturbed.

"Can't get a bed in the whole city. And no one will cash a cheque for me. I heard that you were always open . . ."

Soon after that, a boy appeared, and Prudence overheard him say, in an anxious tone:

"I was too late to get into the Y. M. C. A., and they told me you'd take me in . . ."

Screwing up her courage, she knocked gently at the door of the church and was admitted by the tall and friendly woman-officer, and motioned to a pew. There—with a hassock underneath her tired young head—she lay at full length on a pew.

How still and strange and quiet it was! How cool and peaceful! Life's fitful fever swept the streets outside, but in the crypt was mightiy calm.

"Like the shelter of a great rock!" thought Prudence.

Quietly the varied pilgrims entered, lying staring up at the white, vaulted roof.

And all about were memorial tablets to the famous dead, and cool white pillars.

Prudence watched a shabby boy taking a bench, making a pillow of a Bible and a hassock, and then stretching his tired length on the seat. Almost immediately he fell asleep. She could hear his regular breathing.

The muffled noise of passing taxi-cabs seemed very far away, accentuating the succeeding silence.

Great tears crep to Prudence's eyes, and trickled down her cheeks. But—strange to say!—some of the intolerable pain had gone from her sad heart. Hope had sprung up again, and a measure of peace decended.

No nightmare marred her sleep.

She dreamt that she was home again and happy.

At six o'clock she woke. The night-pilgrims were departing, and the city was aroused again. Carts were rumbling in the streets, and everything stirring.

Stiffly she walked out into the early morning, leaving peace of mind behind her. Intense realization of her present position made her young face deeply grave.

She must find work to do.

Apart from the financial situation, wasn't work the panacea for all mental ills?

Once she had 'made good,' she would return to Green Gables, and last night's wretched story would be utterly disproved.

She found a coffee-stall, and had a steaming cup, which put new life and strength into her.

Then a wash and brush-up in the railroad station, and a setting forth upon the great adventure.

Ah! that weary round of the employment agencies! The sickening ache of hope deferred!

"Is there nothing I can do?" she broke out once, when an official had been particularly curt with her.

"Best thing you can do is go right back home to your people," came the brusque reply, as the hard-featured woman turned to a line of female applicants, all struggling to outvie each other, and secure any sort of a job that would keep body and soul together. "You don't look fit for hard domestic labor, and you wouldn't get it, anyway, without references. As for anything else, of course, you are quite untrained.

In the depths of her lonely, homesick heart, Prudence realized that the frank works were true—intolerably true.

IRISH BOUNDARY LINE STILL CAUSES TROUBLE

DUBLIN, April 12. — (Canadian Press).—The Free State is pressing the British Government to expedite settlement of the boundary dispute between Northern and Southern Ireland. The resumption of conferences in London is being held up by the illness of Premier Sir James Craig of Ulster, and William T. Cosgrave, President of the Free State Executive Council, is represented as favoring nomination of another representative to take Mr. Craig's place.

Failing an agreement at the conferences, the Free State is understood to have planned to set up a boundary commission, provided for in the Anglo-Irish Treaty, but without a single delegate from Ulster, the Northern Government having thus far refused to appoint one.

MONTREAL PAIR CHARGED WITH MURDER SET FREE

MONTREAL, April 12.— (Canadian Press.)— Corinne St. Jean and Alfred Duguay, charged with murder of Mrs. A. Bergeron after they had given King's evidence against Edouard Frelker and Alfred Dagenais, resulting in the latter two being sentenced to death, were liberated yesterday when the Crown Prosecutor declared that he had no proof against them.

The girl burst into tears and was led out of court by relatives, while Duguay smiled and was petted and hugged by his mother.

ALBERTA MEMBER NOW SITS IN OPPOSITION

EDMONTON, April 12 (Canadian Press). — T. C. Milnes, member for Claresholm, in the Alberta Legislature, withdrew from the ranks of the Government yesterday and took a seat in the Opposition as an Independent Farmer.

Mr. Milnes had consistently supported the Greenfield administration, but declared yesterday he was obliged to withdraw his support because the Government, he thought, was not trying to live up to its election platform.

THE PERIL OF NARCOTICS
(By Captain Richmond P. Hobson)

CHILDREN ARE VICTIMS.

Recruiting of narcotic addicts goes on chiefly among the young.

The average age of the heroin addict is 23.

The majority must have been recruited before the age of 20. Peddlers are recruiting in the schools.

The method is simple. The young people are given a "snow-party." The "snow" is heroin. It is at first supplied free. Such a "party" once a day will make an addict of a high school boy or girl in a short time.

A Government report asserts that a youth will become an addict in 10 days, and a mature man in 30 days.

Formerly the medical profession believed 10 per cent. of addicts could be cured if sent to hospitals for regular treatment. The doctors followed up the 10 supposed to be cured, and found that nine of them reverted.

The person becoming an addict is going into the most abject bondage, the most horrible slavery that can be conceived. The scientific world calls these addicts "the living dead."

Habit-forming drugs single out the nervous system, concentrating on the upper brain. The destructive effect is quick. The thought-centres are quickly damaged. Functioning of faculties in that part of the brain becomes weaker and weaker as compared to the activities of older and tougher centres in the base of the skull.

The upper brain is the shrine of the spirit, the site of the moral and spiritual attributes. The lower brain contains the earlier developed centres, seat of all motives of self-interest.

Hence the effect of narcotic degeneracy is more and more to make the victim anti-social, as becoming a species different than his own; a species on the plane of the brute, directed by the intelligence and reasoning power of the man.

A Treasury Department report shows that there are about 1,250,000 known addicts in the United States and that 25 per cent. of these are not usefully employed. This means that many thousands of addicts must secure their dope supply in some questionable manner, presumably by illegal methods—theft, robbery, banditry and often murder.

FABLES ON HEALTH

When the seven o'clock alarm rang in the morning, it was the signal for a general turning over in bed of the Mann family.

Mr. Mann of Anytown was the noisiest of them all. He literally bellowed his morning grunts, stretched out his arms and rolled.

On such occasions Mrs. Mann failed to display her usual shrewdness. She invariably protested.

The fact is, that a good stretch is the RIGHT WAY TO START OFF THE DAY.

In fact, the morning stretch is to be highly recommended. It is almost invaluable. If accompanied by flounderings around in bed and with good healthy grunts—SO MUCH THE BETTER. Encourage it in members of the family.

The idea is this: During the sleeping hours the abdominal organs, the lungs, etc., are contracted.

Upon awakening, the body gets away to a much better start if this contraction is limbered up.

So be sure to take your morning stretch.

on this Studebaker Light-Six

Here is a car priced at $1,465 which, built by ordinary methods, would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

It is in scores of ways the leader of its class. No rival car compares in the value that it offers.

It is built by the largest maker of fine cars in the world. By a maker who builds 150,000 quality cars per year. So such major costs as engineering, overhead, dies, etc., are divided by 150,000.

It is built in a model plant, with up-to-date machinery. And the savings go to you in values none can match.

Some extra values

Same steels as we use in the costliest cars we build. On some we pay 15% premium to makers to get them exactly right.

Designed and built under an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly.

Each car gets 32,000 tests and inspections in the making.

The bodies are beautiful creations. The finish and coach work show the final touch.

More Timken bearings than any competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Unusual equipment.

Crankshafts machined on all surfaces as was done in the Liberty Airplane Motors. This to insure perfect balance.

25,000-mile audited tests made on 329 cars show lower operating cost by 11.4% than the average of its rivals.

72-year traditions

Built by a maker whose name for 72 years has stood for quality and class. Whose assets of $90,000,000 are staked on serving you better than others. Whose model factories costing $50,000,000 have been mostly built in the past five years. By Studebaker, for whose cars last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000. Whose sales have almost trebled in three years.

Come see what this Light-Six offers. See its many extra values, its beauty, its comfort, its luxury.

Do that and you will choose this car if you have in mind anywhere near this price.

Sculptor Molds Tribute in Sands To Wife and Babe Lost in Floods

AS HE FOUND THEM.

THE MOTHER AND HER BABE IN THE SANDS.

DODGE CITY, Kas., April 10.—A lonely, nameless sculptor wanders up and down the banks of midwestern rivers carving in wet sand figures of a mother and her babe.

A melancholy task is his. But it brings him the only comfort his great grief will permit him to enjoy.

The figure of the woman represents his wife the babe, his child. They died in the Pueblo floods two years ago.

Recently the stranger appeared here. Few paid heed to him until they saw him molding his figures in the sand.

Gradually crowds gathered and watched. But hour after hour went by without the stranger apparently noticing them, so absorbed was he in his work.

Slowly the sand assumed the shape of a young mother, washed upon shore, with her child clasped to her breast.

Onlookers pressed the stranger for an explanation. And here is the tale he told:

"I went to Pueblo, Colo., with my wife and baby, for my health, just a few months before the floods of 1922. We were hardly there, it seemed, when the flood came.

"My wife and baby were swept away by the rushing waters. I was, too, but the rescuers succeeded in dragging me out. But they missed my wife and baby.

"Knowing they had been carried downstream, I began my search. I scoured river banks and islands day and night.

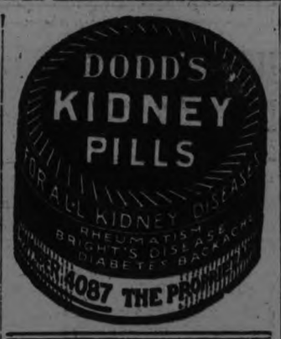
"I found them on a sandbar in just the position I have carved them here.

"I often go to the little country churchyard, where they're buried now. But my grief does not find the comfort there and that it does when I am molding these figures in the sands.

The stranger, though, refuses to reveal his name or tell from whence he came.

"I have no desire," he says, "to go back to my former home or my old position I don't want to be bothered with expressions of sympathy from my old friends and associates.

"I just want to be left alone near the waters that stole my wife and baby away from me."



FABLES ON HEALTH

LET YOUR MIND PLAY.

There lived in Anytown, many, many centuries before Mr. Mann and his fellows arrived on this globe, a race of men who spent their days and their nights in forest, mountain and stream. They had to climb, swim, run, jump, etc.

Thus it is that modern man comes quite naturally by his interest in so-called 'sports"—contests in which strength and skill are pitted—baseball, skull racing, swimming meets, tennis, and the rest.

Now, Mr. Mann, like many people, had never stopped to analyze such contests in the light of mental or psychological exercise.

Yet such they are. As well as being good physical exercise, they afford the mind a chance for quick thinking, and for relaxation from business-made activities. Going the rounds of ordinary affairs our minds are likely to get lopsided, or dulled.

A good out-of-doors game is just the psychological tonic the busy man needs.

Walking is fine for the fellow who can't play ball. And don't overlook dancing. It's one of the best of so-called psychological exercises.

But whatever is determined upon—get out and play at every opportunity. The mere daily dozen isn't enough. Give the mind something with which to play.

TO-DAY'S QUOTATIONS AND OPINION AND REVIEWS OF THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, April 12. — The shorts took fright yesterday afternoon and the market quickly advanced. There were no developments in the general situation to account for the advance. On the other hand it has been evident for a few days that the market has sold itself into an oversold condition.

Laidlaw and Co., say: slowing up in the industrial condition is indicated in the week-end reviews.

Hirsch Lilienthal and Co. say:

Believe the rails off the best opportunities including Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and both of the Wabash also Interboro Transit and Colo Southern for a long pull.

RUSSIAN DANCES TO BE PROVIDED.

Y.W.C.A. Preparing For Exhibition Next Month.

All the colors of the spectrum, in varying combinations of vivid and gorgeous hues, will have a place in the interpretive dances that form a large part of the programme of the exhibition of gymnasium work to be presented by the Young Women's Christian Association at the Grand Opera House on May 2nd and 3rd. The Russian suite of dances will be especially attractive. Books on Russian costuming have been consulted, and every effort will be made to reproduce exactly the national dances of the great white land. The Russian Rhapsody will be done in filmy costumes, in the Greek style of interpretive work, delineating the joys and sorrows of Russia; there will be a ballet of little girls in the "petite Russia" dance; a glittering, dashing Cossack number, and a Russian bridal rendition, with the bride and bridegroom and attendants in the traditional garb of Russian wedding parties.

"The Dance of the Leaves" is a misty autumn carnival of the russet and orange and green; there will be a Spanish dance with black and red suits, high combs and brilliant shawls; a Dutch fantasy in blues and whites; a "bunnie" dance, with soft suits of grey and white, topped by long pink-lined ears; a hornpipe, with small tots going through its popular mazes, and a pantomime by little folks.

The dumb-bell and club-swinging and reed drill work this year offers an absolutely new and entertaining programme. In the grand march, which opens the exhibition, there are five hundred members, while four hundred will take part in the actual performance.

Are Dodd's Kidney Pills When You are Suffering from Kidney Ailments

Madame A. Roussy tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved her from pains in the back.

Dack Cote Nord, Que., April 11.—(Special).—Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that the great majority are women. The reason given for this is that nearly all of women's ills come from the Kidneys.

The following statement comes from Madame A. Roussy, well-known and highly respected resident here: "I can certainly tell everyone that Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me a great deal of good. I was suffering from pains in my back. I have only taken six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am completely relieved of my trouble. I will never be without them in the house."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the Kidneys. Healing and strengthening them, they enable the Kidneys to strain all the impurities out of the blood.

MAKING MAKE MONEY MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

In most cases the profitable time to expand a business is during a depression. Why?

When boom times comes along a business usually has more orders than it can fill. Sometimes that business will start expanding.

Probably by the time it gets its capacity enlarged the beginning of a depression is at hand, and there is no use for the extra space.

Since the expansion was carried on during a period of high prices it was expensive. A loss was incurred by not having the capacity when it was needed, a further loss by having to pay upkeep on the addition after it was too late to be of service.

On the other hand a business which expands wisely during times of depression turns all of these disadvantages into advantages. Labor and material are relatively cheap. The company will have the capacity to fill the increased orders which will come with good times. This means a profit instead of a loss on the investment.

POPULAR SONGS IN ADVERTISING

A very famous and, at the same time, very cynical writer has advanced the bon mot that "a public man is never truly great until the cartoonists deem him worthy of caricature." If this is carried to its logical conclusion, then it may be that a song is never truly popular until it has induced someone to write a parody on it; which, of course, is an excellent thing for song writer and publisher, because the clever parody is certain to add increasing vogue to the popular song.

In similar vein, the famous Henry Ford is said to have stated that he did not care what newspapers, cartoonists, vaudeville performers and song writers said about the Ford car as long as they mentioned the name; it was the advertising he wanted. A number of lilting, tilting, whistlable songs have lately formed the basis of a clever advertising campaign. Using such favorites as "Last Night on the Back Porch," "Cut Yourself a Piece of Cake," "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and "That Old Gang of Mine," and many others, the parodies are clever enough to remind one of Millbank cigarettes whenever the songs are sung or played.

New Method of Reducing Fat

A news item from abroad informs us that the American method of producing a slim, trim figure is meeting with astonishing success. This system, which has made such a wonderful impression over there, must be the Marmola Prescription Tablet method of reducing fat. It is safe to say that we have nothing better for this purpose in this country. Anything that will reduce the excess flesh steadily and easily without injury to the stomach, the causing of wrinkles, the help of exercising or dieting, or interference with one's meals is a mightly important and useful addition to civilization's necessities. Just such a catalogue of good results follow the use of these pleasant, harmless and economical little fat reducers. We say economical, because Marmola Prescription Tablets (made in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription can be obtained of any druggist the world over or from the Marmola Company, 4032 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., for one dollar a box which is a decidely economical price, considering the number of tablets each box contains. They are harmless.

HUNTER STREET GARAGE RAIDED

Six Well Known Local Men Gathered in on Charges Under O.T.A.

As the result of a police raid at 4 o'clock this morning, and other activities six local young men were charged in police court with various offences under the O.T.A. committed yesterday and to-day. One charge was of refusing to admit Sergeant Thomas and Constable Bromley and obstructng them in the execution of their duty.

A second was charged with exposing or keeping liquor for sale; a third with trafficking in liquor and the remaining three with having liquor in a place other than in a private dwelling. Bail was fixed at $500 and two sureties of $250 each in every case and all those accused were remanded until Thursday.

"That's all we have this morning," Chief Newhall said. "We may have more later on."

Two warrants were issued for men who had escaped the net.

THE COACH AND MOTOR CAR TO SAY NOTHING OF THE DOG

It sees to be a growing conceit, this craze for a motor car dog—large or small, pedigreed or mongrel. But the fantastical custom is really a fad of early days, possibly as far back as the seventeenth century, only evolutionised to meet modern conditions. For the motor car dog is an indolent type of our forbears' active, tireless carriage canine of Dalmatian breed, on to which was popularly hung the somewhat coarse but intimate sobriquet of "plum pudding" dog. Light in colour, its coat dotted with numerous dark brown or black spots, this carriage or coach dog derived its nickname from some visionary small English boy who fancied he saw in the animal an animated replica of his Yuletide or festival tit-bit.

The old-time carriage dog is supposed to have been brought to England from India; frequently kept in stables, he grew attached to horses, and could be seen any day running after or beneath a carriage. His namesake to-day, however, the motor car dog—for an automobile is nothing but a horseless carriage—does not run true to form nor do his ancestors credit. He prefers the running-board or inside cushioned seat of a car, from which he complacently surveys the passing world with dogly intent. Yet who can say but what, were he not pampered and encouraged, his canine instinct might assert itself, when he would much prefer a lively scamper across country, now on three legs and then on four, not forgetting to poke his cold, damp, inquisitive nose into other people's business as occasion offered.

First English Coach.

And now a word or two about the coach, the forerunner of the automobile, both luxurious in fittings and reflecting polish, both superlative in speed according to decade and inventive attainment. The first coach in England is said to have been made in 1555 for the Earl of Rutland, and in 1564 the same builder, alter Rippon, made a showy vehicle for Queen Elizabeth; early in the seventeenth century the use of pleasure carriages extended rapidly, developing into elegant vehicles with luxurious interior fittings and brilliantly furbished exteriors. The manufacture of carriages ranked with the highest class of mechanical labour, and the best coaches received as many as twenty to thirty coats of oil paint, with numerous polishing processes.

History Repeats Itself.

And so to-day history repeats itself in the motor car, or horseless carriage. Products of super-mechanical skill in motor, chassis and body, they reflect nothing if not modernity, genius, utility, and comfort.

You'll see them at the Motor Show in the Armouries on 23rd, 24th, and 25th April ((and of course you're going), the lordly sedan, comfy touring car, companionable coupe, compact little roadster, and business-accelerating delivery and motor truck—in fact, Peterborough motorised, so to speak. Then there will be on exhibit accessories—legions of them—together with displays of the city's enterprise which combine to present a motor show this year outdistancing all previous attempts. Entertaining features will also be in evidence, and, altogether a jolly and informative occasion is being prepared.

Hoping for an Encore.

Again the fact is here emphasised that the receipts at this worthwhile event will go to the local Health Association in support of their "brotherhood of man" endeavours in the interests of a clean, healthy community, in aid of those afflicted by disease, poor circumstances, or lack of opportunities others more fortunate enjoy. And still again one is constrained to stress that this association's sympatheic work includes the maintenance of a summer camp, properly supervised by a trained nurse, in Jackson Park, where under-privileged little folk—some ailing, others crippled—are given a summer outing. Wholesomely fed, inhaling the invigorating and health-giving tonic of Mother Nature, indulging in merry games and pastimes, those little ones had the time of their young lives last year, and hope for a repetition this summer.

See to it that the kiddies are not disappointed. The success of the Motor Show means to no small extent continuance and perhaps extension of Jackson Park. Let the whole community co-operate for so worthy a cause!

A MAN HELD BY LOCAL POLICE

Says He Has Been in Service of the Government Twenty Years--Held for Week Pending Enquiries.

Charged with vagrancy before Magistrate O. A. Langley this morning, James Huard declared he is an agent of the Dominion Government engaged in organizing agriculture. He was not represented by counsel.

"I am an agent of the Consolidated Press, owned and operated by the government," he said. "I have been in government service for over twenty years. I have credentials with the Farm and Dairy in Peterborough, and Mr. Smith will give you any information you need about me."

Chief Newhall said that might be true, but that Huard had told two or three different stories.

"I told nobody anything. I made no statement to any of you," Huard declared.

Chief Newhall said it would take some days to get replies to his queries about the man from Ottawa, Toronto and Hamilton, the places where the accused said that he hailed from.

The Examiner got in touch with the different places mentioned, and ascertained that Mr. Huard has been soliciting subscriptions for farm journals along the route covered by the Better Live Stock Train.

R. W. Wade, director of the Live-stock Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, who is in charge of the train which is to-day at Millbrook, told the Examiner that Mr. Huard is not connected with his department

The Consolidated Press could not be located in Ottawa, but a firm of that name at 73 Richmond street, Toronto, publishes the Canadian Farmer.

Mr. Huard was remanded for one week to enable Chief Newhall to obtain information relevant to the case.

To Retail Grocers

We have been fortunate in securing the exclusive agency for XANADDA BISCUITS. These are the product of an entirely new firm located in Brantford, made up of men who have spent years in the biscuit business. This experienced company is producing biscuits second to none on the market, put up in free containers, which constitute a big saving to the retailer. We are confident that we have only to submit tasting samples to at once convince that we are handling a wonderful line and a quick selling money-maker for the grocer. This would also be a particularly fine line for summer resorts.

MORE STONES FOR MEMORIAL

OSHAWA, April 12.—C. J. Wilcox, Secretary of the War Memorial Committee, has received word from W. B. Larke, Sydney, Australia, to the effect that stones representing that country and New Zealand were being forwarded with as little delay as possible to be included in the memorial which will be known as "The Garden of the Unforgotten."

IT PAYS TO COMPLAIN

OSHAWA, April 12.—Word was received from L. O. Clifford, local member in the Federal House, to the effect that no increase would be made in the price of postoffice boxes and drawers in the local postoffice, despite the fact that a few days ago orders were posted in the office stating that the price of boxes would be hereafter increased from $3 and $5 for drawers to $10. Local citizens strongly protested against the action taken by the Postoffice Department, and as a result the increase has been cancelled.

CANADIAN GENERAL CALL FOR TENDERS

Will Proceed With Erection of Building Once By-law is Passed.

To-day's Examiner carries an advertisement "Tenders Wanted" for the Canadian General Electric Company, asking for tenders on the first extension to the plant in Peterborough. As has been announced, this will be gone on with immediately after the vote, to be taken on April 29th, on the C.G.E. By-law of it is carried.

Evidently the company is getting everything in shape to begin building operations just as soon as the verdict of the citizens of Peterborough has been given.

From what can be learned the by-law is going to receive very strong support from all classes of citizens, labouring men, mechanic, business and professional man. It would seem that it would be in our own interests to show the new company our appreciation by polling the largest possible vote for the by-law.

The present proposed programme of extensions is probably only a fore runner of a greater activity by the Company and if we give them a good reception in support of the by-law it will no doubt be appreciated.

TWO COMPETITORS FOR MUSIC HONOR

Symphony Orchestra and Male Voice Choir Will Take Part in Ontario Musical Festival.

Peterborough will be represented this year by two large musical organizations, at the Second Ontario Musical Competition Festival, to be held in Toronto during the week from April 28th to May 4th, inclusive. The Peterborough Symphony Orchestra and the Peterborough Male Voice Choir will compete for musical honors at this season's Festival, and both hope to repeat the triumphs that Peterborough achieved last year at the first competition. Several individual members of the orchestra are also competing as soloists in the Wind Instrument section.

The Symphony Orchestra will have a very busy day on Tuesday, April 29th, when they go to Toron, to, as the members intend to compete in three classes, in No. 104, Symphony orchestra class, when the test piece will be Beethoven's Overture "Fidelio," with a first prize of one year's possession of Canadian Academy of Music Challenge Shield and gold medal to the conductor, and second prize of a certificate and silver medal; in Class 101, when forty members will compete as Trinity Sunday school orchestra, playing the overture "Merry Wives of Windsor," with the same quality of prizes open to this class of Sunday school orchestras, and also in Class 103, for "Amateur orchestra (belonging to a Conservatory or similar organization)" playing the "Lustspiel Overture," for the same three awards, the Challenge Shield in this instance being awarded by the Teachers' Association of the local Conservatory of Music.

As a Symphony orchestra, the test piece will be played in the evening, while the other two tests will be made in the afternoon. At the request of the Peterborough organization, it has been made possible to have the three tests made on the same day .The new class, 103, for amateur orchestras, was included in this year's syllabus at the request of Mr. R. Gliddon of this city.

The Orchestra hopes to sustain this year the record they made last season, when the organization received a total of 90 points in proficiency, a record only surpassed in one class, in which Dr. H. A. Fricker's own choir received 95 points. From reports received this year, it is probable that test pieces will be more difficult and competition much keener in all classes, than last season.

As the trip to Toronto will cost about $350, the Orchestra is asking the citizens of Peterborough and friends of the organization to contribute towards the expenses of the event. Any contributions may be sent in to the president, Mr. John Crane, the secretary, Mr. J. M. Green, or the conductor, Mr. R. Gliddon. These three gentlemen have been honored this year by inclusion in the general committee in charge of Festival arrangements.

Another Peterborough organization which will be represented at the Fesitval is the Male Voice Choir, which also, in view of the fact that it receives no grant from the city, and has a very large personnel, feels that it is deserving of some support from the citizens in its effort to uphold the Electric City's supremacy in musical circles. On Thursday, May 1st, the Male Voice Choir will compete in two events, in Class 16, for a full choir, with test pieces in Granville Bantock's "Through Eastern Gates," and T. Tertius Noble's "New Life, New Love," with similar prizes as those for the instrumental sections, which awards also will be given to the second class to be entered; No. 15, for a choir of Men's Voices, with a maximum of twenty members, singing Fletcher's "A Lullaby of Love,' 'and Oscar Merikanto's "In Harvest Time."

A great deal of competition is also anticipated this year in the Male Choir tests. Mr. C. S. Thompson is the local secretary and Mr. M. B. Chenhall the conductor.

MAPLE SYRUP IN POPULAR DEMAND

Ranged From 75 cents Down to 60 cents a Quart --- Eggs Sold at 22 cents.

Maple Syrup was the popular commodity on the farmers' market this morning. The reliable milk-can is in general use these days, and the brown fluid comes out through an attached spigot or is ladled up by a tin dipper . One ardent devotee of the great Canadian dainty was busily engaged in testing the quality of various spoonfulls, procured in turn from a glass tumbler. He was blissfully unaware of an amused audience. Prices of syrup ranged from 75c a quart to 60c., with one man selling his supply at $2.25 a gallon. There were rumors of one vendor who had a low price of 50c a quart, but the Examiner representative was unable to locate this probably mythical gentleman.

Potatoes for seed or table were selling at $1.80 and $2 a bag. Big Irish cobblers for seed were $2.50 and little specimens that looked like new potatoes, were 35c a peck.

The fish man had fresh pike at 18c a pound, and the inside fruit dealer was selling bananas at 35c a dozen. A couple of loads of hay in varying quality were $15 and $17 a load and two or three loads of mixed wood sold at $7.50 and $10. Russet apples were 50c a peck; Ontarios 45c and Spys 65c.

In the basket section, dairy produce was plentiful. Eggs sold at 22, 23 and 25c a dozen; butter opened at 45c a pound, and dropped to 38c, and chickens sold for 30 to 35c a pound. Cream was 35 and 30c, with one lady selling her supply at 25c.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir: Mr. "Val. Bona" says in his powerful reasoning letter on Prohibition that it is just like keeping razors away from children.

But why keep them away from grown-ups? Prohibition would prevent V. B. from shaving, simply because children get cut with razors. What a noble band have been for the last four years in charge at Toronto of the morals of Ontario! V. B., old man, your good brain is fed by water. Give it something better. Don't be afraid and put the policeman in charge of us all instead of the minister and the teacher.

Cancer increases as the consumption of alcohol decreases and is eating up the prohibitionists. Look out, old boy.

Non-Coinatibus in Swampo.

Fraserville, April 9, 1924.

Editor of Peterboro' Examiner,
Peterboro', Ontario.

Dear Sir: Your item under the heading, "Voice of People," published in yesterday's paper, brings my name very prominently before the public as the writer of the article appearing in the same column on Thursday, March 13.

Now, Mr. Editor, I am not going to enter into any controversy with this man Madill, and as far as I am concerned, you will not be troubled with anything further from my pen on this subject.

I only wish to say that I not only believe every word of the letter of March 13, but I can prove every statement made. I was not seeking the limelight, hence I signed myself "Subscriber," but since Mr. Madill has been so careful to bring my name before the public I will defend it. As to the slurs and insinuations he hurled at me, I do not consider it worth my while to any more than read, and am content to leave my neighbors to judge as to my character and purpose in life as compared with the said Mr. Madill, whom, I am confident, knows, as everyone who knows me knows, that I am unalterably opposed to vice and dishonesty of every kind, whether in high places or low, in the church or out of it. If Mr. Madill or anyone else wishes proof of statements either made verbally or written by me, I can furnish such proof, therefore, I will not attempt to answer in detail the letter in your issue of the 7th inst. and will remain as I have always been the friend and champion of those whether weak or strong who are honestly trying to live the Christian life and are anxious that the other fellow gets a square deal.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the time and space you have given me, I remain, yours in the interests of justice and pair play.

R. M. Patterson.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir: I find by reading the report of a comparison of samples of pasteurized and unpasteurized milk that the bacterial reading of the unpasteurized milk was 90,000 many times that of the pasteurized. Now I would like to ask Dr. Sutton or Dr. McNair or Dr. Wood if the bacteria mentioned was constructive or destructive, if it was caused by eating foul feed, or drinking stagnant water, or in inhaling odorous air, or licking the back of some theorist. Now as to the action of the Children's Aid Society in changing their milk supply to the Peterboro' Milk Products, I have this to say that the shelter is a public institution, dependent on the public for maintenance and the supply of milk should be left to open competition with the matron the deciding factor it is surprising how much some know about milk and possibly never have milked a cow. Now I think the people are burdened with so-called red-tape there is no reason why each municipality with a good live board of health acting directly with the Department should not be able to manage its own health affairs and completely do away with the Provincial officers. Now what I have said upon the subject of milk I have said from years of practical experience of handling milk. Yours, etc.,

W. H. Merril.

PIANO RECITAL

There was a very good attendance at the Conservatory of Music last evening for the piano recital by pupils of the director, Mr. Rupert Gliddon. In a well-arranged and enjoyable programme of music, the pupils acquitted themselves in a manner that reflected much credit to themselves and the tuition of their instructor. Mr. Gliddon's pupils play with ease. They have a thorough grasp of technique and a smooth, attractive tone that makes their music delightful. The work of the senior pupils, Miss Agnes Grant, Miss Kathleen Sutton and Miss Elizabeth Webber, was marked by a brilliant rendition and a fine quality of interpretive ability.

A charming variation to the programme was made by the singing of two of the vocal pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park. In lovely voice, Miss Ina Allen gave two numbers, the 'Voi che sapete" from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," and Mallinson's "The Message and the Song." Miss Geraldine Collins delighter her audience with two beautiful songs, "My World" and "I Hear a Thrush at Eve."

The programme of instrumental music was as follows: Overture from "The Magic Flute" (Mozart), by the Misses Kathleen Sutton, Agnes Grant, Maida Conner and Elizabeth Webber: "Sonatina" (Dussek), by Grace Koster; "Sonatina" (Clementi), by Fannie Black; "Sonatina" (Kuhlau), by Francis Turner; "Cascade" (Pauer) and "Rigoletto Fantasia" (the quartette arranged by Lisst from Verdi's "Rigoletto"), by Kathleen Sutton; "Kamenoi Ostrow" (Rubenstein), by Jean Anderson: Schumann's "Fachingsschwank-aus Wein" (Carnival Scenes), by Elizabeth Webber; Moszkowski's "En Automne," by Vera McGill; and a lovely rendition of Lisst's "Cantique d'Amour" by Miss Agnes Grant.

Mrs. M. H. Park and Mrs. M. C. Mackinnon acted as accompanists for the vocal soloists.

RUSSIAN REPLY FLAILS FRANCE

Russia Sends Sharp Note to France, Rejecting Indignantly French Interference in the Trial of Anti Soviet Spies at Keff.

(By John G. Raudenz, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

MOSCOW, April 12.—Russia todaysent a sharp note to France rejecting indignantly "the latter's interference in the trial of the anti-Soviet spies at Kieff."

The Russian note was in reply to one from Premier Poincare in which the French Premier urged clemency for the alleged spies on humanitarian grounds.

Georges Tchitcherin, Soviet Foreign Minister, did not mince words in his reply. He declared France had committed a hostile act.

"The Soviet Government regrets indignantly the attempt of the French Government to interfere in the trial," he wrote. "This is contrary to the most elementary respect for the sovereignty of other countries.'

"The French Government, moreover, is well aware of the criminal Kieff accused.

"Because these Kieff spies were in contact with the French Intelligence Service, now France attempts to protect her own spies, under a mask of humanity.

"This is a hostile act. It comes in addition to other hostile acts, for example the sanctioning by France of the annexation of Bessarabia by Roumania and prevention of the Chino-Russia understanding.

"The Soviet Government is surprised that the French Government disregards the feeling its deeds are creating among the Russian masses, who have not forgotten their sufferings and the damage caused by the French interventions.

"Now they see that the French Government, contrary to other Western Powers, contains its hostile policy against the Soviet Union.

"The Soviet Government disregards attempts to interfere in the competency of Russian courts, but watches French acts closely.

"The Soviet Government repeatedly has declared its willingness to negotiate a Franco-Russian agreement, and notes that France not only does not meet this effort, but has recently increased her hostile policy."

The note concludes by saying that Russia is convinced that "an overwhelming majority of the French population will force its Government towards the pathway of understanding with Soviet Russia.

HARRY K. THAW'S WIFE IN COURT

She Will Attempt to Determine Thaw's Sanity by Jury Trial Which Begins Next Monday.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—Evelyn Nesbitt, divorced wife of Harry K. Thaw, to-day filed in the Common Pleas Court a petition to be allowed to intervene in the proceedings to determine Mr. Thaw's sanity by a jury trial which begins here next Monday. The action, it is stated, is in the interest of her 12 year old son, Russell William Thaw. The petition sets forth that Thaw should not be released as he is mentally unfit, and will, if released, "dissipate his own estate and the life inteerst in his father's estate." Thaw's estate is estimated to be worth about $1,000,000.

MRS. BESWICK LED JEKYLL-HYDE LIFE

She Was the Wife of a Carpenter by Day and of a Banker at Night. Neither Knew of Other

PHILADEPHIA, April 12.—(Canadian Press.)—The wife of a carpenter in the daytime and the bride of a wealthy banker at night, Mrs. Anna Beswick, to-day awaited a hearing on charges of forgery, which, in an alleged confession given out by the police, she said she was forced to commit to obtain money for black mailers who had threatened to expose her dual life. Apparently neith er Samuel E. Beswick by whom she said she had eighteen children, nor William C. Martin, Vice President of the Suburban Bank, whom she de ed she had married last February and from whom she said she had taken at lest $50,000 to pay for the blackmailer's silence, knew of her Jekyll-Hyde life. She said she had kept them in ignorance through the various subterfuges. Martin married her she said in the belief that she had been divorced. Mrs. Beswick was taken into custody yesterday outside the court room of Judge J. Wills. Martin, whose name she is alleged to have forged to letters, Through representatinons in these letters she is charged with having obtained $5,000 from William Shuman and Ralph Hawthorne who had the warrant issued for her arrest.

RUSSIA TELLS FRANCE TO MIND HER BUSINESS

(By John Graudenz, United Press Staff Correspondent).

MOSCOW, April 12.—Russia today sent a sharp note to France, "rejecting indignantly" the latter's interference in the trial of anti-Soviet spies at Kieff. The Russian note was in reply to one from Premier Poincare, in which the French Premier urged clemency for the alleged spies on humanitarian grounds.

The number of pupils enrolled in public high schools in the United States increased from 1,156,995 in 1871 to 2,181,216 in 1920.

Police Looking For Two Men

WINNIPEG, April 12. Canadian Press. — The police last night were looking for two men, disguised as women, who late on Thursday night "strong armed" Preto Bordy, a local resident and robbed him of $180 in cash.

Men presenting the appearance of women, both heavily veiled, approached him on the street.

"Hello, Cutie," said one. "Aren't you ashamed to be out so late?"

Then, Bordy says, without giving him time to reply, the speaker sent a right swing to his jaw. When he recovered consciousness the fair strollers and his $180 were gone.

RETIRES FROM POLITICS.

VICTORIA, April 12.—Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance in the Oliver Government and member of the Legislature for Victoria, will retire from politics at the next general election. Mr. Hart's decision not to run for office again was officially announced to-day. His retirement is caused by the demands of his own business, he said.

Gaspe Highway Will Be Finished This Summer.

QUEBEC, April 12.—Before the coming summer is over the two hundred and fifty miles of belt road from Matane, through the Gaspe Peninsula and along Chaleur Bay, and through the Matapedia Valley, will be completed. This was announced Friday at the department of colonization. The new road will be a colonization one.

When completed, the colonization department will have expended over $600,000 on this unique road, which is built partly of the rocks of the Cape of Gaspe and the department of roads will have spent over half a million dollars.

HOW NATIONS VIEW REPORT

German Government Accepts the Report in Principle—State Premiers Will Meet—The French Reservations

THE GERMAN VIEW.

(By Carl D. Groat, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN April 12. — The German government has accepted the Dawes report in principle. Delegates will be sent to Paris to appear before the reparations commission next week and communicate this decision to the allies.

The formal announcement of Germany's acceptance is withheld until after a meeting of the state premiers, summoned to convene in Berlin on Monday. After they have been invited to approve the Government's action the allies will be informed of the decision.

In the absence of the formal announcement of the Marx Government's acquiescence, it is confirmed on the highest authority that Germany can be considered as accepting "in principle."

Germany does not wish to be precluded from efforts to obtain certain alterations. These include:

1—Evacuation of the Ruhr by the French and Belgian troops.

2—The total reparations sum to be fixed in advance.

It is understood the government will attempt to obtain both.

The announcement of Germany's actual position will be made on Monday.

It is not anticipated that the state premiers will attempt to sabotage the government's intentions, but Chancellor Marx is understood to be prepared to go ahead regardless of any opposition.

THE FRENCH VIEW.

(By Webb Miller, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, April 12. — A golden opportunity for European peace has been put squarely up to Germany by the dramatic gesture of the Reparations Commission in accepting the Dawes' report without debate, in the opinion of the members of the commission themselves.

Astonishment created by the great suddenness with which they announced approval of the experts' plans had not subsided to-day, but the commissioners feel this very suddenness was the most important phase of acceptance.

Germany now is given an opportunity to do likewise, it was semi-officially announced, and all Europe can concentrate on making the plan effective, instead of arguing its good and bad points.

Although word was received from Berlin that the government had decided to approve the plan, no comment on this was forthcoming from sources where it was said a definite formal announcement from Germany was awaited.

Although the acceptance of the plan by the Reparations Commission was announced as unanimous, it was reported to-day that Louis Barthou, representing France, made certain reservations regarding acceptance of the report. This he is said to have done on Poincare's instructions.

The French reservations are understood to be:

1—The report must be completed by a definite system of control and guarantees.

2—Specific penalties must be applied in the event Germany fails to support her promises.

COULDN'T SLEEP HEART WAS BAD NERVES A WRECK

Mr. H. A. Reid, Upper Musquodoboit, N.S., writes:—"I am very thankful fro the benefit I have received by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

When I came home from overseas, in 1920, my heart was very badly affected by concussion, and my nerves were a dreadful wreck. I was very short winded, and could not possibly sleep at night, in fact, I was in such a condition I felt as if I did not wish anyone to speak to me. I thought I would try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and before I had taken two boxes I could enjoy a good night's rest as well as anyone.

There are lots of returned men who are suffering the same as I did, and I feel sure that if they would only try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills they will receive the same relief that I have."

Price 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

AT KNOX TO-MORROW.

In the morning, "Why Pray?" or, "Men, Sheep and Goats."

"More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of, therefore let thy voice rise like a fountain for Me night and day. For what are men better than sheep and goats that nourish a blind life within the brain. If, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer, both for themselves and those who call them friend? For so the whole round earth is every way bound by gold chains about the feet of God"

With this service the minister will begin a series of special sermons in exposition of our "Lord's Prayer."

In the evening the subject will be "Undertaking, a Dead Man's Job." Why did Jesus say: "Let the dead bury their dead?"

"Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide,
In the fight 'twixt truth and falsehood, for the good or evil side."

The dog is mentioned 33 times in the Bible.

FEMALE VOICE CHOIR CONCERT

An audience of nearly three hundred people, augmented by about a hundred more, who dropped in later for the dance, attended the concert and dance given in Victoria Hall last evening under the auspices of the Female Voice Choir and Ladies of the Caledonian Club. The dance put the finishing touch on a very jolly evening. Excellent music was provided by McCarthy's Orchestra, composed of a quartette of youthful players, in Carl McCarthy, Bert Bugg, Wilson Dunlop and Cecil Gallegher. Refreshments were served by the ladies in charge, with Mrs. P. McArthur as convenor. A feature of the dancing programme was its varied quality. Modern fox-trots and one-steps, alternated with the waltz and two-step and a number of Old Country dances, in reels and quadrilles. An eight-some reel was accompanied by music from the bagpipes, played by Piper Alex. Milne.

The concert which preceded the dance was in charge of Mrs. R. Bugg, to whose untiring efforts the success of the musical programme was due. The ladies of the Female Voice Choir sang in fine voice, and provided a tuneful background for the choruses of the various solo numbers. Led by Mrs. Bugg, their numbers received hearty applause. Mayor J. J. Turner occupied the chair in his usual urbane style, entering into the spirit of the informal gathering in a manner that made him popular with the assemblage. The stage was prettily arranged with quantities of flags and tall ferns, and the Choir, in their fancy costumes of various types, some representing national styles, others patriotic, and still others in gay Pierrot outfits, made a pretty background. Solo numbers in excellent voice, and graceful dance steps, enlivened the vocal programme, which was as follows: "O Canada," by the Choir and company, with Mrs. M. Flegler representing Britannia; solo, "Loch Lomond," by Miss J. Pattison; solo, "Killarney," by Mrs. M. Flegler; solo, "Lil Ole Granny of Mine," by small Miss E. Harrison; solo, "Sittin' in a Corner," by Miss L. Farthing; solo, "I'm Forever Thinking of You," by Miss F. Johnston; comic song by Mr. A. Fisher; song and dance by little Miss Phyllis Pink, a tiny morsel of femininity, whose small, piping voice and jaunty little dance brought her rounds of applause, a salute from the Mayor, and a token from Mrs. Bugg; solo, "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginny," by Mrs. B. Singleton; solo, "Eileen Alannah," by Miss Minnie Allen; a dance duo, the Sailor's Hornpipe and the Highland Fling," by the Misses Dunlop; a recitation by Miss Elsie Worrell; and a pretty interlude, in "The Miniature," with a living picture in a frame, arranged by Miss M. Flowers. Miss Minnie Allen took the part of the picture, in pretty blue, frilled gown and powdered hair, and Mrs. B. Singleton, in sweet voice, sang to her, as a gallant, in gay mauve suit and powdered wig.

The second part of the programme included a piano selection by Master H. McFarlane; a solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Miss L. Farthing; a song, "Drifting Back to Dreamland," by Mr. C. Perry; a song, "Mignonette," by Mrs. B. Singleton; a song, "Come Back, Old Pal," by Miss Shurety; a song, "Red Wing," by Miss M. Allen; a song, "Old Pal, Why Don't You Answer Me?" by Mrs. M. Flegler; a song, "The Back Porch," by little Miss E. Harrison; and "Robin Adair," in lovely voice, by Miss J. Pattison. Several of the vocalists received pretty bouquets.

Accompaniments for the Choir and the various solo numbers were the Misses M. Flowers, F. Johnston, Shurety, Mrs. C. Perry and Mrs. R. Bugg.

The Choir, with its several junior assistants, is composed of the following personnel: Mesdames Devall, McFarlane, Jay, Cairns, Flegler, Pink, Fletcher, Matthews, F. McKinley, A. McKinley, Singleton, Farthing, the Misses Johnston, Allen, Woodhouse, Guerin, Cairns, Farthing, Harrison, L. McKinley, Farthing, Shurety, Fallis, Pattison, the little Misses Dunlop and Reid, and tiny Phyllis Pink. Conductor, Mrs. R. Bugg.

A monstrous chocolate Easter egg, donated to the cause by Mrs. T. Poole, of Toronto, formerly of Peterboro, was auctioned off by His Worship, the Mayor, and fell to the lot of Mr. A. Fisher, the lucky winner. The proceeds of the auction amounted to $4.60, which will be donated to the Well Babies' Clinic, along with fifty per cent. of the entire proceeds of last evening's entertainment.

ARCHBISHOP ZEPLIAK HAS ARRIVED AT RIGA

LONDON, April 12. Canadian Press. — Archbishop Zepliak, head of the Roman Catholic Church, in Russia, released from prison by the Soviet authorities, arrived at Riga, Esthonia, yesterday morning, in an exhausted condition according to the Riga Corespondent of the Daily Mail.

Since the recent announcement by the Russian government of its intentions to release Archbishop Zepliak there have been several conflicting stories concerning his whereabouts, some declaring that he was still in prison and others declaring that he was at liberty.

COUNT KAROLYI SEEKS BRITISH CITIZENSHIP AND CANADA HOME.

LONDON, April 11 (Associated Press).—Count Michael Karolyi, once prime minister of Hungary, wants to become a British subject. The count, who is somewhat radical in his view, has been living with his wife and child in London since he found it advisable to quit his own country. He has decided to settle permanently in Canada after obtaining his citizenship.

"I want my family to grow up in the free, untrammelled British atmosphere," he said.

MURDER INSPIRED BY KINDNESS NOT A CRIME IN SWITZERLAND.

GENEVA, April 11 (Associated Press).—Fraulein Helene Moeller has been exonerated of murder, in spite of the fact that she admitted giving her mother poison to put her out of the misery she was suffering as the effect of an incurable malady.

The woman was arrested after her mother's death and many experts studied her mental condition. After an extensive investigation they reported that Fraulein Moeller clearly administered the poison with the feeling that it was her duty to save her parent further suffering, and the public prosecutor ordered her released.

American Chairman of the Experts' Commission Delighted By the Action of Reparations Commission In Unanimously and Quickly Approving the Experts' Report.

AIX - LES - BAINES, France, April 12 (Canadian Press).—Charles G. Dawes, on his way to Italy on the Rome Express yesterday, made no effort to conceal his boyish delight when he learned that the Reparation Commission has unanimously recommended acceptance of the experts' report.

Although he exercised a certain verbal reserve until he learned the details of the Commission's decision, the exuberance of a schoolboy with his first pair of long pants was plainly written on his features.

News of the decision was not a complete surprise to the head of the committee that framed the report, in view of certain information and assurances that he received from the Belgian Government officials at Brussels on Thursday at a luncheon given by Premier Theunis, but this did not mar his visible satisfaction when he learned that approval had been given.

Ever since the report was handed in, Mr. Dawes has been extremely reticent in discussing its merits because he did not want to appear to sermonise on points he considered perfectly plain. Now that the report has been accepted, however, he has revealed the conviction that he held throughout that the nations concerned could not but appreciate the practicality of the plan once it had been taken in good faith by all concerned.

ESTABLISH GOLD BANK.

NEW YORK, April 12 (Canadian Press). — Plans for the establishment of a United States banking credit of between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 for the new German gold and discount bank formed by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht were announced yesterday through the International Acceptance Bank, acting for a syndicate of New York bankers.

While negotiations have not been finally closed, it was said the credit would be advanced to provide an outlet for German dollar trade bills. Marking the first definite action by United States bankers to assist in the economic rehabilitation of Germany, the credit, combined with advances from British sources, will enable the Schacht bank to stabilise the country's currency until it is finally merged with the gold bank, provided under the Dawes plan, which will be the backbone of the future German currency system.

SPECIAL SERVICES GEORGE STREET

Rev. Newton Jones continued his preaching mission yesterday in the George street church, with services afternoon and evening.

The afternoon service was the last of the series of Bible Talks to adults. The subject was of the most practical nature: "Hindrances in Service." The basis of the talk was Nehemiah's difficulties in rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem. From this story he deduced eight familiar factors which greatly impede the usefulness and service of Christian individuals and churches, and pointed out clearly the way in which all such hindrances could be overcome.

The evening service took the form of a lantern lecture on the work Mr. Jones does every summer at the English seaside resort. About fifty slides showed the gatherings at Ramsgate, Margate and other places, where great crowds of children and adults gather every day during the season on the sands and are taught great truths concerning life and religion. Such work is all but unknown in Canada, and the value of it impressed every hearer. The day begins with practical lessons on swimming, continues with gatherings and sing songs leading up to short addresses, and chalk talks, and in the afternoon picnics and hikes are arranged in which crowds join. Included also in last night's story were illustrations of the work the speaker had done in France with the B.E.F.

To-morrow Mr. Jones preaches at both services in the George street church. His morning subject will be "The Shephard Psalm," and in the evening he will speak on "Everything for Nothing." Mrs. Park will sing at both services, and Mr. Renwick's choir will lead in the singing of old favorite hymns. All are invited to attend.

Would not be Without Zutoo Tablets At Any Cost

Mr. A. O. Norton, the millionaire Jack Manufacturer, of Boston, who recently died, was a great "booster" for Zutoo Tablets.

He suffered from headaches from childhood and when he found Zutoo Tablets stopped these headaches in a few minutes and left no bad effect, he began recommending them to his family and friends. In an unsolicited letter, Mr. Norton says in closing:

"My family use them when ever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from Headache and they never failed to give quick relief. I always carry Zutoo Tablets in my grip on the road and WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT THEM AT ANY COST."

LAWN BOWLERS MEETING TODAY

Dominion Association Is Holding Convention In Toronto — Revise List For Old Country Tour.

TORONTO, April 12 (Canadian Press). — The ninth annual meeting of the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association will be held here this afternoon when, in addition to the transaction of general business and the election of officers, an important resolution affecting the seven associations, of which the parent body is composed, will be proposed by R. B. Rice, Toronto.

Heretofore, the Dominion Bowling Tournament held annually in Toronto has been considered as the championship events for the Dominion, but this was not actually official.

A charter has been granted to the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association with the result that it can now carry on contests that will be regarded as championship events.

Mr. Rice's motion, bearing on the championship competitions, is as follows:

"That the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association take the necessary steps to divide the territory under its jurisdiction into districts for the purpose of paying the singles competitions by districts and producing two from each district to play in the final event for the John Ross Robertson Trophy and the championship in singles. The Association is also to prepare to extend its operations further in the way of rink and doubles competitions at such future time as they may deem necessary."

Support for the resolution is expected from Winnipeg, where it is suggested that the territory west of the head of the lakes be divided into three districts: District No., 1, Western Ontario, Fort William, Port Arthur, Fort Frances and Kenora; District No. 2, Manitoba; District No. 3, Saskatchewan.

Opposition to the resolution is expected from others quarters, however, and some changes may be necessary before it is passed.

The D.L.B.A. is steadily enlarging its sphere of control. Since the last annual meeting the Manitoba Lawn Bowling Association has been admitted to membership in the parent organisation ,while the application of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association will be submitted at to-day's meeting.

Previous to the D.L.B.A. meeting, the party of bowlers that are to make a two months' visit to the Old Country during the summer, will have a meeting at which the captain, vice-captain, secretary, and treasurer will be selected.

The touring party will consist of thirty-two men selected from as far West as Winnipeg and as far East as Quebec.

The selection, which was made some six months ago, may have to be changed somewhat and the revised list of members of the party will be completed at to-day's meeting.

The itinerary calls for games almost every day they are in the Old Country. England and Scotland have been allotted two weeks each, while the Canadians will remain in Ireland and Wales for one week.

Grover Alexander Shows Old Control.

CHICAGO, April 12 (Canadian Press). — The masterful control which made Grover Cleveland Alexander famous appears to still be with the veteran Chicago National pitcher, according to training camp reports.

Alexander faced the Wichita Falls Club of the Texas League last Sunday for four innings, allowing one hit to twelve batters with no bases on balls, and he pitched just twenty balls. Then he retired to give some of his mound pupils a chance to show how well they had absorbed his instructions.

Alexander, who was 37 years old on 26th February last, has been pitching since 1909, when he started at Galesburg, Illinois.

Cash on Delivery Is Planned By Ireland.

DUBLIN, April 12.—(Associated Press)—The Free State government has decided to introduce at an early date legislation on the cost of living. There is universal complaint of profiteering by retail traders, and it is admitted that farmers and fishermen get only a trifling percentage of the prices at which their produce is sold to consumers.

It is argued that, nevertheless, the traders are not found to be making large profits, and the explanation is given that the reason is the multiplicity of small traders in Irish cities where there are hardly any big stores.

It is suggested that the government may consider as part of its scheme the possibility of establishing direct contact between producer and consumer through the post office, and enable farmers to sell goods direct to consumers by parcels post on the cash on delivery system.

PETERBORO MEN AT TOURNAMENT

Ray Millard Knocked Out in First Round by Kitchener Man ; Johnston Beat Lepine But Lost to Moore ; Jordan Lost to Jackie Johnsson

TORONTO, April 12.— (Canadian Press).—Registering two knock outs each, Jack Johnston, in the 118 pound class and Douglas Lewis in the welterweight division won the titles in their classes at the Ontario Championship tournament at the Arena last evening and did so in such an impressive mtnner as to stand out from the remaining competitors in the tournament as strong contenders for positions on the Canadian Olympic boxing team.

Johnston in the semi-final last evening was opposed to Joe Jordan of Peterborough, a rugged lad who would have given any entrant in the bantam but Johnson, a stout argument. Johnston's short snappy punches soon had Jordan in distress however and the referee stopped the contest in the first. Frank Deitsch on the Classic Club gave Johnston a determined argument for one round, but failed to weather the storm of punches and took the count.

S. Mason of Guelph, employed very cautious tactics against Lewis in the welterweight semi-final and managed to get as far as the second round.

In the final Al. Cohen of Y.M. H.A., who in the other semi-final, had knocked out Jones, the sorel top ped lad, proved an easy victory for Lewis. The Praestamus Club colored star forced the boxing all the way and in the second round landed a left hook to the head and sent him to the canvas in a heap.

The results were as follows:

105 pound class, final: Beardwood beat Pickering.

112 pound class, final: Willie Johnston (Riversides) beat R. Wilson (Merriton).

118 pound class, Jackie Johnston (Riversides) won from a plucky Peterborough lad, Joseph Jordan when Referee Marsh stopped the bout in the first round.

Final: Johnston knocked out Frank Deitsch (Classic in the second round

126 pound class, final: Christensen beat Phil Rivers (Classic).

135 pound class, "Buzz" Moore (Kitchener) knocked out Ray Millard (Peterborough) in the first round.

A. Johnston (Peterborough) beat F. Lepine (Classic).

Final: Moore won from Johnston when the bout was stopped in the first round.

147 pound class, final: Lewis knocked out Cohen in the second round.

175 pound class, final: Harry Henning (Classic) defeated Evan Shute (U. of T.)

Heavyweight final: Tom Williams (St. Catharines), beat Joe Demarchel (Classic).

THE EGRET MAKING ITS LAST STAND.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 11, (United Press).—The egret is making its last annual stand in the United States at Crane's Neck, the bird sanctuary on the Orton plantation, near Washington. There, according to the North Carolina Biological and Economic Survey, a few pairs of egrets and their smaller cousin of the heron family, the snow egret, build their nests each year. A few pairs of the birds formerly nested at Lake Ellis, in the eastern part of the State, and a single pair at another point, but these fell victims to plume hunters.

The egret, slain for the aigrette plumes which are worn only at the nesting season, is literally facing extinction, according to the survey.

During the last year, calculations of astronomers based on Einstein's theory of relativity have caused some doubt as to the accuracy of earlier estimates of the distances of remote stars.

Golf versus Baseball Dispute

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERS EQUALLY DIVIDED IN THEIR VIEWS

Presenting the Home-Run Kings of To-Day and Yesterday Doing Their Stuff On the Links—Note Similarity in Style.

LEFT TO RIGHT—BABE RUTH, GEORGE WRIGHT

BY BILLY EVANS.

What part should golf play in the life of a big league ball player?

Just at present major league managers appear to be about equally divided on the question.

Such famous leaders at John McGraw, Miller Huggins and Ty Cobb have put the ban on the game during the training period at least.

Then there is Tris Speaker, Bill Killefer and a few others who can see no harm in the game of golf unless it is overdone.

Manager Speaker of the Cleveland Indians played golf at Hot Springs as preliminary work to the routine grind of spring training.

During the training period Managers McGraw, Cobb and Huggins want the athletes to concentrate on baseball. They feel that golf seriously interferes with such a plan.

Golf Is Fascinating.

There is something decidedly fascinating about the game of golf as everyone who has ever played it knows. To the big league baseball is work, golf relaxation, so it is easy to see why golf is so popular as a training stunt.

A great many major league clubs have only one workout daily. Very often a number of the players cover 18 holes of golf before reporting to the ball park. It is only natural they should lack the "pep" that every manager desires them to show.

Connie Mack, a golf enthusiast himself, says he plans to do most of the playing for his club on the training trip. While Mack doesn't bar golf, he insists that it must be played after baseball practice.

Golf and Home Runs.

It may be rather difficult to keep the home-run king, Babe Ruth, from his golf.

There must be something about the art of home running that produces driving ability on the golf links.

Here you see the home-run king of today, George Herman Ruth, otherwise the Babe himself, and the home-run king of yesterday, George Wright, sometimes called America's first baseball star.

Babe was snapped on one of the golf courses at Hot Springs, Ark, while George Wright was photographed while doing his stuff at Palm Beach, Fla. Which means that Mr Wright is now a very successful and wealthy business man.

Few fans, however, recall Wright, who is now 77 years old. Wright was the Babe Ruth of his team and starred with Cincinnati and Boston.

You'll not that both swings their clubs pretty much alike.

CITY TEN PIN LEAGUE.

In the City Ten Pin League last night at Solomon's Alleys the High Rollers took three straight from the Examiner. Fair rolling featured the clash, but there were only two good scores worth mentioning that first was that of Carl Hayes who rolled a nice score of 589 and the other was that of Fred Roberts who bust 'em on the nose for 538. The rest of the scores are not worth mentioning. Hayes had the high single of 213.

BERLIN FAKER FINDS PROPHESY PAYS WELL

Pretends to Speak to Napoleon and Martin Luther.

BERLIN, April 12.—(Associated Press).—Napoleon and Martin Luther are the two spirits with which Johannes Weis Senberg, better known as "Prophet John," pretends to speak daily in Berlin.

Senberg recently created considerable rumpus by holding seances in school buildings in which children claimed to have heard Napoleon speaking very clearly, and repeated the conversations.

Newspapers are denouncing school authorities for permitting public buildings to be used for spiritualistic sessions, but many of them are humorous in their attitude and declare the medium is really a prophet, in that he foresaw hard times which were coming and abandoned his work as a mason to take up a more remunerative calling.

Fenelon Falls Flinger Has Moved His Suit Case From Home to Summer With the C. O. B. L. Champions.

The Belleville Intelligencer contributes this bit of information:

Jack Oulette, steam ball right hander, who will be one of the main stays in the pitching ranks of the Grand Trunk baseball team this season, arrived in the city yesterday from his home in Fenelon Falls. Jack is looking and feeling fine, and is all set for the commencement of the spring training, which should start soon, if the weather man is kind. Jack, with Keon, formerly of Tweed, will be the first rank hurlers with the Moguls this season. (Kingston and Oshawa papers please capy.)

U. F. O. BASEBALL LEAGUE FORMED

Five New Teams of High Calibre Are Expected to Link Up With the Rest of the Ruralites.

The County League teams in the Peterboro U. F. O. Baseball League are preparing for a successful season. South Monaghan, who find it rather difficult to find players, have decided to drop out, but it is not certain yet.

Some of the teams are already organized and ready to step on the diamond, while others are getting into shape as fast as possible, as it won't be long before the games will be starting. There is prospects of some five new teams entering this League.

The officers met on Saturday, April 5th, and it was decided that new officers would not be elected till April 19th, when a meeting will be held in the U.F.O. Rooms, Simcoe Street, at 8 o'clock. All interested in the League are asked to be present.

BAD BLOOD PIMPLES AND BOILES Banished By Burdock Blood Bitters

Miss Irene A. Matthews, Stayner, Ont., writes:—"I thought I would write and tell you of the experience and benefit I have derived from Burdock Blood Bitters.

Some few months ago I was troubled with bad blood which broke out on my face in the nature of pimples, boils and ring-worm, and I got so bad I really did not know what to do.

I was ashamed to go anywhere, and the itching and burning caused such a terrible sensation I could get no relief day or night.

One day a friend advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I used one bottle and felt quite a relief, and by the time I had taken 3 bottles I was completely relieved.

I cannot praise B.B.B. enough and I hope anyone afflicted like I was will get the same benefit I received."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ABANDON SIKI TILL HE'S BROKE

Manager Threatened to Leave African Boxer In Havana Until He Decides to Box Again.

HAVANA, April 12 (Canadian Press). — Bob Levy, manager of Battling Siki, announced last night that he will sail to-day for New York and let the French Senegalese fighter remain in Havana until he "gets tired or goes broke," and makes up his mind to box again.

George Lawrence, promoter, who came to Havana several weeks ago with Levy and Siki, sailed for New York several days ago, saying he could not wait on Siki any longer.

Levy has been officially recognised by the Cuban Boxing Commission as Siki's manager, thus preventing the Senegalese from engaging in bouts here except with his consent, but Siki manager to keep in funds by charging admission to those desiring to watch him in training.

TEACHERS ARE CHAMPIONS, 1923-24

The teachers won the Y.M.C.A. 5-pin bowling championship last night by defeating the Granites in 2 games out of 3. The teachers took the first and last games. V. R. Henry was the high man for the single game and for three games. The rolling of both teams was of a high average and the result was in doubt up till the 9th frame of the last game. The teachers have earned their title coming through the league with a fine record, winning a play-off with George street, last year's winners, and finally the deciding match. On Tuesday evening at 6.30 a Bowlers' Banquet will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to which the players of the teams in the Y.M.C.A. and Church Leagues are invited. The trophies and prizes will be presented:

BOUTS AT ALL SAINTS' SHOW LOTS OF ACTION

Some very interesting bouts were put on last night in the boxing tournament being held by the members of All Saints' Athletic Association. Some of the boxers showed lack of condition, but hammered merrily away till the final gong. The results:

Collinson vs. Robinson a draw.
C. Frost won from J. Gimblett.
Parrington and Freeman a draw.
G. Gimblett won from S. Hope.
H. Lundy won from J. Morley.
Referee—A. Harris. Timekeeper—L. Barry.

At the Royal, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

BRIGHTON BALL CLUB ORGANIZE

BRIGHTON, April 11.—The annual organization meeting of the Brighton Baseball Club was held in the Standard Bank on Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance and lots of enthusiasm and present indications are that 1924 will be another successful season. Fred Spring, who handled the team so well last year, was re-elected manager, and the choice meets with general approval in Brighton. The officers are:

Honorary presidents, Dr. F. N. Dure and George H. Roblin; president, Dr. H. C. Rundle; 1st vice-president, S. D. Ross; 2nd vice-president, Frank Marshall; treasurer, R. J. Hepburn; secretary, Gordon Lapp. Executive—C. H. Clouston, Harry B. Phillips, R. B. Scripture, Geo. Drewry and C. McIntosh. Auditors—C. H. Clouston and M. A. Halliday. Delegates to League Meeting—Fred Spring, Gordon Lapp and the captain (to be chosen by the players).

The club is prepared to encourage junior baseball to the best of its ability and will co-operate with any of the other clubs.

The club went on record as being in favor of awarding the Clarke Cup to Warkworth for 1923, since it is impossible for Trenton to have it.

There was a lengthy discussion about the umpiring in the league, and several members of the club were strongly in favor of a motion that the league needed neutral umpires, but they were defeated in the vote. Those who opposed the motion stated that the expense of neutral umpires was too great.

SECRETARY RESIGNS

TORONTO, April 12. —(Canadian Press).—James Labbett, who for past three years has acted as secretary of the O.A.L.A. and was for two years previously treasurer of organization forwarded his resignation to President Arnold Smith at Weston last evening. Pressure of business is reason for Mr. Labbett's retirement as he finds it impossible to carry out duties devolving upon a secretary of growing organization such as O.A.L.A.

AT THE ROYAL

COLORFUL PHOTODRAMA OF LIFE ON NEW YORK'S FAMED RIALTO TO BE SHOWN HERE.

Manager Pappas of the Royal Theatre, is promising his patrons something different from the usual run of pictures when the three days' engagement of B. F. Zeidman's production, which bears the alluring title of "Bright Lights of Broadway," commences on Monday next.

He promises that in this he will offer a page taken from Life, itself,—big dramatic situations and appealing human touches.

The story is woven about the experiences of a young girl who has lived all her life in a small country town, and is blessed with great beauty and a marvelous voice. Irene Marley, the heroine, has dreams of a career, but then, too, she dreams dreams of love—and, as all women who have attempted to combine the two will testify, it simply cannot be done.

"Bright Lights of Broadway" is essentially a woman's story—a life document of a woman's soul, her hopes, her fears, her struggles, her sacrifices—and, above all, her great, enduring love. It is a story of the temptations which beset an aspirant for fame on Gotham's glittering artery of glamour and gold—and tawdry tinsel.

The production, it is said, is different from its predecessors of the same type, for it makes a radical departure from others dealing with night life on the Rialto. Dramatic to a high degree, there is nothing "stagey" or theatrical about its characters but, instead, a conscientious effort has been made to present every-day human beings and some of their most vital problems.

A glance at the names of the players who adorn the cast gives great promise of what one may expect. The featured players are Lowell Sherman, Doris Kenyon and Harrison Ford, and others are Tyrone Power, Edmund Breese, Effie Shannon and Charles Murray. The picture is an adaptation of a story by Gerald C. Cuffy, and the direction is by Webster Campbell, who held the megaphone on many of Corinne Griffith's greatest successes. Monday at the Royal.

AT THE CAPITOL

FILM STAR TO SELL LAVISH COSTUMES

Mae Murray to Get Return on Expenditures for "Fashion Row"

What does a screen star do with her gowns and costumes after she has worn them in a production? Mae Murray, called the best dressed woman on the screen, whose latest Metro picture, "Fashion Row," will come Thursday, Friday and Saturday to the Capitol Theatre, confessed boldly that she sells them.

"Why not?" says Miss Murray, who probably wears more gowns in a single picture than any other actress on the screen. "They represent an enormous cost. All the gowns and costumes that are part of my wardrobe in 'Fashion Row' would represent a king's ransom.

"When worn once, their usefulness, as far as picture work is concerned, is over. No actress would ever dare to wear the same gown in two pictures. Women in audiences are too discerning, and too critical. But the gowns are as good as new. It would be a shame to discard them forever. Why not sell them, and realize some of the immense cost expended on them?"

In "Fashion Row," written for her by Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin, Miss Murray wears half a hundred costumes. Robert Z. Leonard, director general of Tiffany Productions, of which M. A. Hoffman is general manager, directed "Fashion Row." Oliver T. Marsh was photographer, and Horace Jackson, art director.

ROMANCES RULES IN "I WILL REPAY" FAMOUS BARONESS ORCZY STORY AT THE CAPITOL MONDAY

Many of the millions who have enjoyed the exploits of the Scarlet Pimpernel must often have asked themselves whether that dashing adventurer ever lived in real life.

Baroness Orczy, the authoress of the famous Scarlet Pimpernel series, has now solved their doubts with the answer that he is not to be regarded as representing any particular character, but as a type of the gallant and chivalrous gentleman of the times revelling in dangerous enterprises against long odds, for the sake of helping a lost cause, but still more out of the sporting instinct dear to the British character.

Perhaps it is because he is so English that the Scarlet Pimpernel is so extraordinary popular. But it must be more than this which accounts for every Scarlet Pimpernel romance being eagerly devoured in almost every land under the sun, and for the hosts of letters from readers all over the world which have filled the author's letter bag.

Probably the simplicity and directness of the stories, and the human love of romance are largely responsible. But whatever it is, there is no gain-saying the popularity of these thoroughly enjoyable tales.

One of the best read and most admired of them is, of course, the famous novel, "I Will Repay."

This has now been filmed and is sure to draw crowded houses to the Capitol Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The picture is alive with the thrills of the original novel, and has been produced with a lavishness that makes it doubly enjoyable to the senses.

The picture has been given a cast of exceptional distinction, including Miss Flora Le Breton, Holmes Herbert (the popular Irish-born artist) and Pedro de Cordoba, the American actor who is so well known on both sides of the Atlantic.

"I Will Repay" will delight the little ones quite as much as it will charm the women, while as for the men they are notoriously among Baroness Orczy's most avid readers.

AT THE GRAND

"Bringing Up Father On Broadway," a brand new play, based on the famous cartoons of George McManus, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House to-night. All the favorite characters of the irresistibly funny comics, including Jiggs Mahoney, his wife Maggie, Kitty and Dinty Moore, will appear. Twenty choristers—pretty, talented and young—form an exceptional adjunct to the production. This time, Jiggs has to travel around the world. Of course, he encounters many numerous adventures. And, incidentally, when things become somewhat dull, Maggie enters the picture and stimulates the action. The fun is the kind that endures; that is, it is remembered long after the show is over; besides it is incessant, carrying surprise, novelty and innovations along in its wake. Twenty song hits, along with jingling ensembles and side-splitting bits, characterizations, and real screams, form an offering certain to meet with the endorsement of the most callous patron of theatredom.

RUTH ST. DENIS AND TED SHAWN TO PRESENT PREHISTORIC AND MODERN DANCES OF THE FOUR CORNERS OF THE GLOBE

The dance art of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn who, with the Denishawn Dancers, come to the Grand Theatre on Monday, is an universal as life itself and as varied. Almost every nationality in the world is represented.

The programme they will present here includes a blood-tingling Spanish Suite, danced by Miss St. Denis and Ted Shawn to the intoxicating melodies of Granados' "Danza Espagnol," in which Miss St. Denis will wear the famous shawl presented her by Galli-Curci; Jonas' "Tango" and Moskowski's "Malaguena."

The western hemisphere is represented by "Xochitl," a dance-drama based upon an ancient Toltec legend of pre-historic Mexico, with the choreography and costumes originated by Ted Shawn, the music especially composed by Homer Grunn, and a gorgeous scene designed by Francisco Cornejo.

The languorous and mystic charm of the Orient is represented by dances of China, Crete, India, Siam, Japan, Java and Egypt.

A pastoral note is given by "In a Garden," danced to a new valse composed by Mischa Levitzki, and to Moskowski's Waltz Op. 34.

GRAND

AT THE REGENT

KEATON GIVES UP SHORT REEL FILMS.

"Three Ages," Buster Keaton's first full length feature, is coming to the Regent Theatre on Monday. Keaton has deserted the two-reel slap-stick comedies, and will henceforth star in comedies of feature attraction.

"Three Ages" is classed as a burlesque on love, marriage and business. Beginning with primitive man Keaton depicts vividly the life of the cave man era and then swings into the triumphant period of the Roman Empire. Here there are several massive scenes, principally among which is a duplication of the famous Colosseum. Several thousand people participate in this scene where Keaton makes a brilliant hit as a Roman noble matched in a chariot race with an envious rival.

The modern age comes in for its bit also as it is Keaton's purpose to show how little human nature has changed in the course of the centuries. Apparently inventive ingenuity has changed little, too, for Keaton's remarkable satire is based on a duplication of scenes and events in these three far-flung settings.

Keaton leaps lightly over the centuries. In each age the dominant note is comedy. "Three Ages" is said to be the funniest picture Keaton has ever made, and in addition is a great departure from the beaten track of screen stories.

"Three Ages" was directed by Buster Keaton and Eddie Cline from the story by Jean Havez, Joe Mitchell and Clyde Bruckman. It was photographed by William McGann and Elgin Lessly. Fred Gabouri was art director. It is a Joseph M. Schenck presentation through Metro.

ASK US FOR AN INTERESTING BOOK ON INTERNAL BATHS

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell always claimed his life was saved by Internal Baths—chronic constipation was his bane.

And after they made him well, they kept him one hundred per cent. well and efficient for many years.

This is not hard to believe when physicians agree that most human ills are caused by accumulated waste in the lower intestine and no medicine has ever been found to keep it free from these poisons.

Dr. Tyrrell's book tells why and how this has been the means of freeing many thousands of progressive Canadians from "that tired feeling," as well as the more serious illnesses which follow if the pernicious poisons are not cleaned out.

Simple warm water, scientifically administered, will take them out and keep them out.

The J. B. L. Cascade is the perfected invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York for Internal Bathing. It is now being shown and explained at The Warne Drug Co.

Phone or ask them for free booklet all about it, or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College street, Toronto.

Calomel is Greatest Medicine in The World

Cleans and Tones Up the Whole System

Your liver is poisoning the whole system, causing a tired feeling in the morning, sick headache, bad taste in mouth, sour stomach, indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble, etc. There is only one drug known that acts directly upon the liver, and that is calomel. Because so many people object to the ordinary calomel, it is now put up in a new form, called Tanol Calomel Tablets, which act with a gentle movement of the bowels and no salts or seidlitz powders are needed to remove it from the system, as it is self-eliminating. Get a few of these Tanol Calomel Tablets from the druggist and they will make you feel 100 per cent. better. For sale at Weber's Drug Store, Charlotte street. m.s tf

Bacterial counts are made only when specimens are still in ice and the "time limit" of 20 hours has not been exceeded.

NOTE: It is important to note that water from the same source of supply may show variations at different sampling points, and also vary from time to time at the same point. Consequently, a few samples are not truly representatives. Favorable results from a limited number of samples are NOT to be interpreted as indicating that water from the supply is ALWAYS of good quality. Contamination may be intermittent and HIGHLY DANGEROUS AT TIMES. The laboratory report should always be considered in conjunction with the sanitary survey and epidemiological evidence.

Remarks: Result of examination of block of ice, received 6-2-24, shows this to be free from contamination with germs of intestinal origin and of good sanitary quality.

A. Y. McNAIR,
Director of Branch Laboratories, Peterborough.

Our ice is made from pure spring water, derived from wells driven 85 to 95 feet deep, and goes direct from the wells through a filtering machine to the freezing cans.

BIG MAJORITY POLLED FOR GREEK REPUBLIC ESPECIALLY IN TOWNS

Uprooting of Monarchy and Expulsion of Young King George and His Queen By the National Assembly Ratified By Greek People According to Government Reports of Sunday's Voting.

KING IN ROUMANIA.

ATHENS, April 14 (Canadian Press). — The Greek people yesterday voted for the establishment of .. Republic.

The Governmetn made it known last evening that a big majority in the plebiscite held throughout the country favoured a Republic.

The newspapers announced that martial law would be proclaimed today. This is probably for the purpose of preserving law and order. The voting in Athens and many towns in the provinces was overwhelmingly for a republic.

Assembly's Action.

The Greek National Assembly on March 25, passed a resolution in favor of the overthrow of the Glucksburg Dynasty and the establishment of a Greek republic.

On December 18, last King George II. was ordered to leave Greece by the Government, pending the decision of the National Assembly as to the form of the future government. He proceeded to Bucharest, and later took up his residence at Brasov, Transylvania, where on April 8, he issued a proclamation to the Hellenic people protesting against events in Greece and claiming the right to reign in accordance with the constitution of the country.

The action of the National Assembly in overthrowing the dynasty was taken by practically a unanimous vote, and in celebration of the coming republic, Athens displayed much enthusiasm and preparations were begun immediately for the holding of a plebiscite, upon which the Assembly had based its decisions.

Demand Republic.

From the opening of the newly-elected Assembly on January 1, last, there was demand for a Greek republic. On January 2, amid shouts from the deputies and the galleries of "Long Live the Republic! Down with the King," control the government was turned over to the Assembly by Colonel Plastiras, head of the Revolutionary Committee.

Eleutherios Venizelos returned as premier, and promptly announced that he disapproved of the sending away of the King. At the same time he informed the Greeks that he had decided on a plebiscite as the best method for giving the people an opportunity to choose between a monarchy and a republic. It was his intention to delay the plebiscite two or three months, but in the meantime ill-health overcame him and he withdrew from active service in the political world.

Four Million Dollar Church Was Dedicated.

NEW YORK, April 14. Canadian Press. — Under a spring sky and in the presence of nearly 3000 Palm Sunday promenaders, and Washington Heights neighbors, the site of a "skyscraper church," the proposed $4,000,000 Broadway Temple at 173rd street and Broadway, was dedicated yesterday afternoon by Bishop Edgar Blake of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Paris, France.

Labor Budget to Cut Food Taxes

LONDON, April 14.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The first official forecast of the first budget of the Labor Government was given in a speech at Loughborough by Albert Victor Alexander, secretary of the Board of Trade, when he declared that the British people were "likely to see a reduction in the taxation on foodstuffs." The allusion is believed to be to the duty on tea and sugar.

Jack Jones, the labor member for Silvertown, in a speech at Coventry Saturday night predicted a great struggle in parliament over the budget. He said he hoped that the Liberals and the Conservatives would object to its proposals because the labor members were ready for a fight as soon as their opponents desired.

BANDITS SHOOT DELIVERY MAN

Three Hold-ups In Montreal Saturday Night Believed to Be Work of Same Gang of Youths Yielded No Loot.

MONTREAL, April 14.—(Canadian Press).—Four armed men in a high-speed automobile shot and seriously wounded Arthur Gotkin, 17, butcher's assistant here on Saturday evening, when he resisted an attempt to hold him up. It is not thought that his wound will be fatal.

When he refused to hold up his hands at the command of four youthful bandits in Verdun, a suburb of this city, on Saturday evening, Arthur Godkin, 17, driving a butcher's cart, was shot through the chest by a revolver in the hands of one of the gang. The bandits, whom Godkin describes as being about 17 and 18 years of age, immediately speeded up their automobile and escaped without attempting to rob their victim.

The bullet entered Godkin's flesh near the chin and he was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital where his condition last night is not regarded as serious.

What is thought to be the same gang held up two grocery men in the west end of the city on Saturday night, but there again got nothing, the men declaring that they were carrying no money on their persons. In this case the number and make of the car were taken.

No arrests are reported.

Two Children Lost Lives In Water Vat.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 14.—(Canadian Press).—John E. White, three years old, and James M. Jones, four years old of this city, were drowned Saturday afternoon in a tank of Ontario Power Company, at Falls View used for cooling water. Children who lived nearby were playing and it is believed when one fell in other tried to go to his assistance. Their bodies were found floating in pond which is 12 feet deep, about an hour later, by an uncle, who went to look for them.

FORMER PROVINCIAL TREASURER WAS PLACED UNDER ARREST ON A CHARGE DEFRAUDING GOVERNMENT

Peter Smith Refused to Give Evidence Before Public Accounts Committee Today and His Arrest Follows -- Bank Account Under Fire.

TODAY'S EVIDENCE

TORONTO, April 14. — (Canadian Press.)— Before the Public Accounts committee this afternoon, Hon. W. S. Price said Hon. Peter Smith could make a statement or give evidence. Mr. Smith came forward, but would not take the oath when the Bible was handed to him. He said that on the advice of counsel he would not give evidence nor would he take the oath.

"You refuse to give evidence before the committee?" asked Chairman Finlayson.

"Yes," said Mr. Smith.

"In view of that," said Mr. Price, "officers of the Crown will take cognizance and the matter is out of the hands of the committee."

Mr. Doherty said he had been trying to direct the affairs of the committee so that Mr. Smith could give evidence and had just learned this morning that he would not give evidence.

Mr. Smith, rising again, said that he had come this morning prepared to give evidence, but after hearing two witnesses, and on advice of counsel, had decided not to give evidence.

At two o'clock Mr. Smith was placed under arrest, on a charge of defrauding the government, H. H. Dewart, his counsel, was applying for bail.

A. E. Nash, assistant to G. T. Clarkson, who had been instructed to look into Hon. Peter Smith's account in Stratford branch of the Bank of Toronto, was the first witness before the Public Accounts committee of the Ontario Legislature when it resumed this morning.

He testified that the former Provincial Treasurer's account showed a deposit of $6,824 on December 22, 1919. The deposit slip showed an entry of seven one thousand dollar bills. Five days later the saving account, which was joint with Mrs. Smith, showed a deposit of $1,143.

On March 3, of the following year there was an addition of $6,189 to the saving account. This was a note from "Andy" Pepall for $6,250 and the difference was discount.

Hon. W. H. Price pointed out that this sum was just half the amount given about the same time to Pepall by the Aemilius Jarvis Company for commission on an Ontario bond issue he had secured from the Ontario government for the firm.

The warrant for Smith's arrest was made out by Assistant Police Commissioner Cuddy. Mr. Smith was taken to the Attorney General's office immediately the session closed. There was little or no excitement in the committee. Mr. Smith simply announced quietly that he refused to give evidence on advice of his counsel and after hearing the evidence of the morning, in which it was shown that there were many deposits to his bank account in legals. There was little more talk about meeting of the committee to-morrow and it broke up. Members of Parliament, a large crowd of curious and batteries of camera men and newspaper correspondents hung about the lobbies outside the Attorney General's office, where Mr. Smith was closeted with his counsel and crown officials. No further information had come out at 2.15. The committee will make an interim report to the House this afternoon. A session of the committee will be held to-morrow and following days to clean up the investigation.

What Deposits Show

On April 28th, 1920, there was a cheque of A. H. Pepall, which took up a note of earlier date. On June 2, there was an item of $2,500 deposited which was a transfer from Bank of Nova Scotia. On June 8th there was item of $1,000 in two five hundred dollar bills. Mr. Price pointed out that on same day there was evidence of Mr. Mason, general manager of the Home Bank getting $1,000 for commission for provincial deposits at the Home Bank in Toronto On July 2, there was item of $4,-

GIRL WITNESS PREFERS JAIL

Testified in Montreal Hold-Up Case and Fears Avenging Bullet of 'One of the Gang' If She Is Seen On Street.

MONTREAL, April 13.—Behind the stone walls and iron bars of the Fullum Street jail, closely guarded by armed guards, Marie Emma Lebeau, young French-Canadian girl, who was found in the house with the two men and a woman who are held in connection with murder of the Hochelaga Bank chauffeur and bandit, finds protection against a fate which she fears to meet if she gains her liberty.

According to the police, the girl who was obviously very ill and frightened, was not considered a member of the gang with whom she was found, and did not receive any of their confidences. She originally came from Copper Cliff, Ont., and no trace of any previous police records has been obtained to date by the authorities. Her testimony at the inquest showed that she had been told little, the police point out, but the things she had witnessed, and overheard were enough to make her the most important witness for the Crown. And now as a result of her statements she is in danger of her life.

Became A "Squealer"

Fearing that if she should walk the streets, she would meet death from the gun of "one of the gang", homeless and a social outcast, the young woman seeks the safety of a prison in preference to the danger of the city. In the language of the underworld, she has became a "squealer", and the reward for this is generally a bullet or a knife. In fact, it is very likely that the Lebeau girl was ready to tell all she knew, but when she realized that she would have to appear in public to testify against the rest of the gang, she refused to say anything on the grounds that she might just as well hang as be shot five minutes after she left the court.

The girl's fear for her life is apparently shared by the police and other officials, as it was remarked in court that no matter what bail was set for her freedom, she would prefer to remain in the hands of the police.

Declined Liberty.

It was thought that some person might come forward with the $25,000 bond required to free the girl, but as she does not want to gain her liberty, a bondsman will not be welcomed, either by the girl or the detectives working on the case. Every precaution to protect the girl will be taken by the police and she will be under constant observation until she has testified at the trial, if the three accused are sent to Court of King's Bench. Even after this it is likely that measures will be taken to have the young woman brought to some place where she will be safe from the vengeance of the friends of the alleged murderers.

Youths Arrested Under Suspicion

INGERSOLL, Ont., April 14. —(Canadian Press). — Two youths giving their ages as 19 and their addresses as Claire Hall and Harry Loague, Detroit, were arrested on a vagrancy charge by Chief Holmes here Saturday and were remanded for one week during which time their records will be looked up.

They left Detroit penniless in the company of another man whose name they gave as Fred Cox, of Woodstock, Ont., on Thursday, riding freight trains and blind baggage all the way. They became separated from Cox here Friday night but were to have met him again.

A night employee at the Beachville White Line Quarry stated that a stranger had questioned him closely on Friday night as to the day and hour the men were paid there. There may be no connection in the circumstances, but the police are taking no chances. The youths said they were looking for work on Canadian farms. They had spent Friday in Glencoe.

QUEBEC FIRM NOT INSOLVENT

Information Received By C. M. A. Secretary Incorrect — Fifteen Implement Plants in Province Affected By Budget.

MONTREAL, April 14. —Fifteen plants manufacturing agricultural implements are located within Quebec Province and according to Secretary Gould of the Quebec branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association they are all seriously affected by the tariff reductions of the Budget and by the period of uncertainty prior to the Budget. These plants represent an investment of several millions of dollars and in good times employ in the aggregate between 15,00 oand 20,000. In addition, they are in a number of cases, the key industries of the towns where they are located. They have almost all reported that the Budget places them in a very grave situation so far as their ability to meet foreign competition and particularly that of firms in the United States.

Mr. Gould's recent information that an agricultural implement plant at St. Hyacinthe had been forced into liquidation because of the Budget, has however, been found to be incorrect. The resignation of this firm from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was wrongly interpreted to mean their liquidation.

ANOTHER LEGAL BATTLE.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14. — (Canadian Press.)—Another of the many legal battles made in behalf of Harry K. Thaw who shot and killed Stanford White nearly eighteen years ago, started to-day when an effort will be made to convince a jury that he is sane and thereby obtain his release from a Philadelphia hospital for mental and nervous diseases. The petition for trial by a jury to test his mental condition is made by Thaw himself.

CHICAGO CANAL APPEAL IS SET FOR SEPTEMBER

Meanwhile Drainage of 10,000 Cu. Ft. of Water a Second From Lake Michigan Will Continue Contrary to Canada's Protest —No Action Pending the Decision of U.S. Supreme Court.

ALLOWED 4,170 CU. FT.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(Canadian Press).—A delegation headed by Senator McKinley of Illinois was informed by Secretary of War Weeks Saturday that he would not alter his decision against making any change in the volume of water withdrawn by the City of Chicago from Lake Michigan pending a decision by the United States Supreme Court upon an appeal in that case.

The delegation appeared before the Secretary to request his approval of the Madden Bill, which would allow Chicago to withdraw from the Lake for sanitary purposes, 10,000 cubic feet of water a second through the drainage canal.

Senator McKinley was accompanied by Judge George Barrett and Louis Behan, of Chicago, and argued that the figure named in the Madden Bill was authorized under the arrangement between the United States and Canada covering the subject of waters withdrawn from the Great Lakes.

Based on Misunderstanding.

A report on the question made by Major R. W. Putman, attached to the Chicago District Army Engineer Office, also was discussed. The Chicago spokesman contended that the conclusions reached by Major Putman had been based in part on a misunderstanding of the situation and Secretary Weeks directed Major Putnam to revise the report if further investigations made by him proved the arguments of the Chicago delegation to be sound.

Respecting the agreement between the United States and Canada, which it is said, allowed the withdrawal of 10,000 cubic feet as fixed in the Madden Bill, it was said that phase of the situation would be taken up for investigation with State Department officials.

Decision In Fall.

Secretary Weeks said as he understood the law at the present time, allowed a withdrawal of only 4,170 cubic feet a second, and almost twice that amount was being withdrawan by the city. He reiterated his determination, however, not to order any change in the volume of water until after the Supreme Court has handed down its decision, expected late next Fall. Arguments in the case have been set for September.

CHURCHILL GETS TORY INVITATION

Significance Attached to Sir Archibald Salvidge's Action—In Agreement Against Socialism.

LONDON, April 14.— (Canadian Press Cable.)—A significant political move has been made by Sir Archibald Salvidge, one of the stalwarts of the Conservative party in Lancashier. Sir Archibald, who was among the severest critics of Stanley Baldwin, former premier, for holding a general election at an inopportune moment and without consulting prominent members of the party, not members of the government, has written to Winston Churchill inviting him to address a meeting at Liverpool under the joint auspices of the Liverpool Workingmen's Conservative Association and the Women's Unionist Federation on the present dangers of the socialist movement. The invitation conveyed the opinion that the views of Mr. Churchill on the socialist movement not only harmonize with those held by the unionists of Liverpool, but that there is little, if any, divergence regarding his views generally.

Mr. Churchill in accepting the invitation stated that whatever the differences between them they were not comparable to the gulf separating them from Socialism. He suggested that the meeting be held early in May.

About 50,000,000 persons are gainfully employed in the United States.

In the cablegram the Mayor extended to the owner of the E. P. Ranch the heartiest greetings on behalf of his fellow-citizens of Alberta and invited him to visit his ranch this summer, if at all possible, during the time of the stampede in July.

WOODSTOCK U.F.O. PRAISE BUDGET

North Oxford Farmers Express Satisfaction In Resolution — Demand Complete Enquiry Into Ontario Treasury Affairs

WOODSTOCK, Ont., April 14.—(Canadian Press).—Complete satisfaction with the budget was expressed in a resolution passed by the executive of the North Oxford U.F.O., at a meeting held in the Woodstock City Hall on Saturday afternoon. The general feeling of the large number present was that the presence of the progressives in the Federal house was largely responsible for a budget which will be favorable to agriculture. The meeting also passed a resolution endorsing the stand taken by the Provincial U.F.O. Executive in demanding a thorough investigation into the accusations which has been made in the Public Accounts Committee against certain former Cabinet ministers, and asking that the enquiry be continued until these men be either exonerated or found guilty and punished to the full extent of the law of the land.

D. M. Ross, M.P.P., for North Oxford, stated that the Conservatives would very much like to leave the enquiry where it stood at present so as to cast distrust and suspicion upon the U.F.O. because it looked as if former conservative ministers were also to be involved. He urged that some action be taken to have delegates sent to the convention which is to be held in June to organize a new progressive political party. The meeting, however, took no action of this, maintaining that politics should be kept absolutely separate from the U.F.O. club work.

Mrs. J. S. Amos, Provincial U.F.W.O., President, and Mrs. G. A. Hogg, County U.F.W.O. Director also spoke. Mrs. Hogg reported that the total membership of the organization in the North Riding of the county for 1923 was 940. In 1921, it was 868 and in 1922 the total was 885.

Committees were organized to supervise the sporting activities of the club during the Summer and to arrange for the annual riding picnic.

THE WEATHER.

Thunder and lightning, with a heavy downpour of rain for a short time, were the features of the weather last evening. The total was .23. Heavy thunderstorms have been infrequent here of late years. This season, however, we have already had two of a robust character.—W.P.

WESTERN FARMS AVAILABLE FOR POOR SETTLERS

Little Or No Capital Required to Secure Properties Equipped With Habitable Buildings — Newcomers May Obtain Use of Machinery In Exchange For Labor.

WELFARE WORK.

OTTAWA, April 14 (Canadian Press). — The problem of the intending farmer who arrives in Canada with little or no capital is occupying the Land Settlement Branch of the Department of Immigration just now.

A statement issued by the Hon. J. A. Robb says that recent surveys of the situation in Canada have disclosed that in many communities there are farms equipped with habitable buildings which can be had on very nominal first payments or without any cash deposits at all.

In many cases there are settlers in the same district who are willing to lend machinery in exchange for labor. By taking advantage of these circumstances it is believed that the road will be opened to a considerable number of British and European settlers with a knowledge of agriculture who find themselves with little capital at this time.

To Guard Settlers.

The Land Settlement Branch of the Immigration Department was recently organized to direct new settlers to lands where they have best chances of success, to safeguard them from exploitation in the purchase price of lands and to facilitate the placing of immigrants of both sexes in farm employment.

The statement of the Minister of Immigration says that the interest of the Land Settlement Branch will not terminate when the settler is satisfactorily located, but will continue to exercise friendly assistance so long as it is needed. It is particularly emphasized that the scope of the branch extends to all Canada, not merely to western Canada.

Avoid Grouping.

One of the peculiar problems confronting the Land Settlement Branch is the disposition of settlers so that they may have the benefit of community with people of their own tongue and race and yet to diffuse European settlers in such a way as to secure their absorption into Canadian life and their understanding of the Canadian point of view.

The branch is listing lands available for sale and advisory Settlement Boards are being formed in many districts to pass on the suitability of the lands and assist the department in fixing a fair price for them.

Welfare Work.

These boards also will promote community welfare work, trying to prevent the over-settling of any particular district and to provide a helpful medium for settlers.

"Through the branch's field staff special impetus will be given to community welfare organizations," says Mr. Robb's statement, "and every endeavor will be made to extend the new settler not only a friendly welcome, but practical guidance in initial operations to overcome the inevitable difficulties awaiting the newcomers. This guidance and direction will be continued so long as it is found necessary. It is to be a real service organization permeated with a desire to assist the incoming settler, and to make him, as speedily as possible into a prosperous Canadian citizen. Permanency of settlement of the immigrant is the keystone of the policy."

POSTAL STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Leaders of Federation of Postal Employees Have Decided to Deal With the Salary Question.

TORONTO, April 14, Canadian Press. — The threatened postal strike, which was scheduled to take place at midnight to-night, will not materialize, as the leaders of the Federation of Postal Employees have decided that since the government has shown a willingness to deal with the salary question, they must give the Civil Service Commission a reasonable period in which to adjust matters.

In consequence of this decision all branches of the service throughout the Dominion have been advised not to take drastic action to-night but to wait further developments.

The Federation leaders are satisfied that substantial concessions will be made indicating that the Dominion authorities are anxious to avert trouble and to render justice to the employees.

Y.W.C.A. WEEK'S ACTIVITIES.

The big Y. W. C. A. gymnasium pageant is only two weeks away. The programme arranged for this year is entirely new. There are 100 more girls taking part than last year and everything points to a most wonderful exhibition. Parents and friends are asked to get their tickets right away. The 50c. tickets are already all taken and only a limited number of 75c. and 35c. now available.

There is still a great deal of sewing to be done. The committees are anxious to complete this this week if possible.

Pupils are asked to note the extra classes for the week and urged to attend.

Activities for the week are as follows:

Monday—4.15, Intermediate Gym class; 6.30, De Laval basketball.

A WORTH WHILE AMOUNT REALIZED FOR BLIND

As a result of the efforts of the combined I.O.D.E. Chapters of the city, the tag day held on Saturday for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind netted the institution a very handsome amoun, nearly $730 being realized. The 57th Regimental Chapter of the I.O.D.E., the Otonabee Chapter, and the Peter Robinson Chapter had charge of arrangements, and were given willing assistance also on Saturday by the Major Bennett Chapter, the junior members in this organization proving able and efficient helpers in tagging.

The ladies report a very generous and splendid response to their efforts. The general public gave willingly and cheerfully to the cause, and the taggers were heartened by the friendly spirit manifested toward their efforts.

A great deal of assistance to the cause was rendered by Mr. J. Brownlee, Peterboro's well-known "blind man," who spent all of Saturday in the big window of Grafton's store, demonstrating his skill as a worker in reed. Mr. Brownlee had a large and interested audience all day, and doubtless helped considerably in augmenting the fund which will go to help those similarly afflicted.

EARLY MAILING FOR ..... BEST SERVICE

The public, and more especially the business houses and offices, are advised that the last minute rush, which occurs at every post office, usually between five and six o'clock, causes congestion and just as congestion on the street railway, results in poor service, or a crowd in a store means some customers disappointed, so the rush period at the post office may mean delay, or in the confusion a mistake might be made possibly involving an important letter. Quite aside from the possibility of a mistake being made, the practice of the last minute mailing is certain to result in delay to at least a portion of the mail, because to many points there is only one train a day and that train may leave in the morning or early afternoon.

If you expect to land the out-of-town order and want to hold your out-of-town customers' good will, see that your mail is posted as soon as it is written. If you do this you will get better service and will get more business.

Should you want to go a step further than this, tie your letters in bundles with the addresses all faced the one way and hand them in at the main office instead of placing them in the already overcrowded letter boxes.

Well prepared mail gets preferred treatment and if you would like your mail to get there ahead of the other fellow, see that it is well prepared and posted early in the day. The early mail gets the sale.

PETERBOROUGH

CAMPBELLFORD MAYOR MEETS A DEPUTATION

Declines to be a Party to Deportation of Paving Agent — Some of the Councillors do Not Want Street Paving.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 14. — The paternal principle in Municipal government was given a practical demonstration here on Saturday when Deputy Reeve Dorie and Councillors Kingston and Johnston waited as a self-constituted deputation on Mayor Meyers and asked him to use his authority as chief executive to drive out of town a young man who for the past six weeks or more has been working among the citizens talking up the advantages of street paving and securing signatures to a petition asking the council to make permanent and modern improvements on certain streets in Campbellford. To accomplish this deportation two methods were suggested. One was for the Mayor to issue instructions to the Chief of Police to order the young man to pack his club bag forthwith take an early train out of town. The other plan proposed was to call a special meeting of the council to rescind the resolution adopted at the February session authorizing the launching of this campaign of education on the paving question. It was held by the deputation that the young man had become a public nuisance and that it was up to the council to protect the residences from lies, propaganda and importunity. Always for peace and harmony, Mayor Meyers counselled moderation, promising to have a talk with the agent in question.

History of the Movement

At the February meeting of the council J. F. Driscoll of the Standard Paving Limited, the headquarters of which are in Ottawa, spoke in the interests of his firm and on the benefits of Standardite pavements, a style of roadway which forms part of the paving system in Peterborough. Mr. Driscoll offered to send a representative here to explain the advantages of permanent roads to the people and to secure signatures to a petition by the property owners on the streets which the council proposed to pave. This work would not cost the ratepayers of Campbellford a single cent, the company paying all the expenses of the canvasser. Mr. Driscoll explained that this action was often taken by the company during the winter season, when there was no other work for men on their staff, who had to be carried on their pay-roll anyway.

Mr. Driscoll's offer was favorably received and a resolution accepting it was unanimously adopted. That resolution was the authority for the paving campaign that has been in progress here almost continuously ever since.

Mr. Bullas Arrives.

J. M. Bullas, whose home is in Kitchener, arrived in town soon after the council meeting referred to, and allowing for brief absences, has been at the work for over six weeks. He is a young man of unbounded energy and enthusiasm, unwilling to admit anything like failure. Early and late he was on the job. His proposition was a new one and he must with all the discouragements and delays incident to such a task but he smiled and worked through it all. Boarding as he was in the leading hotel and otherwise living up to the standard required by his position, his presence here meant an expenditur of at last $25 a week, all of which was a new source of income to the town.

How Work Progressed.

In order to make effective a petition for paving Mr. Bullas was required to secure the signatures of two-thirds of the property owners on the streets to be improved, these owners to represent at least fifty per cent. of the assessed value of the property. Up to Saturday night he had secured all but two of the names required and it is estimated that over 75 per cent. of the property is represented on his list. He hopes to be able to secure the additional names to-day.

Mr. Bullas also secured signatures to an agreement by which tenants of property on the streets to be paved obligated themselves to pay toward the paving expenditure the amount which they are now charged for oiling these thoroughfares. This paper was extensively signed.

Mr. Bullas represented to the property owners that the proposed paving would cost them 41 cents a foot front for 15 years on a roadway 46 feet and 25 cents on a 28 foot roadway. These figures are exclusive of the cost of the sewer which would be put down, wherever required, in advance of the paving.

Was Persistent.

It seems to have been the persistence of Mr. Bullas that aroused some of the councillors to the official action taken Saturday. The young man, they alleged, was making himself a nuisance in the community and should be checked up, as several citizens had complained that he was canvassing them with excessive importunity.

Mayor Meyers stated to the deputation that Mr. Bullas, he understood, had completed his work, and that he would leave for home Saturday night. He promised to take the matter up with him personally.

The Mayor did send for Mr. Bullas and told him of the complaint of the deputation. Mr. Bullas did not leave town on Saturday night, but proposes to remain here until his task is finished.

Councillor Johnston Speaks.

Of the three members of the complaining deputation only Councillor Kingston has a direct interest in the paving question and his name appears on the petition for the improvement. Councillor Johnston and Deputy-Reeve Dorie live outside the paving zone.

Councillor Johnston said to The Examiner that Councillors Abernethy, McDonald and Redden were all of his way of thinking, but were unable to join the deputation that waited on the Mayor.

Councillor Johnston is opposed to having an outside propagandist mar the serenity of the community by making an active canvass of the citizens. There is to be no paving done this year, he says, so that he is unable to see the necessity for this campaign. Even if the work is ordered, the Standard people have no assurance that they will get the contract when tenders are called for. The councillor is disposed to hold in light esteem the educational value of the work that Mr. Bullas has been carrying on.

Councillor Redden Opposed.

At a recent meeting of the Council, Councillor Redden said he hoped no paving would be done this year, as he did not believe the town was in a financial position to undertake it. He could see no use, for that reason, in the campaign in which Mr. Bullar was engaged.

Mayor Meyers stated at the time that even if nothing is done this year, it was desirable to have the matter thoroughly explained to the people, especially when this was done without cost to the municipality.

Large Owners Sign.

On the petition for permanent pavements appear the official signatures of some of the largest industrial plants in town. To one of these the laying of a pavement would mean an expenditure of from $15,000 to $20,000. Bankers, merchants, and other business men have also signed extensively, some owners residing out of town also favouring the construction of permanent roadways.

Part of Mr. Bullas' propaganda has been calling the attention of the taxpayers to the amount of money now expended every year on the streets, an outlay from which no permanent benefit is derived.

Experimenting on Rabbits.

A few days ago, W. M. Stephens, whose son Albert of Percy Township lost eight head of Holstein cattle from some disease which is now the subject of official investigation, wrote to the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph for information with regard to the analysis being conducted there.

At the request of an official of that institution, Mr. Stephens sent to the College samples of the sweet clover fed to the cattle and which it is suspected caused the trouble.

Dr. C. D. McGilvray, principal of the Guelph College, under date of 7th April, wrote Mr. Stephens as follows:

"In reply would advise that I am informed that Dr. Schofield, of the Department of Pathology, is the party who requested you to forward the sample of sweet clover. We are conducting feeding experiments on a number of rabbits with the clover received from you, and as soon as results are obtained you will be communicated with. Dr. Schofield states that until feeding results are obtained he is unable to express a definite opinion regarding the harmfulness of the clover."

The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa is also making an analysis of this clover, and an official report of the result is expected in a few days.

The farm editor of a Toronto daily, some days after publishing in his journal as a special news despatch the article which had previously appeared in the Examiner, settled the issue to his own apparent satisfaction, and attempted to discredit the story from here. The official findings of professional experts will be given more weight here than the long distance opinion of a Toronto editor.

AUCTION SALE.

George U. Anderson, a farmer who has lived all his life in West Seymour, will hold an auction sale of his stock and implements on Wednesday. Mr. Anderson has always held a leading place as a breeder of pure-bred Holsteins. He has not announced his plans for the future.

Complete Recovery.

Mervin, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Malcolm, who displaced a vertebrae in his neck, while at play, and who for the past two weeks has been under the care of Dr. W. A. Murphy, has made a complete recovery.

At the Regent.

This week's performance at the Regent Theatre is as follows:

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, "The Fast Mail."

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee, "Sporting Youth." The third episode of the Pathe Serial "Speed," will also be shown the last three days of the week.

The Dempsey-Gibbon fight films will be shown here on April 22, 23 and 24. Captain Hyland has secured these pictures in advance, and they will be seen in Campbellford before shown in the Toronto theatres.

WESTERN FARMS

Field officers of the Land Settlement Branch will seek to place to the best advantage all immigrant farm laborers and an immediate result of initial surveys by the branch is that it has more applications from Canadian farmers for laborers that it is able at present to supply.

Nominated Passage.

The branch will seek particularly to place advantageously those who come to Canada under the Nominated Passage Scheme. A considerable movement of Britishers to Canadian farms is anticipated within the next six weeks. There is also in evidence a considerable immigration from the Irish Free State which will share in the reduced rates arranged from Great Britain and Ireland to Canada. The Irish Free State, however, being a separate country within the British Empire, and not affiliated with the British Government in the financial arrangements for carrying on the British-Canadian Nominated Passage scheme does not come within the provision of the Nominated Passage.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM G. HUNTER

The death occurred on Sunday, April 13th in Nichols Hospital, after a brief illness, of William G. Hunter in his 75th year.

The deceased was born in Smith Township, later removing to farm in Otonabee, where he spent the greater part of his life, the last few years being spent in retirement in Peterboro.

The late Mr. Hunter was well and favorably known throughout Peterboro and district.

His wife predeceased him 29 years ago.

He leaves to mourn his loss, four sons and one daughter:—Mr. G. H. Hunter of Brooklin, Ont., Mrs. R. Stabler, of Bridgenorth, Ont., Mr. W. O. Hunter of Monaghan, and Mr. E. Hunter of Otonabee township. Also one sister, Mrs. W. Hall of Peterboro.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon, April 15th., at 2 p.m. from his late residence No. 30 George street. Interment will take place at Little Lake Cemetery.

French Parliament Is Adjourned to June 18th.

PARIS, April 14 (Canadian Press). — The Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, with adjournment in sight, spent Sunday in the customary game of battledore and shuttlecock with the few Bills on the roster requiring action.

All those were eventually disposed of and Parliament, shortly before midnakht, adjourned until 1st June.

Meantime, on 11th May, new elections will take place.

Only twenty deputies remained through the last hours of the session.

Premier Poincare, however, indefatigable as usual, was at his post to the very end, resisting all attempts by the tired legislators to adjourn the session until to-day.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE SHOULD PROROGUE SOON

TORONTO, April 14.—(Canadian Press).—The authoritative opinion is that the Ontario Legislature should prorogue by the end of this week. There is nothing remaining to keep the House at work over Monday night or Tuesday at the latest, and expectation is that the interim of two or three days until the formal rising will be utilized by the Public Accounts Committee to "clean up" in continuous all-day sessions.

The Public Accounts is the only committee of the House with unfinished business. The Private Bills and Municipal Law have cleaned up and closed their affairs. Each committee, however, has to present its report before the House rises, and with evidence all in by Thursday night, the Public Accounts Committee could fulfill that formality on the day of prorogation.

THIEVES ENTERED STORE AT BUCKHORN ON FRIDAY

Thieves entered Harry Shearer's store at Buckhorn on Friday night, and made away with $95.00 in cash, two ladies' wrist watches, and some pocket knives. The thief gained admittance to the building by cutting the glass out of a door at the rear of the building.

Provincial Constable D. F. Davis was called and is now working on the case.

CONVOCATION WILL BE HELD IN KNOX COLLEGE

TORONTO, April 14.—(Canadian Press).—At the convocation in Knox College to-morrow evening the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Divinity will be conferred upon Rev. W. R. McIntosh of London, Rev. Prof. William Manson of Knox College, and Rev. Principal J. T. Taylor of India.

CAVAN FARMERS VISIT BETTER STOCK TRAIN

Dairy and Poultry Sections Were of Particular Interest -- Several Addresses.

MILLBROOK, April 14. — Considerable interest throughout the entire district, was aroused by the visit of the "Better Live Stock" train, sent out by the Dominion and the Provincial Departments of Agriculture, which arrived in Millbrook, from Peterborough about 7 p.m. on Friday, and was open for inspection from 8 a.m., until 5 p.m., on Saturday, when it left for Toronto where the staff would spend the week-end.

About 200 visited the train in the morning and this number was increased during the afternoon until probably about 1000 people, including quite a percentage of women and children, had passed through the cars where much interest was aroused in the various exhibits, and every inquiry received courteous and painstaking attention.

The dairy and poultry sections were apparently of particular interest to the farm women, though a large number of the men lingered in these exhibits for a considerable time as well. The car which contained equipment for modern conveniences, lighting, bath, etc., for the farm home, also drew much attention from the farmers' wives. E. Newsome, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, who is in charge, explaining that about 800 people have already asked for literature on water and electric systems, and a number have ordered equipment on his recommendation.

This being a mixed farming district, the leanings did not seem to be toward any particular type of animals, as has been the case in some other places where the "college on wheels" has stopped, though Holstein cattle were perhaps most closely inspected, since there are at least two accredited herds in this immediate vicinity, and others may be established.

Last year a number of bulls were carried on the train and offered for sale to the visiting farmers, but this year a car was attached to accommodate the bulls it was expected local breeders would bring in making it unncessary for the train to carry any for disposal. Only two were brought in at Millbrook, both in excellent condition—one a Shorthorn bull, the favorite roan color, consigned by R. Matchett, Fraserville, and a Holstein bull from the "Batterwood Farm," Canton. The intention was that such animals should be inspected at the owners' stables before coming to the train. Evidently buyers were not plentiful as no sales were effected. The owners had expected thier animals to be disposed of by auction, but this Prof. R. W. Wade discouraged as, should only a low bid be received, it would have to be accepted, and better terms might be possible through private sale.

Of the cattle carried on the car, the Jersey cow was sold at St. Thomas for $135.00, the baby beef steer, a roan Shorthorn weighing 900 pounds, sold at 10 cents per pound, and the black steer, weighting 1,300 pounds, the type at present bringing highest prices in the old country market, sold at 8 and one half cents per pound. The grade Shorthorn bull sold at London for $90.00. All these sales were made subject to delivery after the train completes its tour on April 24th, Sudbury being the final stop made.

A staff of twenty-two members usually accompanies the train, but this was somewhat depleted on Saturday as some had left to spend the week-end at their respective homes, among them Col. Robert McEwen, of London, the well-known breeder of Aberdeen-Angus cattle. The general superintendent, Prof. R. W. Wade, head of the Live Stock Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, is well-known by stock men all over the country, especially as he has been largely responsible for the scrub bull campaign, and other movements aiming at the improvement of stock breeding in the province.

Those who lectured here were: Dr. W. E. Baker, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, whose subject was, "Horses," and of whom many questions were asked; he was followed by Prof. L. E. O'Neil, Live Stock Branch, Toronto, who spoke to a crowded car on "Beef Cattle," pointing out the encouraging trend upward now noticeable since at recent bull sales in Western Ontario prices were reasonably good and animals sold readily.

Prof. O'Neil urged careful breeding with attention to natural beauty of form in order to find a ready market. The fact that cross breeding is not a safe proposition because of reversion to type, the tendency being not to resemble the immediate parents but those farther back in the line of descent, with the dominant factors in one breed coming to the fore, was also emphasized. The advantages of the Old Country market were pointed out, with the kind of cattle demanded if Canadian shippers are to hold their own with British breeders. To send any great volume of store cattle overseas, of poor quality, will ruin this trade which is practically the only marekt open to Canadian commercial cattle at present.

G. A. Putnam gave an interesting talk on "Dairying," declaring that profits will take care of themselves, and that Ontario cannot over-produce for the next twenty years provided her dairy output is of the highest quality, in which case marketing will not be a problem either, and a steady income and a steady, worthwhile job are assured.

"Much more milk and cream is now used in city homes compared with a few years ago, but you cannot get in without fairly good equipment, and you cannot stay in without absolute cleanliness."

"We have a strong position in the Old Country market so far as our cheese is concerned, but not an enviable record, so far, for our butter. Send nothing overseas except it be of the finest quality in relation to the dairy industry."

Recently a car of butter sold in Toronto at a loss of $2,300 because of poor quality. Inspectors are sent out by the Government to assure the producer payment on a quality basis, so "se you produce quality and that you are paid for what you produce."

The lecture on "Sheep," by J. Telfer, Sheep Division, Live Stock Branch, Ottawa, was particularly interesting because these are now proving one of the profitable lines in agriculture. Selection, breeding, management, and marketing were the points emphasised.

"Don't be afraid to pay a decent price for a good ram," was his advice. "Don't stop at $25.00, $30.00, or even $50.00, if you have 25 or 30 ewes in your flock."

The Dominion Live Stock Branch will pay a bonus of $5.00 the first year and $5.00 the second year if certain regulations re docking and castrating of buck lambs for market purposes are complied with. From ten days to two weeks is the proper time for unsexing.

"Give the ewes and flock plenty of exercise in the winter, and you will have strong, healthy lambs at birth." A cut of $2.00 per hundredweight will be made after July 15th, 1924, and all buck lambs coming to market without being unsexed.

The need of keeping the fleece free from parasites, marketing at the proper weight, eighty-five pounds being the standard, were pointed out with the consequent gain in dollars and cents because of increased consumption and demand.

The talk closed with a mine of information on Canadian wool, and the price because it is now put in proper condition for marketing. To-day consumption is far in excess of production and a good market is found in United States and Great Britain for the Canadion article.

J. E. Francis, of the O.A.C. Guelph, gave a demonstration of killing a fowl by stabbing and brauning. After it is brained the fowl becomes paralysed and the feathers fairly fall out, plucking being accomplished in an almost incredibly short time.

Prof. Wade states that the train [illegible] bringing together buyers and sellers, and [illegible] of the person it is designed to serve with no distracting side lines as at most fairs and exhibitons, the cost to both management and spectator, being remarkably low.

Thousand Chinese Converts Baptized.

PEKING, April 14 (Associated Press.)—The wholesale conversion to Christianity of the troops of General Feng Yu-hsiang, which resulted last February in the baptism of 3,700, has been further signalized by acceptance of the faith by another 1,100 soldiers.

Eight clergymen, natives and foreign, officiated in an impressive ceremony on the drill ground at Tungchow, a suburb of Peking, when these latest converts were baptized recently.

General Feng, who is known throughout China as the Christian general, addressed the men.

It is estimated that 13,000 of the 30,000 troops under General Feng's command now have embraced the Christian faith.

Company Ordered Not to Raise Gas Rates.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 14.—Judgment was handed down Saturday morning by the Alberta Public Utilities Board in the case of the City of Lethbridge verus the Canadian Western Natural Gas, Light, Heat and Power Co., the company being ordered to continue to supply Lethbridge with gas at the contract price of thirty-five cents until the expiration of the franchise, in July, 1927.

The case had been referred back to the public utilities board by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The board held that the franchise constituted a contract, and also held that no change in the rates could be made. A year ago, the company threatened to cut off the supply of gas, and the matter was taken to the courts.

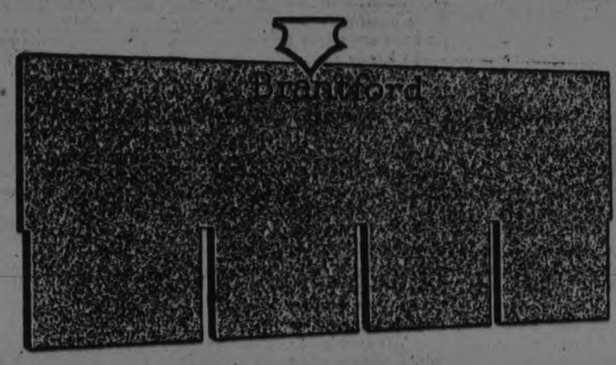
ANNOUNCEMENT

For the first time, Asphalt Slates will be branded with the name of the maker

Brantford Slab Slates indelibly marked

Brantford



THIS is not a change of policy. It does not increase our responsibility. We have always backed Brantford products to the limit.

But, it does add to your protection.

For, it enables you to tell beyond all doubt that you are getting Brantford Asphalt Slates, made exclusively by the Brantford Roofing Company.

In this new departure, Brantford again leads the way.

Brantford Asphalt Slates lead in sales because they have always led in quality, colors and style.

Brantford led in many communities in Canada by introducing the use of Asphalt Slate roofs: Brantford led year after year in improving the processes of making Asphalt Slates; Brantford led in adding new colors; in bringing out new forms of slates. The success of Asphalt Slates in Canada is largely due to Brantford's pioneering work.

NOW Brantford leads in branding Asphalt Slates with a mark which time cannot erase—the name "Brantford". Wherever Brantford Asphalt Slates may be used, the name "Brantford" places on this firm full responsibility for their quality.

AFTERMATH OF THE BUDGET.

Press comment on the Budget proposals, as might be expected, varies considerably, according to the political views and geographical location of the respective newspapers.

Party journals either accept the Robb tariff and Sales Tax charges as a splendid contribution toward the upbuilding of Canada's basic industries and a lowered cost of life or condemn them as a death blow to Canadian manufacturing concerns and an added impetus to the exodus across the line.

Neutral papers differ, according to their location.

Western dailies unanimously approve the tariff reduction, although some of them think the Government should have gone further.

Ontario papers located in industrial centres vary from dubious praise to positive alarm.

But no matter where they are situated, the bulk of Canadian papers see one benefit in the Government's proposals, namely, that a definite issue has been established between the Government and its allies, the Progressives and the Conservative opposition.

The Government has implemented its lower tariff planks of its 1919 platform; the Conservatives stand for an even higher tariff than before.

There is a sharp cut difference of policy here that will divide Canada into two political camps, and most journals seem to find in that condition a development that is desirable.

THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT.

The movement at present under way in Peterborough to revive interest in the Boy Scout activities is an effort that should be encouraged inasmuch as the Scout work offers a safe and useful field of activity for the youngsters of the city.

The Scout movement has been condemned more than once as being militaristic in its nature.

It is nothing of the sort.

It does teach the boy the value of discipline and instils in him the principles of good cittzenship, but nothing in its laws or instruction is in any way likely to nstil into its members a love for war.

The youngster is taught to be cheerful, kindly and obedient.

He gains an insight into such things as first aid work, camp cooking and many other lines of activity that will be of service to him all his life.

A ONE-SIDED VIEW.

The action of the Toronto Trades and Labour Council in censuring Fred. Bancroft, who represented the employees in the recent inquiry into the causes of unrest among the steel workers at Sydney, C. B., because he signed with the other commissioners, a unanimous report to the Government is difficult to justify.

The Toronto body considers that references to shop unions in the report should not have been included, and that Mr. Bancroft should have insisted upon recommending the eight-hour day.

If that is to be the general attitude, what earthly use is there in agreeing to arbitration proceedings?

If the Labour representative is to yield nothing, concede nothing, admit nothing in favour of the other side of the argument no mater what facts may be laid before the arbitration board, there is not the slightest good to be obtained by attempting to settle industrial disputes in this manner.

The concession cannot always be made, and all be made by the employer.

In arbitration proceedings there should be considerable give and take about the negottations, but if Labour is going to insist that its represenatives on such boards shall do nothing but stand firm for every last fragment of the demands made by the workers, then arbitration becomes a farce.

The members of boards of this kind should not be mere rubber stamps, and the sooner that fact is recognized the more likely is a speedy solution of many industrial disputes to be found.

GETTING CAPITAL FOR NORTH.

That it is appreciated by the Ontario Government that capital "is a shy bird" and that as regards the development of the mineral resources in the Province, steps will be taken to see that outside capital is given every encouragement, with the individual investor getting a "run for his money," was emphasized by Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, in addressing a party of representatives of leading American investment houses in Toronto on Saturday, says the Financial Post. Mr. McCrea knows the North and its needs. His enthusiasm for that country is convincing. The earnestness with which he outlines the Government's policy creates confidence. At the same time his warning to the element who would mine the public rather than mine the earth is clearly given:

"I intend to tell you that this Province sets its face against the man who seeks to exploit the public by 'wildcat' schemes, 'tourflushing' and doing things which bring disrepute on legitimate mining operations. If people who spend their money on mining do not win we want them to feel they had a run for their money. We want you to come into the North and to see for yourselves the possibilities of the country."

Mr. McCrea is doing valuable missionary work in telling the world what Ontario has in the way of mineral resources. He wants to make the present $70,000,000 a year of production $200,000,000 a year. He is going to England this month to tell his story. The silver, the gold and the nickel are there. It is all a question of getting the capital. And if the Government will stand behind Mr. McCrea in the policy he outlines, there can be little doubt but that the desired capital can be secured.

But the Government of Ontario should always have in mind that, as Mr. McCrea has so well said, capital "is a shy bird" and that the investor is entitled to a "run for his money." Some of the other Provinces are to-day experiencing a deafth of capital for legitimate development because of legislative abuses which have been perpetrated in the past.

FARMER AND LABOR.

(By H. J. Hardie, Managing Director of The Winnipeg Mirror, a weekly newspaper devoted to the interests of advertisers.)

Questions submitted to farmers as to why Western agriculture was not a reasonably profitable business in 1923, taken on the whole, elicit two main reasons.

First, high cost of production due to high wages for labor, which was reflected in excessive threshing bills and high prices for equipment and supplies of all kinds essential to the industry of agriculture.

Second, the low price received for farm products by the farmer after he had met the heavy costs of getting those products on the markets of the world, and particularly the high rail and lake freight rates.

Examination of these two reasons will disclose that after all they constitute one reason only—that reason being high labor costs leading to inflation in prices and charges for all supplies and services required in successful agriculture.

The depressed state of agriculture in 1923 was not the result of poor crops. Manitoba, it is true, suffered severely in this respect, but Saskatchewan and Alberta harvested good crops, both as to quantity and quality. Alberta's returns far exceeded any previous year, and the Prairie West recorded one of the best crops in its history. Therefore, neither the farmer nor the country is to be blamed for the unsatisfactory conditions that prevail, and which are proving so disheartening to farmers everywhere and causing much hardship.

As stated in previous articles, the present situation is largely the result of unsound economic theories and ill-advised legislation giving effect to those theories. In other words, man and not nature is responsible, and it is only through the efforts of man that the needed remedies can be applied. Their application at this time will require courage and statesmanship, but until they are applied the eagerly awaited and long hoped for betterment cannot come.

Farmers generally are so engrossed with their own particular problems that they are apt to overlook the fact that many matters they consider as of no particular concern to them effect them directly and vitally. For example, how many farmers fully appreciate the fact that every bit of labor legislation enacted at Winnipeg in response to the demands of the unions there has resulted in steadily increasing costs in the production of those things the farmer must buy.

During 1923, employers in Manitoba paid nearly one million dollars in assessments under the Workman's Compensation Act, but, of course, the employer passed this on to the farmer, the laborer, the office worker and the general public through price increases. While the worker is entitled to protection in the course of his employment, much of the so-called legislation for the benefit of labor is so hampering to industry that productive investment is discouraged. This is a cause of unemployment, as well as an indirect and burdensome tax on the customer.

Wage statistics show that railway employees' wages have increased in recent years up to 133 per cent., and in some cases even as high as 176 per cent. This fact alone largely accounts for increased freight rates which the farmer is obliged to pay, and which is one of the factors resulting in the farmer securing smaller rewards for his labor while the railway workers and city artizans get more.

Hours of labor on the farm remain many and long, but hours of labor in industrial centres and on the railways have steadily dropped from ten to nine, to eight, even to seven, with demands being pressed for further reductions. At the same time wage scales have increased, while shorter hours have compelled overtime work paid for at time-and-a-half and double time. The employer pays directly, but indirectly it is refunded to him by the farmer and the consuming public through increased prices.

The question has been asked. Why should the people, including the farmers, stand for labor laws that result in short hours and high wages for city workers, when long hours and hard work on the farm have got to be exchanged for high-priced production of the city workers?

Why should transportation workers at high wages be allowed special easy working conditions in railway shops and train service, to be paid for by the farmer through tremendous burdens in the cost of moving the farmer's crop to market?

The times are out of joint through our lack of appreciation of sound economic truths. There was less hardship and more real development when people were content to work longer hours and spend fewer in idleness and questionable amusement. We must get back to first principles, and the sooner it is done the better for all.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The battle of the tariff begins at Ottawa today.

Hon. T. W. McGarry talked too loudly at the Public Accounts Committee session the other day, while Hon. Peter Smith, on the other hand, refuses to talk at all.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, April 13. — Trade in cash grain on the local market Saturday showed little improvement. There was no change in the flour market. The market for millfeed was unchanged and the trade in rolled oats was quiet. An active trade was done in eggs. Total receipts from May 1 to date have been 645,547 cases as against 602,872 in the same period last year. The business in butter was small. The total receipts from May 1 to date have been 156,547 packages below the corresponding period for 1922-23. There is little or no demand in the cheese market. The total receipts from May 1 to date have been 127,293 boxes in excess of the same period a year ago. There is no change in either the baled hay or potato markets.

STERLING RATES.

MONTREAL, April 13. — Sterling exchange rates were quoted on Saturday:

of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

A YEAR after being founded, the Bank of Montreal spread its Branches westward, in July of 1818 establishing Agencies at Kingston and York.

York, which afterwards became the city of Toronto, had then just had its first stage-coach communication established with Kingston and Montreal. It was merely a settlement in a clearing amid unbroken forests from which the Indians came to trade with farmers and other members of the little community. Today Toronto ranks among the largest cities on the continent.

Of the Bank's 367 Branches, 26 are in Toronto and 207 in the Province of Ontario, including Toronto.

Quebec Town Goes Dry On the Vote of Mayor.

WINDSOR MILLS, Que., April 12.—The vote of Mayor Philias Millette was the deciding factor in the passing of a by-law repealing all licenses and making the town of Windsor Mills dry yesterday. The electorate of the town expressed their opinion on the question at the polls Thursday and when the ballots were counted it was found that 192 ovters favored the by-law and the same number favored beer and wine being sold at the hotels.

ALL FOODS SHOULD BE SEALED.

The medical profession very generally advocate that all food products should be sold in sealed packages. All cities rigorously inspect butcher shops to prevent meat from being infected, many prohibit milk from being sold in bulk and gradually this will come with everything. "SALADA" was the first to introduce the package idea as regards tea, over thirty two years ago, and "SALADA" is still a little purer and a little better than other teas. It has by far the largest sale.

CAMPBELLFORD POWER REPORT

CAMPBELLFORD, Apr. 12.—Some time ago Engineer Robert W. Scott submitted a report to the Water and Light Commission making certain recommendations for the improvement of the light and power equipment. This report was published in full in The Examiner at the time.

The commission engaged A. L. Mudge, electrical engineer of Toronto, to come to Campbellford, and the Toronto man spent several days here looking over the plant and transmission lines. He, too, submitted a report, agreeing in the main with Mr. Scott's recommendations.

At the regular meeting of the Commission, Thursday night, Mr. Mudge's report was considered and, on motion of Commissioner Caddy and Mayor Meyers, Engineer Scott was instructed to proceed with the work of improvements. Whenever there is a difference in the recommendation of the two engineers, Mr. Scott is to refer the question to the Commission.

With regard to Mr. Mudge's suggestion that repairs required to the two panels at the left-hand end of the switchboard, it may be stated that Mr. Scott had already ordered the material for this improvement and had made arrangements for carrying out the work.

Mr. Mudge's report is as follows:

Toroto, March 12th, 1924.

Campbellford, Ont.

Gentlemen: In accordance with your instructions I have, with your engineer, Mr. R. W. Scott, investigated the present conditions in connection with your Electric Light and Power System, and beg to submit report thereon:

This investigation brings out the following facts:-

(1) Voltage regulation on the system is exceedingly bad. This causes delays, losses and dissatisfaction in factories due to slowing down and overheating of motors and blowing of fuses, with consequent interference with various processes of manufacture. In residences it causes lights to fluctuate, slows down the operation of cooking and heating devices and shortens the life of both lamps and heating devices.

Due to their location at the far end of the transmission line the worst sufferer is one of your best customers, viz., the Canadian Paperboard Company.

(2) Due to the very moderate rates now in force, and the special encouragement which has been given to domestic users, the load on the system has been growing steadily for several years past at the rate of about 100 H.P. per year and is now about 1300 H.P. This increased load of course, aggravates the troubles due to poor voltage regulation as within the last seven years no increase has been made in the capacity of the transmission line to take care of this increased load.

(3) Your entire system is at present dependent on a heavily loaded line of poles about sixteen years old, which unless renewed will, as time goes on, be the source of increasingly serious interruptions to service.

Your power system with its moderate rates, satisfactory earnings and annual surplus is a most valuable asset, but with the present transmission line, only about one-third of the capacity of the plant can be satisfactorily transmitted to the town for distribution to customers.

A reputation for good service together with the very moderate rates, which you have fortunately been able to establish, are the best means of encouraging still further growth of both the industrial and the domestic use of electric power, which has an important influence on the general growth and prosperity of the town.

It is, therefore, exceedingly important that the steadily increasing load should be taken care of, that a well regulated service free of interruptions be given, and that you put yourselves in the position of being able to take an additional load as it may offer.

Some expenditures out of the existing surplus are required in order to strengthen the weak link, viz., the transmission system. It is by no means necessary to immediately make the transmission system equal in capacity to that of the Power House; however, any steps that are taken now should be part of a general comprehensive plan with this end in view.

The main cause of the unsatisfactory voltage regulation is the overload on transmission line from Power House to Town. A secondary cause is the connection with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, as this takes the voltage regulation of your system to a certain exte. out of the hands of your own operators.

The contract with the Hydro is too valuable to you to consider its termination. It would, therefore, be worth while adopting some means of correcting the effect of this connection, if this can be done at reasonable expense.

There are two ways of increasing the capacity of your transmission line and improving the voltage regulation, viz.:

(1) Additional circuits from Power House to town with transmission voltage remaining at 4000 volts as at present.

(2) Raising the transmission voltage and building a substation in town.

Both of these schemes have been carefully gone into and reported on to you by Mr. Scott.

The scheme to be finally adopted depends entirely upon amount of power eventually to be transmitted to the town. This is likely to be the entire capacity of the present power house, i.e., something over 2500 H. P. with the possible addition of the output of a third unit or a total of about 4000 H.P.

The most economical way of handling this quantity of power would be by increasing the voltage to 6600 or 11,000 volts and the installation of a substation at some point in the town, preferably near the highway bridge.

A more moderate increase in load could be taken care of satisfactorily by installing additional transmission circuits without an increase in voltage.

In view of the age and the condition of the present transmission line, it is important that you have a duplicate line.

To meet these conditions and to pave the way for future extensions, I, therefore, concur with Mr. Scott in recommending the construction of a second line about 2½ miles in length on the east side of the river from your present Power House to a point near the highway bridge in town. I am optimistic enough, however, to go a step further than Mr. Scott in expressing some future time expand sufficiently to necessitate raising the transmission voltage in order to economically handle it. However, any expenditures required at the present time to provide later for the possibility of a higher transmission voltage will be trifling.

I would point out that even the construction of this additional line will not give perfect service in the way of voltage regulation but it will greatly relieve the present situation and is a very necessary immediate step, no matter what scheme is finally adopted.

It should be possible to build this line, having a length of approximately 2½ miles, within the limits of Mr. Scott's estimate, viz., $8,140.00. The detailed specifications for its construction, I think, can be safely left in Mr. Scott's hands, subject to my suggestions on the following points:

Poles—not less than 35 ft. long with 7 in. tops with provision to carry eventually.

2—11,000 volt, 3-phase circuits on the upper two cross arms.

1—4,000 volt, 3-phase, 4-wire circuit.

1—110-220 volt, 3-wire secondary circuit.

The two lower voltage circuits would only be required on about a mile of the line nearest the town and on this section, it might be desirable to use 40 ft. poles.

Conductor—Install initially on top cross arm one 3-phase circuit of 366,400 C.M. stranded bare aluminum cable, (equivalent in conducting capacity to No. 000 B. & S. copper.) Aluminum is now quoted at about 32c per lb. which means a conductor cost of about twenty percent below copper. A grounded neutral wire on tope of pole.

Insulators—11,000 volt pin type.

Location—If you do not already possess the right to construct this line on the public highway, this right should be secured. However, the existing poles of your old line probably give you this right. Outside the town limits your line will parallel the Hydro line on the east side of the road about 2,000 feet. The preferable arrangement on this section, if the township does not object, would be to erect your line about 10 ft. west of the Hydro line, otherwise, you may have to secure permission from the Hydro for cross arm space on their poles.

Sectionalizing Switches — Outdoor type sectionalizing switches should be installed so as to cut out both the old and the new lines at either end. One might also be used on George Street, near the bridge for disconnecting the line to Paper Mill. Sectionalizing switches should preferably be 300 ampere, 6600 volt, 3 P.S.T. outdoor pole type, non-automatic oil switches. If, however, these are too expensive, some form of air break disconnecting switch or cut out of the above capacity will serve the purpose.

I am taking up with the Canadian Westinghouse Company a scheme by which the voltage ratio of the Power House transformers may be varied in order to minimize the voltage fluctuation imposed upon you by your operation in connection with the Hydro. If this proves to be feasible, it will effect a further improvement in the voltage regulation, but is quite independent of the question of the new line. If this can be satisfactorily worked out at a reasonable cost, I will advise you later.

When in Campbellford on February 23rd, in company with Mayor Meyers, Mr. Caddy and Mr. Scott, I inspected your Power House, and fully endorse your plan to thoroughly overhaul No. 2 unit during the coming summer and install the spare runners on this turbine.

I would recommend that the repairs required to the two panels at the left-hand end of switchboard be carried out as soon as possible and would suggest that if there is likely to be much delay in doing this, that the missing old circuit breaker and the graphic watt-meter for town feeder be secured and installed temporarily until such time as the remaining equipment arrives. This would permit of operation separately from the Hydro in times of light load, thus giving you more control over voltage regulation and would give you continuous records of the town load which it is important to have in studying a situation such as you have at present.

The current transformers for the new graphic meter should be of ample capacity to take care of a reasonable increase over your present load, say up to 1500 K.W. at least. When the missing oil circuit breaker is installed, some slight improvement in voltage can be secured by connecting the stepup transformers at Power House on a higher tap, as explained to Mr. Scott.

All instruments and meters on Power House switchboard should be overhauled and calibrated periodically, say, once a year. This recommendation also applies to portable and recording voltmeters at the Water and Light office.

In addition to all improvements which may be made in the system, proper voltage regulation and good service generally depends on intelligent and careful operation by Power House staff, who should be instructed from time to time as may be necessary as to their duties in this respect. Adequate recording instruments are valuable in indicating whether the operators are faithfully carrying out their duties.

A useful addition to your log sheet would be columns in which to record the gate opening of the turbines. Daily records of headwater and tailwater should also be kept.

The Power House switchboard as a whole is in an unsatisfactory state, mainly due to its old-fashioned design and is a source of inconvenience and danger both from fire and also to operators and construction men in making repairs. I would recommend that after the new lines has been built and the other improvements suggested above have been carried out, that the next step in improving the system would be the rebuilding of the switchboard and at the same time eliminating some of the woodwork from the interior of the Power House in order to decrease the fire risk.

It might be wise to keep in view the desirability of securing a site on which to build a substation when it is required and make the purchase, should a suitable property come into the market. The most convenient location would be on or near George Street, reasonably near the highway bridge.

In conclusion it should be understood that the essential and important recommendation made herein is the construction of a new transmission line 2½ miles in length on the east side of river from Power House to bridge. The remaining recommendations can be carried out for a moderate expenditure and should be acted on in order to still further improve the service.

Respectfully submitted,
A. L. MUDGE.

Pretty Wedding Held In Seymour Township — News of Interest.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 14. — A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parr at Hoards on Wednesday, April 9th, 1924, when their daughter, Blanche Lillian Parr, was married to Mr. Frank L. Johns, 4th Concession, Seymour, Rev. J. E. Glover, pastor of Seymour circuit, officiated. At six-thirty the Wedding March was played by Master Miller Donald, nephew of the bride, and the ceremony was performed under a beautiful arch decorated with ferns and roses. The bride was given away by her father. She wore a beautiful wedding dress of white silk crepe, trimmed with pearls and embroidery and a veil with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a bunch of large white carnations and fern. The flower girl and ring-bearer was Miss Viola Parr, a neice of the bride. Her dress was of white silk. With the ring she carried a basket of beautiful white roses.

After the ceremony and congratulations, the guests, with the bride and groom, were served a very dainty wedding supper in the dining-room, which was decorated for the occasion. The guests were relatives and friends of the bride and groom and numbered about sixty. Those from a distance were: Mr. John Calderwood of Huntsville, an uncle of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie of Madoc, Mr. and Mrs. George Frost of Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scott of Stirling, Miss Ham, cousin of the bride, from St. Ola, and Mrs. Ray Oliver of Hamilton.

The bride received many beautiful and costly presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace; to the flower girl, an onyx ring, and to the pianist, a gold tie pin.

The young couple are highly respected, and the good wishes of all their friends will follow them.

They will reside on their farm of the 4th Concession in Seymour Township.

On Thursday of last week a miscellaneous shower was given the young people at the bride's home and about fifty of their friends in the neighborhood met to spend the evening with them. Mrs. Arthur Sharpe and Miss Mildred Heagle arranged for the shower. Many pretty and useful presents were given and the evening was spent in games and music, after which lunch was served.

Euchre Party.

Mrs. J. A. Loucks, Front street, entertained about twenty ladies at euchre on Thursday afternoon. After the game a dainty lunch was served.

Leaten Services.

The Lenten services in the Anglican Church are well attended, and the members find them very helpful and interesting, under Rev. G. C. Clarke's leadership. Those held on Friday nights are especially well attended, and the lantern slides shown as well are enjoyed by the congregation. There are a large number in the confirmation class, and the young people are studying hard so as to be prepared for the confirmation.

There will be special services every day during Passion week. These services will be held in the church instead of the Parish Hall.

Christ Church Boy Scouts.

A meeting of the Boy Scouts' Association was held at the local troop headquarters in the Parish Hall. The officers and members of the local troop were well represented and enjoyed the address and demonstration of Scouts' work given by the District Secretary, Mr. Jones. After the boys were dismissed a meeting of the adults present was held, and the following officers were elected:

Troop Committee — Chairman, Rev. G. C. Clarke, B.A.; Secretary-Treasurer (pro tem), Mr. Sam Clegg.

Mr. Wilsher was elected Scoutmaster, with the following Assistant Scoutmasters: Mr. Beattie, Mr. Benor (official examiner), Mr. Sergeant, Jr., Mr. Free (club master).

The following will also act as additional instructors: Mr. Scott (talks on nature), Mr. Johnston (physical training), Mr. Clegg (radio), Dr. Fred. Free (first aid).

The following policy in connection with the work will be carried out:

Informal meetings, both outdoor and indoor, will be held which any boy may attend.

From this group ten or twelve boys will be chosen as prospective patrol leaders to undergo at once special instructions and intensive training.

Any boy who already has, or in future, obtains the standing of a second-class Scout will be eligible for the position of patrol leader.

The first meeting of the boys will be held in a few days, notice of which will be given.

A meeting of the Scoutmaster and his assistants will be held on April 23rd at 8 o'clock in the Parish Hall.

Your Family

A mother and children bereft of home is life's most pitiful drama.

It is enacted all too often because life insurance had not been provided.

Government statistics show that "ninety-five per cent of men at age sixty are dependent." Other men die without leaving anything for the support of their families.

Life insurance has been evolved so that a man may arrange his life's program to provide for his family. It is scientific, safe and sound.

Have your wife and children sufficient life insurance protection?

INDIAN LAND OF CONTRASTS

Last Lecture in Marmora's University Extension Course—Professor Describes Conditions and Life In India, Its Caste System and Cheap Labor.

MARMORA, April 12.—On Friday evening the lecture in the university extension series was given by Professor Moore on the subject of India.

Rev. Father Traynor was the chairman for the evening. A number of musical selections were splendidly rendered by the Deloro trio.

In speaking of India, Professor Moore said it was the land of extremes. The height of the land varies from sea-level to the very high Himalayas. In India are found both very arid deserts and sections where over fifty feet of water falls in a year.

When a man retires, instead of moving into the town as we do, the people of India plan to move to the country, as it is the ambition of every native finally to own a piece of land of his own. However, though 90 per cent. of the people are agriculturists, almost all live in the villages. This is because the people come in every night from their farms.

There is a very great contrast between the rich and poor. There are some officials who are exceedingly wealthy, but it is almost impossible to realize on how little some of the poor really live.

Though India is in some respects a land of romance, yet it is very much a land of superstition and fear.

Modes of Travel.

The modes of travel in India are varied, and some of them are very strange. As Professor Moore had slides illustrating his lecture his descriptions seemed more real.

The railways of India are very comfortable, but there are no sleepers, so passengers have to carry their bedding with them. The dining cars are very good, and on their trains they even have bathrooms.

In the main towns the hotels give very good accommodations, but off the main lines everyone takes their own food and bedding. An interpreter is also necessary. The servant carries bedding, attends to business part of the journey, brings food, and acts as interpreter, showing his master what the different customs of the country are.

They are paid about $15 a month besides their expenses, which are small. In the villages where there is no hotel, the governor furnishes a small bungalow prepared for strangers. They bring their own food and make themselves at home in the house.

Another mode of travel is by the tonga, or two-wheeled cart, driven by "trotting" bullocks. Ponies, elephants, rafts to paddle up rivers, are other methods of conveyance used by strangers who wish to travel through India.

In every town are placed constables who protect and provide for foreigners. These men are tipped by the strangers, and they make about 64 cents a month.

Feast of Mohammed.

In showing some pictures of the natives, Professor Moore described the feast of Mohammed. The natives dress to represent tigers, snakes, leopards, and other kinds of animals. No work is done during the ten days which the feast lasts. Each man carries a box on his shoulder like a tomb or bier in honour of Mohammed's son. After the feast, these are thrown into the tube of water or burned.

The peculiar fact about the feast is that, though they call it a feast, they eat no more than is necessary for their health. After the ten days is over, however, they have a real feast. The side-shows during this feast are truly ghastly sights but are usually only a fake.

The Hindus try to break up these feasts, and on a Hindu feast day the Mohammedans return the compliment. This, however, makes the people fanatical and so dangerous to their white rulers.

Labor Is Cheap.

Labor is so cheap in India that many more men are used than is really necessary. For example, two men are used to work an apparatus to draw water in buckets out of a well for irrigation purposes.

In Ceylon, gems, such as sapphires, moon-stones, topaz, are mined. Their apparatus is very crude. Only natives can mine these gems, because if foreigners were to get natives to work for them the natives would manage to get all the gems.

Caste in India is a sort of system dividing the people into groups. The red marks on their forehead indicate the caste. No Indian can change his caste. In a foreigner's home a number of servants have to be procured because a high caste servant will not do low caste work, and a low caste servant cannot do high caste work.

Two high caste princes wished to visit England, but it meant losing their caste. One ventured, and went to England where he had a splendid time. On his return, by paying the priest $120,000 he received his caste back again. As they were both very wealthy the other prince followed his example. However, only the very rich can pay for receiving their caste back again.

The natives, however, like to travel and do so very cheaply by travelling third or fourth class. As they cannot observe all the rules of their caste while travelling, the priest gives them special dispensation of the caste system. This is helping to do away with it.

Gold Mining.

There is gold mining carried on in India. Great shafts, 4,000 feet deep, have been sunk. However, a rock, called explosive rock, makes the work rather dangerous. When such an explosion takes place the earth shakes as though there were an earthquake.

These mines are very rich, and coolies are hired at about 8 cents a day. Dangerous plagues, such as cholera, sometimes break out in the mines. To prevent this, in some places very inexpensive huts, costing about $2½ apiece, are built by the managers. Families having about 12 or 15 live in these huts. If a plague breaks out the people all move out and the huts are burned. The infected are removed from the others, and new huts are built, so the plague does not get so many victims.

In India there are plenty of meals. Before rising an early bite is brought up to you. The white people rise about 9 o'clock, and breakfast is served from 9 to 11. At 2 o'clock comes lunch. From 4 to 5 in the afternoon is afternoon tea, and dinner is served at 8.30 or 9 o'clock.

Professor Moore gave a short sketch of the history of the Indian rebellion and the siege of Lucknow.

Loyalty of Sihks.

The question, "Why are the Sihks so loyal to England," has often been asked. If England had not conquered India, the Sihks would have been entirely over-run by the native tribes. Realizing this, the Sihks have remained loyal.

Many beautiful buildings, made of white marble and inlaid with gems, are to be found in India. Most beautiful of all these is, perhaps, the tomb of the favorite wife of one of the Mogul princes of India.

The forts at Delhi are full of very beautiful work done in the white marble. In some places the marble has been carved so it almost resembles lace work. In other places they are inlaid with wonderful gems.

The question of Home Rule is a vital one just now. The Indians are too greedy to make good citizens and officials. The Hindus who get educated get so they won't work and always want the easy positions.

India is becoming an industrial centre, and because of her cheap labor she can manufacture goods very cheaply. Her cotton and jute industries are growing. This is going to present a very vital question to the nations. First, because her goods are so cheap no other country can be a close rival to her, and, second, because the people of India are going to expand, and they must go to some new country. Where will they go?

Rev. P. C. Watson moved a vote of thanks to Professor Moore, to the Deloro orchestra, to Mr. R. Wecott and his associates, to Mr. F. S. Pearse, and to the G.W.V.A. for the help they had given in making this course of lectures a success.

The meeting was closed by a splendid selection by the Deloro trio.

A PRESIDENT PRO TEM IS NAMED FOR GREECE

LONDON, April 14.—(Canadian Press).—A decree will be published to-day, says an Agency despatch from Athens, nominating Admiral Coundouriotis as President pro-tem of Greece. The Assembly will be divided into a Senate and Chamber of Deputies, and after the Easter vacation will elect a President, who, the despatch says, will probably be Mzaimis, the former Premier.

To insure domestic stability and peace, a discussion of the constitution will be prohibited for five years, the despatch continues.

The result of the plebiscite in Thrace was unanimously in favor of a Republic in Athens, the majority was two-thirds, and in Macedonia it was also large. The Peloponnesus, however, returned a Royalist majority.

EXCLUDE JAPS IN THE STATES

House of Representatives Voted 322 to 71 in Favor of Immigration Bill on Saturday Night.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Canadian Press.—Within 24 hours of the warning by the Japanese government that serious consequences would follow the writing of the Japanese exclusion clause into law, the House of Representatives on Saturday night rolled up a majority of 32 to 71 in favor of the immigration bill containing that provision.

To the protest of the Japanese government the State Department added its warning though neither the letter of Ambassador Hanihara or the attitude of the administration was officially communicated to the House.

There was little discussion on the floor, only one speech being made against the Japanese exclusion provision, this by Representative Burton of Ohio, a former member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. In the lobbies and the cloak rooms, however, excitement was intense and little else but the attempt of the Japanese government to kill the exclusion feature was discussed.

The bill was sent over to the Senate where a canvass showed there is very little likelihood of the section to which the Japanese object being removed.

The sentiment in the Senate is in favor of writing the exclusion feature into the law in almost the same ration as shown in the House by the vote aproving the bill.

MISSION BAND GAVE CONCERT ON FRIDAY

On Friday evening, the Mission Band of St. James' Methodist Church gave a very successful and well-attended entertainment in the Sunday School-room. The programme was carefully prepared and enjoyed by everyone. Much credit is due to the training of Mrs. Wesley Rose and Miss Jean Hamilton for a successful concert, from which the sum of $27 was realized. An interesting feature of the programme was the club-swinging of girls of the "Y."

The entertainment opened with a chorus by the Band, and the recitation, in unison, of the 23rd Psalm, followed by the chairman's address, by Rev. J. D. Richardson. A motion song, entitled "The Chinese Cousins," was especially good, with three little girls in costume: Jean Dryland, Muriel Byers and Edith McLaren.

A reading, "The Names of the Books of the Bible," was given by Audrey Dryland; a chorus by junior members of the Band, "Hush a Bye, Baby"; a selection by the Sunday School Orchestra; a playette entitled "Mother Goose and Her Family of Mission Workers," with the performers in costume, and Miss Jean Hamilton as Mother Goose, directing the production; a reading by Ashton Fife; an instrumental duett by Mrs. E. Hotson and Florence Cripps; a chorus by the Band; reading by Miss Jean Hamilton; a pianoforte number by Olive Prest; a vocal solo by Geneva Sedgewick; a pantomime entitled "Lead, Kindly Light," with Miss Florence Saunders as soloist, and a dialogue, "Mind Your Own Business," by older members of the Band.

Shopping in the Mornings

We have all heard that old story of the man who got up early in the morning so as to have a long day to loaf. Perhaps his method wasn't so bad after all. At least he was always ready for anything that came his way—and good things do come in the morning, sometimes, we have to admit. And so it is with SHOPPING. With a joyous Easter almost here, why not take advantage of all the morning has to offer? EX-PRESIDENT OF HOME BANK SUMMONED

Mr. McGarry Said That He Had Never Received Five Cents From the Home Bank—Other Witnesses Called.

SIT NEXT WEEK

TORONTO, April 14 (Canadian Press).—On a motion of Hon. Manning Doherty, the public accounts committee Friday morning decided to summons M. J. Haney, former president of the Home Bank. Before the chairman could call the witness Hon. Thos. McGarry, former provincial treasurer, volunteered a statement Mr. McGarry said that because of the inferences in articles in The Globe he wanted to make a statement: "I never got five cents from the Home Bank nor do I know of any money going to campaign funds," said Mr. McGarry. "I defy the Globe and Mr. Sinclair and the whole Liberal party." Before the sentence was finished, Mr. Sinclair interrupted. "Surely, Mr. Chairman, we are not turning this public accounts committee into a political meeting?" said Mr. Sinclair. "I'm not going to get into a quarrel this morning, but I do not intend that Mr. McGarry should get away without a cross-examination."

Hon. W. H. Price said the man who volunteers his evidence should be heard. Mr. Sinclair said he had no objection to that but wanted the right to cross-examine another day.

Mr. McGarry, continuing his statement, said he had never received five cents from the Home Bank nor, to his knowledge, did any one in the Conservative party. I am willing to meet the editor of The Globe and that man who pussyfooted into his office last Sunday night. Mr. Doherty knows something of the man.

Mr. Doherty strenuously objected saying that the witness (Mr. McGarry) seemed to be running a committee.

Mr. McGarry admitted he did not favor the Home Bank. The Home Bank, he said, was a Catholic institution and the directors were personal friends of his. Everybody knew he had done it, he said, and he was not ashamed of it. He had placed deposits to help the showing of the bank.

"Anything I did is on record in the department and can be found," said Mr. McGarry.

He declared he would like the editor of The Globe to be summoned before the committee.

Mr. McGarry denied that he knew anything about the interest in the Home Bank paid to J. C. Mason, general manager of the bank for the Commission of Ontario deposits.

Harry Pepall, general manager at Aemilius Jarvis Company, was the only other witness this morning.

He admitted that the Jarvis firm had an advantage in buying bonds and floating loans for Ontario Government because no other firm could bid against them.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Hon. W. H. Price said that the committee would like to sit three or four days straight next week. It was decided to have G. T. Clarkson go into the bank account of Hon. Peter Smith at Stratford and take out details essential to the committee so that there could be no unnecessary prying into Mr. Smith's personal business. The manager of the bank, however, will be brought before the committee.

"Is there any chance of Mr. Mathews being here?" was a question asked.

"I think he may be," said Col. Price.

LONG AT THE GAME.

ALTON, England, April 14. — With the death of Dr. William Curtis, 87, there has come to an end a 200 years' family medical association with the town. Both the father and grandfather of Dr. Curtis practised here. Dr. Curtis treated the descendants of his grandfather's patients. He had practised 55 years.

TARIFF DOESN'T BENEFIT WEST

A. B. Hudson, M.P., Says New Budget Will Go Far In Reconciling Progressive and Liberal Forces.

MONTREAL, April 14 (Canadian Press). — By reducing the customs duties in the Budget now before Parliament, the Canadian Government has come to a recognition of the situation that the tariff is of no benefit to the two million people in the Prairie Provinces, declared A. B. Hudson, M.P. for Winmpeg South, and formerly Attorney-General of Manitoba, in an address before the Reform Club here on Saturday.

"The present Budget will be heartily welcomed in Western circles as being a step in recognition of their position, and will go far to reconcile Progressive and Liberal forces," said Mr. Hudson.

This statement was greeted with applause.

Depend on Agriculture.

He saw little prospect of industrial development in the West, everyone being dependent on agriculture. No farmer in Western Canada derived any benefit from the tariff nor was it conceivable that he would receive such benefit within any reasonable time. They are, however, paying some of the burdens of the tariff, said the speaker, and they consequently said their position should be recognised and that the rest of Canada should make them some concessions.

West Is Cabined.

He asked the East to remember when the West asked for things the East might thing unreasonable, that on the Prairies they were fenced in by the Arctic, the Rockies, the rocks of New Ontario, and the United States.

"In every activity in a political way," said Mr. Hudson, "you will see that there is behind it the effort to get through or under, or over these fences, to get cheaper transportation, and to wipe out the barriers."

BAPTIST JUBILEE.

SHERBROOKE, Que., April 14 (Canadian Press).— Celebration of the jubilee representing the fiftieth anniversary of foreign mission work in the Baptist Church, which was held at Toronto, and Montreal this week, was continued in Sherbrooke over the week-end, and from here the mission workers taking part in the programme will go to the Maritime Provinces and later to Western Canada.

Four U.S. Airplanes Arrive at Cordova.

CORDOVA, Alaska, April 14 (Canadian Press). — Four airplanes composing the United States Army Squadron making a trip around the world, arrived at Seward, Alaska, on Sunday afternoon at 5.18 o'clock, Pacific Coast time, according to information received here.

The trip from Sitka was accomplished without mishap, the advices stated.

SAIL FOR MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, April 14 (Canadian Press). — Cable advices were received here on Saturday of the first two freight steamers to sail for Montreal this season. They are the Brandon from Le Havre and the Cornishman, from Avonmouth.

Both carry general cargo, and are due here between 24th and 26th April.

Washed Car With "Gas" Garage Is Destroyed.

SHERBROOKE, Que., April 14 (Canadian Press). — Louis Derusseau, a mechanic employed by the city, was severely burned about the hands and face when the city's garage and machine shop were practically destroyed by fire late on Saturday, the property loss being estimated at $15,000.

Derusseau was engaged in washing parts of an automobile in a pail of gasoline, when in some way the gasoline exploded.

The flames spread rapidly to all portions of the building.

HARDWARE MERCHANT DEAD.

WINNIPEG, April 12 (Canadian Press). — John C. Falls, vice-president and general manager of the Wood Vallance Limited, wholesale hardware firm, died suddenly at his home here yesterday. He is survived by his widow and only daughter, Mrs. Harold D. Paterson, of Victoria, B.C.

POCKETS

Pockets on this season's frocks are frequently put above the waistline instead of below in the conventional fashion.

BOTH EXONERATED

MONTREAL, April 14.—Delphis Gauthier and ex-Alderman Giroux, who were charged with election irregularities during the recent municipal elections here were honorably acquitted by Judge Ferrault Friday.

The Brilliant Novelist of Modern Society

WHO'S WHO:

Prudence Page, a pretty country girl who has awakened from a brief and unhappy love-affair with unreliable

Bert Traymore, a fascinating philander.

Janet Mercer, Prudence's 28-year-old friend, plain but genuine, is a trained nurse and masseuse to the delicate child of

Mrs. Vansittart, a wealthy women who owns Winston Towers. One of her guests is

Virginia Dale, a blase beauty who sees a riyal in Prudence, and who has set her cap at

Peter Armstrong, brilliant young inventor, interested in Prudence. Prudence has given up Traymore, and is beginning to return Armstrong's interest, when she is accused of theft at Winston Towers, and runs away from home, heart-broken. She has lost her purse, and arrives penniless in New York, not knowing where she can find refuge for the remainder of the night. She stops in front of a huge church used as a House of Refuge.

Prudence is unable to get a job in the big city.

CHAPTER XLIV.

Mrs. Vansittart's Frankness.

"It's a monstrous accusation! It's unbelievably cruel! You've driven a young girl from her home, and you're responsible!".

In the morning-room of Winston Towers, Prudence's father stood accusingly before Mrs. Vansittart, who actually quailed before that usually mild man's righteous wrath.

"I know nothing beyond what I saw with my own eyes," stuttered the good woman. "The diamonds and the money were missing; Bruce Grimshaw started a search; by a strange coincidence, he began with your daughter, and the diamonds and money practically tumbled out of her sash——"

"No doubt he put them there——" cut in Mr. Page, not caring what he said, so distraught was he over the ghastly occurrence and his daughter's subsequent flight.

Mrs. Vansittart shook out a nervous laugh.

"Impossible! I've known him all his life, and he's the soul of honor."

"And I've known my daughter all her life, and can say the same of her," the man flung back at her.

Mrs. Vansittart wrung her hands.

"I can do nothing. I'm sorry the child has run away, but it's too absurd to hold me responsible. If she felt she couldn't face us——"

There was a swish of skirts, a whiff of perfume, and Virginia Dale—in a frilly dress of lavender organdie and a droopy picture hat that matched exactly—strolled into the room, and then came to sudden anchor as she saw the oddly assorted pair facing each other in such strained fashion.

"I beg your pardon." She was going to retreat, but her hostess, thankful for any sort of interruption, beckoned to her.

"Dear, this is Miss Page's father—Miss Dale." She effected the introduction nervously.

Mr. Page turned toward the scented vision and bowed stiffly. So this was the sort of artificial product his fresh, sweet young daughter had come in contact with! It was like a primrose t'ying to compete with an orchid, wasn't it?

Virginia bowed distinctly, while Mrs. Vansittart nervously murmured:

"So unfortunate about last night! Miss Dale was present, so we can speak before her. Virginia, isn't it too dreadful? Miss Page has run away from home!"

Virginia tilted her carefully 'p.ucked' eyebrows to an even higher arch than the beauty expert had already shaped them.

"Really? How very odd!" The words had an insolent drawl to them. "But, of course, it's only temporary. She'll come home."

Mr. Page couldn't endure to have a third party discuss his much-loved child. He turned to go.

"You'll let us know how the search proceeds?" Mrs. Vansittart, moved with compunction at his drawn face and twitching hands, followed him out into the hall. "And if there's anything I can do——"

"Nothing, nothing." The father would die rather than be indebted to this woman in whose house such calamity had befallen his daughter. Then, muttering brokenly something about it's being enough to kill Prudence's mother, he rushed away.

"So terrible, my dear! I declare I'm ready to go off into hysterics! Quick, get Parkins to pour me out some brandy." The lady of the house addressed Virginia, who hastened to the butler's pantry, presently returning with the bulter, who bore on a silver tray a bottle, a couple of glasses, and a soda-syphon. "Ah! now I feel better." She dismissed the servant with a nod.

"I'll take some myself," volunteered Miss Virginia coolly, pouring out a liberal libation, and adding soda to it.

Mrs. Vansittart stared at her.

"I thought you'd sworn off, and gone 'on the water wagon,' as you call it."

Virginia drained the glass before she spoke.

"Even doctors think brandy necessary at times. I'm taking this as a medicine."

Her hostess tittered disagreeably.

"Medicine? And you as strong as a horse!"

That annoyed Virginia. When irritated, she was capable of rapier thrusts. But that tendency must not be given way to, as her position in the house was scarcely as secure as it had been. Mrs. Vansittart was notoriously fickle in her likings, and recently had shown symptoms of wearying of Virginia.

"I've rather an awkward mission before me," the girl said quietly, hiding her annoyance.

"Huh! What's that? Not on the track of Peter Armstrong again, are you?"

This wasn't diplomatic. But the speaker didn't care. Virginia had shed the light of her countenance too long at Winston Towers. Also, she showed no signs of paying back the three hundred dollars she owed her hostess. And her air of cool insolence was quite absurd, in view of one or two matters with which the older woman was cognizant.

Virginia struggled with her rising temper. She contrived to give her usual cool smile, although just now it was an effort.

"We are great—friends, he and I."

"And you'd like to be something more?" The stimulant had given Mrs. Vansittart courage for the fray. "And so you're off to hurl the news about the Prudence child right at the man's head, thinking, in that way, to cure his fancy for her? You're clever, Jinny, but not clever enough; and you DON'T know much about real men—men like Peter Armstrong! Why, stupid, don't you realize that that strong type always tends to side with the under-dog—that pity is akin to love—and that you'll only drive him all the faster towards the girl!"

BOY'S BAD COLD TURNED TO BRONCHITIS

The frequency with which bronchitis develops into pneumonia is appreciated by very few mothers. The danger of pneumonia is, probably, well understood too, but how many mothers take into consideration that a neglected attack of bronchitis frequently leads to this dangerous disease.

We would advise all mothers to give their children Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup the first moment they show any symptoms of a cold or cough as by doing this they save them from an attack of bronchitis or pneumonia.

Mrs. Lawrence Quick, Sandwich, Ont. writes:—"My little boy, six years old, had a bad cold which turned to bronchitis. I tried every thing I thought would be best for it but did not see him getting any better. I was told to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after giving him two bottles he got wonderful relief. I cannot praise it enough.'

Trust Co. Creditors Receive Dividend.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 14.—Creditors of the defunct Dominion Trust Company are to receive a dividend from a $157,000 judgment awarded by the mixed arbitration tribunal in London, against Merner Von Alvensleben, of Berlin, Germany. The claim was based on two drafts for $90,000 and $25,000 respectively and drawn by Alvo Von Alvensleben, former resident of Vancouver, whose meteoric financial career in British Columbia collapsed just prior to the outbreak of war in 1914, and accepted by his brother, Merner, in Germany. The judgment is for principal and interest.

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVE.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 14.—From Glasgow and Belfast, the C. P. R. liner Marburn arrived in port Sunday with 453 passengers, 45 cabin and 408 third class.

They were mostly settlers for Canada, including 212 from Scotland and 196 from Ireland.

HOME BANK PROBE.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 14.—Hon. H. A. McKeown, Chief Justice of the King's Bench division of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, left Sunday for Ottawa to conduct the Home Bank investigation in which he has been appointed sole commissioner by the Dominion Government.

Keep Prettier Teeth

When your dentist brings them to you

After a dental cleaning, you marvel at the pearliness of your teeth. Yet the dentist just removes the dingy film and tartar.

Learn what it means to daily combat that film. To keep teeth whiter, cleaner, safer all the time. This free test shows the method which millions now employ.

Film is the problem

Film is the great tooth enemy—that viscous film you feel. Much clings and stays, despite the old-way brushing.

Food stains, etc., discolor the film, then it forms dingy coats.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Brush teeth daily in the old ways, yet these film-caused troubles, as you know, come to nearly all.

That is why dental science sought for film combatants, and two were found. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

Able authorities have proved these methods effective. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

No possible doubt

Pepsodent leaves no possible doubt. It does other things which research proved essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, also its starch digestant. Thus it gives increased power to the tooth-protecting factors in the mouth.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

A few days will convince you that this method is essential in your home. Cut out coupon now.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

OPEN MEETING WITH BOLSHEVIKS

Anglo-Russian Relations Discussed by the Delegates.

LONDON, April 14 (Canadian Press). — The opening session of the Anglo-Russian Conference here to-day assumed broad lines.

Prime Minister MacDonald, who called the conference together at the Foreign Office, where the delegates will strive to reach a settlement of the outstanding questions between the two countries, joined with Christian Rakovsky, head of the Soviet delegation, in outlining the work to be done.

The British Premier explained that the meeting was the outcome of a note sent to M. Tchitcherin, granting Soviet Russia recognition de jure.

The liquidation of past relationship of the two countries had to be considered as well as the peaceful relations of the future.

The conference was barely under way before Premier MacDonald warned the Soviet delegates against engaging in Bolshevik propaganda in Britain during the present negotiations.

Assuming his gravest manner after welcoming the Soviet delegates, the Labour Premier bluntly said that the Government would not countenance propaganda of any sort by the Russians.

He tempered the statement somewhat by adding that he would demand the same from any political mission visiting Britain.

M. Rakovsky discussed the Anglo-Russian relations along even broader lines. He laid stress upon the need for future peace and disarmament, incidentally referring sympathetically to the League of Nations. He assured them that Russia desired close financial and commercial relations with Britain. All the outstanding questions, including the debt question, must be settled and the old treaties revised.

GOLDEN LINK REBEKAH LODGE VISITS TORONTO

Last week the Degree Staff and a number of members of Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., journey to Toronto in a special car to pay a return visit to "Viola Rebekah Lodge," and confer degrees. They were met at the depot and accorded a hearty welcome by a large committee.

In the evening a reception was held when the visitors met the principal officers from the twenty Toronto lodges, and many other Toronto members. At half-past six o'clock a delightful banquet was served to two hundred and fifty guests, a beautiful pink rose being placed at the plate of each of the fifty Peterboro ladies The Viola members sang a welcome in the parody, "O, Ye Golden Links."

After the banquet adjournment was made to the large lodge room, already half filled with members from the different lodges. The Golden Link staff was introduced and welcomed in an elaborate and hearty programme of speech and song. The visiting staff conferred the degree on eight candidates, in a manner that brought applause and expressions of praise from every section of the audience. When the work was completed, the Peterboro visitors contributed a song on the hospitality of the Viola members, which took the house by storm.

The Viola members again exemplified their cordiality by presenting the visiting Noble Grand, Miss May Caird, and the Degree Instructor, Mrs. B. Watts, with handsome bouquets if pink roses. Golden Link staff expressed their appreciation of the hospitable treatment accorded them by presenting Mrs. Middleton, the instructor of Viola staff, with a bouquet of roses. They also presented their Degree Captain, Mrs. B. Watts, and Mrs. J. Londerville, with bouquets.

On Sunday the visitors accompanied by their hostesses, were entertained at luncheon, followed by an extended motor ride around the city, which ended at the Oddfellows' home, the real heart of Oddfellowship. The visitors met the residents, numbering in all about eighty men, women and children, and were much impressed with the Home, which is maintained in a manner evoking pride from the Oddfellows and Rebekahs of Ontario.

Some twenty five of the visitors were entertained at tea at the home of Mrs. Joseph Oliver, spending a delightful evening, which brought to a close a visit which left a lasting impression of fraternity with all the visitors.

SHIPMEN ANNOUNCE NATIONAL LOCKOUT

(By Lloyd Allen, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON April 14.—The British ship owners, announce a nation-wide lockout against all shipyard workers.

The cause of the lockout is the refusal of the striking workers at Southampton to accept the owners' terms and resume work, although they were advised to do so by their own national union leaders.

PRINCE BONAPARTE DIED AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

PARIS, April 14. — (Canadian Press).—Prince Roland Bonaparte died this morning after a long illness from Bright's disease. The only son of Pierre Bonaparte, whose father was Napoleon's second brother, Prince Roland was in order of precedence head of the Bonaparte family. Roland's grandfather and his issue ewre cut off from possible succession to the French Throne by Napoleon, who was displeased at a marriage. Prince Roland was an earnest Republican.

To Retail Grocers

We have been fortunate in securing the exclusive agency for KANADDA BISCUITS. These are the product of an entirely new firm located in Brantford, made up of men who have spent years in the biscuit business. This experienced company is producing biscuits second to none on the market, put up in free containers, which constitute a big saving to the retailer. We are confident that we have only to submit tasting samples to at once convince that we are handling a wonderful line and a quick selling money-maker for the grocer. This would also be a particularly fine line for summer resorts.

S. A. CANVAS TO START TOMORROW

The Army is a Real Friend to Those in Need

In making the canvass of the city, which will start on Tuesday morning, the Army has been given the assistance of forty of the business men, all interested in the work of the Army and willing to sacrifice some time to accomplish the object in view, to raise the sum of $3,000. Those who will assist in the canvass, as noted above, will look after the business section of the city. Outside of that the canvass will be undertaken by the Army men and friends and those who are in the work.

A cordial reception is asked for. Those who will wait on you are earnest and helpful in this work. And it may be repeated, that while the Army does a whole lot for the public, that the public never hears of, the Army has to have some things done for it that it may not do so well itself. This is a not unfair division of work, and, combined, illustrates what we term the helping hand.

Lest any misconcentions arise it may be noted that this money you are going to help contribute is not used for the upkeep and expenses of the Army in Peterboro. What is to be collected, subscribed and gleaned is too precious to be used for any such object. It is massed in with the grand total as raised, in Ontario, for instance, and used to sustain the remedial work in the hospitals, shelters, relief work and in entirely good ways. Plainly the Army men and women cannot, from their earnings, contribute any such sum as needed. Many, or most, are in humble circumstances, and devotedly support the local institution to the full extent of earnings and resources, but cannot help sustain the world work that is so characteristic of the Army.

Anything that may be contributed will be a mighty good investment. We have all grown to say when something turns up that requires attention, "the Army will take care of it," and the Army does. No man or woman ever hear or heard of the Army neglecting and declining to take care of a case that merited attention. And the under strata of life supplies so much that is painfully needed in the way of help and assistance that it would be a severe jolt if the Army ceased to function. We only realize when something we have had is taken from us, what that loss means.

The Army goes to the unfortunate in the street, to the Police Court where these down and out folks are hailed for possible punishment, to the prison and the haunts of vice and squalor. And in the end of its ministration gives courage and hope to the outcast, the down-and-outer, setting him or her on the right path, and watches that those do not stray away, if it be within the power of the Army to prevent.

For what has been said and written and for all that has not been put forward, be so good as to give to those interested a cordial and, if at all possible, remunerative reception, during the days of the canvass, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

THE ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT ART OF CLASSIC DANCE

Ted Shawn, World-Famous Dancer, Was Principal Speaker at Rotary Luncheon Today.

BUFFALO CONFERENCE

Ted Shawn, dancer extraordinary, who is here with the Denishawn Dancers ,for an engagement at the Grand this evening, was the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Empress today, and delighted the members with a scholarly address upon classic dancing, leaving them with a much different impression of the art than they had hitherto entertained.

Mr. Shawn traced the early history of dancing, showing the importance attached to the art by the ancients. To dance well was a necessary part of education in the old days, and the speaker referred to the emphasis placed by the Greeks upon this feature of their lives. It was necessary for a dancer in those days, as now, to be well educated and mentally developed, and in addition his body had to be well proportioned, supple and agile.

Mr. Shawn pointed out that a danced form of worship had been prominent in most of the old forms of religion, in Egypt, India, Greece and many other countries, and even in the case of our own religion there were authorities who declared that worship had been expressed through the dance.

Dancing was mentioned seventeen times in the Bible and in no instance in a derogatory manner, the speaker pointed out. There was no other method of so effectively expressing the emotions as through the classic dance.

Mr. Shawn stressed the fact that the ancient Greeks had the correct conception of the human body as a thing of beauty and grace that should not be covered up, any more than writing should be prohibited because some people wrote bad books or music because a cheap and tawdry form of jazz music was composed.

The Denishawn Company of dancers had given 180 performances last year and about that number this year without a single criticism anywhere as to the costumes worn or the nature of the dances. Mr. Shawn said that the company was the beginning of what would be within two years the American ballet.

At to-day's meeting the Buffalo district conference was reported upon by Rotarian R. A. Browne in charge of the Peterboro delegation and by most of the local Rotarians who made the trip including Reg H. Turner, W. R. Widdess, Geo. C. MacDonald, Noble Kelly, Frank Linton, R. G. Kingan, Lou Potvin, J. W. McDermid and Chris Graham all of whom spoke in glowing terms of the success of the conference.

Rotarian Seels reported in connection with Rotary's part in the coming motor show announcing that there would be two floats in the parade advertising the Boys' Camp.

Rotarian Andrew Brown appealed to every Rotarian with a car to turn out for the automobile parade.

President Reed-Wren was in the chair to-day and there was a 94 per cent. attendance.

TEACHERS GUILD HAD AN AFTERNOON SOCIAL

The Women Teachers Guild held one of its most enjoyable teas on Friday, 11th April, in the Prince of Wales School. Much credit is due to the staff of the school, into whose hands the full arrangements were given.

The colour scheme of mauve and yellow, which was accentuated in the centre table floral decorations, was maintained even in the courses as they appeared at the many smaller tables.

The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. Mowat and Mrs. W. R. Morris.

At the conclusion of supper a contest was announced, which proved interesting and humorous, but the coveted twenty marks awarded were not reached by anyone, although prizes were awarded.

The April business being next disposed of, Mr. A. Mowat addressed the meeting upon the subject of Education, dealing with the six salient factors of an educated person. The discussion of each of these proved very entertaining, and it was a heartfelt vote of thanks which was tendered the speaker at the conclusion of his remarks.

Mrs. Mowat and Mrs. Morris in a few words expressed their thanks and complimented the Guild upon its successful supper.

The National Anthem closed the meeting.

REPARATIONS ARE MOSTLY SETTLED

German State Premiers Went Into Session Today to Discuss the Adoption of the Dawes Report.

(By Carl D. Groat, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, April 14. — Settlement of the tangled reparations problem came a step nearer to-day as the German State Premiers went into session here to-day to discuss the adoption of the Dawes report.

At the same time the German and Allied industrialists were in session in Dusseldorff to discuss a trade agreement, acceptance of the Dawes plan by the State Premiers was considered a foregone conclusion.

It was assumed that the Cabinet, after the Premiers have formally confirmed the decision to accept in principle the report of the experts, will make known formally a similar decision.

Germany, however, will insist that her delegates at Paris make clear the German desire for a final fixation of a definite total amount which the rich must pay, as well as the necessitous for the regulation of the Franco-Belgian military occupation of the Ruhr.

UNIVERSITY OF PARIS GETS MILLION DOLLARS

PARIS, April 14. — (Canadian Press).—The formal presentation of one million to the University of Paris for the erection of a building for the housing of Belgian Luxemburg students was made yesterday at Sarbonne by Phillipe Roy, Canadian Commissioner-General in France, and Senator Wilson, of Canada, on behalf of Monsieur and Madame Biermans, residents of Canada. Monsieur Biermans is said to be of Dutch origin, while Madame Biermans is a Belgian.

Paul Appell, Rector of the University, expressed his sincere thanks to the donors through Mr. Roy and Senator Wilson.

EXPECT NO OPPOSITION.

DUBLIN, April 14. — (Canadian Press.)—Free State Foreign Minister Desmond Fitzgerald, asked to comment on the report from Washington to the effect that the appointment of Free State Minister to the United States should be approved by the British government, said that no British opposition was expected.

"Both Convenient and Economical"

—Malcolm Dawson

The North American Life "Paid up at 65" Policy appealed strongly to Malcolm Dawson.

"The first big advantage," said he, "Is that I can stretch out my premium payments until I am sixty-five years of age. This reduces my annual payment as compared with that of a short term policy.

"Then, too, I am paying for the policy during my 'big money' years, and it will be fully paid up and my worries will end just about the time my earning power will begin to wane and further payments might be a burden."

No wonder the North American Life "Paid up at 65" Policy attracted Malcolm Dawson.

The fact that it has all the advantages of a short term policy with a premium which is only slightly higher than a straight life contract has made it a popular form of insurance.

The Examiner's Bible Offer

When it was proposed to make the leading newspapers of the country the channels through which this Bible stream would flow, it was thought by some critics to be impossible, because it was claimed that the press is interested only in the news of the day. It would be an unworthy newspaper, indeed, that would not lend its aid toward encouraging Bible reading, and now that the movement is well under way, the critics are forced to admit their error. The present offer includes two different volumes—Style A, illustrated below, and Style B, which is fully as complete but less elaborately bound.

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS LINE UP AT WIRE FOR THE 1924 SEASON RACE

President of Cubs Believes Giants Weakened Enough to Give Chicago, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh a Fighting Chance — New York Fans Expect Fourth Straight Flag Victories.

Cleveland's Clouters.

NEW YORK, April 14 (Canadian Press). — Far from having its pennant appetite dulled by the succ ssive triumphs of the Yankees and Giants over the past three seasons, New York's baseball fandom has marshalled itself behind McGraw and Huggins in their attempts to set diamond history by making it four straight flag victories this season.

Across Brooklyn Bridge, the third metropolitan entry, the Dodgers, have shaped their line-up for a vigorous campaign, but the chance that Wilbert Robinson's men will escape the second division is slim.

Of the two Manhattan clubs, the Yankees appear the stronger, with their world's championship lineup intact for opening day Tuesday with the Red Sox at Boston. Except to add reserve strength, including a promising outfielder in Earl Combs, Huggins has stood pat on his 1923 club.

The Giants have been substantially rebuilt by McGraw, who believes he has acquired new pitching strength in several rookies, notably Dean, Maun and Baldwin, besides Terry, a promising first sacker.

The Pirate Crew

Baseball experts of Pittsburgh, after a critical analysis of the Pirate 1924 machine, are convinced that, with good pitching, the team will be close to the top of the heap when the season ends. Glen Wright, the sensational recruit shortstop, who will step into Maranville's shoes, has added great strength to the all-star infield of Grimm, at first, the "Rabbit' at second, aid Traynor at third. Morrison, Meadows, Cooper and Maremer, compose the pitching staff, with Babe Adams and Steineder helping out on the mound.

The Detroit Tigers will open the season with practically the same line up that appeared in last season's opener. The infield remains intact. Apprehension is felt, however, as to the ability of Shortstop Rigney, who has had trouble with his hip, and Second Baseman Pratt, who had a bad season last year. Blue at first and Jones at third are expected to contribute their share to the Tigers' success.

The outfield will not be changed materially.

Speaker's Artillery

Strengthened at first base by the signing of George Burns, and with better batters than for several years, Cleveland is sure to be in the fight for the American League pennant, according to E. S. Barnard, president of the Club. In Jamieson, Stephenson, Speaker, Joe Sewell, Burns, and Summa, the first six men in the line-up, all of whom have batted better than .300, the team has a "wrecking crew" that ranks with any other in the League. Myatt, Uhle and Lutzke may be added to the list of those within the circle of .300 hitters, or close to it.

With Frank Chance, who piloted the Chicago Cubs to four pennants fifteen years ago, as the new manager of the Chicago Americans, President Comiskey of the White Sox predicts his team will be up there fighting. The principal change in the Sox' lineup this season will be the appearance of Shortstop Dashiell, of Shreveport, (Texas League). Joe Rabbitt, from Muskogee, may yet force one of the veteran outfielders to the bench, and Assistant Manager Johnny Evers, who conducted the Spring training, feels that many of the young pitchers carried by the Sox last year are about ready for regular turns in the box, especially Blankenship, Leverette and Cvengros..

Cubs Stronger

President Veeck, of the Chicago Nationals, thinks the Giants have been weakened just enough to make the National League race a great free-for-all between New York, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Chicago. He declared the Cubs would be in the running from the start, "with much stronger pitching than favored us last season." Alexander, in his sixteenth season, appears as strong as ever, with Aldridge good for 20 victories. Veeck thinks, supported by Kaufman, Keen, Wheeler and Jacobs

As Walter Johnson goes, the Washington American League Club usually goes, and this year the management believes the veteran speed ball king is to have one of his best years. Beginning his eighteenth season with the club, Johnson this Spring has shown better form than for some years past, and he will be aided by a promising corps of assistants, including Mogridge, Zachary and Russell, veterans and McGrew, Zahniser, Marberry, Wingfield Martina and Speece, young twirlers.

Sisler's Squad

With George Sisler back at his old position at first base the St. Louis Browns will present a squad little changed from that of 1923, when they open the American League season at Chicago, Tuesday. There is one modified problem in the Brown's lineup at third base, which Frank Ellerbe appears to have taken over, with Gene Robertson to stand relief.

Cardinal's Changes

Rogers Hornsby has already commenced his walloping tactics for the St. Louis Nationals, bringing in the only run against the Browns Saturday with a four-base drive. Several new faces appear in the Cardinals' lineup, due to the injury of Bobby Clemons, catcher, and the holdout of Third Baseman Milton Stock. Three youngsters, Vick, Niebergall and Holm, are bidding for places in the catching department.

The Cincinnati Reds will open the championship season at home with exactly the same team which went through last year and finished in second place, except that the pitching staff, has been strengthened by the addition of Carl Mays, former star of the Yankees Jake ;May, crack southpaw from the Coast League and om Sheehan, from St. Paul, leading pitcher of all minor leagues last season.

Philadelphia Entries

On the eve of the opening of big league baseball, the Philadelphia managers are reported to be looking forward with confidence to the coming campaign. Connie Mack is hopeful of a first division berth, while Arthur Fletcher, is certain that his team will emerge from the cellar.

Speaking of the Athletics, Mack said: "My team is much stronger this year and I look forward to staying in the race from start to finish. Our bigegst problem is in the pitching box and if the hurlers come through as I expect them we will fool some of the critics."

Fletcher also is optimistic. "During the winter we have made a few changes that helped a lot," he said, "and now are ready to go out and do our best in the National League race."

Boxer Dies From Exertion of Ring

WILMINGTON, N.C., April 14.— (Canadian Press). — Pal Moore, 21 years old, featherweight boxer in Wrightsboro, died Saturday as the result of over-exertion in a fight Friday night with Ralph Varn, of Wilmington.

The injured fighter collapsed in his dressing room after leaving the ring and was hurried to a hospital, where he lapsed into consciousness. Attending physicians stated that death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage, caused by over-exertion.

A coroner's jury exonerated his opponent.

Moore was beaten in the contest, but kept on his feet to the finish, although groggy in the final rounds.

THISTLES WON FRIENDLY GAME.

Opened the Season With 4 to 0 Against Woollens.

The opening of the soccer season took place on Saturday afternoon when the Canadian Woollens and Thistle participated in a "friendly" game which resulted in a four goal win for the "jags."

Both teams showed many new faces in their line-up, and was very gratifying to note that two junior players, Warde, late De Laval and Curtiss, C.P.C. made a successful debut into senior circles. The play opened up at a fast pace with each team concentrating in long swinging passes that gave the half-backs an opportunity to show their calibre. Eventualy an individual effort by Melville left the Woollens' defence closing up on their goal, but an accurate pass by the outside right gave Pattison the honor of scoring. Thereafter, the Woollens made many attempts to score but their parting shots were lacking sting also wide of the mark. Half time—Thistle 1, Woollens 0.

Half Time.

After the customary interval, each team changed the position of some of the players which did not improve the play. With only nine minutes gone, Burgess and A. Williams initiated an attack on Woollens defence. The outside left tested Hillman who saved smartly but he was not ready for the fast drive from Dawson, right away, to increase the score. A few minutes later, T. Williams retired with a sprained ankle. Immediately afterward McPhail and Melville worked their way into goal, slipped the ball forward to Pattison who touched it back to A. Williams who gave Hillman no chance to save.

For the rest of the play, the Woollens controlled the play until close upon goal and then they could not score. During the last ten minutes, Chambers changed places with Hillman in goal without notifying the referee and as soon as he handled the ball a penalty was given against him. Melville socred. Thistle 4, Woollens 0.

Goal scorers — Melville 2, Dawson and A. Williams.

Canadian Woolllens — Hillman, goal; Warde and Chambers, backs; Quinn, Read and Sawyers, half-backs; Mitchell, Haskill, Wyllie, Monkman and Downes, forwards.

Thistle—Curtiss, goal; Rae and Richmond, backs; McPhail, Dawson and McBeth, half-backs; Melville, T. Williams, Pattison, A. Williams and Burgess, forwards.

Referee—J. Mitchell.

SUNDERLAND LOST BUT STILL LEAD DIVISION

Arsenal Scintillated In Victory of 2-0 — West Bromwich Scored Five Goals in Sixteen Minutes — Weather Militated Against Attendance.

LONDON, April 14. — Canadian Press Cable. — Frequent hail storms high winds and muddy grounds were a considerable handicap to the League football games on Saturday, and had a restrictive effect upon the gates. With the exception of twenty thousand at the Liverpool-Middlesboro match, won by the former three to one, and eighteen thousand each at the West Ham-Arsenal match the gates were unusually poor.

Arsenal won against Sunderland 2 to 0, and their play was an amazing revelation of science, while Sunderland figured as if they were the last team on the list for relegation. They however sadly missed Buchan, who was playing in the International England-Scotland game, and was replaced by Rodgers. This player nervously foozled several free gifts.

A bad defence was responsible for the rout of Tottenham by 5 to 2 at the hands of Everton. The Spurs' goalkeeper and backs were all at fault. Cardiff outplayed Burnley by two to nothing on merit. The first half was without a goal. West Bromwich scored the whole of their five goal tally against Notts County in sixteen minutes after the interval and the collapse of Notts was shown by the fact that they could not score a single goal in reply.

Chelsea fell easy victims to Newcastle by 2 to 1 in spite of the fact that the Newcastle team had only four of their cup tie team playing.

Second Division.

In the Second Division Manchester United with a reorganized team made rings around Crystal Palace. Spence, their centre forward, scored four of his team's five goals, while Palace's only goal was obtained when Manchester United goalkeeper, put the ball into his own nets. Bristol City and Old Ham played a goalless draw but the former only failed to beat Old Ham through lack of markmanship. Fulham and Clapton who also played a draw without scoring, could not attribute this result to want of effort because both goalkeepers were kept continually busy and the game produced many thrills.

In the Luton-Norwich game won by the former 2 to 1, the old professional player Butcher was ordered off the field after a mix-up with the former Tottenham player Banks. The latter left the field for repairs, but later returned, whereas Luton was compelled to finish with one man short.

Shadow of Tragedy.

Portsmouth, who were defeated by Northampton by three to one, played without spirit and seemed to be under the shadow of the tragic end of Gilchrist, their promising reserve player who dropped dead in a midweek friendly match. All four of the goals were scored within eighteen minutes of the finish of the game.

The Brighton and Hove match against Swindon ended in a tie at 1 all when Davies for Swindon went right through the Brighton team without opposition and even surprised the goal keeper whom he beat with a fast low shot.

Sunderland Head.

Although defeated by Arsenal Sunderland still head the first division table by a single point from Huddersfield and Cardiff, who are respectively second and third. Bolton drops into fourth place with the next five standings unchanged. West Ham's victory by 3 to 1 over Preston North End advances them to tenth place and they are followed by Birmingham, Notts County, Liverpool and Manchester. West Bromwich's defeat of Notts County puts the former club above Tottenham and Burnley. Preston North End drop below Nott's Forest and Arsenal on to the brink of the relegation precipice, although the impotence of Chelsea and Middlesboro, at the absolute bottom of the table, may save them from that fate.

In the second division, Leeds United and Bury remain leaders, but Derby drops to fifth position below Blackpool and Stoke. The next five clubs are unaltered. Clapton Orient rise to the eleventh position above The Wednesday and Barnsley, who are followed by Manchester United. Bradford, Coventry and Crystal Palace. Port Vale displace Rull while the last three are unaltered.

Third Division.

Both the leaders in the Southern and Northern sections of the Third Division are reposed, Rochdale ousting Wolverhampton, and Millwall taking the place from Portsmouth. The defeat of the latter was surprising and may lose them promotion although they are still two points ahead of Brighton and Swansea.

Plymouth and Northampton positions are unchanged but Luton displaces Swindon and they are followed by Bristol, Nesport and Charlton, the latter team rising to eleventh place above Gillingham and Norwich who in turn are followed by Aberdare, Merthyr, Exeter, South End and Brentford, with the last four unchanged.

In the Northern Section, Rochdale heads the table followed by Wolverhampton unchanged. Southport drops below Ashington and Wigan, while Grimsby's victory by three to nothing over Darlington carries them into tenth position, followed by Accrington, Halifax, Doncaster, Walsall and Wrexham with the remaining seven unchanged.

UNITED STATES TENNIS SQUADS

Tilden Heads Both Davis Cup and Olympic Teams In Spite of Rule Against Player-Writers.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Selection of players who will represent the United States in international court competition, this season was announced yesterday by the Davis Cup Committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

The Committee picked four men and four women stars for the first organized attempt this country has ever made to lift Olympic laurels, and departing radically from previous custom, named a "Davis Cup squad" of 15 ranking stars from whom the defenders of the international team trophy will be drawn.

William T. Tilden, II., of Philadelphia, national champion, heads both the Olympic team and Davis Cup selections in spite of the prospect that the Olympic player-writer rule bars him from competing at Paris. His Olympic team-mates are Vincent Richards, of Yonkers, who also faces the player-writer barrier; Watson M. Washburn of New York and R. Morris Williams II., of Philadelphia. Williams was named captain and Washburn alternate leader.

The women's Olympic team is composed of Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley, Cal., national champion; Miss Eleanor Goss, of New York; Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup, of Wilmington, Del; and Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman of Boston, who will act as captain.

The Davis Cup Committee explained that it had considered the player-writer rule thoroughly and, while admitting it might bar both Tilden and Richards, pointed out that in inviting them to join the team, it was stipulated they must, if the invitation be accepted, conform to such interpretation of the Olympic Committee rule as shall be made by the Davis Cup Committee.

The Davis Cup squad is composed of Tilden, Williams, Fisher and Wallace Johnson, of Philadelphia; Wm. M. JoJhnson, Robert and Howard Kinsey, and Clarence Griffin of San Francisco; Richards, Hunter, Washburn, Dr. George King, Frank T. Anderson and Hugh Kelleher, of New York; and Harvey Snodgrass, of Los Angeles. If their play warrants, others may be added to this list.

O.H.A. MODEL FOR QUEBEC HOCKEY

Clubs Are Grouped As In Ontario to Prevent Harmful Competition Where Number of Players Is Limited.

MONTREAL, April 14.— A new plan looking towards the raising of the standard of amateur hockey in this province was submitted by E. J. C. Winch, president of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association at the meeting of that body here Saturday. Under this plan, clubs would enter the association as clubs only, and would be grouped by the association according to the system at present practised by the Ontario Hockey Association. This would enable the authorities to prevent the operation of too many clubs in districts where the number of hockey players is limited. Clubs already operating in a given district would be protected from harmful competition by being given the right to decide whether or not a new league could be accommodated in their district. Clubs in districts where the formation of a group is impractical or impossible would be accepted to membership and given permission to play exhibition games with association members during the season and allowed to play in the eliminations for the various provincial championships.

The details of the plan will be drawn up by a committee composed of President Finch, W. R. Granger and T. Fuller. This committee will also revise the constitution of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association.

First Labor Budget Forecast By Speaker.

LONDON, April 14. — Canadian Press. — The first official forecast of the first budget of the Labor government was given in a speech at Loughborough by Albert Victor Alexander, Secretary of the Board of Trade, when he declared that the British people were "likely to see a reduction in the taxation on foodstuffs. The allusion is believed to refer to the duty on tea and sugar.

Everybody is preparing for a lapsing of the McKenna duties, which include 33 per cent. tax on motor cars, pianos, watches, etc., which incidently carry imperial preference.

J. M. McHARDY, Manager

TRAVELLERS to "one-day towns" find they can sell by Long Distance to many stores in small surrounding villages where there is no railroad connection.

One of them, who added over 100 new accounts in a few months, tells us of his method.

"I get a car and call on each of them once, explaining my plan and leaving a card that reads:—

Best & Co. of Deepdale are hereby authorized to telephone Grand Supply Co., Springville, for the purpose of placing orders, the amount of the telephone charge to be deducted from our invoice.

(Signed) John Doe,

Simply ask for Springville 2163. Arrangements have been made to give special attention to telephone orders.

Investigation proves that in certain lines there is a surprising number of such customers whose trade can be readily picked up. They appreciate dealing with headquarters. They like to telephone in their orders direct.

ALFRED RICHARDS GETS YEAR GAOL

Pleaded Guilty to Serious Offence in Asphodel Township.

Alfred Richards, 21, of Asphodel, was charged with attempted rape on a girl under 14 years of age, and was sentenced this morning to not less than one year and not more than two years in the Ontario Reformatory. He pleaded guilty and was not represented by counsel.

Richards said he came here from Windsor. His father had put him in a Toronto home because he did not want him any more. The alleged offence took place on Saturday against an Asphodel girl of 11.

"This is the kind of crime that has to be wiped out," Magistrate Langley said. "It is treated in all British countries with a great deal of severity."

ANOTHER LIQUOR CHARGE.

A seventh name was added to the list of young men awaiting trial on various O. T. A. charges when a charge was laid this morning of bartering or trafficking. All of these cases will be heard on Thursday morning.

Three further charges of subornation of perjury were heard to-day, one against James Newell with respect to procuring Albert Hinds and two against a sister of Newell's. The accused were bailed for trial before His Honor Judge Hoycke and a jury.

Several warrants were taken out by W. H. Buller, Inland Revenue officer, and others.

PERMITS CLIMB STEADILY HERE

Thirty-one Have Been Issued, Valued at $39,012—No Reason for Pessimism.

With the taking out of building permits valued at $39,012 during the first twelve working days of April there seems to be no room for the hard times stories bandied from mouth to mouth by some in the city. With thirty-one distinct and separate pieces of work going forward in the city as against 45 in the entire month last year, there would seem to be no cause for despair.

Five dwelling-houses are included in the list, two of them last week. These are being erected at 150 Benson Avenue, for H. Dummitt, and on Wolfe Street for B. Lucas, valued at $2,800 and $2,500 respectively. Garages are being erected as follows: 171 Aylmer Street, George Robertson; 675 Water Street, John W. Hall; 258 Prince Street, H. W. Ballard. Peterboro Milk Products Co. is making a brick extension, 36 feet by 31, to be used as a cheese room, at a cost of $1,000. The Utilities Commission is erecting an office and workshop for the waterworks department at a cost of $13,000. This will be built on the property adjacent to the new substation on Aylmer Street to house the department that is ousted from its Hunter Street office by J. E. A. Fitzgerald's purchase of the property.

Alterations, including a new verandah and porch at 299 Rubidge Street, costing $225, and building a passage at the Peterboro Club at a cost of $75, make up the total of $19,950 for the last five days of last week.

Painters and decorators are busy, as usual at this time of year, but notice a tendency to smaller contracts. They report that quite a number of people had their painting done in winter and this relieved the spring rush to some extent.

DRAW FOR WILSHUR

HALIFAX, N. S. April 14.—Roy Chisholm of Halifax and Curly Wilshur of Toronto, lightweights, boxed ten rounds to a draw, according to Referee Neil's decision in a local theatre here Saturday night. The Toronto boy lacked the reach, height and weight of the local youth, but proved the cleverer of the two and in the opinion of many of the spectators should have been awarded the decision.

AT THE ROYAL

ANOTHER WOMAN'S PICTURE AT THE ROYAL

Woman is rising again to startle the world! She is battering down the walls of her centuries-old prison and is plunging against the might of popular custom and usage. In America she sits in the seats of the senate and on the benches of the courts; in England she is ranked amongst the leaders in parliament; in France she plows the fields and in Russia there will live forever the memory of the women who died in war—the members of the famous Battalion of Death.

But it is not a sudden modern thought that impels the women of to-day to reach out for greater lives. It is instinct. They have dreamed of careers since the days when Amazonian women ruled and fought—and their men were merely husbands

But success in public life comes at a price. To look upon it a woman must turn her eyes away from love and motherhood — yes, and almost from womanhood itself. Arms that are heaped with laurel wreaths have no room for children. So a woman can have a public life, or she can have a private life. But she cannot have both.

Such is the underlying thought of "Bright Lights of Broadway," the latest B. F. Ziedman production, the powerful screen drama which is shown at the Royal Theatre now. The girl of its story is in love with music and dreams of a stage career; and, too, she cherishes dreams of love. She attempts to cling with one hand to her career and with the other to her love—and thus she struggles until her most dramatic awakening.

New York, the great metropolis, with its turrets spiking the skies, built upon success, —and Broadway, bleached by a million lights the street of a thousand stories is the background of this gripping heart-drama which starts in Green Vale, a small town in the upper part of New York State.

Its most excellent cast is headed by Lowell Sherman, Doris Kenyon and Harrison Ford, and in their support are seen Edmund Breese, Tyrone Power, Effie Shannon and Charles Murray.

It is said to abound in heart interest and suspense, and to culminate in a climax which has seldom been equalled in the realm of the silent drama.

AT THE GRAND

"BRINGING UP FATHER."

"Bringing Up Father on Broadway," a musical comedy built around Geo. McManus' cartoon strip hero "Jiggs" Mahoney, visited the Grand early this season, and the same production but with a different company was seen here on Saturday. The latest version was probably a little better balanced than that offered by the first company, William McRobie making a very successful "Jiggs," while Alice Dudley was just as formidable as the cartoon "Maggie" ever looked. Thos. J. Barrett was an effective "Dinty Moore." There was plenty of comedy features and a big programme of musical numbers, the best singing being done by Margaret Shelby, whose fine soprano voice was used to good advantage. The old favorite, "Stand Up and Sing," was a feature as was the "March of the Wooden Soldiers," by the chorus.

RUTH ST. DENIS WITH TED SHAWN AND THE DENISHAWN DANCERS

Ruth St. Denis Plans Something New —A Synchoric Orchestra

"Music visualizations" form part of the programme which Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn Dancers who will be at the Grand to-night. And yet, successful as this portion of the performance has been everywhere this season, the famous dancer has a plan much more ambitious than this—an actual visualization of an entire symphony, with every instrument represented by a dancer on the stage—in other words, a "synchoric orchestra."

In a recent interview in "The Boston Post," Miss St. Denis gave details of this scheme, and they are so extraordinary and so interesting that they bear repeating.

"I have already made the experiment in California," she said. "The composition chosen was Schubert's 'Unfinished Symphony,' the score of 60 girls and placed them on a large stage and every girl was clothed in draperies of a different shade. One girl represented the drum. If you like, you can imagine that she was rather—well—er—stout. Another girl, a blonde perhaps, represented the piano. Yet another, picked for having a slightly different figure, was the clarinet, and so on and soon, until each of the 60 girls was on the stage and instructed as to what instrument she represented in the orchestra below.

"Then came the colors. Each girl, in addition to being an instrument, had to be clothed in a color that suited the instrument. There was black for the drummer, pink for the clarinet, mauve for the cornet, and so on through the whole gamut of colors.

"Now, the synchoric orchestra being ready, the conductor in the pit raises his baton and the real orchestra begins the theme. The drums roll—and so does the girl on the stage who represents the drum. The violin wails—and is followed by the violin girl taking a dejected attitude. And so it goes: the instruments swing into the measures of the score and on the stage we have flapping violins, leaping 'cellos, crawling flutes, sliding trombones, dancing cornets. We have a weaving heaven of color, encompassed by music.

"Some day, and before long, I want to try the experiment again and in a public performance. It will involve tremendous expense, of course, but so great has been our success this season, and so enthusiastic our public, that I feel that a real renaissance of the dance is now in progress, and that dancing, as we know it, is but in its infancy."

AT THE CAPITOL

"I WILL REPAY IS FAMOUS SCARLET PIMPERNEL ROMANCE

Of all the romances that have poured from the pens of fiction writers in recent years it is safe to say that none have had more numerous or more delighted readers than the Scarlet Pimpernel series by Baroness Orczy.

The dashing adventures of the League of the Scarlet Pimpernel, banded together to save the doomed, have been a modern counterpart of the deeds of the Age of Chivalry—but shorn of the heaviness of the medieval knights, and sparkling with a romance that age never knew.

No one can say how many millions of readers—from London to Quebec, and from Bombay to New York—these lively stories have had.

Baroness Orczy's letter bag bulges with letters from eager and admiring lovers of her books, in all parts of the world, and it is safe to say that each publication conjures up an army of purchasers at the bookstalls, or borrowers at the libraries.

Several of them have been staged and re-staged again and again. And now perhaps the best of them all—"I Will Repay"—has been adapted to the screen at the Capitol today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The film captures all the thrills and romances of the original story, and displayed by a brilliant cast which includes such popular artists as Flora Le Breton, Pedro de Cordoba and Holmes Herbert.

When the onlooker is not absorbed in its excitement—which is very seldom—he is lost in admiration for the lavishness and beauty of the production—some of the scenes were taken at Beauvais, the French town made famous as the place where Marshal Foch was entrusted with the Allied Command.

"I Will Repay" is seven reels of sheer enjoyment. Nobody should miss it.

EXCELLENT MUSICAL ACT IS VAUDEVILLE AT CAPITOL, TODAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

Dwan and Murray, two clever girls possessing musical talent of an exceptional high order, will appear at the Capitol Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday, offering their selected programme of songs and piano selections. This offering is expected to measure up with any act seen in Peterboro' this season, and will please the discriminating patrons of the Capitol Theatre.

STAN LAUREL IN NEWEST COMEDY AT CAPITOL TODAY

"Smithy" is the title of Stan Laurel's newest and best comedy which comes to the Capitol Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday. In this comedy, the noted comedian pulls some brand new stuff that will be greeted by solid roars of laughter and is certain to drive away the blues.

AT THE REGENT

KEATON TRIUMPHS IN GREAT PICTURE.

"Three Ages" Three Times As Funny and As Big As His Old Successes.

The first feature length comedy, "Three Ages," to be made with Buster Keaton as the star, is the best work of this ingenious young comedian. "Three Ages," now playing at the Regent Theatre, is replete with laughs and thrills and establishes Keaton permanently in big full length feature comedies.

In "Three Ages" Buster springs with agility from side splitting exposition of life as it was in the cave man era to an hilarious explanation of life as it was in the brilliant reign of triumphant Rome. From Rome he carries us forward to our own age where he enjoys himself in a keen satire of the modern world never losing sight, however, of the humorous, the pathetic, the uproarious touches with which modern life is full.

"Three Ages" has a cast of more than two thousand people in several of the massive scenes staged in a duplication of the age-old Colosseum in Rome. This Colosseum set is said to have cost a huge sum and is the largest set ever constructed for a motion picture comedy. With Buster Keaton in the cast is also Margaret Leahy, an English beauty, and Wallace Beery, as the inevitable villain. There are also Joe Roberts, Lillian Lawrence and Horace 'Cupid' Morgan.

"Three Ages" was directed by Keaton and Eddie Cline from the story by Jean Havez, Joe Mitchell and Clyde Bruckman. Fred Gabouri is credited with the fine art direction. It was photographed by William McGann and Elgin Lessly. "Three Ages" is a Joseph M. Schenck presentation through Metro.

NEW TRAIN SERVICE TO CHICAGO

An announcement of unusual interest to all who have occasion to visit Chicago and cities farther west, has been made by the management of Canadian National Railways.

In addition to the already complete Canadian National Railways service operating from Toronto to Chicago there will be inaugurated on April 27th a new observation sleeping car service leaving Toronto daily at 11.45 p.m, arriving Chicago next day at 2.50 p.m. Central time.

Besides providing a most convenient leaving time, this new service is highly attractive in its time of arrival By using it passengers bound for points west of the Illinois metropolis will have ample time for business or pleasure in Chicago, and still make all connections for Western points that same evening.

POISON MISTAKEN FOR MEDICINE KILLS MAN

BOSTON, April 14. Canadian Press—Two glasses of a deadly poison, mistaken for a harmless family remedy and mixed for headache relief, were at the lips of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Bander yesterday, when their eight months old baby commenced to cry. Mrs. Bander set down her glass and went to the child. Her husband drained his and within fifteen minutes later he was dead. He had taken the supposed medicine in error from an open package of unmarked poison.

OBJECT TO CLOSING OF FRENCH SCHOOLS

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—(Canadian Press.)—French representative here has presented to Turkish authorities a note protesting closure of 36 French schools attended by 12,900 pupils. The note states that very grave consequences may result from this "violation of Angora agreement and Treaty of Lausanne."

Dispatches on Saturday said the Allied governments had presented a collective note of protest against the closing of school maintained by non-Turkish groups in Turkey, under a recently enacted law.

THIEVES ENTER LINDSAY HOMES

Four Watches and Other Jewellery Taken Saturday Night.

LINDSAY, April 14—Sneak thieves were active in Lindsay on Saturday night, when three residences were entered during the absence of the owners. In each case the thieves were after money and valuables. They carried off four watches, a stick-pin and watch fob from the home of Mr. Fred. Simmons, and turned things upside down in the residence of Mr. Fred. Rylott and Mr. J. Taylor. Nothing of value was taken, however. A number of suspicious characters were seen on the C. N. R. tracks on Sunday, and were believed to be heading for Peterboro.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—I find in reading the "Voice of the People" column a close shave between "Val Bona," and "Non-Coinatibus in Swampo," my conclusion is that they are both in the swamp; for when anybody has anything to say on a subject such as Prohibition, let them say it and then have manhood to father it. Now as a Prohibitionist and a Prohibitionist for the sake of others, I sign myself as W. H. Merrell.

WEST END Y.M.C.A. WON EASTERN CHAMPIONSHIP

TORONTO, April 14. — Before the biggest crowd that has ever seen a basketball game in Toronto, the West End Y.M.C.A. won the Eastern Canadian Championship, by defeating the Montreal A.A.A. team, 46-16, thus giving them the round by 69-42.

This makes the second consecutive year the West End have won the championship.

The game was more interesting than the score would indicate, but was far from the best basketball that has been seen here this year. The players were too much 'on edge' to play their best.

NAMES OMITTED.
In the list given The Examiner of names of members of the Female Voice Choir, in connection with the concert on Friday evening last in Victoria Hall, inadvertent omission was made of the names of Mrs. Fisher, Miss Parkins, and Miss A. Crary. The melodion for solo dances was played by Mr. R. Gilmour, and additional members of the orchestra which provided dance music were Messrs. R. Allen and Deracuese.

GRENFELL MISSION.....
Those interested in the work of the Grenfell Mission in the wilds of Labrador, are reminded that they may still send in their subscriptions. The work is carried on by self-sacrificing and courageous men and women among the needy fisher folk along the Labrador Coast and they need all the support that can possibly be given them. The membership in the association is only $2 and carries with it a subscription to the Association magazine, "Among the Deep Sea Fishers," which tells in a most interesting way of the activities by which the workers in Labrador are doing what they can to alleviate the hardships of those who gain a precarious living on that rocky coast. Subscriptions may be sent to the Examiner or to Mrs. F. M. Somerville, 16 Inverlea strett.

MISSION BAND TEA.
The Mission Band of the Mark street Methodist church, held a very dainty tea, with a sale of home-made cooking and fancy and useful articles, on Saturday afternoon, in the Sunday school room. The sale which was well attended and successful, showed some very pretty things, in fancy and useful handiwork, and was opened by Mrs. R. J. Kidd, who made a brief and pleasing little speech, commending the work of the Mission Band, and giving a description of an Oriental bazaar. The sum of $52 was realized from the tea and sale, much of the work for which was done by the small members of the band themselves. Ladies who helped the leader, Mrs. R. Bamforth, included Mesdames Weir, Record, Throop, Morton, Matchett and Sucee. Decorations were carried out in dainty fashion in Easter colors of mauve, yellow and white.

A complete skeleton of a saber-tooth tiger has been discovered in the thousands of bones in the fossil pits of Rancho La Brea near Los Angeles.

In Episcopal countries, such as England, the only church days which are regular legal holidays, aside from Christmas, are Good Friday, Easter Monday and Whit-Monday.

The Gregorian calendar was adopted by Japan in 1873, by the Chinese Republic in 1812, by the Turkish parliament in 1917, by Soviet Russia in 1918, by Rumania in 1919 and by Greece in 1923.

FORMER PROVINCIAL TREASURER

000 less $25 paid to Mrs. Smith and $25 to Peter Smith's brother. This sum was a cheque of $4,000 from the Jarvis firm in Toronto. On July 29, there was an item of $1,500 in three $500 bills. Mr. Price pointed out that $1,500 had been paid in commission to Mr. Mason at the Home Bank on July 28th, the day before deposit in Stratford. On November 6, there was $1,000 deposited and on December 6th, $500 in one five hundred dollar bill. About this time there was a cheque at the Home Bank of $1,500 charged to expense account there, said Mr. Price.

Further evidence by Mr. Nash indicated deposits of large sums at various times during 1922 and 1923. A few large deposits were made in 1921. The total of the deposits made in Mr. Smith's account, according to Mr. Price, showed $18,000 in legals, and $26,000 in other forms of currency, from December, 1919, until October, 1923.

At various times in 1920 sums were deposited in "coupons," apparently bond coupons. Some of these were payable in New York funds. Deposits of a similar character were made in the two ensuing years. Witness said that Mr. Smith's account was very active in the four years. He found the former treasurer's salary cheque credited in the bank almost every month, without exception.

The amounts in the coupon interest, he said, if they were taken from 5½ per cent. bonds, would represent bonds to the value of sixty or seventy thousand dollars.

On August 30, 1919, Mr. Smith had a balance in the bank of $35.59.

The highest credit during the four years' period since was eleven thousand dollars, as money was continually being drawn out.

Mr. Nash said there were indications that Mr. Smith also had an account in the bank of Nova Scotia.

On motion of J. L. Currie, Mr. Nash was instructed to look up the account in the Bank of Nova Scotia.

G. L. McHattie, manager of the Stratford barnch of the Bank of Toronto, said that he had never handled legal tender in Stratford before Hon. Peter Smith brought in seven one thousand dollar bills, late in 1919. Witness said the March 3, 1920, item was a note from A. H. Peppal to Peter Smith for $6250. He said that he had met Mr. Peppal at Mr. Smith's live stock sale. Mr. McHattie said that he had seen Mr. Smith a couple of times recently as the former Provincial Treasurer wanted to see his deposit slips and check up. Witness said he did not know where the legals came from. He knew Mr. Smith as an upright and honorable man.

NEW WORD IS WIDELY ADOPTED

Leading Cigarette Manufacturer Coins "Buyword" — Also Conducts Cash Prize Contests.

It is stated on the very best of authority that the latest edition of the Standard Dictionary will contain many new and strange words, associated with both fact and theory.

Strangest of all the words, however, is one which has been coined and made familiar to the Canadian reading public by the manufacturer of Strollers Cigtrettes.

By means of widespread publicity of the phrase "Just Say Gimme," this progressive Canadian industry has popularized a selling slogan which probably carries a good will valuation running into millions of dollars.

"Just Say Gimme," the Strollers "buyword", is probably the most-spoken phrase in Canada to-day. Constant repetition in the leading newspapers from coast to coast has made it one of the famous advertising slogans of Canada.

During the recent Strollers Contest which comes to a close with the appearance of the large contest sheet advertisement in this paper, the words "Just Say Gimme" have been spoken tens of thousands of times alone.

Hundreds and hundreds of people have been saving pictures of movie stars which are inserted in packages of Strollers and with the climax of the contest within the next few days the mails will be loaded with sheets bearing "the answer to the clues" directed to the office of the Tobacco Products Corporation of Canada Limited, at Hamilton, Ontario.

The judging of the sheets in this cash prize contest will take place immediately, at the Head Office of "Strollers" and announcement of the winners will be made in this paper at an early date.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT GEORGE STREET

The services yesterday in connection with the Newton Jones mission at George street church were of outstanding interest to all. The congregations were large and the interest most intense throughout.

The morning sermon was an exposition of the twenty-third Psalm. With insight and power the preacher dwelt on point after point of its teaching. No one in trouble or sorrow could fail to be greatly helped by the comforting and strengthening influences of the hour.

In the afternoon Mr. Jones spoke to the boys of the Sunday school on "Wanted, Recruits." He dwelt specially on the necessity for enlisting in the Christian army and before the afternoon was over many young lives had been dedicated to the higher service.

The evening service was one of great power. The preacher's sermon on "Come, for all things are now ready" sounded wooing note most invitingly. The feast and the guests were in turn discussed, and the urgency of decision brought vividly home to all. The influences of the hour will not soon be forgotten.

To-night Mr. Jones preaches on "A Glorious Note," and to-morrow afternoon at 4.15 gives a chalk talk to children on "God and me." All are invited to these services.

There are more than 37,000,000 active cotton spindles in the textile mills in the United States.

THE IRISH REPUBLIC CONTINUES FUNCTION IN ABSENCE DEVALERA

Article by Acting President of the "Republic" Indicates Trend of Events Since Formation of Free State Government.

(Editor's Note.—What has become of the Irish Republican movement? It is one of the interesting phenomena in Ireland to-day that while the Free State Government is functioning as the successful ruling body, the "Irish Republic also continues to function, under obvious limitations.

Eamonn De Valera, 'President," is imprisoned by the Free State authorities, but Patrick Rutledge, an old-time Sinn Fein leader, is acting in his place. Rutledge is a fugitive—"on the run," as it is called in Iseland. However, he manages to carry on the "Republic," issues decrees and orders, eludes the Free State authorities, and now has written three articles telling the Republicans' side of the situation.

Here is the first of these articles. In presenting them, the United News do so solely because of the interest attached to the subject, and without assuming responsibility for the news.

(By Patrick Rutledge, Acting President of the "Irish Republic." Copyright, 1924, by the United News.)

DUBLIN, April 14. — The policy of Irish Republicans now, as at the time of and since the establishment of the Republic, is, briefly, to maintain and uphold the right of the Irish people to serve reigning dependence.

From this it follows that Republican policy is: "Take every available means to deny the right and oppose the recourse of foreign authority within Ireland.

2—Use every effort to prevent the consummation of partition, the division of Ireland in the separate units of the Free State and Ulster.

3—To secure as elected representatives of the people men and women who will stand by the nations's declared independence and refuse to compromise the nation's right by an oath of allegiance to a foreigner, and acceptance of an authority and dependence imposed by a foreign power.

If returned at the next general election, the Republican Government will administer the resources of the nations in the best interests of the nation, and will take to England, in behalf of the Irish people, an offer of friendship based on the recognition of Ireland's foreign and independence rights. Only by such recognition can a lasting peace between the two countries and internal stability be obtained. While the Free Staters maintain their present submission to the British Empire and refuse recognition the national rights and continue their unjust and repressive tactics towards the Republicans, there can be no co-operation between Republicans and them.

Last April President De Valera put forward proposals on which a genuine peace and co-operation could be secured.

The Free State authorities turned down these proposals. We continued to appeal to them to return to their former allegiance and unite with us in the cause of complete independence. Absolute freedom cannot come through exercise of the Irish rights under the treaty with Great Britain. The treaty represents neither national evolution nor possibility of evolution, but retrogression.

The excuse given by almost all the treaty adherents for its acceptance was that it would be used as a stepping-stone to complete freedom.

But once having renounced their allegiance to the Sovereign Republic, the supporters of the treaty have been driven by their own utter weakness and the weakness of their moral position into acceptance of Imperial and anti-national obligations.

They have renounced all their 'stepping-stone' pledges, the changes in their draft constitution to the demands, the waging of war on the Republicans at the British direction, the use of war equipment supplied by the British War Office, the brutality of the methods used, their ineffectual and ignorant effort to register any, was no treaty with the League of Nations, and subsequent consent to remain a member of that body as a territorial defence appendage of Great Britain, and finally, their slaves' acceptance of immoral commitments at the Imperial Conference, are outstanding examples showing that the Treaty, as I have said, is a retrogression, and has not provided, and in the future will not provide, any evolutionary progress towards freedom.

PAVING PLANT IS BOON TO BRANTFORD COUNCIL

Brantford boasts the success of her public ownership campaign which has been extended to cover a municipally owned asphalt paving plant, as a result of which Brantford leads Ontario cities in lowness of cost of this class of paving.

A concrete mixing plant is run in conjuntion, both machines being under the charge of the city engineer, and the results have been surprising to even the advocates of the development.

In London the cost of a three inch top dressing of asphalt on a concrete base is $3.18 a square yard. In Brantford this is done for $2.65, with full allowance for depreciation and with top wages being paid. Other prices in Ontario cities are Stratford $3.66; Walkerville $3.45; Windsor $4.11. Last year 14,207 square yards of asphalt pavement were laid in Brantford. At London prices this would have cost $8,950 more than it actually did in Brantford.

WEDDING BELLS

BREADMAN—HAMBLIN.

The Salvation Army Temple was the scene of a unique ceremony on Saturday last when Adjt. Smith conducted the wedding of Brother L. Breadman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Breadman, of Peterborough, and Sister M. Hamblin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin, of Lakefield.

Boh are active members of the local corps, the bride being a member of the Songster Brigade and the groom a bandsman of the Temple Band, and a goodly number of the two musical combinations were present, with an interested audience to witness the service.

Adjt. Smith gave some advice to the newly-weds, while Mrs. (Adjt.) Smith and Bandmaster F. W. Robinson offered congratulations and cordial greetings for their future happiness on behalf of the soldiers and friends of the corps and the musical combinations respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Breadman were attended by Mr. and Mrs. M. Shadgett.

The home of the bridegroom, 458 George Street, was the scene of a happy banquet at which forty guests joined in the heartiest of wishes that were extended to the bride and groom, while a joyous send-off on the honeymoon trip to Toronto was witnessed at the C.N.R. Station. On their return to the city they will reside at 458 George Street.

BUDGET DESIGNED TO KEEP GOVERNMENT IN OFFICE SAYS DRAYTON

Financial Critic of Opposition Asserted in Opening Budget Debate That the Implement Factories Had Been Sacrificed — Western Canada Is Through With High Tariffs, Declared J. F. Johnston, Chief Whip of Progressive Party — Would Remove Element of Protection.

INDUSTRY AT THE CROSS ROADS

OTTAWA, April 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Debate on the Budget opened in the House of Commons Monday, members of all three parties contributing. Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance in the Meighen Administration, who opened, declared that the Government had adopted towards the tariff a policy of attrition.

"Why," he exclaimed, "this Budget shows that the Government cares nothing about business or industrial stability." The Government was concerned chiefly in maintaining its stability in office. Farm implement factories would be handed over to the United States at a sacrifice.

"The Budget is one for the many and not for the favored few," asserted Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in reply. The Budget had not been created for the West; its fiscal departures would be accepted largely throughout the Dominion.

Then came a Progressive point of view. J. F. Johnson, chief Progressive whip thought the announced reduction in net debt of thirty millions very encouraging; the Budget proposals should bring considerable relief to the taxpayers. Western Canada was through with high tariffs. And Mr. Johnson urged that the Government should press forward until the protective element was removed.

Extraneous Credits

Sir Henry Drayton, financial critic of the opposition said that he was afraid that it was futile for the country to congratulate itself that there was a substantial diminution in the national debt. The surplus reported by the minister on the year's accounts was twenty million. Then there was a salvage of $2,600,000 obtained by settling our accounts with the British government and there was a further sum of $1,200,000 of old credits which had been taken into the balance of Mr. Robb. Some of these old credits were of very old standing. None of them nor the salvage upon our settlement with Great Britain belonged properly to the accounts of the past year.

Matter of Book-keeping

The feat of writing off thirty millions of the debt one year, after having had a deficit of thirty-one millions the previous year, was "just a mere matter of book-keeping," said Sir Henry. "It simply comes about by taking that fifty million which it had raised for railway purposes as not affecting a debt one way or another."

Speaking of the Canadian National Railways, Sir Henry said, we went behind each year the exact amount that was put into the railway. Though the minister of finance has stated that there was a "substantial" amount of the fifty million invested in the Canadian National Railways still left, Sir Henry believed he would be lucky if there was as much as eighteen million of the sum remaining. Only one small bit of capital work was being carried on by the Canadian National just now. The twilight zone between betterment and maintenance in railway operations absorbed much of the capital expenditure. He believed that there should be an operating revenue from the Canadian National Railways of fifty million dollars this year The system was charged up on the books at a figure far greater than its actual value.

Agriculture Not Helped

The government had adopted a policy of attrition toward the tariff, declared Sir Henry. For the past two years it had been "nibbling" at the tariff. "Who is helped?" he asked. "Who can honestly say that agriculture has received the slightest benefit from the tariff reductions which have been made in the past?"

He insisted that agriculture had not been injured. The policy of tariff nibbling had helped no one in Canada except those persons occupying the treasury benches. It had also helped the American manufacturer who exported goods to the Canadian market.

"More than half the men who should be employed in the agriculture implement industry of Canada are idle or working in the United States," Sir Henry maintained.

Factories Sacrificed

If Quebec members were interested in the industrial welfare of their province, and in keeping the Quebec workmen at home they would feel compelled to vote against the budget and in the interests of their country. Thousands of industrial workers had left Quebec for the United States. If members from the province of Quebec still maintain their faith in the Laurier-Fielding tariff they would feel obliged to oppose the budget.

No real betterment had been obtained for the western farmer by any of the tariff reductions. Out of the twenty-our million which the government hoped to save the tax payers, only $750,000 would be due to savings on customs, the balance would be on the sales tax. Industry was at the cross roads to-day. Industry did not know what changes will be made upon it is the future.

Adverse Trade Balance

The great trouble added Sir Henry was that no one knew what the next political exigency would bring. If the government instead of being influenced by political views, had done what the good of the country demanded, it would have examined the trade returns for the last four years and observed the tremendous balance in favor of the United States and against Canada. In view of increased duties by the United States further lower to the Canadian tariff practically amounted to a betrayal of interests in this country. Just so long as prohibitive tariffs were met with cuts in the Canadian tariff, just so long would prohibitive tariffs continue.

Sir Henry insisted that the sales tax was not being collected. He insisted that the budget did nothing whatever for labor. The steel plate industry, the window glass industry and the woollen industry were left without assistance. The government was concerned with other things so Canadian woollen workers could continue to move across to the United States.

Hon Chas Stewart

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in opening expressed his regrets that the absence of Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, upon which Mr. Meighen interjected "hear, hear."

For those who believed in a reduction of taxation, continued Mr. Stewart, the present budget went a long way in accord with their desire. He trusted that the budget did mean the death knell of protection, though he did no wish to have the tariff abolished entirely. Sir Henry Drayton had said that the budget did nothing for the workers but he forgot that protection had borne very heavily upon those engaged in agriculture and the other industries to which assistance was given by the present budget, a section of the people who numbered five and a half million out of the whole population. It had been said that the ultimate hope of the agriculturists was the home market, but if that were the case, a still greater number

C.N.R. Radio Service Cost $90,000 a Year

OTTAWA, April 15. — The sum of $26,000 of which approximately $18,000 covers the cost of the erection of the broadcasting station at Ottawa, has been spent by the Canadian National Railway management on the installation of radio equipment to date.

Answering a question by Sam Charters (Conservative, Peel), in the House of Commons Monday afternoon, Hon. George P. Graham, stated that the estimated cost of operation of the radio department for the present fiscal year is $90,000. W. H. Swift, Jr., is the director of the radio service.

"What salary does he receive?" asked Mr. Charles.

"The management does not consider it desirable in the interests of the Canadian National Railways to publish the salary," was the reply.

ALIENIST SAYS THAW IS SANE

At First Session of Jury Trial to Determine Whether the Slayer of Standford White Has Regained His Normal Faculties

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—Harry K. Thaw was declared sane and competent to manage his affairs Monday by Dr. Charles K. Mills, veteran alienist, in testimony at the opening of the jury trial to determine whether Thaw has regained his normal faculties.

Thaw's 82-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, who joined in the petition for the trial, was in the courtroom when Dr. Mills made his assertion.

The trial was marked by the intervention of William Russell Thaw, thirteen-year-old son of Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's divorced wife, which was permitted after Judge Monaghan had appointed one of Miss Nesbit's counsel as guardian for the boy. Anticipatory interest in Thaw's estate was given as the basis for the intervention.

Counsel for the trustees of the Thaw estate, in questioning Dr. Mills, revealed that records of the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases, where Thaw has been confined since 1917, show that Thaw kept a number of pet rabbits there, which he was reported at various times to have slapped, thrown around, and even bitten until they squealed in pain.

Dr. Mills said he did not think such conduct unusual. "He treated pets as some people treat them," was the alienist's comment.

QUEBEC HAS RICH MINERAL INDUSTRY

The Metallic Resources Are Immense and Quebec's Future Will be Much Brighter.

QUEBEC, April 15. — (Canadian Press.)—"There is not a single geological reason why each and all of the world famous mining camps, such as those of Kirkland Lake, Porcupine and Sudbury, should not be duplicated almost anywhere in the 650,000 square miles of the Quebec Laurentian plateau which stretches from the Ottawa and St. Lwarnce rivers to Hudson Strait."

This statement was made at the luncheon of the Quebec branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada yesterday, by T. C. Denis, superintendent of mines of the province of Quebec.

Canada's Judges on the Active List Number 277

OTTAWA, April 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Canada has 277 judges on the active list and 38 retired on pensions, it was stated in the house on Monday in answer to a question. Salaries of the active jurists total $1,982,490 and they incurred travelling expenses last year totalling $134,623. The pensions of the retired list total $170,168.

There were 280 judges in 1919, but total salaries in that year were $1,452,554, revision having taken place since then.

70,000 VETERANS MIGRATED TO U.S. SINCE THE WAR

G.W.V.A. Celebrating Its Seventh Anniversary To-Day Deeply Concerned With Problem of Emigration — Propose Slogan, "Canadian Veterans Colonize Canada."

RECORD OF SERVICE.

OTTAWA, April 15. — (Canadian Press).—Veterans throughout Canada are observing the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Great War Veterans' Association, it having come into existence on April 15th, 1917, at a meeting composed mostly of disabled men held at Winnipeg. Congratulatory messages have already been received by the Dominion Command from a number of points.

In reviewing the history of the past seven years, C. G. MacNeil, Dominion secretary-treasurer, last evening stated that more than 82,000 individual claims for adjustment of pensions, pay and allowances, war service gratuity, treatment of disabilities, land settlement and numerous other matters had been placed in the hands of the G.W.V.A. during the past seven years with a record of 98 per cent. of the cases successfully adjusted. This work also served to reveal defects in legislation and thousands of other cases had been adjusted by securing remedial measures.

As to the future, Mr. MacNeil stated that an average of forty new claims daily were being presented to the Association for adjustment and nearly ten thousand cases were at present under review. There is still much to be done in adjusting legislation and securing better administration of some measures already in the statutes.

At the present moment the Association is intensely concerned with the problem of Canadians migrating to the United States. It is estimated that some seventy thousand veterans have crossed the border since the conclusion of hostilities. The G.W.V.A. seeks to curb the stream and will invoke the aid of its 800 branches for this purpose. A slogan has been proposed: "Canadian Veterans Colonize Canada."

O.T.A. OFFICER OFFERED BRIBE

Lays Charge Against Montreal Man Who Offered, Police Claim, Two Dollars a Case on Liquor Allowed in.

TORONTO, April 15. Canadian Press. — Charged with attempting to bribe a police officer, Harry Nathanson, a young man of Montreal, was arrested last night at the home of Frank Elliott, Classic Avenue. Elliott is the officer charged with the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act in Ontario, having recently succeeded Staff Inspector A. T. Paxton.

Nathanson, according to Inspector Elliott, called at Elliott's Apartments and it is alleged made proposals by which the officer would be paid a certain amount on each case of liquor permitted to be sold in the province. The liquor, he said, would be shipped from Montreal to Toronto and other points, and the officer under arrangement would receive at least two dollars a case. Arguing in favor of his plan, it is alleged Nathanson said that one officer of the Ontario police had been able to accumulate a fortune of $60,000.

A group of Montreal bootleggers were named as parties to the arrangement which he proposed. Without letting Nathanson know Elliott had a telephone message sent to Deputy Police Commissioner Alfred Cuddy, and the arrest of Nathanson followed.

Dogs Stand Guard By Master's Body

TORONTO, April 15. — Canadian Press. — Guarded by two pet dogs, the body of William Chinrey, aged 70 years, was found last night in his home, Donlands avenue, Todmodren. Chinrey was last seen alive by his neighbors on Friday.

When the county police forced an entrance to the house they were met at the door by one of the dogs.

Looking into the bedroom, Sergt. McCann saw another dog lying by the body on the bed. This animal flew at McCann, and it was necessary for the searching party to take a stick and drive the dogs out of the house before they could reach the body.

Snow Falls Over Central Alberta

CALGARY, Alta., April 15.—A heavy snow fall on Sunday night and early Monday morning extended from Ponokos south to Calgary and west over Central Alberta. At some points in that area considerable snow has fallen, there having been as much as ten to twelve inches between Red Deer and Rocky Mountain House and from one to fifteen inches between Lacombe and Kerrobert. In the latter district it was still snowing Monday morning.

From Calgary to Medicine Hat there has been four inches of snow with light rain at Gleician. At Irrican there was six inches of snow. There were some snow flurries as far south as Aldersyde.

The snow is melting rapidly and it is not expected that spring farming will be delayed for more than a day or two.

WHIRLED TO DEATH BY ENGINE PULLEY

William Andrews Was Instantly Killed in North Monaghan Today--Had Been Sawing Wood.

William Andrews was instantly killed at nine o'clock this morning, when he was caught in the pulley of a sawing machine which he was operating in North Monaghan, and whirled around by the belt to strike his head on a wheel.

Mr. Andrews had been sawing wood on R. T. Lillico's farm, and was running a belt on to the pulley when his arm caught.

The accident was witnessed by several men who were also engaged in sawing, but it happened so quickly that nothing could be done to save the unfortunate man. Dr. Malcolm McCulloch was called but was unable to render assistance.

The victim of the tragic occurrence was 43 years of age. He lived near the provincial highway, about four miles from Peterborough, with his wife and two young children, five and seven years of age. His brother, Norman Andrews, is well known in Peterboro, as an employee of the Massey Harris Co.

ADMITTED VAGRANTS RECEIVED SENTENCE

Two Months Each for Kenneth and Alexander Downey -- Alconbrack Case Adjourned to Get Witnesses From Jail.

Kenneth Downey and Alexander Downey, charged with vagrancy in police court this morning, pleaded guilty and were sentenced to two months' imprisonment The former said he had tried to get work but had not been successful. Chief Newhall: "I don't want to make any statement at present. More serious things hang behind this man. I'm just asking for a week's remand. My object is to cure him of this despicable habit he has."

Magistrate O. A. Langley adjourned court temporarily to have the information amended and then passed sentence.

Muskrat Case.

An Otonabee man, charged with stealing and carrying away a muskrat valued at three dollars, was remanded on bail until next Tuesday, when he will be heard at the court house at 2 o'clock. Bail was fixed at $500 and one surety of $500. V. J. McElderry appeared for the accused.

Drug Case.

Ed. Alcombrack, charged with offences under the drugs act, was again allowed out on bail, witnesses against him not being available. Several men who are to give evidence in the case are incarcerated in the county jail under sentence for having drugs.

Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, in asking for an adjournment, said: "The judge said he would give us the order some time to-day when he got to chambers. All the witnesses are in jail."

POLICE AGENTS CAUGHT SPYING ON COMMUNISTS

Arthur Henderson, Home Secretary, Stated in the British Commons, They Had Acted Without His Specific Instructions or Approval — Not Illegal Association.

VIGILANCE NEEDED.

LONDON, April 15.—(Canadian Press Cable) The incident of two police agents being caught spying on a communist meeting here yesterday was brought up in the house of commons at question time Monday, by George Lansbury, Labor member for Poplar, who wanted to know by whose authority the policemen had hidden under the platform at the meeting.

Arthur Henderson, home secretary, replied that two policemen were found concealed at a meeting of communists in the course of the policemen's duty without his, Mr. Henderson's specific instructions or approval.

It was a brief statement but while it was being made the home secretary was greeted with laughter and opposition cheers, followed by cries of "Oh."

Mr. Henderson, continuing, said the communist party was not an illegal organization, but the policy of certain communist leaders if carried out would involve breaches of the law. A certain amount of vigilance on the part of the police therefore was necessary in the interests of the community. He would confer with the commissioner of police on this particular case, Mr. Henderson added.

More opposition cheers followed.

JAPANESE GET BLUNT ANSWER

Nippon Plainly Told By U. S. Senate That Interference With Immigration to America Will Not Be Tolerated.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The Senate answered Ambassador Hanihara's protest against Japanese exclusion legislation Monday by voting 76 to 2 against recognition of the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan on the immigration question.

This action is preliminary to adoption by the Senate by an over whelming majority by the Senate of the House Japanese exclusion legislation.

Whatever the result would have been without the event of the Ambassador's letter, that incident served to change the votes of a number of administration leaders, including Senators Lodge, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Senators generally threw off the usual restraints in dealing with international questions. They were blunt and outspoken in their declarations that in view of the "grave consequences" warning in the Ambassador's letter there was nothing for them to do but to make it clear once and for all that immigration is a domestic question in the handling of which no independent power should interfere.

FORMER OFFICIAL JAILED FOR MISUSE OF FUNDS

MELFORT, Sask., April 15.—Sidney M. Godfrey, found guilty of misappropriation of funds to the amount of $12,000 of the rural municipality of Tisdale, while secretary of the municipality, was sentenced to eight months in jail at hard labor.

FLIERS HELD UP BY SNOW.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 15. — Snow squalls prevented the United States Army squadron from leaving Seward, Alaska, Monday, on the next leg of its flight around the earth, according to a despatch received by the Seattle Times. The despatch says that a departure was contemplated to-day.

Winnipeg Woman Killed Husband

WINNIPEG, April 15.—Confessing to the murder of her husband while he was asleep in bed, Kate Kadeniuk of Teulon, Man., arrested on Saturday, related the gruesome details of the slaying which occurred on March 9 to Provincial Police Monday.

She declared that her husband had threatened to kill her and their four children on several occasions. On the night of the killing she told the police, Kadeniuk had been particularly abusive and brutal because she had refused to accompany him on a grain stealing expedition. When he had gone to bed she took an axe and smashed in his head.

The accused is 39 years old. The eldest boy, who is 16 years of age, has been placed in a detention home and will be held as a material witness. The preliminary hearing will be held on April 21.

PREMIERS AT BERLIN AGREE

Representatives of German Federated States Drafting Reply to Reparations Commission Accepting Experts' Report.

BERLIN, Apr. 15.—A complete accord between the Central Government and the Premiers of the Federated States on the subject of the German reply to the Reparation Commission's notification that it was prepared to receive the views of Germany on the experts' report was in evidence last night.

The German reply, the draft of which will be concluded today, will set forth the Government's acceptance of the report for a basis for negotiations as accepted by the Reparation Commission. This reply, therefore, is viewed in political circles as definite, and as seconding the acceptance of the report by the Reparation Commission.

The visiting premiers are in full accord with the Marx-Stresemann Government on the essential issues involved, or projected by the experts in their recommendations; they expressed the conviction that the present Central Government was possessed of sufficient authority and wholly competent so far as its parliamentary mandate was concerned, to act for Germany.

There was a full attendance of State Presidents at the conference yesterday, including Dr. von Knilling of Bavaria. Chancellor Marx will confer with the Reichstag leaders today.

Second Omemee Youth Sentenced to Prison.

LINDSAY, April 15.—At a session of the County Police Court yesterday Arthur Cook, whose stepfather, it is said, resides at Omemee, was sentenced to six months with an indeterminate sentence of six months in the Central Prison. Cook was an accomplice of Clarence Brooks, who last week received a similar sentence for burglarizing summer homes in Pigeon Creek in Emily Township.

RUSSIANS SANS BEARDS LOOKED TAME TO CROWD

Bolshevik Plenipotentiaries Appeared No Different Than Ordinary Visitors to Government Offices In London—Turbaned Tartar Only Dash of Color.

CONFERENCE OPENS.

LONDON, Apr. 15 (Canadian Press Cable).—The task of converting Great Britain's de jure recognition of Russia, which was accorded the Union of Soviets February 1, in fulfilment of the Labor Party's campaign pledges, into a practical working arrangement which it is hoped will settle all past differences and re-establish normal trade and political relations between the two countries, began Monday morning when the Russian mission under Christian Rakovsky met with the British delegates headed by Premier MacDonald at the big horseshoe conference table in the Ambassador's Room of the Foreign Office.

In his welcoming address Premier MacDonald summed up the whole purpose of the conference in the sentence:

"You want political countenance and financial assistance from us, and we want neighborliness and recognition of international obligations."

Took First Step

The Labor Premier told the Russians that Great Britain, by according the Soviet Government full diplomatic status had taken the first step and added that it was a pretty big one.

"Let us together take the second step and justify the hopes of many millions who look upon this meeting with so much expectation," he concluded.

Neither Premier MacDonald's nor M. Rakovsky's opening addresses before the delegates went beyond the broad generalities of the difficult problems to be settled. The British view is that the entire fate of the meeting depends upon the amount of confidence the Soviet Government representatives are able to create in the minds of the British and world public by their conduct here and their attitude toward the Russian debts and other international obligations which the British will insist that the Soviet Government recognize.

Credit Is Private

Unless such recognition is forthcoming there is little possibility of Russia obtaining credits or loans in this country, for, as Mr. MacDonald pointed out, the British credit is not in Government banks, but in the deposits of private individuals, and unless the mass of the people is satisfied that those who want credits are fair and honest in their dealings none is likely to be obtained.

Although the British premier did not mention the fact, it is authoritatively understood that there is not the slightest possibility of the British Government making a loan to Russia, no matter how successful the present conference may be from the British point of view. All loans and credits must be privately negotiated with British bankers.

Russian War Debt

The main purpose of the British Government in the negotiations regarding the Russian debts is to recover something of the heavy financial losses which British subjects have suffered in Russia as the result of the revolution. The question of the Czarist debt of £26,000,000 Sterling and the war debt of £650,000,000 Sterling may not even be brought up during the negotiations. The British are willing to consider the foregoing amounts as war debts, similar to the French and Italian, or these amounts may be offset by Russian counter claims for damages caused by the Allied intervention in Russia.

But in the settlement of the private

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

STOP putting off making arrangements to attend the Motor Show next week. Plan to be there all of the three evenings, because you can't begin to do it justice in one. Plan to take the entire family, and part of your neighbors. Give them all a good time, and you'll never miss the change.

LOOK — There will be rows upon rows of the latest model cars on exhibition. There will be all kinds of accessories, from a spark plug to a spare wheel.. There will be exhibits of many other things besides motor cars. There will be rest rooms, lunch rooms and the Midway. Don't forget the Midway, because its like has never been here before.

LISTEN—There will be dance music. There will be community singing, led by the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. These two clubs are putting on special music and attractions each evening, and listen again, there's over two hundred wistful eyed, crippled little waifs to whom the summer at Jackson Park Camp is the one bright spot in the whole year.

SYNOPSIS OF A PROPOSED BYLAW

The Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough propose to pass a By-law entitled "A BY-LAW TO FIX THE ASSESSMENT OF THE CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, LIMITED."

The purpose of this By-law is to fix the assessment of the said Company for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1925, at $150,000.00, including business assessment, but excluding school taxes and local improvements.

The By-law is to have no force or effect unless the said Company spend the sum of between $300,000.00 and $400,000.00 on building and equipment to be completed and finished before the first day of July, 1925, unless prevented by causes beyond the Company's control and in that event the building and equipment shall be completed within a reasonable time after the first day of July, 1925.

The assessment is fixed on the lands, premises, property, buildings, machinery, plant, fixtures, appliances and all other assessable property within the City of Peterborough of the said Company used for manufacturing purposes only, or which the said Company may hereafter own or occupy in connection with its business, and all additions to such building, machinery, plant, fixtures and appliances ,but does not include any dwellings on the property or premises of the said Company.

It is also provided that if at any time the said Company should cease to carry on its manufacturing operations for a period of twelve consecutive months the fixed assessment shall cease and be of no force or effect.

MILLBROOK MAN WAS VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Touring Car Crowded Another Car Into Ditch and Failed to Stop.

MILLBROOK, April 15.—Brought home in an unconscious condition on Sunday afternoon, as a result of being thrown against a telegraph post when the car in which he was riding, driven by William West, was crowded off the highway near Waddell's Corner by a large touring car, Mr. Wentworth Gray, Millbrook, had his head badly cut and the third finger of his right hand injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray, with their daughter, Miss Gertrude, and their son, Master George, had been visiting friends at Canton, Mr. West taking them in his car. Returning by way of Port Hope, the car which caused the accident kept too close to Mr. West's side of the road, and the latter, driving at not more than fifteen miles an hour, forced to pass by a narrow margin, and found the outside of the road bed soft and yielding. The car partly overturned, struck a telegraph post, breaking the windshield and otherwise damaging the right front side.

Mr. Gray, being on the side where the impact occurred, was the only occupant injured. David Fowler, who came along a little later, brought him home in his car, and Dr. H. A. Turner was summoned and gave necessary medical attention. Several stitches had to be put in his head and finger. No information about the car that caused the trouble was obtained, as it was out of sight before the others had the opportunity to secure either numbers or names.

Progressives to Spend Easter In Maritimes.

OTTAWA, April 15. — (Canadian Press). — Twenty-five Progressive members of Parliament will spend the Easter recess on a trip in the Maritime Provinces. The party will be guests of the Government of Nova Scotia while in the City of Halifax, and while in St. John they will be the guests of that city. A special train will leave Ottawa on Wednesday afternoon, arriving in Halifax Thursday evening. The trip will include visits to Moncton, Halifax and St. John. The train will leave St. John early Monday afternoon, and be in Ottawa in time for the opening of the House of Commons on Tuesday, April 22.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Free Methodists Hold District Quarterly Meeting — Chance For New Bowlers.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 15. — The district quarterly meeting of the Free Methodists came to a conclusion Sunday evening when Rev. Frank Loft of Cordova Mines preached an impressive sermon on the consequences of a life of sin. Following the regular discourse Rev W. H. Gregory of Warkworth delivered an exhortation calling for professions and a number of the congreation walked to the front and knelt at the penitents bench. The church was crowded at all these services on Sunday and in the evening a large number were turned away. A special choir of about 20 voices, under the direction of Rev. R. Casement of Picton, lead the singing.

The collections at the Sunday services totaled $101.00 In the morning $41.50 was contributed towards the salary of the District Elder, Rev. R. Burnham of Kingston, in the afternoon $25.50 was raised for mission work and the collection in the evening to be applied on the salary of Rev. R. Bloye, pastor of the Campbellford Church, amounted to $34.00.

The delegates in attendance were: Rev. R. Burnham, district elder, Kingston Rev. Frank Loft of Cordova Mines, Rev. A. F. Ball of Frankford, Rev. W. H. Gregory of Warkworth, Rev. R. Casement of Picton, Rev. George Mitchell of North Marmora and Rev. D. Gunter of Gunter. Besides these clergymen there were a number of lay delegates from the various circuits.

It was decided to hold the annual summer campmeeting for the district at Havelock again this year, the dates set being from June 25th to July 2nd inclusive.

The conference will be held in Harowsmith on August 27th, when a number of changes in the pastorates will be made. According to the rules ed the denomination a three-year term is the limit. Rev. R. Bloye has served that length of time in Campbellford, and much to the regret of his congregation he will be transferred to a new field at the end of the present conference year.

Chance for New Bowlers.

J. R. Wilkinson is again the unanimous choice of the members of the lawn bowling club for the position of caretaker, and he will begin work on the green as soon as the ground is dry. The tennis club have appointed their own caretaker this year.

Mr. Wilkinson offers to instruct new beginners in the art of bowling and no better instructor could be found as he was the champion of the club in the finals last year.

Getting Too Fat? Try This---Reduce

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets, and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward ave., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet or tiresome exercises.

Narrow Escape of 30 Employees In Fire.

MONTREAL, April 15.—(Canadian Press).—Thirty employees narrowly escaped injury; there was damage of around $40,000; two firemen suffered slight cuts; and the telephone service to more than 100 subscribers was interrupted, as a result of a fire in the premises of the Progress Mattress Co., Limited, at 710 St. Dominique Street, yesterday afternoon. The outbreak was caused by a spark from the "willow" machine used for tearing cotton on the top floor of the three-storey building. The fire was so fierce that a second alarm was turned in to prevent the spread of the flames in this district, which is very congested.

The damage on stock and machinery, which amounts to about $30,000, is not covered by insurance.

CANADA'S NET DEBT.

OTTAWA, April 15.— (Canadian Press.)— A circular issued by the Montreal board of trade, placing Canada's net debt at $3,513,000,000 was the subject of a question in the house of commons Monday afternoon by Fernand Rinfret (St. James). The acting minister of finance replied that the government had seen reference to this in the press. The circular apparently purported to include contingent liabilities in connection with the Canadian National Railways. The actual net debt of Canada, estimated for the budget, is $2,423,367,759.

FELL ON CIRCULAR SAW.

KINGSTON, April 15. — D. J. Smith, a young man of Elginburg, was brought to the General Hospital this morning suffering from severe cuts on the left arm as a result of falling on a circular saw while he was operating the saw in cutting wood. The arm was torn above the elbow.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Earton

MISTER PUNCH HUNTS JUDY

"Did you see Judy and the baby?" he repeated.

"Did anybody see Judy and the baby?" asked Mister Punch.

Mister Punch looked very funny, dressed in a sort of red and yellow gown, and a high peaked hat with tassels on the side.

"Did you see Judy and the baby?" he repeated. "I thought that after I'd thrown them out of the window they might come to Doofunny Land. Such queer people come here to live, and Judy was certainly a queer 'un."

Nancy and Nick looked at Mister Punch and then at Mister Fuzz Wuzz, and then at Mister Punch Again. They didn't know a word he was talking about.

"If you do find Judy," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz, "what do you intend to do with her?"

"Oh!" cried Mister Punch, the tears starting to his eyes, "I intend to give her my stick and let her belabor me for a while. I'm sorry I treated her so. I never meant to, but after Toby bit me on the nose I kind of got mixed up in my head and didn't know what I was doing. Do you want me to tell you about it?"

"Oh, yes!" cried both Twins eagerly. "Please do, Mister Punch. It sounds just fine."

"Other people's troubles always do," declared Mister Punch with a grimace. "But sit down and I'll begin at the beginning.

"One fine day I got ready to take Judy and the baby for a walk. Judy was my wife and the baby was our only child.

"Well, I waited and waited and waited, and every time I called to her to hurry up, she would call back, 'Just a minute, Mister Punch, just one more minute.'

"I was looking out of the window while I was waiting, and a showman passed with his dog Toby. Toby saw me and jumping up my stairs, he bit me right on my nose.

"Well, that made me awfully mad so I hit him and threw him out of the window.

"Up came the showman, and he yelled, 'Why do you throw my dog Toby out of the window?' And with that he gave me a good beating with a stick—this very stick I have in my hand.

"Well, I grabbed the stick and hit him and then threw him out of the window.

"Just then Judy came in with the baby, and I guess I had gotten the habit, for I grabbed the baby and threw it out of the window, and next I beat poor Judy and threw her out, too! Oh, I was a terrible fellow!

"After that I ran out, and knocked down everybody I met—a doctor and two policemen, and a whole lot of people, and they put me into jail; but I got out and I've been hunting for Judy ever since. I want to tell her that I'm sorry. And I do hope the poor baby isn't hurt. It isn't good for babies to throw them out of the window."

"Well, I should like to help you, my dear Mister Punch," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz kindly, "but so far Mrs. Judy has not come to Doofunny Land. I'll ask the rag-doll, and Mister Hinky Dinky, and the dancer and everybody, and I'll send you word if I hear of anything."

"Thank you," said Mister Punch, marching stiffly away on his little wooden legs. "Thank you—thank you."

And away he went, tassels, cap, long stick and all.

Bravery of C.P.R. Liner's Officers Recognized.

LONDON, April 15.—(Canadian Press).—The gallant services of Captain Gillies and Chief Officer Robert McMurray, of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland, in rescuing the crew of the Newfoundland ship Clintonia in a gale on the North Atlantic on January 6, 1923, met due recognition yesterday afternoon when the newly appointed High Commissioner for Newfoundland, on behalf of his Government, presented each officer with a pair of binoculars. Sir Thomas Fisher, general manager of C. P. Steamships, Ltd., thanked the High Commissioner and congratulated the recipients on behalf of the company.

MEN WAITING

At present the Employment Bureau has a long list of 152 men who are patiently waiting for any kind of a job that they can obtain. Last week there were 155 applicants out of work while this week there are three less. There are a few small jobs in the city but most of them are temporary. Building has started in the city and a number of men have secured jobs bricklaying. All thees men are experienced tradesmen while several have accepted work on the farms. The farmers are still looking for men but at this time of the year they want men who have a little knowledge about farming. They are paying in this district from $25 to $35 per month with a few offering $40. A number of men have accepted jobs on the farms while others are holding back, expecting the factories to pick up soon. Last week there were 22 new applicants and 28 placements. Most of these placements were for small jobs only lasting a day or two.

HASTINGS AND THE DISTRICT

John Cooney Held a Sale Yesterday Afternoon--Hastings News.

(By a Staff Reporter.)

HASTINGS, April 15. — John Cooney, who recently sold his home and market garden a short distance from the village, to Gordon Fox, held a successful sale of his stock and implements yesterday afternoon, J. R. Battisby of Campbellford, being the auctioneer. Good prices were realized for everything offered for sale, which included the household furniture. The only horse owned by Mr. Cooney, a fine mare, nine years old, and in excellent condition, was disposed of to the new owner of the premises for $152. This is regarded as an exceptional figure considering the prevailing prices of horses.

Two good cows brought a total of $80. Farmers in this vicinity are realizing more and more that their only hope of making money lies in the dairy business and more stock of this class is changing hands at good prices this year than has been known since war days. The prices paid for horses and pure bred dairy cattle were probably never so nearly equal as they are to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooney have been esteemed residents of Percy township for the past two years, coming here from the vicinity of Grafton. Mr. Cooney was nominated for a place in the township council at the last election, and made a good run considering his short term of residence. He and Mrs. Cooney will make their future home in Detroit, where their son and daughter are now residing.

This farming district, perhaps, as much as any in Ontario, is feeling the effects of the migration of the younger generation to the United States, and to the Canadian cities. As an example, ex-councillor Thos. Downs, who resides on the Cobourg Road, finds himself alone with his wife on a 200-acre farm, the spring work coming on, and no help in sight. Of his seven children, three sons, and four daughters, a son and two daughters, are in Akron, Ohio; a son and two daughters are in Toronto, and another son is in Regina.

In Mr. Downs' immediate neighborhood, there are four other farmers in the same condition as himself, and one farm that has been rented for several years is now without a tenant, and is likely to remain so this season.

There is no sale for farm property except at a sacrifice, and the soil in that vicinity is considered among the best of the wheat-producing lands in the county.

Champion Trapper.

Albert Scriver of the village claims the championship for trapping so far this year. The muskrat season opened March 1st and closed on the 25th. So far Mr. Scriver has caught 259 rats and he disposed of the pelts yesterday, receiving $2.47 for each.

NEWPORT WON RUGBY.

LONDON, April 15.—(Canadian Press).—In a Rugby Union game played yesterday, Newport defeated Pill Harriers by six points to four.

MILK BOTTLE A DEADLY WEAPON

Fred. Fulton, Fighter, Knocked Out By Mrs. Maud Thompson, Who Is Suing Him For $15,000 Damages.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 15.—An empty milk bottle, expertly wielded, "wilfully and without provocation," was responsible for a knockout Mr. Maud Thompson registered against Fred. Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight fighter, according to the latter's answer in a damage suit brought by Mrs. Thompsop.

The answer, filed Monday, is in the suit for $15,000 damages brought by Mrs. Thompson, who charges the fighter with assault and battery. Fulton denies any assault and recites how the woman, who claimed a knockout in her suit, had "assaulted him by striking him over the left eye with a milk bottle, and while his back was turned, thereby leaving an unsightly and prominent scar."

RUSSIANS SANS

debts to British subjects the MacDonald Government will insist upon complete recognition and pledges of payment at a definite rate. These private debts are estimated at 14,000,000 Sterling in Russian municipal bonds held in this country, 350,000,000 in compensation for damages to their commercial properties in Russia, and 800,000 which are claimed as personal damages. The British will not admit Russian counter-claims against these private obligations and upon the Russian attitude toward them the conference is expected to succeed or fail.

Color Lacking

Therewas nothing wild and woolly about the Soviet delegates who met the British Labor Government experts. There were a few more beards on the Russian side of the conference table than on the British, but they were eminently respectable beards, well kept, neatly clipped and under complete control. Otherwise the Russians appeared no different than ordinary visitors to the Government offices.

Much to the surprise of the very small crowd which gathered in Downing Street to see them enter the Foreign Office there was nothing of the cartoonist's idea of the belted, booted and collarless Bolshevik of untamed hair and beard. The only splash of color was the turbaned Tartar, Haidar Aliev, former Premier of Turkestan, who hobbled into the room on a wooden leg, his flowing robe of purple and white considerably dampened in the London drizzle. Upon the termination of the meeting he folded up his tent-like garment and put it under his arm while he went out into the wet, letting the rain fall on his well-tailored suit while he pegged across Downing Street to lunch with Premier MacDonald, who served the delegates Zakouska and Vodka as a starter.

Revise Peace Treaty

M. Rakovsk demanded as the first condition to a stable peace revision of the Treaty of Versailles and of other treaties associated with it. "But," he added, "obviously we do not think the abrogation of the Treaty of Versailles should lead to a reconstitution of State organisms which, like Austria and Hungary, could rest on violence and the existence of which provoked the antagonisms which brought on the world war."

Reciprocating Premier MacDonald's views about mutual non-intervention in the internal affairs of their respective countries, M. Rakovsky remarked that this would prove a guarantee against attempts "to make us renounce our Socialist legislation or the basis of our Socialist organization."

The speaker reminded Mr. MacDonald that former British Governments had participated in foreign intervention in Russia, although he frankly admitted that Mr. MacDonald and his party had struggled against this intervention.

VICE-REGAL TRAIN ESCAPED MISHAP

Pilot Train of Governor-General of South Africa Collided With Trolley.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 15. — (Canadian Press cable, via Reuter's).—The pilot train preceding the train carrying the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General, and Princess Alice from Cape Town to Pretoria Monday collided with a trolley car near Germiston. The Vice-Regal party did not receive any injury.

Several members of the permanent way staff who were riding on the trolley car sprang clear when the crash occurred, except one man, who bravely attempted to topple the trolley car from the line of impact. The collision threw the man and trolley from the line. The man was fatally injured and died in the hospital shortly after being taken there.

Daylight All Time Now Is Message From Arctic

BRISTOL, Conn., April 15—(Canadian Press)—A radio message from the McMillan Expedition on the Bowdoin, which has wintered in the Arctic regions, was received by Everett Sutton at Port Angeles, Wash., Sunday, and by him forwarded to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mix, of this city, parents of Don Mix, the radio operator of the expedition. The message said:

"Been having a great time this winter. Hope all are well. Don't worry if you don't hear from us again. Daylight all the time now. Love to all.—(Signed) Don."

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 1924.

NOT THROUGH YET.

With the arrest of the Hon. Peter Smith, former Provincial Treasurer, that phase of the inquiry into the finances of the Province which dealt with his activities passes from the Public Accounts Committee into the courts.

The committee, however, has not come to the end of its work.

There are other features in connection with the administration of Ontario's finance department into which there should be the most exhaustive inquiry.

The fact that before the U.F.O. Government came into power $39,500 was apparently paid out by Col. Mason of the Home Bank to some person or persons unknown to the public, the assumption being that it was paid for alleged influence in connection with the purchase by the bank of $4,000,000 of Provincial bonds, has not been explained.

Hon. T. W. McGarry, Provincial Treasurer at that time, has been examined under oath and has emphatically denied that he received any commission or that he knew of anyone who did receive one, either personally or for a party fund.

The disposition of that $39,500 is still a mystery, and the Public Accounts Committee should not consider its responsibility as discharged until every effort has been made to discover who profited by the deal.

THE RURAL CARRIERS.

The controversy in regard to the pay of postal employees should not detract all attention away from the conditions under which rural mail carriers have to operate.

The present system has little to commend it inasmuch as there is no guarantee of permanent employment and competition reduces the salary of the average rural carrier to an extent that it is difficult for most of them to live upon the remuneration received.

A case quoted by an Ontario contemporary is typical.

A returned soldier made a bid for a rural mail route in the Western part of the Province, offering to do the work for $1,200.

He was informed that three other individuals had made an offer of $1,000, and accordingly bid $960 for the position.

For that sum he has to cover a route of 22 miles a day, and his equipment consists of three horses and vehicles.

His contract expires in June, and he runs the risk of having a competitor make a lower tender than his, in which case he will be out of a job and his equipment and horses will have to be sold.

The rural carriers should have a reasonable assurance of steady employment so long as their services are satisfactory and a fair living wage while in the Government service.

Under the present arrangement they are not sure of either, most of them are underpaid and no one is certain of his position when his present contract expires.

THE MOTOR SHOW.

Many reasons could be advanced why Peterborough people should attend the annual Motor Show next week.

As a display of automobiles and accessories, it is big enough to stand alone as a drawing card.

Its entertainment features, in which many organizations and individuals are co-operating, will make it notable as a recreation event of great interest.

But, above these things, is the all-important fact that your attendance at the Motor Show helps that splendid organization, the Peterborough Health Association, to "carry on."

There is no need of telling the people of this city all about the Health Association.

Its work has spoken and continues to speak for itself.

If its only activity were the maintenance of that fine summer camp at Jackson Park for the children of sub-normal health it would be well worth the hearty support of the community, for that is an effort that has had a very material effect upon the lives of many youngsters who needed the benefit of the camp.

But the Jackson Park enterprise is only one of a number of activities carried on by the association.

The district nurse employed by the organization has been of invaluable service to many families—so many indeed that it is not necessary for the Examiner to do anything more than point out that fact.

Tubercular patients have been supplied with much-needed nourishment, and in other ways the association has helped to make Peterborough a happier and healthier city.

These things should be remembered in connection with next week's Motor Show.

"HARD-HITTING" GUNS.

Among the advertisements on the back pages of a popular fiction magazine the Examiner finds no fewer than six different firms advertising revolvers on easy terms, ranging from $5.45 to $15.00.

One reads: "A hard-hitting, 7-shot, blue steel gun, full length 4½ inches."

A dainty little weapon for a hold-up man.

And that isn't all.

It is offered on a ten days' free trial basis.

Get your gun, use it for a couple of hold-ups, return it and get your money back.

Here are extracts from some of the other advertisements in the same publication:

"Lowest price. A real He-man gun. Most powerful 6-shot gun ever made—a straight-shooting, hard-hitting regular gun." (This one sells at $12.45, but what is that to a successful crook?)

A $6.75 gun advertisement reads: "A world beater for dependability and accuracy."

Another dealer claims for his revolver that it is "accurate and hard-hitting."

Still another $6.75 pocket automatic is described as "for dependable construction and smoothness of action this cannot be beat."

Only one of the six advertisements suggests that the gun it commends is necessary for "home protection."

The whole system of regulating the sale and carrying of hidden weapons is a farce.

When deadly revolvers, noted for their "hard-hitting" and small enough to be easily carried in a pocket, are allowed to be advertised for sale at the price of a new hat, it is no wonder that crimes of violence are multiplying and that the use of the revolver among criminals is on the increase.

PRICE OF VICTORY.

The London Daily Mail is making apt contrasts of the winners and losers in the great war, says the Brandon Sun. It seeks to show that Britain has found it may be more profitable to lose a war than to win one. That is so far as those nations which were in it for the whole period are concerned. It says that Britain anyway has gained nothing out of the terrific contest. The average Briton is far worse off than the presumably defeated Teuton. The London daily asserts that, while English taxes since the war have gone far beyond the blue-sky limit, German taxes are actually lower than they were in 1914. And it notes worse evils than this for the victorious Briton.

In English streets you will see crowds of unfortunates, many of them ex-soldiers, begging charity of the passer-by. In Germany you seldom come across a single beggar. While British workers and out-of-workers have to whistle for new homes that fail to materialize, fine houses and business premises are springing up all over Germany. And, in spite of the mark debacle, Germans have more money to spend than the unhappy winners of the war. Thus prices of furs and vegetables and the best French wines have been sent up by heavy German purchases, while the poor British laborer can hardly save enough from his Government dole for a glass of 'arf-and-'arf.

It is also quite confirmed that the greatest spenders on the European Continent today are Germans. Dr. Streseman recently admitted that 70 per cent. of the foreign visitors at expensive continental hotels were German. In Sicilian hostelries the Teutons occupy the best suites where they can scoff at the poverty of the Italians and British. The Swiss have a far more profuse welcome for the opulent German tourist than for any of his hard-up conquerors. In the meantime subscriptions are being taken up on this Continent for starving Germans and there are said to be billions of German marks in real gold invested in the United States, out of sight of creditor nations who won the war.

THE ISSUE IN SOUTH AFRICA.

General Smuts of South Africa has jumped once more into the limelight. Of all the statesmen of the British Empire, no man possesses a higher degree of moral courage than the South African Premier. General Smuts is a born leader of men and he has had his share of fighting. In any cause which he espouses he seems naturally to assume, the mantle of the white knight, the antithesis of the professional soldier.

Yet by training and by temperament Jan Smuts is a scholar, of logical mind and of brilliant parts. It has been circumstances rather than personal choice that has forced him to don the tunic rather than the togs. It is not, therefore, of his own doing that he is forced to step down again into the arena of politics, to uphold once more those ideals to which he and his great colleague, General Botha, pledged themselves and their swords in a little frame house at Vereeniging more than twenty years ago.

General Smuts might have remained in office for another year and this was the prediction of all the political observers of his own country and elsewhere. His majority in the Legislature was small, but Governments are now carrying on within the Empire without even any majority at all. In opposition to the Government are the Nationalist Party led by General Herzog and the Labor Party led by Col. Cresswell, with whom for a little more than a year there has been an offensive and defensive alliance or pact.

Last week there was an election at Wakkerstroom, in the Transvaal, which was regarded both by the Government and the Opposition as a test of strength. General Smuts sent one of his ablest lieutenants into the fray and Col. Cresswell advised his followers to support the Nationalist candidate in order to defeat the Government. This was sound electioneering tactics, although much emphasis has been laid on the fact during the past year that Labor, the smaller party of the alliance, would never consent to be absorbed by the Nationalists, but would reserve its individuality as a party, its own separate organization and its own leaders. After a strenuous campaign the Government candidate was defeated at Wakkerstroom and two days later General Smuts announced that he would dissolve the Legislature at once and appeal to the country. Incidentally his action has compelled the abandonment, or at least the indefinite postponement, of the trip which the Prince of Wales was to take to South Africa since it was not considered advisable that the heir to the throne should pay a visit, to which thousands had been looking forward with eager and pleasurable anticipation, during the throes of an election in which there are bound to be many hard words bandied about loyalty and the Empire bond.

The election, however, will not be fought on any clear-cut question of secession or of greater autonomy. The Herzog of 1924, anxious to assume the reins of government, is a very different person from the Herzog of 1914 and the singing of the Vierkleur. The music of the general election will be "God Save the King," with here and there a running accompaniment on muted strings of the red flag, with a Hymn of Hate against the Government as the leit motif for the Opposition orchestra. Reports of the speeches at Wakkerstroor and Umvoti show that Herzog declared that his Nationalist Party stood firmly for the party system and he depreciated the using of politics to "wound the susceptibilities of others.' General Herzog preached economy in government, wide encouragement of immigration and he deplored excessive taxation and industrial unemployment.—Montreal Star.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 14.— Grain prices developed a downward tendency to-day. With speculative demand lacking in volume, the wheat market closed easy at the same as Saturday's finish to 5-8 lower, May $1.01 5-8 to $1.01 5-8 and 3-4, and July $1.03 1-2 to $1.03 5-8. Corn finished 3-8c. to 3-8 and 1-2c. down; oats shade to 1-4c. off, and provisions at a shade to 10c. advance.

At first the wheat market here had an unward slant, owing chiefly to higher quotations at Liverpool and also more or less to favorable advices about the reception given abroad to the Dawes plan. Fine weather for the seeding and growth of the new domestic crop, however, promoted a little increase of selling when values here showed some gain. Then a setback in prices took place, and for the remainder of the day the market gave evidence of dearth of buyers, a condition explained as in at least some degree due to fear of restrictive legislation at Washington.

LEGISLATURE QUIETLY CONCLUDES SESSION AMID REVERBERATIONS OF SENSATIONAL POLITICAL SCANDAL

Formal Closing Scheduled For Thursday, Premier Announced — Hon. Manning Doherty Acknowledged Courtesy of Public Accounts Committee to U. F. O. Members and Proposed Broadening Out of Enquiry — Premier Tells of Other Irregularities.

REFUSES "TO FISH."

TORONTO, April 15.—Although the developments of the day were probably the most sensational in political history of Ontario, the Legislature concluded its business session, quietly, Monday afternoon.

While the House was concluding its routine business a former provincial treasurer, Hon. Peter Smith, was held under arrest in the same building. His name was never mentioned in the proceedings during the afternoon although there was references during the early part of the proceedings to the "my colleague" by Hon. Manning Doherty, leader of the U.F.O. group, who in a resolution desired that the inquiry into public accounts of Ontario be proceeded with during the Parliamentary intermission by a select committee of the public accounts committee. This resolution after a few words by the Prime Minister, who never mentioned Mr. Smiths' name, was withdrawn.

The House will be formally closed on Thursday. Meantime the public accounts committee will sit all day to conclude its work, but as the Premier said it will not go searching for scandal with no obvious evidence.

Doherty's Statement.

Mr. Doherty, in moving his amendment to the report of the public accounts committee, said that the present treasurer had announced in his budget speech that he had suspicion of public accounts. Mr. Doherty stated that during the sittings of the public accounts committee he had endeavored to investigate everything and stated that during the sittings there had been every opportunity to himself and to the members of his group to bring what they desired before the committee.

"There was the greatest courtesy to myself and the members of the old government and there was a generous disposition for fair and thorough investigation," said Mr. Doherty. "I saw I had a duty to perform. In the 1rst place, that duty was to my old colleague during four years of office. A respectable loyalty was demanded of me and it was not hard to give. I limited my efforts to bring out the truth and make it easier for my colleague to come into the committee and give a statement vindicating himself. It is the desire of all U.F.O. members to have a full and complete investigation. I was under the belief that after all the evidence had been submitted that the former provincial treasurer would come forward and give evidence. I was under that belief until this morning. He has seen fit to take a different course of action on advise of counsel. The matter is now before the courts."

Extend Enquiry.

"It has been intimated, however, that there are other departments in which there have been irregularities. In order that the government and the public may understand our attitude I therefore desire to move:

"That the evidence before the standing committee on public accounts having established the existence of grave irregularities in the public service of the province, the sense of the House is that the inquiry now proceeding ought to be continued during the recess of the legislature by a sub committee of the standing committee on public accounts with full authority to investigate all matters relative to the public service or the expenditure of public moneys, and that the inquiry ought to be prosecuted with diligence and the sittings of the committee continued as far as possible from day to day until all the evidence has been heard."

"We want all the truth," said Mr. Doherty in conclusion. "With the public mind in the shape it is there can be no other position than tearing up the roof and laying all the cold facts before the people.

Shock to Premier.

The Premier replying said he did not know that Mr. Doherty had intended bringing in an amendment, although he knew there was to be a statement. Therefore he was not prepared to know what the government could do with the amendment. What had transpired he said had come to him as a shock. "The law having been set in motion it is not now for me to discuss what led up to it," said the Premier. "I do, however, wish to express my appreciation of the hon. member (Mr. Doherty) for his statement regarding the committee. It is in line with what I desired the committee to do do. It is true that there have been irregularities in several departments. In the Lands and Forests two gentlemen have departed with considerable funds. One has been brought back. In the Provincial Treasurer's department two gentlemen have been suspended. In the highways department there is a similar conditions. This government will not condemn technical irregularities, but where there has been wilful dishonesty we will set the law in motion whether they are inside or outside the service.

No Fishing Expedition.

"The committee will sit all day Tuesday and the next day if necessary. However, the committee should not be turned into a fishing expedition. I don't want to see the committee made use of." The Premier said he was glad to see that Hon. T. McGarry had come forward and given his statement after having been suspected. He declared that the government would protect nobody. However, he felt that the motion in view of the fact that the committee itself would be given full opportunity to do all it liked would serve no purpose. He knew and appreciated the viewpoint of Mr. Doherty and thought that in view of the fact that the committee itself would be given full opportunity to do all it liked would serve no purpose. He knew and appreciated the viewpoint of Mr. Doherty and thought that in view of the fact that he had made an explanation that the amendment could be dropped. Mr. Doherty raised no objection and the amendment to the report of the public accounts committee was not pressed.

Order Paper Cleared.

The House then proceeded to clean up the order paper on bills which had already been explained. The government proposed that the bill entitling Jos. P. Savage of Oakville to practise medicine be amended by adding a clause that he take oral examinations in three medical subjects before three doctors before given a license. The amendment carried.

Peter Heenan's motion that excepting farm labor and other reasonable exceptions that the eight hour day be the general principle for work hours in Ontario's industrial pursuits was amended before passing the House so that Ontario, while agreeable to the eight hour day, would not pass it until it was generally acceptable through Canada.

Fair Wage Clause.

Mr. Heenan's resolution that a fair wage clause in all pulp wood timber and water power contracts be inserted so that the wage paid would equal the current wages in the district was passed with the rider that there would be no interference with vested interests or contracts already existing.

Dr. Wallis (Algoma) in his riding, asking more government assistance for hospitals in Northern Ontario, was told by the Premier that the government would devote attention to the matter, and he withdrew his motion.

Members' Salaries Low.

The Premier announced just before adjournment that he intended this summer to take up with the public the matter of increased pay both for members of Parliament and members of the government. It is a crying shame that members should be asked to look after departments of government for $6,000 a year," said the Premier. "All the members of this government are making sacrifices to fill their present positions." This statement was received with applause from all parts of the house.

The Premier also expressed his appreciation for the sympathetic co-operation the government had had from the House and from all parties in the framing and passing of its legislation.

Numerous bills all explained before were given third reading. Amendments if any were only technical.

The house adjourned at 6.10.

OBITUARY

ANDREW McCULLOUGH

The passing away of Mr. Andrew McCullough on April 9, removes the last of a large pioneer family, which landed at Cobourg from Scotland in 1846. Mr. McCullough who was 87 years of age, leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, four sons and three daughters, namely: Charles W. of Tomifobia, Que.; Fred A of Killarney, Man.; William T. at home; Stanley of Rosetown, Sask.; Mrs. A. Brook of Brandon, Man.; Mrs. W. C. Leggett of Peterboro and Mrs. Wm. Clark of Port Hope. The funeral was largely attended on Friday afternoon last. The deceased having lived over 40 years on Front Road had gained many friends and admirers for his conscientious and upright Christian life.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir: Mussolini has put Italy under the controlling power of the "good people" of Italy. He did it by force. In Ontario we will not be able to keep our O.T.A. and enforce it if we do not band ourselves together in a holy army of volunteers, to be called the Prohibition Army. We are not rightly organized for the day of our trial. We must rule Canada and the world yet. The league of nations is our league. It is for us to rule the whole world, and to say what other people must do.

W. G FERGUSON FIRST CANDIDATE OF LODGE

Recalled Initiation at the Golden Jubilee of Beresford Lodge A. F. and A. M., Lakefield—Methodist Mission Band's Sale of Work.

LAKEFIELD, April 12.—At the golden jubilee meeting of Beresford Lodge No. 313, A. F. & A. M., held on Monday evening last, an interesting feature was the presence of W. G. Ferguson, of Peterboro', who was the first candidate initiated at the first regular meeting held fifty years ago. Mr. Ferguson gave a very interesting account of that first meeting. J. F. Lillicrap was the oldest past master present, having joined the lodge in 1876. A letter was received from W. Bro. Dinwoodie, one of the chapter members of the lodge regretting his inability to be present. A letter was received also from G. B. Hilliard, of Victoria, B.C., stating that "an absent son sends congratulations to the mother lodge in the fiftieth anniversary of its organization."

Interesting reminiscences were given by Messrs. Ferguson and J. F. Lillicrap, and W. H. Casement continued the chain, which were supplemented also by Dr. J. R. Fraser.

The lodge is lucky in possessing the complete records of their fifty years of existence and a brief history of the lodge will be compiled which will be a very interesting souvenir Dr. Kincaid was the first master of the lodge which was named for Rev. Vincent Clementi, rector of St. John's Church, Lakefield, at the time of the present church.

A coincidence was that the lodge anniversary was also the 8th anniversary of the present master, Dr. J. C. Smith coming to the village.

The chairs were occupied by past masters: W. Master, W. H. Casemnt; Senior Warden, E. R. Tate; Junior Warden, J. F. Lillicrap; Senior Deacon, J. W. Ridpath; Junior Deacon, N. G. FitzGerald; Inner Guard, E. A. Tanner; Senior Steward, W. J. Charlton; Junior Steward, D. H. Charlton, assisted by J. R. Fraser, T. W. B. Marling, J. H. Chant and Alex. Gibson, of Peterboro'. They put in degree work, assisted by other members of the lodge.

Mission Band

On Friday evening last the Mission Band of the Methodist Church held a sale of work, home cooking and candy from 7 to 8 in the basement of the Methodist Church. The sale was very successful and the girls sold practically all their stock in trade, including two quilts. They gave an entertainment also which began at 8 o'clock, immediately at the conclusion of the sale. The numbers were all well rendered and showed not only careful and painstaking teachers but also willing and interested children.

The following is the programme: Piano duet, Misses Zetta Nixon and Marion Wagar; recitation, Earl Robinson; dialogue, "Mother Goose and Her Family as Mission Workers"; recitation, Irwin Charlton; vocal duet, Misses Thelma and Eva Hendren; candle exercise, ten boys and girls; recitation, Robert Spence; chorus, "Pussy Willows"; recitation, Janet Charlton; song, "Chinese Cousins," Misses Eileen Burke, Eva Hendren and Venora Bartindale (in Chinese costume); piano duet, Misses Margaret Richardson and Marjorie Reddick; solo, Mkiss Frances Fairbairn; recitation, Miss Hannah Webster; chorus, six boys, "Morning on the Farm"; dialogue, "Packing the Missionary Barrel," and God Save the King.

Miss Gertrude Dunford is the president of the Mission Band and Miss Webster, the assistant.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garbutt announce the engagement of their son, Wellington Clayton, to Miss Edna McWatters, of Hamilton. The marriage will take place at the Delta Anglican Church, Hamilton, on April 16th. After the honeymoon the young couple will reside in Hamilton. Mr. Garbutt has many friends in Lakefield who join in heartiest good wishes.

Mrs. E. W. Bailey was called to Toronto on Friday on account of the serious illness of her daughter, Miss Mildred Bailey, who is attending the university.

The Baseball Club purpose putting on an entetrainment in the near future for the purpose of augmenting their funds before opening the season.

The Volunteer Fire Brigade are making plans for a dance and card party during Easter week. These holiday entertainments are pleasant reunions of the local young people with the holiday visitors and students who are at home for the vacation.

A number of the members of the local lodge attended the special Oddfellows' meeting in Peterboro' on Monday evening last. They report a splendid meeting and a delightful social afterwards. Rev. Walter Cox, Past Grand Master, was one of the speakers of the evening.

"The Dust of the Earth," a play produced recently by the Dramatic Club of Trinity Methodist Church, Peterboro', will be given in the Memorial Hall on Easter Monday night (April 21) under the auspices of the W. M. S. of the Lakefield Methodist Church.

Personals

Mrs. Leighton, who has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith for the past few weeks, has returned to her home in Lindsay.

Mrs. H. J. Stuart was in Peterboro' on Thursday visiting friends.

Mrs. Azor Northey left last week for Montreal where she went to hospital for treatment. Mrs. E. H. Northey accompanied her.

Mr. S. Stuart, of Peterboro', was the guest of friends in the village on Thursday.

Rev. Walter Cox spent a few days in Toronto this week.

J. H. Sherin was in Toronto on business last week.

H. G. FitzGerald motored to Peterboro' on Wednesday.

Mrs. Williams is visiting friends in Peterboro' for a few days.

Mrs. Trude Waldon was a visitor to Peterboro' on Wednesday.

Rev. Walter Cox was the special preacher at St. Luke's Wednesday evening service.

BUDGET DESIGNED

could have to leave Canada than were leaving it at the present time.

It was not the desire of the Government to interfere with any industry in Canada and he believed that when the effect of the present changes had been felt throughout industry there would be less emigration than there had been in the past.

Industrial History

Mr. Stewart recalled conditions as he knew them after the National policy was adopted in 1878. Smaller industries were then merged in larger and there was a building boom in the City of Toronto until by 1890 hogs were selling on Toronto market at $4 a hundredweight dressed and thousands of dwelling in that city were unoccupied. The black flag was much in evidence during those years and there were many processions of workers asking for work or bread. In 1896 there had been a change and from then until 1911 had been a period of gradual growth the time of greatest progress in the history of Canada. In 1911 the Liberals had been accused of wishing to sell out to the Yankees, when all that they had sought was to improve conditions in Canada. In fact that time Mr. Meighen himself had been in favor of putting agricultural implements on the free list.

"Never did I express such an opinion," interrupted Mr. Meighen, "inside the House or out.

Mr. Stewart accepted Mr. Meighen's statement but said that that gentleman had favored reduction in the duty on agricultural implements and had placed small tractors on the free list.

Progressive's Praise

J. F. Johnston (Progressive, Last Mouhtain) congratulated the Acting Minister of Finance on his "clear, concise and well-delivered" Budget speech. It was a statement that should cause the people to take heart. Although the public debt was still tremendous, a reduction of over thirty million dollars was very encouraging. The estimated reduction in expenditures for this year should bring considerable relief to the tax payers.

The Government in office during the war had not imposed taxes as it should have done. In those days when money was easier, the taxes were not as severe as they should have been. The proposed reduction in the present Budget would mean a loss of twenty-four million dollars from revenue. Most of this loss would be from the reduced Sales Tax.

Mr. Johnston referred to a speech made by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen in Windsor shortly before the Budget was announced in which he predicted there would be very few if any reductions in tariff. In view of the announcements of last Thursday Mr. Johnston did not believe the leader of the Opposition to be a very good prophet. However every industry to get in financial difficulties within the next few years would blame its troubles on the recent tariff cuts.

Attitude of West

"As far as Western Canada is concerned we are through with high tariffs. All changes must be downward," he declared. He was sorry that the national policy outlined by Mr. Robb in his Budget speech had not been adopted fifty years ago when the so-called national policy came into being. "The Government should press forward until the protective element in our tariff is entirely removed. This will remove the shackles from our basic industry", he added.

J. L. Stansell (Conservative, East Elgin)said Canada required a fiscal policy which helped all the industries natural to the country. If there were to be tariff reductions he thought they should be spread over all items to which the tariff now applied instead of being applicable to a comparatively small number.

R. J. Woods (Progressive, Dufferin) said that last year some of the Progressives had been severely criticized as prophets of blue ruin because they had told of the hardships under which agriculture was suiffering. This year the country had been treated to the spectacle of the cry The system was charged up on the workmen at home they would of blue ruin coming from the big industrial enterorises.

HASTINGS AND THE DISTRICT

Hastings Club Will be Represented at Baseball Meeting -- School Report.

HASTINGS, April 14.—The manager of the baseball team has received word to be present at the annual baseball meeting, which is to be held in Warkworth on Thursday afternoon, April 24.

"Eczema All Over Arms Suffered for 12 Years"

Mrs. Murray Hough, Wiarton, Ont., writes:

"I had eczema for twelve years. Every once in a while it would break out and spread all over my arms. I tried all kinds of treatments to relieve it, but without success. One Spring it broke out and nothing gave me relief, even the salve I got from the doctor did no good. At last I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment and it healed the eczema in a short time. That is over a year ago, and I have had no return of the trouble."

WHO'S WHO:

Prudence Page, a pretty country girl who has awakened from a brief and unhappy love-affair with unreliable

Bert Traymore, a fascinating philander.

Janet Mercer, Prudence's 28-year-old friend, plain but genuine, is a trained nurse and masseuse to the delicate child of

Mrs. Vansittart, a wealthy women who owns Winston Towers. One of her guests is

Virginia Dale, a blase beauty who sees a rival in Prudence, and who has set her cap at

Peter Armstrong, brilliant young inventor, interested in Prudence. Prudence has given up Traymore, and is beginning to return Armstrong's interest, when she is accused of theft at Winston Towers, and runs away from home, heart-broken. She has lost her purse, and arrives penniless in New York, not knowing where she can find refuge for the remainder of the night. She stops in front of a huge church used as a House of Refuge.

Prudence is unable to get a job in the big city.

Prudence's father visits Mrs. Vansittart and tells her that she is responsible for his daughter's flight from home.

CHAPTER XLV

In Peril

On the evening of the long heart-breaking day in New York city when every attempt at finding work had been frustrated, and never in all her life had she felt so utterly alone, Prudence hunted feverishly through a telephone-book for the address of Midhurst Buildings.

It wasn't there!

She asked a policeman, who informed her that probably such a building would be Brooklyn way.

"Take the subway," he advised her.

So—spending a nickel of her few remaining coins, away she rattled in the train.

"You'd bes' go in a postoffice, miss, and have a look at a directory," a policeman told her, when she reached the end of her trip. "But I'm afraid all office-buildings will be locked up now. It's nearly eight o'clock."

A postoffice official found the address for her.

"You'll have to walk it. It's nearly a mile from here." He gave her intricate directions anent the winding streets and alleyways that compose the world's financial mart.

Prudence lost her way several times over, and was further discomfited by a heavy shower of rain. The night was very close and sultry, and thunder was about. She hated thunder, being terrified of storms.

Once a cow belonging to a neighbor has been killed by lightning, and Prudence had an unreasoning terorr in the matter.

At last she reached the tall, gloomly buildings where Janet Mercer's friend was caretaker, and on the very doorstep was the woman she sought, accompanied by her husband, who was carrying a suitcase.

"Mrs. Smith . . . It's me, Prudence Page . . . you remember . . .?"

"Good gracious! Janet Mercer's friend! How are you, dear? And what beings you to the city?"

Mrs. Smith was genuinely astounded.

Prudence stammered out a vague story about coming to find work, and having lost her purse.

"But we'll lend you the money for your fare back, dearie. You'll be going home, of course?"

The girl's pale, tired face flushed up. That flush wasn't lost upon the kindly couple.

"I . . . I can't go home . . . not in the meantime . . . if you could just give me a bed for tonight . . . you promised you would, any time ." the girl implored.

Mrs. Smith exchanged glances with her husband.

"But we've just locked the whole place up for the night. We've got a holiday tomorrow, and we're catching the train for Atlantic City to visit my husband's sister."

Tears of fatigue and disappointment rose to Prudence's eyes, so that Mr. Smith—to whom beauty in distress made irresistible appeal—said, quickly:

"Maggie, why shouldn't we let her have the flat tonight?"

His wife hesitated. She looked uncertainly at Prudence.

"Wouldn't you be afraid, in that great building, all alone? You could lock the door of the flat, of course . . . it's a parlor, bedroom, kitchenette and boxroom, self-contained . . . and you'd be quite safe, of course . . but, still . . ."

Her husband broke in with a hearty:

"Oh, she'd be all right, Maggie! Better for her than a hotel. And we'll be home tomorrow night."

"Thank you very much," said Prudence gently. Gloomy as the outside of the great building was, the flat promised refuge. And she hadn't any money for hotels!

So the caretaker and his wife, greatly wondering at her advent in the city, took her up in the elevator to the eighth floor, and let her into their private premises.

"There's electric light, and I'll change the sheets of the bed in a jiffy." Capable Mrs. Smith soon had everything in readiness for the unexpected guest. "And there's bread and tea and sugar in the cupboard, and some eggs. You use the gas cooker."

Then the pair had to hurry off to catch their train.

It was rather eerie in the flat, perched up so high above the world, and Prudence undressed quickly, climbing into the enormous feather bed.

No sooner was she there than—horror of horrors!—the thunder broke out in a fury, the lightning flashed, the rain came down in torrents!

Prudence crawled below the bedclothes, trembling.

But the storm raged on and on, growing louder, till the crashed seemed directly overhead, and the room was brilliant with the lightning. The rain poured down as though all the waters of the universe had been let loose.

Prudence had read about the terrible air-raid in the Great War but none could ever have been louder or more intimidating than this ghastly storm!

Suddenly, the building seemed to totter as crash after crash deafened the crouching girl. She cried aloud in terror.

And then—above the storm—she heard the sharp ting-ting of the telephone beside the bed.

With trembling fingers she lifted the receiver from its hook.

There was a long and eerie pause, and then a hoarse voice tricking from far away, across the wires.

"Hello! Hello! Midhurst Buildings?"

"Yes. Yes."

"Are you on fire? The lightning hit a wire on the roof connecting the motor-room, and——"

The receiver fell from Prudence's fingers, as she leap straight out of bed and to the door. She shot the bolt back, and a wave of terrific heat nearly overcame her as flames from the blazing staircase swirled almost to her feet! The whole building was on fire! It was an old construction, and there was no fire-escape!

"Help! Help!" she screamed, slamming the door shut tight, and rushing to the windows.

But above the thunder nothing could be heard!

She staggered to the telephone, caught up the receiver, and shouted: "Fire! Send the fire brigade! Midhurst Buildings . . . Wharf Street!"

For a moment the storm lulled and outside the bedroom door she could now hear the loud roar of the flames and the terrible crash of falling debris. The room became suffocatingly hot . . .

The girl sank down upon her knees, and prayed. Eight stories up! Was any ladder long enough to reach her? Would help come in time to save her from an awful death?

Next Issues A Startling Reflection

SNAKE STORY IS PROOF OF SPRING.

Snake Three Feet Long Found in Milk Tin—Had Grown Up There.

ESCONDIDO, Cal. April 15 (United Press).—Down around here snakes pretty generally put in a full year doing their stuff. However, snake stories are barred in winter, or until the spring comes up north, so as not to claim an undue advantage.

Well, Dr. F. M. Tracy, a rancher and retired surgeon, living in the San Marcos district, read of the advent of spring and "flivvered in" with the first of the season.

Dr. Tracy was shifting a bunch of empty cans, when he struck a 16-ounce condensek milk can that felt very heavy. Also, something alive was moving inside of the can. Its original contents had been drained in the Southern California way—by small holes drilled in the top to let the contents run out and the air run in.

Dr. Tracy, frankly curious, reached for his can opener. As soon as the cover was removed a gopher snake, 3 feet long, crawled out and scuttled away. A gopher snake in the rachning district is sacred, as it protects crops, so it was unmolested.

The snake had evidently crawled into the small hole when a mere baby, eaten the remains of the milk and so increased its size that it had to stay. It probably lived two or three years on curious bugs and flies that ventured into the holes. The confining life hadn't bothered the snake's style, for it was as healthy and strong as any other snake of its age, and got away from there just as fast.

Dr. Tracy called witnesses before he opened the can, so this isn't the ordinary kind of snake story.

ORIGINALITY AND ABILITY TO STICK.

That Is Mona Morris' Recipe For Success in the Business World.

NEW YORK, Apr. 15. — The ability to stick to a thing, plus a bit of originality—

That's Mona Morris' recipe for success in the business world.

She speaks from experience.

Just a few years ago Mona Morris lived in Houston, Texas. Suddenly she up and left for New York to enter some angle of the business world.

For a while she wrote scenarios for movies. And then came the hunch that she calls "a bit of originality."

She decided that there must be some other use for little rubber nipples than putting them on the end of baby's milk bottles.

"Why not put them on smaller bottles and sell them to grown-ups to use as favors," she asked herself. "I'll try it," was the decision.

And today, folks of all calls of life drop into a chic little shop, on East Thirty-Second street, and purchase these very little "bit of originality" novelties.

Ordinary nipples are capped over little four-inch bottles and then they are dressed up to resemble all sorts of characters.

Crepe paper and painted faces produce Mother Goose characters, mah jongg men, brides, grooms, Geisha girls, cowboys, policemen and all sorts of other characters.

And, attached to each little character is a card bearing an appropriate verse.

On the Geisha girl novelty, for instance, is this little verse:

"I'm a little Geisha girl,
And if you'll choose me
I'll promise a good surprise;
Then, here's to you and me."

Which is an indication that folks who use these little affairs as party favors are supposed to fill the bottles with something to drink.

"You can get just enough ginger ale in one of them to say so," laughs Mona Morris.

The bottle idea went so well that a pencil favor came next. Nipples were put on ends of pencils and dressed up for use in card parties and the like.

"Sounded like a crazy idea at first," says the originator, "but I believe the originality and the ability to stick to my task until I did put it over is my answer to success."

TEACH YOUR GIRLS HOUSEWORK AT HOME

OMAHA, Neb., April 15 (United Press).—Teaching girls household arts in schools is a waste of time and money if parents refuse to "back up" the teachers, Mrs. A. H. Reeve, Philadelphia, president of the National Congress of Parent-Teachers' Associations, said here.

"What sense is there in teaching a girl household arts if all it amounts to is that she shall learn to cook on a faulty gas range," Mrs. Reeve said, "or wash clothes for a period of minutes each day, or learn to sew properly—if it ends in the school.

"I am a parent, not a teacher. I want to say to parents and taxpayers that no educational system is going to be a success if school is the only part of it."

Give school girls part of the regular housework, was the plea of Mrs. Reeve.

"Education, like Gaul, is divided into three parts," said Mrs. Reeve—"the home, community and school. Too many mothers say, 'I'd rather do the work than have my daughter messing around.' That's what education will mean—just messing around—unless mothers help teachers in making the most of their girls' schooling."

Don't stop co-operation with the teachers when routine school work has been finished, Mrs. Reeve admonished.

"If schools teach swimming take the children to the lakes with you in the summer," Mrs. Reeve advised. "Go with your children to football, basketball and other school games."

ACTION BY SOUND.

When dramas are broadcast by radio, the action ordinarily seen by an audience has to be transmitted by sound. An entrance or exit, for instance, is designated by a slamming door. A bell helps sometimes to announce a newcomer. A telegraph key or locomotive whistle signifies a railway station scene. And so on.

THE PERIL OF NARCOTICS

(By Captain Richmond P. Hobson)

HOW NARCOTICS WORK.

When narcotics enter the system, nature treats them as if they were toxic poisons.

The reaction is immediately to develop antitoxins to neutralize the toxins.

One-eighth of a grain of morphine is a dose in medicine, and one-twenty-fifth of a grain of heroin is sufficient to put one under the drug. In a few days, or even a shorter time, the system will have developed antitoxins sufficient to neutralize this quantity.

The drug effect will be felt only after getting beyond neutralization point. Then it will be necessary to have a quarter of a grain, later half a grain, and soon a grain. One grain of morphine is a fatal dose to a person unaccustomed to the drug.

The average addict is taking more than 10 grains of morphine daily—more than 80 times a dose. He is paying on an average more than a dollar a grain. Some are taking 20 grains, some 50. There are records of more than 100 grains taken daily.

When the drug begins to subside, as it does in a few hours, through the action of the skin and the kidneys, the antitoxins do not subside. Remaining in the system un-neutralized, they act like irritating poisons. The harmful effect is general—nothing escapes.

A condition of torture sets in. The muscles become knotty, cramps ensue in the abdomen and viscera, and pains, as though a sword were being thrust through the body, succeed each other.

This suffering, called "withdrawal symptoms," representing the most acute torture ever devised or described, continues for days. Usually death will ensue if the addict is far advanced, and the doses or "shots" are stopped.

The addict comes to look on the question of getting his supply of the drug not only as important for his well-being, so that he can do his work or look after his business, but necessary to his very life. He cannot obtain a sufficient supply lawfully. He is thrown at once into the lawless world. He comes to look on the rest of society as his enemy, with its hand against him.

Formerly, most addicts were the result of medical treatment. Addicts of this sort now represent but a small fraction. They are now recruited in a systematic, organized way.

QUICKER FIRST AID.

Ambulances soon may be picking up emergency call by radio, while on the road. Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex., are planning municipal broadcasting stations at police headquarters, whereby first aid calls could be flashed to the ambulances while the drivers are attending to other calls.

FABLES ON HEALTH

CONSIDER YOUR FOOD.

Diet, in the belief of Mr. Mann of Anytown, was something fat women did to reduce, while doing their daily dozen.

Quite unbeknown to this gentleman, there is a definite basis for dietarrangement, based upon the very chemical components of the human body.

Thus various food salts are essential for all living tissues and for the bones. By salts is meant, not table salt, but organic combinations of lime, magnesia, phosphorus and other elements.

Vitamins are absolutely necessary for the nourishment of the body. Little is known of them other than they exist in fresh, uncooked foods; that the water soluble is heavy in spinach and greens and that milk and cream are heavy with the fat soluble.

Cellulose gives bulk to the food mass and stimulates stomach activity.

Starch, when digested, becomes sugar. It is most abundant in nutrients.

Sugar is found in most fruits and has definit value when properly indulged in.

Proteins contain carbon, hydrogen and oxygen and nitrogen; carbohydrates and fats are the fuel of energy-giving foods. Certain minerals are needed in small amounts, and water is highly essential.

BACK OF DIET IS A BASIC NEED. KEEP AN EYE ON YOUR FOOD.

RADIO NEWS

Most receiving sets in Great Britain are crystal receivers, due to their closeness to the broadcasting stations.

An expedition from the United States to explore the Amazon and Orinoco rivers will have radio as the only means of comunication.

Commercial spark stations, sending in 450 meters, are blamed for much of the interference met with by broadcast listeners.

RADIO SUPERSTITION.

A new superstition is going the rounds especially through the farming population of Europe. It is the belief that radio is responsible for thunder and lightning. The result is an opposition to the growth of radio in Europe.

DISTANT INTERFERENCE.

Amateurs in the New York district have received a complaint from their brother "hams" in California and Oregon against their transmission. The western amateurs say the easterners have been interfering with their local work.

STANDARD SIGNALS.

The United States Bureau of Standards is keeping the broadcasting, amateur and commercial stations standardized as to their wavelengths by transmitting special signals of standard frequencies twice each month. Transmitting apparatus is adjusted by these signals.

SET FOR CONVENTION.

A $12,000 loud speaker is to be placed in and outside of the Cleveland auditorium during the coming Republican convention. It has been leased by the national committee for use during the convention, and an option for its purchase thereafter has been offered to the city.

RADIO FOR FARMERS.

Canadian farmers have a chance to listen in on 36 broadcasting stations in that country not only for grain and livestock reports but for agricultural lectures from Manitoba Agricultural College or the University of Saskatchewan.

DANISH PLAN FAILS.

A plan for voluntary subscriptions from fans, dealers and manufacturers for the support of a broadcasting station in Denmark has failed because of lack of sufficient contributions. The plan is interesting to American fans and broadcasters, due to efforts being made here to solve the same problem.

FIRST WORLD SHOW.

The first annual international radio show is to be opened at Madison Square Garden, New York, on September 22. It is expected to be the most complete exhibition of radio, as known throughout the world, that has ever been presented.

STRENGTH AND NERVE POWER ARE CREATED BY RED BLOOD

To Build Up Vitality We Must Enrich the Blood Which is the Driving Force of Life.

What gives the athlete his strength? Red blood. What drives the worker, and the business man, also, up the steep hill of success? Red blood. What makes the glowing, vital beauty of woman? Red blood.

Rich, red blood is the supreme driving force of life. If our bodies no longer respond to Nature's processes that should rebuild strength and vitality, then we should look to our blood. We should enrich it, nourish it. Red blood feeds the body tissues, stimulates the nerves, makes our systems tingle with the pulsing of life.

If we lack strength and nerve power we should always think first of our blood. Discouraged or exhausted men and women should get from their druggists to-day a generous size bottle of Wincarnis. Start this home treatment at once. It costs less than ten cents a day. In twelve days see the improvement Wincarnis, the blood builder, brings. No need to worry. Wincarnis will give you new strength, vitality, nerve force.

BOYISH SUITS REQUIRE TIES

The slim woman, who affects the boy-line tailleur, will soon find a tie-rack a necessity, for the must have variety in the neckwear that complements her masculine overblouse. Ties that complement the wearer, as well as complement the costume may be made of the gorgeous and versatile ribbons that have become an integral part of every costume display, and they may be used with tailored frocks as well as tailored apparel. A suggestion or two will not be amiss, for it takes only a suggestion to start the woman who is resourceful and original along the way to smartness.

They are wearing the narrow bow of black gorsgrain ribbon under the little white collar on the straight line satin frock. A tie that has been dubbed the "Lady Jane" falls to the hem of the skirt, and brightens a dark frock with inconceivable richness, when made of brilliant plaided or figured ribbon. The tailored shirtwaist of silk broadcloth will form a background for many different ties to be worn with the convertible collar and planned to match the ribbon on the hat; the kerchief that peeps from the pocket; the touch of color in the under-the-arm bag. Ties and pocket handkerchiefs from a partnership, and it is quite possible to band a figured square with the same ribbon that fashions the tie. The needlewoman will make use of the monogram, Mah Jongg motif or motto on some one or more of her many originalities.

Cook Troublesome Weeds

Many of our so-called "troublesome weeds" are edible plants, out of place in the garden or lawn it is true, but nevertheless having a food or medicinal value. If properly utilized, they will form a valuable addition to our somewhat meager supply of early home-grown succulent foods.

The sturdy pioneers whose spring and early summer diet consisted largely of these edibles, found in them the purgatives, the "blood purifiers" and the lasting "bulky foods" which are so essential a part of nature's planning. Let us follow their wise example and gather these outcasts of the garden, the highways and the fields, restoring them to their rightful place in our dietary, both in the interests of food conservation and for our own health's sake.

The sour, or curly dock, is one of the harbingers of spring, coming long before our garden greens are planted. It lasts all through the summer, and when properly cooked, is superior to kale or spinach.

A reliable and an easy rule for cooking greens is to boil them in salted water, drain and chop fine, add butter, cream or ham bacon or pork fryings and serve hot. Any portion that is left over may be molded in small cups and served cold with French dressing.

When mixed with lettuce or chopped cabbage and French dressing, our "common ordinary" wild sorrel makes a piquant salad. Boiled with stock, the sorrel makes a delicious soup, or a cream soup may be made by adding milk and a tiny seasoning of butter to the boiling sorrel. In making the soups, the sorrel should simmer or boil gently, otherwise the leaves will break apart and the appearance of the soup will be less attractive than when the leaves retain their full shape. Serve buttered toast or croutons with these soups. Sorrel that has been boiled and pressed through a sieve and added to an English drawn-butter sauce (that can be made with butter and cooking oil in equal proportions), is excellent to serve with boiled or roast veal.

As a proof that a little knowledge may be a dangerous thing, many people refuse to eat either dock or sorrel because of the oxalic acid content in these plants. In reality, the acid content is not enough to be at all injurious. A quantity sufficient for a whole meal of either of these plants would not contain as much acid as one stalk of rhubarb—yet these same people eat quantities of rhubarb with the idea that is is beneficial—as it undoubtedly is, but why condemn the sorrel?

Then there are the ever-present dandelions which we can cut for the two-fold purpose of extermination and food.

The young and tender leaves are useful as greens or salad plants. The dandelion heads the list as a plant having medicinal value, for it is rich in taraxacin, the powerful liver stimulant.

Lamb's-quarters are good only when cooked, then they are so good that there is no comparison between them and any other "green." If your supply more than equals your daily need, by all means can some of these delicious greens for winter use.

The young, tender sprouts of the milk-weed are quite like asparagus when cooked and served in the same manner, and coming early in the springtime they are a distinct economy to the price-burdened housewife. The young leaves of the milkweed make delicious greens, particularly when any left-overs are re-heated in the fat of salt pork and garnished with a strip of this luxury.

Purslane belongs to the portulaca family and is a "noxious weed" in many sections of the country. Like other greens it is good hot or cold, may be added to stews and when boiled and pressed through a sieve it can be made into a sauce that is excellent to serve with boiled salt beef.

Wild mustard springs up by the wholesale in our fields and gardens. The leaves make an appetizing addition to salads and sandwiches and may be used in place of lettuce or cress, for their sharpness is not irritating like that of the true mustard.

Mustard and cress together make a combination salad that lingers long in pleasant memory. Wild pepper grass that grows by every brookside is equally desirable as a salad plant or condiment.

Cowslip grows in the marshes and one is well repaid for the time spent in gathering them, for they fill a particular niche when cooked in the usual way.—By Christine Emery.

FIVE RUSSIANS WERE SENTENCED TO DEATH

(By John Graudenz, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

MOSCOW, April 15. — Five persons have been sentenced to death at Odessa for espionage, it was announced here to-day.

The condemned spies include the famous girl leader, Neidenova, who, it was brought out at her trial, acted under the instructions of the Polish war office during the Russo-Polish war.

Others sentenced include Henry Kiniox, a representative of the Polish Commission, who managed to escape and was sentenced in absentia, and Komorrov, former commander of a Russian army corps.

Had a Weak Heart Was Very Nervous For Three Years

Miss Jessie Peterson, Zealandia, Sask., writes: "I wish to let you know how much good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me.

"For nearly three years I was very badly run down, had a weak heart, and was so nervous that sometimes I would almost faint away.

"I heard of many people who had recommended your Heart and Nerve Pills, so I decided to give them a trial. After I had used two boxes I found they had done me good, and after having taken five boxes I was completely relieved.

"I cannot recommend your Pills enough, and I would advise anyone having a weak heart or troubled with nervousness to use them."

BOBBED BANDIT SOON A MOTHER

Judge Suspends Sentence on Girl But Commits Her Husband to Jail — Used Tinfoil Bullets in Gun — Court Promises Leniency to Man.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The "bold, bad, bobbedhaired bandit" who appeared on Riverside drive about two weeks ago has turned out to be a hungry, expectant mother. Judge McIntyre, convinced of the truthfullness of the story she told and that told by her companion, suspended sentence on her and sent her companion to the penitentiary with the promise to intercede with the parole board in his behalf.

The young woman is Daisy Smith, twenty, and her companion is Edward Santorelli, twenty-nine. Both lived at No. 161 East Twenty-seventh street. They were married two days ago with the consent of the court. They were arrested on March 28 on the complaint of Jacob Rubin, a taxicab chauffeur, of No. 48 East One Hundred and First street.

Prompted By Hunger.

For two weeks prior to the attack on Rubin the couple had been out of funds. They lived on food supplied by friends. That night they abandoned their rooms and carried all the belongings with them in an old cap of Santorelli's. They decided to commit one holdup for money with which to buy food.

Santorelli found an old pistol. They made bullets out of tin foil. At Fourth avenue and Thirty-fourth street they engaged Rubin. They drove to the Drive and at One Hundred and Sixty-second street ordered Rubin to stop. They got out. The girl pressed the revolver against Rubin's side while Santorelli went through his pockets and found $10.31. They then told Rubin their story. He said he, too, was in hard luck. The couple returned $5 to him.

Rubin drove away and found Detectives O'Neill and O'Connor and returned to the scene of the holdup. They found Daisy and Santorelli trying to get away in the shadows.

Wanted To Marry.

This same story was told Judge McIntyre when the couple pleaded guilty ten days ago. The couple announced they wanted to marry. Judge McIntyre ordered an investigation and verified Santorelli's statement that he is a widower and has three children in a home.

Daisy's greatest concern yesterday was for Santorelli. She pleaded that he be let go so that he could be with her when their baby is born. Judge McIntyre said he would endeavor to make it possible for Santorelli to be out of the penitentiary by that time.

In the meantime efforts will be made to have the girl's parents take her back in their Hoe avenue home.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxine powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dirt and dust and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The peroxine powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

EGGS SO CHEAP FARMERS REFUSE TO GATHER THEM

MAYSVILLE, Ky., April 15. — Eggs are so cheap, farmers won't take time from spring planting to gather them.

When they dropped below ten cents a dozen, the farmers told truck drivers to gather them themselves.

800 OPERA GLASSES

PARIS, April 14—The late M. Arthur Meyer, editor and owner of the Caulois, who was famous for his collection of books, also owned a collection of opera glasses of which he was extremely proud. In the collection are 800 pairs of glasses some of them of beautiful workmanship, which belonged to distinguished people.

HORSES ON RAMPAGE.

MONTREAL, April 15.—Thousands of wild horses are overruning the grazing lands in the Caribou district of British Columbia, damaging ranches and enticing domestic animals away. They are becoming such a nuisance that farmers are arranging a great roundup. The captured horses will be sold for $5 each.

Fraserville

The following presentation and addresses were made to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kidd and family of Fraserville. Mr. and Mrs. Kidd are moving to Toronto

The Ladies Aid.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church met in their meeting on Wednesday, April 2 in the Orange Hall. Two quilts were quilted. The members took advantage of this occasion to say farewell to Mrs. W. A. Kidd before her removal to Toronto.

Mrs. Rev. Patterson read the following address and Mrs. Waterman presented Mrs. Kidd with a beautiful silver bread plate.

Fraserville, Ont.
April 2, 1924

Dear Mrs. Kidd,—

We, the members of Fraserville Ladies Aid have been unanimous in desiring to make use of the opportunity which this gathering affords to publicly express our regard for you and our high appreciation of your services as a member of our society. We have asked many favors which were always, if possible, freely and cheerfully granted. We are very sorry that the time has come when another link must be removed from our chain but our loss will be gain to other societies and churches.

We have always found you sympathetic and helpful in times of trouble, while your bouyancy of spirit has often cheered us when gloomy or discouraged. We fell that your thoughts will revert often to the good times we have spent together as a society in the homes and in this orange hall and you will not forget our table which fairly groans with goodies such as angel cakes, etc., etc.

We hope you will become interested in a similar society in connection with your new church and we feel sure that your cheerful disposition and smiling countenance will be an inspiration to those with whom you associate.

We ask you to accept this tray and may it prove a reminder of our pleasant relationship as "Aid members" and each day as you partake of the necessities of life, may you enjoy the use of it.

We pray that in the years that are to come, God's richest favor and blessing may attend you; that you may be gently led by Him who is too wise to err and to good to be unkind and in the great future you may hear Him say "Well done, good and faithful servant."

Signed on behalf of the Ladies Aid: Mrs. Robt. Waterman, Mrs. R. M. Patterson, Mrs. R. Lewers, Mrs. M. Hutchinson.

Mrs. Kidd was taken completely by surprise and made a brief reply, expressing her appreciation of their kindness and assuring them that she would ever remember the pleasant gatherings in Ladies Aid work and wished them every success in future work.

The teacher and boys of Mrs. R. Waterman's Sunday School class on Sunday presented Mr. Frank Kidd with a lovely tie pin and the following address:

Dear Frank,—

Your classmates and teacher, knowing that very soon you are going to leave us and move to a new home, wish to tell you how sorry we all are to part with you. You have been very faithful in your attendance at class and always so generous and willing to help in every way you could. Dear Frank we will miss you more than we can express in words, so as a small tangible expression of our affection and appreciation we ask you to accept this little tie pin and hope when you wear it you will sometimes think of your old classmates and teacher at Fraserville. We trust that some of the truths taught there may prove helpful to you through life and that your life may be a blessing and inspiration to other boys. Dear Frank we all wish for you the best in every way and pray God's blessing may be yours and that He will keep you in his loving care.

Signed by your classmates and teacher: Clifford Wood, Austin Trotter, Harold Henry, Leigh Hewitt, Donald Bothwell, Mrs. Waterman, teacher.

The teacher and scholars of Mrs. Fred Clarke's Sunday School class read the following address to Miss Jean Kidd and presented her with a beautiful signet ring and bouquet of flowers:

Dear Jean,—

We, your Sunday School teacher and classmates, having learned of your intended removal from our midst desire to express our regret and also our love which we have for you. And the friendship which has been formed during our childhood, as chums and Sunday School classmates, we hope may never be forgotten, and in order to enable you to remember us, we ask you to accept this signet ring and flowers, and trust that you may think of us as you wear this ring.

Distance does not change true friendsip but tends to make it stronger. So among the many new friends you may makes, we hope you will not forget the ones of Fraserville Sunday School. We wish you health and happiness in your new home.

Signed on behalf of your teacher and classmates: Mrs. Fred Clarke, teacher; Miss Ruby Cunningham, Mary Wood, Mary Atchison, Mona Holden, Ruth Trotter, Pearl Carl, Pearl Hewitt, Mary Huggins.

Miss Hattie Kidd was also presented with a beautifully bound Bible by her Fraserville friends, as an appreciation of her many kindnesses and the high respect she holds in the community.

INDIGESTION GAS ON STOMACH PAINS AFTER MEALS

Many people suffer terribly from gas and pains in the stomach after every meal, and are kept in constant misery.

For the past 44 years Burdock Blood Bitters has been bringing hope and joy to thousands suffering from various forms of stomach trouble, helping them to eat three square meals a day; helping them to eat anything they wish, without having to suffer for it after.

Mr. Fred. Nielson, Moose Jaw, Sask., writes: "All last summer I was troubled with stomach trouble and indigestion, and also gas on the stomach. I could not eat anything except some light food and even then I would be bothered with pains after each meal. I could not work a whole day without being done out. I had tried everything: doctors, medicines and pills, until I read about Burdock Blood Bitters. I have taken four bottles and it has nearly, if not completely, restored me to health again."

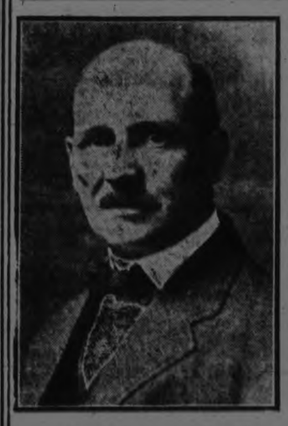
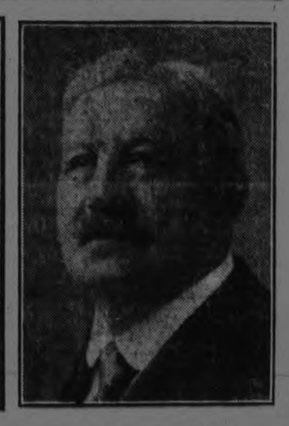
VOTE FOR THE C.G.E. BY-LAW



MAYOR J. J. TURNER.



ALD. J. W. MEYERS.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—The terms of the by-law to be voted upon on Wednesday, April 23rd, to extend the period of the fixed assessment of the Canadian General Electric Company for about three and a half years, is the outcome of negotiations between the officials of the Company and the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council.

We learned early in the year that the Company contemplated a considerable enlargement of some one of their plants, and our desire, in the interest of the city, was to have the enlargement made here. We were informed that the Company was considering whether the expansion would be made in Montreal or in Peterboro. We secured an appointment at Toronto, through Mr. E. G. Patterson, with Mr. Ashworth, the general manager, and Mr. Bremner, the assistant general manager, and urged that the expansion be made in Peterboro. Mr. Ashworth informed us that that was his inclination, but another view had been injected into the consideration of the subject, and that was that at Montreal they had building space sufficient to house the expansion without erecting further buildings there or increasing their overhead expense.

The officials of the Company made a suggestion which would, they said, appeal to their judgment, but the representatives of the City could not see a way to accept it. However, after considerable discussion we said that their suggestion would be considered, and after we returned it was considered at a meeting of the Committee and at several conferences, but a way to accept their suggestion was not reached.

At another conference in Toronto we told the Company's officers that we could not carry out their suggestion. We made an alternative suggestion that the fixed assessment of the Company be extended to ten years, from the first of January next, which would be an extension of over three years. This was not accepted by the Company at the time.

Mr. Ashworth and Mr. Bremner informed us that the Company expected to make very much larger additions within a reasonable time, and this of course made us more anxious to secure this expansion, as where the Company with the new United States control began expanding, in Peterboro or in Montreal, it was most likely to continue.

We were very much pleased when the Company later accepted our suggestion of the extension of the period of the fixed assessment, and the by-law now submitted to the electors is to confirm this arrangement.

The Company, if the by-law is carried, will erect a building of brick 87 by 167 feet, three stories high, and with a basement, and expend in the construction of the building and in machinery and equipment $300,000 to $400,000.

The building will have approximately 50,000 square feet of floor space. It will be almost equal to a building 50 by 1,000 feet—that is, equal to a building 50 feet wide that would extend from Brock Street to 100 feet south of Simcoe Street. The Canadian Raybestos Company has a plant that is far from being insignificant, and the new building proposed to be put up by the Electric Company will have nearly three times as much floor space. The addition will be an important one and one that will be welcomed of itself, and, besides, we can look forward to the further enlargements which the Company have in view and hope to proceed with within a reasonable time.

The Company will pay more taxes per year than it now does, for the new buildings will be assessed for school purposes. The City will gain by the expenditures on the construction of the buildings, gain by an important addition to our largest industry, gain by anchoring the Company here for future large expansions, and gain by receiving additional taxes, and will lose nothing except by the short extension of the period of the fixed assessment.

We should unite in endorsing the by-law by a large majority and securing all the advantages that will follow.

Yours truly,
J. J. TURNER, Mayor.
J. W. MEYERS,
Chairman Manufacturers' Committee.

PLAN WADING POOL FOR JACKSON PARK

Kiwanis and Health Association Get Together on Community Benefit for Children.

Children visitors to Jackson Park this summer will be provided with a paddling pool, if plans formulated by gentlemen who visited the park yesterday are carried through. The Kiwanis Club and the Peterborough Health Association are working together on the plan, and expect to have a pleasant addition to the park when summer attracts the hundreds of children who visit the park.

Jack Marshall, president of Kiwanis, A. McIntosh, Hydro engineer, W. R. Breyfogle, representing the Health Association, and Walter Stocker, who is interested in all plans for the betterment of the city, composed the party which drew up the plans.

It is proposed to dam up the creek near the bridge, where there is a flat rock bottom, and the water will be raised till it is about two feet deep. It is not intend d to make the pool deep as it is desired to supply a safe place for small children to play in the water. This improvement will be a boon to the children who enjoy the annual camp under the care of the Peterborough Health Association.

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Viking, Alta.—"From the time I was 15 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk the floor. I suffered in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I surely am glad I tried it for I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles." — ODELIA HOLMBERG, Box 93, Viking, Alberta.

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it. c

BOXING BOUTS ON WEDNESDAY

Peterboro Boxer Who Won Medal at Toronto Tourney in Main Bouts.

Boxing fans are in for another [illegible] at the G.W.V.A. hall tonight, when a card of ten bouts will be put on. Three and possibly four boxers from Toronto have been lined up, including Gene Carr of St. Helens' Club, who will meet Joe Jordan. Several preliminary bouts for city boxing honours will be included in the bill. The fans will see all the regulars in action and some newcomers.

Art Johnston will have a place among the headliners. Johnston was a medal winner at the recent Ontario championships at Toronto when he defeated the clever and experienced Lepine and entered the finals. This bout was one of the features of the big tournament, and Johnston was sought out and congratulated by Lou Marsh. It is the first occasion in a good many moons that a boxing medal has come to Peterborough.

For to-morrow nights' bill, the boxing committee promise improved seating accommodation with the ring in the centre of the hall. Reserved seats are on sale at the Empress hotel and at LeBarr's news agency.

GOING TO GOTHAM? TRY THIS

On and after April 27th, Torontonians will have the opportunity of travelling to New York City on a train which, besides affording typical "Canadian National" equipment and service, will cover the route in fast time, via Canadian National-Lehigh Valley Railways. The new train will leave Toronto daily at 5.30 p.m. and land its passengers at the magnificent and centrally located Pennsylvania Depot at 8.26 a.m., the next morning.

Besides the usual sleeping car equipment, there will be a Drawing Room-Compartment Car, and exceptional Dining Car service.

The return trip should of course be made on the corresponding New York-Toronto train, which will leave the metropolis daily at 6.15 p.m., arriving Toronto 8.53 a.m.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT GEORGE STREET

As the Newton Jones' mission at George street Church draws to a close the interest a , power of the services steadily increase. Yesterday both of the services were of the most helpful nature and the influences were of the finest character.

In the afternoon over 100 children were present to hear Mr. Jones' talk on "Flag Signals." Mr. Jones has a most unusual faculty of making his points vivid by the use of blackboard illustrations, and this faculty was greatly in evidence yesterday. Simple lessons on Christian faith and life were beautifull, and tellingly drawn by the speaker, and his address was followed with the closest attention by every one of those in attendance. The culmination was a lesson on the necessity and simplicity of the Christian faith, which will not soon be forgotten by any of his hearers.

In the evening Mr. Jones gave first a short Bible exposition to the Christian workers in his audience. He brought out forcible five characteristics in a true Christian experience, looking, following, abiding, finding, bringing, basing his words on the familiar passage at the close of the first chapter of Johns' Gospel. Then he gave a more general sermon on "A glorious Note," dealing with the simplicity and universality of Christ's message of salvation. As always, his adress was marked by the keenest siritual insight, and the greatest power in apt and telling illustration.

To-night Mr. Jones will speak at 8 o'clock on "The Open Store and the Closed Door." All who welcome an opportunity to spend an evening hour in Passion Week in devotion, are invited to attend. To-morrow the mission will close with a "Museum Service" for boys and girls at 4.15, and a public preaching service in the evening. At the latter Mr. Jones' topic will be "My Own Life Story." All are invited to attend.

GETTING BUSINESS FOR LOCAL SUMMER RESORTS

By PERRY ALEXANDER,
Proprietor, Oak Orchard Lodge, Peterboro, Ontario, Canada.

Thirteen years ago I took over Oak Orchard Lodge with the idea in mind that its location made it an ideal place for fishermen. When I say fishermen, I mean the genuine article who come to the woods to fish, and not to loaf around and enjoy the civilized comforts of the typical resorts. However, I did have the feeling that just because a man wanted good fishing, he sould not be obliged to put up with inconveniences that a reasonable amount of planning and effort could overcome. So with these two premises, we proceeded to develop our plans.

It is not my purpose to discuss the ways in which we improved the physical appearance or service in Oak Orchard Lodge, as I believe the story as to how we went about filling it will prove of greater interest. We realized that our market for guests was very limited, inasmuch as fishermen—and fishermen alone—would appreciate the kind of hospitality we had to offer.

Consequently, we decided on a direct-by-mail campaign of advertising. We devised a number of little circulars, the most effective of which was "A Warning From the Open," reproduced herewith. This was sent out just at the time when there was considerable agitation about getting back to Nature, which resulted in its getting a better hearing than would ordinarily have been the case, and I also feel that the direct and specific way in which the circular appealed to fishermen must have had a good deal to do with its success.

At first my mailing lists were large and contained far too high a percentage of worthless names, but as time went on we found it possible to sift them down until now they consist of practically 100 p.c. good prospects My plan was to obtain the rosters of the more prominent clubs in the larger cities sufficiently near Oak Orchard so that the trip would not be too arduous. For example, I selected Buffalo, Cleveland, Cincinati, Detroit, New York, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, all of which are within a night's ride of the lodge. I would then mail a circular that seemed to fit in with the interest of the membership of these different clubs. I figured, for example, that the members of an athletic club would be interested in my booklet, "A Warning From the Open," whereas the members of an older and more conservative institution, such as a business men' or college club, would be more apt to respond to a more dignified circular. When any mailing of this kind produced from 10 to 15 per cent. returns, I considered the list worth while, and added the names of those who replied to my permanent mailing list. Although I call the list compiled in this way a permanent one, it really is not quite so, inasmuch as any of the men on it who do not reply to the persistent circularizing are eventually removed to make room for new names. It is my boast that I can send a telegram to any name on my present list and get a response.

Good Will the Greatest Asset.

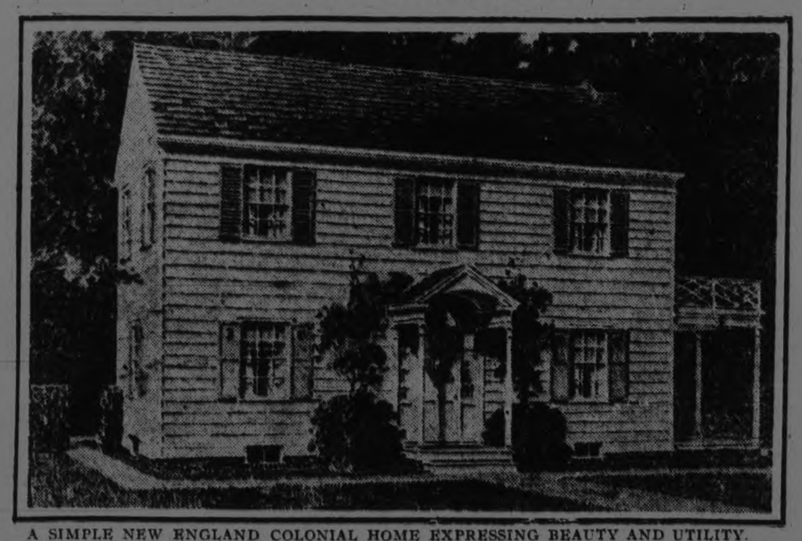
Of course, the good will of our guests is our greatest asset. With a view to capitalizing this invaluable form of advertising more effectively, I had some cards of introduction engraved. One of these is illustrated here. I send these to my old-time guests with a request that they keep them handy in their desks and fill them out for friends who dropped into their offices to talk fishing.

How the Plan has Worked.

This plan has worked out very nicely. Prospects secured in this way have a feeling that their friends have taken a special interest in them, and they further feel that with the introduction they will be well looked after at the Lodge—which fact one visit is enough to convince them of. Most of the men that have come and presented these cards have been converted into "old-timers," who go forth with their own little packages of cards and shout our merits to the skies.

These methods, supplemented from time to time with advertising in the sport magazines for new blood, have made of a deserted farm site one of the best-known fishing resorts in Ontario. At first the going was mighty hard, and we found it particularly difficult to maintain the high standard of service we had set. But these difficulties have now been overcome, and the ways in which we fitted out publicity and direct-by-mail advertising into our problem, are largely responsible for our success.

HOME REFLECTS PERSONALITY; CHOOSE IT CAREFULLY



A SIMPLE NEW ENGLAND COLONIAL HOME EXPRESSING BEAUTY AND UTILITY.

Your home reflects your personality.

The first impression a stranger has of you and your surroundings comes from his view of your home. First the exterior, then the interior.

Therefore ,the house you live in is just as important a factor in the impression you would like to create as the furnishings you design for it. Care in choosing the right kind of home is the first essential.

Under this comes the consideration of climatic suitability, as well as personal preferment. For instance, whether or not you like the light-painted, stucco homes of Spanish design so often seen in the southwest, it would be wrong to transport this idea to the lakes region or to New England. That sort of home fits only in a warm, sunny climate like that of southern California.

For the same reason, a New England colonial home looks out of place in the south, and a southern colonial, with its tall porch pillars, is a stranger in the north. Yet such anomalies are met occasionally, although not often.

Utility Essential

The type of home you want should not be out of place in your territory. Yet it may be as individual as you like. So long as it conforms to a definite idea.

Lack of conformity to a definite idea is what ails most homes that are put up today. Beauty, attractiveness are what the builders seek. But they fail of their purpose in most homes they put up just because they fail to consider the most important factor.

That is utility.

A house should be beautiful, but it must be useful, else it is of no value to you.

Therefore, in buying a home, note carefully its layout. Of what use is a beautiful casement window at the dining-room side of the house if it cuts off all wall space possibilities? That little window in the upper center of the front elevation helps balance the house, but if you find it unbalances one of the bedrooms so that you cannot place your furniture to advantage, of what good is the window?

Simplicity Helps

There are many little points like these that should be watched carefully in buying or building a house. Small, square—or sometimes queer-shaped—windows may put finishing touches to the exterior beauty of the home, but these are treacherous misfits when viewed from inside. They are hard problems, when it comes to draping them or aligning furniture beneath them.

The simpler the design of the house, the better. And simplicity is beauty. An evenly balanced house with plenty of possibilities for furnishing within is the kind of home to gte.

Every room should be designed with the primary consideration of what it is to be used for. Then, after the requirements of the room are fulfilled, its exterior and interior beauty, as related to the rest of the house, can be worked out.

But first of all must come utility. Then beauty.

Bootleggers' Launch Reported Over Falls.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 15.—Federal agents Monday were endeavoring to determine whether a liquor laden launch had been swept over Niagara Falls after having been caught in an ice jam off the mouth of Cayuga Creek. The launch was said to have cleared from Chippewa, Ont., two days ago, and to have been down the Niagara River toward the Falls. The crew was reported to have abandoned it and escaped across the ice floes. Several hundred cases of whiskey and ale were reported aboard, Federal authorities said.

IMMIGRATION STAFFS.

OTTAWA, April 15. — (Canadian Press), — Canada's immigration agencies in Great Britain employ 125 people at a total annual payroll of $125,572. In Continental Europe there are 28 immigration agents, whose payroll is $18,619, and in the United States there are 51 at an annual cost of $90,171. These figures were given in the House Monday in answer to a question.

Sale of radio equipment in this country is running nearly twice as large as that of sporting goods.

GERMANS COME TO CANADA.

OTTAWA, April 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Steady increase in the immigration of Germans to Canada is shown in a return tabled Monday in answer to a question. In 1923, 1,258 Germans came to Canada, of whom 794 were agriculturists. Incomplete figures for the first two months of 1924 show that 524 Germans settling in Canada, of whom 249 were agriculturists.

FLOWERS EXPRESS JUST A THOUGHT

It is not that we need to be reminded of the gracious act of remembrance; it is not that we are too busy, in the rush of modern life, to have kindly thoughts, then follow the thoughts with some expression of them; it is, rather, the art of expression that fails us and keeps us from the doing. Christmas seems the logical time, to many of us, for the giving of gifts, and Christmas giving is a long-established custom, and we make it, in a way, a part of the business of living. But it is a long time, as days go, from Christmas to Christmas, and Easter is coming to be another thought day, another gift day—though in a far less general way.

Coming as it does in the early spring, it seems to be symbolic—in the work-a-day world—of flowers and fashions, the latter more than the former, perhaps. But of late years flowers have been gaining in popularity as a part of the day itself, and it is not amiss that we consider, for a little, their place in the scheme of things. While it is quite true that there is hardly an occasion that a gift of flowers will not grace, or a gift or anniversary for which they are not suitable, it is equally true that there are times when no other expression of thoughtfulness is possible. They say more—and in a sweeter language—than any words can do, for they are, in themselves, true beauty.

For the invalid; for the shut-in; for the person to whom grief has come; for elderly folk, whose memory carries them back to old-fashioned gardens in the days of long ago; it is for them that flowers may do much, and it is to them that flowers will say the most. It has been said that flowers are the sweetest things that God ever made and forgot to put a soul into—but at least they possess a something that may take the place of a soul, when it comes to delivering a very human message. In certain Eastern lands they "make talk" with flowers, and we are, all unconsciously, learning to speak their language.

The flowers of early spring are essentially flowers of cheer, for theirs is the color of the sunshine and the out-of-doors. Deep yellows and the yellow of the primrose; the reds and pinks and whites that tulips know; the blues and soft lavenders of sweet peas; the crimson of carnations, and the deep reds of roses; from these one may make a code of her own and write her message. And a little thought, in combination with the art of an understanding florist, will assure the originality of expression that is its chiefest charm. The simplest way is to choose cut flowers, remembering, if one knows, the favorite colors and blossoms of the recipient. Then there are growing plants—it will take them longer to deliver their message—and that is well.

It may be a basket of posies; it may be a fern dish filled with tiny plants—if she is a housewife; it may be a window box with spring flowers in the bud—if she is an invalid or shut-in; or it may be a jug of the old-time blossoms that are dear to the grandmother, who lives much in the past. There are always new arrangements of the flowers themselves and new bowls and vases to put them in, and if one wishes her thought to have permanence, she may choose one of the many pottery pieces that have been specially designed for flowers, and so carry out the idea of the very blossoms for which they were planned. A violet bowl has the colors and tracery of these shy little posies; daffodils climb a vase of leaf green; another bowl has pansy faces; the whole race of flowers may find homes to their liking.

Especially should one remember the invalid, the shut-in, and the aged with blossoming beauty, since for them there are no glimpses of flowers growing, for them "the brightness of their smile is gone" except as they live in pots and bowls and vases. It might almost be a text—or a motto, the well-beloved bit from the Bard of Avon—"There's rosemary, that's for remembrance . . . and there's pansics, that's for thoughts."

In 1923 alone, about $24,000,000 was spent for vacuum tubes.

HOME BANK PETITIONS.

OTTAWA, April 15. — (Canadian Press).—Two petitions for indemnification of Home Bank depositors were tabled in the House of Commons Monday afternoon. The first bearing the signature of 370 persons was tabled by R. H. Halbert (Progressive, North Ontario), and the second, signed by over 1,400 names, came from L. W. Humphrey (Progressive, West Kootenay).

Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

THERE is no reason why you should suffer from constipation. Headaches, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

In constipation, say intestinal specialists, lies the primary cause of more than three-quarters of all illness including the gravest diseases of life.

Laxatives Aggravate Constipation

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favor Lubrication

Medical science, through knowledge of the intestinal tract gained by X-ray observation, has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage out of the body. Thus Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Not a Medicine

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water it is harmless.

Get rid of constipation and avoid disease by adopting the habit of internal cleanliness. Take Nujol as regularly as you brush your teeth or wash your face. For sale by all druggists.

WHY DOES YOUR DOCTOR ADVISE A SPRING TONIC AT THIS TIME OF YEAR

This is the season when your system is trying to adjust itself to warmer weather. Your liver becomes sluggish and your bowels clogged with poisonous, sickening wastes. As a result, many suffer from such symptoms as sour stomach, coated tongue, bad taste, biliousness, irregular movements of the bowels, sick-headaches, pains in the back and sides.

Make this test! Cleanse and tone your liver and bowels with Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup. Put your stomach in condition—soothe your tired and over-taxed nerves, brace up your system and send purer and healthier blood coursing through your veins.

Notice quick difference in way you look, eat, sleep and feel—improvement in less than 14 hours. You, too, will be satisfied, as others have, or no cost.

Dr. Thachers' is sold and recommended by J. P. Bond, McDermid & Jury and the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Peterborough; The Tanner Drug Company in Lakefield, and by leading druggists in every city and town.

THE REFEREE

SPEED.

The Twentieth Century Limited was paid seven and a half million dollars by its passengers in 1923, financial report reveals.

Traffic is increasing on this famous train, which some days travels in as many as six sections.

The "Century," being a speed creation, is typical of the generation in which we live.

SUPREME.

Ford gets ready to make 10,000 cars a day. Already he's turning out over four-fifths that many.

The best equipped auto works in Europe is supposed to be the Fiat plant in Italy. It cannot make more than 200 cars a day.

Young men, in particular, should read this twice. It is typical of the industrial supremacy of America. There are other kinds of supremacy, and in many of them we have room for improvement. Ours, however, is an industrial civilization. Higher art and culture will come later, symptoms of decay.

NAMES.

More Johns in America than any other name. After John comes William, then James. This is shown by check-up of many city directories.

Religious names, from the Bible, exert a great influence when it comes to naming the average child. Just why John leads all other names in popularity should interest the clergy, for it unquestionably indicates a very definite preference, admiration or interest.

Once started, of course, names become hereditary. It takes courage to give a child a name that isn't as common as dandelions.

DUSTY.

In the air above each square mile of the average city there are 950 tons of dust. So estimates United States Public Health Service.

This will not surprise any woman who does her own housework.

SKYSCRAPER.

The building of skyscrapers is "on the wane," according to Earle Shulz. He's president of an association representing seven billion dollars worth of big buildings. He thinks most cities have caught up with the shortage of office space, and that few skyscrapers will be erected for some time to come.

The skyscraper, America's outstanding contribution to architecture, is an attempt to escape from exorbitant land values. With land fabulously high priced, people build into the air instead of spreading out.

DEARBORN

One of the fastest growing publications is Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent. A year ago its circulation was 270,000. Now 680,000 copies a week are sold, and Ford expects the figure to pass the million mark before the end of 1924.

In addition, Ford has seven trade publications and house organs with a combined circulation of nearly a million a month. Maybe Henry sometimes wonders if the printing press is mightier than the Ford.

TOURISTS.

American tourists have been spending 300 million dollars a year in Europe.

Travel is increasing and it is not improbable that in 1924 Americans will leave in Europe enough money to pay the interest on what Europe owes Uncle Sam.

GLANDS.

At a meeting of gland specialists, a boy of 10 is exhibited. Three years ago he was in an institution for the feeble-minded. His trouble was sluggishness of the pituitary gland inside the skull. He was given pituitary extract—and today he is a normal child and bright and healthy.

Cases like this from the most important field of the glandologists. Rejuvenating worn-out old men is an interesting act in world vaudeville, but of secondary importance. Of course, one must admire them for volunteering to be the subjects of uncertain experiments.

Operating on the brain isn't in it, for delicacy and uncertainty, compared with most tinkering with the glands.

DECEPTION

An old man died the other day in Newark, N.J. Doctors told him he had only a few hours to live. He said he could die happy if he knew that his son, who hit the trail for the unknown six months ago, was happy and traveling the right path. Well, old Dan had never learned to read. So his wife, blinded with tears, brought in some postcards and pretended they were from the boy, faking the messages as she read aloud.

The old man died happy, deception alone could do it. He's on the other side now and knows the truth, probably.

TROUBLE.

What is your chief annoyance at present? Be glad you're not. Mrs. Elsie Silva, widow, in Boston, Christmas Day, drowsy after a big dinner, she yawned — and her jaw snapped out of place. A doctor fixed her up. But the same thing happened again, five times. Every time she'd yawn, the jaw would dislocate. As this is written Elsie has gone to a hospital to see if she can get permanent repairs.

She'll certainly have something to talk about, for the rest of her life. What a pity, this malady couldn't be extended and applied to political orators to take effect as soon as they opened their mouths.

HENRY

For has figured out another way to save money. He is building double-decked boxcars so he can ship his autos "two deep." They say it'll save him $6 every time he ships a Ford car this way.

We found this item buried on a financial page. It doesn't get as much attention as Henry in politics, for instance. But it struck us a typical of what has "made" Henry Ford—from a mechanic with next to nothing, to the world's richest man.

Six dollars on every Ford car would give him in a year as many millions as he has fingers and thumbs.

AGO

As far back as 1882, the number of shares of stock changing hands on the New York Exchange was nearly half as big as in 1923.

The country grew a lot in those 41 years. Make your comparisons relative, with this in mind, and you'll begin to wonder if Americans weren't bigger gamblers years ago than they are now. Of course, there were more wash sales.

The lure of easy money—the desire to get something for nothing—never loses its strength. Many a cave man lost his life, taking a chance on being able to kill a bigger beast than ever has been killed before.

ADAM'S VIEWS ON WOMEN'S FASHIONS.

Including Some Constructive Advice Regarding the Spring Outfit.

When Eve asked Adam, "Is my fig-leaf apron on straight?" and Adam replied, "Yes, but how do my palm-leaf pants hang?" the fashion problem became, next to the food question, the important worldly thing to the human race. And some do say that with the fairer and one-time frailer sex, clothes are two jumps ahead of food.

If that is so, then it is probably the reason so many people at afternoon teas and socials 'n the city now are saying "I have no appetite." Instead of blaming spring weather, probably the fault can be traced to the spring hat sales that are sending boys scampering all over Peterborough with boxes and bags containing all sizes and styles of hats from the chic cloche to the drooping brim.

And when nuboy is asked, "Is my hat on straight," it is quite safe for him to say, "Yes, but how does my tie hang," for a woman can no more tell the one than the new Adam can give a reliable opinion on the modern hat as worn by the modern woman.

It seems, from a casual glance at the fashion sheets, that the ladies this year are trespassing on palm-leaf territory. Not satisfied with wearing men's cravats, all the flappers of every build have taken to wearing boyish suits with mannish waistcoats a la "Tux."

Then haircuts are approaching the sublimated sheik type that was quickly ostracized by men. Then waists that replace the old-fashioned "blouse" are very like father's shirts, but have a lot of dash when girdled with a bright striped Spanish sash. To be real "swell," the 1924 spring flapper must wear a boutonniere in her lapel.

It appears that to be quite up to class, a girl's gloves must match her hose, and must have wristlets or cut-out gauntlet cuffs. White, fawn, and dove are favored hues, although buffs are also seen. The tailored miss wears shoes that are pumps or one straps, while cut-out vampless modes miss the tailored gist.

Earrings are taboo this season, and jewelry is considered a bother by the up-to-date girl who imitates her father. Instead, canes, scarf pins, fobs, cuff buttons and shirt studs are the geegaws on which to-day's girl fixes her heart.

Hats for the tailor-made girl are cloche shaped and tiny, and are of felt, ribbon, straw or suede. For the independent, but conservative miss, who retains her femininity there are hats of every shape and texture, broad brimmed and sweeping.

The motto of the year is, "Age has no weight," and fat and forty, plump and fifty," are expressions that have been relegated to the clothes closet with last year's departed finery. "Cherchez la coat," with slender lines, long and straight and wrapping to minimize weight and set the neighbours wondering whether you exercise with music or without.

Colors are decided on to match the eyes, say fashion experts, this bringing out nature's lustre. Skirts are a moderate length and gowns are somewhat clinging. Soft textures and dull hues are favorites.

From the standpoint of the mere man, throughout all her activities in seeking spring attire, the feminine mind would be well advised to compete with beauty and not with youth.

FOG.

Jernberg, Swedish engineer, invents a machine that can manufacture two and a half million cubic yards of dense fog in a minute. Militarists are elated. They herald this artificial fog as a tremendous defensive weapon in warfare, like a smoke screen in a naval battle.

Most of the great military discoveries have to do with destruction—offense. The public, victims of militarists, can chuckle at this fog-making device, which makes it harder to take human life in battle.

WHEAT.

Farmers will be interested in final figures showing only about 98 million bushels of wheat exported in 1923 from America, compared with nearly 165 million bushels the year before. This was a drop of around two-fifths.

The export market is not the root of all farm evils, but it is of many.

LAND.

About 75 years ago a man named Bourn mortgaged a business block and the land on which it stood for $25,000 in San Francisco. He invested the money in a Nevada mine, which proved disappointing. The mortgage was foreclosed.

Three-quarters of a century pass. The mine meantime has become highly profitable. Bourn's son makes a fortune. He decides to buy back the $25,000 property of his father—and has to pay more than a million dollars for it.

Single taxers will nod understandingly. Second thought may show them that the principle they apply to land also applies in the case of the mine, as it does in interest on money.

MILLBROOK WILL HAVE GOOD TEAM

Baseball Enthusiasts Meet and Present Departing Member With Watch.

MILLBROOK, April 15. — A meeting of local baseball enthusiasts was held in the council chamber president L. C. Russell, occupying the chair.

Minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary, P. Stinson, and on motion of G. W. Sayles and W. White, adopted as read. The financial statement was also read by the secretary-treasurer, and cheques submitted covering all expenditures. On motion of Sayles-White, accepted as read.

Howard Lancashire, who leaves shortly for Tantallun, Sask., where he will engage in mission work for the summer months, was then asked to come forward and the following address was read by Manager G. W. Sayles, A. McCorry, captain presenting him with a gold watch on behalf of the baseball club,

To Mr. Howard Lancashire,
Millbrook.

Dear Howard—Our gathering this evening, while a pleasant event because of its social nature and its opportunity for renewed friendships is nevertheless tinged with sadness when we remember that it means also a separation, for a number of months at least, from one whom we have always regarded as a good, clean sport in connection with our baseball club and League.

While we of the Home team and district are planning a fresh season with the game which we all so thoroughly enjoy, we shall keenly miss the help you have given in the outfield, and also by increasing our score on many an occasion by your dependability at the bat, and the runs we could always count on you to make.

We heartily congratulate you upon the high ambition which has prompted your choice of a life calling, having medical missions as your ultimate goal, and we are unanimous in our wish that the interim task you are taking up in the West during the coming months may prove congenial, and health-giving, physically mentally, and spiritually.

Many times as the weeks go by we here will undoubtedly recall your able assistance with games in past seasons, and we hope you will find other "kindred spirits" where you are going, with whom you may unite in the ties of "baseball fraternity."

We ask you to accept this gold watch as a token of the esteem in which you are held by your companions of the Millbrook Baseball Club, and we hope, as it ticks the hours away, it may serve to remind you of the good fellowship, and good sport, which we have enjoyed together.

Signed on behalf of the Millbrook Baseball Club,

L. C. RUSSELL, President,
P. STINSON, Secretary-Treasurer.

Millbrook, April 12th., 1924.

Mr. Lancashire made a very suitable reply thanking the boys for their beautiful gift expressing the pleasure it had been for him to be a member of the team, and stating that he would watch with a great deal of interest the baseball news from this village and district during the coming season.

Brief addresses were also made by Rev. G. S. Gervan, President, L. C. Russell, Manager G. W. Sayles and Secretary-Treasurer P. Stinson, each on voicing his admiration for Howard in seeking such a noble call ing, and wishing him every success.

Plans for the coming season were then discussed. Owing to the fact that a number of the young men be longing to the senior team, removed from the village, the president, G. W. Sayles, ad H. Nattrass were appointed a committee to see what could be done re forming senior team for play in the E.M. C. League, report of same to be made at the next meeting which will be held on Saturday, April 19th at 7.30 p.m.

Abundance of material being available for a juvenile team, and upon request of these boys, a number of who were present, that they should have their own manager and captain, and be under the jurisdiction of the Millbrook Baseball Club, the following were appointed:

Moved by Foster Russell, and Arnold Armstrong: That Dr. L. J. Stuart be manager. —Carried.

Moved by K. Larmer and L. Russell: That Foster Russell be Captain —Carried.

Moved by Rev. G. S. Gervan, and A. McGorry: That the president secretary, Dr. Stuart and R. A. Doak be a committee to arrange for forming a juvenile league in this district comprising: Bethany, Omemee, Bailieboro, and any other community which cares to unite with same.

Gervan-McCorry: That meeting adjourn until Saturday, April 19th., at 7.30 p.m.

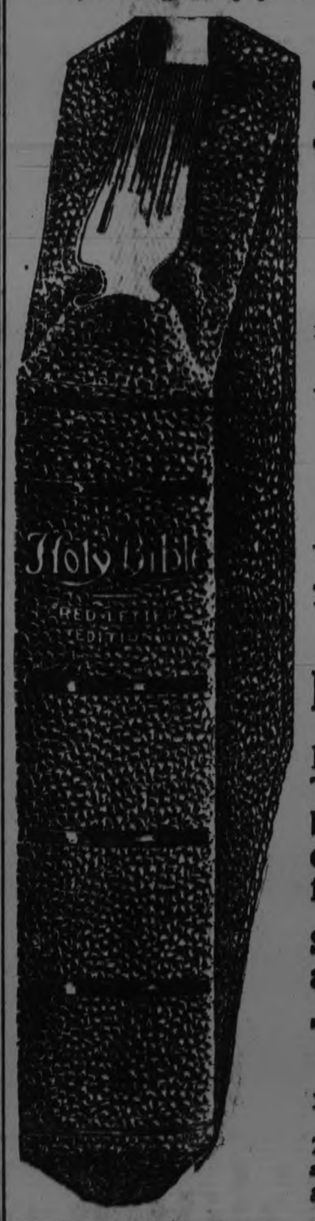
These are all Bible days now, for our readers are coming in daily with their Bible coupons and carrying away their choice of the two beautiful volumes—style A, as illustrated below, and style B, which is not so elaborate. To encourage Bible reading, this movement is being carried on by leading newspapers throughout the country, and in this city by

The

EXAMINER



Prayer is the highest act of man. In it he is nearest to his Creator, and the farthest from his sometime brother—the brute. All women and most men pray—whether they admit it or not. Prayer is the soul's answer to the question, "If a man die, shall he live again?" It came direct from Heaven, and did not unfold itself along with the convolutions of the brain.

Prayer is Hope with wings. It antedates all history. It will outlast Humanity itself. But prayer without faith is not prayer

This is why the Lord's Prayer is the greatest prayer in the world. It is divine faith breathed into human words. All creeds, formulas, systems, philosophies, theologies—are within its miraculous compass. It is religion itself. Like the dewdrop, it orbs the universe. Wise men have studied it reverently. Great men have lived and died with it on their lips. One half the world has known no other prayer for 2000 years.

This is why we call it the greatest prayer in the world.

UTILITIES COMMISSION ASKED TO INVESTIGATE CAMPBELL FLOUR MILLS CO. POWER ACCOUNTS WITH CITY COUNCIL AND EXPERTS IF NEEDED

Resolution Follows Meeting Between Two Bodies in Which Heated Argument Gave Way to Desire for Mutual Co-operation — Alderman Meyers and His Committee Are Firm in Their Desire For Explanation of Alleged Low Charges

UTILITIES DEPENDED ON THEIR METER

That the Utilities Commission be asked to investigate the power accounts of the Campbell Flour Mills, Ltd., from October, 1918, to January 1924, inclusive, to ascertain whether the accounts rendered and paid covered all power used by the company from the city's electric system, was the resolution passed by the Manufacturers' Committee and immediately ratified by the City Council in special session last night, following the hearing of the Commission. The resolution provided that the City Council be permitted to have members present and to produce information and evidence at the inquiry, and members of the Council intimated that expert engineers will be brought here to fix beyond a doubt the status of the case presented by Alderman J. W. Meyers.

While the meeting between the two bodies last night was featured by several heated interchanges, it was on the whole amicable and ended in mutual promises of co-operation in an effort to untangle a problem that seemed to be beyond the power of either or both bodies to fathom. The assertions made by Alderman Meyers that the mill could not turn over with the power charged for were met on all occasions by Chairman Robert Hicks of the Utilities Commission with the argument that the meters registered only that amount of power consumed, and Mr. Hicks refused to discuss questions of operation.

There were present with the commission, Chairman Robert Hicks; E. F. Mason; H. O. Fisk, manager; W. G. Henderson, accountant; R. L. Dobbin, superintendent of the waterworks department; Henry G. Beatty, foreman ;and E. Norman Welch of the meter department.

Of the City Council there were present Mayor J. J. Turner; Alderen Robert Morrison, N. Phelan, Joseph Crowe, W. Stocker, M. McIntyre, J. W. Meyers, J. C. Fife, M. J. Maher and R. N. Jones. City Solicitor Joseph Wearing was also present.

Likely to go to Courts

Alderman Meyers recited the events in the city council that led up to the meeting with the Utilities Commission and said the object of the meeting was to obtain information relative to the Campbell Flour Mills account.

Mr. Hicks: "Why at this late date We asked for this meeting some time ago."

Alderman Meyers: "We couldn't do anything without the figures which you refused to give us"

Mr. Hicks: "Any figures or information we have on record or our accounts are at your disposal. I have taken the liberty of asking our meter inspector to come here to give you any information he may have that will be of use to you. There are a great many details in connection with the instruments and reading that the commission does not oversee and are not paid to oversee. We are perfectly agreeable to take up the question .We have gone carefully into the matter and so far as our records and examination of the meter go the Campbell Flour Mills stand with a clean sheet. The statement was made by you that these people had got power for which they had not paid. That statement should only have been made after a careful consideration.

As for refusing you information, there is a conflicting note there. There is nothing to show that we ever refused the city council information. We did refuse Mr. Meyers information one one occasion when he came to us but he was not then a member of the city council.

We have about 6,000 meters in the city and one of the best meter reading departments in the country. There are mistakes made, but in a year, you could count them on the fingers of one hand. If we can give you any information to enlighten you we shall be glad to give it. This thing is likely to go to the courts and we will stick closely to facts. We are here to give you anything of record. Like yourself, I hear many things on the street, but they are not evidence.

Alderman Meyers: "Apparently the Campbell Milling Co., were running on a flat rate during November and December 1918, also during January and February 1919, paying $20 per horse power per annum. How did you arrive at the power they were using when starting up the mill in the fall of 1918 when you charged them for 295 horse power?"

Mr. Fisk: "We were living out an old flat rate of the Peterborough Light and Power Co. We had no demand meter but only an ammeter. They were charged $1.66 a month per horse power.

Alderman Meyers: "You had different means of arriving at the flat rate. Did you try the mill itself?"

Mr. Fisk: "No. We had charts for the whole month and took the highest."

Alderman Meyers: "In December the figures were 312 horse power. Were they arrived at the same way?" "Yes."

"And January the same?" "Yes."

"In February it dropped down to 5416. In face of the 312 horse power your instruments showed in January and December, how do you account for the peak load in February?"

Mr. Fisk: "They were shut down in February. The instrument gave us only 162 horse power. This was shown by the meter."

Alderman Meyers: "Was the mill and the outside power on one meter?" "Yes, all together."

Alderman Meyers: "And it only showed a peak load of 162 horse power?"

Mr. Fisk: "Yes."

Rely on Meter

Alderman Meyers: "If the instrument by which you measured the power which they were using in the months of December 1918 registered 312 horse power, would not your meter if set a alongside of this instrument record the peak load at that time just the same, that is 312 horse power?"

Mr. Fisk: "Very closely."

Alderman Meyers: "How about the power used?"

Mr. Fisk: This instrument was a power instrument. The previous one read amperes, and we deduced the power from that by formula.

Alderman Meyers: Have you any idea how much power a mill running——

Mr. Hicks: Go carefully there. We cannot give opinions as to the operations of a mill.

Alderman Meyers: How do you arrive at the correctness of the power billed?

Mr. Hicks: We know what the installed capacity was, and our meter is our guarantee. We don't say every horse-power should produce three barrels of flour. We don't reckon like that. We depend on our meter. In this instance the meter had not been found correct..

Keep in your mind that we are here to stand behind our instruments. They are government inspected; we installed them. We are responsible for their proper care and for testing. You can understand that with 6,000 meters in the city we don't look at what's going on inside unless it's drawn to our attention. We stand behind our meters and handling and readings. If there is any other way of getting power behind that meter we don't know of it.

Alderman Meyers: That's what we're trying to get at.

Mr. Hicks: If you have any information about the other end of it you have something that we haven't. We are holding nothing back. We don't want to discuss the output of a mill. Ask us all you like about the meter.

Mr. Fisk: We are third parties to the government. The government inspects, seals, and stamps the meters.

Alderman Meyers: We must find if 162 horse-power will turn a mill that grinds 760 barrels of flour. Other millers don't agree, and we know there is something seriously wrong.

Mr. Hicks: That meter—a maximum demand meter—started with 162 horse-power and came down to where we were charging only 75 per cent of the highest demand. That meter was not touched, and it came down to 86 horse-power in 1921 and 1922. This same meter has been there all the time; it has never been changed.

Alderman Meyers: In the first year the meter dropped down to 101.

Mr. Hicks: That's what a meter is for—to show how much is used.

Alderman Meyers: Is there no one to tell what is used at the mill? There is the mill and the outside grinding outfits. There is a 200 horse-power motor there.

Mr. Fisk: I can't say whether the mill and the grinder were running at the same time. There's one meter for power and one for light.

Alderman Meyers: Do you believe that mill turned over on a peak load all that year on 162 horse-power?

Mr. Hicks: Aren't you getting back——

Alderman Meyers: No. I want to know whether it seems right to you. Your meter might go wrong.

Mr. Fisk: They don't go wrong.

Mr. Hicks: Do you know, Mr. Meyers, that that mill is connected with one line shaft?

Mr. Beatty: There are separate motors all through the mill, and one can be used without starting the others.

Alderman Meyers: Yes, I know that. Mr. Fisk gave us the figures of the horse-power they used when they started the mill in 1918.

Mr. Fisk: They had 125—50—40 motors, and have added others.

Alderman Meyers: That was before they remodelled the mill.

Mr. Hicks: They turned over the mill in 1922.

Alderman Meyers: This was in 1918 when they put a new addition on the building and put in a lot of new machinery. I understood Mr. Fisk to say they had 290 horse-power inside and 200 outside, making 490 horse-power altogeser.

Mr. Hicks: He's trying to lead you away from the meter, Mr. Fisk.

Alderman Meyers: No. We are here to try to find out why a mill that all builders know takes 250 horse-power to turn over for ten minutes——

Mr. Hicks: We can't tell you anything about what people say. I had an idea you were going to get us into an argument on mill operation. We can't give you any information on that. You seem to have enough information to brand us as power robbers.

Alderman Meyers: I did not. All I ever said about the matter was there was something seriously wrong, and I am still of that opinion. I don't say the meters are not right. It would probably take one of the best electrical engineers to detect anything wrong inside.

Had Meter Tested.

Mr. Hicks traced the course of the Campbell Flour Mills power account up and down over a period, pointing out the registrations of the meter In 1922 it shows—In September 80 October 86, November 220. We happened to be told in that month they took down a Pickering plant and brought it here and added it. In December it jumped to 402 horse-power. That is the same meter, all the time untouched except once You drew our attention to your own meter in January 1922. In February we got a letter from you about the Campbell Flour Mills account, and we had their meter tested by a government inspector. It was put back and registered just the same. After it was put back a test instrument was put on and they registered the same. If the meter was wrong eight months before why did it come right then?

Alderman Meyers: That's what we are here to find out.

Mr. Hicks: Well, we don't know.

Alderman Meyers: That's your answer; you don't know.

Alderman Crowe: Is there such a thing as getting power without it going through the meter?

Mr. Fisk: If they do it is stealing. It's next to impossible to do it here with the meter on a pole outside and 2200 volts on the wires. Theoretically it can be done, but practically it is impossible, because it is so dangerous.

Alderman Meyers: Mr. Mayor, I don't see what we can get. They say they don't know. They won't give the information.

Mr. Hicks: What information are you seeking that we are not prepared to give? I don't want statements made that we won't answer questions.

His Worship suggested putting all the questions prepared by Alderman Meyers, and vetoed the suggestion that a C.G.E. engineer be called to the meeting.

Alderman Meyers: How do you account for the peak load dropping from 312 horse-power in December, 1918 and January, 1919, to 162 horse-power in March, 1919, and then even as low as 130 horse-power in July, and in the month of December to 101 horse-power.?

Mr. Fisk: Our readings of the meter gave us those figures.

Mayor Turner: Would they have any information of how many days they ran?

Alderman Meyers: That wouldn't make any difference. They run ten minutes, and that establishes the peak for which they are charged. Using your own judgment, Mr. Fisk, you see the peak load in December did not go above 101 horse-power. Would you give us your opinion as to whether the mill making the flour was running or not?

Mr. Hicks: Confine yourself to what you know, Mr. Fisk.

Alderman Meyers: That looks to me as though it was too much for the choppers alone and not enough for the mill, for it required 160 and so on before. It would either mean the outside machinery was dropped off or the mill was dropped off.

Mr. Fisk: We have no records covering that.

Alderman Meyers: You would not be able to give an opinion as to what machinery was running?

Mr. Fisk: We are not interested in that.

Alderman Meyers: You are just interested in your meter?

Mr. Fisk: Yes.

Investigate When Needed.

Alderman Meyers: Explain why the peak load for the previous months was from 30 to 62 horse-power more when, apparently, all the machinery was running.

Mr. Hicks: I said plainly we were not going to answer questions pertaining to operations. We don't know anything of mill operation.

Alderman Meyers: All right; that's all we want.

Mayor Turner: Your answer would be you can't say?

Mr. Hicks: Yes. Operations we can't say anything about.

Alderman Meyers: Will you explain why the peak load registered during 1922, when only the chopper was running, was only four horse-power lower than it was in December, 1919?

Alderman Meyers: Did you not have reason to doubt the accuracy of the March, 1919, power account when it figures out to only $230.44, in view of the fact that during December and January previous they had paid $521.04, or more than double the amount charged in March?

Mr. Fisk: No. There was no reason to doubt that.

Mayor Turner: Mr. Hicks, if a power account dropped from 541 horse-power to 230 horse-power, and the mill was apparently operating, would you question it?

Mr. Hicks: I wouldn't see the account. There was nothing special to draw our attention to it.

Mr. Fisk: When we see an account drop like that it is questioned at the time. We were told the mill was practically closed down at the time.

Mr. Mason: Mr. Fisk noticed those things.

Mayor Turner: The answer to the question is that if it was noticed, and it probably was noticed in this case, they made enquiries, and were satis-

BIG LEAGUES START TODAY

Fair Weather For the Inauguration of 1924 Championship Race — "Play Ball" Sounded On New Season.

NEW YORK, April 15. — The forces of major league baseball inaugurate their 1924 pennant campaign to-day. Fandom, east and west is keenly awaiting the opening shout of "Play Ball!" that will mark the close of the long "off-season" and send the sixteen American and National League outfits off on a battle for supremacy that will not close until the last week in September.

Fair weather is promised for the inaugural games and indications point to record outpourings of the faithful to compare pre-season ratings of their favorites with actual performances. Interest has been sharpened to an unusual degree and observers predict a record attendance year, with accompanying prosperity, which will eclipse the high marks of last season that wound up with the first million dollar world series in history.

Line-ups have been picked for the initial skirmishes. The highly-touted rookie products of spring training, nearly three score of whom apparently have earned regular berths, will be put to the acid test. But for the most part, veterans will be back at their old posts, and to them, tomorrow is just another campaign.

The chief fight in both major leagues this year is clean cut — a combined attack by seven clubs in each circuit to dislodge the mighty New York Giants and Yankees, pennant victors in their respective organizations for the past three years who will seek to shatter National and American League precedent by capturing their fourth straight emblems of triumph.

Billy Evans Says

"He's a wonder at coming from behind and winning."

Such is an oft-heard expression in sport with reference to the athlete who doesn't know defeat—keeps plugging at all times.

Golf offers one of the greatest examples of the come-from-behind theory in Walter Hagen. Rival golfers are always worried about Hagen regardless of how far he may be behind.

"He's a front runner," is another much-used sport expression. It refers to the player who is hard to beat provided he gets out in front early.

The 1923 world series between the Yankees and the Giants furnished an exhibition of what may happen if one keeps plugging away.

The coming-from-behind stunt was staged in the sixth and final game of the series. The refusal of Pitcher Herbie Pennock of the Yankees to admit defeat made possible the situation, and with it the championship.

Throughout the game the Giants hit Pennock consistently, scored four runs in seven innings. Only the breaks and Pennock's courage kept the score that low.

Neth, for the Giants, had simply been invincible. A home run by Ruth early in the game was the only score by the Yankees.

The break came in the eighth, when the invincible Nehf developed a streak of wildness that was fatal. The Yanks scored five runs and captured the game.

If Pennock had early conceded defeat, pitched carelessly, the Giants probably would have made so many runs that the Yankee rally would have availed nothing.

Pennock's performance was a courageous one. Any time a team or individual comes from behind the wings, the feat is regarded as tribute to gameness.

The athlete capable of coming from behind is regarded as game.

The athlete known as a front runner, one who shines when he has a margin to work on, is usually considered lacking in courage—often referred to as "yellow."

All of which gives rise to the question as to whether it isn't just as difficult to hold a slight lead, with the opposition striving to cut it down, as to come from behind.

It is baseball tradition that certain pitchers given a margin of a few runs are almost unbeatable. These same pitchers are not nearly so effective when their team is trailing.

Some convincing arguments might be offered to prove the strain of holding the opposition at bat, when enjoying only a slight lead, is as difficult a task as plugging away when behind.

It might all be traced back to the temperament of the individual, nerve a matter of nerves, rather than courage.

In sport, front runners are regarded as lacking in courage. Possibly they are being done quite an injustice.

FOOTBALL NOTES

Johnnie Warde, the ex-De Laval junior made the grade on Saturday afternoon at right back for the Woollens. He desired to get into organized soccer.

The Vets and Thistle open the season on Saturday afternoon at King Edward Park. Kick-off at 3 o'clock. Referee J. L. Howarth.

It is the intention of the Canadian Woollens to go to Campbellford on Good Friday to play in Exhibition game. They will travel by bus.

The Vets defeated the Quakers two goals to nothing last Saturday afternoon.

Another junior has jumped to the senior ranks. A. Frick of the De-Laval junior champions signed for the G.W.V.A. last evening.

Hillman who was between the sticks for Woollens is one of the originals in local soccer. He played for De Laval seniors a few years ago but has now faithfully served his present team. Jack Cridland was kicking all around on the touch-line. Will he stay out of the game?

The Canadian Woollens new players were Quinn, who played with Neilson's, Toronto, and Tom Wyllie at centre-forward shaped well.

Although a signed player for Thistle last year, McPhail never played a game but made his debut last Saturday; also McBeth, the clean-cut left-half, late of Clydebank juniors, Scotland, along with Dawson completed a strong half-back line. Pattison and Tom Williams was also new arrivals.

Quaker Oats registered players are: Edgar Garside, Joseph Hempbill, George Logan, John J. Mayette, E. B. Williams, F. Honour, E. H. Croft, R. Walker, J. G. Willshaw, R. R. Willshaw, N. Metcalfe, E. A. Jones, W. Logan, J. W. Little and T. S. Craig.—15 players.

After the theory examination and practical test as a referee Mr. Mitchell was officially appointed to P. and D.F.A. All referees have to be registered with O.F.A.

DIAMOND DUST

The Central League this year will be materially strengthened by some of the junior players of last year. A couple of them already in view are Jimmy Hall and "Jeff" Hardill.

It is reported that "Red" Legon, now studying at Queen's University, and last year left fielder with the Peterboro Central League team, will play for Picton this year in the Intermediate series.

The Mercantile League will find the teams much stronger than last year. The Western Clock are strengthening up. One of the latest additions to their team is Hensley, last year star shortstop with the Adanacs. The Examiner will have a few new men on their roster. Some of them are "Red" Franks, last year with the Maple Leafs, Joe Dorrington, who played fast ball down in the States, Leo Chouinard who is hailed as one of the best catchers in these parts. The Lockworks will also present a strong lineup this year.

The Bankers will have one of the strongest lineups in the Mercantile League. The have for mound duty Frank Whitehouse, last year with the champion Lakeviews, "Jeff" Hardill, and a couple of other new men. They will also have a good infield and outfield.

Most of last year's Adanac juniors are expected to sign with Mackey's in the East Peterborough League. The big leagues open today and the International opens tomorrow.

Some prominent Peterborough men, including Mayor Turner, Nagle Phelan and J. J. Solomon, wired Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians, wishing him every success during the coming season, and that he wins the American League pennant. The Indians play at Detroit.

Toronto Leafs open to morrow at Rochester. It is probable that Williams, the Indian southpaw from Belleville will get a chance to work in one of these games.

Lefty "Chuck" Allen, who two years ago was with Lindsay, is showing great form in the practices with the Broadviews at Toronto. Allen will be a starter in the game against Oslers at Hampden Park Food Friday.

Letty Maguire, last year with Leaside, and this year with the Royals of Toronto, will pitch for the Royals in a morning game on Good Friday against Oslers.

It is not yet definitely known whether Jake Solomon will manage the Peterboro team in the Central League. Jake has not yet signified his intentions of piloting the Petes this year. It is hoped that the Petes' pilot will again be on the job this year.

BY JOE WILLIAMS

A complete library has been installed in the Giants' clubhouse.—News note.

Gowdy: Whadda think Emerson meant when he said "Hitch your wagon to a star"?

McGraw: Well, it's a cinch he didn't mean you.

Young: They tell this O. Henry guy scattered a mean flow of ink.

Southworth: Don't show your ignorance. O. Henry's a candy.

Kelly: Say, who wrote that line about "putting a girdle round the world"?

Frisch: Babe Ruth's tailor.

Nehf (repeating from Colonel Marlow's work): "Comparisons are odious."

McGraw (gruffly): If you are comparing yourself with a regular pitcher, they're worse than that.

Meusel: "Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just—"

McGraw (heatedly): Now, if you ain't satisfied with your contract you know what you can do, and if its' a brawl you're looking for, just step out here in the middle of the floor and put up your dukes.

Ainsmith: "All place shall be hell that are not heaven—"

Jennings (with emphasis): Especially St. Louis when we play double-headers.

Dolan: Say, what's become of Milton's "Paradise Lost?"

Ryan: Didn't you hear? They raided that place last night, but you can still get good stuff at the Dutchmans'.

Groh: Shakespeare says here that the best men are molded out of faults.

McGraw: That's a lot of cottage pudding. Where did I ever get with Bugs Raymond, Heinie Zim and them guys?

Bentley: Here's a pip of a line. "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

McFraw: Well, nobody outh to know bettr'n you.

O'Connell (entering with late sports extra) :Say, what does this guy mean by "Giants Face Herculean Test in Game With Reds?"

McGraw (frowning): Don't be a fat head. Herculean Test is another one of them Cuban pitchers.

As long as the ancient Exterminator is to continue to race, wouldn't it be a good idea to get Pop Geers to ride him from now on?

The score of the game was 106 to 2, Miss Waters making more than half of the points for her team. She scored 29 field goals and one foul basket.

ASK FIFTY THOUSAND TO RELEASE ACCUSED

Heavy Bail Demanded by Crown in Case of Peter Smith--Townsmen Respond.

TORONTO, April 15.—(Canadian Press).—In the cheerless office of the Police Court Clerk, in the basement of Toronto's City Hall, Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer in the Drury administration, watched fellow-citizens from his home city of Stratford affix their signatures, at 9 o'clock last night, to bail bonds totalling over $50,000 to release him until to-day from the custody of the law on a charge of conspiring to defraud the public by taking secret commissions on the purchase of succession duty free bonds.

For over seven hours the former Provincial Treasurer of Ontario waited for bondsmen. None of his former Cabinet colleagues supplied any part of the bail demanded by the Crown.

The bondsmen are as follows:

Willian Krug, manufacturer, Chesley, Ont.—$15,000.

Norval F. Babt, gentleman, 180 Mornington Street, Stratford, Ont.—$12,000.

William Grosch, manufacturer, 30 Shrewsbury Street, Stratford, Ont.—$10,000.

Simon Grosch, manufacturer, 232 Water Street, Stratford, Ont.—$8,000.

Aaron C. Werner, merchant, Sebringville, Ont.—$5,000.

In the most general terms is Hon. Peter Smith charged with fraud upon the Ontario Government. The warrant is drawn under the provisions of Section 10 of the Criminal Code, which makes the general provision for retention in Canada of the criminal law of England, except where expressly modified. It is believed, however, that proceedings will be taken under Section 573 of the Criminal Code, which provides a specific penalty of seven years' penal servitude.

The warrant itself averred as follows:

"That Peter Smith did conspire with one, A. H. Penall, and other persons unknown, to defraud the Ontario Government by obtaining secret commissions in the purchase by said Government of certain succession duty free bonds."

It is believed, however, that when proceedings against Mr. Smith are taken they will be conducted under themore specific section, 573, which reads:

"Every person is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to seven years' imprisonment who, in any case not hereinbefore provided for, conspires with any person to commit any indictable offence."

The Central League team this year will have on of the best pitching staffs in the league.

MAKING MONEY MAKE MONEY

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

A joint-life insurance policy protects both husband and wife at the same time, and costs less than the premiums on two separate policies.

A unique type of insurance policy with which the many people are unfamiliar is the joint-life policy. Under such a policy two or more persons may be insured in favor of each other, the policy to terminate and be paid upon the death of the first ones.

The premium on a joint-life policy is naturally larger than the premium would be on a policy insuring but one life, because under a joint policy the company must pay if either of two beneficiaries die, but on the other hand the premium is less than the sum of premiums on policies insuring two lives separately.

On the two separate policies the company's liability is greater because two policies must eventually be paid, while under the joint-life policy only one claim must be paid.

YOUNG STRIBLING WON TECHNICAL KNOCK-OUT

PHILADELPHIA, April 15. Canadian Press. — William L. "Young" Stribling, Georgia light heavy weight last night scored a technical knockout against Tex McEwan of Canada, in the seventh round of their scheduled ten round bout.

Referee Lew Baily stopped the fight to save McEwan further punishment.

Stribling gave McEwan a severe beating. Taking the offensive at the opening gong the Georgian hammered and pounded his opponent about the ring almost at will. McEwan fought bravely but was no match for Stribling and was saved by the bell in the fourth and fifth rounds.

McEwan weighed 170 pounds, and Stribling 167.

YANKS RELEASE GEHRIG

NEW YORK, April 15. — The New York Yankees yesterday announced they had released Lou Gehrig promising first baseman, to the Hartford Club of the Eastern League under optional agreement.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, said he regarded Gehrig as an unusually fine prospect, but desired to give him further seasoning, which he could obtain more readily playing regularly with Hartford than warming the Yankee bench.

UTILITIES COMMISSION

fied with the meters.

As a matter of comparison, to show that there was a general slump in power use, Mr. Hicks quoted the city's bill to the Commission in the two years. In January, 1918, it was 5785, and in January, 1919, 4436.

Alderman Meyers: That has nothing to do with the peak load of this mill. Was there not a further reason for you believing that something must be wrong when this decrease in revenue continued every month during 1919, 1920, and 1921, because it would seem that the very fact that during the year 1920, the seven months in which the peak load registered 145 horse-power, and six months in 1921, when the peak load registered 145 horse-power, would indicate to you that there was someshing seriously wrong?

Mr. Fisk: If we had known there was anything wrong we would have gone after it. We don't sit down and think about it.

Alderman McIntyre: You didn't believe there was anything wrong?

Mr. Fisk: No.

Alderman Meyers: The power bill for the year 1921 comes to $2,805.07, when, according to the peak load, they were running the mill every month. In 1922, the mill was evidently shut down with only the chopper running, until the months of November and December. During the months the mill was shut down the peak load registered from 64 horse-power up to 96 horse-power, and the total power paid for that year amounted to $2,039.86. If you figure the last two months the average of the other ten months, the total power for that year would be $1,388.23 or only $1,416.86 less that the previous year when the mill was running. Can you explain why they would only pay $1,416.84 for all the power the mill would take for one year, when apparently it should cost them $5,000 more than that?

Mr. Hicks: You are making a statement there. We can only again say we took it from our meter. We might tell you something about the mill on somebody else's say so, but we are being careful. Such reports would not convict anybody.

Alderman Meyers: We are not trying anybody.

Mr. Hicks: We'll leave that explanation to the meter. It seems to be a handy instrument to-night.

Mr. Mason: It is hard for us to answer any question on operation.

Alderman Meyers: That's all we wanted—to know if you knew anything about it. We are trying to find out what's wrong.

Mr. Hicks: Don't you think if you want operation information you should have the Campbell Flour Mills' representative here?

Mr. Mason: You understand the running of your mill. None of our men have asked how many barrels you turned out.

Should Have Information.

Alderman Meyers: I think you should know. I think you have a perfect right to find out what the machinery is doing. We have no objections to anyone finding out what our mill is doing.

Mr. Hicks: I don't know that we came here to take any instruction from you. We are not getting our livelihood from it.

Alderman Meyers: I'm sorry; I want someone to check me up if I go too far.

Meter is Usual Means.

Alderman Meyers: How do you account for the peak load running up to 402 horse-power in December, 1922, with the same machinery running as in December, 1921, when the peak load was only 145 horse-power, just a little more than one-third?

Mr. Hicks: Who made out these questions? Are we expected to accept every statement you make? We don't know what machinery was running.

Alderman Meyers: The peak load, during the first six months of 1923, ran from 423 horse-power to 445 horse-power. Will you please give us the reason for the difference between this horse-power and the 145 horse-power registered in December, 1921?

Mr. Fisk: Yes. They increased their load. They had their mill operating in fairly good shape, and the meter gave us those readings.

Alderman Meyers: Depending on the meter again?

Mr. Fisk: Yes.

Alderman Meyers: Will you explain why the peak load in January, 1923, was more than three times the peak load during the seven months of 1920, and more than three times the peak load during six months of 1921?

Mr. Fisk: "Simply because they put the load on."

Mr. Mason: "We as servants of the people do not care to insult you. We have nothing to do with the City Council except as individuals. We think it is nothing but fair to protect our manufacturers' business from competitors."

Alderman Meyers: 'You gave us all that in the paper."

Mr. Mason: "We started to find out what was wrong with your meter and we finally woke up to the fact—or we came to the conclusion—that you were after the Campbell Flour Mills account."

Alderman Meyers: "I don't want to enter into that. I have stayed away from any complaint and I have never said there was any discrimination. The word never passed my lips about this matter. I told you at the time there was something seriously wrong and I still say so."

Mr. Hicks: "How does your own meter run? Do you think it's fairly accurate?"

Alderman Meyers: "It might be $100 out in a month. I don't think its right for Mr. Mason to talk like that. I have stayed away from that."

Mr. Mason: "You didn't. You introduced it the other night. You said we refused to act."

Alderman Meyers: 'Yes, since the council took action."

Mr. Mason: "You said we fought you at every step."

Alderman Meyers: "Yes, since the council took action."

Mr. Mason: "You said we fought you at every step."

Alderman Meyers: "I never had any idea of referring to the Peterborough Cereal account. I never found fault. All I wanted was an explanation. That had nothing to do with our meeting to-night."

Mr. Mason: "What have you to suggest as to where we might get this information."

Alderman Meyers: "I had made no plans. The only think I contend is there is something very wrong with this accout."

Mr. Hicks: "I suggested that I believed an investigation of this matter would be the best way out. If there was any collusion that would——"

Mayor Turner: "No, no, Mr. Hicks. We believe there is a shortage in billing. The Campbell Flour Mills have paid the bills rendered to them and are free. My suggestion is that the commission ask the Campbell Flour Mills to send a representative who knows of the operation and you follow up the information and ascertain how much they ran and point out any discrepancy in power."

Mr. Hicks: "We are satisfied for the city council to take the matter over, but in a spirit of co-operation we are willing to go after it and bring you in. If there's anything wrong I tell you honestly we don't know it."

Alderman Meyers: "No one ever heard me, say I suspected either the Utilities Commission or the Campbell Flour Mills."

Mr. Hicks: 'You will be consulted in every way. I think after we have gone a short distance after a day or two we would see whether there was anything wrong. I would then suggest that an expert be brought from the Hydro Electric Commission."

Figures Produced

Alderman Meyers: "It's all right enough for the Utilities Commission. I think I would take the same stand regarding their instruments if I was in their position. I wired to-day to the people who put in the mill and asked how much it would take to turn over the mill. They replied 250 horse power. Then the Campbell Flour Mills have a chopper that takes 200 horse power and all the electricity to pay for. I have letters from at least ten men who put in mill machinery, and they all say that the lowest power to turn over the machinery is 250 horse power. The lowest they could turn that mill over for 10 minutes a month is 250 horse power. In 1923 the report is just about what I figure they were using in the three years. The mill proper takes 250 horse power to run it ten minuates a month, and as far as I know they were running day and night."

Mr. Hicks: "Do you know?"

Alderman Meyers: "I know they were runnin one day a month, day and night. The mills were under government control and you can get the number of barrels produced. You can get it if it is important enough. Every mill had to make so much flour out of so much wheat."

Mr. Fisk: "The law of Ontario says electricity must be measured by meter. Have we any right to walk through a factory and form an estimate of the work being done and if it disagrees with the meter tack on a charge that in our opinion makes it right?"

Alderman Meyers: "Not at all. My idea is that it would be a check on the meter."

Mayor Turner: "We are not saying the meter was wrong."

Mr. Wearing: "Suppose there is a meter in my house and I am using light—twice as much light as was registered in the meter—and you knew it; what would you do?"

Mr. Fisk: "Have you in police court."

Mr. Wearing: "Exactly."

Mr. Mason: "Could you suggest any method we might adopt to get this information?"

Alderman Fife: "The success of this investigation depends on the co-operation you get from the commission, and you are not getting it to-night."

Alderan Meyers, replying to Mr. Hicks: "I am prepared to prove from records that 130-135-160 horse power will not run that mill ten minutes a month. Ill have no trouble to prove to you that a mill that turns out the flour that mill turns out, Douglas Campbell told me it does, cannot turn it out for double the money they paid."

Alderman Crowe: "I don't altogether like the situation here tonight. I thought we would have a harmonious meeting and I felt Mr. Meyers deserved some credit for watching things and finding a discrepancy. That's what we are all here for, to watch things on behalf of the people. I don't think it has anything to do with his mill. It's simply because he knows the business he saw there was something wrong. I give him credit for taking the step."

Mr. Hicks: "He will find the commission will give him all the co-operation he wants."

Mayor Turner: "We will try to expedite matters all we can."

Resolution Passed

His Worship suggested calling a special meeting of the council to sit immediately to adopt the report of the Manufacturers' committee referring to the matter under discussion. He asked the commission to expedite the investigation as much as possible, referring to the urgency of the matter.

The resolution, proposed in committee by Mayor Turner and Alderman Crowe and in Coupncil by Alderman Stocker and Jones read:

That the Peterborough Utilities Commission be asked to investigate the power accounts of the Campbell Flour Mills from October 1918 to January 1924 inclusive and to take all steps possible to ascertain whether the accounts rendered by the commission to that company during that time and paid by that company covered all the power used by the company from the city's electric system; and that the commission be requested to inform this council when the investigatinon takes place and permit the city council members to be present and to produce such information and evidence as they may desire to produce.

SPECIAL TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

The Roya Theatre has received an added attraction for to-night and to-morrow in a new two-reel comedy and a new two-reel Western story. These, with the feature picture, "Bright Lights of Broadway," make it a most interesting programme. See the pictures at the Royal. They are always good.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

THE DENISHAWN DANCERS.

The visit to the Grand Last night of Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn Dancers gave Peterboro something entirely new in the line of entertainment, and it is safe to say that no more colorful or striking performance has been seen here than that presented by these wonderful artists and their associates. The varied programme of dances, the rich beauty of the gorgeous costumes, the striking lighting effects, the personality of Miss St. Denis, the virile strength of Mr. Shawn and his dramatic powers, and the slim beauty and youth of the supporting dancers, enhanced by the music of the instrumental quartette with Louis Horst, pianist and director, all combined to supply two hours of enchantment.

Adjectives fail to give an accurate idea of the intriguing nature of the entertainment. It had to be seen to be appreciated, and those who were there last night will not soon forget the Denishawn Dancers.

Of the individual artists much might be said. Miss St. Denis has been described as the rhythm of the world, and her work last night showed why that title was bestowed upon her. In every gesture she is the poetry of motion, and every movement is a delight. Mr. Shawn, America's foremost male dancer, scored a triumph in his solo dances and in the ensemble numbers. Nothing like his art has been seen here before. The associated dancers proved apt pupils, with Miss Doris Humphrey outstanding.

Probably one of the most popular numbers was the lively and vivacious Spanish suite, in which Miss St. Denis, wearing the famous shawl presented to her by Galli-Curci, danced Granados' fascinating Danza Espagnol. Mr. Shawn scored a triumph by his clean cut dancing of Ionas' "Tango," and the two artists united for an inspiring rendition of Moszkowski's "Malaguena." It was a colorful, appealing suite.

The biggest and most spectacular number, representing the Western hemisphere in this dazzling international symposium of the dance art, was the dance-drama. "Xochitl," based upon an ancient Toltec legend of pre-historic Mexico. For this striking number there as a gorgeous scene designed by Francisco Cornego, a special score composed by Homer Grunn, and choreography and costumes originated by Mr. Shawn. The dazzling splendor of the colors in this scene resists any attempt to describe it, while the work of the principal dancers and ballet was most impressive. Mr. Shawn's conception of the part of the Toltec Emperor was a masterpiece, and Miss Georgina Graham, who danced the role of Xochitl, scored an individual triumph. No more spectacular offering has been seen on the stage of the Grand than this most wonderfully designed and executed dance drama.

The opening number, "Musical Visualizations," the name chosen by Miss St. Denis herself, may be described as a successful attemnt to translate into visible form the mathematical and aschitectural construction of well-known written composition. The idea is to have each note of the music paralleled by a movement on the part of the dancers, while the rendition of the melodic themes are not neglected. The group included Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetiquie," Chopin's "Revolutionary Etude," Chaminade's "Valse Caprice," Schuman's "Soaring," Brahm's Waltz, Liszt's 'Liebestraum' and Mana Zeucka's "Valse Brillante," and nearly all the company had an opportunity to demonstrate their art. Mr. Shawn's rendition of the "Revolutionary Etude" was a high light of this feature of the programme, while Miss Doris Humphrey, a delightfully lithesome and agile young dancer, was most successfully featured in several of the dances. Beautiful too was the dance form of Schuman's "Soaring," in which the lyric idea of wind, wave and cloud was by means of a great veil added to the musical visualization.

A pastoral note was imparted by the "In the Garden" suite, a number as dainty and elf-like as could be imagined, in which Von Blon's "Serenade d'Amour," Bond's "Betty's Music Box" and Moszkowski's Waltz were most cleverly danced.

The concluding number, "Orientalia," brought wonderful dances of China, Crete, India, Siam, Japan and Egypt, in which the costumes and scenic and color effects resulted in some of the most striking stage pictures ever seen here. The whole company took part in this section of the programme, and Miss St. Denis had an opportunity in the Hindu scene to contribute her famous "Nautch" dance with wonderful effect. It would be difficult to select the most interesting or most meritorious dance in this group. It was a veritable feast of color and movement, and the final curtain found the audience hungry for more.

AT THE CAPITOL

An exceptionally good musical act as a vaudeville offering, a rib-tickling comedy in "Smithy" and a screen picturization of one of the Baroness Orczy's famous and well-loved novels, "I Will Repay," made an excellent bill of fare at the Capitol Theatre for the beginning of this week.

Dwan and Murray are two clever young ladies, whose musical ability is of a high order. They gave a number of songs in solo and duett and pianoforte selections that brought them much applause on their initial appearance, in a dainty, refined offering of high-class popular music. The vocalist possesses an attractive mezzo soprano of vibrant, sweet timbre, and the pianiste has a smooth, brilliant tone that makes her silvery music very pleasing. The two girls wear some lovely gowns.

Stan Laurel is the hero of 'Smithy' in one of those clever comedies that takes an every-day happening, mixes it up with a simple-minded character and produces some hilarious situations. To see "Smithy" struggle with a roll of tar paper on a smeary roof, while his cross-eyed "buddy" strives to get along with a hammer and nail, is to laugh.

The Baroness Orczy's novels have been familiar household words for years to the reading public, but screen versions of them have been scarce, at least in Peterboro. The elusive Pimpernel whose exploits have delighted and thrilled thousands of readers of the printed page has a place on the Capital Theatre screen this week, and his screening is right up to the mark. The tall figure with the eyeglass and the somewhat inane smile, have been reproduced to the life. The dash and courage of the gallant Sir Percy Blakeney are here, but his admirers will regret that his personality has been submerged to a certain extent by the lovers of the piece. However, he does some noble work. The quality of dignified romance that lives in the Baroness' novels has been reproduced faithfully also. It is an intriguing, tall, quiet figure that plays the hero, in the dark Paul Deroulede, played by Pedro de Cordoba, who makes a gallant and attractive figure as the skilful duelist, killing the young Vicomte in a fierce rapier struggle and then falling in love with his victim's sister, the lovely Juliette Marny (Flora le Breton). Juliette has sworn to avenge her brother's death, and, torn between love for her brother's slayer and the vow to her dead father, fulfills her promise in a manner that involves them all in danger. How the mob of the French Revolution claims the two as its prey and how the resourceful Pimpernel extricates them, makes a dramatic and fascinating picture, with the terror and thrills of the Revolutionary days in its screening. There is an excellent cast of actors in "I Will Renay." Holmes Herbert and Jeanne Brindeau, Annie Mie and Ivan Samson are in the group.

MAE MURRAY IN FASHION ROW IS CAPITOL FEATURE, STARTING NEXT THURSDAY.

Mae Murray, in her latest production, "Fashion Row," will be the feature at the Capitol Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. "Fashion Row" is the most gorgeous production that the popular little star has ever made. In this picture Miss Murray wears gowns having a cost of more than $100,000. For sheer beauty, as well as a powerful dramatic story, "Fashion Row" is hard to beat.

AT THE ROYAL

GRAPHIC STORY OF NEW YORK NIGHT LIFE HAS STIRRING CLIMAX

The patrons of the Royal Theatre were very enthusiastic yesterday in the reception they accorded "Bright Lights of Broadway," the latest offering of Principal Pictures Corporation which began a three days' engagement at this popular temple of the silent drama.

"Bright Lights of Broadway" graphically and vividly tells the story of a country girl's experiences in her struggle to reach the top of the ladder on New York's Great White Way, and it has everything that goes to make up a successful picture. The director, Webster Campbell, has unfolded his tale with consummate skill and an even tempo. Starting off with a quiet, simple situation, the narrative builds and builds until, finally, it culminates in a climax of dynamic intensity, and the large audience which was present at the opening performance gave marked evidence of its spell.

The cast, which is uniform in its excellence, is headed by the popular favorites, Lowell Sherman, pretty and appealing Doris Kenyon and Harrison Ford. Others who are especially entitled to "honorable mention" are Edmund Breese, Tyrone Power and Effie Shannon. Miss Kenyon does what is without question the greatest work of her brilliant career, winning, and holding throughout, the sympathy of the spectator, and in the closing scenes, scaling the uttermost heights of dramatic emotion. Lowell Sherman too, does what this reviewer considers his finest work, and, after watching his sauve, polished villainy in "Bright Lights of Broadway," we heartily agree with the New York dramatic critic who gave him the title of "the second Mansfield," which title, by the way, we predict will cling to him—for it fits like the proverbial glove. Playing opposite Miss Kenyon is Harrison Ford, borrowed especially for this production by producer B. F. Zeidman from Cosmopolitan Pictures, for whom he had just completed a role opposite Marian Davies in "Little Old New York."

If picture fans could be assured of always seeing productions of the calibre of "Bright Lights of Broadway" this city would have to build more theatres to accommodate the crowds.

AT THE REGENT

COLOSSEUM BUILT FOR KEATON FILM.

Largest Exterior Set in Film History Erected at Hollywood.

The largest exterior set ever constructed for a motion picture comedy was built at Hollywood for Buster Keaton's first six-reel Metro feature comedy-drama, 'Three Ages,' which is at the Regent Theatre to-day. It represents an exact replica of the famous structure, the Colosseum, which is still standing in Rome.

This age-famous arena was reared in duplicate at Hollywood after thirty cars with 500,000 feet of lumber, three tons of nails, eight tons of plaster, and carloads of other materials were juggled by several hundreds of carpenters, painters and property men.

It was built in the open so that both exterior and interior scenes could be photographed. It closely follows every detail of the amphitheatre which was built nearly a century B.C., and where gladiators fought and the early Christians were martyred.

The Hollywood structure is 150 feet high. Inside a wall, 14 feet high, marks the beginning of tier upon tier of seats which rear themselves to a height of 136 feet to the rim of the outer wall. The floor plan of the original Colosseum was faithfully followed by Keaton and his architects. This necessitated a close study of original drawings and works by a large staff of experts, but when finally the structure was completed it was a remarkable representation of its famous original slowly decaying by the side of the Roman Forum.

This is only one of the unusual preparations made for Keaton's big feature. "Three Ages" was directed by Keaton and Eddie Cline from a story by Jean Havez, Joe Mitchell and Clyde Bruckman. Fred Gabouri was art director. It was photographed by William McGann and Elgin Lessly. It is a Joseph M. Schenck presentation through Metro.

The "Entertainment Value" Is There!

"Bright Lights of Broadway"

Has everything that a big picture should have. A fast moving drama of New York's Great White Way, which culminates in one of the most nerve tingling climaxes ever enacted on any screen.

TEA FOR MISS RUTH ST. DENIS

(By JEANNETTE)

Yesterday afternoon, the Women's Art Association entertained Miss Ruth St. Denis at afternoon tea in the grill room of the Empress Hotel. Between sixty and seventy of the members attended for a pleasant event, which was marked by a brief but interesting talk on the Renaissance of the Dance, given by Miss St. Denis, who wore all-black flowing draperies, with a long, sleeveless wrap of cut velvet lined with grey and a cloche hat trimmed with large square steel buckle. The guests were received by the president of the Association, Mrs. F. C. Neal, assisted by Mrs. W. R. Widdess, Mrs. A. Moir and Mrs. W. Sangster. Mrs. H. Morphet and Mrs. E. W. Borbridge presided at the pretty tea table, which was charmingly arranged with large silver basket of double yellow and pink tulips and pussy willows tipped with tiny artificial canaries. Blue tulle tied the handle of the central basket, and there were blue candles in silver candelabra. At the conclusion of Miss St. Denis' talk, she was presented by Miss Geraldine Glover with a pretty bouquet of flowers.

Miss St. Denis spoke of the recent efforts of Dr. Guthrie in the Church of St. Mark's in the Bouwerie, New York, to introduce eurythmic dances into the church ritual, and said that her husband, Ted Shawn, had used dancers in Botticelli costumes at an interdenominational church service in San Francisco some years ago. It was felt that the experimenters were only doing a sensible thing in restoring a normal element excluded for many years from religious services.

In America, declared the speaker, the renaissance of the dance now in progress would mean a renaissance of all the other arts also. Confessing to a nativity achieved in New Jersey, while her husband had been born in Missouri, which made them both "all wool and a yard wide American," Miss St. Denis contrasted the easy facility in the dance of the Latin nations with the more rigid quality of dwellers on this continent, but said that "beneath the surface of our obvious and national consciousness is a growing love of poety and beauty in color and line. Since the war, we have seen little green shoots coming up from the barren ground."

Miss St. Denis referred to the difficulty experienced some years ago, when she first introduced East Indian dances to America. "Now, the whole country is beginning to wake up to a different set of values. What the reason is for this renaissance of the dance, I don't know, but I do know that there are millions of people who are tired to death with playing with objective toys." Questions of valuation in America, said Miss St. Denis, were involved in "things that we can see and handle, and above all in transportation. I sometimes think that our dream of heaven is of a place where we will be able to go just a little faster than on earth. Still, under all this mad consciousness, is a longing for something better, not perhaps, for the peace of our grandmothers' days, but the peace of the revelation of the ego, of one's deepest self."

Saying that she came from a deeply religious family, and that she herself was of a religious nature, Miss St. Denis asserted that, although most people were loath to associate the idea of religion with a classical dancer, "Mid nuddings on," still, she saw a relation between the coming of the dance and the kingdom of heaven, inasmuch as she saw in the kingdom of heaven "an enlargement of our consciousness of the immortal qualities of life, the things that are imperishable."

"In the first movements of the child," said Miss St. Denis, "you will find a sub-conscious revelation of the relation between the rhythm of the universe and its own desire to dance and skip in the sunshine. This renaissance of the dance is but a returning and releasing of the normal element of consciousness, in its desire to move harmoniously. Certainly one element of the kingdom of heaven is harmony or rhythm. Everything in the whole cosmos has rhythm after its season and its kind."

Miss St. Denis considered that the system of education which centred all its activity on mental progress was at fault when it turned out a girl with a trained mind but an awkward, ungraceful body. Another of the elements in the spiritual consciousness which might be awakened by the dance was that of space. "We are building our cities at such a rate and in such a manner that we are getting away entirely from the idea of space. In our own lives also, in our vacations, we crowd out desirable elements with the things we do. The dancing instinct demands space."

Miss St. Denis spoke of experiments in producing dance numbers without the music, which splits the attention of the audience, compelling them to see and listen at the same time, instead of being able to concentrate all their interest on the dance itself. "We feel that the dance will not progress as it should until music with it has been done away with." Most of the music, declared the speaker, which is now used for dancing, was written and developed without any relation to dancing at all, and therefore interpretive dances are compelled to be set to music that was never meant for such a purpose.

The "abominable clothes" with which the women are burdened at the present time also came in for condemnation. "We are beginning to hope for some near liberation from the skirts era," said Miss St. Denis, who thought that the first idea of femine wear in the Eastern mode of loose trousers was an ideal garb.

Mallory is a member of Macoy Lodge, No. 242, Mallorytown.

TEN BANK DIRECTORS APPEARED COURT TO-DAY

TORONTO, April 15.—(Canadian Press)—When ten directors and officials of Home Bank of Canada which suspended payment on August 17th, 1923, appeared for trial before Mr. Justice Riddell in Criminal assizes here this morning on charge of conspiracy, W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for accused, contended that prosecution could not separate the two counts in the indictment, one of which charges conspiracy and other charges the accused individually with making false returns to the Canadian Government on the condition of the bank. The question of speedy trial for accused under the bank act is now pending decision of Privy Council following an appeal by the crown authorities against the decision of Mr. Justice Middleton at Toronto, granting defendants a speedy trial before a county judge.

Mr. Justice Riddell stated that he would announce his decision on the point this afternoon.

PROVINCE LOST A MERE TRIFLE

Solicitor Says Reports of Huge Bond Losses Exaggerated.

TORONTO, April 15. — (Canadian Press).—There was little sensation at the meeting of the Public Accounts Committee this morning. W. R. Fleming, manager of the bond department of the Home Bank, gave evidence concerning the missing $15,000 cheque and other transactions between the Government and the Bank. He said that he thought the missing cheque had been made out as indicated on the stub to Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer. The cheque was drawn on the instruction of J. C. Mason, general manager of the Bank. Witness did not know who cashed the cheque. Evidence was also put in showing the list of estates in Ontario which held succession duty free bonds. R. E. Meighen, solicitor to the Treasury Department, admitted when questioned by Hon. W. H. Price that the talk of huge losses to the Province because of these bonds was exaggerated. The loss since 1906 because of such bonds was $800,000, he said.

Mr. Sinclair moved that J. C. Whitaker, former Home Bank supervisor, be called to-morrow in connection with the loan of $4,000,000 sold by the Province in September, 1919. Col. Price said that M. J. Haney, former Home Bank president, had been subpoenaed for to-morrow, and it was agreed that Hon. T. W. McGarry be asked to testify again to-morrow afternoon. Evidence is also desired from former Deputy-Treasurer Sproule, his successor, Charles Mathews and Auditor Clarkson.

PETER SMITH AT THE BAR JUSTICE

Lined Up To-day and Had His Bail Renewed--Had Nothing to Say.

TORONTO, April 15. — Canadian Press. — Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer of Ontario, during the administration of the United Farmer Government from 1919 to 1923, appeared in the police court before Magistrate Edmund Jones this morning and was remanded for eight days. The former minister is charged with conspiracy with intent to defraud the government.

Thirteen bondsmen, all but one from Stratford, Ont., were bound in sums of $4000 each, while Mr. Smith himself was required to put up $50,000 bail.

He was accompanied to court by Hartley H. Dewart, K.C., his counsel.

Hon. Mr. Smith was arrested yesterday following his refusal to give evidence before the Public Accounts Committee of the Ontario Legislature which is investigating the financial administration of the province during the regime of the government led by Hon. E. C. Drury.

The warrant on which Mr. Smith was taken into custody reads as follows: "That Peter Smith did conspire with one A. H. Peppall and other persons unknown to defraud the Ontario government by obtaining secret commissions in purchase by the said government of certain succession duty free bonds."

The thirteen bondsmen are: A. C. McLeod, Gordon Rankin, James Gillies, Herbert Kastner, William Grosch, R. J. Essen, Charles Lloyd, Simon Grosch, Thomas Pikney, Dr. Lorne Robertson, J. W. Burston, Norval Babt, all of Stratford; and Aaron Werner, of Sebringville.

When court opened the dock policeman cried: "Peter Smith and his thirteen bondsmen."

Thirteen bondsmen then filed from their seats in the rear of the court to a position in front of the dock.

But neither Mr. Smith nor his counsel appeared.

"Peter Smith doesn't answer, your worship," announced the court crier.

"Step outside and see if you can find Mr. Smith," directed the Magistrate.

On being told that the former Provincial Treasurer could not be found, Magistrate Jones decided to continue with other cases on the calendar.

Five minutes later Mr. Smith arrived in court and the matter of renewing his bail was proceeded with. Assistant Crown Attorney McRuer placed each bondsman in the witness box and swore him as to his property holdings. During this procedure Mr. Smith stood very placidly by the crown attorney's table. In a few minutes he was jointed by his counsel, Mr. Dewart, and when remand had been granted he left the court in the company of his bondsmen. A number of newspaper men followed, but their attempts to interview Mr. Smith were repulsed with the remark "I have nothing to say."

Hon. W. F. Nickle, Attorney-General, in an interview this morning said that the charge at present laid against Hon. Peter Smith, the former Provincial Treasurer, was merely a "holding charge," and would probably be amended later.

The "secret commission act" of 1909 provides for a penalty of two years' imprisonment, or a fine of $2500, or both, upon conviction under this act.

LOCAL RIDING CLUB HOLD A WEEKLY RIDE

Mr. Noble Kelly Will Lead Off on Wednesday Evening.

At a meeting of the Executive of the Peterboro Riding Club, held at the Empress Hotel, Saturday evening, it was decided to hold a first weekly ride at 6.30 p.m. Wednesday, starting from the Market Square. A leader will be appointed for each ride and Mr. Noble Kelly, the president, will have the honor for Wednesday evening. All prospective riders are welcome and those wishing to join the Club are asked to send their application to Mr. Wm. Hickey, the secretary.

Horseback riding is one of the greatest forms of exercise and one of the most popular at the present time in all large cities. The Club expect to develop quite a number of good riders, and expect to be able to hold a matinee horse show early in the summer.

The ride on Good Friday will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning, starting from the Market Square.

FUTURE OF U.F.O. IN VICTORIA IS CAST IN DOUBT

Farmers of Neighboring County Had One of the Strongest Organizations In the Province—Some of Clubs Almost Defunct —Wrecked By Politics.

LINDSAY, April 16 (Special to The Examiner). — There is considerable speculation regarding the future of the U.F.O. as an active organisation in Victoria County.

It is a well-known fact that this county was one of the strongest U.F.O. sections in the Province, but since the defeat of the Drury Government, some of the clubs have become dormant and are almost defunct.

Downeyville has a strong, active club, but it has failed to function lately. An effort was made a few nights ago to revive interest in the organisation, but it ended in failure.

Some of the other clubs in the county still continue to hold meetings, but there has been a decided falling off in the membership.

A well-known member of the U. F. O. stated the other day that he despaired of the future of the organisation in this county unless the members rallied to the depleted ranks. He expressed the opinion that never again would it become a political factor. On the contrary, it would bend its energies towards improving the lot of the farmer along educational lines. It had accomplished a great deal in this respect in the past, but in an evil hour it entered the political realm, and this proved its undoing.

The county is represented in the House of Commons by a Progressive in the person of J. J. Thurston, of Fenelon Township, who owes his election largely to the support given him by the Liberals of the riding.

With the passing of the U.F.O. as a political organisation his chances of re-election at the next election are decidedly slim.

The U.F.O. may secure a new lease of life in this county, but it will certainly fight shy of politics.

Nova Scotia Marketed 2,000,000 Bbls. of Apples

HALIFAX, April 16.—(Canadian Press).—Over two million barrels of Nova Scotia apples were marketed at home and abroad from the 1923 crop, according to figures given out by G. H. Vroom, District Fruit and Vegetable Inspector. The London market was the largest buyer, taking almost half a million barrels, with Manchester a close second. There were nearly a half million boxes of strawberries shipped from the Annapolis Valley during 1923.

GERMAN RESERVATION ON EXPERTS' PROGRAM STIRS FRENCH DOUBTS

Paris Emphasizes Phrase In Berlin Statement That the Report Is Accepted As a "Basis of Discussion," Whereas Britain Adopts It As An "Indivisible Whole" — Germans Fear Financial Burdens.

LONDON HOPES FOR SETTLEMENT.

PARIS, April 16 (Canadian Press). — The German Government has taken the course it was expected here that it would adopt, and has accepted the Reparation experts' report in principle, promising to send a written note in reply to the Reparation Commission. This was the simplest method of procedure open to Berlin, but its value depends on the terms of the letter and the reservations it may contain.

The official despatch from Berlin and that given out in Paris giving notice of the German Cabinet's decision both contained the phrase that the reports had bee "accepted as a basis of discussion."

These words were at once commented upon in Paris as hardly consistent with the experts' declaration: "We regard our report as an indivisible whole,' and their warning that it would be impossible to select certain recommendations and reject others.

This view of the reports was also that maintained in the informal exchanges of opinions between the experts and their Governments during the meeting of the committees.

The contrast between the terms of the German acceptance and Premier MacDonald's statement in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, in which he declared that Great Britain would accept the recommendations "as an indivisible whole," was also emphasised here.

MacDonald's Statement

LONDON, April 16.—As the result of Premier MacDonald's announcement of Great Britain's acceptance of the reparation experts' report as "an individual whole" coupled with a similar decision by the Berlin Cabinet, Europe last night was back on the road which the British Labor Government believes should lead straight to a long-overdue settlement between the visitors and the vanquished in the great war.

France still remains to be heard from, but in announcing the British decision to the House of Commons this afternoon, Premier MacDonald stressed the unanimity of the Reparation Commission in accepting the experts' reports, which is interpreted in London as emphasizing the certainty of the French Government's acceptance of the Dawes' report, when the Reparation Commission formally requests the opinions of the Allied Powers.

Payments Not Decided

The total amount Germany must pay as a war settlement remains unfixed and the duration of the annual payments undetermined, but Mr. MacDonald told a questioner in the House of Commons after he had made his statement the experts provided for payments during six years, after which the machinery set up would continue to operate, so far as the report of the experts was concerned, for an unlimited period. However, if all the governments concerned agree to put the report into execution, the total amount to be derived in reparation from Germany will be a matter for arrangement.

Berlin Forwards Note

BERLIN, April 16.— Formal notification of Germany's acceptance of the experts' reports as a basis for renewed reparation parleys was sent to Paris Tuesday afternoon, and will be transmitted to the Reparation Commission by Secretary Fischer of the German War Burdens Commission.

The German action reflects the concurrinug opinions of the Marx-Stresemann Cabinet, the Premiers of the federated German States and Reichstag party leaders, and although the conferences which have been going on for the past two days developed diverging opinions with respect to some of the essential features of the reports, there was unanimity on the final issue that Germany must forthwith indicate her readiness to accept the reports in their entirety as affording a comprehensive groundwork for renewed deliberations.

Fear the Burdens

"Grave doubts were expressed by the provincial premiers," said a leading official of the Foreign Office at the conclusion of to-day's conference between Chancellor Marx and the Party leaders, "with respect to Germany's future ability to meet even some of the elementary conditions laid down by the Dawes' committee, and while all the participants in the conference praised the objectiveness of the reports, their businesslike tenor and the decisive manner in which they lift the whole reparation tangle from the atmosphere of political acerbities, there nevertheless was a pronounced feeling of depression over the burdens that eventually will be imposed on Germany."

That the reports reflected the mature conclusions of business men and were wholly free from dogmatic principles with respect to a solution of the reparations problem, made a strong appeal to the heads of the federated states, who appeared to be of the opinion that the experts had injected the necessary amount of elasticity into their recommendations whereby the schedules of payment and other conditions to be agreed upon would be made to conform to the measure of Germany's economic rehabilitation.

Basis of Solution

"Throughout our discussions, the Foreign official declared, 'there was never for a moment the thought of anything but unconditional acceptance of the invitation from the Reparation Commission to accept the experts' report as a basis for arriving at a final solution of the reparation tangle, if only for the reason that Germany, for more than year, has been courting an expert investigation conducted by the experts appointed by the former belligerent nations hardly conformed to the suggestion of Secretary Hughes, or the proposal advanced by Chancellor Cuno."

These propositions, he added, presumed the inclusion of experts from neutral countries, and representatives from Germany, whereas the investigation just concluded was conducted in the nature of a cross-examination of Germany without participation by neutral experts or the actual consulting voice of Germany.

Women Groped Way To Death in Fire

MONTREAL, April 16. — (Canadian Press).—Miss Beatrice Phillips, 46, was found dead on the top floor of an apartment house on Oxenden avenue, in the downtown section of the city, when fire that caused a double alarm to be turned in, occurred late Tuesday. The body was badly burned and only by a deformity of the leg could it be recognized.

It is thought that frightened by the sight of the flames she ran from the third floor, where she lived, to the fourth, became lost in the dense smoke, and was asphyxiated. The flames quickly spread to the top floor, cutting off all escape. The occupants of the apartment were forced to go down the fire escape. Eight families had to leave their homes.

C.N.R. READY FOR WHEAT TRAFFIC

Opening of Navigation on Great Lakes Will Start Grain Movement Easterly—Midland Division Will Hum Again.

LINDSAY, April 16.—With the early resumption of navigation on the upper lakes, there is considerable activity at the C.N.R. terminal at Midland in preparation for the reception as well as shipment of grain. There are millions of bushels in the elevators at the head of the lakes, and the freighters are being put in ship shape and are standing ready for the word that the ice has left the harbors. This will be the signal for the opening of navigation.

Things have been particularly quiet on the Midland-Belleville stretch of the C.N.R., and as a result railroad men in Lindsay have had light runs for several months. They look forward, however, to a busy summer, and it is believed that their predictions will be justified, as it is understood that in a few weeks the grain will commence to move and the long grain trains will be seen once more between Belleville and Midland.

The officials as well as the employees of this division were greatly cheered by the announcement made by the chief officials on the C. N. R. at the recent conference in Lindsay relative to the future of the Midland-Belleville section. They announced that this was the natural route for the grain from the west, and that the policy of the management was to increase the efficiency of this section as well as its carrying capacity in order to be able to handle the increased traffic which would come this way.

S.C.R. COMMITTEE.

OTTAWA, April 16.—(Canadian Press).—Re-appointment of the parliamentary committee on soldiers civil re-establishment was moved in the house of commons Tuesday by the prime minister and the committee was named consisting of members from all parts of the house. Sittings will begin, probably, after the Easter recess.

NEW HIGH FOR FRANC.

NEW YORK, April 16. — The political developments on Tuesday were responsible for the conflicting movements in the foreign exchange market, carrying French francs up to a new high record for the year above 6¼ cents and forcing a reaction in Japanese yen to a 1924 low at 41.10 cents.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEARS E. G. PATTERSON ON EXTENSION BY-LAW

He Believes This Expansion is Beginning of Era of Full Time Business in the Local Factory and Expects the Peterborough Plant to Double Its Size in Ten Years.

SUPPORTS THE PLAN

"I expect inside ten years our plant will be double its present size," was one of the encouraging statements made by E. G. Patterson, superintendent of the Peterborough plant of the Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, in an address to the Chamber of Commerce last night, in which he supported the by-law that will be presented to the citizens of the city on Wednesday next.

The meeting was largely attended, and questions asked at the conclusion of Mr. Patterson's address showed the deep interest the business men of the city are taking in the proposed extension of Peterborough's largest factory.

Mr. Patterson himself received an ovation, testifying to his popularity in the business community, and his message was one to encourage an optimistic outlook on the future of the city.

"The company is not unmindful of the kindly concessions received from the city of Peterborough in the past twenty or thirty years," he said. "We contemplate this year extending our factory to make for bigger production and larger output, and the Mayor and Council interviewed me regarding what we proposed. After many meetings our deliberations culminated in the by-law that will be voted on next week.

"It is proposed that if we will extend our factory by about 50,000 square feet of floor space the city will extend the present fixed assessment which the company now enjoys for three years and nine months. The by-law provides that any subsequent buildings shall be assessed as usual on school rates."

No End of Building.

Mr. Patterson outlined the policies that determined the expansion in Peterborough rather than in some other city. The General Electric Company has 47 factories, employing 175,000 people. "I am quite satisfied that if the company starts building in Peterborough there will be no end of building in the future."

As evidence of what the Canadian General Electric Company might be expected to do in the future for the city, Mr. Patterson quoted its past record as indicated in figures which he presented:

From 1917 to 1924 the annual payroll varied from $980,000 to $1,526,000.

In these seven years the total payroll amounted to $8,264,279.

In the first quarter of this year $429,000 has been paid, this being at the rate of $1,716,000. for the year.

In fifteen years the company has paid in municipal taxes $203,000.

In the same period it has paid the Waterworks Department for water, $41,564, and the Gas Company, $110,000.

For lumber, hardware, and supplies purchased in the city the company has paid $1,130,000.

The payroll in these fifteen years amounted to $13,584,000, and the company paid in bonuses to Peterborough boys on completion of their trades, $82,000.

In the fifteen years $881,000 had been spent on buildings and $16,504,688 for bricks, mortar, supplies and wages, the most of the amount being expended in Peterboro.

"Out of this $16,000,000, 34 cents on the dollar goes back to the employee in wages."

To Employ More.

During the past year the company paid to the railways in Peterboro $160,000; to the express companies $13,000; to the telephone company $7,000, and to the Customs office $160,000.

"Our company will let the contract for this extension on the day following the passing of the by-law if tenders are in," Mr. Patterson concluded.

Replying to a question from W. R. Morris, Mr. Patterson said the Windsor Man Asks Unstated Damages For Alienation of Wife's Affections — Blackmail Is Reply.

WINDSOR, April 16.—(Canadian Press)—Charging that his wife's affections have been alienated by H. C. Walker, Walkerville, an action has been instituted here by Malcolm E. Kanady, an automobile salesman employed by the Universal Car Agency, against Mr. Walker. He stated damages are named.

Walker is president of the large overall company at Hamilton. He is related to the family of the same name in Walkerville. He refuses to say anything about the case, but R. L. Brackin, K.C., who is acting for Walker, asserts the whole affair is a case of blackmail. Kanady and his wife have not been living together for sometime. The couple have two children. Their home is at 442 Caurch Street. Walker lives at 29 Sandwich Street, Walkerville. He is wealthy and prominent socially, both here and in Detroit.

Montreal Church Vote Strong Against Union.

MONTREAL, April 16. — By an overwhelming vote of 728 to 62 the congregation of the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul here, one of the richest and most powerful Presbyterian churches in Canada, has turned down the proposals for union with the Methodist and Congregational churches.

Port Arthur's Big Storm of Season

PORT ARTHUR, April 16.—This city and district experienced yesterday the heaviest snowstorm of the winter or spring season. Commencing at one o'clock and coming out of the west with a temperature barely at freezing point a blizzard had packed nine inches of snow on the level, and wires were becoming loaded with sleet.

"Dries" Aroused at Queen's Dolls' Rum

LONDON, April 16.—English prohibitionists, who, although not numerous, are as decided in their views as those of any other land, have been aroused to righteous indignation by the discovery that Queen Mary's million-dollar doll-house has wine cellars containing miniature cases of champagne, whisky and other alcholic beverages which they say no self-respecting doll would drink or even have in the house.

Protests have been made, but without results, and Her Majesty's exquisitely furnished replica of a fine English home, wine cellars and all, will be on view at the Wembley exhibition to any and all of her subjects who wish to contribute sixpence to charity.

PROVINCE PAID HEAVIER PRICE

Stock Offered at 91.14 Was Refused But Bought Elsewhere Later at 100—Evidence in Bond Deal Enquiry.

TORONTO, April 16.—(Canadian Press).—The public accounts committee of the Legislature sat all Tuesday bringing out evidence concerning bond deals made by the late government. Among those who have been subpoenaed to attend today are: C. H Matthews, L. C. Mason, Hon. Thos. McGarry and M. J. Haney, former president of the Home Bank.

Paul Fleming of the firm of Kerr, Fleming and Co., Toronto brokers, was called to give some information although Mr. Prince pointed out that the firm was in no way affected. Mr. Fleming said his firm had offered to sell the Provincial government some Ontario stock at 91.14 but the offer was refused although within a few days the government bought the same kind of stock from the Provincial Securities at par. In June 1921 the firm did sell some stock to the government at 94.78 and in a few days the government paid Mr. Harris 99 for the same kind of stock.

A. E. Nash of the Clarkson firm then took the stand to produce a return showing the Ontario government deposits in the Home Bank from 1916 until it collapsed.

In 1916, the highest credit balance was $700,000; in 1917, $1,400,000; in 1918, $2,175,000; in 1919, $3,800,000; in 1920, $1,500,000; 1921, $1,600,000; 1922 $1,100,000; 1923 $2,200,000. When the bank closed Ontario had $1,250,000 in deposits there.

If there had been a one per cent commission on deposits Mr. Nash figured that there would be about $35,000 paid that way. As a matter of fact Mr. Price pointed out $38,000 was paid in commission to Mr. J C. Mason of the bank. Mr. Nash said there was no way possible to trace legals of big denomination as the banks did not keep the numbers on them. H. A. Fisher thought surely such big bills could be traced.

The letters of Thos. Bradshaw giving advice on buying in succession duty-free bonds were put in as exhibits. Mr. Price said the advice wasn't followed and wasn't even asked for by the government until after the deals had been started.

RURAL CREDITS AT LOWER RATE WOULD BE BOON

Report Submitted to the House of Commons Says Canadian Farmers Pay More For Long - Term Loans Than Farmers of Other Countries or Merchants In Canada.

HELP INDSTRY.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 16.—(Canadian Press.)—Reorganization of all agencies through which rural credits are handled in Canada would probably result in cheaper financing of agricultural operations in Canada, says a report on rural credits submitted to the Minister of Finance by Dr. H. M. Tory of Alberta, advisory chairman of the honorary advisory council for scientific and industrial research, which was tabled in the House of Commons Tuesday. Dr. Tory urges the need of lower rates on loans to farmers and a recognized system of amortization, if the bulk of Canadian farmers are to remain on the land.

Farm loans should be a safe and attractive form of investment says the report, which is submitted at the request of the Government and which is the result of an investigation of rural credits in Canada, Great Britain and the United States and continental Europe which Dr. Tory has been conducting since last August. He suggests in conclusion that the investigation be continued still further. The fact that Canadian farmers must pay considerably more for long term loans than farmers in other countries or merchants in Canada, suggests itself to Dr. Tory as ample reason for a really Canadian agency of financing, instead of the diffused system which now obtains.

Provincial Schemes.

After reviewing legislation pertaining to rural credits in Canada, all of which is provincial and commening on the success which has attended the very incomplete system obtained thereby, Dr. Tory says it is sufficient to prove the value to farmers of the amortization principle. He points out that Provincal organizations for rural credits for the moment have ceased to function because it is difficult to obtain money at a sufficiently low rate of interest and because of the danger of embarrassing the provinces by increasing funded indebtedness. There is also the tendency he says for borrowers to regard lightly their responsibilities to the Government.

Could Reduce Cost.

An amortization scheme is strongly recommended in the report as referring to short term loans. Dr. Tory says that mortgage companies now handling the bulk of rural credits have comolained that provincial restrictions by way of taxes and priorities over mortgages have become so great in some provinces that freedom of action is not possible. Some companies even claim that if they had their freedom they could reduce the cost of financing rural credits by two per cent. This Dr. Tory points out is so important as to justify the early calling of a conference between the companies and provincial and federal authorities to devise a better scheme of financing. His own opinion is that better co-operation between the mortgage companies could not fail to reduce the cost of financing short term loans.

He urges better facilities for long term loans as essential to the continued operation of a large number of Canadian farms.

SALVATION ARMY CANVASS

The Army has very many friends, who are willing to give a little time to the good objects of the Army work. So the canvass is going on quietly, and successfully. Reports brought in this morning indicate that the effort is meeting, as it should, with a good reception.

Those to whom the industries were allotted report good success. A bundle of memos. and many cheques are evidence of interest and sympathy, and the Army can do with a lot of both. This time it is not the local branch of the Army that is solicitous so much as that the local branch shall hold up its end in gaining the money necessary to carry on the rescue work, when and where it presents itself, which is pretty much everywhere. As long as we have errant people and police courts the Army will never be out of a job.

The friends in the city are asked to be as liberal as possible. Of course there are, and will be, many calls, but among these that now presented is one of the most important. It is not a call for something that we could, if we must, do without, but a real human nature necessity. Just as a drifter drifted in from Midland last night, carrying a grip sack and abnormal whiskers, and said his wife had turned him out of the house, which penalty he to all appearance deserved. But the case was one to be attended to for one night only, and was handled as such cases are. He was advised to pass on to some more congenial locality. Seemed to be a Russian, judging by the extensive whiskers.

The serious responsibilities involved are not so simple. The money help asked for will enable men and women to brace up those who have fallen down, who are in real extremity, who have to have a helping hand extended or go to smash. So be as helpful as you can, as liberal as your means will allow, even if you deny something that is just not so important, and transfer the cost to the Army fund.

Thursday evening should see the business section of the city cleaned up, speaking in reference to the subscription campaign. Only one asking, for this year. There will be no further appeal for monetary assistance to the Army objects.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Special Services in the Churches -- Personal Mention.

CAMPBELLFORD, Apr. 15.—The services in the Methodist Church on Sunday were well attended. Rev. W. Elliott gave a splendid sermon in the morning in the interests of the Women's Missionary Society. The Easter Thankoffering will be brought in on Easter Sunday. At the morning service Miss Helen Wood sang "Fear Ye Not, O Israel." In the evening the sermon was on the Triumphal Entry of Jesus Into Jerusalem, and the first anthem sung by the choir was the first number from Olivet to Calvary, by J. Maunder. The second anthem, Come Unto Me, the solo parts were taken by Mr. Geo. W Lucy.

Two beautiful organ voluntaries, "Hosanna in the Highest," by Rhinberger, and "Hallelujah," from Mount of Olive, by Beethoven, were well rendered by the organist, R. T. Powell, and enjoyed by all.

The services in the Anglican Church were very interesting and suitable for Palm Sunday.

Young People Meet

The young people of the Methodist Church had a good meeting on Monday night. There was a good attendance.

After the opening exercises and business, Miss V. Sanders, missionary vice-president, had charge of the meeting. The following programme was given: Solo, Miss Ruth Taylor; reading, Miss Rose Hollenby; instrumental solo, Miss G. Payne; reading, Miss Hilda Hollenby. A splendid topic on the lives of John Gibson Paton and James Coolidge Patterson was given by Mrs. Kingston.

Further arrangements were made for the night of the play, and the following committee for the musical numbers was appointed: Misses Grace Payne and Ruth Taylor, Messrs. T. H. Craighead and H. Boyd.

St. Andrew's Young People

Alex. Rolio presided at the meeting of the St. Andrew's Young People's Society, Monday evening, and Miss Edna Connor acted as pianist. The topics for the evening were taken by Miss Emma Meiklejohn and Mrs. D. W. Douglas, Miss Meiklejohn dealing with "Missions" and Mrs. Douglas with "Women's Work in Formosa."

It is proposed to have a Tennyson evening next Monday night, and on the following Monday, the last meeting before the usual summer vacation, will be held.

To Beautify Grounds

J. A. Loucks, chairman of the Board of Education, has made a contract with J. R. Wilkinson to furnish and plant 100 hard maple trees around the boundaries of the grounds at the new high school. Twenty-five evergreen shrubs will also be set out. The money required for this work will be raised by voluntary donations, which may be handed in to Mr. Loucks.

Work on Streets

The new scarifier, recently purchased by the town council, to be attached to the road machine and used for leveling the streets, was started for the first time yesterday, with Superintendent Fox in charge. Four horses are required to furnish the motive power for the new apparatus.

Miss Eleanor Ferris, who has been visiting her sister for two weeks in Ottawa, returned to her home on Saskatoon Avenue on Saturday night.

Mr. Walter Scott, of Norwood, spent the week-end with Mrs. Scott at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bateson, Victoria Street.

Mr. Roy Sharp, of the Campbellford Cloth Co. office, has been transferred to the Toronto office and will leave for the city on Wednesday.

INFANTS DELIGHT

WEDDING BELLS

CLEGG—SYER.

CAVAN, April 16.—A very pretty wedding took place at noon Saturday, April the 12th, at "Fairview Farm," Cavan, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eber Syer, when their second daughter, Edna, became the bride of William H. Clegg of Toronto. The ceremony, which took place under an arch of white, trimmed with smilax, and having a background of greens and carnations, was conducted by the Rev. G. S. Gervin of Millbrook.

The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She wore a gown of orchid georgette, trimmed with pearls, and a black picture hat. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, lilies-of-the-valley and ferns. Miss Lucy Richardson of Peterborough played the Wedding March. Mrs. (Rev.) Gervin sang "I Love You Truly." After a wedding dinner the happy couple left for Bermuda via New York to spend their honeymoon.

The bride's travelling costume was a navy blue tailored suit, with a hat to match. She wore the gift of the groom, a black fox neckpiece. On their return they will reside in Montreal.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. Drain, Edmonton, Alta. and Mrs. N. Henderson, Vancouver, B. C.; two sisters, Miss C. L. Smyth, Toronto and Mrs. T. Smyth, Vancouver, B.C.; also a brother, J. J. Smyth of Vancouver.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Samuel Smyth of Otonabee and had resided in Peterboro for some years prior to removing about twelve years ago to Vancouver, B.C.

Omemee's Paved Road Satisfies

OMEMEE, April 16.—The long stretch of paved road through Omemee is receiving a general clean-up this week, a gang of men having commenced work on Monday, and to see the clean white pavement once again is as much of a novelty as when it was first laid—quite a decided change from the mud of former springs.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. 40c and 75c, at all druggists.

THE HAVELOCK SCHOOL BOARD HAD A MEETING

Discuss Question of Raising Status of Continuation School to That of High School.

HAVELOCK, April 16.— Havelock Board of Education met Monday in the school room. Members present, Chairman H. Falkner, Secretary-Treasurer H. W. Roche, Trustees Forde, Barlow, Dr. Thompson, and Edward Fennell. Minutes of last meeting read and on motion approved as read.

Chairman Falkner in reporting for the Committee appointed to interview the village Council with reference to the movement to raise the status of Continuation School to that of a High School said, that owing to the unavoidable absence of the Secretary-reasurer on the meeting night of the Council, he had to undertake the interview unassisted and the Council after due consideration of the question advised that the school board, by visitation or correspondence gain a more complete knowledge as to the effect the proposed change would have in the teaching of secondary work in the school, and as to the amount of grants under both conditins. On motion Dr. Thompson seconded by Trustee Forde, the chairman's report was received and the Secretary authorized to take the matter up with Lakefield School Board, who have lately raised their status to a High School standing, regarding the information required. ?

Accounts

Electric Light Bill ..... $ 1.50
Last installment a loose leaf Atlas 12.50
A. C. Denike, account 123.19
Mrs Wright 13 days relief work at the rate of the teacher relieved.

Moved by Trustees Barlow and Forde that Treasurer check accounts listed and if found correct issue cheques for the same.

In response to an advertisement placed in local paper, parents report there will be ten new pupils starting to school after Easter. And the board were pleased to learn that there was sufficient accommodation for their number.

Communications

From the Secretary of the Teachers Superanuation Commission F. L. Woodley advising that the action of the Commission requiring the School Board to collect Superanuation Fees from 'occasional" teachers had been reconsidered and school boards were now instructed to pay the "occasional" teochers in full drawing their attention to the fact that if they wanted to participate in the Superannuation privileges they should remit the fees.

Public School Inspector's report: Havelock Public School, accommodation and equipment will be reported on at the next regular inspection. Am pleased to note conditions to the school, library.

Condition of registers and catalogues: Carefully and accurately kept

Caretakers work: Generally satisfactory.

Provision of Part I of Entrance Examination: approved.

Members of the teaching staff are all legally qualified and all teachers with some experience.

Organization: approved.

Pupils' work: Classes examined mostly interested and attendance to duty.

Proficiency: Well up to the stand ard of the regulations.

Progress: The school continues to do well.

Deportment: Generally good.

General remarks: There is one new teacher on the staff since last inspector. She is doing effective work and is fully maintaining the av erage efficiency of the school which at present is high. (Signed Richard Lees.)

On motion communications along with Inspector's report were ordered filed.

The attention of the Board was directed to an incident wherein the parents undertook to settle a difficulty between teacher and pupil. The action of the parents as reported to the board was most unbecoming and their interference disturbed the whole school.

On motion of Trustees Barlow and Forde the Secretary was instructed to publish in the local paper the $20 penalty imposed by the school act for misdemeanors of this nature advising parents, who have complaints in connection with the staff or concerning the administration of the school that they must not take these matters up with the teachers. The members of the board are at all times ready to hear any complaints parents may have and should they prove of a serious nature will take them up with the principal for adjustment.

Upon a report from Trustee Forde it was decided to ask Thomas Wood, a local carpenter to make a written report to the Board regarding the condition of the floor in the Third Form room and as to the roof requirements of the south side of the school.

Trappers Getting Good Results — Sap is Still Running.

TRENT RIVER, April 15.—The annual congregational meeting will be held Thursday evening at the Church. The usual reports of the various organizations will be given.

Dr. Ernest Thomas delivered a helpful and inspiring address on "Evangelistic and Social Service," at the church Sunday afternoon. The doctor spoke of the present state of the prohibition issue, and tried to make it clear the difference of the Ontario Temperance and Prohibition by showing several charts.

The death took place on Friday, April 11th, of Mrs. Frank Toms (nee Edith Newton) at her home a short distance from here, on the Norwood Toad. Deceased was in her 29th year, and leaves three children, the youngest an infant four weeks old. The late Mrs. Toms formerly lived near Round Lake. Her husband is a nephew of Mrs. Andrew Wight. The funeral takes place to-day at one o'clock. Service conducted by Rev. E. O. Seymour.

As the trapping season draws near a close the trappers are making good and are getting splendid results.

Messrs. E. H. Fairbrother and Long have returned to Toronto from spending the week-end at the former's cottage.

Sap is still running well, and a good supply of syrup is being made.

CHURCH WORK IN LAKEFIELD

Rev. Walter Cox Gave Address On the Events of Monday in Holy Week As Related in Gospels.

LAKEFIELD, April 16. — On Monday evening at the service in St. John's Church, Rev. Walter Cox gave a very thoughtful address on the Monday in Holy Week and the events of the day as given us in the gospels. Our Lord drove out the money changers from the temple where they were plying their trade in the portion of the edifice reserved for the Gentiles. Our Lord cleansed the temple and told them that henceforth it was for the Jews and Gentiles, bond and free alike. He also caused the barren fig tree to wither. It had all the appearance of being a good healthy tree but was barren of fruit, in other words a hyprocite, appearing to be what it was not and our Lord never showed greater anger than toward the hypocrites.

Methodist Y.P.L.

The Young Peoples League of the Methodist Church held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening. The missionary department was in charge of the evening and the topic was presented by Mrs. W. W. Leonard and Miss Beatrice Campbell who gave a most helpful and instructive presentation of the work in Japan.

Mrs. W. Millage and Miss Effie Webster contributed a duet and Messrs. O. E. Higgins, A. B. Burrows, Ralph Payne and Rev. C. S. Reddick sang a quartette. These musical numbers were greatly appreciated.

Owing to the dramatic entertainment to be given next Monday under the auspices of the W.M.S. the regular meeting of the League will be postponed.

Special Movie.

A picture play and entertainment of local talent will be given under the auspices of the Baseball Club on Monday and Tuesday evenings, April 28 and 29 in the Queen Strett theatre. The costume play "When Knighthood was in Flower" has been secured and some of the best local talent has been secured to supply a musical program.

ENDORSES THE DAWES SCHEME

Sound Business Governing the Establishment of New Bank.

Editors Note—In this article on the Dawes report plan Frank A. Vanderlip, formerly president of the National City Bank of New York and noted expert on Foreign Affairs and International Banking discusses in detail the sections creating a German gold bank of issues.

(By Frank A. Vanderlip, Written for the United News. Copyright, 1924, by the United News).

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 16.—Recognizing that Germany is politically bankrupt, the Dawes Committee has set up an exceedingly wise and complete scheme for the organization on sound economic lines of a new bank issue. The management of the bank, largely in German hands is controlled by a board of 14 members one half chosen, one each from British, Italian, French, Belgian, American, Dutch and Swiss Nationals. This brings outside political strength into the management precisely as essential as outside financial loans.

A sound procedure is laid down governing the issue of currency. The reserves in money and bills back of issues, the character of loans the bank may make and the methods for redeeming the notes are sound. It is essential to the practical working of the plan that the German Government pledge itself to further issues of paper money but that it grant to the new bank the exclusive function of issuing paper money. That is what the plan proposes. Measures must be taken by the German Government and approved by the German parliament to set up this bank. By this means the political power necessary to safeguard the future issues of money is drawn from the seven nations on the Board of Management. It then follows that expenditures must be cut down and taxes raised until the budget is balanced. Any deficit must be met by loans rather than fresh paper issues. Here is the only sound basis for the rehabilitation of Germany.

Conclusion of the committee were inevitable. They have been presented with a clarity and scientific working out of detail that merits complete concurrence and unbounded commendation. A clear understanding of the principles of our own federal reserve system is evident in the plan.

The provisions for redeeming notes are sound and practical. It is provided that notes be redeemed either in gold or in demand drafts payable as gold or foreign currencies. The further provisional essential under existing conditions is that at the inception this rule of controvertibility of the notes may be temporarily modified by an affirmative vote of every member but one of the managing board.

This may appear to open the door at the very beginning of the banks career to an issue of notes that are not clearly redeemable on demand. It is however an essential provision and is safeguarded with care and wisdom.

New Public Sentiment due to Parker Creations that abolish pen faults and inspire writing

(Results audited by Ernst & Ernst, Certified Public Accountants)

IN 34 cities in the States, "Inquiring Reporters" were sent out by newspapers to interview pen owners at random. These investigators only knew their newspapers wanted the facts. They knew not why. They knew nothing which would prejudice their reports.

They canvassed people on the streets, in offices, stores and homes. And everywhere they asked 3 questions:

"What pen do you now own?"
"When was it bought?"
"What pen will you buy next?"

Then the newspapers certified the returns. And Ernst & Ernst, the Certified Public Accountants, audited them. The results show:

Of the 2024 people who specified the pen that they would buy next, more named the Parker than any other.

1106 people interviewed had bought in the past two years. (This is about the time the classic Parker Duofold has been on the U.S. market.) Of this group, more had bought the Parker than any other pen. And on the question, "What pen will you buy next?" 66% more named the Parker than any other single make—about 5 to 3!

Not snap judgment this—but people's readiness to pay their money for this new-day pen. most of them having tried other pens first! Canada, like the States, is fast turning to Parker Pens because they introduce creations that brush away long-standing pen faults.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1924.

MAKE IT WORTH WHILE.

The automobile parade in connection with the opening of the Motor show next week can be made a worthwhile affair with the co-operation of the car owners of the city, and the Examiner hopes that this will be accorded to a greater degree upon this occasion than ever before.

We are in Peterborough very diffident about that kind of thing as compared with our cousins in the United States, who succeed in making similar parades a long pageant of striking floats and lavishly decorated cars.

In previous years there has been little or no attempt to decorate the automobiles taking part in the Motor Show parade—in fact, most citizens felt they were doing all that could be expected of them to get their cars in line.

This year the Rotary Club proposes to have several floats in the procession, and if its example could be followed by other organizations, supported by the decorations of individual cars, the result would be a parade approaching in quality and effect the merit of the Motor Show itself and the worth of the cause for which that event is to be held.

A thing that is worth doing at all is worth doing well, and the wisdom of that old saw is commended to car owners as worthy of consideration in connection with the Motor Show.

A record parade will presage a record show, and a record show means a record year's activity on the part of the Health Association.

IT ALL HELPS.

The Examiner is glad to notice that the suggestion made in these columns some time ago in reference to a wading pool at Jackson Park for young children is likely to be carried out by co-operation between the Kiwanis Club and the Peterborough Health Association.

By damming the creek and deepening the water to a depth of two feet a safe place will be provided for the young children to paddle to their heart's content, and to learn the rudiments of the art of swimming under conditions that will relieve their parents of all anxiety.

For the youngsters who attend the Health Association's annual camp at Jackson Park the pool will supply many hours of pleasure, and it will be available for use by the children of the city generally, adding greatly to the popularity of the park.

Years ago a safe swimming pool was in operation at Jackson Park, and many staid adults prominent in the city's affairs now learned first to take care of themselves in the water at this point.

The restoration of these facilities will be appreciated by the youngsters of today, and is another forward step in making Peterborough a city in which life is worth while.

It is in the attention to such things as that that the progressive community stands out from among other centres that are merely a collection of houses, factories and business establishments.

KEEP THEM AT HOME.

A suggestion advanced by one of the speakers at last night's civic banquet to the members of the Peterborough hockey teams that there should be greater co-operation on the part of employers in keeping in Peterborough athletes of ability, is entirely reasonable.

A good athlete is an asset to the community, and if through inability to find suitable employment, he is forced to seek a position elsewhere his home city is the loser thereby, for it not only loses a worth-while citizen in himself but indirectly may lose other good citizens.

It is generally recognized by manufacturers and other employers that a good sporting town is a good place in which to locate a business, for the readily apparent reason that it is never difficult to maintain something approaching to permancy in a working force in a centre where there are facilities for recreation and opportunities for lovers of athletics to witness first-class competitive sport.

No red-blooded Canadian wants to settle down in a town where the only recreation is watching the trains come in and the only exercise walking down town for the mail.

Industries, on the other hand, located in communities where baseball and hockey and other games flourish never have much difficulty in securing and maintaining their necessary supply of labour.

It should be obvious then that it is in the best interest of manufacturers to see to it that home-town athletes developed into stars in one or other of the popular sports are not driven elsewhere to find employment.

They are too valuable an asset to be permanently lost.

THE C.G.E. BYLAW.

Reasons why the electors of Peterborough should support the bylaw to extend the period of the fixed assessment of the Canadian General Electric Company for about three and a half years, which will be voted on a week from today, are well summed up in a letter from Mayor Turner and Ald. J. W. Meyers, Chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee, which appeared in last evening's Examiner.

The communication pointed out that Peterborough will gain by the expenditures on the construction of the new addition the company will make to its plant, by an important addition to the city's largest industry, by anchoring the company here for future expansions and by receiving additional taxes.

The most important of these reasons is the second last one.

Undoubtedly the Canadian General Electric Company are planning a large expansion of their plant in Canada, and the building to be constructed here is merely the beginning of a programme of big proportions.

Peterborough wants that expansion to take place here, and there is every reason for believing that a favourable vote next Wednesday would do much to ensure that further enlargements of the company's plant will take place in this city.

If for no other reason than that the verdict in favour of the bylaw should be emphatic enough to show that Peterborough is anxious to co-operate with the Canadian General Electric Company and believes that the growth of the industry will cause a corresponding general growth in the city itself.

THE BEST WAY TO MAKE MONEY.

Most people have a very mistaken idea about what an opportunity really is. The popular idea is that opportunity is either a lucky windfall or a favorable occasion to display one's talents and abilities.

But opportunity is more than that.

It is, in the last analysis, the chance to make some one think they can make money out of your work.

To begin with, nearly every one is "out to make money." There are two ways a man can make money—by his personal efforts and accomplishments, or by inducing others to work for him and contribute a portion of what they produce, in the form of a profit.

For instance, a young man goes to a manufacturer. No matter what he has to offer in the way of personal services or new devices and systems, he is not apt to interest the manufacturer to employ him unless he can show such employment will pay a profit to the employer. This is true of wages, salaries and royalties.

The process is similar in dealing with the consuming public. It is easy to sell goods when you are able to convince prospective buyers that it will be to their financial interest to deal with you. Prices and quality being equal, in competition, the personal element of friendship enters into the matter and wins preference. But the selfish appeal is fundamental and universal.

This principle operates in every human activity. The politician seeking office must, to get votes, show voters that it is to their profit to elect him. His inducement, for example, may be governmental economy and, in turn, lower taxes.

Even the young man courting a woman must appeal to the instinct of selfishness—or, to put it in kinder words, he must convince her that mating with him will bring to her more happiness, a better standard of living or higher social standing than his rivals.

The doctrine, that there is a selfish motive in everything done by the individual, is not as cynical as it seems on the surface. It is natural for people to expect a fair exchange for what they have to offer—and even a little in addition, a profit. Nature makes us pay in some way for everything we get.

Selfishness even enters into charity, in the sense that the kind-hearted giver is fully compensated by a feeling that he has done good, also the subconscious belief that, by casting his bread on the waters, he in turn will get aid if he ever needs it.

Many people go through life without ever finding a big opportunity, for the simple reason that they fail to convince others that they can create mutual prosperity if given the chance. For this reason, every school child should be taught salesmanship.

EDUCATION COSTS.

There is no item of public expenditure which comes in for more criticism than that of education, says the Hamilton Spectator. Ratepayers are constantly demanding to know just why it is that they are called upon to meet these continually rising costs, and the civic administrators, for their part, harassed by perplexing problems of their own, are always ready to point the accusing finger at the unfortunate trustees. The latter, however, go serenely on their way, building here, adding and improving there, and providing, as best they can, adequate accommodation for the ever-increasing family of scholars. The pace is set for them at headquarters. As the Province decrees, so must it be, and though there are critics who openly express their doubts as to whether full value is being received for all the outlay, there is no prospect of expenditures being curtailed. Standards are being continually raised, teachers demand proper recognition of their services; school buildings must be made fit for their high purpose. If there is any comfort in the fact, it can be said that most municipalities are in the same boat. Naturally, the problem is somewhat intensified in the large cities, with an expanding population, but the rising tide of education costs affects the entire country, and is not peculiar to this or any other Province.

According to official statistics recently published, the cost of elementary and secondary education in 1901 was $11,750,000 and in 1921 $109,181,000. That is a startling increase, and the end is not yet in sight. If Canada is to be the nation she should be, there is no relief for the burden, but to grin and bear it. This great work of public enlightenment is for the future, it is true, and to that extent is of an unselfish character. It is good for a nation, as for an individual, to think of and provide for those who are to come after and to strive to make the world a little better for posterity. It has been said that the problem of the future of humanity resolves itself into a race between education and catastrophe. Public education is the premium which civilization has to pay on its insurance policy. Though the rates may seem high, there is no sounder or more profitable investment. As for the philistines who depreciate popular education, and loudly protest against its cost, the reply of Mr. Winston Churchill to the heckler in his recent electoral campaign is called to mind. This sturdy champion of proletarian rights demanded to know why it was that he, a bachelor, should be asked to pay for the education of other people's children. "For the same reason," shot back Mr. Churchill, "that you pay water rates, though you apparently have no use for water!" Education is just as great a necessity as water, and we are all obligated to supply it to the rising generation, of the best quality and in the most liberal measure.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Budget debate, so far as Ontario is concerned, has been left far behind by the developments in regard to Ontario's financial administration.

A vote for the C.G.E. bylaw is a vote for a bigger Peterborough, while attendance at the Motor Show is a help toward a healthier Peterborough.

Last night's banquet to Peterborough's hockey teams was a fitting recognition of the sportsmanlike work of the players during the season just closed.

Oshawa is already finding that being a city is not always a bed of roses, there being additional responsibilities that were not apparent when the Motor City was but a town.

Peterborough musical organizations, the Symphony Orchestra and the Male Voice Choir, by taking part in the Ontario competition, will do much to maintain the city's place on the musical map.

CANADA GRAIN ACT IN COURT

Test Case In Exchequer Court Sitting At Fort William—Elevator Averages Is the Question Involved.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont, April 16.—One of the most outstanding grain cases to be heard in this country in recent years, the outcome of which may have an important bearing in connection with the operation of the Canada Grain Act of 1912, is being heard in the Exchequer Court of Canada, sitting in Fort William, presided over by Hon. A. K. MacLean.

The case is Rex vs. the Eastern Terminal Elevator Company, and is a case in which the validity of the Act is being tested, to determine the jurisdiction of the Dominion Grain Commisioner in the matter of overages in the public terminal elevators.

The only witnesses called at the Tuesday session were M. Snow, the Grain Commissioner, and Leslie H. Boyd, Chief Grain Commissioner. The evidence given by the commissioners was merely to establish the fact of the flow of grain through the country elevators until it finally reached the head of navigation and was stored in the terminal elevators.

Admissions already filed showed that in the year in question, 1920, the number of cars received totalled 2,788. On 433 cars there was no dockage, on 1555 less than 3 per cent dockage, and on 800 cars more than 3 per cent. dockage.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION ADVOCATED BY MEMBER FROM PACIFIC COAST

So - Called "Gentlemen's Agreement" Has Failed In Canada As Much As In United States—Population of Japanese in Canada Has Increased 100 Per Cent. Under This Arrangement.

Follow U. S. Example.

U. S. EXCLUDES JAPS.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(Canadian Press).—A Japanese exclusion provision was voted into the immigration bill yesterday by the United States Senate.

The provision bitterly protested by Japan, is similar to one already adopted by the House.

The provision was adopted without a record vote.

OTTAWA, April 16.—(Canadian Press).—Further House debate on the Budget Tuesday covered a range of topics that was nothing if not varied. It opened with an analysis of Canada's farm production, passed to the Oriental question and later turned to the trade treaty concluded with France rather more than a year ago.

Hon. J. E. Sinclair, Minister without Portfolio, taking up agricultural production, held that more protection was not necessary for the prosperity and success of the Canadian farmer. He calculated that the tax reductions proposed in the Budget would mean a saving of $2.70 for every man, woman and child in the country and, finally, he pointed out the need of Prince Edward Island for branch lines.

A. W. Neill of Comox-Alberni, B. C., thought the Government should follow the example of the United States and adopt a policy of exclusion towards the Japanese. From Conservatives came strong criticism of the French trade treaty. Last year when the treaty was before the House, J. D. Chaplin of Lincoln, Ont., attacked it. Last night he sharply returned to the charge. He estimated that as a result of the treaty there would be a loss in revenue on imports from France, Switzerland, Japan and Norway of $1,584,000 in the twelve months. Though there had been this loss of revenue, Canada had not found for her products a compensating market in France. And—said Mr. Chaplin—the loss of revenue was on luxuries that could well afford to pay a fair rate of duty.

Expenditures Compared.

Hon. Mr. Sinclair, Minister without Portfolio, compared expenditures of the Government today with those of the previous Government during the last years of its administration. In the fiscal year 1919-20, expenditures had been $785,869,00 and in 1920-21 $528,283,199. In 1921-22, the first full fiscal year over which this Government had control, expenditures had dropped to $463,652,536, and in 1922-23 they decreased to $375,213,651. On the other hand, revenue was showing a decided increase.

Mr. Sinclair insisted that the Government of the day had found it necessary to provide, not only for interest and running expenses, but also for the capital cost of the war and demobilization.

L. J. Ladner (Conservative, South Vancouver) asked if Mr. Sinclair was aware that Canada had paid approximately 40 per cent. of the cost of the war while it was in progress.

Capital Cost Unpaid.

Mr. Sinclair retorted that if Mr. Ladner would examine the blue books covering war financing he would find that the capital cost of the war was still outstanding.

Mr. Ladner quoted a statement which he attributed to United States authorities that Canada had paid 48 per cent. of the cost of war.

Mr. Sinclair then said that Mr. Ladner had to go to the United States to find authorities to bolster up his case and justify the past Government for not raising sufficient revenue during the war when it could easily have been raised.

Seasonal Imports.

Mr. Sinclair challenged the statements of Sir Henry Drayton that Canada imported large quantities of cheese. Such imports of cheese as there were, he claimed, were of a kind not produced in Canada.

Donald Sutherland (Conservative, South Oxford) called attention to the large imports of butter, and Mr. Sinclair retorted by asking Mr. Sutherland if he proposed to put higher taxation on the butter used by the Canadian workmen.

"Our exports exceed our imports," replied Mr. Sutherland, "so that we have a surplus."

Mr. Sinclair asserted that the imports of butter, like the imports of fruits, were seasonal and come in at a time when there was not enough butter produced in Canada to meet the Canadian demand.

In 1923 Canada imported 8,319,522 dozen eggs, mostly from the United States, in Ontario and Quebec during the months of low production in Canada. To increase the duty of three cents a dozen would be to raise the cost to the consumer. The Canadian producer was able to supply the Canadian demand except during the winter months of low production.

Donald Sutherland asked how production could be encouraged while foreign eggs were allowed to enter Canadian markets.

Mr. Sinclair replied that by adopting expert methods our production could be increased and the cost of production reduced.

Paper Industry Omitted.

A. W. Neill (Independent, Comox-Alberni) asked why the paper-making industry had been overlooked by the Government when reducing the tariff on impements of production. Paper-making was an important industry in British Columbia and it would have been quite in order to do something for it either by rebate of sales tax or reduction in the tariff on the machinery which the manufacturers used, nearly all of which came from the United States.

Oriental Immigration.

Touching on the Oriental question Mr. Neill said present Chinese restrictions were adequate, judging from results to keep out any great number of Chinese immigrants. He regretted that the restrictions made last year in respect of Chinese, could not have been extended to Japanese. He was sick of hearing about the "grave international complications" which Japan was wont to threaten when restriction was mooted. Canada had not gone to Washington rattling a sword and making threats when the United States tariff law was imposed. Great Britain, with a surplus population to dispose of had accepted the United States' immigration quota. Why should Japan not recognize Canada's right to restrict the influx of people whose living standard was lower than Canadians', just as Japan restricted the immigration of Chinese and Koreans because their standard of living was lower?

J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Centre Winnipeg) asked if Mr. Neill would favor embargo on imports of goods from such countries as had a lower living standard than Canada?

Mr. Neill said he did not intend to be drawn into a discussion of the tariff, while he was talking about immigration.

"Gentlemen's Agreement."

There was no danger that Japan would cease to trade with Canada if immigration was restricted. People always bought in the nearest and best market. The "gentlemen's agreement of 1907 in regard to Japanese immigration had been much misundrstood. Mr. Neill quoted from Hansard of 1913 which gave the regulations forming the basis of the agreemnt admitting previous resident Japanese, personal or domestic servants, contract employees, brought in by Japanese farmers to the limit of five to ten laborers per hundred acres. In later correspondence dealing with the agreement it was stated that the Japanese Government "do not contemplate" that the immigration into Canada should exceed 400 annually. The only binding clause in the entire agreement was "do not contemplate," said Mr. Neill. It was an example of the evils of a practically unwritten agreement.

Mr. Neill quoted from a pamphlet issued by the Japanese consul-general in 1922 which stated that 1,115 Japanese domestic servants had entered Canada between 1908 and 1921. Th Canadian census returns covering the same period show that 110 Japanese domestic servants had entered the country. It showed how impossible it was to tell how many were entering the country when the figures of the Government differed.

Agreement a Failure.

Under an exclusion law in the United States the Chinese population had declined fifty per cent. while under a gentlemen's agreement similar to that of Canada, the Japanese population had increased by 25,000. The gentlemens' agreement was a failure in both countries. He was unable to prove that the Japanese government had been a party to fraud in this connection, but that did not apply to the Japanese nationals. The net result of the gentlemen's agreement in Canada has been an increase of 100 per cent. in the Japanese population, accompanied by the entry of a disproportionate number of Japanese which in the end would mean a rapid growth of Japanese population.

Mr. Neill maintained that under the existing law the Canadian Minister of Immigration had the right to exclude Japanese and he declared that the Government had made a mistake when it had failed to denounce the gentlemen's agreement with Japan. He was aware that the number under the gentlemen's agreement had been reduced to 150, but he hoped that they would follow the example of the United Staes and adopt a policy of exclusion.

Conservative Reply.

J. D. Chaplin (Conservative, Lincoln) criticized some of the statements made by Mr. Sinclair earlier in the day. He denied that Canadian farmers throughout Canada were opposed to increased tariffs on agricultural products. He came, he said, from a border constituency where the farmers felt the competition of the United States agriculturists. United States fruits came into Canaad a month before Canadian fruits had ripened and spoiled the early market for Canadian produce. The same thing applied to eggs from the United States. These were sold at fancy prices in the Canadian market before the domestic product was obtainable. Why, he asked, should the United States be allowed to reap this extra profit?

Loss of Revenue.

Mr. Chaplin said the Minister of Justice (Mr. Lapointe) had told the House that the French treaty was working well. He proposed to give the House an exact analysis covering a period of five months from September 1923 when the treaty came into force to the end of January, 1924. He was not opposed to a treaty with France or any other country so long as it was fair and reasonable, but this treaty was the reverse. The loss of revenue due to the French treaty on imports from France and three other of the nine countries participating in its tariff reductions under the favored nations treaties, Mr. Chaplin gave as follows:

On imports from France, $387,204; from Switzerland $140,895; from Japan $83,000; from Norway $30,000.

United States Army Planes on Their Way.

SEWARD, Alaska, April 16. — Four planes of the United States army, making a circuit of the world, left here at 10.10 o'clock this morning, Seward time, for Chignik, Alaska.

Major Martin, the leader, had waited from 7 o'clock for reports to indicate that the route to Chignik, 450 miles to the west, had passable weather.

The air was clear and luminous as the fliers rose from Resurrection Bay and a light wind was blowing.

THREE CARS DERAILED.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 15 (Canadian Press). — Train due to arrive at 12.55 p.m. from Boston met with a crash near Kingman, Maine, on the Maine Central lines shortly before 6 o'clock this morning, and reported seven hours late.

The engine and three cars were derailed.

Full details are not available here, but it is said no one was seriously injured.

GETS TWENTY FIVE YEARS.

MONTREAL, April 15. — Found guilty this morning by Justice Monet of having at the point of the gun robbed the Cote Des Neiges Branch of the Molsons Bank on February 14th of the sum of $1765, Raoul Beauchamp was sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary and twenty lashes. Dominico Polecino, who was charged with the same offence, was acquitted.

MARMORA CHURCH EASTER FESTIVAL

Order of Services at St. Paul's Anglican Church On Good Friday and Easter Sunday.

MARMORA, April 16.—An Easter festival will be observed at St. Paul's Anglican Church in the following way. Holy Communion at 11 a.m. and a musical festival at 7.30 p.m. At the latter anthems will be rendered by the combined choirs of St. Paul's and Deloro churches with accompaniments by the Deloro Quartette. The quartette will also give suitable sacred instrumental selections.

On Good Friday there will be a celebration of Holy Communion at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Church, and in the evening a service with special music at 7.30 p.m. The rector will officiate at both services.

Mr. C. A. Bleeker, Mr James Gray and Mrs. James Hickey have been nominated as the representatives of St. Paul's Church on the committee for the Public Cemetery improvement. Representatives will also be chosen by the Methodist Church, and the Masonic and Orange Lodges

The trustee and parsonage boards of the Springbrook Methodist church met the parsonage board of the Marmora church on Monday. The matter under discussion was the problem of either rebuilding the present parsonage or of buying a new house.

Mrs. Myrtle Loveless and her father, Mr. Walter Deacon motored to Stirling both Saturday and Monday.

On Saturday evening a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lummis.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. James Danford, Jr., of Bonarlaw on Sunday morning, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Burkett of Bonarlaw spent Monday with Mrs. J. Bateman.

The regular meeting of the Masonic Lodge was held in their hall on Monday evening.

COBOURG AND THE DISTRICT

COBOURG, Apr. 15.—The different churches were well attended Sunday, the Cobourg pastors occupying their own pulpits. The choirs rendered music especially applicable to Palm Sunday and to the approaching Eastertide.

A unique feature of the Sunday evening service at the Methodist Church, Port Hope, was that the pastor, Rev. J. W. Baird, with the use of lantern slides, contrasted conditions in British Columbia and Quebec under Government sale of liquor, and in Ontario under the O.T.A. Slides were also employed to show the effects of alcohol upon the human body.

Dr. McKenzie Retiring

Rev. A. W. McKenzie, the beloved pastor of the Colborne Presbyterian Church, is retiring from the active ministry at the end of this month. Rev. Mr. Moger, Grafton, has been appointed interim moderator.

Rev. D. Norman at Bowmanville

Many friends throughout the district deeply regret that Rev. S. C. Moore, pastor of Bowmanville Methodist Church, has been unable to take his pulpit work for the last two Sundays. On April 6, Rev. W. H. Spargo, a superannuated minister, had charge of the services and yesterday, Rev. D. Norman, B.A., B.D., a returned minister from Japan, had charge of the services. After the regular evening service, Dr. Norman gave an address on Japan, illustrated by lantern slides.

Rev. W. T. Cherry, formerly of Bowmanville, has joined the Philadelphia Conference and has been appointed to the pastorate of a church at Langborne, Penn. Mr. Cherry served as publishing agent at Singapore, Straits Settlement, for over 24 years, but returned to this country last year so that he might give his children educational advantages they could not get at Singapore.

Finlay-Hoskin

The marriage took place very quietly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Hoskin, Haldimand Township, parents of the bride, of their daughter, Miss Myrtle Hoskin and Mr. Roy Finlay, son of Mr. W. C. Finlay, of Grafton. The bride, who was unattended, wore a toast crepe de chine gown and carried roses. Rev. J. N. Lovelace, pastor of Centreton Methodist circuit, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Finlay left later in the day for western points, the bride wearing a becoming navy serge suit and sand taffeta hat. They will reside near Grafton.

Death of Andrew McCullagh

The funeral took place Saturday afternoon from his late residence, Provincial Road, west of Mr. Andrew McCullagh, father of Mrs. Annie Leggett of Peterborough. Mr. McCullagh was a son of the late George McCullagh, Haldimand Township, and was born at "Benlock," where his father established one of the first tanneries in the district. He was three times married and leaves a widow, before her marriage, Miss Adelia Hicks, and four sons and three daughters. Mr. McCullagh was for some years superintendent of a Sunday School that was carried on in his home locality. Had he lived a few days longer he would have been 87 years old.

Monseignor Charles Murray Improving

Right Rev. Monseignor Charles Murray, Parish Priest of Brockville, a brother of Right Rev. Monseignor Murray, pastor of St. Michael's Parish here, is stated to be improving after a serious operation last week. He has made several visit here where he is held in high regard. Monseignor Murray was some years ago Parish Priest at Trenton.

Sudden Death In Darlington

Henry Smith was found dead one day last week in the barn of his employer, ex-reeve Geo. A. Stephens, of Darlington Township. He was found lying behind the horses with his face both burned and cut, it is stated. His clothing was also partly burned. A lantern was under the feet of one of the horses. It seemed a miracle that the building was not burned.

A WOMAN CREATED SCENE IN CHURCH

Objected to Her Sister Going to the Baptist Church.

KINGSTON, April 16.—(Special).—Quite a scene was created in the Baptist Church at Almonte on Sunday when the sister of a young woman who was in attendance at the service, walked into the church and demanded that her sister leave the edifice. The young woman, so it appears, is of another religious faith, but has been attending the services at the Baptist Church much to the annoyance of her family. When requested to leave the young woman did so, believing that it would save further trouble. It is claimed that she has since attended meetings of the Baptist Church. The case was brought before the Magistrate in the Police Court, and the young woman who created the disturbance in the church was fined $10 and costs, and also bound over in the sum of $500 to keep the peace for one year.

Bon Ami

—keeps kitchen-ware like new!

Take a little Bon Ami on a damp cloth, and give your aluminium kitchen-ware a few brisk rubs. You'll find that dirt and tarnish vanish like magic!

The soft Bon Ami powder gently absorbs all grime—brings back the original lustre without making the slightest scratch on the smooth surface. That's why it's so good also for scouring the inside as well as the outside of kettles or saucepans. Scars, even tiny ones, catch and hold the food, causing it to scorch—making the utensil harder to clean next time. But with Bon Ami you never need worry about scratching.

There's nothing like Bon Ami for cleaning and polishing dozens of other things throughout the house! And it won't redden or roughen your hands!

READ CHRISTIAN ADVERTISEMENTS IN THE HAMLETS OF JAPAN

Scientific Selling Methods Applied By Canadian Workers to Reach Youths and Families in Remote Districts—Japanese Are Keen Readers of Newspapers.

TORONTO, April 16.—It pays to advertise, even on a mission field in Japan, according to Rev. E. C. Hennigar of Canada, who sends home an artile illustrating how the technique of modern advertising campaigns with "follow-up" is being adapted to the spreading of Christianity.

The writer is one of three members of the Canadian Methodist Mission who are specializing in the so-called Newspaper Evangelism.

The Japanese are a great reading people, particularly habituated to reading newspapers. There are literally thousands of newspapers in the country, ranging from the great metropolitan dailies which count their circulation by the half million down to the little weeklies or semi-weeklies of every country town.

Advertising in these newspapers is the key to the keen intelligence of the Japanese people. What we call "Newspaper Evangelism" based on the advertising of Christianity in paid space, is making great strides.

Here is the problem. Japan is a country of villages and small towns. Eighty per cent of the population is still rural. These 45,000,000 are the advertising field for us to cover.

How are we to comb out the earnest seekers, scattered as they are in the thousands of towns and hamlets which missionaries never reach?

Cannot Visit All.

Fifteen years ago I felt this problem pressing when I was stationed in Fukui. In an attempt to solve it I tramped with Japanese helpers through 260 villages, distributing literature and trying to get in touch with the people. But this was a laborious and wasteful method. Such work could not be effectively followed up unless we had a tenfold increase in our field force.

I then turned, in common with some other missionaries to the press as a means of getting at the people who really wished to hear. Since that time this plan of Newspaper Evangelism has had a great development. My own city has two flourishing morning papers, besides innumerable smaller news sheets and trade journals.

I have found that most editors will give us space for articles on disarmament, peace, temperance, home reconstruction and the like. On distinctly Christian articles they will, if not able always to publish them gratis, give very nominal rates. All the provincial papers live from hand to mouth, so that it is not unreasonable to be asked to pay for the space we use. When we pay, too, we are absolutely free to publish what we like.

The second feature in this work is, by means of judicious and perfectly dignified advertising, either in connection with the above mentioned articles or at other times, to discover and call out those over our wide field who are really interested in hearing of Christianity.

Varied Results.

And this brings results. During the last four years in Matsumoto I have published articles in the two city dailies and in three country papers. I have invited correspondence, offering some literature to those interested. After various prunings of my lists I have today 400 such correspondents, from 87 towns and villages, in 74 of which no Christian work is being done.

My follow-up aims to be systematic and attractive and to have a personal touch. If there are children in the family, an illustrated paper goes out. I further enrol them at a nominal charge in a lending library which enables them to read one Christian book per month. I send out hundreds of personal letters and thousands of duplicated communications.

Of the thousands of replied filed away some are men on sick beds and dying without hope, from school teachers and unlettered mountain lads—poignant personal revelations.

Our young church at Okaya grew out of this newspaper work. We have a winter school for advanced enquirers. Young men come in alone from remote hamlets to meet the man who wrote the advertisements that first aroused their interest.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Farton

THE POTATO-HORSE

"Well, well, well! So it's you, Spud, is it?"

Along the road of Doofunny Land skipped Nancy and Nick and Mister Fuzz Wuzz singing:

"We're so happy and so gay
We could throw ourselves away,
But we'd come back in a hurry,
So you really needn't worry."

"What's that? What's that?" cried a sour voice beside them. A very sour voice!

"We were just saying," said Nick, "that we were very happy."

"But you've gone and spoiled it all!" declared Nancy. "Nobody can be happy with someone like you growling at them in a voice like that."

"I should say not!" remarked Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "Who are you, anyway? Why don't you come out and let us have a look?"

"Because I can't see! I'm blind and here I stay I suppose for the rest of my days. It makes me nervous to hear people yelling that they are so happy and so gay."

"Stuff! Stuff and nonsense! Who wants you to be sorry? But it does seem too bad that I who had a dozen eyes, can't see a thing any more."

"If you can't come with us, we shall go to you, declared Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "I don't like anybody in Doofunny Land to be unhappy."

And whom do you thing they found? The potato-horse—the proud steed with match legs and broom-straw tail!

"Well, well, well! So it's you, Spud, is it?" cried Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "How does it come that your master, the peanut-boy, isn't looking after you?"

"He's been in bed with a cracked nose," said Spud. "And I fell and got dirt in every one of my eyes, and now I can't even see what I am eating."

"Oh, we can fix you up," declared Mister Fuzz Wuzz.

Well, all three of them got at the poor blind potato-horse and cleaned the mud out of his dozen eyes, but no sooner had he gotten his sight back than he began to stamp and back and stand up on his hind legs as though he had gone crazy.

"Now what's wrong?" demanded the little pipe-cleaner man.

"It's that white thing behind me," whinned the potato-horse. "What is it? It scares me."

"Only a piece of paper," said Nick.

"And what's that black thing yonder?" snorted the horse. It makes me shiver all over."

"Only a shadow," said Nancy. "It won't hurt you."

"But there's another black thing on my other side that looks like a snake," shivered the horse. "What's that?"

"Only a garden hose," Mister Fuzz Wuzz assured him.

"Say, look here, old Mister Fussy," cried Mister Fuzz Wuzz, "you were happier blind. It won't hurt you."

"I suppose not," whinnied the horse. "But do put blinders on all of my eyes, please. Then I'll feel safe."

"There's none so blind as those who won't see," said the little man "But I give it up. Come on, Twins. This fellow has made up his mind to be unhappy, no matter what we do? Let's see—where did we leave off. Oh, yes! We're so happy and so gay—come on, all together! Sing everybody!"

"Rubbish!" said the horse. "No sympathy in this world!"

MASONS PARADE AT LAKEFIELD

Clementi Lodge Attended St. John's Church on Sunday Evening, Commemorating Its Fiftieth Anniversary.

LAKEFIELD, April 16.— The members of Clementi Lodge No. 313 A.F. & A.M. held a church parade on Sunday evening to commemorate their jubilee year. Between sixty and seventy Masons paraded to St. John's Church, where they occupied the front pews of the Church. Rev. Walter Cox preached a forceful sermon, taking his text from I Kings 7-22—"And on the top of the pillars was lily work and so was the work of the pillars finished."

Mr. Cox spoke of the pillars which stood for strength made beautiful they lily work. In the seventeenth century the conception of God held in Germany was that of the hard judge who condemned men for their sin without giving a chance for repentance, it was a conception of God that was all pillar and no lily work. Contrasted with this was the eighteenth century idea which was "Bon Dieu"—the good God who would not tolerate sin and would not punish and who would not adhere to His word regarding sin. This conception was all lily work and no pillar. The combination of strength and beauty which is necessary for the perfect world. God has given us in nature. He made the world beautiful for man. So we should be in building and furnishing our churches which are too often made so very ugly and so poorly furnished. We should regard them as God's temples and beautify them. The same thing should be seen in character, the strength and the beauty, the pillar and lily work as was and is the character of the Great Grand Master of All, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Speaking of Masonry, the speaker said that while not in any sense a church society, the Masonic order was closely allied with religion as every member recognized God as the great architect of the Universe. No Atheist could be a Mason, as belief in God was compulsory to members of the order.

Dr. Smith, the Worshipful master of the Lodge sang "The Palms" at the conclusion of the segmon. After the presentation of the offertory the first verse of the National Anthem was sung.

The hymns used for the service were all familiar ones and the singing was extremely hearty. The hymns were: "Oh God, our help in ages past," "Oh, Lord how joyful 'tis to see", "Lead Kindly Light", and "Abide With Me."

Holy Week Services.

During Holy Week there will be service in St. John's Church every evening at 8 p.m. except Saturday evening. The Monday evening service is especially for the A.Y.P.A.

On Good Friday there will be the ante-communion service at 10.30, Passion service at 2.30 and evensong at 8 o'clock.

The Easter services will be Holy Communion at 8 a.m., children's service at 10 a.m., morning prayer and Holy Communion at 11 a.m., evensong at 8 p.m.

The services at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. will be fully choral.

An union Good Friday service of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches will be held in the Baptist Church at 10.30 a.m.

Personals.

Miss Hazel Widsor of Peterboro was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Montgomery last week.

Miss Gwendoline Simpson of Hall's Bridge spent the week-end in the village.

Miss Electa Preston of Cavan was a week-end visitor in the village.

Messrs. Alex Gibson, H. Rush and W. G. Ferguson of Peterboro were present at the Masonic Jubilee Church parade on Sunday.

LINDSAY MARKET TOLLS BRING $100

Few Farmers Sell Their Produce on the Town's Hay and Wood Rialto.

LINDSAY, April 16. — The market in this town has been a losing proposition for the Council for a number of years.

Although Lindsay is essentially an agricultural centre, very few farmers are found disposing of their produce on the market on Saturdays or any other day for that matter.

True, hay, straw, etc., are disposed of, but there is very little butter, eggs, fowl, etc., offered for sale.

On Monday evening the Council opened the tenders received for the market scales, and the highest tender received was that of T. J. Brady, who offered $100. The tender was accepted, and Mr. Brady will undertake the herculean task of building up the market.

You Can Eat Anything You Like And Not Have HEARTBURN

In all cases of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by a disturbed appetite, as when too much food is taken into the stomach it is liable to ferment and become extremely sour, vomiting occurs, and what is thrown up is generally sour and bitter. When you are in this condition you will find that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will give you relief right away.

Mr. Joseph H. MacDonald, Christmas Island, N.S., writes:—"Two years ago I suffered all the time from heartburn. I took one vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have never been troubled since.

It is very nice to be able to eat anything you like and not have heart burn any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FINDS MAN'S MANGLED BODY

Mystery Surrounds Death of Henry Smith, Farm Hand

OSHAWA, April 16.—The lifeless and mangled form of Henry Smith a workman on a farm a few miles north of Oshawa, near Salem, was discovered about six o'clock yesterday by his employer, G. A. Stevens, when the latter entered his barn at the usual hour. Mr. Smith had dined with Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Sunday, and had spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. Cowling at an adjacent farm, returning home about midnight to look after his horse.

What actually happened is merely surmise. Mr. Stevens found the still where the horse was tied badly scorched and the horse singed while the body of Mr. Smith was lying beside the horse. The victim had apparently broken the lantern resulting in the straw catching fire. In an effort to extinguish the blaze, which he had evidently succeeded in doing, the horse seemingly trampled him to death. Coroner Dr. Tiller, of Bowmanville, was notified and an inquest has been ordered. Smith had been in the employ of Mr. Stevens for nearly ten years. Deceased is survived by his mother, one sister, and four brothers. He was unmarried.

HON. PETER SMITH HAS ARRIVED AT HIS HOME

STRATFORD, April 16.—(Canadian Press).—Hon. Peter Smith and Mrs. Smith, accompanied by most of his bondsmen, arrived home from Toronto last night, and the whole party seemed to be cheerful, and quite confident of the outcome being favorable to Mr. Smith.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith were in good spirts, and their reception home was quite sympathetic.

BOARD HEALTH HELD MEETING

Milk Tests Improving Declares Medical Officer of Health.

The Board of Health met this morning with the following present—Chairman G. H. Duncan, James Lynch, Claude Rogers, Mayor J. J. Turner, Sanitary Inspector C. S. Stapleton, Medical Officer of Health Dr. T. W. H. Young, and Plumbing Inspector A. G. Metheral.

Mr. R. W. Cormack and Mr. E. A. Peck, representing the Quaker Oats Company in regard to having a sewer installed, were present.

Mr. Metheral said he thought it would be best to have a pumping station situated at the foot of Simcoe Street, on the water front. He said that if this was done it would supply the Peterboro Cereal Company and any other places from Charlotte Street, north to the Quaker Oats on the water front.

A means by which to dispose of sewage at the auburn was also discussed, but nothing definite was decided.

The Milk Tests.

Dr. T. W. H. Young, M.O.H., said that during the month he had found the milk tests to be much improved. He said that last month there were two that were below the standard in butter fat, but this month they were all above, showing a richer grade of milk.

Mr. Stapleton said that when a milk vendor receives a license he should be compelled to have a proper outfit in which to deliver the milk. At present, in the city, there are several delivering milk in vehicles that are not sanitary. Most of the vendors have the regular milk vehicle, which is covered, but there are some who are peddling it in buggies and other such vehicles that are open to dust and germs. Some are peddling milk in open cans, which, when opened, allow any hair or dust to fly in.

Mr. Stapleton is to examine all milk rigs and see that they are kept sanitary.

In regard to the Medical Officer of Health's monthly report, Mr. Rogers said that he thought the monthly report should be handed into the Board and filed away for publication.

Dr. Young said he reported every month, and that he had a written report which he kept, and that anybody who wished to see it could do so.

It was moved by Mr. Rogers, and seconded by the Mayor, that Dr. Young's monthly report be handed to the Board and filed away.

Sanitary Inspector Stapleton said he visited a milk vendor's farm on the outskirts of the city to get a milk test. Mr. Stapleton said this man peddled his milk early in the morning and that he could never find him to get a test so he went to his farm. When asked for a sample of his milk the man said that he had no milk and that he would have to milk a cow to get some, and later refused to give Mr. Stapleton a test and ordered him off the premises. Mr. Stapleton brought the case up, but Dr. Young said the man had taken a test to Dr. A. Y. McNair the following morning and that it was found to be all right.

Miss Price, of the Queen Mary Hospital, was asked if a jacket heater could not be used in the hospital instead of the electric stove which is now in use, and if it would be any cheaper. Miss Price said she thought the electric stove would be the cheapest.

Miss Price asked if she could be allowed an extra month's holiday this year, in which she intended going to England. The request was granted.

Mr. Young said that the furnace at the hospital was not giving the heat that it should, and he thought there was something wrong with it. Mr. Turner is to be notified to examine the furnace.

Several persons for charity were heard, and it was also decided that several persons in the city without sewer connections in their houses be notified to have their houses connected.

CRIMINAL LAWS SHOULD CHANGE

J. M. Donohue Asks for Change So That Bank Wreckers May Be Given Capital Punishment.

LONDON, Ont., April 16. — J. M. Donohue, a prominent lawyer, has written the Minister of Justice, asking that the Criminal Code be drastically amended to permit capital punishment for bank wreckers.

Part of the communication is as follows:

London, April 12, 1924.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe,
Minister of Justice,
Ottawa, Ont.:

Honorable Sir: Unless our laws are as unalterable as those of the Medes and Persians it may be fairly assumed that they will be amended from time to time to suit changing conditions. The duty of observing conditions and enacting suitable legislation to cope with them lies with parliament and the government of the day. If the government has not yet considered the advisability of making some drastic changes in the criminal code to punish those responsible for bank failures, and to deter others from a repetition, then, sir, I refrain from expressing my opinion only because of the high esteem in which I hold you personally.

Perhaps I am in error as to present public opinion, yet I venture to crystalize what I believe it to be. Men who will deliberately, or even negligently and recklessly, cause bank failures, by all the rules of logic and fair play, are guilty of an offence which calls for the extreme penalty of the law. If capital punishment is still to remain in our system, then make them amenable to it.

The only justification for capital punishment is that it is a deterrent to others, and a certain preventative of a repetition of the offence by the same individuals. We must be logical, we must be analytical, or in the alternative fail in our duty to ourselves, and to our country. By what mental gymnastics can the offence of bank wrecking be glorified so as not to come within the category of offences punishable by death? Have there not been suicides, premature deaths, and families made destitute as the result of these failures? The havoc following in the wake of this crime is infinitely greater than that which follows a bank robbery where seldom more than a single life is lost and then usually the result of foolhardiness or a miserly lack of protection.

To make clear my request that the law be amended to make bank-wrecking, upon conviction, liable to the death penalty, may I recite the basis upon which rests the only justification (if there be any) for the death penalty:

(1)—It is the means by which civilized society takes to protect itself from a particularly dangerous criminal.

(2)—Surety for life and property are two of the chief aims of civil government. They are fundamental.

If, sir, you can find any logical distinction between the bank-wrecker and the armed bank robber, and the results of their operations, then let the law remain as it is; the anxious public awaits the amendments to the code. I am respectfully yours,

J. M. Donohue.

Tire Repairmen who see tires at their worst give overwhelming endorsement of Goodyear Cords

NO man knows tires better than the tire repairman. He sees them at their worst. He tears them down—rips off the tread—examines the carcass. He talks about tires to tire users continually. He finds out what service each tire has given. To 126 tire repairmen—from Halifax to Vancouver — we submitted this question:

"By what percentage do you think the mileage of Goodyear All-Weather Cords exceeds the mileage of the next best tire?"

80% Say Goodyear Cord Best Tire on Market

The average percentage by which Goodyear Cord Tires excel any other cord tires sold on the Canadian market is 25.81%, as given by exactly 100 of the 126 tire experts. Nineteen of the 126 say Goodyear Cords are equal to any other tire, and only 7 place any other tire ahead of the Goodyear Cord.

An overwhelming endorsement of Goodyear Tires by those who know.

They are like the whims of a charming woman, unexpected but delightful. Lustrous taffeta and pliable satin are combined, in many cases, with new silky straws. The sweeping lines of a black tricorne have for sole adornment a lace veil which winds around the throat. Embroidery in Spanish shawl pattern makes vivid a rather large picture Hat. Crowns of petit point are seen on the newest cloches, and faille ribbon is cunningly fashioned into skullcaps and turbans. Colors are vivid or delicate, and sometimes have a black background.

Two interesting price groups are $10.00 and $15.00 and two others at $8.00 and $10.00.

FILMS ON FARMING AT MILLBROOK APRIL 22nd

Movies From the Guelph O.A.C. Will Be Shown Free in Town Hall — Educational Series With Few Comics to Balance the Programme.

MILLBROOK, April 16.—The encouragement given the farming community, particularly, by the recent visit of the "Better Live Stock" train, will be further enlarged by the series of moving pictures from the Agricultural College, Guelph, which are to be shown in the town hall, Millbrook, on Tuesday, April 22, and like the train are free of charge.

The films, which are from the Ontario Government Moving Picture Bureau, include:

Keeping the boy on the farm; Fitting the land for a proper seed bed, and the germination of corn seed under different soil conditions; The international ploughing match, and farm machinery demonstration at Sarnia 1923; The development of the plough from its inception in the early ages down to the present; The development of the farm tractor from the raw material to the finished product, operating modern farm machinery.

Some comic films will help to keep the audience in good humor, though the educative element is the object throughout. In view of this fact the council is giving the use of the town hall without the usual charge. An explanatory lecture will accompany the films as they are shown on the screen, and an expert operator will be in charge of the lantern used.

Social Evening.

Mrs. F. P. Johnston, assisted by her daughter, Miss Alex, and her son, Mr. Archie, was hostess for a very pleasant social gathering at their home on Fallis Line, last Friday evening when a large number of guests were entertained with cards and dancing until long past the midnight hour.

Excellent music was furnished by Byam's four-piece orchestra, and the general enjoyment of the occasion made the time pass only too rapidly. A delicious supper was served about 12 p.m., the guests lingering for some time afterwards reluctant to bring so pleasant an event to a close.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs H. W. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Offa Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Larmer, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Larmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Roddy, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fee, Mr. and Mrs. B. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Byam, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Howden, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McKnight, Mrs. Dobbin, Mrs. H. Pallister, Misses Florence Larmer, Florence Fallis, Muriel Matchett, Cecil Hunter, Hattie and Charlotte Barnard, Helen Larmer, Ethel McKnight, Thelma Ball, Elma Hunter, Evelyn Fallis, L. Stutt, Messrs. Keith Larmer, Willis Lang, B. Hunter, B. Armstrong, J. Thompson, Aubrey Fallis, Edwin Hutchison, Lewis Hutchison, Alex Miller, Aubrey Hunter, Roy Hunter, E. Armstrong, Reg. Fallis, Lloyd Byam, C. Williamson, Melville Ball.

Promised Curling Cup.

In the account of the presentation of the Allen Cup at the recent meeting of the curling club, the name of Mr. J. A. Vance was inadvertently omitted from the list of those who responded on behalf of the winning rink. This was peculiarly unfortunate in view of the fact that Mr. Vance, who is always a capable public speaker, offering in his remarks subject matter that is well worthwhile, promised the club a personal donation of a second cup for local competition when the membership reaches the half hundred mark.

District A.Y.P.A.

Among those from Millbrook who motored to Peterboro on Thursday evening and attended the meeting of the District Council of the A.Y.P.A., when the silver cup for the winners in the series of debates held during the past season was presented were: Miss E. Grandy, Mrs. W. Hilton, Miss Gertie Gray, Miss Pearl Lamb, Miss M. B. and Miss Francis Turner, Miss Elsie Weeks, Miss S. McCorry, G. Harkness, Miss Theo McBride, Dr. J. L. Stuart, Mr. R. Stone and Mr. A. A. Needler.

The cup, which is now on display in the window of Dr. H. A. Turner's drug store, was presented by the district president, Miss Blance Graham, of Lakefield Miss Francis Turner, as the leader of the affirmative in the final debate when Millbrook won, received the trophy on behalf of the A.Y.P.A. of St. Thomas' church.

Tribute to Lay Reader.

At the recent meeting of the Toronto Diocesan Lay Readers' Association which was addressed by Rev. Dr. Seager, Provost of Trinity College, on the subject, "The Vision of the Anglican Communion,' a resolution of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. George Bemister, of Haliburton, was passed. Mr. Bemister, who for about forty years filled the office of organist in St. George's Church, Haliburton, as well as that of lay reader when circumstances required, was a past president of the Association, and until advancing age prevented, has seldom missed a Synod meeting. Warm tributes to his memory were made by Provost Seager and Archdeacon Warren, Warden of the Lay Readers' Association.

Mrs. Ross Edmunds, of Millbrook, is a niece of the deceased who passed away in his eighty-first year, interment taking place at the Old Kirk cemetery, Beaverton, last Monday. Mrs. Edmunds attended the funeral. The late Mr Bemister had never married, his death taking place at the home of his niece, Miss Dorothy Clarke, Haliburton.

Mr. Morris Gray met with an unfortunate accident last week when, through a younger brother running against his elbow, a match which he was holding pierced the drum of his left ear causing considerable suffering. He was able to be at work again on Saturday, and it is hoped the danger of deafness resulting from the accident may be averted.

Miss Gertrude Clarry, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Max Cameron, Ottawa, for the past few weeks, has returned home.

CAVAN LUMBER CAMP HUMMING

Work Resumed After the Delay Caused By Soft and Muddy Ground — Telephones Silenced By the Electric Storm Repaired This Week.

CAVAN, April 16.—Work is again humming at the lumber camp. The men are back and the saw is going.

Cars are being used again on rural roads. Men were out in a car this week repairing telephone wires and fixing telephones. Quite a number of telephones were injured by the electric storm of Saturday, the 5th.

Mr. Osborne Staples is home from the Faculty of Education, Toronto, on account of an attack of mumps.

Car of Oats.

Mr. G. Gow had another car-load of oats unloaded at Cavan Station on Saturday. There was a great demand for them. Mr. Gow has had several cars brought in during the winter. Many farmers have had to buy feed.

Mrs. Paul spent a few days of this week with her sister, Mrs. Reynolds, Millbrook, who has been quite ill.

Mr. Eber Syer of Toronto University spent the week-end at home.

Mr. Kenneth Syer of Bexley spent the week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Graham motored to Blackstock and spent Sunday.

S. S. Staples shipped a car of hogs from Cavan Station on Monday.
